Indians Blank Merkel 14-0; Badgers Monday Here Friday Night

Tribe of Haskell up their seventh straight victory over the Badgers 14-0 in a District game Friday night. The Badgers were held scoreless in the first quarter. Fullback John Pitman, 147 pounds, Haskell ground-gainer, rammed the Merkel line for the first touchdown with 6:28 to go in the first half. Haskell had worked the ball 74 yards after a pass interception by Center Don Dendy gave the Indians the ball on their own 26.

Confectionery at O'Brien Looted During Week-End

Members of the Sheriff's department Monday were investigating the week-end burglary of Smith's Confectionery at O'Brien. Thieves gained entry by breaking a window in the rear of the building, officers said. Approximately $2.00 in pennies was taken from a cash drawer in the confectionery, and a coin-operated juke box was looted of its money. The culprits damaged the machine considerably in prying open the money box. No arrests had been made in connection with the theft Tuesday, but officers were continuing their investigation.

'B' and Junior High Squads Travel to Albany Thursday

Two of Haskell's three football teams that are undefeated in conference play will be in action Thursday night against a common foe—Albany—in rounding out their season schedules.

Both Coach McClung's "B" team of Indians, and Coach Sammy Spratt's Junior High School Warriors will travel to Albany for a double-header engagement with Albany "B" and Junior High School squads.

Both Haskell teams hold wins over Albany in games played here earlier in the season. Coach McClung's charges defeated Albany "B" 14-2 on Sept. 16, and Coach Spratt's Junior High Warriors blanked Albany Junior High 12-0 on Sept. 23.

The Haskell "B" team has a perfect record for the season, while the only smudge on the Junior High Warriors' record is the 0-0 deadlock with Knox City in their season opener played in that city Sept. 14.

Postoffice Building Prospects Dim, Congressman Mahon Says

Likelihood of securing a post office building in Haskell does not appear too bright in the immediate future, Congressman George Mahon told a group of Haskell business men at an informal meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce office Friday morning.

The congressman spent the day here and in other towns of the county visiting with friends. In discussing the postoffice project, Mahon said that postal receipts of the Haskell postoffice were almost four times the amount necessary to make the town eligible for a postoffice building. However, he pointed out that Government spending of more than 60 billion dollars annually, mostly for defense measures, had virtually eliminated the possibility of a program for Federal buildings.

Under a new law passed by the recent Congress, provision is made for local capital to finance construction of buildings suitable for a postoffice, and to amortize the investment through a long-term lease and purchase agreement with the Government. The drawback here, Mahon explained, was the fact that Congress did not provide sufficient appropriation to carry out the program.

On the basis of postal receipts, Haskell is the third city in line for a postoffice building in the 19th District, Mahon said. He suggested that the Chamber of Commerce and city and county officials keep the project active. Then, when appropriations are made or funds otherwise become available, Haskell would be among the first to benefit from the program.

Farm problems also were discussed during the meeting, and Mahon asked for the opinions of the group on various phases of the farm economy in this immediate area. While here, Mahon contacted the State ASC office at College Station relative to extension of the date for planting wheat under acreage allotment on individual farms. The final date was Nov. 5, but Mahon told the group that he was given assurance by State ASC officials that requests for extensions from this date made by the County ASC Committee would be given every consideration.

The amendment was adopted in the general election last week.

The amendment provides for staggered terms, so that approximately half the elective officers are named each two years. Beginning in January, 1955, the following officials will start four-year terms:

Gridiron Rivals, Weinert and Paint Creek Lads are Close Pals as Hospital Patients

Bobby Taylor, fullback on the Paint Creek Pirates 6-man football squad, and Freddie Wiggins, halfback on the Weinert Bulldogs squad are rivals on the gridiron but are partners in misfortune. Both are patients in the Haskell County Hospital with injuries that will keep them out of play the remainder of the season.

Bobby received a fracture of his left ankle Thursday night during the Paint Creek-Mattson game. Freddie preceded him in the hospital as a result of a fractured left elbow received during Bulldog practice earlier last week.

Thunderstorm and Light Hail Hits Haskell Tuesday

A spring-like thunderstorm brought this area's first appreciable moisture in recent months Tuesday afternoon when rainfall of one-half inch was gauged during a 30-minute downpour between 1:30 and 2 p. m.

The driving rain was accompanied by a peppering of small hail of sufficient intensity to almost cover the ground and cause some fears that loss might be inflicted on cotton remaining to be gathered in this vicinity.

However, scattered reports Tuesday afternoon indicated that the rain was not general over the entire county, with the rain belt extending from the eastern half of the county to Haskell, and lighter to the west. The moisture will halt gathering of the crop possibly a day or two, but the bulk of the crop has already been harvested.

Haskell's three gins had processed 7,827 bales Tuesday afternoon, and ginners estimate that approximately 85 per cent of the crop in this immediate vicinity has been gathered. Mechanical harvesters, or strippers, will be used in getting the bulk of the cotton remaining, one Haskell ginnee believes. A good many transient farm workers, mostly Latin-Americans, are leaving this area since the major part of this year's short crop has been gathered, he explained.

