A BILL TO ESTABLISH SUB-TREASURIES.
SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of representatives of the United States in Congress assembled, that there may be established in each of the counties of each of the States of this United States, to be known and designated as a sub-treasury, as hereinafter provided, when one hundred or more citizens of any county in any State shall petition the Secretary of the Treasury requesting the location of a sub-treasury in such county, and shall,
1. Present written evidence duly authenticated by oath or affirmation of county clerk and sheriff, showing that the average gross amount per annum of cotton, wheat, oats, corn and tobacco produced and sold in that county for the last preceding two years, exceeds the sum of $500,000 at current prices in said county at that time, and,
2. Present a good and sufficient bond for title to a suitable and adequate amount of land to be donated to the Government of the United States for the location of the sub-treasury buildings, and,
3. A certificate of election showing that the site for location of such sub-treasury has been chosen by a popular vote of the citizens of that county, and also naming the manager of the sub-treasury elected at said election for the purpose of taking charge of said sub-treasury under such regulations as may be prescribed. It shall in that case be the duty of the secretary of the Treasury to proceed without delay to establish a sub-treasury department in such county as hereinafter provided.
SEC. 2. That any owner of cotton, wheat, corn, oats, wood and tobacco, may deposit the same in the sub-treasury nearest the point of its production, and receive therefor treasury notes hereinafter provided for, equal at the date of deposit to eighty per centum of the net value of such products at the market price, said price to be determined by the secretary of the Treasury, under rules and regulations prescribed, based upon the price current in the lead-in cotton, tobacco, or grain imported into this country shall be received under provisions of this act.
SEC. 3. That the Secretary of the Treasury shall have prepared treasury notes in such amounts as may be required for the purpose of the above section, and in such form and denominations as he may prescribe, provided that no note shall be of a denomination less than $1, or more than $1,000.
SEC. 4. That the treasury notes issued under this act shall be receivable for customs, and shall be a full legal tender for all debt, both public and private, and such notes when held by any national banking association shall be counted as part of its lawful reserve.
SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of the manager of a sub-treasury when cotton, grain, or tobacco is received by him on deposit as above provided, to give a warehouse receipt showing the amount and grade or quality of such cotton, tobacco, or grain, and its value at date deposit; the amount of treasury note the sub-treasury has advanced on the product that the interest on the money so advanced is at the rate of 1 per centum per annum; expressly stating the amount of insurance, weighing, classing, warehousing, and other charges that will run against such deposit of cotton, grain or tobacco. All such warehouse receipts shall be negotiable by endorsement.
SEC. 6. That the cotton, grain or tobacco deposited in the sub-treasury under the provisions of this act may be redeemed by the holder of the warehouse receipt herein provided for, either at the sub-treasury in which the product is deposited or at any other treasury, by the surrender of such warehouse receipts and the payment in lawful money of the United States of the same amount originally advanced by the sub-treasury against the product, and such further amount as may be necessary to discharge all interest that may have accrued against the advance of money made on the deposit of produce and all insurance, warehousing and handling. All lawful money received at the sub-treasury as a return of the actual amount of money advanced by the Government against farm products as above specified shall be returned, with a full report of the transaction to the Secretary of the Treasury, who shall make record of the transaction and cancel and destroy the money so returned. A sub-treasury that receives a warehouse receipt as above provided, together with the return of the proper amount of lawful money and all charges as herein provided when the product for which it is given is stored in some other sub-treasury for the delivery of the cotton, grain or tobacco, as the case may be, and the Secretary of the Treasury shall provide for the adjustment between sub-treasuries of all charges.

