Lightning Bolt Believed Cause Of Fire Sunday

Lightning was believed to have started a fire at the residence occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Wallace, 1200 South Avenue G, about 1 a. m. Sunday. Several hundred dollars damage resulted from the blaze which occurred during a severe electrical storm and light rain. After arrival of first storm and light rain. rival of firemen the blaze was quickly extinguished, but the flames had burned through the ceiling and roof in one room of the five-room house. Mr and Mrs. Wallace also lost a quantity of clothing, bedding and other household effects in the room.

The shrill, excited chatter of two parakeets was credited by Mrs. Wallace with calling attention to the blaze. The birds were in a cage near a door leading into the room where the fire started. Hearing the commotion of the parakeets, Mrs. Wallace, fearing that perhaps a cat had gotten inside the house, went to investigate and discovered the the Trinity Heights Church of

HASKELL VISITOR

Haskell schools have been among the first to register for the second annual Homecoming to be held Oct. 7-8, Hill Oates, president of the Homecoming and Ex-Students Association said this week. And if the advance registration of Exes of 60 and more years ago holds good through all the classes since the turn of the century, this year's Homecoming attendance will run into the thousands, Oates believes. First to register for the 1955 Homecoming was Irion Pearsey of this city, member of the Class of '89. Later he was to be con-nected with the local schools for several decades as custodian. Right along with Pearsey was George B. Fields, Class of '94. Another early registrant was Mrs. Ada Rike, Class of '96, who later taught for a number of years in the Haskell schools.

Scores of other Haskell exes have registered during the past week, and several hundred will likely pre-register in advance of the Homecoming, association offi-cials believe. This will eliminate the last-minute rush and will per-mit committees to devote more time to resistering out-of-town visitors and suests on the first day of the Homecoming, it was

(Bill) Holden, chairman ing have been announced as folof the invitations committee, said lows: Wednesday that many replies were being received daily from ex-students and former school patrons, in resopnse to card inquiries which have been mailed to all persons registering at last year's event

An added event which will be held in connection with the 1955 Homecoming will be the dedication ceremonies for the new High School Gym and oth-er additions to the school plant.

Work is being started toward assembling school pictures, an-nuals, trophies, clippings, or any-thing that might be of interest to exes, and these articles will be placed on display again this year Several local business concerns are already planning these exhibits to be featured during the week preceding the Homecoming.

Chairman Holden and members of the invitations committee stress-ed the fact that the Homecoming activities are for all ex-students, former teachers and patrons of Haskell schools. "The annual Haskell schools. The annual Homecoming is a community affair." Holden and his committee members explained. "All former students, teachers and school patterns are included, and urged to take part in all Economing activities," they all.

Mrs. L. E. Dudley, TFWC President, Speaker At First Program of Progressive Study Club

"Consider the Blessing of Freedom" was given in an educational way by Mrs. L. E. Dudley, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs to the Progressive Study Club members and their guests in the first meeting of the year Thursday night, September 1 in the Magazine club house.

"Let's have a definition of Freedom," stated Mrs. Dudley. "Freedom is absence of fear, presence of confidence in the right to work out one's own destiny. It is many people of many races standing tall in equal stature before the law. Freedom is the workings of a government based on laws. rather than on the arbitrary whims of man, It's a pathway to the best achievement the individual's abilities and hopes and dreams can reach. It's America, imperfect, but still working toward the form of government conceived in idealism second to none other. It's a reality that will exist only so long as people understand it's worth, stand for it's preservation, and defend it against all encreachments, whether from within or without. Freedom is a woman's club diverse in membership, unlimited in potentialities, united in oneness of Continuing Mrs. Dudley said, "Our nation was founded on religion, the beginnings of freedom. Lady Liberty isn't famous for her beauty or size but she means freedom to all the world, Freedom is a most precious possession we can own."

Mrs. Dudley reminded club women to be more conscious of the safety and traffic laws and try to have driver education in all high schools. She hoped every dub woman in Texas would pay her poll tax and then study the candidate and cast her vote as intelligent club women should. She hoped some day in the very near future that Texas and American history would be a requirement for graduation in our high schools. Concluding, Mrs. Dudley left this thought. "Out of the beauty of the earth and the labor of men out of the longing of hearts and the prayer of souls, out of the memory of the ages and the hope of the world, God fashioned the nation in love and called it America. This is my land Amrica. It's homes are still free and it's people still brave. I pledge myself to its keeping. It is my responsibility."

Mrs. O. J. Curry, president of the Progressive Study Club, in-troduced Mrs. Dudley by saying "Some speeches are made and forgotten—some are made and re-membered." "Free—To Be Responsible" given by Mrs. Dudley Jones, O. W. Vaughn, C. F. Oman to the Texas Federation of Wo- and W. B. Guess.

men's clubs Convention in Nov of 1954, which pointed out the value of the individual in assuming the responsibilities that correspond to the blessings of freedom, has been selected by the Progressive Study Club as the guide basis for its 1955-56 study program, With sincere appreciation the yearbook is dedicated to Mrs Dudley."