Two Hunters Pay Fines for Pre-Season Shots

Two over-eager hunters who "jumped the gun" on the duck shooting season Friday morning, paid fines of $25 and costs each in Justice Court here. The two men, residents of Abilene and Stamford, were hunting in the vicinity of Paint Creek Lake. State Game Warden Henry B. Iverson also happened to be in the area. He filed the complaints with Justice of the Peace Eal Treadwell. The warden explained that duck season did not open until 12 noon Friday.

Indians 'B' Team Blanks Hamlin 26-0 Thursday

Haskell Indians "B" team marked up its 8th victory of the season Thursday night in scalping the Hamlin Pied Pipers 26-0 on Indian Field.

Quarterback Robert Starr's scoring passes to Ed David Duncan decided the game, although Haskell had two touchdowns called back on clipping penalties.

Starr passed to Duncan for 20 yards and a TD in the first quarter and Lyndon Harris kicked the point. Haskell stormed back in the second half as Starr pitched to Duncan for a 25-yard scoring marker and the point was blocked.

Starr threw his third touchdown pass to Ed John Clifton and Bill Holley converted. The aerial-minded quarterback completed the night's scoring with a 25-yard pass to Duncan with a minute remaining in the game.

Dist. 4 Six-Man Title at Stake In Paint Creek-Weinert Tilt Tonight

The Weinert Bulldogs will invade the domain of the Paint Creek Pirates tonight, in a game that will decide the championship in District 4 six-man football.

The game will be played on Pirate Field, starting at 7:30 p. m., and both teams carry perfect records into the tilt. Weinert is given a slight edge on the basis of the Bulldogs' defensive record.

In district games Weinert has scored 355 points to 53 total for their opponents, and Paint Creek has scored 333 points to 148 total for their opponents.

In other Dist. 4 games, Mattson already assured of third place in the district race, after occupying the cellar for two years, goes to Benjamin in a game that should help its average. Vera will play McCaulley at Hamlin.

Wheat Fed On Farm Included In Quota Totals

When marketing quotas are in effect for wheat, that grown on acres in excess of farm acreage allotments is subject to quota penalties even if fed on the farm, says Claud K. McCan, chairman of the state ASC committee.

Many farmers have raised the question why wheat grown for feed—and not sold on the market—must be included under quota and allotment provisions. The law is clear on this point and is not a matter for administrative ruling, adds McCan.

Smaller producers—those with acreage allotments of less than 15 acres—do not come under the marketing quota provisions if their total wheat production on the farm does not exceed 15 acres. In these cases, the penalty for exceeding acreage allotments is only the loss of wheat price support eligibility.

In all other instances, however, all wheat produced on acreage outside the established farm allotment is subject to quota penalties.

Dress Up Town With Trees and Shrubs

If you think your town could use more trees and shrubs, now may be just the time to take the idea to some responsible local organization, according to the magazine, Changing Times. These long winter months are ideal for planning and looking ahead. A comparatively modest expenditure can work wonders in covering up unsightly eyesores. In addition, local pride gets a shot in the arm from a profusion of blooms. Badly needed shade trees make the place cooler, quieter and more pleasant and send real-estate values up.

Haskell County Home Demonstration Club women are finding that they can make tailored coats and suits. They are also finding it isn't so hard, however, it does take time and an ability to sew.

At this stage, these women can see that you need to prepare wisely, follow instructions exactly, and take time to be careful on details.

Mrs. T. E. Beason says that this has been the most helpful thing home demonstration club work has done for her. She just wishes she had had it years ago. She can see that tailoring gives an appreciation for hidden values in a well tailored garment. She has put many fine points of construction in her garment that are

Haskell Hospital Nurses Group Has Regular Meeting

Licensed Vocational nurses of Haskell County Division eleven held their regular business meeting in the dining room of the hospital last Tuesday night, Nov. 2nd.

After the business session the president, Thelma Adams, and Stella Josselet gave their reports of the Fifth Annual Convention of the Licensed Vocational nurses association of Texas held in the Hilton Hotel in Fort Worth Oct. 30-31.

Vera Hunt was unable to give her report but she too can say, "We went to the Nurses Convention."

During the two-day convention everyone who attended was convinced that a nurse had a job worth while, without thought of self and money and should always be done with a smile. They also learned that many places are waiting for qualified nurses.

"The LVN's are needed, not to fill the place of the registered nurse," quoted Mrs. Judson, R. N. of Fort Worth as she talked on the duty of the LVN's. "There are 14,000,000 aged people sick besides all the other ailing, so let's all pull together and help prolong life," was her last quotation.

The meeting adjourned with prayer.

Members present were Eddie Patton, Erma Watson, Lou Kuenstler, Nell Hambleton, Sarah Maldonada, Mary Kingston, Leona Carter, Thelma Adams and Stella Josselet.

