Haskell "B" Team Opens Season Tonight at Knox City at 8 P. M.

Haskell's "B" football squad will journey to Knox City tonight, Sept. 9, where they will meet the KC eleven in their initial contest of the season.

Coach T. O. McClung, beginning his first year as mentor of the Indian "B" team, will throw 1139 pounds of beef in front of the Knox City gridsters which will average better than 162 pounds per man in the forward will. His backfield will be somewhat smaller and will average about 149 pounds.

Game time will be at 8 p. m. at the Knox City Stadium. Tickets will be available at the gate.

Knox City is rated among the top three teams in their district and the local "B" team will find a pretty rugged and seasoned opponent. The inexperience of the Haskell alignment will be a great disadvantage, as will the foreign gridiron. However, both teams will be equally nervous since it will be the first game for both groups.

Coach McClung is planning to turn the signal calling duties over to Robert Starr, a 152 pound quarterback. Rounding out the rear ranks on the starting ofensive team will probably be tailback Lyndon Harris, 148; fullback Duane Baccus, 134; and wingback Preston Pierson.

Topping the probable starters in the line will be 200 pound Sam Eubanks, a first year man, who should easily hold down the left tackle slot. On his left, at end, will be David Duncan, 138; while the remainder of the line may consist of left guard B. D. Kirkland, 169; center Dan Garrett, 180; right guard David Conner, 148; right tackle Dan Galvart, 150; and right end John Clifton, 144.

Backing up the probable starters will be reserves for every position which will include centers Doug Brown, 130; Dalton Linton, 119; and Jimmy Brock, 108; guards Johnny Mills, 140; and Don Allred, 143; tackles Byron Smith, 162; Rex Cox, 175; Jerry Fancher, 148; and backs Don Pennington, 105; Bobby Wheatley, 103; Bill Holly, 209; Jimmy Mullins, 133; Tommy McClung, 105; and Ernest Kimbrough, 160.

Grand Opening of White's Auto Store To Be Held Saturday

White's Auto Store, located at 901 South 1st across the street from the Post Office, will hold its Grand Opening Saturday morning with free gifts for everyone.

J. D. Weaver, owner and operator of the new business, stated that the doors would be open at 8 a. m. and a special invitation is extended to everyone to come and get acquainted with him and his business.

Weaver, who came to Haskell from Wichita Falls with his wife and children, Betty and Ken, said he wanted to make White's Auto Store a fishing headquarters for all fishermen. He will carry a complete line of fishing equipment, supplies and boat motors, along with the long line of other merchandise that is featured by White's Auto Stores.

He stated that he was set up for financing so that customers can make purchases either on the installment or lay-a-way plan.

Lightning Starts Grass Fire On Swenson Ranch

Firemen from Haskell joined other volunteers in fighting a blaze on the Swenson Ranch that is believed to have started from lightning.

The flame burned off about 200 acres of the Swenson Ranch, which is a big spread in Haskell and Throckmorton Counties. The fire was in what is known as the west pasture of the ranch in Haskell County, about 18 miles east of the city.

Vandals Destroy Signs Leading To Stamford Lake

Vandalism points to the Stamford Lake.

That is, the signs that point the way to the Stamford Lake from Haskell have been removed by vandals who believe that destroying expensive state and private property is some kind of a practical joke.

According to reports received this week, Mrs. Veda Griffin, owner of Veda's Camp along the lakeside, had put up several well-placed signs along the road from Haskell directing fishermen to her camp. Most of them were placed on private property with permission of the property owner.

Ray Lusk, maintenance foreman for the State Highway Department, said that only a few of the signs put out on Farm to Market Road 618 remained standing. From Highway 277, all signs were destroyed along 618 all the way down to the lake.

Such vandalism is not only expensive to individuals who put out personal signs, but it is costly to everyone in the taxes used by the state to aid the public in directions to the lake.

