HORRIBLE! HORRIBLE!

"My God, Give Me Something,"
Cries Oppenheimer in Agony.

HE IS FATALLY SCALDED

In a Tank at Hamm's Butcher Pens
Into Which He Fell Head Foremost Yesterday—Will not Suffer Much More Before Death.

"Give me something! Give me something! My God, give something!" cried Henry Oppenheimer in pitiful tones as in a nude condition with the exception of a bed sheet wrapped partially around him he leaped from a wagon and rushed into the city hospital yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock with the skin peeling from his body. He was in terrible convulsions from the great pain he was suffering.

He had been scalded half an hour before from the top of his head to the tips of his toes in a tank at Frank Hamm's butcher pens on the Missouri Pacific road, one and one-half miles north of this city.

Dr. Carter was summoned as quick as possible and with other assistance had the man bandaged and dressed when a News reporter arrived at 5 o'clock.

"Can you tell enough to tell me how the accident happened?" Asked the reporter.

"No," replied Oppenheimer, but after a little lapse of time he gasped out in monosyllables:

"I was sticking a hog. I had him once, but not well, and was going to stick him again, when he made a struggle and kicked me into the tank. I got out as quick as possible. Did you understand that?"

"Yes," answered the reporter, as he withdrew.

Frank Hamm, who owns these slaughter pens, arrived at this time and explained the accident as follows:

"I own fourteen slaughter pens up there and rent them out to different butchers. I was not present when the man fell in the tank, though from what he has said it was this way: The tank is 7 feet long, 2 1/2 feet broad and 2 1/2 feet deep. By the side of the tank and running parallel with it, though 2 feet away and leaving a standing place between, is a platform two and a half feet high. The hog was on this when Oppenheimer stuck him. The first time was not sufficient and he was sticking him a second time when he kicked him into the tank. He says he fell in head foremost."

Oppenheimer came to this country from Germany about ten years ago and has followed the occupation of a butcher, though he has been at this pen only about four days. He is well known over the city. His folks live in Germany and he has no family.

"How badly do you think he is injured?" Asked the reporter of Dr. Carter.

"He will die," said the doctor.

"When I came down he was shaking all over and begging piteously for relief. There is not a particle of live skin on him now except a small spot on his back and one on his abdomen. It is all off or will come off. His hair will also be likely to come out. The skin on his face is not blisters, because this is of a different texture from that on other portions of his person, though the back of his neck is terribly mutilated. When I came I could not detect any circulation of his blood whatever, so great was the shock. He leaped out of the wagon over the wheels unassisted when he reached the hospital. Those who brought him down took of his clothes, which were soaked with hot water, and had on a sheet around him. I administered opiates and he is now resting easy and says he feels cold. A reaction has set in and he will not now suffer much more. He will now likely live a day or so, but not longer."

The tank in which Oppenheimer was scalded in was the same one in which Fred, the little son of Prof. Munroe, fell and was burned up to his thighs a little over two weeks ago. The little fellow is now nearly well.

BOOMERS BOOMING.

A Frenzied Multitude Already Invading the Cherokee Strip.

Troops and Cavalry Reported En-Route, and Bloodshed is Almost Certain, Detailed.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 14.—A special from Arkansas City, Kan., says, a genuine stampede struck the Oklahoma boomers today. The report sent out by the associated press yesterday, that the Cherokee outfit was declared public land and open to settlement, caused great rejoicing among the whole colony last night, and early this morning signs of uneasiness could be seen in various camps along the line. At 11 o'clock last night the whole country was awake and making preparations to move on to the strip as soon as possible.

As each man realized that his neighbor had the same intention, he became almost frenzied with fear that the best claims would be taken before he could get in. The result was that by daylight there came a genuine rush across the border and by noon a starchy stream was pouring into the Strip. All day long the immigration continued, and at night less than 10,000 people had crossed the line. From the poorest to the wealthiest, it was the same, and there was no advantage given in that point. They have gone in wagons, buggies, on horses, on foot and in the cars, until the city now seems to be depopulated. They have gone with their families and with the intention of staying there, and nothing short of the regular army can oust them. Many went armed with Winchester, rifles, shot-guns and revolvers and say they will not be driven out. Some took the precaution to lay in their supplies to last for a week, but the great majority will not be able to get a meal, and do not know where they can obtain food. Some of them had tents and "shocks" for their claims, but most of them went with nothing but a pallet, and will be contented to sleep on the ground.

