HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS From Your State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Texas—Texas is moving to clean up its insurance "mess."

A study of reform proposals has been scheduled by the Texas Legislative Council, with a special committee of legislators in charge of the project. Other state agencies will participate.

A. W. Worthy, director of the council, said that Lt. Governor Ben Ramsey has written to all insurance companies operating in Texas, asking for their co-operation in the study.

Sixty insurance companies have failed in Texas since 1939, Worthy said. The council will look at the records of these companies to see why they went bankrupt.

Another aspect of the Council's work will be to examine Texas' insurance laws and recommend changes "to assure a sound and stable insurance industry."

Yarborough's Charges

Ralph W. Yarborough, candidate for governor, charged that there had been "influence peddling" in connection with the insurance situation. Yarborough recommended:

"A complete investigation looking into retainers, bank accounts, expense accounts, income tax returns, and excessive personal expenditures of state government officials connected with insurance law administration in Texas."

Insurance News

Nearly everybody got into the insurance show. These included: Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, who recommended 29 changes in the state insurance laws including state control over insurance company stock sales.

Chairman Garland A. Smith of the insurance commission, who denounced "blatant untruths and half-truths" in a Time Magazine article. Smith said the magazine was joining with jealous big Eastern insurance companies in trying to smear Texas insurance industry.

Good Business

Dr. John R. Stockton of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research says that a trade decline is over and recovery has started.

Business activity rose two per cent from March to April in Texas, Dr. Stockton found, representing "a recovery of approximately half of the decline from January, 1953, and January, 1954."

This finding indicates, Dr. Stockton said, "that the decline in business, which has been under way since the spring of 1953, is approaching an end."

Lots of Roads

A construction program for 1955-56, costing about $211 million, was announced by the state highway commission.

It was the largest program ever approved in Texas.

Involved is the construction of 2,663 miles of roads, but, said commission chairman E. H. Thornton, Jr., "it can only eliminate a minor per cent of the critical deficiencies of the highway system."

About $43 million of the money will go for highways within cities. Thirty of the worst bridges will be repaired or replaced.

Executive Sessions

State executive committees of both the Democratic and Republican parties will meet here June 14 to prepare the July 24 first primary ballot and select sites for the September state conventions.

Republicans will choose a state chairman to succeed Alvin Lane, who resigned. George Sandlin of Austin has been chosen Democratic chairman, replacing Wallace Savage, who resigned to run for Congress.

Park Visitors

Four Million people will visit Texas parks this summer, says Gordon K. Shearer, executive director of the state parks board.

The number will be a record, biggest year heretofore having been 1952, when park visitors numbered 3,803,147. Various improvements have added to the attractiveness of the parks, Shearer said.

"Jokes on Texas" Is New Book By John Randolph

"Texas is more than a state. It is a State of Mind. Floods, droughts, dust storms, lethal varmints, dry fatlands . . . and other challenges have been met and conquered by this state of mind."

With this foreword, John Randolph, author of "Texas Brags," today introduced his new book, "The Jokes on Texas," to the public of Texas.

Contrasting sharply with "Texas Brags," guide book for proud Texans, the collection of stories, jokes and cartoons in "The Jokes on Texas" fondly lampoon the characters and characteristics of Texas.

Proof that Texans can laugh at themselves in equal proportion to their bragging is found in the fact that more of "The Jokes on Texas" material came from within the state than outside of it. Such as the comment by a Texas minister that: "Before the recent drought in Texas ended, Baptists were sprinkling, Methodists were using damp wash cloths, and Presbyterians were giving rain checks."

The continuous success of "Texas Brags," remarkable even to Randolph, is credited to the book's wealth of little-known facts about Texas which, though true, are amazing enough to be held suspect even by the most loyal Texan. "The Jokes on Texas" on the other hand contains little truth, and that by accident. The cartoon situations and jokes themes are hilarious because of the element of truth on which they are based.

The 64 pages of "The Jokes on Texas" include 70 cartoons by top cartoonists, most of whom are Texans. The jokes are from that mysterious telegraphy which is the nerve system of the American sense of humor, and as usual, Randolph shows that the best are Texan!

In 1953, 269,360 pedestrians were injured in U. S. traffic accidents.

O. E. Patterson, Mason Since 1904, Presented Order's 50-Year Emblem

In recognition of more than half century of active membership in the Masonic order, O. E. Patterson, former banker and ex-County Judge, was recently presented the Masonic 50-year emblem in a ceremony held in the Masonic Hall here.

