GRADUATION

Knox City is soon to see six fine boys and ten noble girls march up the aisles of the Baptist church, hear words of love and praise spoken to them and see diplomas presented to them in respect to the work which each has done for the past eleven successive years. This is called graduation.

Graduation! Those who completed a course of study and have been graduated from the institution, this we will see on the night of June third, nineteen hundred and thirty-two.

How the heart of each boy and each girl beats with sheer joy for this their graduation day. And not here does the joy stop for what parent is not elated over the graduation of his son or daughter. And it is well, joy be unto those who have worked for and attained the goal and unto those who have encouraged and helped in the attainment of that goal.

But let us remember graduates, the fullest, life does not depend upon how much we have learned the past eleven years, but how we utilize what we have learned. Wealth is not his who possess it but his who enjoys, through service, it. Likewise, education is not his who holds a diploma, but is his who uses the information gained.

And as we leave our dear old school, some to continue in our studies while others will have to be content with lesser opportunities, let us not forget that a wise man will desire no more than he can get justly, use soberly, distribute cheerfully and leave contentedly. Graduation here is only the place where boys and girls really begin to live and in this beginning let us make up our different desired paths with a determination to win and a heart to do well that which we choose.

MEMORIAL DAY

Next Monday, May 30th, is the day observed in forty-two of the forty-eight states, and in all of the territories of the United States, as Memorial Day. It is the day upon which the nation pays tribute to its honored dead, who served their country at the peril of their own lives. Originally established in the North as a day for decorating the graves of soldiers who had lost their lives in the war between the states. Memorial Day has practically lost its sectional significance; for North and South alike contributed the heroes of the Spanish War and of the great World War, whose memories are preserved with special ceremonial on this day. This date is still set apart in commemoration of the men who wore blue of the South in the states of the Confederacy where another gray, the 30th of May is now largely observed as the national day of commemoration for all of the brave.

It is most and fitting that at least once a year the nation should be reminded that our country has had, from its inception, to fight for the liberties, the rights and privileges which we, more than any other people in the world, enjoy so greatly. The seeds of that liberty have been sown in the blood of heroes. We make a great fuss about hard times. We complain with bitterness about our personal business and financial worries. But all the troubles that we in time of peace are compelled to bear are insignificant compared with the risk of life itself, which every man who has served under our flag has accepted cheerfully, even jubilantly. There is not tribute to great to pay to those who proved their willingness to make that sacrifice if necessary. To whom do we raise monuments but to these?

Let us, then, who are still living, unite on the 30th of May to praise these illustrious dead, and at the same time let us renew our tacit pledge that they have not died in vain, that the nation which they fought to save shall proceed forever onward toward a higher and more glorious destiny.

John Griffith says the garden spot of the National bank, before the gain this week belonged to Holt Moseley but since the rain, the garden spot is his Griffith's. Well, they say the Taylor and the service man both have to eat.

J. F. Griffith states this week that he would be very pleased if the ball boy who borrowed his spade would please bring it home. John wants, evidently, to work their Moseley Griffith garden.

Miss Cassie Thompson returned home Tuesday for a visit of a few days. She is working in Wichita Falls and expects to return to Wichita the 1st of the week or the first of next.

Miss Mary Reeder entertained Sunday with a dinner honoring Miss Velma Beard of O'Brien who is soon to leave on an extended eastern tour. Those present were the honoree Miss Barnard, Miss Emma Smith, Miss Stella Cooner, Miss Dixie Birdwell and Miss Reeder.

Grandmother Rutledge, who has spent the last nine months with her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Carter, returned to her son T. J. Rutledge at Vera last Thursday. Grandmother Rutledge has been a cripple for the last nine years.

WHAT MEANS THE CHURCH TO YOU?

Some count the church as an institution that they can respect or ignore as they please. An such an attitude is true, in that freedom to choose as one pleases is the heritage of every human soul. You can reject both Christ and the church and be lost. Or you can accept Christ and have eternal life and enter His church, giving your life in happy, useful service. You plan your own destiny as you please.

The church is a divine institution in that God is its originator and head. The church is worthy of the loyal support of every Christian. It's message of life and peace is worthy of the most serious hearing possible of every human creature.

Some go to church more as a matter of entertainment than anything else. When something special is on, they go. Duty and worship have no appeal to them. Their going is a matter of personal accommodation both to the pastor and to the church, and deserves special recognition. Such an unworthy and unchristian attitude misses the entire purpose of the church.

God's house is the place of prayer and worship, and some time before we can pray or worship we must look to our selves and see how little and mean that we are in the sight of God. Then we must look at the purity of God and how pure that He expects us to be.