SEC. 7. The Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe such rules and regulations as are necessary for governing the details of the management of the sub-treasuries, fixing the salary, bond and responsibility of each of the managers of sub-treasuries (provided that the salary of any manager of a sub-treasury shall not exceed the sum of $1,500 per annum.) holding the managers of sub-treasuries personally responsible on their bonds for weights and classifications of all produce, providing for the rejection of unmerchantable grades of cotton, grain or tobacco, or for such as may be in bad condition and shall provide rules for the sale at public auction of all cotton, corn, oats, wheat or tobacco that has been placed on deposit for a longer period than twelve months after due notice published. The proceeds of the sale of such product shall be applied, first, to the sub-treasury of the amount originally advanced, to gether with all charges, and, second, the balance shall be held on deposit for the benefit of the holder of the warehouse receipt, who shall be entitled to receive the same on the surrender of his warehouse receipt. The Secretary of the Treasury shall also provide rules for publication of and papers in case of loss or destruction.
SEC. 8. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury, when Sec. 1 of this act shall have been complied with, to caused to be erected, according to the laws and customs governing the construction of Government buildings, a suitable sub-treasury building with such warehouse or elevator facilities as the character and amount of the products of that section may indicate as necessary. Such buildings shall be supplied with all modern conveniences for handling and safely storing and preserving the products likely to be deposited.
SEC. 9. That any gain arising from the charges for insurance, weighing, storing, classing, holding shipping, interest or other charges, after paying all expenses of conducting the sub-treasury, shall be accounted for and paid into the treasury of the United States.
SEC. 10. The term of office for a manager of a sub-treasury shall be two years, and the regular election to fill such office shall be at the same time as the election for members of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States. In case of a vacancy in the office of manager of the sub-treasury by death, resignation or otherwise, the Secretary of the Treasury shall have power to appoint a manager for the unexpired term.
SEC. 11. The sum of fifty millions of dollars, or so much thereof as may be found necessary to carry out the provisions of the act, is hereby appropriated, out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, for that purpose.
SEC. 12. That so much of any or all other acts as are in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby given.

PRICE OF LANDS.

Unimproved land is selling at $3 to $5 per acre in the country. Land within a radius of five miles of the town of Haskell is selling at $5 to $100 per acre. Town lots bring $100 to $1000.

Realty has made an advance of at least 100 percent in value on square of Jan., 1896. A great deal has gone many times over and all realty has advanced 100 percent.

Land agents have sold all land they had from first hands, and the demand is growing daily. 250,000 acres of land in this county has changed hands in the last year. This is equal to nearly half the land in the county. The demand for land is growing and recent investors will be able to put their lands on the market this summer at handsome profits.

For a long time the publishers of daily papers have been running weekly editions which were rudely thrown together from matter already printed in the daily. The result of a system like this is that the reader is furnished with an immense amount of reading, but it is so ill arranged and so poorly selected more really interesting news could be gained from the average country paper of only four pages. Several months ago the publishers of The Dallas News went to work to make their weekly edition a complete paper. A special editor is engaged, the news of the daily is condensed and classified; and much reading matter is printed in the weekly which does not appear in the daily. The results have justified the wisdom of the experiment, as The Dallas Weekly News is now acknowledged to be the best general news paper, with special farm and family features, in the south or west.

We clip the following letter of the correspondent to the Fort Worth Gazette:

HASKELL TEX., April 17.—This county was blessed with another fine rain yesterday and the day before, and everything is now flourishing. Wheat and oats are assured crops. The stockmen are beginning work as well as the farmer, business in all branches is looking up, and everything indicates a prosperous year for the West.

Our real estate men have done a good business the past few months, and still the demand continues. We are very much in need of good railroad facilities in this country, and many other things we have not got. In our last we mentioned a few things Haskell needed, we now mentioned a few things we have. We have three good drug stores, three dry goods establishments, one furniture, two hardware, three grocery and provision, one meat market, one good exchange bank, one good hotel, two fine lively stables, one gin and mill, a daily mail and laet, but by no means least, the HASKELL FREE PRESS, one of the spiciest, best edited, newest, little papers in the west, which ranks very high in the journalistic field. It is doing "duty" not only for Haskell, but for the entire West. It is also a great advertised medium. A mere inspection of it is a sufficient recommendation.