The presentation was made by State Senator George "Cotton" Moffett of Chillicothe, Deputy Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Texas. It was the second 50-year emblem earned by a Haskell Mason, the award having been presented last year to I. V. Marr of this city.

Patterson became a member of the Masonic order May 24, 1904, when he was made a Master Mason in Solomon Lodge, AF&AM, in Taylor, Texas.

He came to Haskell January 1, 1906, to engage in the real estate business, and later transferred his membership in the order to Haskell Lodge No. 682.

During his long career in business, banking, and politics, Patterson also has been active in Masonic work. He has held offices in Haskell Lodge No. 682, the Haskell Chapter, Council, and Commandery. He has been a Shriner, and also has served as District Deputy Grand Master.

ARMY RESERVE UNIT TO GO BY PLANE TO SUMMER CAMP

The 375th Replacement Battalion of Haskell, an Army Reserve Unit made up of Reservists from Haskell and adjoining counties will leave for Camp Chaffee, Ark. August 1 for two weeks training.

Information has been received by Lt. Col. H. K. Henry, the unit commander that the unit will be flown to Camp Chaffee and return. Word was also received that new men assigned to the unit in the near future will attend the unit.

The Reserve Unit meets in the Haskell County Courthouse on the third floor. The training consists of on the job training such as supply, basic drill for new recruits, and many other subjects as they appear on the schedule. Former military service is not required to join the Reserve.

High school boys seventeen with parent's consent may join. Those over 17 do not have to have consent of parents. By joining a reserve army unit and remaining active for three years a boy is completely discharged from the service after two years active duty. The draft will not call him a day earlier by his being in the reserve. Without reserve service if a boy is called into active service he will have six years to remain in the reserve after he is released from active duty.

All necessary papers or joining the reserve can be secured at any meeting of the unit in Haskell. The physical examination is given by a local doctor so that no expense is necessary to the enlistee. Pay is received for the drill nights. It is one days pay plus any longevity the man is entitled to. Promotions are available for all who try.

There are eleven sergeant vacancies and eighteen corporal vacancies in the Haskell Unit. Prior service is not mandatory for any promotion in the reserve but will help.

Stocker Prices Steady Monday At Ft. Worth

By TED GOULDY Fort Worth—Stocker and feeder cattle and calves of good choice quality moved out at Fort Worth Monday at steady prices, and quality and fills considered, some spots were firm to strong. The desirable kinds of steer calves cleared at $20 to $22 readily, with a few to $23. Last week some 327-pound steer calves reached $24 which were consigned by Joy Lina White of McCulloch County.

On Monday some feeder steers of 991 pounds earned at $20. Stocker cows find a rather quiet trade, but most observers agree this is due in large part to the scarcity of good cows in the ring that are made up largely of cut-back, culls and aged cows.

In view of the approaching summer season the good outlet for high grade stockers is considered exceptional by most interests on the market. However, of great importance has been the steady demand for huge quantities of beef over the country.

Mature steers, cows and bulls sold at prices about in line with the low side of last week's close at Fort Worth Monday. Good and choice fed steers and yearlings drew $18 to $23, some $11-lb. Poard County yearlings at $23. Plain to medium grassers drew $12 to $17 with canner yearlings ranged down to $9 or below.

Fat cows drew $10 to $13, a few higher. Canners and cutters brought $6 to $10. Bulls sold at $9 to $14. Good and choice fat calves cleared at $16.50 to $21, a few fancy heavies to the butcher trade at $22. Common to medium butcher calves drew $10 to $15.50 and culls earned $8 to $10.

Hogs picked themselves up off the mat for a 25 to 50 cent advance Monday and a top of $26.50 at Fort Worth. Last week they closed at $26 the lowest levels since March here.

Hogs of less desirable slaughter qualities and less attractive weights sold at $23 to $26.25. S-ws cashed at $18 to $21.

Rhinestones and pearls are scattered across the front of the bodice to add sparkle to this slim, softly rounded dress. Black, blue, brown. Sizes 8-20. To retail about $13.00. Style #7726.

Senator Johnson Helps Get More Funds for REA

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson hailed the action of the Senate in amending on June 2 the House version of the Agriculture appropriations bill to increase the Rural Electrification Administration lending authority by $35,000,000.