The devotional, given by Mrs Wm. J. Kemp, was the first in a planned series to be called 'Book of the Month" and be about a book of the Bible, Preceding Mrs. Kemp's able review of Genesis, she pointed out that, by studying one of the books of the Bible each month it is hoped that Bible reading will be encouraged among the club members, and the club aims and purses strengthened,

The president's chosen colors of pink and silver were very cleverly carried throughout the decorations in the club house an arrangement on the speaker's table of pink asters and silvered lemon leaves and again on the ten table where pink tapers burned in silver candleholders on a lace over pink cloth The guests were served dainty pink and white open faced sandwiches, pink and silver cookies and punch in silver cups ladeled from a sterling silver punch bowl. The social committee, composed of Mesdames Viars Felker. I chairman; Jean Elliott, Jay Weaver, Howard Perry, Wm. E Lawson, served as hostesses.

Approximately sixty guests and members registered representing Throckmorton, Weinert, Baton Sulphur Springs, Rouge, La.; Haskell and Abilene. Accompanying Mrs. Dudley was Miss Eudora Hawkins, State Conservation chairman, of Abilene.

Weinert W M. S. Meets for Royal Service Program

Weinert WMS met Monday for the Royal Service program directed by Mrs. C. T. Jones. Opening prayer led by Mrs., E. F. Rainey. Devotional was given by Mrs. Bill King from Psalms. Mrs. G. C. Newsom then led the group in prayer for the missionaries in Thailand. Mrs. R. C. Liles played organ music for the program. Hymns sung were The Kingdom is Coming and Send the Light.

The meeting was closed with a series of prayers by the group. Other members attending were Mesdames Geo, Hudgins, R. H.

Reporter-News Soil Day Will Be Held Tuesday, April 13

The second annual Abilene Reporter-News Soil Day will be staged Sept. 13 on the J. P. Howle farm, 8 miles northwest of Abilene in Jones County.

Theme of the day's program and objective of demonstrations will be "soil conditioning."

Experts will discuss the planting and management of cover crops in preventing erosion, building fertility and restoring organic matter in the land. Oth-ers will discuss the use of native and introduced grasses and man-agement practices in range improvement.

One of the acknowledged mas-ers of soil conditioning, Clinton Harbers of West, Texas, will be the principal speaker.

The South Texas farmer who has won recognition on his soil conditioning cropping system will outline the legume growing program that he inaugurated in 1947 that increased the productivity of his land several fold in eight years.

A number of West Texas farm-ers have already pledged the Soil Conservation Service and the Reporter-News that they will follow the "Harbers Plan" in their 1955-56 farming operations. Abilene farm equipment dealers will assist in the mechanical phases of soil conditioning. The board of supervisors of the Middle Clear Fork Soil Conservation district will have its Harbers conservation tools on hand for demonstration in the planting of a winter legume and fertilizer

Among those who will discuss the use of tools, crops and grasses in farmland and range land conditioning will be H. C. Stanconditioning will be H. C. Stanley, Taylor County agriculture agent; J. B. Harlan, conservationist with the SCS; Hugh Magers, range specialist of the SCS; J. K. Justice, soil specialist and professor in the agriculture department of Abilene Christian College; and Dr. F. M. Churchill, head of the ACC agriculture department and range specialist.

The food and cold drink con-charge of the Taylor County Home Demonstration Council, Objective of the Reporter-News Soil Day is to stimulate interest among farmers to do a better job of soil and water conservation, soil conditioning and improvement of fertility. Farmers from all sections of the Southwest are invited to attend Soil Day.

American Business Creates Close To 9 Million New Jobs

Washington - American business has created close to nine million new jobs since World War II, neatly keeping pace with the demand, according to Chamber of Commerce of United States.

That, says the Chamber, should throw just about the last spadeful of earth over the grave of the notion that improved technology causes unemployment.

The nine million new postwar jobs cover all industries except agriculture. Government jobs also are excluded. During the same period, the Chamber reports, the number of persons of working age also increased by abount nine

These events took place during the era of expanded technology the like of which the world has never seen, the Chamber points out, New machines, new production methods, new sales management skills exploded all over the industrial landscape.

The biggest boost in jobs came in the retail trades, in manufacturing, construction and the service industries. And while the number of farm jobs decreased due to increased productivity, workers found jobs elsewhere, the Chamber points out.

lesson these figures teach. the Chamber suggests, is that the net effect of better ways of doing things is to create rather than to destroy jobs.

Farm youngsters under 16 years of age are expected to be in school when the fall term opens in this community in September.

Regional Director Wm, J. Rogers of the Department of Labor's Wage-Hour Division in Dallas says the child-labor provisions of the Federal Fair Labor Standard Act generally prohibit the em-employment of children under 16 years of age in agriculture during hours when the local school is in session.

So children under 16 cannot legally be employed for farm work. such as cotton picking, etc., during school hours if the farm products concerned go into interstate or foreign commerce.

Farmers are responsible under the Federal law if they hire under-age children to do farm work during school hours. And the law applies equally to local resident children and to migratory children.

He said "school hours" means those hours when school actuall is in session for the school district where the child under 16 s currently living.