Haskell also has many other good things and a class of the best citizens to be found in any country, moral, intelligent and public spirited. Many new residences are going up, and the city is improving in various ways. On our streets each day may be seen new faces and strangers from every portion of the country. The Free Press is indeed thankful for the nice compliment paid us. These reports to the Gazette are doing a great work for this county and the letters of our correspondents to the daily papers can not be estimated too highly. Haskell has a live correspondent and we congratulate him in the way he discharges his duty.

Miss Jenness Defends Herself for Riding Man Fashion.

The road the reformer treads is rough and stony. When pretty Miss Jenness announced to a few friends that she was tired of riding side saddles, and in bifurcated garments would gallop her horse a straddle, she had no idea of the storm she was about to bring down upon herself. She has been charged with immodesty, lack of femininity, breach of decorum, a desire to create a sensation and a dozen other offenses against the usage of society. To-day she commented to reply to her critics. Her dark brown eyes sparkled and her voice assumed an earnest tone when she referred to the unpleasant things that have been said about her. She is a young woman to face such a storm of opposition. She is only twenty-five. A little above the medium height, with an abundance of fluffy hair, dark brown in color, large handsome eyes, symmetrical features, and a well rounded figure that illustrates the success of physical culture, she presents a pretty picture of girlish simplicity. She began by declaring that she never intended the public to know anything about her experiment. She arranged to have no one present except her riding master and four friends. They were all pledged to secrecy, but the riding master gave the story away to a gossiping woman reporter, and all the world knows the result. Miss Jenness said that she made the experiment in search of a better mode of riding than is now in vogue among women. A short time ago she sustained a serious injury to her hip by being tipped up by her conventional riding habit while dismounting from a horse that was a kicker. This fact, and her study of physical culture, which convinced her that riding in a side saddle developed one side of the figure more than the other, and that a reform was needed. She first tried riding with a saddle on the left side one day and on the right side the next, but neither the horse nor the rider was satisfied with this. Then came the determination to set aside, just to see how it would seem.

"I rode for an hour and a half," said Miss Jenness. "My saddle was the ordinary man's saddle. My costume resembles the conventional habit, except that the skirt was a divided garment of the ascordion-plated variety. My seat in the saddle was much more comfortable than the cramped position necessary with a side saddle. When I dismounted I was no more fatgued than I would have been riding the old way the same length of time. Yet I was not entirely satisfied with the experiment. I made up my mind to try it again with a smaller saddle before deciding that it is the best way for women to ride.

"I never said that I would appear in Central park in the divided habit. That would only make a sensation, and if there is any thing I abhor it is that. I shall go on with my experiments, and if I finally decide that women ought to sit in the saddle like men, I shall have the courage of my convictions, and shall ride in that manner. As to its being indecent, I think the divided skirt is less so than the present costume. If there is anything improper in outlining the figure, the ordinary habit does that more than the divided costume. The divided skirt hangs down at both sides, and is soft and full, and not tightly strapped to the figure like the present style. The women who saw me ride declared that the costume was graceful and becoming."

And as Miss Jenness arose her eyes snapped, and in her face was plainly written the determination to go on, no matter what the world may say.

Call on him when in town. McLemore is always glad to see you.

—Dr. G. C. McGregor of Waco was in Haskell this week looking after his extensive interests here. The Dr. is very hopeful of the future of the country, and always has a good word for the Free Press that makes us like to meet him. He honored our sanctum with a call while here and we were glad to receive him. He is an interesting conversationalist and is always a welcome visitor in our sanctum.

—Sherrill Bros. & Co., have been made distributing agt., for the Deering Harvesting Machinery and Haskell is a distributing point. Farmers can inspect the machine here and have it shipped to them any where direct from headquarters. S. Bros. & Co. will have one of these machines on exhibition here. The Deering Harvester is known every where, and being a large manufacturing concern, is enabled to supply the farmers with a first class machine at a low price. Call on S. Bros. & Co. before making your arrangements for harvesting machinery.