Senator Johnson, Democratic Leader in the Senate, rallied his fellow-Democrats in support of the amendment. It was approved by a 42-40 vote, closely following party lines.

The amendment would boost REA's lending authority, starting July 1, to $135,000,000. The President had asked for $55,000,000. The House and Senate committee had approved $100,000,000.

"It seemed to me false economy to appropriate less money for REA than was appropriated last year," Senator Johnson said. "The REA program does not cost the Government any money. The money loaned is being returned at 2 per cent interest. I am proud, as all friends of REA are proud, of the fact that these loans are being paid back ahead of time."

"On every rural electrification co-op of which I have knowledge, the demand for power is growing steadily heavier. This increasing demand means that hundreds of thousands of miles of line must be rewired. Heavier wire and heavier posts and larger transformers must be provided in order to meet the new demand created by the REA program. Money must be made available for loans to finance this necessary work."

being of summer vacationists is a safe and healthful water supply. Contaminated water is the annual cause of much sickness and many fatalities. Water from sources not known to be safe should never be used to supply vacation needs.

Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer, stated this week that most municipal water supplies in Texas are periodically inspected and samples submitted to the State or local public health laboratories for examination. He advised that it is always best, when in doubt, to endeavor to secure water from a municipal supply.

"Families away from home on picnics, excursions, or vacation trips," Dr. Holle said, "should either ascertain that their water supply is safe or they should make it safe for human consumption. Water can be rendered safe by boiling for 15 minutes or by the addition of chlorine. A few drops of ordinary chlorine laundry bleach, can be added to a gallon of clear water and if the water is allowed to stand for 15 minutes it may be used for drinking."

If drinking water is obtained from a private well, Dr. Holle advised vacationists to look for these protective features: a well-site protected from flooding with good drainage, and a concrete platform surrounding the pump. The pump itself should be securely mounted on the platform, should have a rod that enters the top through packing, and should have a turned-down spout. Contaminated water is usually found in wells with open wood platforms, pits underneath the pump, openings where the pump enters the ground and in pumps that require priming to operate.

Clean-Up of Farm Premises Reduce Danger of Fire

Spring clean-up time is of special significance to the farmer, and a campaign substantially to reduce fire losses on the farm.

According to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, such losses are the result of several causes, among them accumulated rubbish and litter, grass and brush. Fires from the latter in 1952 (the last year which there is a complete record), the National Board declared, increased throughout the country 40 per cent, going from 262,168 to 365,000.

In suggesting various steps that should be taken to safeguard lives and property from such hazards, the National Board pointed to other danger spots in the home as well, particularly chimneys and heating and cooking equipment. Those, it said, should be cleaned regularly and kept in good repair.

Grass fires, brush and forest fires are threats to life and property, as well as to valuable natural resources and the land, the National Board pointed out. If rubbish must be burned, follow these precautions:

Use a rake to remove combustible material from a 3-foot strip around the rubbish, or trash to be burned. Have a pail of water or a hose handy. Avoid burning on a windy day. Stay with the fire until it is out.

In burning over a field, plow a firebreak at least six feet wide around the field to be burned. Avoid burning when there are high winds. Set the fire to burn against, rather than with, the wind.

Keep back-pack pumps, swatters or wet burlap sacks handy for fighting these fires when they are small. Try to control the head of it, then back fire along the break you have made or along a road or lane.

Rains Give Chance To Study Water, Soil Conservation

Extensive rains during the recent weeks have given farmers additional opportunity to study methods of soil and water conservation. The more fertile soils with the same texture, as a rule, have better structure. These soils absorb water more freely and store larger amount of water for use during dry periods according to Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the California Creek Soil Conservation District.

Soils with low fertility usually puddle and run together when rains fall. These soils absorb very little water for plants to use. The water rushes to the low places on the surface causing washes of gullies and large lakes of water form on the lower parts of the field.

Diversification or growing of soil building crops with extensive root systems will open the soil, add organic matter and improve the soil structure. Terracing and contour tillage alone do not build up the soil but helps hold fertility already in the soil. In many instances row crops like cotton and maize have already permitted soil depletion.

The California Creek Soil Conservation District program stresses the use of winter legumes such as Austrian peas and hairy vetch. Also such crops as guar and cowpeas are used in cropland for the summer soil building.