Chief of Police Johnny Adkins Resigns Post

Chief of Police Johnny Adkins, who has held that position since April 20, presented his resignation at a special meeting of the City Council Friday evening. The resignation was accepted effective Sept. 7. Adkins explained that he was giving up the city job to accept employment with Farmers Co-p Gin No. 1. He was manager of the gin several years ago.

Only other regular policeman on the city force is Olen Bartley, who has been with the department since the latter part of April.

Police Commissioner Brooks Middleton said applications for the post of Police Chief would be accepted for a reasonable length of time or until a successor to Adkins was selected.

The City Council has received only nine applications for the position. Only one applicant is from out of the county while six are residents of the city. A selection will probably be made at the regular meeting of the council on Sept. 28.

Haskell was without city police officers for about a month last Spring, with the exception of city nightwatchman Bob Marlow.

100F Lodge Changes Meetings from Thurs. To Tuesday Night

A change in regular meeting dates of the Haskell 100F Lodge was announced this week.

It was changed from Thursday night to Tuesday night beginning Sept. 14 and will continue throughout the football season. By meeting on Tuesday night there will be no conflict with the football games. The regular Thursday night meeting time will be resumed after football season.

ATTEND FASHION CLINIC

Mrs. Eula Mae Herren attended the Sixth Annual hair fashion clinic in Amarillo Sunday, Sept. 5. Newest hair fashions for fall were featured by guest artists, Grace Doran of Hollywood, Calif. and J. Hagerty of St. Louis.

Spur Ropers Win T-O Matched Contests

A trio of ropers composing the Spur team, Bobby Bird, Bill James and Fred Dalby, turned in the best combined time Thursday night to win top honors in the two-day Texas and Oklahoma matched calf roping contests at Rice Springs Arena.

The 2-day event brought together 24 of the best known ropers in the Southwest, who competed as three-man teams in the matched contests and as individuals in a number of added roping events.

Although holding strictly amateur status, contestants in the two-day contests included men who have crowded the world's calf roping record at times, and who follow the sport only as a hobby.

In addition to being a member of the champion roping team Fred Dalby, Aspermont rancher, had his horse, Jo Boy, acclaimed as the best roping horse taking part in the two day event. The selection was made by Elmer Carter of Antelope, professional roper who has competed in the world's best known contests.

Highlighting Thursday night's events were barrel races for cowgirls and cowboys under 16 years of age. A brother and sister combination, Opal Lee and John, Jr., Wallace took first place trophies in the two events. They are children of Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace.

Billy Wallace, Kent County rancher, was named head of the T-O Calf Ropers group and will be in charge of plans for next year's event. According to present plans, the meet will again be held in Haskell sometime in early Spring.

Teams competing in the events here were: Spur, Snyder, Okla., Tombstone, Ariz., Clairemont, Crosbyton, Old Glory, Post, Iowa Park. Stock used in the show was furnished by John Wallace.

HHS Band Boosters Organized Friday; Officers Elected

Bob Segro was elected president of the HHS Band Boosters Friday night, Sept. 3, at an organizational meeting of band promoters and parents of band students.

Inaugurated to assist Bob Segro in leading the band boosters were: A. H. Robertson, vice president; Austin Coburn, secretary; Lucille Duncan, secretary; and Clay Hatton, reporter.

There were 42 present at the initial meeting and an invitation is extended to all persons interested in backing the high school band to attend the meetings and enroll their membership in the club.

Regular meetings will be held at 7:30 p. m. each Tuesday night preceding each home ball game in the Band Hall. A program of entertainment will be presented by the high school band at each meeting.

The first field stunt by the HHS band can be witnessed Friday night at the opening game of the season when the Indians meet Stamford on the Haskell gridiron. It will consist of an all-swing music program featuring the new majorettes, flag twirlers and drum major.

Carson Plumbing Co. of Stamford was awarded contract for heating and air conditioning installations in the addition to the high school plant on a bid of $2,100, lowest submitted.

Contract allows 280 calendar days for completion of the work.

Joe Smith Named Top Rider Of First Annual Junior FFA Rodeo

Joe Smith of Paint Creek was named the all-round rider of the first annual Junior FFA Rodeo at the final performance Monday night in the Saddle Tramp Arena.

