Mary Sulema Rodriguez, 14 year old Latin American girl of Rule, died at 3 today in Haskell Hospital from burns received when the family home north of Rule was destroyed by fire March 9.

Springs Roundup Had Forerunner Cowboy Reunion Held Here In 1898

The three livery stables of Haskell and those at Albany and Seymour were pressed into service providing means of conveyance to the rodeo grounds.

The night attraction was a presentation of Mollie Bailey's Tent Show and a gala dance for the cowboys and cowgirls with music provided by an imported band from Midland.

Old files of newspapers relate that the reunion was highly successful and it is easy to imagine that a grand time was had by all who attended the big celebration in this city fifty-six years ago.

In just twenty-eight days from this date, the first major rodeo staged in Haskell since this grand affair 56 years ago will begin under the auspices of the Saddle Tramp riding club.

Big ones and little ones alike are getting in shape for the Rice Springs Roundup which will be held here May 13-15 under sponsorship of the Haskell Saddle Tramps riding club. Shelley Royall, arena director, whose 250 pound plus, weight is equally matched with his enthusiasm for the coming show, poses in front of the bucking chutes in the new arena with Rex Stephen Felker, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Felker. At this early age, the youngster talks of rope spinning and valiantly attempts to twirl the loop. (Courtesy of Wichita Falls Daily Times.)

County Singing Convention To Be Held Here Sunday, April 25

The annual Haskell County Singing Convention will be held at the American Legion Hall in this city Sunday, April 25. Halle Chapman, president of the county-wide organization has announced.

This will be the 30th annual program of the convention, which in the past has attracted singers and music lovers from a wide area in this part of the state. The county convention was organized here in 1924, with the late Judge L. D. Ratliff as its first president.

The program will begin at 10 a. m. and continue throughout the day. For the benefit of the large crowd of music lovers expected in attendance at the convention, sound equipment will be installed in the large auditorium through the courtesy of Gulf Oil Corporation.

Grounds around the Legion Building are adequate, for parking a large number of automobiles. An estimated 2500 singers and visitors attended last year's convention and plans are being made for a similar attendance this year.

The Haskell Chamber of Commerce is co-sponsor of the annual event.

Rains Change Farm Outlook, Revive Hope for Grain Crop

A slow, soaking rain, the first appreciable moisture received in three months, was general over Haskell County and a wide area this week, reviving hopes for a fair yield from a good portion of the area's small grain crop and going a long way toward providing moisture for Spring planting.

Precipitation here during Monday was gauged at 1.74 inches on the gauge kept by John B. Martin, local observer for the U. S. Weather Bureau. The gauge maintained at the City Hall measured 1.90 inches of moisture during the same period.

Precipitation termed "a good two inches or more" was reported on numerous gauges throughout the city with a majority reporting two and a quarter inches.

The moisture was the first of any consequence received here since January, when ice and snow brought .60 of an inch during the month, according to weather bureau records.

Monday's rainfall was the heaviest since Oct. 26 last year, when 1.75 inches was recorded here. Farmers with grain that was barely hanging on after surviving March sandstorms, termed the rain a "life saver" for small grain. Also benefited were pasture lands, where the ideal moisture will bring grazing quickly up to normal, ranchers believe.

County agent F. W. Martin expressed an optimistic outlook for small grain as a result of the soaking rain. Although a considerable acreage of wheat had succumbed to the winter drought, Martin said that the moisture had brought prospects for a "fair" yield. Biggest benefit will be to the county's acreage in days, he believes.

Other sections of the county, particularly around Rule and Rochester, reported rainfall ranging up to three inches. In the Weinst area precipitation ranged around two inches, while south of Haskell heavier rains were reported. Better than two inches fell in Sagard, while in the vicinity of Stamford and Lamesa reported almost three inches.

Heavy rain, falling slowly during the day Monday, provided a little run-off.

Junior High School Band to Present First Formal Spring Concert Tonight

The Junior High School Band will present its first formal Spring Concert tonight, April 15, at 8 p. m. in the Elementary School auditorium.

The Junior High School Band now includes 55 instruments, Director Merlin Jenkins said. By September, after the members in the Eighth Grade graduate to High School and the present beginner's class is put in the organization, the band will total a few over 70. In September the JHS Band will be the same size as the HHS Band.

In tonight's concert, the band will play different types of music, including marches, waltzes and overtures. The feature of the evening will be a horn solo by Jo Chamberlain and a number featuring the basses, Dale White and Kenneth Tucker.

As a novelty, the band will include on the program "Three Little Pigs", a musical sketch with narration. Mrs. Thomas Roberson will be the narrator.

