Hospitals And You

"Why should I pay more for a hospital room than I do for a hotel or motel room?" is an often-asked question by many of today's hospital patients?

The answer is simple — people. A top-quality luxury hotel finds it needs fewer employees per bed; usually it's one employee for every five or six beds. In the case of hospitals, most have from two to three employees per bed and many of these are highly-trained and highly-skilled individuals.

At the same time, the hospital is paying more for its supplies just as the hotel and the homeowner are doing. For example, linen is up 10 percent over last year, food is up six percent, and medical, pharmaceutical and surgical supplies are 12 percent higher than a year ago.

Medical equipment being developed during this "explosion of technical knowledge" is another major contributor in increasing hospital costs. But could an administrator refuse to purchase a life-saving piece of equipment due to its cost?

The answer is "no," especially for the equipment in today's modern intensive care and coronary care units where lives are saved daily because doctors and nurses have the necessary equipment available when they need it.

Exemplary of today's costly equipment is an autoanalyzer worth more than $30,000 being added to many of the hospital's laboratories throughout the state. The machine performs 12 laboratory tests from a sample of the patient's blood and provides the physician with results never before available at one time. And in most cases, the patients are receiving the tests for less than what 12 separate tests would cost.

This is only one example of how hospitals are trying to save the patient's money and at the same time give him the kind of care he deserves.

Hospitals are in complete agreement with Mr. John Q. Public who hates to see hospital costs on the rise and who wonders if hospitals are using any money-saving devices like industry.

The answer is "yes". Hospitals are conscious of their obligation to the public and through tighter management are doing their best. They are using such cost-saving ideas as disposable products, adding management and work simplification courses for its employees, making more volunteer-type work available, increasing the role of the computer and doing work measurement studies.

And what results can be found in today's increased hospital care? Just 20 years ago the death rate for newborn infants was 63 out of every 1,000 births. Today the infant death rate is less than 25 out of 1,000. And the maternity death rate 20 years ago was one in every 165 deliveries; today it is only one in 2,000.

The problem of hospital costs

FHA Program Is Major Tool In Building Rural America

America's strength in war and peace is closely allied with her agricultural productive ability. This explains a major effort which is underway to strengthen rural America.

The Farmers Home Administration, because of its history of providing sound advice along with sound credit, is spearheading a U. S. Department of Agriculture effort to tap all available rural resources . . . natural, human and economic . . . in reaching this objective.

FHA's main effort is at the county level through organizations known as Technical Action Panels which are made up of representatives of USDA agencies operating in the county.

The pattern of operation is first to identify problems of rural areas, then to inventory resources and blend efforts of local people with those of Federal, State and other agencies in finding acceptable solutions. In Texas, FHA gives leadership to 138 Technical Action Panels.

The panel approach utilizes FHA's time-tested program of supervised credit for farmers, low income rural residents and other rural groups. The goal still is to improve rural incomes, communities and levels of living.

FHA does not compete with commercial lenders, but instead trailors five types of loans to meet needs of those unable to obtain reasonable credit from other sources.

First of these is an operating loan, a short term or intermediate type of credit. It is primarily for current operating expenses such as feed, seed, fertilizer or additional livestock and equipment. During the last fiscal year, FHA made more than 4,800 loans of this type to Texas farm families. They totaled $32.3 million and an additional $27.1 million went to families requiring emergency loans because of natural disasters.

Farm ownership loans are made to eligible persons to buy, improve or enlarge farms to achieve an economical unit. Texans last year obtained 580 such loans which totaled almost $14 million.

Another popular loan is one for rural housing which may be extended to farmers and to owners of non-farm tracts in rural areas, including communities with populations up to 2,500. Almost 3,000 Texans last year borrowed more than $26.3 million with which to build modern, comfortable homes. An additional $ 7 million was lent to some 830 low income rural families for home repair and remodeling. FHA also makes available special housing loans for senior citizens, for housing farm labor and for rental units.