—Sherrill Bros. & Co. have their stoves set up and arranged now, and they have a fine display. If anybody in the country wants a good cookstove go around and examine their stoves and prices and you will probably find what you want.

Look Out For the First Steamboat

Which will be loaded with sugar, cured hams, new canned goods, dried fruits, and other good things for Dodson's Store. These goods are now water-bound; but if Male creek and Spring Branch get water enough in them, these goods will be brought in by the first steamer for Haskell. People “must eat to live.” Groceries are now delivered (by rail or wagon) when your bill is large enough to justify it.

A MINISTER CONVICTED.

Found Guilty of Perjury in a trial for Seduction and Given Seven years.

Four South Ark. April 20.—Rev. George A. Marvin of the Methodist church was convicted of perjury in the Sebastian county court yesterday and the jury assessed his punishment at seven years in the penitentiary. In January, 1888, Mr. Marvin was assigned to a circuit in the Greenwood district, this county, and heard with one of the parishoners, a respectable old gentleman named Bassett, who had a handsome daughter. Marvin seduced the girl, but before this became known was transferred to another district. In February, 1889, the young lady gave birth to a child, and her father caused Marvin's arrest. He was tried in the county court, Greenwood district, and convicted of bastardy. They appealed the case to the circuit court and took a change of venue to the Fort Smith district. He failed to appear at the proper time, and in the meantime was indicted for perjury on four counts, having sworn falsely in his case at the time he was tried before the county court. He was arrested about five months ago and committed to jail here, where he has since remained, his trial having resulted in conviction. Marvin entered the ministry when about eighteen years of age, and is now only twenty-two.

Haskell County.

Her Resources, Advantages, Progress and Future Prospects.

Topography, Water, Soil, Products, Shipping Points, Railroads, Public Schools and Mail Facilities.

HASKELL county is situated in the southern part of the panhandle on the line of the one-hundredth Meridian west from Greenwich. It is 1500 feet above the sea, and has mild winters and summers. It is 30 miles square and contains 576,000 acres of land. It was created in 1858 from a part of Fannin and Milam counties, and named in honor of Charles Haskell, a young Tennessean, who fell at the massacre at Goliad in 1836.

It remained unsettled until 1874 when there was one or two ranches established. Other ranchmen followed and in 1880 the county could boast of 15 or 20 inhabitants. There was no further development until early in 1884, when the town of Haskell was laid off and by donating lots a few settlers were induced to build residences, and in January 1885 the county organized with a polled vote of 57 electors.

Up to 1884 the soil had never been turned by a plow, and the people depended upon raising cattle, sheep and horses as the natural grasses furnished food both winter and summer for immense herds. The poorer people made money by gathering many thousand tons of Buffalo bones and shipping them east to be made into fertilizers for use in the old states.

Experiments were made in 1885 with garden products, corn, oats, wheat, rye, barley and cotton and the yield was bountiful.

In 1886 and 1887 the entire west, from Dakota to Mexico suffered from seasons of unprecedented dryness, but the faith of the few farmers of Haskell county, kept green and in the fall of 1887 farming begun in dead earnest, and the crop of 1888 far surpassed all anticipation, corn made 25 bushels per acre; oats made from 60 to 100, wheat from 15 to 25, rye 20, and cotton, one-third to one-half bale per acre, and sorghum, hay and millet was so bountiful it was hardly considered as a part of the general crop and there was no demand for it in the local market. The acreage in farms have been increased to at least 10,000 acres.

TOPOGRAPHY.
The county is an undulating plain with occasional creeks and branches. It is bounded on the north by that picturesque stream the Salt Fork of the Brazos, and on the west by Double Mountain Fork.

There are a few washes and gulches along the creeks and rivers, but with river breaks, rocks and poor land combined, their area in Haskell county would not average over 10,000 acres that would not be a fine agricultural land.

WATER.
It is traversed by numerous creeks and branches besides the rivers mentioned, some of which are fed by never failing springs of purest water.

