THE TOILET OF DEATH.

Preparing French Criminals for the Fall of the Gulilotine's Kuife.

Paris Letter.

Toward 4 or 5 o'clock, when verything is realy outside, the varden of the prison, accompanie by several officials, goes to the condemned man's cell and shaking nim by the shoulder amosuces that his demand for pardon has been rejected. As soon as the prisoner has dressed himself he is, if he desires, left slone with the haplain a few minutes; a terware e is led to the tollet room. First his shirt collar is cut away sufficiently to allow the guiltotine knife o fall upon his bare neck then he is fastened with a cord starting from the shoulders and connect ing with another cord that binds the two wrists: a third cord goes it is joined to another cord already passed around the legs.

Thus strapped, the culprit is obliged to march as straight as an I of the head man's side and accom panied by the exicutioer, the chaplain and the other officials. The huge prison doors are thrown open and the first object the condemned man rees is the black trapeziform kusfe, which, contrary to the genral impression. is not concealed from his gaze. The distance from the door to the guillotine is scarce v twenty steps, and as soon as the criminal reaches the swinging board the chaplain quits him, the exicutioner seiz a bim and pushes bim on to the bascule. Paul Paul a click and a thud; the fall of the kuite, the heavy sound of the body tailing into the bran box. The movements are almost simultaneous. The kuife falls. The criminai disappears.

As soon as the ceremony is over the body is placed in a wagon and conveyed to Ivey cemetery, where N. 71 W 112 vrs a m squite bra N. it is buried in the turnip field. When the parents reclaim the body and it is interred in another part of the cemetary no name is ever put upon the headstone, in order for $5. Gailneau then proposed not to excite public coriosity. When the body is not reclaimed the prefect of police au horizes the fackulty of medicine to take charge of 11. Strictly speaking, the corps ought not to be delivered to the taculty until after twenty four nours, this delay being accorded to the family to make its demand. but the custom is to give up the body immedia ely after a simulared burial when the authorities are certain it will not be reclaimed

> During the whole of this lugu brious ceremony the chief execu doner never touches the victim The toilet and all the operation hat require contact with his per son are performed by the sids.