Work Due Soon On Gas Line to Aspermont Field

Work is expected to be completed this week on surveying the route for a 30-mile natural gas transmission line that will connect the Lone Star Gas Company's main line through this section with the Stonewall County gas field near Aspermont.

A crew of surveyors has been at work for several days mapping the route for the line and expect to complete their work this week. The line will connect with Lone Star's main transmission line at a point just south of Weinstert. It will extend west and south to a point near Old Glory, and then to the Aspermont gas field.

No announcement has been made as to when construction work is to start, but it is expected to get underway within a week or ten days. It is understood that the construction crews will work out of Haskell.

WTU Will Add New Unit At Paint Creek Power Station

Construction to increase the generating capability of West Texas Utilities Company's new Paint Creek Station southeast of Haskell to 66,000 kilowatts was announced today by Price Campbell of Abilene, president of the company. The station, which is in operation last summer.

The Austin Building Co., Dallas, Texas were the lowest bidders and have been awarded the general contract for construction of an addition to the present plant and for installation of equipment.

Officials of the Austin Building Company said construction will begin April 26th.

"A second 33,000 kilowatt turbo-generating unit for the plant," Campbell said, "has been ordered and is scheduled to be put in operation in September, 1955."

Campbell pointed out that subject to development of power requirements in future years, the Company now plans that the Paint Creek Station will be the largest generating station the Company's system. The addition of this new unit and the completion of the

National Arion Award Presented Betty Waldrip

Highlight of the annual spring program of the High School Concert Band Friday evening was the presentation of the National Arion Award to Betty Lynn Waldrip, HHS senior and high ranking band member.

The concert, held in the Elementary School auditorium, was attended by one of the largest audiences in several years.

The National Arion Award is made for outstanding achievement in band, and is sponsored in Haskell by the Lions Club. The medal is presented each year to the most outstanding senior member of the high school band. Presentation of the medal was made by Harold E. Spain on behalf of the Lions Club.

Miss Waldrip, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Waldrip, has played flute in the band for four years, has been drum major three years, has competed annually for four years in the regional contest on flute, twirling and piano. She has always won either first or second place in all of these events. She studied twirling privately in Abilene and studied both twirling and flute last summer at Western State College in Gunnison, Colo., under nationally known instructors.

Miss Waldrip will continue her studies on both flute and twirling after graduation from high school, performing on both in a college band.

Haskell County History

28 Years Ago—April 19, 1934

Two Haskell men have been charged in connection with the recent burglarizing of the high school workshop in this city. The men were taken in custody after City Marshal Al Cousins and Deputy Sheriff Dan Kirkpatrick had found some of the stolen tools which had been sold in Stamford.

At a meeting of the Haskell Service Club Tuesday, a decision was reached to reorganize the Haskell Municipal Band, if it is found possible to finance the organization. Several years ago Haskell voters approved a special tax for maintenance of the band, but when the depression lowered tax collections the appropriation was discontinued by the City Council.

TEACHER OF THE WEEK

MRS. STUBBLEFIELD

Another native of Haskell County who returned last fall to her home town to teach first grade in the Elementary School is Mrs. Rachel S. Stubblefield, youngest daughter of J. E. Solomon.

Mrs. Stubblefield holds the Bachelor of Science Degree from North Texas State College, and has done two summers of work toward the master's degree, one summer at San Marcos and the other at Denton where she plans to continue her work toward the Master of Education degree this summer at North Texas State. After doing some substitute teaching while her husband was overseas, she taught five years in the elementary schools of New Braunfels.

During the war her husband was a Chief Warrant Officer, having served in the 90th Division from 1941-1944, under General Patton. Mrs. Stubblefield followed him from camps all the way from California to New Jersey, and had some interesting experiences working in date factories, teaching, and as saleslady in department stores. Her husband was overseas three years and while in Germany, he sent her a set of Bavarian China, as well as some cut glass which he saw being cut and etched by hand.

Before going into the service her husband was a Wear Ever Aluminum salesman, with headquarters in San Antonio; however, he took many trips all over the south, and Mrs. Stubblefield accompanied him. The couple lived for an extended time in Mississippi and also in Dallas for one year. Mrs. Stubblefield's hobby while she and her husband were in the Wear Ever business was collecting menus, and she helped prepare and serve many of the meals described in the "Menu of the Month" booklets. One of her favorite recipes is stuffing for baked white fish which is as follows: 2 cups dry bread crumbs, 3-4 teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup celery, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1-2 cup melted butter, 1 tablespoon parsley, cut fine. Just enough water or milk to hold ingredients together. Mix above ingredients in the order given and pack lightly into a 2-3 pound white fish which has been sprinkled with salt, pepper and flour. Roast in a covered pan in a medium low oven 15 minutes per pound.