The first of its kind ever to be held in this city, the junior rodeo drew an estimated crowd of 400 persons Monday night. For both performances, spectators were estimated at approximately 1,000.

Smith led the list of a large number of entrants in annexing the coveted all-round rider title. He tied with Joe Templeton of Haskell for first place in the bareback bronc riding event. In third place was Bobby Wedeking of Stamford.

Robert Ford of Weinert combined two times for a total of 57.2 seconds to win the calf roping contest. Jerry Bradley of Goering took second place with a time of 65 seconds.

Tops among the junior cowgirls was Opal Lee Wallace of Haskell who won the cowgirls barrel race with a time of 40 seconds in two rides. Sheila Langston of Haskell settled in second place with 45.9 seconds and Janis Pitman took third with 52.1 seconds.

On two rides, Sonny Matthews of Haskell had the lowest time of 67.1 seconds to win the Pony Express race. In second place was Thomas Alvis of Haskell with 76.6 seconds and Sam Adams of Weinert landed in third with 100.5 seconds.

Cliff (Boosky) Berry, Jr., led all other contestants in the bull riding event and was selected for first place. Robert Knight of Anson placed second and in third place was Bill McGuire of Weinert.

The junior rodeo was carried on in the style of the professional rodeos. Bobby Stone, president of the Haskell FFA Chapter, served as Arena Director and James Larned was rodeo clown.

Carla Manske Tells Lions of Crippled Childrens Camp

Miss Carla Manske and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Manske of Paint Creek, were special guests at the regular meeting of the Lions Club Tuesday.

Miss Manske recently returned from the Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children in Kerrville where she spent two weeks camping and enjoying the out-of-doors. In describing the activities featured at the camp, Miss Manske said approximately 80 children from all over the state of Texas spent a lot of time each day in learning handicraft work.

While there, Carla made a belt with her name engraved on the back, an ash tray, and a braided bracelet.

She stated that all the children went swimming at least twice a day. One night the entire group camped out in the open and had a banquet on another evening. She was so enthused over the many activities offered by the camp that she hopes to attend again next summer.

The Haskell Lions Club, sponsored Miss Manske's two-week vacation at the camp for crippled children.

Members of the Lions Club are making plans to give away a shetland pony on Christmas Eve. Tickets will go on sale sometime in October.

Another guest at the meeting was Bert Davenport of Fort Worth who is a former resident of Haskell.

Stamford Challenges Abilene Nine At Fair Park Sunday

The final colored baseball game of the season will be played Sunday afternoon at 3:30 p. m. at Fair Park diamond.

The contest will pit the Stamford Red Sox against the Abilene Coca-Colas. The game should prove interesting since both teams will be evenly matched. The Red Sox have lost only one of 16 games and the Abilene nine have won 10 of 15.

Horace Crawford, who recently received his master of science degree from the University of Texas, and Miss Louise Holcomb of Austin spent the week end in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Crawford of this city.

Quarterback Club Membership Tops Halfway Mark

Backers of the Haskell Indian football squad increased this week as membership in the local Quarterback Club topped the halfway mark.

A goal of 200 members has been set by the grid organization and at Tuesday night's meeting, secretary George Neely reported that 128 backers were enrolled.

The subject was brought up that some of the quarterback members were trying to tell the head mentor how to coach the team and has been the excuse of many for not joining the club. Coach Royce Smith stated he thought the Quarterback Club was doing an excellent job in supporting the Indians, giving himself and the team a lot of spirit, and carrying out minor details that cannot be covered by the coaching staff.

Thomas B. Roberson, president of the organization, explained that the purpose of the Quarterback Club was strictly to back the athletic activities of the school and support them in every way possible. He stated, "We definitely do not tell the coach how to run the team, and our purpose is for organized support of athletics and the high school as a whole."