Members Pause To Observe Moments and Plan for Future

Members of the 4-H organization in four counties. Marks was disappointed over the results of his adult corn show in 1907 and the next year enrolled 111 boys. The 1908 show was highly successful. Mrs. Edna W. Trigg in 1912 became Texas' first home demonstration agent in Milam County and in that same year organized the first tomato club in the state for girls. The 4-H emblem was described in material sent to the state from Washington in 1912.

Today more than two million boys and girls are members of the nation's 4-H clubs. The organization which has brought practical education, guidance, inspiration and opportunity to millions of American youth has long since spread to foreign lands. Presently the movement is a going organization in at least 42 foreign countries. Youth from many of these countries now participate in the International Farm Youth Exchange and come to America to study and live with farm families. American youth in turn visit in the foreign countries. It's all aimed at improving understanding and fellowship between the free peoples of the world.

In Texas, Floyd Lynch, state 4-H leader, says the present enrollment stands at 120,223 members. They belong to 4,476 local clubs; 9820 volunteer adult leaders give freely of their time and talents to make the activities and demonstrations in the clubs successful. In addition, 2,376 4-H members are serving as junior leaders—it's part of their leadership training work.

The 4-H organization is reaching many boys and girls who do not live on a farm. Lynch reports that 25,187 of the state's 120,223 members now live in rural non-farm homes. All Texas 4-H members have completed for the year 171,805 different demonstrations in agriculture and home economics.

4-H members from the beginning have worked under the supervision of county agents and county home demonstration agents. They have, with supervision and help from leaders and parents, followed the latest findings of research in their demonstration work. Their demonstrations have led to the adoption of new practices by their families and friends.

Friends of 4-H have liberally contributed to hundreds of programs which have become a strong incentive for more and better club work. National winners in many of these award programs are announced during National 4-H Club Congress held each year in Chicago in late November and early December.

Teamwork, learning to give and take, practicing citizenship and leadership and learning to do by doing in agriculture and home economics have made 4-H a vital and important part of the educational system of America. Lynch extends a special invitation to every citizen to join with the 4-H members of their area when Achievement Day is observed.

Blue Birds Meet Tuesday in Home Of Mrs. Nebhut

The Blue Birds met Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 9 in the home of their leader, Mrs. K. E. Nebhut, with their assistant leader, Mrs. Floyd Rich helping with the program.

The Blue Bird wish was read, followed by election of officers for the first month. At the first meeting each month, the Blue Birds elect new officers in order that all the girls may hold some office through the year. At the first meeting Toni Graham was elected president, and at this week's meeting Linda Nebhut was elected secretary and Donna Renfro reporter.

For their project this week the girls made a Blue Bird in a cage. The Blue Bird was colored, cut out and hung with a string inside a shoebox to look as if it were flying.

Refreshments were furnished by Mrs. Holland Bell. Hostesses were Linda Bell and Sue Rich. Before the meeting closed a game was played called "Hunt the Slipper."

One new member, Andrea Baird, was enrolled, which brings Group membership to 13. Eleven were present at Tuesday's meeting. They were: Linda Bell, Janice Burson, Andrea Baird, Vickie Frierson, Toni Graham, Linda Nebhut, Donna Renfro, Lockie Foote, Sue Rich, Rhoma Fae Trussell, Rhoma Turner.

Tanda Camp Fire Girls Meet In Herren Home

The Tanda Camp Fire Girls held their second meeting since their recent organization, Wednesday evening, Nov. 3 in the home of Mrs. Bob Herren.

The president, Jan Herren, called the meeting to order. Then the secretary read the minutes and called the roll. Each girl selected the Indian name she would be called, and then the group spent a short period stringing beads.

The hostesses, Suzanne Lane and Jane Ann Sego served refreshments to the following girls: Jeanne Merchant, Twyla Hipp, Betty Weaver, Tanna McClung, Martha Jane Bynum, Janice Hattox, Karen Adkins, Shirley Norman, Jan Herren, Dorothea Ruefer, Kay Graham, Sara Lees, the hostesses, and Mrs. Herren.

The group joined in singing songs to close the meeting.

Guests were registered by Miss Jo Iva Johnson. Miss Peggy Sonnemaker presided at the refreshment table. Gifts were shown by Mrs. Sonnemaker, Mrs. Cobb, Mrs. Aguilar and Mrs. Frazier.

The honoree chosen colors of blue and white were used as decorations throughout the house.

Improved Varieties of Cotton Would Add $4 Million to Area Farm Income

Cotton producers of Haskell, Knox and Baylor Counties could add an estimated $4 million to their total income by planting improved varieties of cotton.

This is shown by data of cotton variety tests conducted this year on 19 farms in the three-county area. Results of the tests were given at a cotton improvement meeting held in Munday Thursday night of last week.

Cotton production in the three counties could easily be increased 30 to 40 pounds per acre by planting improved varieties, said Roy Saunders, director of the program and agricultural specialist with Anderson-Clayton Co.

Saunders told approximately 200 persons attending Thursday's meeting that an increased production of 10 pounds of lint cotton per acre would add $1 million to the counties' income.