Mrs. Stubblefield's favorite hobby is fishing. While in New Braunfels she spent many week ends fishing in the river where the water is so clear that the fish can be seen biting on the hook. Fishing is one of the things she has missed since returning to West Texas. Her mother-in-law, Mrs. Stubblefield once caught a fish that weighed 44 pounds; however, Mrs. Stubblefield says she herself was never that fortunate.

Mrs. Stubblefield is a member of the Texas State Teachers Association, the Elementary Education Club, Parent-Teacher Association, American Association of University Women, and is an active member of the local Presbyterian Church, and now serves as a substitute teacher in the Junior Department.

The 32 youngsters in Mrs. Stubblefield's room have recently completed a unit of study entitled "Mothers and Babies" which began in March and ended with the Easter season, April 18. The study centered a hen setting of eggs which one of the parents provided. The children, themselves made the nest, counted the eggs, fed and watered the hen, drew pictures of the hen and nest and colored them, made paper mache hens and chickens and painted them with tempera paints. During the three-week period that the hen was sitting on the eggs the class made an excursion to the Stamford Hatchery where the process of hatching eggs in incubators was explained in detail to them. Mr. Kierepka took slide pictures at different times of the children working on this unit. There were twenty slide pictures taken during the entire unit. Some pictures were taken on our excursion to the Stamford Hatchery. At the end of the unit these slides were shown back to the children.

Pictures of the hen and the nest at different periods during the "setting" were taken and put in a scrapbook. Different breeds of chickens were studied and pictures were pasted in the scrapbook. The youngsters learned the name, color, and characteristics of each breed, and also how to feed chickens from the day they are hatched till they are ready for market. The shipping of baby chicks by mail to different parts of the world was also investigated. The children enjoyed most of all listening to the peep of the baby chicks just before they broke the shell. Each child was permitted to carefully hold the egg up to his ear and listen. Then a picture was taken of the first few chicks that burst out of their shells. Later, a picture of the entire family, hen and chicks, was also taken for the scrapbook.

During their discussion periods, particularly when the children chose the name of the hen and when they were working out a system of feeding and watering her, order was maintained by the chairman before speaking, thus the confusion of half the class talking at once was avoided. This was also valuable experience in learning to respect the rights of others and of being courteous. The whole unit was a democratic experience. No one child could impose his will on the others; each had a voice and a time to express his views or opinions but the will of the majority was always carried out.

Mrs. Stubblefield feels that the unit was also a valuable experience for the children in teaching the close relationship between mothers and babies and they also learned that babies, and other tiny animals should be handled carefully.

Planting Blue Panic Grass Suggested On Excess Lands

Soil Conservation technicians point out that with cotton and wheat allotment in force this year, many farmers are faced with the problem of what to do with excess land and how to supplement their income that may be cut by the reduction of cash crops acreage. One answer to this problem would be to increase the number of cash crops on your farm. One of these crops, which has proven very successful in rotation with other cultivated crops in this area, is blue panicum, sometimes called blue panic.

Blue panicum is a deep rooted, fast growing bunch grass, which has proven excellent for hay and grazing, as well as being a good soil builder, which gives year round protection to the soil against wind and water erosion, adds organic matter to the soil, and its dense fibrous root system increases water infiltration and water holding capacity of the soil. As a cash crop its high protein content and vigorous growth makes valuable grazing from April to frost allowing native pasture to rest and improve.

Blue panicum is well adapted to both light and heavy soils. It is quite tolerant to highly alkaline soils and water when established, and will stand freezing temperatures very well.

Blue panicum should be planted in late spring, after the ground is warm and there is no danger of cold weather. Planting time usually runs from April 15 to July 1. One half pound per acre planted in 36 inch to 42 inch rows will provide a good stand. Best results have been obtained in planting blue panicum when the seed are covered with only enough soil to hold them in place followed by a packer to firm the soil and hold the moisture around the seed. Seed should be planted on well prepared but firm seedbeds using either flat or shallow beds. Due to the small size of the seed, blue panicum must be planted with a funnel attachment on a regular planter or small seed attachment on special planters. ### Junior High Students Present Playlet Depicting Century of School Progress

The Haskell Junior High School had a record crowd of parents and guests last Thursday night as they made their contribution to the celebration of Texas Public Education Centennial.

A playlet written by Robbie Lou Roberson, under the direction of the social studies teacher, Mrs. Faye Woodson, was given by the eighth grade. A contrast between the schools 1854 and 1954 was portrayed by using appropriate fixtures, equipment, clothing, dialogue and classroom procedures. This proved to be quite entertaining as well as educational. During the changing of scenery a chorus of lovely eighth grade girls dressed in spring formals directed by Mrs. Mary Martin sang songs which were popular during various periods of the last century.