Further plans were made concerning the Texas-Oklahoma Colored Classic which will be staged on the Haskell gridiron Saturday night, Oct. 16. Prior

Service Cleaners Install New and Modern Equipment

The Service Cleaners completed the installation of a new piece of machinery this week that "modernizes" the cleaning industry, according to an announcement by Hallie Chapman and Bill Lane, owners of the local concern.

It is the new Petro unit called the "Stan-O-Matic" which completely dry cleans materials without spotting. The owners stated that there was no washing done on clothes, that each piece was thoroughly dry cleaned. The Stan-O-Matic replaced the old machinery at Service Cleaners and is the only one of its type in this section of the state.

"This is the finest piece of cleaning machinery made," Chapman said, and it is the most modern and up-to-date equipment which is entirely automatic.

Owners of the Service Cleaners wish to extend a personal invitation to everyone to come in and see this new machinery in operation.

Men Pastures Seen For Albany in '54 District 8-A Title Race

Chance of emerging as the 1954 football champion of District 8-A are as good as the bones on a horse that somehow live through the long pre-season.

Albany's Lions are green pastures and the probability of remaining champions is high. Consecutive years stand-stand and expect them to win the fourth title in five years, in fact, some have placed them among the top Class A teams in the state.

More likely there will be a three-way battle for the crown this year between Albany, Haskell and Munday. But, in the game of football, the other four teams cannot possibly be disregarded. For instance, either Roby, Roscoe or Throckmorton have good potentials of unseating any of the top three teams.

The fact that Albany is a definite favorite to annex the crown another year lies in the 22 of 26 lettermen returning to Coach Elwood Turner, including two all-district performers in Fullback Albert Burton, 160, and end Charles Knight, 190. Coach Turner's only worry was replacing Quarterback Bill Booker, but he has switched end Bobby Allman to the man-under slot for the operation of his split-T formation. The Lions meet Rotan Friday night at Rotan.

17 Lettermen at Munday
Munday showed its strength last Friday night when it blunted Lockett, a newcomer to Class A, 26-6, in one of the opening games of the season. The Moguls meet Rule on their home field Friday night.

Munday's 17 returning lettermen will hold the Mogul backfield intact with only one man missing from the 1953 starters. Coach Troy Stewart, beginning his first year at Munday, will have little trouble in replacing the five men lost out of the line with seasoned lettermen. Depth at the tackle slot, plus weights, like Jerry Scott, 205; Durwood Thigpen, 215; J. R. Booe, 270; Gary Cure 185; and Robert Bowden, 170, give the Moguls plenty of manpower in the forward wall. Their strong line will be led by a 3-year letterman in the form of 160 pound Jay Sharp.

Glenn Amerson, 160 pound sophomore, generalled the Moguls in his freshman year and will add his experience as quarterback this season.

Roby Wins First Game
Roby took to the air Friday night to edge Hobbs, 6-0, for their first initial win of the young season. The Lions completed 7 of 15 aerial attempts, but scored their lone touchdown on a 65 yard sustained drive the first time they got control of the ball.

Herschall Shuttleworth, new head mentor at Roby, had 14 returning lettermen available that included one for every position except center.

Freddie Stuart, a second team all-district quarterback last year, heads the list of returnees and calls the signals for Coach Shuttleworth's single-wing formation.

Their only victory last season was a 12-6 decision over Munday.

The Lions will rest Friday before traveling to Hermleith for their second game next week.

Throck Has Strong Line
A strong Throckmorton line will be the highlight of the Greyhounds during 1954, but it suffered the loss of Reg Nicols, a 206 pound all-district and all-state tackle.

Coach Morris Mercer may find a weak backfield on his hands since Max Hibbitts, a 185 pound 2-year letterman, is the only man to remain at his post, though there will be lettermen at the others slots.

Billy Whitaker, 165, switched from half to quarterback for the generalizing duties, while Billy Joe Davis, 170, and Glenn Hudson, 135, will round out the ball carriers. The Greyhound line will be paced by Walter Keeter, a 165 pound, 3-year letterman guard.

