Realignment. The Super Bowl. The National Football League. The American Football League. Mix the league? Leave them alone as they are? Do away with the Super Bowl?

In 1966 the warring major professional football leagues finally decided to end the madness that would have surely ruined professional football. They merged into one big business and adopted the common player draft, which ended to a large degree, the ridiculous money war over players. With the two separate drafts, the leagues had to battle with dollars (many times much more than feasible) to obtain players who often times had not so super abilities.

But the financial end of this situation is not what I want to discuss. What does the pro merger mean to the football fans?

When the American League was formed in 1960, people practically laughed out loud that anyone would have the nerve to try to throw an infant such as this at the public to compete with the long standing and tradition rich N.F.L. But their local fans soon began to appreciate their young ball clubs, and they were fortunate enough to get television coverage immediately after the league was formed. Interest grew and so did the league. In 1965 Joe Namath of the University of Alabama hit the scene, gimpy knees and all (and no Fu-Manchu mustache). Namath was the biggest name player to sign with an AFL team up to that point. He was the AFL's first Super Star. His presence was felt around the league, and other top collegiate players really began signing with the AFL and liking it. The big bonus that Namath received set off the spending boom that eventually ended in the merger.

With the merger came the common draft of players as mentioned earlier. With the merger came the probability of realignment in 1970 of the two entities. But also with the merger came the Super Bowl. The rivalry between the two leagues and all the big talk from both sides could finally be decided at the end of each year with U — U CELEBRATES GRAND OPENING — Located on Old Highway 80 in West Baird, the U — U Steak House recently completed, is owned and operated by Claxton "Rabbit" Jones. The new restaurant is open from 6 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily, seven days a week, and has scheduled its Grand Opening for Saturday, March 22.

GRAND OPENING FOR U-U TO BE SATURDAY, MARCH 22

Grand Opening for the U — U (U bar U) Steak House is slated for Saturday, March 22. The new restaurant, owned and operated by "Rabbit" Jones, opened last Thursday.

The ranch style Steak House is named for a cattle brand used in Callahan County for the past 150 years. The U — U was first used by Mrs. Jones' grandfather, Steve Beasley, in Comanche County before moving here, and it's use was continued through the years by the family.

Used by Mr. and Mrs. Jones for the past 32 years, the U — U brand was cut down to a U in later years because excessive burning of the large brand caused docking on the price of the hide when the cattle were sold.

Open from 6 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily, the U — U offers customers a variety of foods as well as char-broiled steaks. It also has a dining room which can be closed off with folding doors, providing a place for private parties, club meetings, banquets, etc.

Jones states that he is proud of the new restaurant and appreciates the opportunity to serve the people in this area. He extends an invitation to all to take part in the Grand Opening festivities, which will include touring the new establishment and coffee and donuts on the house.

Oplin Observations

By Daphne Floyd

The best news of the week is the rain that fell over the weekend. Yep, about an inch and a half, approximately.

Mrs. Albert Betcher Jr. was hostess for a tea at her home last Thursday afternoon, from 2 to 5 p. m. The tea was to complement Mrs. Mattie Armour of Harlingen and Mrs. Alice Williams of Plainview. Each of the ladies will be remembered as Mattie and Alice Correll, and are former residents of Oplin.

Throughout the afternoon, friends were reminiscing of the years gone by, you know "the good old days." The hostess served refreshments of cookies with punch or coffee to her guests, the honorees, and Mmes.

NO CHURCH PAST SUNDAY, PASTOR SNOWBOUND

Hi neighbor! This misty rainy Sunday we had no church today as our pastor and family were snow-bound in Seagraves.
 We did not have Sunday School either. It doesn't seem like Sunday without going to Sunday School and church. However, I listened to Bro. Defore preach in Abilene. He brought a very good message and the singing was real good. So I don't feel so badly while I was listening and seeing the preacher on TV. I thought of all the sick and shut-ins that never get to go to church and hear and be in person with the people, and I think what a blessing TV is to them. But that is not like being in church services.

We are having, and have had most all week, misty, foggy weather. Friday night we had a good rain - about two inches.
 Some had more, some less, still misty and foggy this afternoon and our telephones are all out on the line I am on, so when you can't call and talk to anyone you feel shut out from everything.

A bridal shower for Miss Sue Wagley Stroud was given in the home of Veda Yarbrough Friday evening, March 14. Several came even though the weather was so bad it kept several from coming. Thank all you who did come and those who sent gifts. So sorry it was so bad weather.