News comes in from the Strip that large herds of cattle have been stampeded and are ranging over the country adding an element of danger to the situation. The report is current that soldiers are already in the Territory from the south, and that there are several troops of cavalry on the way from Fort Leavenworth by rail. Dr. Brown, the army surgeon, is reported as having received a telegram to be in readiness to accompany the troops.

A special from Caldwell says: "The colony of Oklahoma boomers organized to invade the Cherokee Strip have made arrangements to start from here at 6 o'clock sharp next Sunday morning. One hundred and seventy-five 'prairie schooners' have joined the colony from all parts of the state. Hon. J. W. Nye, mayor of the city, is at the head of the colony. He rides about on a fine black stallion giving orders to the boomers as if he were a veritable general in command. The colony has laid off a townsite near pond creek and have named it Nyeburg. There will be fully 875 teams ready to start the invasion next Sunday, unless they get stampeded before that time and rush in. Capt. Burbank, from the Oklahoma colony, is here trying to persuade the boomers not to invade the Strip, but Mayor Nye says that the boomers are ready to go, and will go if they have to fight their way through the troops. Capt. Burbank has telegraphed for troops to come here and stop the boomers, and if they get here a lively time is expected as Mayor Nye and the boomers are a determined set of men."

THEY WERE JUST MARRIED.
And an Hotel Clerk who Wouldn't Catch on Tied to Give Them Separate Rooms.

WACO, Tex., March 16.—Quite an amusing incident occurred in this city last evening at one of the hotels. A young couple obtained a marriage license yesterday and after having the ceremony performed they repaired to one of the hotels, and the grooms walked up to the counter and registered, his wife also registered as miss—, signing her husband's name. The clerk supposing them to be brother and sister, directed the bell boy to show the young lady to room No. 6 and the gentleman to room No. 14. The pair exchanged significant glances and withdrew to the hall and entered into earnest conversation, from which the bell boy standing near obtaining a partial understanding of the situation and returned to the clerk and said "His couple don't want no two rooms." The clerk, still not "catching on," said, Oh, yes! I understand. Send them to room No. 7, that has two beds." But this arrangement still did not suit them, and the boy returned telling the clerk that "dem two folks was done married and dey didn't want no double room, either." A single room was assigned them and quite and happiness reigned supreme.

It turns out that the couple had eloped and they boarded an east-bound Cotton Belt this morning just in time to escape an irate father, who swore vengeance against the reprobate who stole his girl.

A friend furnished us a copy of the report of what he said on the occasion, but space was too limited to publish it.

The National Democrat published at Washington is the best political paper in the United States. It is disseminating more political information among the people than any other of its contemporaries. Every farmer in Texas should subscribe for it. This journal is always exposing the iniquitous tariff, and gives many illustrations of its oppressions.

SOME STOCKMAN who attended the convention at Fort Worth sent us an anonymous notice to publish in last issue in regard to a Stockman's meeting at this place, and the same was not published for the reason, that we do not interfere with business matters of any class of citizens without proper authority. The writer of the said notice presumed a little too much upon our verandcy, and we must say that we do not feel very highly complimented, as we learned after we had refused to publish the notice, that the writer purposely failed to sign the same. The temptation contained in the letter accompanying the notice, to the effect that the secretary of the Stockman's association at this place would pay the bill, did not have the desired effect.

The foregoing statements are made for the benefit of those who really want to see their communications in print.

Buried While in a Trance and the Grave Robbed by Students.

St. Louis, Mo.—For some time the local press has been puzzled over the case of John O'Conner, which is certainly a most remarkable one. It was claimed that he had died and that his body was taken to the morgue, where it was identified by his wife, who had him buried in Calvary cemetery. A few days later it was claimed that O'Conner was alive, and that his wife had been mistaken, and that the man who was taken to the grave was not her husband. It now transpires that there is every reason to believe that O'Conner was not buried by —Ye scribe mad a business trip to Albany Monday night and returned Tuesday evening. The distance traveled in 24 hours was 95 miles. A gentleman by the name of Montgomery, sheriff of Raynes county accompanied us to Albany who had traveled from Abilene to Haskell Monday leaving Abilene at 7 a. m. and arriving in Albany at 7 a. m. Tuesday, making 110 miles he had traveled in the same time. Two ponies made the 95 miles and and though jaded were in good condition when the trip was over.

tion for the organization of Floyd county, but the Judge could not grant them the relief in the way they prayed for same. The course pursued by the court of Crosby county is to be condemned. They seem to be disposed to do all they can to block the development of the west. HASKELL county is situated in the southern part of the panhandle on the line of the one-hundredth Meridian west from Greenwich. It is 1500 feet above the sea, and has mild winters and summers. It is 30 miles square and contains 900,000 acres of land. It was created in 1858 from a part of Fannin and Milan counties, and named in honor of Charles Haskell, a young Tennessean, who fell at the massacre at Goliad in 1835.