A film, "A Day in Junior High" followed the playlet. This showed the children of all grades in various activities in the classroom, athletic contests, band and clubs, and P-TA activities. After the film everyone attended open house in the Junior High building where guests registered and viewed the work of the children which was attractively displayed in the rooms. Section 6.1 received the surprise of ice cream and cookies served in the park on Friday for having the highest percentage of parents and guests registering.

Refreshments of cold drinks were served by the P-TA which jointly sponsored the various activities.

have been very successful in planting this grass. These seeders may be rented from the local chapters of the FFA.

Blue panicum is not recommended for use in broadcast or drilled stands, or on range lands. It should be cultivated as needed to control weeds until the grass is well established. Keeping blue panicum in rows is necessary for high seed production.

Bruno Kupatt who lives near Sagerton, planted 14 acres of blue panicum last year. Due to dry weather a poor stand was obtained; however, Kupatt allowed his grass to seed and harvested 275 pounds of seed. The present price of blue panicum seed ranges from 75c to $1 per pound. Kupatt said "My blue panic grass grew to 6 feet in height. The hay cured out good and my cows sure like it. It comes out earlier than Johnson grass and produces more than Sudan. At the present time (March 1) my blue panic grass has green leaves 4 inches high." Kupatt plans to plant more blue panicum this year.

George N. Turnbow, who lives near Haskell, and Alfred Peiser, who lives east of Haskell, have blue panicum planted on their farms. Turnbow grazed his grass last year and Peiser harvested seed and hay from his planting.

Blue panicum seed may be obtained from individual seed dealers or from local farmers who have seed on hand.

Washington News Letter

By GEORGE MAHON

Congressman, 19th District Washington officials of the Commodity Stabilization Service are beginning to show a more friendly attitude toward establishing a support price on cottonseed for the 1954 crop. However, indications are that the support level will be far below 90 per cent parity. The support level in 1953 was 75 per cent. I have asked officials to establish a cottonseed support program on the basis of 90% of parity, emphasizing the added importance of a support program on cottonseed by reason of the cotton acreage control program. There are no acreage controls on soybeans for 1954; a support price of 80 per cent parity has already been announced.

It is now definite that there will be no acreage control program on grain sorghum in 1954. However, if the present support program is not drastically changed by law, the indications are that the increased grain sorghum production in 1954 would make an acreage control program quite likely next year.

We have had a long controversy in regard to our agricultural labor program involving farm labor from the Republic of Mexico. The stalemate has been broken, and it appears that the program will be continued and will possibly be a little better than the 1953 program.

As you know, over a period of months many of us have been insisting that adequate allowance must be made in our cotton control programs for acreage which could not be planted in cotton during 1953 by reason of abnormal weather conditions. If this acreage is not adequately taken into account, farmers in the 1955 crop year will suffer an extremely unfair reduction in acreage. The present law provides that consideration must be given to abnormal weather conditions. I had a talk this week with the Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, Ross Rizley, formerly an Oklahoma Congressman, and he tells me that he fully agrees with our viewpoint in this matter. The prospects are better than ever before that the 1953 drought will be properly be taken into consideration. The details of the matter have not yet been agreed upon.

The new farm program which has been under discussion for many months has not yet taken form. Secretary Benson has appeared before the Senate and urged the adoption of the so-called flexible or sliding-scale support program. Apparently, most Congressmen from farm areas feel as I do—that the trouble with the sliding scale is that it slides right out from under you every time you need it. Furthermore, I do not feel that the sliding-scale program would tend to reduce crop surpluses. In my opinion, the contrary would tend to be true. My mail from our district indicates that our producers are almost unanimous in feeling that on basic crops the support level should not be lower than 90 per cent.

I am watching the situation carefully, and I am doing everything in my power to encourage the adoption of a farm program which will be reasonably acceptable to our people. The letters which I receive from our district are most helpful to me in my work here and I am always pleased to have the advice and suggestions of the folks at home. Call upon me at an time.

New Jobs for Texans

Texas industries have been providing new jobs for Texans at the rate of about 70,000 a year. That's about 200 new jobs every day.

All kinds of jobs . . . in offices, on construction work, in manufacturing plants, in the development of the natural resources of the State. Jobs for riggers, for secretaries, for engineers, for truck drivers, for accountants, for lawyers, for crane operators, for decorators, for sailors . . . all kinds of jobs.

And the reason why these new jobs have been, and continue to be available is this: Texas industry is expanding, and industry makes jobs.

On the average, each new job created in Texas requires the investment of $12,000 capital*. Thus, Texas industry invests over three-quarters of a billion dollars each year in new plants and in plant expansion to create 70,000 new Texas jobs.