Rebra Francisco and I visited a while last Tuesday morning with Fay and Emmett Wood in Cisco.

Roma McIntyre visited a while with me after school last Thursday. We went down to see the Travis Chapmans Tuesday evening and found Nancy sick with the flu. Had not been able to go to work in several days, but was feeling better. Said she thought she would go to work Wednesday. They all had a bout with the bug.

I was very sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Charles Tandy in Dallas. She was the former Lefa Thame, daughter of Mrs. Gladys Thame and the late Mr. Thame. Lefa was undergone a gall bladder operation. She married Dr. Charles Tandy several years back and they had one son, about 12 or maybe older. Lefa passed away Saturday about noon in a Dallas hospital. Their home is in Dallas. Our deepest sympathy to her mother and family.

Burette Ramsey and I attended singing at Scranton last Sunday afternoon. Really enjoyed it there. Was a big crowd there and lots of people who sang. We always like to go back to Scranton, as we lived there when we were growing up. We have a very warm spot in our heart for Scranton and the people we knew when we were there.

Ollie Burnam is still in Midland. Haven't heard how Mary is in a few days. She was doing pretty well when I heard last.
 Hope Ollie gets to come home soon, kinda lonesome out here without her.

Beta Sima Phi Meets In Windham Home

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority held on Open Meeting for the new rushees Thursday night, March 13, in the home of Mrs. Frank Windham Sr. A very interesting program on "Pictures" was presented by Miss Ruth Fowler, a student at Putnam High School.

The social hour was hosted by the social committee. Members present were Mmes. Mike Bell, Ray Black, Don Davis,
 Bess Driskill, Jon Hardwick,
 James Herring, Tommy Holland, James Isenhower, Kenneth Robins, James Paul Shanks, Bill Skinner, Frank Windham Sr., Mike Young, Jerry Broom, Jon Tate and one rushee, Mrs. Johnny Higgins.

Society securities beneficiaries who earned over $1680.00 in 1968 and don't get their reports filed with social security by April 15, 1969, face some penalty actions against their 1969 checks.

TRUE OR FALSE?

"If a man keeps the ten commandments, he will be saved." Is this true or false in the light of what the Bible teaches?

If one could be saved by keeping the ten commandments, then Christ died in vain. He died for our sins. 1 Cor. 15:3. One could keep the ten commandments without ever knowing anything about Jesus Christ. But the Bible tells us that God sent His Son to be the Savior of the world. 1 John 4:14.

The ten commandments were a part of the law given by Moses. John 1:17. We are not to hear Moses, but Christ. Matt. 17:5. God speaks to us through His Son, Heb. 1:12. His Son says, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved. He that believeth not shall be damned." Mark 16:16. One must keep the words of Christ in order to be saved. John 14:23.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

Once upon a time there was a computer. This computer worked for the IRS. When this computer first started working for the IRS all of the taxpayers had to go find their Social Security numbers and give them to the computer so the computer could identify them. Unfortunately not all of the taxpayers got their numbers right. Some of them mixed up their Social Security number. During the first year the computer sent thousands of notices to taxpayers saying "I don't know you."

The good tax folks asked taxpayers to be good taxpayers and be sure to give the computer their correct Social Security number. To tell the computer who they are. Now, only a very few taxpayers mix up their Social Security number. This makes the computer happy because the computer wants to know who everyone is, so the computer can give every taxpayer all of his tax credit and won't send him somebody else's tax bill.

THE BAIRD STAR

AUSTIN — Texas lawmakers are nearing the halfway mark of the 61st legislative session and the pace is beginning to quicken visibly.

More than 1,200 House bills and some 700 Senate bills (plus nearly 100 proposed constitutional amendments) were filed by Friday, the deadline for free-introduction of bills. A four-fifths majority now is required.

Although floor sessions are brief, a lot of legislation is getting passed - 63 bills last week alone, including some of the session's major business.

And the lights burn bright at the state capitol after midnight for some committees which schedule hearings on as many as a dozen bills at a time. Other committee meetings begin as early as 9 a. m. and last until floor action starts in the House and Senate.

So far, the Senate has reversed its usual form. It is cranking out general bills far faster than the House, where the representatives are pursuing a more methodical, look-'em-over carefully procedure.