Tests this year showed Deltapine, a variety which has not been grown extensively in this area in past years, produced an average 42 pounds more lint cotton per acre over nine other popular varieties.

Western Prolific was Deltapine's nearest competitor, producing an average of 287 pounds of lint per acre. Deltapine produced an average of 309 pounds of lint per acre.

However, Western Prolific out-yielded Deltapine on one irrigated farm.

This was on "Cotton" Smith's farm in Knox County, where Western Prolific produced 1,192 pounds per acre compared to 1,173 for Deltapine.

Other kinds tested
Other varieties tested this year and their average production per acre were:
Lockett, 234; Empire, 231; Paymaster, 229; Northern Star, 219; Lankart 57, 207; Qualla, 204; and Lankart 6, 198.

"You may think planting improved varieties own't mean much to the individual farmer," said Knox County Agent Jay Bryan, "but it will."

Bryan said 100 acres of Deltapine this year would have made approximately $2,541 more net profit than the county's most popular variety, which shows an average production of 232 pounds per acre.

With an average production of 390 pounds per acre, Bryan pointed out that the farmer with Deltapine, in selling his cotton for 33 cents a pound, had a gross income of the 100 acres of $10,177. Subtracting production costs of about $50 per acre leaves him a net profit of $5,197.

The farmer planting the popular variety had a total of 23,200 pounds of lint on the 100 acres.

In selling his cotton for 33 cents a pound, he had a gross income of $7,656. When the production costs of about $50 per acre are subtracted, that leaves him a net profit of about $2,656, or $2,541 less than the farmer planting Deltapine.

Combined date of tests conducted in the three counties in 1951, 1952 and 1953 shows Deltapine produced an average of 272 pounds of lint per acre. Hi-Bred was next with 246 pounds per acre.

"When we compare this data with the results of experiment stations throughout the state, there can be little doubt about the high-yielding qualities of Deltapine," said Saunders.

Purposes of the tests, said Saunders, is to find the cotton that is the most profitable to grow and to maintain the finest quality and most dependable seed stock possible.

"We should continue to grow all our leading varieties side by side under identical conditions on a large number of farms and judge them by the amount and quality of fiber they produce," he said. "Sincere effort and teamwork can build for us one of the finest seed programs in America."

Cooperating farmers plant several varieties of cotton side by side in one field. The varieties are numbered and the farmer doesn't know the name of any variety until the tests are completed in the fall, eliminating the possibility of favoritism.

Each variety thereby receives exactly the same cultural and management practices.

Sample are taken off 100 feet of each end of every row and a 100-foot strip in the middle. Yield per acre is then figured from the production on those 300 feet.

Sponsoring the variety tests are the Farm Bureaus of Knox and Baylor Counties and the Haskell County Extension Service.

Western Cotton Oil Co. is cooperating in storing, processing and delivering pure seed supplies.

Farmers with test plots this year include: Eugene Wheeler, Paul Allen, Joe B. Cloud, Maurice Gannaway, Bob Dumas, Ed Fouts and Clinton Herren in Haskell County; Arnold Wilde, L. B. Patterson, James McGauhey, Shelton Phillips, Joe Butler and Smith, of Knox County; Alfred Blankenship, Fred Peters, J. A. Hicks, Bill Glover, and Paul Brock of Baylor County.

Texas Farm Cash Income Compares With Last Year

Texas farmer's cash income totalled about the same for the 9-month period of January-September this year as compared to the same span of months in 1953, reported the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research at Austin.

The percent change was less than one-half of one percent. The farm commodity bringing in the greatest amount of revenue was cotton (32%), followed closely by cottonseed (27%), sheep and lambs (14%), and corn (12%). On the other side of the picture, grain sorghums showed a 25% decrease; other declines were registered by dairy products and eggs (each 200%) and fruit and vegetables (18%). The smallest crop of sweet potatoes on record is now being dug, and peanut production is expected to be the lowest in 20 years. Generally speaking, however, the outlook is brighter for the major cash crops, with the more pessimistic view confined to crops of local importance in scattered areas.

Rail car shipments of livestock in September of this year were up 33% from the previous month and up 117% from September 1953. This indicates the heavy marketing of cattle due to the prolonged drought, which has taken a heavy toll of pastures and stock tanks. However, range and pasture prospects picked up during October with the coming of the rains, with a chance of new grass growing in some regions if frost does not come too early. Also, marketing of cattle was curtailed sharply during the first part of October, and rail shipments should show a perceptible decline for the month. As a result of this cutback in marketing, cattle and calf prices bounded back at several markets for one of the sharpest advances since October 1953. Among the rail shipments of livestock, sheep showed the highest percentage of increase with a sharp rise of 70% over the previous month, followed by cattle and calves in order. Shipments of hogs decreased 50% for the month of August 1954.

A recent survey by the National Livestock and Meat Board revealed that Texas is still the cattle empire of the country, boasting over 8.5 million, or approximately one beef animal for every man, woman and child in the state. This tremendous cattle population accounts for about 40% of the total cash receipts from farming in Texas.