Much of this annual investment in new jobs for Texans is made by the oil industry itself and industries which depend on oil and natural gas for fuel and raw materials. Every year a wider variety of industries put to profitable use a larger number of the resources of the State, and call on a broader assortment of available Texas skills.

Forecasters predict an even greater industrial development in Texas, and an even larger number of new jobs, as more industries recognize the advantages that Texas offers: good markets, raw and manufactured resources, trustworthy and dependable people, efficient and abundant fuel, a mild climate, and a good state government . . . In that list of advantages, the Texas oil industry provides raw materials for processing, and the world's finest industrial fuel—natural gas.

*In the oil industry, the required investment for each new job is over $10,000.

We realize the laudable part our churches play in community life — their contribution in both a spiritual and material sense toward community welfare and common good. These churches, their teachings and their membership exert a tremendous influence that touches every home and every business. This function they have in common with our schools, civic bodies and other organizations, all of whom through various methods perform services for the good and benefit of all. In recognition of the splendid ideals and achievements of the Haskell Churches, we urge everyone to attend an Easter Church service.

Average Rainfall Over State Only One-Fifth of Normal During March

Average rainfall over the state was 0.46 inch or 20 per cent of normal for March, the Texas Board of Water Engineers reports.

The statewide average for the past three months is 31 per cent of normal. Areal average of rainfall varied from 4 per cent normal in Lubbock area to 38 per cent normal in Corpus Christi area which represents 0.03 and 0.66 inch of rainfall respectively. Northeast Texas received the highest average rainfall in the state—one inch which amounts to 26 per cent of normal for that area. Distribution of rainfall was such that the most critical deficient areas received little improvement in soil moisture.

Streamflow

Streamflow was deficient in the state during March and had been diminishing steadily for the past three months. Small runoff was carried by streams in north central and east Texas following scattered rains that fell after mid-March. Average flow of Neches River at Evadale was lowest March, average since 1925. Cumulative runoff at Evadale for six-month period October 1953 to March 1954 is 1,900,000 acre-feet below normal and is smallest runoff total for a like period in 30 years. Flow in Brazos River was far below demand for industrial and irrigational supplies. Flow in Canadian River near Amarillo was about 30 per cent of 18-year average and Red River flow near Terral, Okla., was about 15 per cent of 14-year average. Average flow in streams west of Brazos River was very low but did not reach lows of 1952 and 1953 for March. Spring flow from the Edwards aquifer in Central Texas ceased at some points and decreased 10 to 20 per cent at San Marcos and Comal Springs. Barton Springs at Austin made little change.

Reservoir Storage

United States available share of 300,000 acre-feet storage in Falcon Reservoir March 31 was 80,000 acre-feet which was being withdrawn at the rate of 3,500 cfs. daily. That rate of flow produces a daily total of 7,000 acre-feet. Releases from Falcon for irrigation were discontinued April 7 after the United States reserve had shrunk to about 40,000 acre-feet available for use. Releases were started from Colorado River reservoirs for rice irrigation three months earlier than last year. Storage in Lake Dallas was supplemented from pumpage from Red River during March. Lavon Reservoir on East Fort Trinity River, Grapevine Reservoir on Denton Creek and Benbrook Reservoir on Clear Fork Trinity River had a combined storage of 77,100 acre-feet, and Dam B Reservoir on Neches River contained 95,500 acre-feet available. Storage began March 8 in newly completed Belton Reservoir on Leon River and was 711 acre-feet March 31. Belton Reservoir has 210,800 acre-feet normal capacity and a flood control capacity of 1,097,800 acre-feet.

George Washington's family coat of arms suggested the design for the U. S. flag.

Attractive Home Is Larger Than It Looks

Here is a house with good looks and space for a lot of living at the very lowest cost. The rooms are not large, yet they have plenty of usable wall space.

The kitchen is arranged for an abundance of cross ventilation and light. It has a large amount of wall and base cabinets which are within easy reach.

On the screened porch is additional storage space for supplies and clothing. The porch also provides space for any future development of workroom if it is needed.

The hall eliminates unnecessary travel through other parts of the house. The ideal location of the bathroom makes it needless for anyone coming in from the field to clutter up any rooms in the house before going to the bathroom to clean up.

The plan allows you to have either a separate dining room, or a dining-living room combination, whichever you prefer.

In case three bedrooms are needed, it would be very easy to provide doors between the living and dining rooms and let the dining room serve as a third bedroom temporarily.

The fireplace, a Southern tradition, has not been overlooked in this house. It is shown in the plan; however, it may be left out without materially affecting the construction or appearance of the house.