Last week, for example, the Senate banged through 34 bills on its regular calendars, some so fast there was no time allowed for explanation, let alone debate. Across the rotunda, the House passed only 13 measures on major calendars, but representatives reduced the gap considerably by cranking through 16 local bills at a single, hour-long sitting. Gov. Preston Smith signed six more into law.

One thing for sure, as the second lap of an historic legislative session begins, things will get a lot faster and a lot more hectic before early June when adjournment is scheduled.

MAJOR BILLS MOVING — Legislature has completed action on, and handed the governor, a tough new measure providing fines up to $200 and jail terms up to six months for disruptive activity on college campuses. Bill won't take effect until the start of the new school year.

Senate passed key bills to put sharp teeth in air and water pollution controls, require breath tests of suspected drunk drivers, require public agencies to give three days notice of their official meetings and provide tougher controls over teenage drinking.

Other Senate bills would authorize payment of up to $5,000 for moving homes and businesses displaced in highway right of way condemnation proceedings, remove the $8,400 salary ceiling on which teachers contribute to retirement, establish a temporary Governor's Human Relations Committee, set up a new commission to regulate credit unions and request the U. S. Congress to ease restrictions on cable television.

Both houses have passed their own version of bills to permit schools to teach in a foreign language those students who have difficulty with English in elementary grades, to lower from two years to one year the minimum time between elections to adopt or abolish city sales taxes and to close some public roads on state-owned land held for use of the Texas Department of Corrections.

House approved creation of a new Texas Technological College of Medicine at Lubbock and voted to strike down immunity of government units from lawsuits for damages. Representatives gave strong support to a bill to give the Legislature the right to set Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day and Veterans Day holidays on Mondays to conform to the federal holidays.

Another House bill sent to the Senate would permit the state's 14 courts of civil appeals to issue writs of habeas corpus in domestic-relations cases.

Senate has adopted an amended version of a House bill to permit a statewide cooperative network of local libraries. Governor Smith now has the bill.

BILLS RUNNETH OVER — Several education bills have been filed in the last few days. Rep. Guy Floyd of San Antonio wants the Attorney General's office to assist school districts threatened with the loss of Federal funds.

Rep. David Evans of San Antonio wants the state to contribute as much money to private school students as it does to public school students through the minimum Foundation School Program.

Rep. Jim Nugent filed a bill to prohibit the Legislature from enacting an individual state income tax.

Rep. Carlos Traun of Corpus Christi has a constitutional amendment to remove the ceiling on welfare payments.

Rep. Neal Solomon of Mount Vernon has a bill to allow the agriculture commissioner to prohibit the sale of any milk not meeting agriculture department standards.

Rep. David Allred of Wichita Falls introduced a one bill package prohibiting racing a car motor, sudden stops or starts, unnecessary horn blowing, contesting speed, fighting, indecent language, throwing things, littering, loitering or intoxication on shopping center parking lots.

TAX TIME — House Speaker Gus Mutscher has been talking with legislators to see what sort of tax program they will support to pay for the new programs which they may pass. Governor Smith's tax program was introduced by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas. It also puts a $810 "superfine" on all who violate the traffic laws where motion is involved.

COMMITTEES AT WORK — House State Affairs Committee

got into the basic philosophies of rural life and business economics while considering a bill by Rep. Neal Solomon of Mt. Vernon. It would require telephone companies to maintain an office in every county seat they serve. Bill was sent to a subcommittee for further study. Rep. Jack Blanton of Carrollton chairs the committee.

Senate State Affairs Committee acted favorably on Sen. Tom Cheighton's bill to cut the time period between local elections on the optional City Sales tax from two years to one. It has gone to the Senate floor.

Also reported favorably by the Senate committee and tentatively approved by the Senate, was creation of a temporary Governor's Committee on Human Relations. It was sponsored by a triumvirate of liberal senators. Sponsors, however, lacked the endorsement of Sen. Joe Bernal of San Antonio - a leading liberal. He introduced a measure calling for a permanent state organization on human relations.

Texas physicians who specialize in organ transplants teamed up to testify for two bills by Rep. Jack Ogg of Houston before a House Public Health Committee. Drs. Denton A. Cooley, Michael Debakey and Robert Bloodwell spoke for an organ gift act which would allow donors or their next of kin to give parts of the body and another bill that would give the county medical examiner a chance to examine the organs prior to transplantation. Measures were sent to a subcommittee.

