"Social Adjustments" Presented by NTSC Forum at Meeting of Elementary P-TA

The first years of a child's life are the most important years because this is when his personality is formed. Basic love is by far the most important thing, whether he is loved by his parents or not. When a child knows he is loved, he brings his problems to his parents. The kind of home as it affects the child for homemaking is a basic occupation. It is combined efficiency and skill for it helps to make changes and adjustments. It is very important to have patience. We as parents must recognize the problems as our children state them and be ready to help them to meet the conflicts that arise in their thinking.

These and many other things were the main subjects of discussion in "Making Social Adjustments" presented by a forum from North Texas State Teachers College, Denton, at the Elementary Parent-Teacher Association meeting in the elementary school auditorium.

Supt. C. D. Allen, director of the program, introduced members of the forum which included the coordinator, Dr. Harold Brenholtz, professor of education,

Miss Ophelia Sammons, teacher-trainer in home and family relations, Dr. George Beamer, head of the guidance and psychology department, and Allen J. Herndon, a-sistant professor of education. Mr. Herndon was formerly an elementary principal in Little Rock, Ark., but is now working on a doctor's degree in the field of social adjustment. Dr. Beamer is the author of the textbook, "Successful Adjustments in College."

The First Grades, Mrs. Rachel Stubblefield, Mrs. Omer Ray and Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald, presented skits of what each room had been doing.

The treasurer, Mrs. Opal Gilliam, reported a balance of $777.91.

The kindergarten room won the $5.00 for having 100 per cent on their magazine sales.

The president, Mrs. S. W. Flournoy, reported Haskell had the largest attendance at both Legislative Workshop in Wichita Falls and the Parliamentary Workshop in Olney.

Mrs. Stubblefield's room had the most parents present, 62 per cent.

PARENTS OF SON

A son, James Matthew, weighing seven pounds, was born Sunday, Nov. 14 to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Green, Jr., of Kemmer, Wyoming. Grandparents of the new arrival are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Green, Sr., of Haskell and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lore of Fort Worth.

"Making Democracy Work" was the subject of a talk by Mrs. Norman Nanny to members of the Junior High Parent-Teacher Association Thursday afternoon, Nov. 11, in the Homemaking Cottage.

The speaker pointed out that the average citizen contributes directly to the growth of democracy in one of two ways — by voting and by serving on juries.

On Nov. 2 women secured the privilege of jury service. This is new in Texas, but it was interesting to learn that an all-woman jury served at Appomattox Court-house in Lancaster County as early as 1690. Women also served as jurors in Wyoming Territory in 1870 and until Wyoming was admitted into the Union.

Women are apprehensive about undertaking this new responsibility, but Mrs. Nanny gave several reasons why they can be confident that they will do good jobs as jurors.

She also pointed out that judges do not want eager jurors, but do want willing ones. "Let's approach the new responsibility with humility, and let's be willing to serve," she said in closing her talk.

In a short business session, with the president, Mrs. James E. Ferguson presiding, it was decided that the Junior High P-TA would help sponsor the Walking Blood Bank, to be held in Haskell Dec. 8-9.

Delegates to the Texas Congress of Parent-Teacher Association to be held in Corpus Christi Nov. 17-19 will be Mrs. James E. Ferguson and Mrs. R. W. Herren.

Mrs. Charles Smith announced that the total P-TA membership was 258. Mrs. Woodson's room won the $2.50 for having the most members present.

Mrs. Lynn Pace, Jr., director of the program, introduced School Supt. C. D. Allen, who gave a timely devotional.

Mrs. F. W. Martin led the group in singing patriotic songs.

Mrs. R. W. Herren and Mrs. O. J. Curry presented some of the member of the Junior High Student's Art Club who exhibited some of their work. The Art Club is sponsored by the Progressive Student Club.

HOMEcoming —

had inaugurated and made the first Homecoming possible. Entertainment numbers which drew resounding applause were presented by talented Freddie Middleton in a brilliant impersonation of "Lawdy, Lawdy," with Mrs. Bell as accompanist.

Telegrams were read from a number of Exes expressing regret at being unable to be present, and sending greetings to classmates here for the Homecoming. Messages were from Fannie Jack and Mabel Baldwin of Dallas, R. F. Harrison of Richmond, Va., Fred and Vivian Akins of El Monte, Calif., Lucille Taylor Sherrill of Pittsburgh, Penn., while scores of letters from others were passed among classmates of the writers.

