FHA Loans Now Available To Farmers Hit By Drouth

Haskell County farmers and livestock producers who have been hard hit by the drouth, will be eligible for FHA disaster loans to permit them to carry on their livestock and farm operations.

Wm. E. Lawson, county supervisor for FHA, has announced. As a result of serious drouth conditions in many areas of Texas many farmers are faced with an emergency need for credit not available through local sources.

This credit is needed to buy feed for their livestock and seed and fertilizer for the planting of fall grain and pasture crops, according to L. J. Cappelman, state director of the Farmers Home Administration of Dallas, who has received reports from every section of the State on conditions as they exist at this time.

Cappelman has been told that if such assistance is not provided it will be necessary for farmers in these drouth stricken areas to reduce sharply, or in many instances to liquidate entirely, their livestock enterprises because of the lack of feed stuff and pastures the lack of feed stuff and pastures farmers concerned, the agricultural economy of the areas affected and the welfare of the farming interests of Texas, the Farmers Home Administration is taking reasonable steps to prevent the liquidation of desirable productive livestock by drouth stricken farmers.

Cappelman pointed out that in order to accomplish this purpose and to help farmers continue in business, county offices of the Farmers Home Administration are in a position immediately to make disaster loans in Haskell and any other county in Texas to qualified applicants.

At a meeting held in Dallas last week, Cappelman received reports of serious crop losses through drouth and that farmers and ranchmen are in urgent need of funds to buy feed, seed and other supplies to continue their operations for the remainder of this year. In many instances it was pointed out that these farmers will require emergency credit to put in their 1953 crops.

Local FHA County office now for the purpose indicated. These funds are available at 3 per cent interest for crop production needs, under provisions of Public Law 38.

The purpose of the disaster loan program by Public Law 38, said County Supervisor, William E. Lawson of Haskell is to provide a source of temporary or emergency credit to assist farmers in designated areas who have suffered serious production losses as a result of the drouth or other natural causes, and who are unable to obtain from other established local sources the credit needed to continue their farming or ranching operations.

The Haskell county office of the Farmers Home Administration is located on third floor of the courthouse in Haskell and applicants may contact Lawson there for the purpose of discussing their needs. The Haskell county committee is composed of John W. Brown, George B. Pool, and Jesse A. Pinkerton who certify to the eligibility of applicants for loans and otherwise assist the county supervisor in the administration of the county Farmers Home Administration program.

Stamford to Get Water From Fort Phantom

Unless it rains within the next week, Stamford will need an emergency supply of water from Lake Fort Phantom Hill, according to the Abilene Reporter-News.

The newspaper reported Abilene City Manager Austin P. Hancock as saying Monday morning that Stamford officials had called him last week, saying that they will need water very soon and that they wouldn't ask for the Phantom water until absolutely necessary.

Under an agreement between the two cities, Abilene opens the flood gates at Phantom when Stamford's reservoir on the Clear Fork near Lueders becomes too low to use.

The contract between Abilene and Stamford was signed when Abilene set up a pumping station to catch flood water on the Clear Fork and pour it over into Fort Phantom Hill Lake, major source of Abilene's water supply. Stamford relinquished its priority rights to Clear Fork water with the agreement that Abilene fill the Stamford reservoir yearly until Stamford's new lake on Paint Creek is completed.

Stamford officials now report that the Lueders reservoir is very low and the Stamford City Council last week decided to notify the City of Abilene. The council estimated Stamford will be out of drinking water by Sept. 5.

LONE STAR GAS COMPANY

Do you believe in a ^{Dollar} sign?

THERE are a lot of signs to guide you to the best buy in automobiles.

Popularity is a good sign. It means that a lot of people have tried a car and found it good. So it's important to know that Buick is today — and has been since 1938 — the most popular car outside the "low-priced three."

Room, comfort, power, ride are good signs.

So it's important to know that you can pay hundreds of dollars more and not beat the room and comfort you get in a Buick SPECIAL.

Nor, at the price, can you match its power. And only Buick gives you a real million dollar ride.