Drug bills are plentiful at committee meetings. Senate Jurisprudence Committee delayed for two more weeks Sen. Charles Herring's bill to set a mandatory five-year sentence for anyone over 21 giving narcotics to a minor.

House Public Education Committee sent to subcommittee a controversial bill that would require Texas school districts to adopt "continuing contracts" for their teachers. It would not allow dismissal except for specific circumstances.

A-G OPINIONS — A bill which proposes to change the boundaries of two of the 31 state senatorial districts would be a general law and on the effective date would require election of an entire new senate, says Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin. However, Martin said the measure would be repealed by the reapportionment required after the 1970 census, or by legislative redistricting board apportionment.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

A bill changing powers and qualifications of the Red River Authority directors is constitutional, as is another measure which would give the Galveston City Council the right to recommend three of seven Galveston County Water Authority directors who are city residents.

Texas Water Development Board could not transfer water from East Texas basins to other basins and thus circumvent a 50-year protection clause in the state constitution because of the addition of words "or any other beneficial use" legislation regulating acquisition and development of massive water shortage facilities over the state.

Austin Urban Renewal Agency preliminary loan rates guaranteed by the Federal government, are authorized collateral to secure deposit of state funds.

SHORT SNORTS — April 15 is the deadline for required motor vehicle inspections, says Col. Wilson E. Speir, Department of Public Safety director.

Texas Memorial Museum has loaned to the Institute of Texan Cultures in San Antonio, a pair of Irish flintlock pistols used around the year 1830.

Texas motor vehicle deaths reached an all-time high of 3,461 in 1968, an increase of three percent over 1967. DPS reports.

COTTONWOOD MUSICAL FRIDAY NIGHT

The Cottonwood Musical will be Friday, March 21 at 7:30 p. m.

Entertainers for the evening include The Yodeling Teacher of Cross Plains, the Singing Lynns of Bangs, Mrs. Alva's guitar group of Coleman, J. C. Hounshell, fiddler of Abilene, and others, plus our own Roma Gamble, Bill and Barbara Skinner and Pat Sadler.

The public is invited and there is no admission charge.

You get a little over $4.00 for every $3.00 you invest.

And that's nothing to sneeze at.

Some people have misconceptions about Savings Bonds.

They think they're a nice, safe investment but they don't really give much in the way of returns.

Look at it this way. U.S. Savings Bonds now pay 4 1/4% interest when held to maturity — a little over $4.00 back for every $3.00 you invest, in just seven years.

On top of that, the interest is exempt from state or local income tax, and Federal tax may be deferred until you cash the Bonds. That can make a real difference in what you actually get back on your investment.

Also, buying Series E Bonds lets you purchase higher interest Freedom Shares in combination — and they pay a full 5% when held to maturity of four and one-half years.

Any way you look at it, Savings Bonds are a good investment.

And you know something?

They always will be.

REMEMBER... He's Only A Boy!

(Editor's Note - This article written by Jay Searcy of the Prattville, Ala., Progress, has been printed in several newspapers throughout the South, most recently appearing in the Mid Cities News. It was sent to us by a former resident and baseball fan and presents some timely thoughts as a new season approaches).

Organized baseball for boys has grown so fast it's hard to find a sandlot game anymore. I'm talking about a game of choose-up sides and play until mama calls baseball, where the only fence is barbed wire or a hedgerow and bases are boards or rocks or cow chips. You don't see much of that anymore, but I'm not knocking that.

And, I'm not knocking the spirit of the Knothole Gang or Dixie Youth or these daddies who volunteer their afternoons and nights so that these kids can have a coach. There's nothing wrong with that.

But the first loud-mouth parent who yells "Dope!" at a kid for getting caught off base ought to be sent home for the season. The first coach who storms out on the field spewing criticism at a boy who threw to the wrong base ought to be replaced - fired on the spot in front of the same crowd that heard the insults. And the first spectator who openly questions a coach's decision ought to be dangled from the flagpole by his tongue.

I'm a psychologist, but I think a certain rule of thumb of boy-handling can be made. Give a boy a sense of fitness, of belonging and impress him with the responsibilities that go along with that belonging and let him play his game for fun.

You've done a lot for the kids. You've put handsome uniforms on them, put them in lighted parks with fences and bases and umpires, but don't forget that this was your idea, not the kids.

And don't forget that there are millions of good kids in jeans who could have a lot of sandlot baseball fun without you. I'm talking about games of choose-up sides and play until mama calls baseball.