The Southwest Research Center in San Antonio reports that stockmen may soon find use for a long-time pest, Johnson grass. A new Johnson grass hybrid, which originally came from Argentina, is being tested by the Center, and they report that the new hybrid will flourish with little water, has a tall, luxuriant growth, and does not spread its roots like common Johnson grass. However, like other sorghums, the hybrid produces poisonous prussic acid during the first 10 days of its growth.

Prices received by farmers for their products were down 3% during September but showed no

Weinert Bulldogs Smother Vera Pirates, 48-6

Weinert's undefeated Bulldogs rolled over the Vera Pirates, 48-6, at Weinert Thursday night for their ninth straight six-man football victory of the year.

Harley Reeves paced the Weinert attack, scoring five touchdowns. Harley's brother, Jimmy Reeves, tallied one touchdown and booted three extra points for a total of 12 points. Frankie Jenkins scored the remaining Bulldog tally.

John Murphy scored Vera's touchdown.

O'Brien Bulldogs Nip McCaulley 42-40 Thursday

The O'Brien Bulldogs outlasted the McCaulley Eagles, 42-40, for their first win in six district games, Thursday night. The game was played in Hamlin.

Wayne Johnston tallied 16 points to pace O'Brien. Raymond Lancaster made 12, Ray Valenzuela seven, Herschel Force six percent change when compared to September 1953. Truck crops suffered the highest decrease in value with farmers receiving 12% less for their produce than they did a month before and 10% less than they did a year before. Cotton prices received by farmers were down 4% in August from the month before but 6% compared to August 1953.

and Sammy Grindstaff one for the Bulldogs. Force's marker came on a 40-yard runback on an intercepted pass.

Jimmy McElyea scored 24 points and passed for another tally for the losers. O'Brien led 15-14 at the half and 29-27 after three quarters. McCaulley took a brief lead in the fourth.

Importance of Systematic Saving Emphasized by Lions Club Speaker

"The U. S. dollar is the strongest and soundest dollar in the world today, and likewise U. S. Savings Bonds are the strongest and safest investment in the world," J. M. Crawford, Savings Bond chairman for Haskell County told members of the Lions Club Tuesday.

Crawford pointed out the fact that 80 million persons owned Government bonds, and cited this as the major contribution to the soundness of America and its greatness.

He explained that some people do not buy Savings Bonds because they think the interest rate is too low, or they think they do not have sufficient cash to make the investment worthwhile.

Pointing out that the interest rate on Savings Bonds is about 3 per cent, Crawford cited figures showing that an investment of $18.75 per month, starting at age 25 and continuing to 65 would return the investor $162 per month for a period of 10 years.

Emphasizing the importance of a systematic plan of saving, Crawford quoted statistics on the life experience of 100 average men starting into business at the age of 25.

At age 35, 5 have died, 10 are wealthy, 10 well-to-do, 40 self-supporting, and 15 are dependent.

At age 45, 16 have died, 1 is wealthy, 3 well-to-do, 65 are self-supporting and 30 are dependent.

At age 55, 20 have died, 1 is wealthy, 3 are well-to-do, 46 are self-supporting and 30 are dependent.

At age 65, 36 have died, 1 is wealthy, 4 are well-to-do, 5 are self-supporting, while 54 are dependent.

"Our lives and fate will differ from that of the average man in exactly the same proportion that we differ from him in meeting and solving the daily problems of life," Crawford said in concluding his talk.

Danger of Carbon Monoxide Deaths Up In Winter

The cold winds of winter will whip up a new threat to Texans' safety.

The threat comes from carbon monoxide, which, Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer, characterizes as being invisible, odorless, and tasteless—but deadly.

As cold weather draws near, the danger of carbon monoxide in the home or garage increases.

Many people throughout the state are lighting poorly or faulty ventilated heaters and furnaces in their homes or running their cars in closed garages.

Closed houses keep the cold out and the deadly fumes in. A few people live to tell about it because someone found them before it was too late.

The burning of any fuel that contains carbon may produce carbon monoxide. This is true of coal, coke, wood, oil, kerosene, gasoline and such gaseous fuels as natural or manufactured gas.

Last year 7 Texans died of carbon monoxide poisoning, two of them in automobiles.

All heating equipment should be vented to a flue. Keep all rooms ventilated. Do not turn the heater higher than it was intended to run. Never leave gas heating appliances burning while you and your family are asleep.

Regulate adjustable air-mixing valves so that enough air is supplied to insure complete combustion of the gas.

If a person is overcome by carbon monoxide they should first be removed to fresh air. In addition, open windows and turn off the gas in the room. If the victim has stopped breathing, administer artificial respiration, and if possible an inhalator should be used to administer oxygen. Keep patient warm and lying down until a doctor comes.

VISIT IN FORT WORTH

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Nellums spent the week end with her father, L. J. Frost in Fort Worth.

These are wonderful times, but most of us won't admit it for 15 or 20 years.