Doesn't all this give you a hint?

Doesn't it suggest that you ought to try out a Buick — sample its Fireball 8 Engine — find out how it takes you over the road — feel the sure control that is yours on curves — discover its "big car" room and smoothness?

Do that — and look at the dollars on the price tag — and we know what you'll find out:

If you can afford a new car, you can own a Buick — and boy, what fun that will be!

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Sure is true for '32

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them.

Geneva Joe Brown and Sgt. W. L. Stem, Jr., Repeat Wedding Vows In Ceremony Sunday

The wedding ceremony for Miss Geneva Joe Brown of Stamford and S/Sgt. W. L. Stem, Jr. of Donaldson Air Force Base Greenville, S. C. was read Sunday, August 24th at 4 p. m. in the presence of the immediate families and close friends in the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Turnbow, in Haskell.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. A. A. Brown, 302 Anson St. Stamford and A. R. Brown of Abilene.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stem, Sr. 713 Wells St., Stamford.

The double ring service was read before a large picture window flanked by tall baskets of yellow gladioluses and greenery and the bride's chosen colors of yellow, green and white were carried out through the other rooms.

Barbara Merchant, pianist played traditional wedding music. The Rev. Chas. E. Fike, Jr., of St. John's Methodist Church in Stamford, read the service.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Weldon Turnbow, chose a floor length gown of white imported embroidered organdy over tiered petticoats of nylon net and taffeta.

The bodice was fashioned with nylon tulle yoke and tiny lace collar over a yoke-line accented with seed pearls. The full skirt had a scalloped hemline and the net flounce extended just a bit lower than the hem.

Her waist length veil of illusion fell from a cap of Dutch motif, edged in seed pearls with a yellow rosebud on each side. Her jewelry was a double strand of pearls and pearl droplet earrings. She carried a white Bible topped with yellow roses and tube roses with white streamers.

The bride carried the traditional good luck charm. For something old she wore the pearls, a gift from her mother. Something new was her dress. Something borrowed was the Bible, belonging to her niece, Patsy Turnbow. She wore a blue garter and carried a penny in her shoe.

The maid of honor, Patsy Turnbow, wore light green organdy fashioned with fitted yoke round neckline, puffed sleeves and bouffant skirt. Her headdress and bouquet were yellow carnations.

Little Roberta Dumas, junior bridesmaid, wore yellow organdy with scalloped neckline with puffed sleeves and full skirt. Her headdress and bouquet were small copies of those of the maid of honor.

James Trammell of Colorado City, former school mate of the groom, was best man.

Robert Dumas, brother-in-law of the bride, was usher.

Mrs. Brown, mother of the bride, chose pink linen with lace trim for her dress with black accessories. Her corsage was white carnations.

Mrs. Stem wore light blue crepe with black accessories, with a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held immediately following the wedding. The lace covered table was centered with an arrangement of yellow and white glads. The couple cut the first slice of the traditional 3-tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom. Eileen Newton of Stamford laded punch and Mrs. Robert Dumas, Haskell, served the cake.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Trammell of Colorado City and Emmett Wood of Wichita Falls.

Sue Micker, Haskell, caught the bride's bouquet.

The couple left immediately following the ceremony for Pensacola, Fla. For the trip, the bride chose a pean brown linen suit with brown accessories and yellow rosebud corsage.

Mrs. Stem is a graduate of Stamford high school, class of '48. She was president of the FHA member of Girl's Bluebonnet State, Choral Club Dramatics and a member of the Business and Professional Women's organization. She has been employed as executive secretary for the Jones County Red Cross.

S/Sgt. Stem graduated from Wylie high school in 1947 and attended Tarleton State and McMurry Colleges. He joined the Air Corps Sept. 1, 1950 and is now a radar supervisor stationed at Donaldson Air Force Base, Greenville, S. C.

After a ten day honeymoon the couple will be at home in Greenville, S. C. where he is stationed.