Special Recognition
Fred T. Sanders, prominent retired ginnee, who graduated from Haskell School in 1891, was the earliest graduate present. Also among the early graduates was Miss May Fields of this city, who finished school in 1893. Miss Fields also was one of the earliest teachers, along with Mrs. Ada Rike and Mrs. Ellis Irby, who taught in the Haskell schools in 1904.

Among the earliest students in Haskell attending the Homecoming were Mrs. Om Beavers Frazier, and Mrs. Ada Rike who attended school here in 1897. Both still live in Haskell.

Mrs. Christine Griffin Clark, of Loop, Texas, whose family consists of six children, was recognized as the ex-student with the largest family attending the Homecoming. Mrs. Clark, graduate in the Class of '29, and her husband, were here for the first time in a number of years.

Given an enthusiastic ovation was Irion Pearsey of Haskell, former custodian in the Haskell schools for 35 years, who was the friend and advisor to two generations of students in the local schools. "Ol' Irion" as he is affectionately remembered by Exes, was the first target for returning Homecoming visitors.

Mingling with the Exes were approximately 36 former teachers, who were given special recognition during Friday's meeting. Also a standing tribute was given Miss May Fields and the late Miss Minnie Ellis, a veteran teacher in Haskell schools. More

CARD OF THANKS
Words are inadequate to express our appreciation to the host of friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy extended to us during the dark hours of our bereavement in the loss of our loved one. We are grateful for everything done to help lighten our burden. We are especially appreciative to the doctors and nurses for their tender ministrations. Our prayer is that you may have the same true friends when sorrow enters your home.—The Lemmon Family. 46p than 200 men and women stood when ex-pupils of the two teachers were called for during the program.

Largest Class Represented
Honors for the largest number from a graduating class registering for the Homecoming went to the Class of '41, on a numerical basis.

Percentage-wise, the Class of 1901, with four present out of a class of six graduates, possibly had the largest attendance. Members of this class present were Mrs. Ethel Irby of Haskell, Mrs. Jostany Ellis Irby of Dallas, Alvy R. Couch, Sr. of Abilene, and Mrs. Ophelia James Moorehead of Norman, Okla. Other members of the class were Lela and Stella Nesbitt. Also a student during a part of that year was Ollie Norris, members of the class present recalled.

The class of 1901 also was the first to be given diplomas. Couch recalled. His original diploma was on display during the Homecoming in the windows of Lane-Felker men's store.

A series of class reunions were scheduled following Friday afternoon's meeting, with many others held following the night football game, and on Saturday morning.

Highlight afternoon feature was a chuckwagon supper served on the schoolgrounds from 5 until 6 p. m., when between 900 and 1,000 ex-students and visitors were served.

A pep rally and bonfire was next in order, with Exes from classes at the turn of the century down to the current classes joining enthusiastically for the event.

In speaking to Austin realtors, Director C. T. MacLeod of the FHA's San Antonio headquarters, stated that he hoped the jam could be cleared by January 1.

More than 1,000 applications, seeking new or additional construction, have poured in, he said. The law permits maximum loans ranging from $20,000 to $25,000 for home construction.

Visitors to Palo During Canyon State Park Have Chance to Prospect Uranium

"Palo Duro Canyon State Park is the best spot in the Texas Panhandle to prospect for uranium, and we've made it possible for anyone to take a chance at today's biggest bonanza," Pete Cowart, park manager, says.

He refers to the newly-opened concession to rent Geiger counters. This, he thinks, gives the Panhandle residents an opportunity to experiment with a Geiger counter, have fun, and maybe find uranium without having to travel great distances or invest in expensive equipment.

"Anyone who finds a deposit of ore assaying as much as 20 per cent uranium per pound is eligible for the $10,000 reward given by the Atomic Energy Commission," Cowart says. "Amateurs have as good a chance at the bonus as experienced prospectors."

Is there uranium in Palo Duro Canyon?

"If I knew where there was a deposit of uranium in this canyon, I wouldn't be standing here renting Geiger counters," Cowart answers. "No one knows whether there is uranium in the canyon, and the only way to find out is to test every rock exposure with a Geiger counter."

Cowart says the AEC lists three types of sedimentary rocks as most likely to contain uranium, and all three types are represented in Palo Duro Canyon. The canyon has not yet been thoroughly prospected, either. Only a few visitors have taken Geiger counters into the canyon.