Title Examination Is Important In Home Purchase

How does one know whether he is receiving a good title to property he plans to purchase? The safest method is to have a title examination made—that is, a careful study of the abstract and other title evidence.

Here are a few of the common sources of trouble in real estate transactions to show why the minor expense of a title examination is justified.

Many persons sign "earnest money contracts" believing that they are mere receipts with no serious implications. In reality they may specify, among other things, the kind of title you must accept.

A warranty deed from a responsible seller is comforting to have but it is a poor substitute for a careful title examination. A warranty deed does not guarantee a marketable title.

Moreover, serious title defects may not come to light until long after the seller on a warranty deed is dead, has moved to an unknown address, or is bankrupt. Even if he is available a good title is much better than a law suit.

The fact that the seller has possession of an "abstract" does not mean that he owns the property. An abstract is only a history of a title. Possession of an abstract no more indicates ownership of land than possession of the history of Texas means that you own the state.

Some purchasers of land feel safe because the title is being examined at the time of purchase by an attorney for the mortgage lenders. This seems logical but is a dangerous theory.

Mortgage lenders are sometimes willing to accept less than good record title as security. This is sound business for them because, among other reasons, the chances are that the mortgage will be paid off so that no expense in perfecting the title would ever be incurred. It is a risky business for you when you are putting your life savings into the purchase.

These are a few of the reasons why a title examination is an important safeguard to you. When it is completed, the attorney gives you a written opinion stating his conclusions as to who owns the land, the defects in or charges against such ownership, and the requirements to be met if any, to make good record title.

Off-hand this may seem a simple operation. In fact it is not. It requires the interpretation of numerous deeds, mortgages, wills, decrees and other instruments; the consideration of the order in which transactions and events affecting the title occurred; and the application of statutes and court decisions to the various situations disclosed in the abstract.

A free pamphlet containing useful information on legal problems involved in buying a home has been prepared by Texas lawyers. To obtain a copy, print your name and address on a postcard and mail to State Bar of Texas, Colorado at Fifteenth, Austin 1, Texas.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Red top cane and hegarri ensiled 12 years ago still retains an excellent quality, is perfectly preserved and has much green material on a Caldwell County farm. Total cost of filling the trench in 1942 was $3 per ton. The same operation now would cost $10, even with new labor saving devices.

Fabulous Shrine Circus Shows In Fort Worth November 19-28

CIRCUS THRILLS are just around the corner and the ramrod of the big show this year, R. M. Stovall, chairman of Moslah Shrine Circus for 1954, promises that it will be the greatest indoor attraction ever to appear in Fort Worth. That's Mr. Stovall sitting atop of a Shrine Circus billboard which proclaims the dates of the show to be held again at Will Rogers Coliseum. Among the daring and amusing acts will be: Moslah's performing elephants; Charlotte Walsch and her Hawthorne Olympic Performing Bears; John Seims, billed as "The Greatest Clown Magician on Earth"; Zelta Loyd Repensky, queen of the bareback riders; Dick Walker with his jungle compound of wild animals and the Four Acrobatic Ramesses. In addition there will be daring performers on the high wire and a top-flight array of other talent. There will be 10 nightly performances. Matinees will be on November 20, 21, 25, 26, 27 and 28. Polishing Your Gun for Deer Season? Better Polish Safety Rules, Too

Careful nimrods are polishing their safety rules as well as their guns in anticipation of deer season which opens next week on Nov. 16.

And same rules can well be applied for the waterfowl hunting season which opened last week.

Unless a few simple rules of safety are observed, this year's hunting seasons may spell disaster for a number of Texas hunters, says R. E. Callender, extension specialist in wildlife management. It's the "over-anxious" hunter who endangers the lives of fellow hunters and causes needless damage to wildlife, Callender points out.

Two-thirds of all hunting accidents are caused by humans in the line of fire, humans mistaken for animals and hunting with a gun safety catch off. Good sportsmanship in the woods includes using the proper caliber gun for game, hunting only in season, and bagging no more than can be used, even though the limit may permit.

The specialist says thoughtful hunters are careful with fire. They never throw away a lighted cigarette or leave a burning camp fire. Either can start a destructive grass or forest fire. Always respect the rights of others and obtain permission before going onto another's property. Observe these safety rules and have a "bag full" of fun, says Callender.

Treat every gun as if it were loaded, never carry a loaded firearm in an automobile, be sure vice of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Local organizations are authorized to ask the Secretary of Agriculture for assistance which cannot be obtained from resources available in the watershed or State. Organizations eligible to sponsor a project include any State or its political subdivisions, a soil conservation district, or any other agency having authority under State law to carry out, maintain and operate works of improvement. Local people are expected, under the act, to share costs of installation in accordance with the benefits they expect to obtain.

One of the conditions for federal assistance specified in the act is that the local organization shall: "Obtain agreements to carry out recommended soil conservation measures and proper farm plans from owners of not less than 50 per cent of the land situated in the drainage above each retention reservoir to be installed."

Only as a signal of distress may the American flag be flown upside down.