Besides the numerous branches that afford water for stock all the time, the south half of the county is traversed by Paint and California creeks with their numerous tributaries draining the south half of the county.

The north half is traversed from Southwest to Northeast by Lake and Miller creeks whose tributaries furnish water and drainage for the same.

Besides the surface water there is an abundance to be obtained by digging from 15 to 40 feet, and all of a good quality, some of which is unsurpassed by that of any section in the state for purity and temperature.

SOIL.
The soil is an alluvial loam of great depth and fertility, varying in color from a red to a dark chocolate, and by reason of its porosity and friable nature, when thoroughly plowed, readily drinks in the rainfall and in dry seasons absorbs moisture from the atmosphere; and for the like reasons the soil readily drains itself of the surplus water, thereby preventing stagnation of the water and the baking of the soil, as well as the germination of miasma. It is those peculiar qualities of soil that enable vegetation to withstand all varieties of weather.

Except mesquite grubs and stumps, which are easily extracted, there are no obstructions to plows, and the land being level or generally rolling, and easily worked, the use of labor saving implements at once becomes pleasant and profitable. One man with machinery and a little hired help has been known to cultivate over 100 acres in grain and cotton.

PRODUCTS.
Indian corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, durah corn, millet, sorghum, castor beans, field peas, peanuts, pumpkins, and all the squash family, turnips and cotton are grown successfully and profitable. Also sweet potatoes do well, and Irish potatoes as well as anywhere in the South: Garden vegetables grow to perfection, and melons luxuriate in Haskell county soil, growing to fine size of superb quality. Besides the native grasses that grow on the prairies, sustaining large numbers of cattle, horses and sheep throughout the year, Johnson and Colorado grasses grow to great perfection and the hay made from these grasses form a valuable adjunct to the winter pasture, in keeping stock over winter.

YIELD AND PRICES OF FARM PRODUCTS.
The average yield of Indian corn per acre is about 30 bushel and the price varies from 50c to 1.25 per bushel; the wheat yield for the year '88—a dry year—ranged from 18 to 30 bushels—averaging 25 bushels per acre, and sold in the home market for 90 cents to $1.00 per bushel; oats yield 60 to 100 bushels per acre, and usually sell at 25 cents per bushel; cotton yields a half to three quarters of a bale per acre, but owing to the great distance to market its cultivation is not engaged in to a great extent. Other crops make good yields and command corresponding prices. Home made pork is usually worth 6 to 8 cents per pound; fresh beef 4 to 6 cents; home made butter, sweet and delicious, usually sells at 25 cents per pound, chickens 15 to 25 cents each, and eggs 10 to 25 cents per dozen.

SHIPPING POINT.
As yet Haskell has no railroad, and our people do their principal shipping to and from Abilene, a town 60 miles south, in Taylor county, on the Texas and Pacific Railroad. There is also some shipping done to Albany, a town 45 miles southeast, on the Texas Central Railroad, but not so much as to Abilene, because of rougher wagon roads.

RAILROADS.
There is one road being built from Dallas to this place and one to be built from Fort Worth. The Texas Central will have to extend in a short time from Albany or forfeit its charter, and Haskell is on the line as originally surveyed.

The land men of Austin have organized a company to build a road from that city to this section of the state where they control nearly all the land and one of the principal members owns 150,000 acres in this and Knox county, besides he owns the large addition to the town of Haskell on the south. Haskell is 60 miles north of the T. & P. R. R. and 90 miles south of the Ft. W. & D. R. R. and is situated on the direct line of the cattle trail over which the Rock Land, and G. C. & S. F. propose to extend their lines.

PUBLIC SCHOOL.
Our school fund is perhaps the best of any county in the north-west. In addition to the amount received from the state, about $5,50 per capita, our commissioners court have wisely executed a lease for 10 years of our 4 leagues of school land, situated in the Panhandle, the revenue from which added to the amount received from the state gives us a fund amply sufficient to run the several schools of the county ten months in the year. This fund can also be drawn upon to build school houses in any organized school community of the county.