Blue panic grass is being grown by farmers cooperating with the Soil Conservation District. Willard Maberry, McCauley, has grazed 15 head of cattle on 15 acres of blue panic grass he seeded in 1953, since April 7. Willie Maberry has seeded 70 acres of blue panic grass.

The 17 acres of buffel grass seeded by Jerry Maberry in the spring of 1953 survived the winter with a fair stand and farmers have a good opportunity to observe this grass on his farm. Buffel grass is said to produce a very high tonnage of roots in the soil along with good top growth in areas where it is adapted.

Water Important For Poultry In Hot Weather

Chickens become extra lazy during hot weather and they, like humans, seek summertime comfort.

A chicken not only wants plenty of cool, fresh drinking water, but it wants it convenient. If a watering fountain, is more than 10 feet away, a bird may go thirsty rather than make the trip, says E. D. Parnell, professor of poultry husbandry at Texas A&M College.

Parnell advises poultrymen to survey their equipment and its placement to make certain it is ample for summer weather. "Water is a cheap item around the farm, but when not provided in sufficient quantity, chickens just don't do well," he says.

Sometimes it is necessary to give medicine in the drinking water. Some drugs do not taste good to the birds and may cause them to go off water. If it affects their drinking habits, better find another way of giving the dose.

The professor sums it up this way. Unless they drink plenty of water this summer, there will be fewer eggs laid or less meat produced.

New Type Poison Found Excellent In Fly Control

Have you noticed how flies seem irresistibly drawn to a string hanging in a barn or other out-building?

Combining this tendency with a new kind of poison, Texas A. & M. College scientist are gaining excellent fly control—even over DDT-resistant strains.

The new poisons are organic phosphorus compounds which kill in much the same manner as DDT, although they are completely different chemically. They gave up to 92 per cent control for as much as seven weeks in recent tests.

Malathion, L-1359, diazinon, 21-199—these are the new compounds. Some have already been approved for general use. Others are being tested.

Using malathion in amounts of five to 25 per cent total weight, in a dried whey and water solution, Assistant Professor Manning Price of the college's Department of Entomology tested the string method in dairy barns. With short lengths of absorbent cotton string hung from a line of carpenter's cord, he planted the traps in handling areas and feed rooms, and obtained results mentioned earlier.

Where children and livestock will not be endangered, and in spots where it might be more effective, the poison is being mixed with a sugar bait and placed in shallow dishes or scattered on floors.

Organic phosphorus compounds attack the nervous system of the fly. They die of convulsions within 10 to 20 minutes. None have shown resistance in tests so far.

Dual Fans OK'd For Cotton Gin Trash Processing

Use of dual fans for continuous processing of cotton gin trash has been approved and is called the most practical method of handling the materials yet tested.

Given the go-ahead by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the two-fan system enables ginners to install equipment which will allow farmers to collect and return gin trash to the soil for organic matter at very nominal cost.

Under current regulations, all waste must be processed by one of the approved methods to kill pink bollworm and other insect life.

According to the USDA, the two fans must be operated in series, have at least six blades and turn at specified revolutions per minute.

Increased organic matter, water holding capacity and moisture penetration are benefits derived from spreading cotton burrs on cropland.

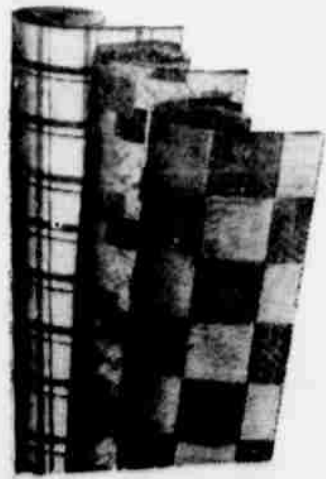

The other processing methods are incineration, composting, sterilization, fumigation, and hammer milling. Roller mills are on a trial basis in some areas.

Clean-Up Can Add Space and Safety To Most Homes

Plenty of storage space! That is a housewife's dream—and no matter how many closets she has or how roomy an attic or cellar, she never seems satisfied. But maybe your home provides more storage space than you think. Spring clean-up time is a good time to find out. Here's how you can do it.