The Geiger counters rented at the park are the simplest, but not the least expensive, made. They record clicks in ear phones, the number of clicks increasing greatly if radioactivity minerals are found. Everyone renting a counter gets a sheet of simple instructions on its use and another page of tips on where to look. It's so easy grade school youngsters enjoy prospecting.

The State of Texas owns minerals under the park, so if anyone finds a deposit of paying ore he will have to negotiate a lease on the area of the park involved, Cowart says.

This is the first time Geiger counters have been rented in a Texas state park. Cowart thinks it is the first time in the nation that the atomic-age devices have been used as a recreational attraction.

Palo Duro Canyon State Park is one of three Texas state parks which charge admission. This is because the state is still paying for land within the park. The state's share of proceeds from the Geiger counter concession will help help to pay the debt.

Social Security Facts Important To Everyone

"In social security as in everything else, little things can sometimes make a big difference," E. Glen McNatt of the Abilene social security office said today.

Little things like showing your social security card to your employer when you first go to work so that he reports your earnings currently, can sometimes mean the difference between receiving or not receiving benefits either for the worker or for his survivors.

Simply checking on your social security account every three or four years can mean the difference between having unreported or incorrectly reported earnings credited to your account and having a blank on your wage record which at the least will mean lower payment to you and your family.

"Attention to these little things takes only a short time," McNatt said. "Take the time and be sure to get your full credit."