New Law to Aid Local Groups In Water Management

The way to more harmonious cooperation between local watershed groups and the federal government in solving water management and flood prevention problems has been paved with the passage of the new Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act. This act was passed recently by Congress and signed by President Eisenhower.

It provides federal help to assist local organizations plan and install needed water management and flood-prevention measures that cannot be installed under other current programs.

The program supplements both the farm-by-farm conservation approach of soil conservation districts and programs for development and flood protection of major river valleys. Details will be worked out by the Soil Conservation Service and Forest Ser-

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS From Your State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
Austin, Texas.—Except in Dallas County, Texas voters heavily backed the Democrats and the 11 constitutional amendments at the Nov. 2 election.

In Dallas County, Republican Bruce Alger pushed into the win column, defeating Wallace Savage, former state Democratic chairman, in the fifth district race for Congress.

Among the amendments to the constitution, Texans okayed women jurors, more pay for state legislators, hiked terms for office holders to four years and upped expenditures for the state's senior citizens.

Governor Allan Shivers and Senator Lyndon B. Johnson came through with heavy majorities.

Johnson Cooperative
In Austin for the election, Johnson, now assured of majority leader of the senate declared that the Democrats would continue their cooperation with President Eisenhower.

More Taxes Inevitable
Legislative tax talk continued with two state officials believing that the convening Legislature will have to wrestle one way or another with taxation measures.

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert reports that spending from the general fund now exceeds the income tax.

He says the state has no choice except to provide additional revenue in some manner.

Representative Waggoner Carr of Lubbock voiced the same opinion, but hoped that government spending could be trimmed in some places.

School Poll Stopped
A survey of high school students to determine feeling about segregation was stopped by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd after the poll was made public.

Shepperd said he halted surveys in Marshall and Waco High schools because public attention was influencing answers.

Results were to be used as part of the brief he is preparing for the Supreme Court in the public school segregation matter.

Auto Inspections
By waiting until deadline time draws near, Texas motorists are causing a potential log jam at official auto inspection stations.

Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., Texas Department of Public Safety director, said that Texans are now 100,000 behind last year's figures. That means motorists will soon start stacking up at inspection stations, he said.

Garrison urged drivers to get inspections now and avoid the predicted jams. Inspection deadline is April 15.

Turnpike Approved
The proposed $55.5 million turnpike between Dallas and Fort Worth has been approved as a sound financial investment with construction to start next year.

Toll-road experts told the Texas Turnpike Authority that at the ratio of revenue to cost, the project would be one of the best in existence.

Loan Firms Warned

The GI warning of "shape up or ship out" has been handed Texas loan firms by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd.

Shepperd's criticism of present operating practices of many loan and credit insurance sellers came at a meeting with representatives of state firms.

He said there was a growing tendency from some companies to "rouge borrowers" with high interest and service charges.

Cigarette Sales Drop
Texas cigarette tax stamp sales for October fell a quarter million dollars below totals of October 1953, State Treasurer Jesse James reports.

Liquor tax sales increased slightly during the month.

Radar Warnings
A new traffic sign will soon make its appearance on state highways.

It's the warning, "speed limits radar enforced."

Texas Department of Public Safety Director Homer Garrison, Jr., said the new caution boards will be placed on all approaches to highway stretches covered by radar-equipped patrol cars.

"Operation Radar" is planned to begin in mid-November on the main highways.

Weiss Resigns
Attorney John Ben Shepperd has announced the resignation of Edwin E. Weiss, his executive assistant.

A native of Hubbard, Weiss resigned to enter private business. He has served as Shepperd's assistant since May.

Bid Investigation
Identical bids on electrical equipment received by the Austin City Council will be looked into by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd.

However, the investigation will not reach the congressional level as Councilwoman Emma Long advocated.

Shepperd said that he is now gathering information from cities over the state that have experienced noncompetitive bidding. The Austin bids, from four different firms, will be included, he said.

Mrs. Long attempted to get the council to back a request for a congressional investigation, but was outvoted.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Merchant of Dumas, Texas, are the parents of a daughter, Selena Paulett, born Thursday, Nov. 4. She is the second child of the couple, who have a son, Wayne. Grandparents of the new arrival are Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Tanner of Ranger and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Merchant of Haskell. The baby is the great granddaughter of the late Paul Zahn of Haskell, from whom she was named.

Radar Enforced Speed Signs are Being Installed

A new "sign of life" will appear on many of the highways of Texas this month. It's a new highway traffic sign and, like most of the others which are familiar roadside markers to motorists, it is designed to prevent costly motor vehicle accidents and save human lives.

These new signs will read "Speed Limits Radar Enforced" and the Texas Highway Department has slated their early construction in order that they will be in place by mid-November when the Texas Department of Public Safety is expected to begin the operation of Radar equipped patrol cars on the principal traffic arteries throughout the State.

Texas will thus join 31 other states and 50 cities which are currently employing Radar as a device for lowering the traffic accident rate due to excessive speed.