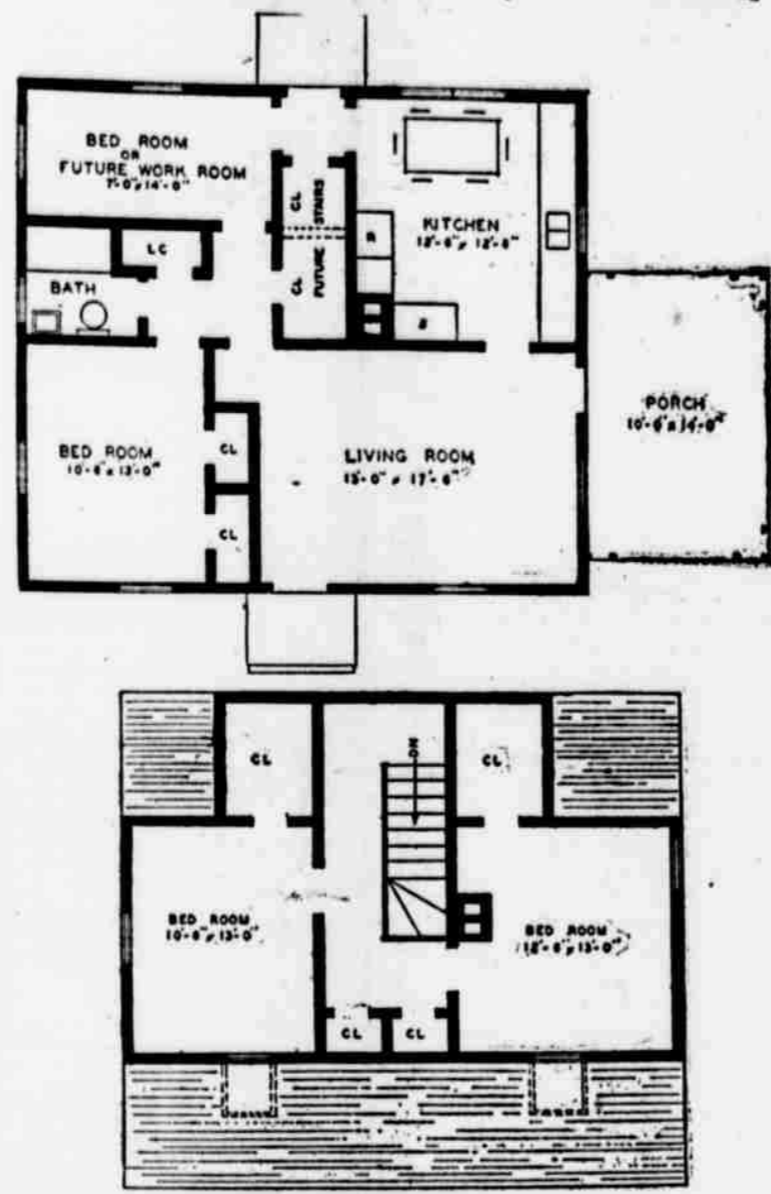

As you clean each room, look for piles of old boxes, hats or shoes that are no longer wearable, broken furniture, magazines and newspapers from bygone years—in other words all useless objects which may have accumulated in closets or corners, attic or cellar. As you come across them, be honest with yourself: if you haven't used them during the past year, you won't use them this year either. Don't continue to hang on to them "just in case"—throw them out.

You will probably be amazed at how full your rubbish barrel will be—and at the extra storage space you've provided for yourself.

Better still, you will also have made your home safer from fire, because according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, combustible rubbish is a serious fire hazard.

No doubt about it, the time it takes you will be time well spent.

Any heat lost through the ceiling of the first floor will help warm the rooms above and the compact arrangement prevents any excessive heat lost through the ceiling of the full or part basement can be very conveniently made under this house. If the basement is used, a gravity flow furnace could be centrally located and the minimum of metal or duct work would be required.

The small bedroom or future kitchen is provided with three windows to make it a light and pleasant place to work. There is a lot of work counter and storage space. The chimney in the kitchen will not only serve for a furnace in the basement but can also serve the kitchen stove or for a space heater which might be placed in the living room.

Workroom on the first floor will make an ideal space for a freezer chest, laundry equipment, or for storage after the two bedrooms on the second floor have been finished.

The porch at the end of the living room will serve as a very comfortable spot on summer evenings and will also make the living area seem larger during warm weather. It can be screened without detracting from the appearance of the house.

New Type Poison Found Excellent In Fly Control

Have you noticed how flies seem irresistibly drawn to a string hanging in a barn or other out-building?