Pvt. Douglas Dendy Taking Basic at Fort Bliss

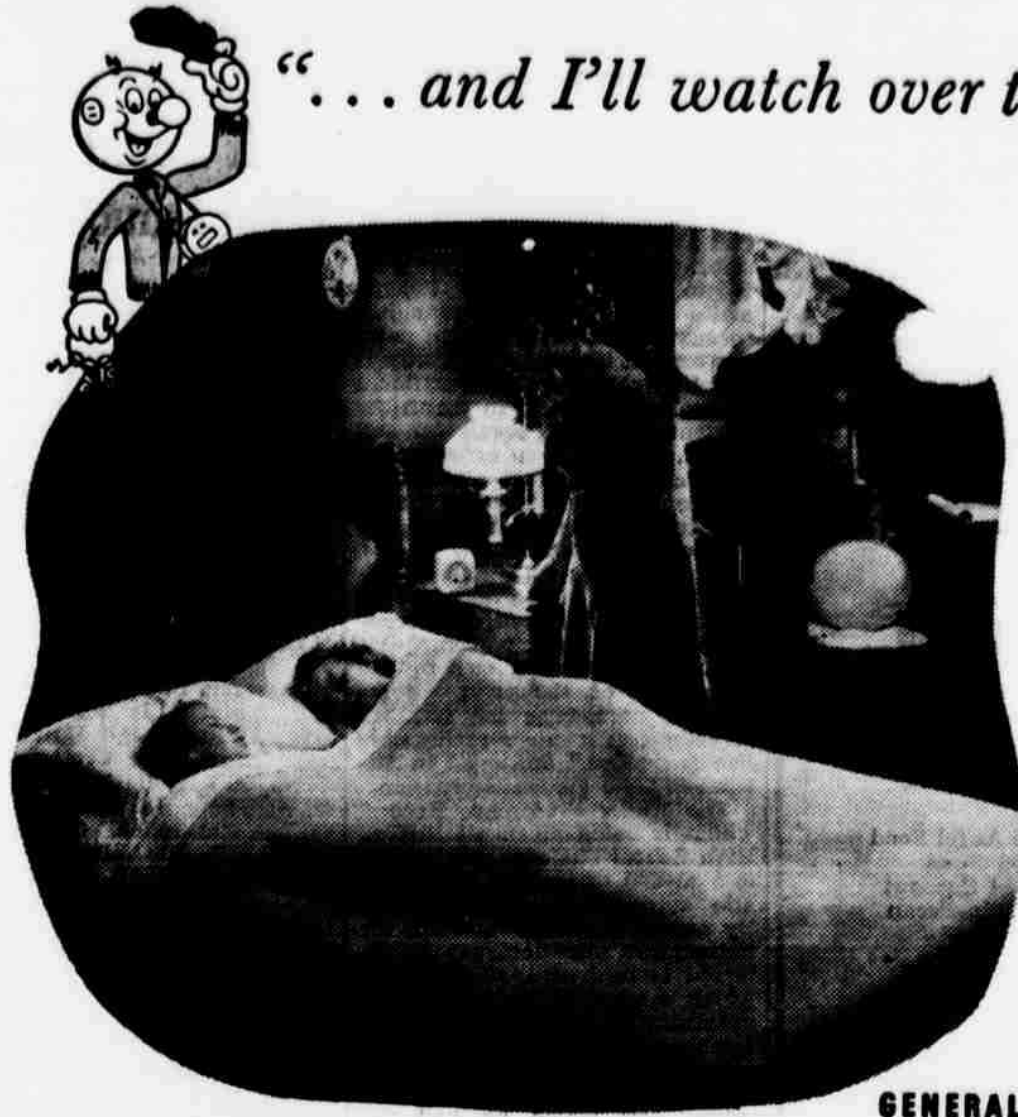

Pvt. Douglas L. Dendy, 19, husband of Barbara T. Dendy, 1602 Woodward, Abilene, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester B. Dendy of Brownwood, recently began eight weeks of Army basic training in the Antiaircraft Artillery Replacement Training Center at Fort Bliss, Texas.

He will spend his first eight weeks of basic military training on fundamental subjects such as rifle, machine gun, bazooka marksmanship and familiarization with Army technical subjects. This first phase of training is climaxed with a one week maneuver in the field.

Managing Small Grains for Winter Grazing

Management plays a big role in the success of small grains and annual clovers for winter grazing.

Don't turn in the livestock until the new plants have at least six inches growth, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist. This allows the development of a hardy root system and plants aren't easily pulled up by grazing.

Rotation grazing offers the most efficient use of forage produced by fast growing small grains and legumes. With a rotation system fields are divided into smaller blocks by portable fences. When the animals are turned in, the plants are grazed down rapidly and evenly, moved to another pasture, and the first plants make new growth, explains Trew. He recommends portable fencing because it is easy to move and inexpensive.

If grazing gets too far ahead of livestock, mow the excess to prevent early booting. If allowed to make too much growth, the specialist says, small grains are more susceptible to winter killing.

Remove animals from grains which later will be harvested before the plants start to "joint." Later grazing will reduce the yields. Winter grazing usually is very succulent' and a should be provided since the diets of First year plants orchard, fescue or grass should not be kept where under on very fertile soil. This delayed grass plants a good chance established.

Occupations often are chosen by people because of some chance influence, rather than as a result of a careful review of the occupational field," Allen pointed out. "Even if the idea of surveying the whole range of occupation occurs to a person, he is likely to be overwhelmed by the immensity of the task. Some way of narrowing the field of investigation to a comprehensible size is needed," he added in announcing the guidance program.

The Kuder Preference Record, which is being given all Haskell High School students this month, is a means of making a systematic approach to this problem. By means of scores obtained, the individual's attention may be directed toward occupational areas which appear to be particularly promising in the light of his preferences. In many cases a person's attention may be called to an occupation for which he is suited, but which he had not previously considered simply because of unfamiliarity.

Weinert Bulldogs Win District Six-Man Title With 46-12 Defeat of Paint Creek

The Weinert Bulldogs won the battle of undefeated six-man football titans Thursday night, downing a game but outmanned band of Paint Creek Pirates, 46-12.

The two teams went into the fray with identical 9-0 season records and 6-0 District 4 slates. A crowd estimated at 1,800 watched the contest.

Weinert's brother combination of Harley and Jimmy Reeves were the big guns in the Bulldog victory. Harley scored four touchdowns and Jimmy added two more and booted two extra points. Bob Sargent scored the other tally on a pass from Bob Jenkins.

Lonnie Hokanson and Jim Shaw accounted for the two Paint Creek markers.

B. F. Cowley, 63, Former Resident, Dies in Tyler

Benjamin Franklin Cowley, 63, a former resident of Haskell, died Friday, Nov. 12 in a Tyler hospital where he had gone only recently for treatment. He had been in failing health for several months.

Mr. Cowley had been making his home with a sister, Mrs. Carrie Moser in Etter, Texas, since the death of his wife in 1952.

Funeral service for Mr. Cowley was held in the Church of Christ in this city Sunday, Nov. 14 at 2:30 p. m. with Minister Payne Hattox of the Munday Church of Christ officiating.

Burial was in Willow Cemetery with Holden Funeral Home in charge of funeral arrangements.