The Greyhounds enjoyed a higher bracket last year by tying the Haskell eleven for second place with a 4-1-1 conference record.

Throckmorton will open the season at Olney Friday night.

Roscoe Loses First Night
Roscoe suffered the loss of its initial contest Friday night at the hands of Post by a 7-0 score.

The inexperience of the Plovboys will be the clamp to hold back Coach Houston Jolley's Purple and White contingent. There are only nine lettermen returning and the entire squad will be fairly small again this year. Six of the lettermen will be in the line which is topped by James Miller, 155 pound guard.

Merkel Opens Tonight
Merkel will open the grid season tonight when they meet Wylie with Coach Carroll Benson entering his 14th year as head coach.

However, Coach Benson will start the 1954 season less 18 lettermen from last year's squad. He has only 8 letter holders to build his team around this year. Four of the eight are starters, including tackles George English, 210, and Wesley Morton, 190; end Billy Mack Gilbert, 150; and halfback Freddie Boone.

The Badgers finished last season with a 3 won, 3 lost conference record, but their chances of improving this year are pretty low. With the returning starters, Coach Benson has some fair material in his newcomers. He has tagged his backs as "small and shifty" which will greatly aid the lack of power in the line.

Haskell Prospects
It will be a rough row to hoe, but the Indians do have a chance to be the surprising eleven to upset Albany's appellation.

With 14 lettermen back to fill in every position, Coach Royce Smith will have very little trouble in finding replacements for the starters who departed.

The only starting lineman lost via graduation was all-district right guard Manuel Mullins, but only one starter, alternate quarterbacks Jerry Wheatley and Glenn Kreger, remain in the backfield. If Coach Smith can find replacements for Frank Clarkson, Lynn Coleson and Ma-

The weight of the Indians will compare with either of the top teams at Munday and Albany. The Haskell backs will average 154 pounds, while Albany's will barely reach 150 and the Moguls lower at 149. The Lion forward wall will make up for the loss of weight in the rear and they will throw at least a 172 pound average in front of their opponents. The local Indians will produce about the smallest line with a 168 average, but it is only one pound less than Munday's 169 pound blocking team.

Abilene, (Spl.)—Ed Ammons and Bobby Jack Price, two former all-district ends for the Haskell High School Indians, began their final session of college football with the McMurry Indians here Sept. 1.

Ammons, who won all-Texas conference honors as an end for McMurry, has been shifted to a tackle position. Price will be seeking his third Indianhead letterman's award at McMurry as will Ammons.

Ammons, a 1951 graduate of Haskell High School, won four letters in football there, and captained the team in 1950. After a year of freshman football at Texas Western College, he transferred to McMurry. Ed is majoring in physical education, and plans to coach after he graduates from McMurry next spring.

Price, another all-district end at HHS in 1950, also played ball at Texas A&M College before transferring to McMurry, and won

"Just Low Coals, Slow Heat" is Barbecue Secret of Man Who Learned as Cowboy

The following article, written by Katherine Randall, women's editor of The Farmer-Stockman, appeared in the current issue of the widely circulated farm magazine.

For down-right good eatin' you should try A. C. Denson's juicy, tender barbecued beef. It's hard to beat. He says there's no secret to his cooking—"just low coals, slow heat."

That's what today's scientific cooks are trying to tell modern homemakers—cook meat slowly. Denson's been doing it for 60 years, "ever since cowboy days way back yonder when you either got busy and cooked it or ate it raw."

He went on, "Slow cooking, that's it. I don't let the meat get too hot to turn with my hands. First he 'soaks' the meat in this mixture: 1 cup cooking oil and 2 cups vinegar; dash or two of garlic salt "if you like it pepper to taste—if there are lots of kids, I don't use too much."

I asked Denson about adding mustard or ketchup, which I thought a part of every barbecue sauce. He reluctantly replied, "Well, I've used it a few times. It's all right if you like it. Ketchup turns the sauce and meat dark—so does sugar. I get better brown without either."