The law, he said, sets no minimum age for employing minors on farms before or after school hours, or during school holid ye or vacations.

Primitive Farm Methods Still Used In Parts of Europe, Teacher Learns

returned from Europe where she attended a series of educational conferences, also made several tours to various parts of Europe.

Primitive methods of farming are still being used in parts of Germany, the Haskell teacher learned on a tour of that country. In the following account she relates some of the highlights of a trip through Holland, Germany and Belgium.

We left Lucerne, early in the morning in our private bus for the last lap of our tour, to Heidelberg, Germany, The drive was very different from the scenery we had enjoyed in Switzerland.

We drove through a great agricultural section, primitive methods were being used, they were harvesting hay and rye, by hand Oxen and wooden plows were being used. We saw no modern equipment in this section. They had beautiful crops, men, women and children were working in the fields. We drove through great fruit section, the pear trees were breaking down with fruit. The walnut trees were also heavy with the nuts. We passed through a great mining section where iron ore was being min-

Then we came to the world famous Black Forest. This was a breath-taking drive. The wood from this forest is used to make their clocks and other woodcrafts for which they are fa-

We passed through several sections where we saw much destruction from the bombs dropped. It is marvelous the way they are building.

Heidelberg is an old city, dating back to medieval times. Many of the old buildings still stand. The more modern buildings look out of place in this setting. We visited old Heidelberg Castle, the home of the Student Prince, the Red Ox Inn, and The Student's Prison was most interesting, on the walls are names of now very famous men. One night the Castle was beautifully illuminated, we attended a concert in the court. After the performance, there was a marvelous display of fireworks.

Heidelberg was one of the best shopping centers we found They have beautiful silver, chine and wood. The prices were the cheapest we found in Europe.
On Sunday morning we went to church in the American Section Area Command Chapel. After the service we drove about the grounds. We have 10,000 men stationed there with their families. We were happy to see they have such spacious quarters. Dr. Seifert was our guest for lunch. He has charge of all the schools for the U.S.A. Armed Services in Germany and France. This is a very great responsibility and he is doing a swell job. There are 35,000 American children in the schools, and 2,000 American teachers, under his supervision They are trying to carry out the program of work we have in schools in the States, so the children may return at any time to our schools and not be failing in their work. From Heidelberg we went to Wiesbaden, a famous health resort, of international fame, noted for its fine hot springs. It is sit-uated between Taunus Hills and the River Rhine. People from all parts of the world are here for parts of the world are here for treatment. Wiesbaden is a very modern, and industrious city. From Heidelberg to Wiesbaden we traveled on the famous Auto-bahn, claimed to be the best highway in the world. We had our beautiful trip on the Rhine from Wiesbaden to Amsterdam, Holland. On this trip we were kept busy taking pictures of all the stately old Castles made famous in the Legends of the Rhine. Amsterdam is called the Venice of the North. Every one who has visited both cities say Amsterdam is the most beautiful, and the cleanest, the climate more delightful. We enjoyed our tour of the city. We spent hours in museums enjoying the originals of the great artists, Rembrandt, Van Gooch, De Hooch, Rueben, Franz Hals, and others. Amsterdam, Holland. On this Madalin Hunt, teacher in Has-kell Elementary School, who has night is a thrilling sight. We ook a motor launch trip on the Zudersea to the Islands of Volendam and Marken, on the trip we had a chance to see the dykes, and the windmills at work. The Islands are famous for their pyramid houses, they are one large room divided into three sections. The family lives in the center, the cows on one side, the haystack on the other. On these Islands the natives still wear their original costumes and go about their work as they did in the old days.

Volendam is famous for the lovely Delft China, Marken is a small fishing village. They have a population of 500 people, there are only six family names. They are all related and control all the business on the island.

In Amsterdam we spent several hours in a diamond factory watching them cut and polish the precious stones. They are the best n the world in this art. We also spent several hours in the wooden shoe factory. Most of the shoes are made by hand, this is also an art. Leaving Amsterdam for and very busy. The Peace Palace is magnificent.

We arrived in Brussells about five one afternoon. That night we walked down to the Grand Plaza. The buildings around this square were built by the various Trade Guilds, they were in keen competition to make their structure the grandest. The buildings are done in gold, they have special lighting at night, you think you have walked into fairy land. They are brilliant in the sunlight. On the square they have a famous flower and bird market. Brussells is a clean city, and one of the most modern cities we Brussells is known throughout the world for its hand-made laces We enjoyed going to the lace houses and watching them making the laces. We noted with in-terest that the workers were all old. They told us sadly that in a few more years it would be impossible to buy the hand-made laces. The younger generation refuse to learn the art,

From Brussells we went back to Paris, where we boarded the Castel Felice for our trip home. We had two very rough days, we were caught between the two hurricanes. We were all very thrilled to see Miss Liberty.

I think we have returned with a greater love and appreciation for our Christian Nation, and the many advantages we enjoy as Americans. We must ever strive o keep Her great.

We are convinced that we have the greatest system of education -our schools are superior. Our American youth is better fitted to go out and meet the problems of life.