Water Supply Adequate Despite Drouth and Hike In Consumption

With many towns in this area being forced to conserve water supplies through restriction in the amount or purpose for which it may be used, Haskell residents may count themselves fortunate in this respect. Effect of the drouth and heat wave has been felt on crops, but it has not yet had an adverse effect on the municipal water supply, a check with city officials showed this week.

Although water consumption has increased between 20 and 25 per cent over last year at this time, the water table in wells furnishing the city has shown only a slight decline and there is no prospect of any shortage, city water engineer Roy Oliphant reports. A drop in the water level in these wells always occurs during July and August, he explained, except in years when rainfall is unusually heavy in late spring.

No restrictions of any kind have been placed on water use despite the drouth and severity of the current heat wave, Oliphant said.

"So far, we have been able to supply all demands for water and consumers can use as much as they want to pay for, in any way they desire," he commented.

The city obtains its water from ten wells, located in various sections of town and all interconnected with city mains. Water source is in sands and gravel strata, which apparently underlies the entire town at a depth of around 25 feet. The water strata averages about 17 feet in thickness, Oliphant said.

As of August 1, the city water department had 1400 meter connections, the city engineer said. Peak consumption during the current heat wave figured from pumping records, was 1,197,000 gallons, he reported. Highest daily consumption during the summer of 1951 was around 750,000 gallons, according to his records.

In addition to the metered connections, the city furnishes water for the municipal swimming pool in Rice Springs Park, and maintains a free loading rack for farmers who are compelled to haul water for domestic use and for their livestock. During the dry spring and summer months many farmers have used this source of water. The city engineer said he could not estimate how much water was used for this purpose but that it would total a "considerable quantity."

Also, for a number of years the city has been furnishing a tank car of water every two days that is shipped by rail to Shell Oil Company's pumping station between Haskell and Weinert. The pumping station averages using 5,000 gallons of water daily, Oliphant estimated.

Water is also sold to drilling rig contractors, Oliphant said. At one time recently, three rigs were hauling water in tank trucks to wells being drilled in the Haskell vicinity. At present only one rig is being supplied water, he reported. All water except that used by farmers is charged for at regular rates.

At the present time, two wells completed last spring in the northwest part of the city are furnishing almost one-half of the daily water demand. Oliphant said these wells were operated between 15 and 17 hours daily at an average pumping rate of 400 gallons per minute. The other eight wells in the system are on the pump at intervals each day. If the need ever arises, all of the wells could be pumped continuously, the city engineer said.

Water consumers pay a minimum monthly rate of $1.75 for the first 3,000 gallons used, with the next 22,000 gallons charged at 25 cents per thousand. All over 25,000 gallons is charged at 15 cents per thousand.

of St. John Lutheran Church of Dumas, will preach in the eleven o'clock service which will be a commemoration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of dedication of Zion's present house of worship. In the three o'clock service the Rev. H. E. Driessner will deliver the parish hall dedicatory address. After this service the congregation will proceed to the front of the parish hall for the rite of dedication with Zion's pastor, the Rev. V. F. Meyer, officiating. Mrs. V. F. Meyer will be organist for both services.

Members and guests will be served dinner and supper in the parish hall by the ladies of the congregation.

The public is cordially invited to the services. A good crowd is expected at both services. Many members of Zion's sister congregations along with many of Zion's friends in the surrounding communities will be present to help the congregation celebrate the anniversary and the dedication.

The parish hall was started under the leadership of the Rev. Driessner. It is not yet completed because the drouth has hindered progress. The members of Zion are hoping and planning to finish the parish hall and furnish it this coming year.

Although the parish hall has not been completed it has been serving the needs of the congregation well in affording ample and suitable space for its educational and social functions. The parish hall consists of the pastor's study, three Sunday School rooms, a kitchen and auditorium.

Zion wishes at this time to thank the many business firms which have generously helped with materials and furnishings for the parish hall.

Film of Alaskan Scenes Shown At Lions Meeting

The film, "Adventures in Alaska" dealt with a recent trip of the noted sportsman into the wilderness of Alaska. Scenes of Alaskan salmon fishing and annual salmon run were some of the highlights of the thoroughly enjoyable film.