Should we not count it a glorious privilege to enter the church for worship? Let us forget any attitude that makes this wonderful experience a matter of personal accommodation to any one. Dear people let us show loyalty to Christ and His church.

How Old

He doesn't look a day over fifty. And feels like forty.
 At the age of 62.

That's the happy state of health and pep a man enjoys when he gives his vital organs a little stimulant!

When your system is stagnant and you feel sluggish, headachy, half-alive—don't waste money on "tonics" or "regulators" or similar patent medicines. Stimulate the liver and bowels. Use a famous physician's prescription every drug store keeps. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin.

This appetizing syrup is made from fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. One does will clear up almost any case of headaches, biliousness, constipation.

But if you want to keep in fine shape, feel fit the year 'round, take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin every few days. You'll eat better, sleep better and feel better. You will never need another laxative.

Give the children a little of this delicious syrup two or three times a week. A gentle, natural stimulant that makes them eat and keeps the bowels from clogging. And saves them from so many sick spells and colds.

Have a sound stomach, active liver and strong bowel muscles that expel every bit of waste and poison every day! Just keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin on hand; take a stimulating spoonful every now and then. See if you don't feel new vigor in every step.

When TEETHING makes HIM FUSSY

One of the most important things you can do to make a teething baby comfortable is to see that little bowels do their work regularly. For this nothing is better than Castoria, a pure vegetable preparation specially made for babies and children. Castoria acts so gently you can give it to young infants to relieve colic. Yet it is always effective, for older children, too. Remember, Castoria contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics—is absolutely harmless. When your baby is fretful with teething or a food upset, give a cleansing dose of Castoria. Be sure you get genuine Castoria with the name:

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
by REV. SAMUEL D. PRICE D.D.

for May 29
Genesis 37:1-11

Four lessons of unusual interest are devoted to the life of Joseph. He was the son of Jacob and the beloved wife Rachel. A second son of Rachel was Benjamin and the mother died in child birth. We have seen her reputed tomb just a short distance below Jerusalem toward Bethlehem. It will save a lot of trouble at the start if you will commit to memory the names of the twelve sons of Jacob, following the order of their birth as Reuben, Simeon, Levi, Judah—sons of Leah, etc.

Again we find favoritism in the home, for Jacob makes more of Joseph than of the other sons. This they resent especially when the father bestows a coat with sleeves to Joseph, suggesting that he is more of a gentleman than the others, for one who wears sleeves is not a man of physical toil. However, we do find Joseph in the fields with the sons of Bilhah and Zilpah, concubines of Jacob.

Here we have the first record of dreams by this man who later prophesied through dreams in Egypt. First, the sheaf of Jacob moved from the shock and received the obeisance of the sheaves that represented the eleven brothers. Later the same purport was expressed in the dream in which in the starry heavens honor was done to Joseph and in this the father, represented by the bowler sun, participated. This doubling of the dream added fire to the flame of envy and jealousy already so well started. While God can still make His will and ways known to us in dreams we must not declare that each dream bears a message from God. The source may be merely a matter of indigestion. It is wise to weigh each impression and be ready to be taught where there is a lesson to be gained.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Eilman and children visited in Truseott Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Mayers and little son Darrell of Garford and Mrs. W. O. Torbet and son Gene of Seymour visited in the home of J. H. Carter and family Thursday of last week.

The members of the Church of Christ are having an interesting time on Thursday afternoon of each week. They meet in the homes of the members. Every one who wishes to meet and study with them are invited to do so. A hearty welcome awaits all.

Misses Eileen Barnett, Stella Cooner and Mary Reeder were guests of Miss Velma Barnard Saturday night of last week. The occasion was called a "slumber party" but doubtless it was a "slumberless" party.

Mrs. M. A. Reeder, Mary Reeder, Mrs. J. A. Wilson, Florence Wilson, Lora Jean Propps and Miss Eileen Barnett attended the Commencement exercise of the 7th grade in Crowell last Thursday night. Florence and Lora Jean remained over for the night with relatives and friends.

Cooperative Use Pays Well

Here is a lesson in the value of co-operation.

Time was when every community had its own small, isolated electric power plant — if it had any electric service at all.

That was before it was technically possible to link up groups of towns and provide them with power through widespread systems of electric transmission lines.

Today many communities share each power plant. Thus they utilize the facilities more efficiently and receive a higher grade of service at a much smaller cost. The small town's new industrial importance is a direct outgrowth of this improvement in power supply.

The West Texas Utilities Company is rendering this dependable, inexpensive and elastic type of power supply to 125 progressive West Texas cities and towns.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?