Then this range-cook let us in on another one of his cooking secrets: "I never puncture the meat with a fork—that lets out the juices. turn it often, and brush it with that vinegar-oil stuff every time I do. Sometime, I wear canvas gloves when turning the meat."

Denson's recipes and cooking methods, spiced with tales of early days, "when there wasn't a fence between here and California," are given with authority.

Adding a few more coals to his modern pit, this range cook draws, "We used to spade out a hole and start cooking when we got hungry. Lots of times I've looked up from the fire to watch two or three thousand head of cattle going through on the old McKenzie Trail." When the railroad was put through to Spur, Denson cooked for the crew.

Crowds don't faze him. He's cooked for 400 to 500 folks at a time. He barbecued for the West Texas dog hunt a few years ago. No trouble at all. "We dug pits in the ground to cook the five beeves, used old wheels and irons for racks, cooked all night, keepin' the coals going."

Denson often gets up at 4 or 5 o'clock to get the fire started before company comes for dinner in the evening. He builds a big fire, using old solid mesquite wood, then lets it burn down before putting the coals in the pit.

In recent years Denson built a barbecue pit of native stone in his farm yard, using specifications found in Texas Extension Bulletin B-133 "Barbecue and Utility Furnaces." He salvaged metal racks from old ranges and refrigerators for grills.

He sometimes cooks stew or chili in a big iron pot on the grill—always using low heat. Here's how he cooks the cowboys' favorite dish. It's a stew made of brains, sweetbreads and marrow, which are cut up, cooked in a kettle with a little water, fat, salt and pepper pods.

Some modern cooks add liver and heart—but that's not the real stuff. In chuck wagon days we cooked liver and heart separately. Usually fried the liver for breakfast.

Here's what he says about cooking chili. "Throw some fat or taller in the pot. Chop meat or grind it just once with coarse blade—none of that fine stuff. We used to put in chili pepper pods, but now I use chili powder like most folks do. Put in some salt. Then cook it real slow. Don't need water."

Here's where Mrs. Denson spoke up for the first time, commenting that Denson's brand of chili is too rich and thick for her liking. She says she puts "juice" in it with water or tomato sauce and reducing the fat. But Denson insists his method always pleased him and the other cowboys.

Frijoles or pinto beans are often simmering in a big kettle over the coals. They need slow cooking too, according to this western cook. He soaks beans over night, pours water off in the morning, adds some fresh water and salt pork. He lets them cook all day, but avoids having them get mushy. Ranch cooks knew even in early days that minerals harden beans, so did not add salt until they were thoroughly tender.

Raisins, prunes and dried apples were part of every cowboy's menu. Fried pies were a rare treat. Here's how they were made. Fruit and dough were prepared as for any other pie. Dough was cut in disks about the size of a small plate. Fruit was placed on half the rolled dough. Other half of dough was turned over and edges sealed and crimped with a fork. Pies were dropped into a kettle of hot fat and fried until golden brown.

Even though Denson, like most range cooks scorns the use of measurements, he ladles up a big batch of confidence as he slowly draws directions, and inspires his listeners to follow his methods.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Denson still live in their ranch house, they've retired from ranching and rent out land. "We keep some turkeys, whiteface cattle and blackface sheep. Have to have something for the pit when company comes and the three sons bring their families home for barbecue."

Denson chuckles as he says, "I've turned sissy—I cook for the ladies." He barbecued for his wife's Blue Bonnet Home Demonstration Club and a couple years ago cooked for the county-wide farm women's club encampment at Midway. To barbecue for a group of three or four hundred farm homemakers is play, compared to standing over low coals for that many cowboys in the old days. "The women aren't nearly so fussy," he claims. And whenever they ask him, "How do you do it?" he preaches like all modern food experts—"Over a very slow fire—slowly."

Working on Labor Day Runs Up Bill At Hospital

There are days when it doesn't pay to get out of bed. Belton Duncan, of the insurance firm of Cahill & Duncan, had a nice long holiday ahead of him Monday until he hit on the idea of mowing the lawn.