Mr. Cowley was born April 18, 1891 in Collin County, Texas, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Cowley. In December, 1909, he married Miss Una Wigley of Haskell, and they made their home in this section for a number of years. Mrs. Cowley preceded her husband in death two years ago.

Mr. Cowley was a member of the Church of Christ.

In addition to his sister, Mrs. Moser, other immediate survivors include two nephews, R. H. Moser of Dumas, Texas, and B. F. Cowley of Denver, Colo.; and two nieces, Mrs. Betty Major of Cactus, Texas, and Mrs. Troy Sanders of Rochester.

Pallbearers were R. A. Coburn, Robert Bruton, Glenn Merchant, Ira Johnson, Bob Graham, Cecil Corley, Barney Frazier, A. J. Mansker.

Harley Reeves opened scoring for Weinert in the opening quarter, bulging over from the five. Jimmy kicked the extra point to make it 8-0.

Minutes later Harley hit Jimmy for 24 yards and another Bulldog marker. Placement was no good.

In the second Harley scampered 20 yards to build up the lead to 20-0 at the half.

Weinert made it 28-0 before Paint Creek scored. Harley Reeves did the damage on a 22-yard gallop and Jimmy booted the extra point.

Paint Creek got on the scoreboard minutes later when Hokanson took a 30-yard pass from Rudy Raughton. Point was no good.

In the opening of the fourth quarter Jimmy Reeves went eight for another Weinert score and the point was no good. Paint Creek countered with a 15-yard touchdown pass from Raughton to Jim Shaw but the point after failed.

Weinert reserves poured into the game and Bobby Jenkins passed to Sargent for the final marker on a 30-yard aerial.

Raughton was injured in the game and taken to Haskell Hospital Examination revealed no serious injuries and he was dismissed later Thursday night.

Life of Roy Cullen Story of American Opportunity

The rugged individualist is a vanishing breed, but Hugh Roy Cullen—one of the world's wealthiest and most individualistic men—is still going strong at 73. Slightly stooped, but stalwart and broad-shouldered . . . his face rough-hewn, as if carved from a weather-beaten rock . . . Cullen emerged from his soon to be released biography as the most fabulous of all Texas oil titans and one of the greatest philanthropists of our time.

"Hugh Roy Cullen—a Story of American Opportunity," written by Ed Kilman and Theon Wright and to be published by Prentice-Hall on November 29th, traces the career of the "King of the Wildcaters" as he progressed from a typical small town boyhood to a position of uncountable wealth. It recounts his unwavering faith in the future of America and describes the unceasing toil that eventually led to worldwide renown.

For more than 30 years, this tall, leathery Texan has been pumping money out of the earth, in the form of oil, and pouring it forth again in a flood of philanthropy such as the world has rarely seen.

But this wealth didn't come easily, and it didn't come early. Roy quit school at the age of 12 and went to work for $3.00 a week. As a young man—when rustlers in Oklahoma rode off with his mules and horses—he lit out after them instead of yelling for help. In the early—and very uncertain—oil days, when money was to be risked, Roy insisted on assuming the responsibility. When he needed money to expand his operations, his personal integrity was collateral enough for him to borrow huge sums. If a well erupted in flame and fury, he was the first to slog through the blue gumbo and the last to leave the field.

The Cullen creed always called for him to pitch-in-and-perform—not stand-by-and-suggest. He was a doer, not a dreamer. The "Cullen luck" was legend, but Roy really made his own luck. The longest odds couldn't account for the way he struck oil where others—supposedly more experienced—wound up with dry holes or salt water.

Roy's secret was "creekology" (his own system of surface geology)—plus the unswerving courage of his convictions. When all the facts, properly scrutinized and sifted, pointed to a conclusion, Cullen held his course in the face of all opposition. Cullen's self-confidence has paid off to the tune of more millions than he can count.

Cullen now seems to be devoting as much energy to giving it away as he did to getting it. Not long ago he set up four million-dollar funds in two days—an all-time record in altruism in which four hospitals, of four different denominations, benefited to an exactly equal degree. A huge amount went to a Houston college for Negroes, and the man who has been called "The Human Gusher" also fulfilled the needs of a struggling symphony orchestra, an art museum, the YMCA, the Texas Medical Center, the University of Houston, and hundreds of other institutions and individuals. The Cullen Foundation, with $160,000,000 to spend, will spread largesse for many, many years to come.