The living room, although not large, provides ample living space for the average family, and yet keeps the cost low.

The house is designed for ordinary light frame construction and is so arranged that it will not require any unusual mill work or framing.

The front porch is sufficiently large to provide plenty of space for comfortable summer living. You can obtain blue prints for this Farm & Ranch House Plan No. 4805 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Send $2.00 to Building Editor, Farm & Ranch, Dept., Nashville, 10, Tenn. Order by number—plan No. 4805. Blueprints are adequate for any farm carpenter or for any farmer handy with tools.

Farmers Have Partial Remedy For Dust Storms

Farmers in the Haskell vicinity and a wide area of West Texas need to explore some of the causes, effects and results of dust storms, technicians of the Soil Conservation Service point out.

First, everyone says that we just need rain. This is true, but we can't do anything about that. Second, wind does the damage too, but the wind can't be stopped. Third, we have to furnish the dust to blow, this we can stop. This brings up some very interesting comments that were made during and after the February 19 spalling duster. People in and around Abilene said the shinnery was blowing. People in and around Anson (near the sandy area) said that far West Texas and New Mexico was blowing away. These statements are true, but why not face facts, and admit our home area of which we have some responsibility, was blowing too. On Feb. 19, 1954 and Feb. 26, 1954, even the tight land was losing tons of unreplaceable silt, nutrients and organic matter.

How can we stop furnishing dust for blowing? Not any one way will fit all farms.

Deep plowing where clay is brought to the top is very good on some lands. Deep plowing which brings up silt will work sometimes, but in some cases won't because it doesn't bind together as clay does.

Stubble left on the surface of the land is one of the better ways to stop blowing. There are several methods of handling stubble on the surface. The equipment nearly all farmers now have can leave stubble on top. Stubble cannot protect the soil from blowing when it is turned completely under by moldboard plows or powdered under by one-ways.

Many farmers have a soil improving crop growing that stopped the sand and dust from blowing. Vetch-rye and also winter peas have grown nicely; even though they were planted in October, 1953, and only had 1-2 inch of moisture since it was planted. These farmers will also get good grazing from these crops later. The vetch that was sowed in September, when it really should be sowed, have gotten some grazing all along.

Strips of maize, hogari or cane planted in peanuts or cotton serve to break the action of the wind and stop blowing.

The maximum weight of a present-day elephant is about ten tons.

Cattle Trade at Fort Worth Indicates No Slackening In Beef Demand

By TED GOULDY
Cattle trade at Fort Worth Monday

day indicated no slackening in the demand as packers seemed fairly eager for supplies and paid fully steady to stronger prices. The stocker trade was fully steady to strong on the better qualified kinds, despite the fact the dry conditions in most places remained unrelieved.

Good and choice fed steers and yearlings drew $18 to $23, the latter price best for commercially fed cattle in about a month. Two lots of cattle brought that top, one was 44 steers at 1021 lbs. sent in by McClung Land & Cattle Co. Johnson County. Lee Campbell, Comanche County, had a truck load at 840 lbs. at $23, too. Other representative shipments of steers and yearlings included: J. Doyle Peters, Tillman County, Okla., with some steers at $29 lbs. at $21.50; W. H. Ritchey, Hendrix, Okla., three loads of steers at $18, with a trim. J. T. Gilbreath, Deaf Smith County, had a load at 696 lbs. at $21.50; O. W. Holcomb, Erath County, a load of 747 lbs. at $21; J. B. Jagers, Hamilton County, a load at 824 lbs. at $21; B. L. Durham, Blue Ridge a load at 860 lbs. at $19; E. H. Harkins, Sweetwater, a load at 935 lbs. at $21.

Fat cows brought $10.50 to $13.00 and canners and cutters $7 to $11. Bulls $10 to $15. Best fat calves sold for $17 to $20.25 bracket included sales from S. B. Atlas, Johnson County; Orville Olson, Hamilton County and Johnny Smith, Erath County. Most of these top calves were obviously of the creeped variety. Medium and lower grades sold from $12 to $17.50.

The better stocker steer calves and steer yearlings drew $17 to $19, and heifer calves and heifer yearlings average $2 to $3 under comparable steers. Stocker cows $10 to $18.50.

At the highest prices in five years, top hogs drew $27.50 and $27.75 at Fort Worth Monday. Sows were around $1 higher and sold at $22 to $25.

Premium Dividends on Farm Bureau Insurance Now Being Distributed

Shelly Royall, president of the Haskell County Farm Bureau, announced that the Southern Farm Bureau Casualty Insurance Company began returning dividends of 50 per cent of the premiums paid on automobile casualty insurance policies effective April 1, 1958.