It remained unsettled until 1871 when there was one or two ranches established. Other ranchmen followed and in 1880 the county could boast of 15 or 20 inhabitants. There was no further development until early in 1884, when the town of Haskell was laid off and by donating lots a few settlers were induced to build residences, and in January 1885 the county organized with a polled vote of 57 electors.

Up to 1884 the soil had never been turned by a plow, and the people depended upon raising cattle, sheep and horses as the natural grasses furnished food both winter and summer for lumbering herds. The poorer people made money by gathering many thousand tons of Buffalo bones and shipping them east to be made into fertilizers for use in the old states.

Experiments were made in 1885 with garden products, corn, oats, wheat, rye, barley and cotton, and the yield was bountiful.

In 1886 and 1887 the entire west, from Dakota to Mexico suffered from seasons of unprecedented dryness, but the faith of the few farmers of Haskell county, kept green and in the fall of 1887 farming began in dead earnest, and the crop of 1888 far surpassed all anticipation, corn made 25 bushels per acre; oats made from 60 to 100, wheat from 15 to 25, rye 20, and cotton, one-third to one-half bale per acre, and sorghum, hay and millet was so bountiful it was hardly considered as a part of the general crop and there was no demand for it in the local market. The acreage in farms have been increased to at least 10,000 acres.

TOPOGRAPHY.
The county is an undulating plain with occasional creeks and branches. It is bounded on the north by that picturesque stream the Salt Fork of the Brazos, and on the west by Double Mountain Fork.

There are a few washes and gulches along the creeks and rivers, but with river breaks, rocks and poor land combined, their area in Haskell county would not average over 10,000 acres that would not be a fine agricultural land.

WATER.
It is traversed by numerous creeks and branches besides the rivers mentioned, some of which are fed by never failing springs of purest water.

Besides the numerous branches that afford water for stock all the time, the south half of the county is traversed by Paint and California creeks with their numerous tributaries draining the south half of the county.

The north half is traversed from southwest to northeast by Lake and Miller creeks whose tributaries furnish water and drainage for the same.

Besides the surface water there is an abundance to be obtained by digging from 15 to 30 feet, and all of a good quality, some of which is unsurpassed by that of any section in the state for purity and temperature.

SOIL.
The soil is an alluvial loam of great depth and fertility, varying in color from a red to a dark chocolate, and by reason of its porosity and friable nature, when thoroughly plowed, readily drains in the rainfall and in dry seasons absorbs moisture from the atmosphere; and for the like reasons the soil readily drains itself of the surplus water, thereby preventing stagnation of the water and the baking of the soil, as well as the germination of miasma. It is those peculiar qualities of soil that enable vegetation to withstand all varieties of weather.

Except mesquite grubs and stumps, which are easily extracted, there are no obstructions to plows, and the land being level or generally rolling, and easily worked, the use of labor saving implements at once becomes pleasant and profitable. One man with machinery and a little hired help has been known to cultivate over 100 acres in grain and cotton.

PRODUCTS.
Indian corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, durum corn, millet, sorghum, castor beans, field peas, peanuts, pumpkins, and all the squash family, turnips and cotton are grown successfully and profitably. Also sweet potatoes do well, and Irish potatoes as well as anywhere in the South. Garden vegetables grow to perfection, and melons luxuriant in Haskell county soil, growing to fine size of superb quality. Besides the native grasses that grow on the prairie, sustaining large numbers of cattle, horses and sheep throughout the year, Johnson and Colorado grasses grow to great perfection, and the hay made from these grasses forms a valuable adjunct to the winter pasture, in keeping stock over winter.