Combining this tendency with a new kind of poison, Texas A. & M. College scientist are gaining excellent fly control—even over DDT—resistant strains.

The new poisons are organic phosphorus compounds which kill in much the same manner as DDT, although they are completely different chemically. They gave up to 92 per cent control for as much as seven weeks in recent tests.

Malathion, L-1359, diazinon, 21-199—these are the new compounds. Some have already been approved for general use. Others are being tested.

Using malathion in amounts of five to 25 per cent total weight, in a dried whey and water solution, Assistant Professor Manning Price of the college's Department of Entomology tested the string method in dairy barns. With short lengths of absorbent cotton string hung from a line of carpenter's cord, he planted the traps in handling areas and feed rooms, and obtained results mentioned earlier.

Where children and livestock will not be endangered, and in spots where it might be more effective, the poison is being mixed with a sugar bait and placed in shallow dishes or scattered on floors.

Organic phosphorus compounds attack the nervous system of the fly. They die of convulsions within 10 to 20 minutes. None have shown resistance in tests so far.

Many Haskell Farmers Planting Blue Panic Grass to Condition Cropland

As the fertility of the cropland declines, many farmers in the Haskell area are turning to crops which make better use of the natural fertility of the land. One of the better crops for this purpose is grass. Some of the benefits to the soil derived from growing grass is that it conditions the soil by increasing water intake, providing better aeration of the soil, breaking up plow pans, and adding organic matter. This conditioning also prevents surface crusting.

There are several grasses which are adapted to this area, but the one which has shown the best results without irrigation is blue panic. Blue panic should be planted in rows on a clean, flat, well prepared seedbed. It should be dry planted at a depth of about one-half inch. Some cultivation to control weeds is necessary.

Since blue panic seed are very small and one pound per acre is enough to plant, special equipment is needed for planting. The Soil Conservation District has two-row planters available to farmers who wish to plant blue panic. There is a fee of 25 cents per acre for the use of these planters. They may be obtained from the Vocational Agriculture teachers at Rule and Haskell and district supervisor, Bruno Kupatt at Sagerton.

Some of the farmers who have planted or intend to plant blue panic are W. W. Farrell, Alfred Turnbow, J. J. Dean, Felix Josselet, Oscar Rueffer, Tom Davis, E. H. Burnett, Joe B. Cloud, T. L. Ballard, Cliff LeFevre, Elmer Penick, Wallace Allison, T. B. McMeans, Alfon Pieser, J. L. Cameron, O. E. Gilleland, A. J. Josselet, Clay Smith, R. O. Henry, Leroy Casey, Lynn Pace Sr., John L. Reid, Delma Williams and T. N. Kevil.

Seed may be obtained from Market Poultry & Egg Co. in Haskell, from Don Davis Farm Store in Rule, or from farmers who have harvested seed last year. Last year's planting furnished excellent grazing until frost and has put out from the crowns and is already being grazed this year. Now is a good time to plant this grass, but it may be planted from now until July.

Few Snake Bites Result Fatally; Aid Tips Listed

AUSTIN—A warning about the dangers of snake bite has just been issued by Dr. Henry A. Hollie, State Health Officer. A number of cases of snake bite are reported each year in Texas during the summer and early fall; however, few of these result fatally. Most of the bites occur on the hands or feet, which indicates that stepping or falling in the immediate vicinity of an unseen snake or picking up objects under similar conditions are the hazards of contracting snake bite. The pain following the injection of the poison is most intense. Other symptoms are swelling, giddiness, difficult breathing, hemorrhage, weak pulse, and vomiting.

If one is unfortunate enough to be bitten by a poisonous snake, such as the rattlesnake, the following first aid measures should be carried out:

After making proper incisions at the site of the wound, apply suction and continue for at least half hour.

Apply a tourniquet above site of wound, releasing same every ten or fifteen minutes for about 5 minutes at a time.

If proper anti-venom is available, apply it according to directions, but most important of all is to remove as much of the poison as is possible so as to prevent its absorption.

Secure the services of a physician at the earliest possible moment.

Cutting Horse Contest Slated At Henrietta

Traffic Accidents
 In Area Up 22
 Per Cent Over '53

Your chances of dying in an automobile accident in the Abilene area were 22 per cent greater in the first 4 months of this year than during the same period in 1953.