The man who made it possible once told Norman Vincent Peale that he thought "the crowning glory of God's creation is the human intellect—and He intended for us to use it."

Hugh Roy Cullen has done more than use his head—he's opened his heart.

The largest hail stones ever measured in the USA weighed 1 1-2 pounds, was 17 inches in circumference and almost 5 1-2 inches in diameter.

We bring you
THE 1955 BUICK

New thriller in Style - Power - Performance

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

A BRIGHT NEW FRESHNESS greets your eyes and tells you: Buick's done it again.

You see it in the bold distinction of that gleaming Wide-Screen Grille. You see it in the rakish sweep of the rear-end contours. You see it in the whole fore-and-aft newness of fleet-lined grace that marks Buick the beauty thrill of 1955.

New horsepower — up to 236
You learn more when you get the power story. Up to new peaks go the horsepower of every Buick V8 engine—a walloping 188 hp in the low-price SPECIAL—a mighty 236 hp in the CENTURY, SUPER and ROADMASTER.

And it's new, more responsive, far abler power you can literally feel as you go.

But even bigger Buick news for 1955 is something more than style and power. It's what the "variable pitch propeller" now has done for Dynaflo Drive.*

Up goes performance — and gas mileage too

When you find it necessary to push the pedal to the floor board, you do more than call on the greatest high-compression V8 power in Buick history.

You do what a pilot does when he heads his plane down a runway.

You do in oil what he does in air—you cut down take-off time by using "variable pitch propellers."

In this case, the propeller blades are inside the Dynaflo unit. But they're engineered to swivel or change their "pitch" just like plane propellers—and with the same result: one pitch for getaway, another pitch for gas-saving fuel efficiency.

And what you get in the way of instantaneous safety-surge with absolute smoothness, you can only believe when you feel it.

This you have to try

Of course, we want you to come and see the trend-setting new Buicks—look into the betterments in gasoline mileage that add new thrills to these spectacular cars.

But this year, "seeing" is only the beginning. So—while you join the crowds viewing the new Buicks this week end, make a date to get behind the wheel as soon as you possibly can. We promise you the thrill of the year.

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional on other Buicks.

JOHN KIMBROUGH

John Kimbrough of this city, who sparked Texas A&M to a national championship in 1939, received football's highest honor Saturday at A&M College when he was named to the national Football Hall of Fame.

Homer Norton, coach at A&M when Kimbrough was named All-American fullback in 1939 and 1940, presented a certificate to Kimbrough with the comment:

This certificate bears witness that his name shall be forever honored in the national Football Hall of Fame."

Kimbrough earned the nickname of "Jarrin' Jawn," and the reputation of a man who provided his own interference for his rugged ground game at A&M. He went from A&M to the Air Force during World War II, and now operates a wholesale oil business here in addition to his farming and ranching interests.

Accompanying the Haskell man to College Station Saturday were Mrs. Kimbrough and their two children, a son, John, and daughter, Bobby.

Little Need Roughage Winter

and lots of it—will carry Texas beef through the winter. Consider amount and quality you feed, says U. S. extension animal husbandry specialist. Some form should be fed to livestock at all times. It doesn't necessarily have to be the highest quality, but the higher the feed, the better, Thompson says. Very low in nutrition, he says, should be supplemented with adequate amounts of cottonseed meal each day. Cotton burrs, peanut hulls, corn cobs and rice straw fall into this category.

Thompson cites specific rations based on years of research and study which are recommended for feeding in Texas. Use about four pounds of legume hay with 14 pounds of cottonseed hulls or oat straw for each animal daily. If corn or sorghum silage is available, feed 40 to 50 pounds of either and one pound of cottonseed meal or cake daily. Eighteen pounds of Johnson grass or prairie hay supplemented with one to two pounds of cottonseed meal or cake makes a top-notch ration for dry cows where the hay is available, says Thompson. If Johnson grass or sorghum hays were cut early and did not get rained on, he says producers may get by without any supplement.

A cow nursing a calf will need about 60 pounds of corn or sorghum silage or 20 pounds of Johnson grass hay fed with two pounds of cottonseed meal or cake daily. Less feed is needed to keep cows from losing weight than to put it back after it has been started off. Fleshy animals, the type most easily wintered, may lose 150 to 200 pounds without impairing the production of a calf. Salt and steamed bone meal mineral supplement will complete the winter feed requirement of beef animals and should be fed free-choice, Thompson concludes.