And he was doing right well until the mower struck a fragment of brick in the grass. It broke one of the mower blades and a piece of the metal struck Belton's right ankle, inflicting a nasty cut. He was treated at the Haskell Hospital, where doctors did a neat job with several stitches. His next stop is at the repair shop to have the mower repaired.

HHS Students Elect Class Officers, Sponsors; Plan Activities For Term

With the opening of school last week, Haskell High School students took their nose out of the books long enough to get down to organization of business.

All of the top four grades recently elected class officers and class sponsors in preparation for the many extra-curricular activities that arise each school term.

The first-year high school freshmen selected Chester Jones to head their class as president. Sara Sue Roberson will serve as vice president, Robbie Lou Roberson as secretary and reporter, and treasurer will be John Stone. Teachers sponsoring the freshmen are Coach Royce Smith, Haskell Stone, and Mrs. Clifford Thomas.

David Duncan will be inaugurated as president of the Sophomore class, and will be assisted by vice president Sam Eubanks. Other officers are Wanda Grindstaff, secretary; Pat Henry, treasurer; and sponsors T. O. McClung, Mrs. Pyeatt McCollum, and J. L. Wood.

The Junior class will be presided over by Jimmy Love. Joy Allen was named vice president, Jean Duncan, secretary, and treasurer, Jimmy Byrd, reporter; and Ray Overton, Jr., Mrs. J. E. Johnson, and Hubert Bell, sponsor.

The Senior class chose Bobby Stone as president; John Duncan, vice president; Wendell Dixon, secretary; Wendell Jones, treasurer; and Billy Blake, reporter. Class sponsors are Mrs. Arlos Weaver and W. P. McCollum.

General Telephone Company Adopts New Trademark

A search for a simpler, easier to understand and remember trademark for General Telephone System has successfully ended with the adoption of a new, trapezoidal shaped trademark.

The new trademark, which bears a schematic drawing of a telephone handset centered between the words, "General System," will appear in this month's General Telephone advertisement in this newspaper.

The old General trademark was circular in shape with a telephone pole and crossarm inscribed on the circle and the lettering "General Telephone System" around the circle.

Not only will the new trademark be used in all General advertising, but eventually it will go on all stationery, forms, bulletins, annual reports, dividend enclosures to shareholders, building plaques, vehicles, and telephone booths throughout the system.

Small Tool Shed On Thurman Howeth Farm Burns Friday

A tool and implement shed belonging to Thurman Howeth, who lives on the Dennis P. Ratliff farm five miles southwest of town, burned shortly before noon Friday.

The fire ruined several hundred dollars worth of farm tools belonging to Mr. Howeth which were stored in the shed. Included were several planter boxes and plates, along with other farm tools, and several cans of lubricating oil.

It was feared for a time that the blaze might spread to a nearby overhead gasoline storage tank, and a truck and firemen from Haskell were called as a precaution against further spread of the fire.

Humble's new HOUSTON RESEARCH CENTER
... is dedicated to man's impelling curiosity in the search for knowledge and its useful application in the specialized fields of petroleum exploration and production.

Dedicated to Man's Impelling Curiosity

Most of us interpret the value of research in terms of immediate benefits. Research means that we get a better automobile, an improved gasoline, or an outstanding motor oil.

At Baytown Refinery, the Humble Company maintains one of the finest laboratories in the petroleum industry for that kind of research.

But behind the study that goes into the improvement of the products it sells, Humble for years has fostered basic research related to the discovery and production of oil and natural gas.

The United States uses so much oil from day to day, and needs so much more to provide for the emergencies of national defense, that studies leading to the discovery of new supplies and the more efficient management of existing reservoirs are more important than ever before. Consequently, Humble's expenditures on this sort of research are the heaviest in the company's history and its staff of research scientists is larger than it has ever been.

To house the expansion of these research sections, Humble recently completed its new Research Center at Houston and will formally dedicate it this week end.

Here the scientists of the various departments involved in the discovery and production of oil will utilize common facilities, and here they will have the stimulation of close association with other scientists whose efforts are dedicated to a common end.