MAIL FACILITIES.
There is only one post office in Haskell. It has a daily mail, over the line from Abilene via Anson; which line also brings express freight, and proves very satisfactory to our people.

RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATIONS.
The religious and moral status of the people of Haskell county will compare favorably with that of any people. The Methodist, Baptist, Christians, Old School and Cumberland Presbyterians each have organized churches in the town of Haskell, and have preaching on Sundays, also preaching at other points in the county. We have a good Union Sunday School, and weekly prayer meeting that are well attended.

HASKELL.
The town of Haskell is the county site of, and is situated one and one-half mile south of the center of Haskell county, on a beautiful table land, and is five years old and has a population of 600 to 700. Has as good well water as can be found anywhere, which is secured at a depth of 18 to 22 feet. Also has two never failing springs of pure water in the edge of town. Haskell has four drygood and grocery stores that sell goods at prices as low as can be had in railroad towns, with 50 cents per hundred pounds for freight added, and drygoods and groceries as cheap as can be bought any where, one gin and mill. Also has four drug stores one hardware one notion one hotel and one restaurant, both first class; two blacksmith shops; two cabinet and wood shops; one lumber yard one exchange bank, one barber shop; one silver smith shop one saddlery shop, one boot and shoe shop; one meat market; two livery stables; four doctors; 10 lawyers and land agents; one first class county newspaper and job office and only one saloon, all doing a very good business. The town of Haskell with her natural advantages, of location, climate, good water and fertility of soil is destined in the near future to be the queen city of Northwest Texas, and railroad connection for Haskell is all that is needed to accomplish these.

ADVANTAGES AND RESOURCES.
In almost every neighborhood of the older states and the thickly settled portion of our own state there are many of its citizens who are contemplating a removal or a change of residence for many reasons. Some to restore lost health, some to make their beginning in the world, others to repair financial losses, others seeking safe and profitable investments of surplus capital. There are many others who have comfortable homes and are well contented, but who have children, whom they would like to provide with lands suitable for home, and assist to commence business in life, but can not do so with their present surroundings, and must seek cheaper lands and better opportunities in other and newer localities.

To such we would say you are just the people we want. Come and see us, and you will find a broad field of occupation and investment to choose from, with chances greatly in your favor. In coming to Haskell do not imagine we are a people wild and wooly

BLOODY WORK ON A STREET CAR.

A Maniac Armed With a Butcher Knife, Slashes the Passengers.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 17.—A maniac made a desperate assault with a butcherknife on the passengers of a street car near Tenth street about 10 o'clock this morning. Four men were badly cut, but no one was fatally injured. The wounded are Archie Patno, saloon keeper, who received a cut six inches long, extending from beneath his right ear around under his chin and an ugly stab in the arm; Henry Patno, cheek laid open to the bone and the upper lip cut off; Thomas Brenna, cut across the top of the head, and Ben Sweeney received a slight cut on the left forearm. After a desperate struggle the mad man was captured and the knife taken from him.

At the station house the crazy man gave his name as Billy Patterson, a circus roustabout, but refused to assign any reason for his murderous assault. The car had just crossed Sixteenth street going north when Patterson jumped on the rear platform with a howl like a Zulu warrior. He drew a long butcher knife and made a lung at the conductor, who saved himself by jumping from the car. Then the mad man dashed into the car, where were seated fifteen or twenty passengers. With one sweep he laid bare the cheek of Mr. Patno. In an instant every man was on his feet and there was a wild rush for the front door. Meanwhile the maniac was wielding the knife with terrible effect.

At length the conductor got his car hook and with a heavy blow on the fellow's arm sent the knife spinning through a window. Patterson was then seized and a patrol wagon was called. Patterson looked as though he had been on a protracted spree and it is believed he was suffering from delirium tremens. When locked up at the station he tore about and howled like a wild beast.
