Harkell county is situated in the southern part of the Panhandle on the line of the one hundredth meridian west from Greenwich. It is 1500 feet above the sea, and has mild winters and summers. It is thirty miles square and contains 578,000 acres of land. It was created in 1858 from a part of Fannin and Milam counties, and named in honor of Charles Haskell, a young Tennesseean, who fell at the massacre at Go-Had in 1836.

It remained unsettled until 1874, when there was one or two rauches established. Other ranchmen followed, and in 1880 the county could boast of fifteen or twenty inhabitants. There was no further development until early in 1886. when the town of Haskell was laid off. and by donating lots a few settlers were watches the railroad bill. As yet Haskell has no railroad, and our people do their principal shipping to and from Abilene, a town 52 miles south, in Taylor county, on the Texas and Pacific railroad, Albany on the Texas Central 45 miles from Haskell on the southeast, and Seymour on the Wichita Valley road 45 miles northeast.

BAILBOADS. There is one road being built from Seymour to this place and one to be built from Fort Worth. The Texas Central will extend in a short time from Albany and Haskell is on the line as originally surveyed.

The land men of Austin have organized a company to build a road from that city to this section of the state, where they control nearly all the land, and one of the principal members owns 150,000 acres in this and Knox counties, besides he owns the large addition to the town of Hankell on the south.

Haskell is 52 mlles north of the T. A P. R. R., and 90 miles south of the Ft. W. & D. R. R., and is situated on the direct line of the cattle trail over which the Rock Island and G. C. & Sa. F. propose to extend their lines.

ABVANTAGES AND RESOURCES. In almost every neighborhood of the older states and the thickly settled pornumerous tributaries draining the south tion of our own state there are many of its citizens who are contemplating a removal or a change of residence for many reasons. Some to restore lost health, some to make their beginning in the world, others to repair financial losses, others seeking safe approfitable in-vestments of serplus capital. There are many others who have comfortable homes and are well contented, but who have children, whom they would like to provide with lands suitable for a home, and assist to commence business in life, but cannot do so with their present surroundings, and must seek cheaper lands and better opportunities in other and newer localities. To such we would say you are just the people we want. WHERE THE WOMEN PROPOSE. Is Is in the U. waine Where the Right Falls (pon Them.

Is the Ukraine. Russia, the woman does all the court ong. When she falls is love with a man she goes to his house and informs him of the state of her feelings. If he reciprocates all is well, and the formal marriage is duly arranged. If, however, he is unwilling, she remains there, hoping to coax him to a better mind. The poor fellow cannot treat her with the least discourtesy, nor has be the consolation of being able to turn her out, as her friends in such a case would feel bound to avenge the insuit. His remedy, therefore, if determined ma to marry her, is to leave his home and stay away as long as size is in it.

On the Istimus of Darien either sex can do the courting, with the patural result that almost every one gets married. A similar practice to that in the Ukraine exists among the Zuni tribe of Indians. The woman does all the courting, and also controls the sitnation after marriage. To her belong all the children, and descent, including inheritance, is also on her side. The same custom prevails among the Vigrees, a tribe in Cabul, and the Nairs of Malabar. Among the Garo race of Abssam, in Northeast India, it is not only the privilege, but even the duty of the girl there to speak first.

MARBET WORE CORSETS.

They Were of the Smuggler Pattern and Held Sixty-Fight Watches.

Louis Marbet, a passenger on the French steamer, La Bourgogne, which arrived at New York lately, tried to smuggle through the customs lines sixty-eight silver watches.

Marbet resorted to a trick which is well known to custom officers. He had a broad waistband, made out of strong cotton cloth, which went clear around him fastening in front like corsets, and having broad shoulder straps. In the lining of this waistband were stitched sixty-eight silver watches of Swiss manufacture. The coat. He managed to crowd against him and felt of the lump. Satisfied that there was jewelry under the coat. Donohue made the man go into a private room, and there examined him in spite of his indignant protests.

As soon as the watch-laden waistband was discovered be admitted that he was trying to run the watches through the lines. He said he had bought them in Switzerland, paying $300 for them. He claims to be a resident of Seattle, Wash. He was held in $2,000 bail.

used. It acts slowly in the dough, so that none of its strength is lost before the baking is completed.

It makes food that will keep sweet, moist and fresh longer, or that may be catea hot and fresh with impunity.

The reasons why the Royal Baking Powder is superior to all others in these respects are easily stated. One is because it is made from chemically pure materials; another is because it is made with greater care and accuracy than any other. It is always uniform in composition and leavening power. It has been the standard baking powder since its introduction. The founder and conductor of its business ever since is still at as good as the first, other powders lose their strength after being made a short time, and particularly after the can is opened.

The exactness with which the active principle of each ingredient prior to mixing is ascertained by expert chemists; the actual prohibition enforced against the receipt into the works of an impure ingredient; the care with which the materials are dried, coated and prepared before their combination, and the precision in packing the powder so that it shall be delivered to the consumer in the perfect condition in which it leaves the factory, are some of the details which go to make the perfect "Royal."

The same means are not employed by other manufacturers. There have been a great many imitations of the Royal, but no equals. Pure materials are not employed, care is not taken in their preparation and combination, while in the great majority of baking powders alum is added to give them strength, while cheapening their cost.