Mahon Returns to District, Opens
 Lubbock Office

Congressman George Mahon has returned from Washington and opened his Lubbock office in the Post Office Building. He said that at present he had no special plans except to attend to official business and visit among the people. Congress adjourned August 20 and is not scheduled to reconvene until next January 5.

Mahon, in commenting on the Congressional session, stated,
 "The Republicans claim that a wonderful job has been done.
 Democratic leaders take a dim view of accomplishments. It is, in my opinion, fair to say that Congress, on the whole, did a reasonably good job. Along with the Democrats, I voted for much of the program. But on many measures there were sharp difference of opinion.

"I strongly opposed the Administration's program to scuttle the 80 per cent of parity support program for agriculture and replace it with the sliding scale system. In my opinion, the new program is no answer whatever to our farm problem. Agriculture will sustain a terrific setback without corresponding benefits to the consumer and taxpayer. There is a farm problem, but the flexible support program is not the answer to it."

 George Carter, printer at the Haskell Free Press, underwent

Though Coach Wood lost the majority of his talent-laden 1935 team, he cannot be under rated since the veteran coach has potential strength for nothing less than runner-up in District 4-AA again this year.

If the Indian line can be held intact Friday night with its five seasoned linemen, they will have a good chance of holding off a Stamford stampede. More than likely, all of them will be starters, but the injuries may put them back on the bench after a few minutes of action.

Either Glenn Kreger or Jerry Wheatley will general the Winged-T at quarterback, with assistance from tailback Jimmy Love, fullback John Pitman, and wingback Bobby Stone.

SCIENTISTS TRACE ORIGIN OF MAIZE TO OLD MEXICO

AUSTIN, Texas—Archeological evidence strongly indicates maize, one of the world's most important food plants, originated in the Western Hemisphere, a University of Texas researcher reports. Scientists have recovered fossilized grains of wild maize from drillings 200 feet below Mexico City. Miss Dee Ann Suhm of Houston, graduate student in anthropology, says the fossils are estimated to be at least 60,000 years old.

Numerous primitive varieties have been discovered in remote hill areas of northeastern India, but no archeological evidence has been found indicating an earlier origin than American maize, Miss Suhm writes in a research report on the grain.

SHADE TREES NEED A LITTLE HELP

Shade trees sapped by another summer of sparse rainfall need a little help from their owners. An ailing tree's condition can be improved greatly with water and fertilizer, says G. M. Watkins, extension service pathologist. To accomplish this, build a circular dike around the tree to hold water four to six inches deep in the basin. The diameter of the basin, says Watkins, should approximate the size of the tree's shade canopy. A dike six feet in diameter is suggested for very small trees and shrubs.

Spread a commercial fertilizer over the soil within the dike. The formula and application rate depend upon the inherent fertility of the soil. As a starter, one pound of 5-10-5 or 8-8-8 to every 100 square feet of surface is recommended.

Fill the basin to a depth of four inches and allow to soak in. During the hot, dry part of the year repeat the waterings at seven to ten day intervals but discontinue during the seasons.

Fertilize every 30 days during the growing season and withhold fertilizer as the tree goes into dormancy. Water well every time fertilizer is applied.

Haskell Salesman Injured When Car Strikes Bridge

Herman Anderson, about 30, of this city, received painful chest bruises but escaped serious injuries Monday morning when his automobile went out of control and crashed head-on into a concrete bridge railing on Highway 277 about 4 miles south of town.

Anderson, a salesman for L. B. Price Mercantile Company, Abilene, had spent the week end here with his family, and left at 7 a. m. Monday to return to Abilene. He told investigating officers that the front wheels of his '48 Oldsmobile apparently locked as he neared the bridge across Mule Creek and he was unable to stop the vehicle before it crashed into the bridge. The car was badly damaged.

Passing motorists summoned a Holden ambulance and Anderson was brought to the Haskell Hospital, where examination revealed he had suffered only minor injuries.