Maybe I didn't learn as much playing that kind of ball, but I don't remember ever leaving the lineup crying. I don't remember hearing an adult yell "Dope" when I was caught off my base and I don't remember my legs shaking at home plate. What I'm saying is that these kids are not athletes. They are little boys. They are giggling, running, tree-climbing, uncoordinated boys with cast-iron stomachs and the ability to sleep standing up and they want to play a game and have some fun.

Oh, they care. They care a lot - so much in fact, they feel it in their throats, taste it in their mouths, hear it thudding in the pulses of their blood. And they don't need you to spoil that feeling. The fact that they don't always catch the ball or make the right move isn't important. Not at age nine or age ten or age 11, it isn't. They are not athletes, not yet they aren't, and most of them won't ever be. You'd better accept this.

For most of the kids this will be their only venture into organized baseball and they can't play any better than they can play or they'd do it. And the coach or fan or parent who embarrasses one boy ought to have to face Bob Gibson in front of 50,000 fans at Busch Stadium.

Winning is important, and don't lose sight of that, but one-half so important in retrospect as all the side-bar fun and the little incidents that make it fun. The real success of a coach should be measured by how much he can smile, how many encouraging words he can give a boy when he's confused or rattled.

I have seen a little boy jerked out of the infield and scolded all the way to the bench by a red-faced, gravel-voiced coach who loudly warned, "Don't you ever let me catch you holding the ball again."

The kid was no more than 10 or 11 and he was crying. This was a baseball game for little boys, on a real diamond, with painted fences and real umpires and it was supposed to be for fun and the kid was crying.

I know a kid who dreaded to go to bat because his legs shook and his throat would go dry with the fear that he might swing at a bad pitch or strike out. It was a fear of those experts in the stands who analyze every boy's weakness for the benefit of anyone who happened to be blind that day.

A kid dreads going to bat, and this is supposed to be fun.

Motorists Reminded Of Vehicle Inspection Deadline

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today reminded motorists that only one month remains before the 1969 motor vehicle inspection deadline.

To date, an estimated 2.8 million have received the inspection required by state law. The Department of Public Safety said some 3.2 million additional vehicles remain to be inspected prior to midnight, April 15.

Speir said that 42.2 per cent of the vehicles inspected so far required mechanical adjustments prior to issuance of an inspection sticker. The defect found most often has been misalignment of headlights.

The Department of Public Safety urged motorists to get the inspection soon to avoid long lines which will develop at inspection stations as the April 15 deadline approaches.

Texas has 5,466 licensed inspection stations. The required inspection fee is $1.75.

ROWDEN COMMUNITY RECEIVES THREE INCHES OF RAIN

This community has gauged about 3 inches of rain since last Friday morning. All the cold rain and gloomy weather is hard on all livestock. The Jimmy Wests and Sterling Odoms have lost some pigs due to the bad weather. Even the Warren Prices report their two weeks old baby chicks need sunshine.

Who planted Irish potatoes on the 17th of March? We know that gardens will be a week later now too. Farmers will be ready to go to work when the ground dries out.

Game night in our Community was well attended Saturday. The sandwich supper was delicious and games of 42 were enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Ellice Bainbridge visited her mother, Mrs. Mollie Taylor in Abilene Thursday.

Judy Koenig of the Hall Ranch visited in the James Reynolds home Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Bill Lawrence made a business trip to Abilene Thursday and visited her son, Glenn and family while there.

Mrs. Elveda Sikes and Ernest Sikes of Abilene visited her sister, Mrs. Leila Gibbs Friday night. Mrs. Sterling Odom also was a visitor in the home Wednesday.

Those visiting Mrs. Warren Price Thursday were Mrs. C. W. Price of Baird and Mrs. Jimmy West.

Marlene Brown and Collena Davis of Cisco Jr. College, spent Friday night and Saturday with Judy Gibbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Harris and sons were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Foster in Abilene Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. James Isenhower and children of Baird were guests of the Jimmy West family one night last week.

Visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Boen during the week were Mrs. Effie Holloway and Mrs. Gene Mauldin.

Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Tom McCoy, all of Baird, Mrs. John Wells of Mt. Vernon, Wash., Mrs. Effie Holloway, Mrs. Ray Bowen, Jess Bower and Ellice Bainbridge.

Mrs. Mattie Gibbs reports that her daughter, Mrs. Ruby Russell of Menard, fell last Monday and broke her knee cap. She is in a San Angelo hospital.