Many low income rural residents, both individuals and members of cooperatives, have found FHA's Economic Opportunity loan a valuable tool for improving their standards of living. Low interest rates and 15 years repayment time are main features of this loan. Amounts borrowed last year totaled $1.5 million for individuals and $23,000 for cooperatives.

Several types of loans are included in FHA's Community Services Program. One, for financing water systems, helped 139 communities obtain safe and adequate water last year. The total amount borrowed was over $17 million. To date, 394 FHA-financed facilities provide water for more than 37,000 rural families.

A similar loan is available for building sewage disposal systems and several communities have used it to advantage. Still others are using rural recreation loans for such community improvements as swimming pools, golf courses, tennis courts and rodeo arenas.

And finally, loans are available for watershed projects and grazing associations. Watershed loans are made under plans approved by the Soil Conservation Service.

Supervised credit helps rural families improve their farms and homes, increase their incomes, and make their full contribution to the economic growth of their communities. This combination of credit and management assistance from the Farmers Home Administration is a major tool in building rural America and the entire Nation.

Joe Boone is the County FHA supervisor for Knox County.

On The Lighter Side

(Copied from CTD News, The Voice of Classroom Teachers of Dallas.)

One score and sixteen years ago, our fathers brought forth upon this nation a new tax - conceived in desperation, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are fair game.

Now we are engaged in a great mass of calculations, testing whether that taxpayer, or any taxpayer, so confused and so impoverished, can long endure.

We are met on Form 1040. We have come to dedicate a large portion of our income to a final resting place with those men who have spent their lives that they may spend our money. It is altogether anguish and torture that we should do this, but in the legal sense, we cannot evade - we cannot cheat - we cannot underestimate this tax. The collectors, clever and sly, who have computed here, have gone far beyond our poor power to add and subtract. Our creditors will little note, or long remember, what we pay there, but the Bureau of Internal Revenue can never forget what we report here. It is for us, the taxpayers, rather to be devoted here to the tax return which the Government has thus far so nobly sent. It is rather for us to be dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these vanishing dollars we take increased devotion to the few remaining; that we here highly resolve that next year will not find us in a higher income bracket, that this taxpayer, underpaid, shall figure out more deductions, and that taxation of the people, by the congress, for the Government, shall not cause our solvency to perish.

OES Officers Present Annual Friendship Program Monday

At their regular meeting March 18 at 8 p.m., the officers of the Knox City Chapter No. 119, Order of the Eastern Star, presented their annual Friendship Program.

Mrs. Margie Clonts, Worthy Matron, welcomed the members and guests in a brief message with "Love" as the keynote of her remarks. She then presented the guest speaker, Mrs. Bobby Marshall of Hale Center, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Stephens of O'Brien and a former member of the Knox City Chapter, who spoke on "Love" and explained its meaning as the unifying force that holds all Orders together. Mrs. Marshall is a member of the Fraternal Visitation Committee of Grand Chapter of Texas.

Using the Key of Friendship as the theme, an impressive skit by the officers carried out further the thoughts of Love, after which all members and special friends were given tokens of friendship.

At the conclusion of the program, members and guests were invited downstairs to the Fellowship Hall of the Masonic Lodge where they enjoyed several anthems presented by the Chancel Choir of the First Methodist Church, accompanied by their director, Mrs. Melvin Lowrey.

Hostesses for the evening, Mrs. Elaine Lewis, Mrs. Eva Penman, and Mrs. Noba Oll-ver served sandwiches, potato chips, cake, coffee and spiced tea to approximately sixty members and guests.

LENTEN MEDITATION

Life's most important question was asked by Jesus of His disciples, "Whom do men say that I, the Son of Man, am?" (Matt. 16-13). This is the important question today. What think ye of Christ? What men think determines what they do and are. What men think of Christ is the master force in the world today and more than anything else influences its life and thought. In the answers the disciples gave were as varied as they are now. All agree that Jesus was an extraordinary person. Jesus asked the disciples a personal question, "But whom do you say, I am?" We personally must answer this question and do by our actions. No one can escape it. A neutral answer is impossible. He is either God or an imposter.