Among the first in this county to receive benefit of the new 50 per cent dividends are: Martin G. Rueffer, A. F. Williams, Felix Mullino and Gene Tonn. Others were T. W. Free, Haskell; Manuel Arguijo, Munday; Carl Clark, Rochester; Claude L. Ashley, Eddie Kainer, Sagerton; S. E. Strickland, Rochester and Mrs. Mary Sue Wilson of Haskell.

Royall stated that about 700 farmers in this county will draw the new dividends as policies come up for renewal. The automobile dividends will amount to $1,700,000 to Texas Farm Bureau members during the next twelve months.

"To our knowledge no company in the history of legal re-dividends as large as 50 per cent on automobile insurance," Royall said.

Royall also outlined the new dividend schedules for other types of Farm Bureau insurance, including capital stock legal reserve life, and fire insurance.

As a service to farmers, Royall said that tractor gas tax refund forms are being completed at the local office, and there is no charge for this service.

Drinking, Fast Driving Major Cause Of Traffic Deaths, Patrol Reports

Go ahead and drive fast or while drinking—the cemeteries are not full yet. Last month 13 persons died in 8 accidents in Abilene Highway Patrol District III. Excessive speed and intoxicants were cited by Highway Patrol officials as causing a majority of the deaths. In the same vein 24 persons died in the quarter ending at midnight March 31 as compared to only seven highway fatalities in the same three-month period last year. March's 13 highway deaths was more than 650 per cent more than the two deaths in March of 1957. The sudden mania for motorcade has Captain G. L. Morahan and his patrolmen in the 13-county Abilene district searching for ways to cut down on the deaths.

Following the March carnage in the area they took stock. They found that 17 of the 24 deaths since January 1, occurred in 13 one-car accidents. Six other persons were killed in 4 two-car accidents. Six other persons were killed in two-car accidents. One man died when his vehicle collided with a freight train. Arrests made last month on motorists that lived to tell the tale support their contentions that speed and drinking are the predominant causes of the deaths.

In March the area patrolmen made 277 hazardous arrests. Speeding led the field with 174, driving while intoxicated was second with 20 improper passing was next in order with 17, fourth came 15 arrests for running a stop sign or signal, fifth was 12 arrests for defective lights. The patrolmen made 101 non-hazardous arrests. Sixty-four of these were for driving without a valid license. Getting back to speed as number one cause of death, the officers warned 300 speeders. They also ordered drivers to correct 293 cases of deficient headlight and taillights on the vehicles.

Out of the month's arrests came fines totaling $6,610.10. Fines by counties were Callahan $801.60; Eastland $542.50; Fischer $292.50; Haskell $410.10; Jones $438.80; Mitchell $90.10; Nolan $124; Scurry $702.50; Taylor $1,060.10; and Throckmorton none.

Come in and see this New Beltone Triple Transistor Hearing Aid that weighs only 2 1/2 ozs. and practically pays for itself through amazing battery savings.

During the month 21 patrolmen in the District worked a total of 3,260 day hours and 1,864 night hours. This averaged out as 163 day hours and 93 night hours per man. That's somewhat more than a 40-hour week they were working to keep you alive.

Besides the deaths, last month there were 44 persons injured in the total of 86 accidents. Property damage amounted to $50,984.

Local Concern To Operate Grain Drying Unit

As an added service for farmers and grain producers of this area, the Market Poultry & Egg Company has set up a 500,000 bushel capacity grain dryer in this city.

A. T. Ballard, local manager for the company, said he drying unit was the first of its kind to be placed in this area, and will be in readiness for the coming grain season.

The drying facilities will permit grain producers to market or place their grain in storage where ordinarily a high moisture content would prevent storage or result in heavy docking on the price, Ballard explained.

The half million bushel capacity of the machine is the equivalent of six carloads of grain, Ballard said. Through being able to dry out this much grain daily, his company can render a valuable service to farmers in Haskell and vicinity, he added.

Market Poultry & Egg Company also has recently completed extensive enlarging and remodeling work on their warehouses here in getting ready for the grain season, the local manager said.

Haskell Student Makes Tour with McMurry Band

ABILENE, April 12 (Spl.) — Charles Thompson of Haskell, a sophomore member of the McMurry College Indian Band, recently accompanied the band on its 7-day spring tour of the Northwest Texas and northern New Mexico.

The "Indians" from McMurry headed into some real Indian Country on the 1200 mile tour. A performance at the Navajo Methodist Mission near Farmington N. M., marked the furthest penetration of their trip to the northwest. The band traveled a large strip of southern Colorado to reach Farmington, which is just a stone's throw from the vast Navajo Indian Reservation in northern New Mexico and Arizona.