The club has as guests several members of the Haskell School faculty including Tedd, Primary School principal; Preston McCollum, High School principal; Band Director Bill J. Dean, and Tom Jones, principal of Junior High School. Also a guest at the meeting was Rev. Temple Lewis Baptist minister of Weinert.

Dr. I. M. Atkins, Wheat Specialist, Speaks at Munday

A meeting of interest to wheat farmers of this section will be held at the Grade School Building in Munday, Aug. 28 at 8 p.m. The meeting is being sponsored by the Tri-County Farm and Ranch Club.

Dr. I. M. Atkins, who is in charge of small grain investigation at Denton Experiment Station and other experiment stations in Texas, will be the speaker. Dr. Atkins is the outstanding authority on small grains and should bring farmers some valuable information on varieties, disease control, fertilization and other interests to small grain growers.

Inspection Law To Be Enforced, Garrison Says

The car inspection law will be enforced just like any other law when the Sept. 1 deadline for safety certificates passes, Public Safety Director Homer Garrison Jr. said at Austin this week.

Garrison reported inspection stations "jammed with cars all over the state" and estimated at least one million vehicles will fail to meet the deadline nine days away.

Asked if his department will enforce the law, Garrison replied: "It is the law, and we are charged with the enforcement of it the same as we are with all other laws."

Capt. George Busby, chief of the Public Safety Department's motor vehicle inspection division said reports indicate that cars being checked the last two weeks have been older models. He said generally the older cars are showing more defects which need attention and repairs.

In Haskell County, it was estimated today that between 3200 and 3500 of the 6000 cars in the county had been inspected, portending a heavy "run" on the six inspection stations in the county during the next nine days. One Haskell station has announced that it will remain open until 9 p. m. during the remainder of the inspection period.

R. C. Couch, Jr., Speaker at Farm Meet In Crowell

R. C. Couch, Jr., president of the Haskell County Farm Bureau will appear on the program for the sub-district meeting of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation which will be held at the District Court room in Crowell on Sept. 6th. The meeting will begin at 10 a. m. and will be concluded at 3 p. m. All interested farmers as well as Farm Bureau members are invited to attend.

Mr. Couch will discuss "The Farm Bureau Program in the County" at the sub-district meeting.

An aviator, in World War I, was an ace after he shot down five enemy planes within his own lines.

Like Father, Like Son, When It Comes To Building

Building construction ability apparently is an inherent trait in the R. V. Sass family, as father and son are concerned.

R. V. Sass, widely known engineer of Fort Worth, came to Haskell early this year as supervising engineer on the West Texas Utilities Company's multi-million dollar power plant being built on Paint Creek, southeast of Haskell.

Work on the project, which is due for completion during the summer of 1953, is progressing on ahead of schedule under his supervision.

Following in his father's footsteps, Chester Sass, World War II veteran of Redding, Calif., now has under way a $1,500,000 home building project in that city. Initial phase of the California project embraces construction of 187 homes, according to a recent story in the Redding, (Calif.) Record-Searchlight. The development project embraces an entire subdivision, Layton Oaks, in the California city.

Council Approves '52 Tax Rolls: New City Well Authorized

City tax rolls for 1952, as prepared by city secretary T. J. Arbuckle, were approved by the City Council at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The Council also authorized City Water Superintendent Roy Oliphant to put down an additional water well to be added to the city water system. The new well will be the same type as the two gravel wall wells completed last spring. It will be located in the Lindsey Addition in the northwest part of town.

The tax rolls for the current year list total valuations of $3,198,226, an increase of more than a quarter of a million dollars over the 1951 rolls when $2,940,351 was shown.

Making up this year's total valuations is real estate rendered for $2,295,485, personal property renditions of $899,881, and unrendered real estate with a taxable value of $2,860.

Total city tax assessed on 1952 renditions amounts to $47,973.43. City taxes become due Oct. 1 each year, and collections normally run about 85 per cent of assessments.

Paul Lake Takes Position With Vernon Concern