6 Accidents Investigated In February

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated six accidents on rural highways in Knox County during the month of February, according to Sergeant Frank Jircek, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person killed and estimated property damage of $3,300.00. The rural traffic accidents for this county during the first two months of 1968 shows a total of seven accidents resulting in one person killed, no persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $3,520.00.

"With the April 15 deadline for obtaining inspection stickers drawing near, only 43 percent of the registered vehicles in this county have been inspected," stated the Patrol Supervisor.

In order to avoid the inconvenience of the last minute rush and the possible shortage of seat belts, motorists are urged to get their vehicles inspected promptly.

Any driver operating a vehicle registered in Texas, that is required to be inspected, on public roads after April 15 without a valid 1968 inspection sticker will be operating in violation of the law and is punishable by a fine not to exceed two hundred dollars.

 Mary Reese and Margaret Howell have received word that their state degrees were accepted. CONGRATULATIONS!!!
 The Sophomore girls are going to be pretty busy working on Chapter degrees the next few weeks. We have learned that they are due April 22.

Senior News

Congratulations go to several students this week. Mary Reese and Gail Cornett made the All-District Basketball Team. These girls are both guards and have worked this year in basketball. Word was received this past weekend that Margaret Howell and Mary Reese got their state degrees. These girls are both active members in FHA and deserve an honor such as this. Saturday, in the track meet at Holliday, Ronald Curd placed second in the 100 yard dash. We are very proud of all these students.

Extra Benefits For Medicare Patients

Medicare beneficiaries who are hospitalized longer than the 90 covered days in a spell of illness now have an extra benefit to fall back on, according to Edwin Draughon, manager of the Vernon Social Security Office.
 Recently enacted amendments to the Social Security Act have provided for a lifetime reserve of 60 additional days hospital care. Mr. Draughon said. This reserve is for use in long-term hospitalization cases where the patient exhausts his covered hospital care but is not out of the hospital or extended care facility for 60 days so that a new spell of illness can begin.
 This in effect provides the patient with up to 150 days' hospital care either fully or partially paid for by Medicare. After the first 90 deductible, which the patient pays when he enters the hospital, Medicare pays all the normal hospital costs for the first 60 days, all but $10 a day for the 61st through 90th day, and all but $20 a day during the 60-day reserve period.
 The 60-day reserve is now available to all medicare beneficiaries.

By MELANIE WHITLEY
 Mrs. Johnny Reid and Mrs. L. A. Covey teach a Sunbeam class once a week to the five and six year olds of O'Brien. Last week Mrs. Reid asked, not really expecting the right answer, if the children knew what a rainbow promised.
 Greg Covey surprised his mother and said it promised that the world wouldn't be destroyed again by water.
 "But", added the preacher's son, William Park, "it will be destroyed by fire."
 "And pretty soon," chimed in Debbie del Hierro.
 After a pause, Angelia Reid provided the punch line, "I think he will destroy it with snow!"

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES IN AGRICULTURE

Too often there are more good employment openings than qualified people to fill them. In addition to farming and ranching, job opportunities in agribusiness include research, conservation, industry, business, education and communication. There are more than 500 distinct occupations in 8 major fields of agriculture. There are opportunities also for young people whose background does not include extensive farm or ranch experience. High School age youth may want to consider these opportunities when making their plans to go to college.

What does calibration of equipment mean to a good farmer or manager? The answer - more money in his pocket and the reputation of being a better manager.

Calibration of equipment means knowing, for example, that a fertilizer distributor will spread 1,800 pounds to the acre and not 1,000 pounds or 2,500 pounds.

The calibration of sprayers is more critical than the calibration of other equipment and the results can be more disastrous.