By the same token the possibility that you might be involved in an accident was 72 per cent greater.

Figures compiled by the Abilene District of the Texas Highway Patrol show that 29 persons have died this year in highway accidents. January through April of 1953 only 13 persons were killed. This is an increase of over 222 per cent.

Highway Patrolmen of this district have investigated 349 accidents this year. This is 72 per cent more than the 203 reported by this time in 1953.

Total property damage has also increased, but not in proportion to the death and total accident rate. Property damage this year has been $204,534.50 as compared to $194,844 at this time last year.

Captain C. L. Morahan, officer in charge of the Abilene THP district cites speeding and driving while drinking as primary causes of the accidents.

He cites arrests made by the 20 patrolmen during April support his contention. The patrolmen made 348 hazardous and 92 non-hazardous arrests last month. (Hazardous arrests are moving traffic violations.)

Speeding accounted for 218 of the 348 hazardous arrests, defective light 28, running stop signs 22, and driving while intoxicated 17, he said.

In addition the patrolmen gave 1,113 warnings last month. Of that number, 375 were for speeding, 380 for defective lights, and 112 for stop sign violations.

The patrolmen also worked 87 accidents in the district last month. In four of these there were five fatalities, 41 persons were injured in 28 accidents, and in the remaining 55 there was property damage.

An alarming figure, Captain Morahan said, is that of the 87 accidents only one car was involved in 34 of them.

The Texas Forest Service has available more than 2,000,000 pine seedlings and landowners in the pine growing areas of the state may secure order forms from county agents, soil conservation service district officers or from the Forest Service. It's planting time now.

Texas Voters will Ballot on Eleven Changes of Constitution in November

Texas, which has amended its Constitution 110 times since 1887, votes on 11 more changes in November. Increased welfare spending will head the list.

The amendment to boost the ceiling on state spending from 35 to 42 million dollars per year would mean generally bigger old-age pensions and more money for the needy blind and needy children.

The order in which the 11 amendments will appear on the Nov. 2 ballot will be determined at a drawing in the office of Secretary of State C. E. Fulgham in Austin.

The other amendments line up as follows:

1. Allow transfer of prior service credits in the state employees' and teachers' retirement funds.
2. Allow certain city employees to qualify for social security benefits.
3. Allow use of money in the Confederate pension fund to build two new state office buildings in Austin, a memorial to Texas Confederate soldiers and grave markers for soldiers who fought in the Texas War of Independence. Only the surplus of 6 million dollars could be used.
4. Raise the pay of legislators to $25 for the first 120 days of the session and drop it to nothing thereafter.
5. Prohibit pledging the state's credit to support toll roads.
6. Require jury service for women.
7. Allow 4-year terms for precinct, county and district elective officers who now have two-year terms.
8. Allow joint city-county hospital operations in Harris, Dallas, Bexar, Tarrant, Galveston, El Paso or Jefferson Counties.
9. Allow military personnel from Texas to vote if they had established residence in Texas a year before entering service.

11. Allow counties of 10,000 population or less to vote on whether they want a tax assessor-collector.

West Texas Tops
 Other State Areas
 In Retail Sales

The region served by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, with 30 per cent of the state's population, accounted for 34 per cent of the state's retail sales last year and had 34 per cent of the effective buying income in Texas, according to a tabulation made by the regional chamber.

These figures were computed from estimates published in the recently released "Annual Survey of Buying Power" of Sales Management Magazine.

Population of the West Texas region was estimated at 2,670,300. Retail sales were listed as $3,062,46,000 and effective buying income as $4,267,622,000.

By LYNDON JOHNSON

COMMUNIST PATTERN: It seems clear that the communist aggression in Indo-China and the shipment of Iron Curtain arms to Guatemala are pieces of a pattern—a pattern designed to keep the United States off balance in the months ahead.

More pieces of this sinister pattern will be revealed as the communists unravel the web they have spun. We have got to keep an alert eye on their "soft spots" in the world.

COURSE OF ACTION: Obviously, we cannot police the whole world. American soldiers cannot act as fire brigades to stamp out flames spurring up in isolated corners of the globe.

That would be a fruitless undertaking. It would exhaust both our economic strength and our manpower.

We have to pick and choose. We must select the ground upon which we will stand—and know clearly just who will stand with us.