During the past several months the Texas Department of Public Safety has conducted an educational demonstration program of the Radar units in each of the 16 Texas Highway Patrol Districts within the State. Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the DPS, says that these demonstrations have been staged for the benefit of members of the press, radio and TV as well as for public officials, including judges and prosecutors, in order to acquaint them with the operation and the accuracy of the devices.

"We know of no instance," Garrison said, "in which those who have witnessed these demonstrations have failed to acknowledge the accuracy and the fairness of this method of coping with fast drivers."

The public safety director also pointed out that speed continues to be the principal contributing factor in the State's fatal traffic accident picture. He emphasized that Radar is no "cure-all" for the traffic problem and, in no way, replaces manpower in the enforcement of the speed laws.

"Rahter," Garrison added, "we consider it only as another tool to be utilized in protecting the public against the consequences of the acts of the thoughtless, the careless and the indifferent drivers who constitute a menace to the public safety by driving too fast for conditions."

According to Garrison the "Speed Limits Radar Enforced" signs will be erected immediately outside the city limits of towns on the approach to stretches of highway where the mobile Radar units will be employed and just inside the state lines on those roadways where they will be in use. Additional signs will be placed, a. o. between the cities where it will be deemed necessary to inform the public of the enforcement procedure being employed.

Whooping Cough Seasonal Threat During Winter

This is the time of the year that usually marks an increase in the incidence of whooping cough. Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer, said today that strenuous efforts should be made to control the spread of this debilitating childhood disease.

"The only source from which whooping cough may be contracted is another case of whooping cough, and isolation of cases must be universally practiced to prevent its spread," Dr. Holle stated.

once and kicked three extra points for a total of 12 points. John Murphy scored the lone Vera touchdown.

It was a rough, rock 'em, sock 'em affair between the two defensive teams. Vera entered the game with the best defensive record, next to Weinert. But after the Bulldogs started to roll there was no doubt as to the outcome. Weinert held a 32-0 half-time advantage, built it up to 48-0 before Vera scored on the Bulldog reserves.

This week pits Weinert vs. Paint Creek to determine the district winner. The game takes place Nov. 11 at Paint Creek at 7:30 p. m. Both are undefeated and carry 9-0 won-loss records into the game.

Duck Hunters Gain in Texas

Austin—While Texans indulge in the annual fall waterfowl harvest, game management technicians are seeking the answer for the surge of interest which has sent the state to the top in the number of Federal duck stamps sold.

The United States Fish and Wildlife Service reports that Texas last year took the lead from California in the sale of duck stamps with a total of 230,391 stamps bought.

This represented an increase of 79,271 duck stamps sold to Texans and that is the figure that intrigues the wildlife people.

The Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission suggested that the slump in native game population, such as quail, from the historic drouth, might have converted many upland game hunters to hunting waterfowl.

W. S. Jennings, assistant director of Wildlife Restoration for the Commission, who has given special attention to waterfowl, said, "Recent waterfowl hatches have been above normal. Wide publicity has been given to this trend and what it means to the hunter. Perhaps the primary factor in the high hunter interest was the abundance of fresh water for the 1953 season. Ducks that normally would have migrated on through Texas to Mexico wintered on the Gulf Coast."

J. R. Singleton, Wildlife Biologist, specializing in waterfowl, said, "The summers of 1952, 1953 and 1954 saw excellent hatches of waterfowl. This information was passed along to the public. Along the Texas Gulf Coast, in December 1953, the waterfowl population was more than 70 per cent greater than that for the preceding December. Distribution of the game was good. This was because of abundant water in areas which could not support sizeable waterfowl populations previously.

Mr. Hunter became aware that something new had been added. Areas of the inland rice belt observed major flights of birds—more surface water in fallow fields and prairie potholes resulted in a wide choice of feeding grounds. So, hunters saw ducks and geese in many areas for the first time in many years, and took advantage of a good thing."

Where visions grace the sky, Freedom shall bless the land

OLD GLORY is a set of principles, a covenant of human rights, rippling in the breeze. So long as the great body of Americans respect the traditions and the principles for which Old Glory stands—so long shall the flag be a vision of hope, a shield against the storms.

VISIONS are elusive sometimes. But they have a way of coming down to earth. This thing called soil conservation on the land was once a vision—little more than the seed of an idea, the idea that farmers could work together to solve their mutual problems. The seed proved to be remarkably viable, for the soil conservation district idea has settled down like a protective blanket over our good earth.

There is more than physical resemblance between a contour-stripped field and the red and white stripes of Old Glory. The soil conservation district embodies the very essence of the rights and freedoms for which our flag stands. Cherishing those rights and freedoms, farmers have organized soil conservation districts that are of local people, by local people, for local people.

A soil conservation district is composed of local people who see their own problems and solve them, who see their own responsibilities and shoulder them. They are local people doing that which they should do, voluntarily, with no infringement of rights and liberties, with scarcely a law, rule, regulation, or tax. The soil conservation district, in action, is literally a bit of the freedom of enterprise that made America a land of opportunity and abundance.

Soil improvement, through good land use, is a modern vision, a new frontier of rural America.