In all, the McMurry musicians played about 15 performances in Methodist Churches-High School assemblies. Their unique "worship through music" service was given in seven Methodist churches on the tour. This program is carried out entirely by McMurry bandmen, from the opening hymn to the closing benediction.

The program for high school assemblies included marches, symphonic arrangements, novelty numbers, and Latin-American rhythms. The band is directed by Raymond T. Bynum, professor of music at McMurry College.

Thompson, son of the Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Thompson of Haskell, is a 1946 graduate of Albany high school. He played bass horn for 4 years in the band there.

At McMurry, Thompson is majoring in religious education. He plans to do church work after his graduation from the Methodist college.

Old-Time Cowboys Look Forward to Stamford Reunion

Pioneer cowboys already are looking forward to the Texas Cowboy Reunion and officials are busy with plans for the unique occasion in Stamford though it is almost three months away—July 1, 2, 3 and 5.

Each year, between 400 and 500 old-timers of the range gather to greet former associates, swap stories, do some square dancing and domino playing and eat chuck-wagon fare. And the sprier ones compete in the old-timers' calf-roping contest. Some bring bed-rolls and sleep out under the sky. The early-day cowboys are guests at the big rodeo which is a feature of the reunion.

W. G. Swenson of Stamford, manager of the SMS Ranch, is president-manager of the Texas Cowboy Reunion, which is host to the Cowboys and produces the rodeo. Otto F. Jones of Colorado City, manager of the Spade Ranch, is president of the old-time Cowboy's Association. To be eligible for membership, a man must have been a cowboy who worked on the range at least 35 years ago.

The annual celebration is a 4-day affair, climaxing on the glorious Fourth, but as that date falls on Sunday this year, there will be no rodeo that day but there will be afternoon and night performances on July 5, with night performances on the first three days.

Welcome in Reverse Only Procedure In Case Like This

As a customary rule, visitors at the Paint Creek power plant of West Texas Utilities Company southeast of Haskell are shown every courtesy by plant employees. This procedure was reversed, however, in dealing with two "callers" at the plant during the week end.

Friday, several employees at the plant ran across a large moccasin snake while they were working near the crib house, where the plant water intake is located. The unwelcome visitor was quickly dispatched.

Then around midnight Saturday, Bud Derr, Wilbert Klose and Dan Wester of the night crew, discovered a large rattlesnake apparently headed for the boiler room of the plant. The visit cost the reptile its life, 12 rattles and a "button." Wester said the dead rattler measured five feet, six inches in length.

Annual Santa Rosa Roundup Slated At Vernon

Vernon, Tex.—The program for the 1954 Santa Rosa Roundup has been completed for the six-day event scheduled this year from April 26-May 1. The Beutler Brothers of Elk City, Okla., will produce the rodeo again, according to Manager John Biggs. A number of new specialty acts have been added, and Cy Tailon, famed Madison Square Garden rodeo announcer, will return to Vernon his third year as announcer.

This year's show, as in the past years, will be an all-evening performance, and Beutler Brothers report that they are bringing a completely new array of wild stock here for the show.

The rodeo events will include cowboy bareback riding, calf roping, saddle bronc riding, open cutting horse, steer wrestling, Brahma bull riding, and the wild mare race which has been made famous by the Santa Rosa Roundup.

How smart can machines be?

Back in the twenties there was a stage play about mechanical men, who repaid their creators by trying to wreck civilization. "Robots" have made people uneasy ever since.

How smart can a machine be? At General Electric we're beginning to find out. For some years now we've been working with machines that come startlingly close to thinking like men.

Can they outsmart men? Just the opposite: they make men even smarter by taking over routine mental chores and freeing men for the creative thinking only human minds can encompass.

A jet engine used to be designed by trial and error. You had to build it first, or a costly model, to find out how it would work. Now, an electronic computer helps solve long and complex jet development problems in advance. In 15 minutes it goes through 8 million mathematical calculations and comes up with an answer that would take a mathematician 7 years.

In management, "hunch" is giving way to fact. Electronic data-processing machines zip through head-spinning statistics on market changes, product design and income trends to come up with the answers General Electric managers need to make sound decisions, not hopeful guesses.

Their ability to digest tons of data in a hurry may one day help the farmer by making weather predictions more accurate. They may shed new light on the reasons for boom and bust.

Machines that can read, write, do arithmetic, measure, feel, remember, now take the load off men's minds, just as machines have eased the burden on our backs.

But these fantastic machines still depend on people to design and build and guide and use them. What they replace is drudgery—not people.

Don't worry; smart though they are, machines will never be as smart as people. Not while people are smart enough to think them up, smart enough to let them do a man's drudging work.

Progress is our most important product