CARD OF THANKS

Thank you, dear friends, for your prayers, flowers, calls and cards while I was in the hospital in Abilene. Also your visits and food since I came home.

the championship game of the pro football world.

In January of 1967 the Kansas City Chiefs of the AFL met the Green Bay Packers of the NFL. The Chiefs played well enough in the first half, but blunders in the defensive backfield cost them a devastating defeat at the hands of the Packers in the second half. In January of 1968 the Oakland Raiders met a similar fate at the hands of those same Packers. The Super Bowl seemed to have ended up being not so super.

But strangely enough the man who started indirectly this whole business may just have turned out to be the man who made the Super Bowl the greatest sport attraction of the year in the future. Just might have given the AFL the long overdue recognition it deserves, and just might have kept the rival leagues from merging into one identity - less commodity. Namath and the Jets downed the proud Baltimore Colts 16-7 in one of the greatest upsets in sport history. The Jet victory has renewed the opinion that the two leagues should remain separate, with possible inter-league games during the regular season. A complete reshuffling of the league would quell the great rivalry that has developed. It would be a shame to spoil it all by taking away the identity of the leagues. I am 100 per cent for separate leagues for the sake (for a change) of the fans who pay their way.

62, 63, or 64 years old? If your 1968 earnings were around the $2500-300 mark, you just might be due some social security checks for 1968 if you see your social security representative early in 1969.

15 Co. Residents Over 67 Face Last Chance For 1/2 Of Medicare

The 1969 general enrollment period for the supplemental medical insurance under Medicare by some 15 Callahan County resident will close in a few more days, according to R. R. Tuley, Jr., social security district manager. He cautioned that this will be the last chance for some people over 67 to ever be entitled to the doctor bill part of Medicare.

The supplemental medical insurance part of Medicare is financed through the participants paying $4 a month and the Federal Government contributing $4 a month from general revenues. Tuley stated that although over 95 per cent of those entitled to the hospital insurance have also taken the optional supplemental insurance, a few have turned it down in the past and have not said whether or not they want it.

Each year from January through March there is a general enrollment period giving those already over 65 but not enrolled for the supplemental insurance a second chance to do so. One exception is that an individual who is not enrolled must do so within 3 years of his first opportunity. Those born October 1, 1901, or earlier fit this category; and if they have never been enrolled, they must do so by March 31, 1969. He noted that this group would not be able to apply next year in the general enrollment period since it will have been over 3 years since they could have first enrolled.

According to Tuley the general enrollment period does not apply to those just now nearing age 65, as they should apply in the 3-month period before reaching 65.

Full Scale Production Set For Albany's Fandangle in '70

A full scale production of the Fort Griffin Fandangle, Albany's summer historical musical show, has been set for the summer of 1970 by the Fandangle Board of Directors.

The show will not be staged this summer because of the death last November of its creator, Robert Nail, Nail, who was writer-director for both the Fandangle and the Albany Nativity, has produced the show throughout its 30-year history. Under his creative and talented direction, the Fandangle grew from a small scale endeavor staked on a football field to a Broadway-sized creation produced in its own outdoor theatre in Albany.

The Fandangle is entirely the product of the citizens of Albany, Texas. Nail's persuasive leadership qualities led hundreds of Albany people to discover talents they did not know they possessed, which could be displayed on the Fandangle stage or behind the scenes in one of the many details of the show.

Albany people feel the Fandangle must be perpetuated with the same qualities of excellence that made it both an unique outdoor spectacle and a true representation of the all out efforts of a community.

In February, 1969, the Fandangle Board of Directors, voted to stage the 1970 summer show and to begin work immediately for that production with a membership drive and Samplers in 1969, including the annual Fandangle Family Picnic at Reynolds Bend (Matthews Ranch) this spring.

The many friends of the Fandangle who are interested in preserving the show for Albany are asked to become members of the Fandangle Association. Memberships are of two categories: $25.00 for a regular membership and $10.00 for an associate. Members are entitled to attend the annual Association meeting April 8, 1969 at 8 p. m. in the Albany Community Center, to vote for Association officers and to help select the policies of the Association. All members and their families are invited to the annual Fandangle Family Picnic and Sampler at Reynolds Bend on May 3, 1969.

Two Samplers are already scheduled April 11 at Stamford and April 26 at Ballinger. Other Sampler dates will be scheduled upon request by interested