We do not want to abandon any unwilling people to communist tyranny—nor should we. We do not want to break relations with countries that are our friends and allies—nor should we. Nevertheless, we must take a long, cool look at the realities of the world today.

HARD TASK: Our foreign policy is a complicated network of alliances, pacts and understandings which have been put together in the last few years. Some parts of that network have worked well. Some parts have been severely strained. Some may have failed altogether.

We must examine this network and determine the strengths and the weaknesses. Perhaps some parts should be propped up. Perhaps others should be abandoned altogether.

It is not a job to be accomplished in a day or a week. It is a hard, plugging task that will take time—even though we cannot afford too much time.

But it must be done. And the first step in doing it must be the promotion of national unity.

The times call for a bipartisan review—in a nonpartisan spirit—of our whole foreign policy.

REASON TOGETHER: We need to recall and act upon the Biblical injunction from Isaiah: "Come now and let us reason together."

As Americans we have our duty. Regardless of what, I am convinced, that I am convinced practically all Americans hold one objective in common.

That is peace and freedom for our country.

It is not an abstract objective. It means an opportunity to plan for the future. It means security for our children. It means liberty in thought and in deed for our posterity.

Most Americans, I am confident, want these things for themselves. I believe they also want them for their fellow-Americans.

We can attain them by uniting in mutual confidence and trust—in holding to a steadfast determination that the lamp of freedom shall ever burn brightly on this earth.

TEXAS TIN SMELTER: The Senate acted favorably on my two resolutions, expressing the sense of Congress that the Texas City tin smelter should remain in operation at least until June 30, 1965, and directing a congressional inquiry into the whole question of a domestic tin-smelting industry.

Texas has a double interest in the matter. First, the tin smelter is an important economic asset to the area in which it is located. Second—and more important—its continued operation is a potent force for the defense of our Nation against Communist aggression.

Some 65 per cent of the free world's tin comes from Southeast Asia. We cannot depend with confidence upon the source of supply. If we are cut off from Southeast Asia, we could turn to only one place for tin. That is the South American country of Bolivia.

Only one installation in the Western Hemisphere is capable of handling the low grade tin ores from Bolivia. That is the smelter at Texas City. Its continued operation is vitally important in the maintenance of the security of the United States against any possible enemy.

SOCIAL SECURITY: In revising the Social Security program, certainly do not favor extending coverage on a compulsory basis to members of the medical profession.

The doctors have made it clear that they do not want to come into this program. They feel that the self-employed physician is capable of providing voluntarily for his old age. Another consideration is that the average self-employed physician does not retire until the age of 64 years.

As one Texas doctor wrote me, compulsory inclusion of this professional group in the Social Security program "would be to the detriment of all doctors who have worked day and night for long years to establish a livable retirement fund of their own."

MILO MAIZE: Producers of milo maize in South Texas face a serious storage problem. Out-of-State wheat, under Government loan, is using most of the existing storage facilities in Corpus Christi and the surrounding area.

The result is that the milo maize producers have no place to warehouse their bumper crop. They are faced with the necessity of having to sell on the current market, which would cause them serious loss.

I am doing everything I can to get the Agriculture Department to move out the wheat—most of it from Oklahoma—so that our own farmers will not be penalized in this fashion.

Haskell County
In Area 3 for
TB Survey

Wichita Falls has been chosen as headquarters in this section for a survey of tuberculosis now under way throughout Texas.

The study, called "Searchlight on TB," was initiated by the Texas Tuberculosis Association and is sponsored by 14 other agencies directly concerned with some phase of the disease which is labeled "Texas No. 1 health problem."

Mrs. Joella Terrill Butler of Wichita Falls, president of the state TB organization, has said that the study is designed to give the state its first clear picture of the disease and conditions which contribute to its incidence.

A schedule of information on patients and treatment facilities will be gathered from every county in the state, Mrs. Butler said. To facilitate this, Texas has been divided into 22 geographical areas. Haskell County and adjacent ones all in Area 3, with Wichita Falls as the headquarters.

Mrs. W. R. Shirk of Wichita Falls, chairman for Area 3, has called a meeting of representatives from each of the 12 counties for 1:30 p. m., Tuesday, June 29, at the Wichita General Hospital Assembly room in Wichita Falls.

The Wichita County Tuberculosis Association will assist Mrs. Shirk in distributing materials for the paper work called for in the survey and in acquainting the representatives with sources of information pertaining to their own counties.