YIELD AND PRICES OF FARM PRODUCTS.
The average yield of Indian corn per acre is about 30 bushels and the price varies from 50c to 1.25 per bushel; the wheat yield for the year 1888—dry year—ranged from 15 to 30 bushels—averaging 25 bushels per acre, and sold in the home market for 50 cents to $1.00 per bushel; oats yield 60 to 100 bushels per acre, and usually sell at 25 cents per bushel; cotton yields a half to three quarters of a bale per acre, but owing to the great distance to market its cultivation is not engaged in to a great extent. Other crops make good yields and command corresponding prices. Home made pork is usually worth 6 to 8 cents per pound; fresh beef 10 to 6 cents; home made butter, sweet and delicious, usually sells at 25 cents per pound, chickens 15 to 25 cents each, and eggs 10 to 25 cents per dozen.

SHIPPING POINT.
As yet Haskell has no railroad, and our people do their principal shipping to and from Abilene, a town 60 miles south, in Taylor county, on the Texas and Pacific Railroad. There is also some shipping done to Albany, a town 45 miles southeast, on the Texas Central Railroad, but not so much as to Abilene, because of rougher wagon roads.

RAILROADS.
There is one road being built from Dallas to this place and one to be built from Fort Worth. The Texas Central will have to extend in a short time from Albany or Fort Worth to Haskell, and Haskell is on the line as originally surveyed.

The land men of Austin have organized a company to build a road from that city to this section of the state where they control nearly all the land and one of the principal members owns 150,000 acres in this and Knox county, besides he owns the large addition to the town of Haskell on the south. Haskell is 60 miles north of the T. & P. R. R. and 30 miles south of the Ft. W. & D. R. R. and is situated on the direct line of the cattle trail over which the Rock Oiled, and G. C. & S. F. propose to extend their lines.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.
Our school fund is perhaps the best of any county in the north-west. In addition to the amount received from the state, about $5,500 per annum, our commissioners court have wisely executed a lease for 10 years of our 4 leagues of school land, situated in the panhandle, the proceeds from which added to the amount received from the state gives us a fund amply sufficient to run the several schools of the county ten months in the year. This fund can also be drawn upon to build school houses in any organized school community of the county.

MAIL FACILITIES.
There is only one post office in Haskell. It has a daily mail, over the line from Abilene via Anson; which line also brings express freight, and proves very satisfactory to our people.

RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS.
The religious and moral status of the people of Haskell county will compare favorably with that of any people. The Methodist, Baptist, Christian, Old School and Cumberland Presbyterians each have organized churches in the town of Haskell, and have preaching on Sundays, also preaching at other points in the county. We have a good Union Sunday School, and weekly prayer meeting that are well attended.

LAND.
The town of Haskell is the county site of, and is situated one and one-half miles north of the center of Haskell county, on a beautiful table land, and is five years old and has a population of 600 to 700. There is good well water as can be found anywhere, which is secured at a depth of 15 to 25 feet. Also has two never failing springs of pure water in the edge of town. Haskell has four dry goods and grocery stores that sell goods at prices as low as can be had in railroad towns, with 50 cents per hundred pounds for freight added, and dry goods and groceries as cheap as can be bought any where, one gin and mill. Also has four drug stores, one hardware one notion one hotel and one restaurant, both first class; two blacksmith shops; two cabinet and wood shops; one lumber yard one exchange bank, one barber shop; one silver smith shop one saddlery shop, one boot and shoe shop; one meat market; two livery stables; four doctors; 10 lawyers and land agents; one first class county newspaper and job office and only one saloon, all doing a very good business. The town of Haskell with her natural advantages, of location, climate, good water and fertility of soil is destined in the near future to be the queen city of Northwest Texas, and railroad connection for Haskell is all that is needed to accomplish these.

ADVANTAGES AND RESOURCES.
In almost every neighborhood of the older states and the thickly settled portion of our own state there are many of its citizens who are contemplating a removal or a change of residence for many reasons. Some to restore lost health, some to make their beginning in the world, others to repair financial losses, others seeking safe and profitable investments of surplus capital. There are many others who have comfortable homes and are well contented, but who have children, whom they would like to provide with lands suitable for home, and assist to commence business in life, but can not do so with their present surroundings, and must seek cheaper lands and better opportunities in other and newer localities.

To such we would say you are just the people we want. Come and see us, and you will find a broad field of occupation and investment to choose from, with chances greatly in your favor. In coming to Haskell do not imagine we are a people wild and woolly