Under-planting or sowing means that you are losing a definite percentage of your soil's production capacity. How long would you keep a low production cow or a tractor that is running on 3 cylinders instead of 4? Over-planting or sowing means a waste of expensive seed and too much competition between plants.

Why not do something about the calibration of your planters, grain drills, fertilizer distributors, and chemical applicators? Operator's manuals for the machines usually contain calibration instructions.

Ornamental plants will be more resistant to disease and make faster recovery from insect attacks when they are properly fertilized.

For the beginning gardener, a standard mixture such as 5-10-5 or 5-10-10 is suggested. More complicated mixtures can be used after experience has been gained, says the county agent. He adds that it may be easier to measure rather than weigh fertilizer. A pint of 5-10-5 is equal to about one pound, but other fertilizers may differ from this measure.

Method of application may depend on the type of plant material to be fertilized. Broadcasting by hand is the easiest method and with experience, an even distribution can be obtained. Take care, not to get the fertilizer on the foliage of evergreen plants. Watering in is a good idea to prevent burning the foliage.

The most laborious - but possibly the best - method for fertilizing trees and deep-rooted shrubs is by means of holes punched or bored in the soil. Using a crowbar is not easy work, but adequate soil moisture now will make the job easier. A soil auger or soil probe can be used if available.

The amount of fertilizer needed varies considerably, depending on the age and size of the tree. A safe method is to use 2 to 4 pounds of 8-8-8 for each inch of tree trunk diameter at breast height. Also, use half this dosage if 10-10-10 or 16-20-0 grade of fertilizer is used.

For shrubs, the amount to use also depends on size. For small evergreens, 2 to 4 pounds of 5-10-5 per 100 square feet is suggested. For large shrubs, the application may range from 2 to 15 pounds per shrub, the larger amount being for a shrub 12 to 15 feet in height and equally as wide. Local nurserymen or the local county agent can supply additional information on fertilizing ornamentals.

FARMER COOPERATIVES

Dollar business volume of farmer cooperatives in the nation last year hit $15.7 billion, up 7 percent from the previous year, and a new record. This is an increase of 61 percent over the business volume of 10 years ago, reported the USDA's Farmer Cooperative Service. The total net business volume came from marketing, purchasing, and related-service cooperatives. The survey showed Texas with 511 cooperatives, 184,190 members and net business of $803,360,000.

Local SWC District Joins In Wildlife Week, March 17-23

The Soil and Water Conservation District is joining with the National Wildlife Federation and other conservation groups in sponsoring Wildlife Week 1968, March 17-23. The theme, "Learn to Live With Nature," stresses the need for conservation education.

"People are sold on the idea of enjoying nature, but we must also sell them on the idea of learning to appreciate and care for all our natural resources."

Largest Draft Call Since Oct.

State draft boards are being called upon to furnish 2,378 men for the Army and Marines in April. Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director said Friday.

This compares to a quota of 1,948 for the Army in March and is the largest monthly call for the draft boards since October 1966, when the share was 2,845.

The draft boards will forward 8,500 men to the armed forces examining and entrance stations in April for the pre-induction physical and mental examinations in preparation to fill future quotas.

This compares to 7,200 being forwarded for this purpose in March, 4,590 sent in February, and 5,455 in January. The March pre-induction examination quota originally was 4,200, but was increased later because of higher induction quotas.

The April induction and pre-induction quotas were mailed to local boards by state Selective Service headquarters March 13.

The April call of 2,378 men for Texas is the state's share of a national quota of 48,000, the Army to get 44,000 of this number, and the Marine Corps 4,000.

The order of selection to fill the April and March induction calls may be from among examined and acceptable men who are:

- (1) delinquents 19 years old and older,
- (2) volunteers under age 26, and
- (3) nonvolunteers 19 through 25 years old, single and married, with those married after August 26, 1965, being selected ahead of those married on or before that date.
