CYRUS FIELDS the former millionire is dead.

ALL the sovereigns turned out to he county convention. It could be seen at once that the Hogg people were in the majority and the Clark men made no contest on the chairmanship but made a fight for secretary, S. H. Johnson a Clark man and S. W. Scott a Hogg man being put in nomination. Scott won by 157 to 75.

The covention was conducted in an orderly manner, though the Clark men contended manfully for their measures. Both sides were conservative and demonstrated the fact hat the people of Haskell county are composed of the proper materi-

THE reason why the city papers is not so much subjected to these in- I. Crabtree. fluences and are not run by moneyed corporations as are city papers and need in the fight against corporate Perry, J. S. Riddle.

The people should help and encourage the country press and uphold the editors in their efforts for example the Fort Worth Gazette. That paper has owing to the loss of city support and capitalist boycot been compelled to desert its own politics and take a position against its own convictions. Had the Gazette been assured that its elforts would not have been forgotten it is possible that it would to-day be fighting the battle of the people.

The people have too often forgotten great benefactors after the victory was won. There is Henry Waterson who has done more for Democracy than any other man, yet the party has never done anything for this man as a reward for his services. Politically he is always forgotten while the shrewd, non-committal, schemeing, smiling politician has always been preferred by the party. What reward has he for duty well performed? Forgotten by his party and condemned by its enemies! If the people would not be so ungrateful to these great patriots it is possible there would be more of them in the field to battle for their cause.

The county Democratic mass meeting of Haskell County, which had been called by chairman of the executive committee, met on July 9th, 1892 at the Opera House in Haskell, Texas and was called to order at 2 o'clock P. M. by J. C. Baldwin, chairman of the executive committee for the ensuing two years.

BRIDE AND GROOM.

Cupid's wings are fluttering Upon the summer breeze. His arrows flying thickly Beneath the budding trees

Young hearts are fondly beating, To love's immoytal tune, And brides and bridal roses Will blossom out in June.

We've snowy orange flowers To crown the bonny bride-In sheeny silks and satins We take an honest pride.

Our solft and clinging draperies, With levely, groceful fold, Are just the combination One hungers to behold. The misty breath of morning

Blown o'er the verdant vale. Is lost beside the beauty Of our floating bridal veil Our gloves-unique and pretty, We hold at your command;

In white and dainty colors-They would grace an angel's hand The bridegroom-heaven bless him! We have suits fit for a king-If he wants to come down handsome,

We can show him just the thing. Our clothing was selected By the finest of experts: And we take the azure ribbon On our Mother Hubbard shirts

Neckties of snowy whiteness And a thousand things beside; We give especial bargains To the bridegroom and the bride,
