KNOX DEFEATS O'BRIEN

The base ball team of the Knox high school defeated O'Brien Wednesday in a game of 9 to 7. Outstanding batters for Knox City this year are Lelton Huntsman and Donald Withrow.

Reverend and Mrs. Stovall, Marcellous and Chloys Stovall, Mr. and Mrs. Marcellous Weaver of Wellington and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Russell of Quall Texas spent the first of the week fishing at Lake Kemp. They returned having caught some 55 pounds of fish, and report having had a great deal of fun.

Henry Lightfoot recently bought the Campbell home. The house being occupied by the G. D. McCarty family. Mr. McCarty has bought a place from J. D. Harrison, which has been known as the Docking place. Mr. Harrison is remodeling the place with new paint over all the exterior of the house. Mr. McCarty expects to move one day the latter part of next week, following which the Lightfoot family will move into their place.

The McCarty home is the first dwelling north of the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith.

JUNIOR PLAY HUGH SUCCESS

The Junior play staged last Friday night is rightly termed, a huge success. Miss Moorhouse, class sponsor and coach of the play, had fine material for the play and placed her characters well. The three leading characters, Miss Stella Bradley, Miss Mary Howell and Lelton Huntsman, did their parts beyond reproach. The entire evening's entertainment was excellent.

Mrs. Warren and Mr. Miers of Gotthberg Illinois were here last week to see Guy Robinson and other relatives.

An Editorial The Lindbergh Tragedy

The most shocking tragedy in American history since the brutal murder of little Marian Parker by Hickman in California some six years ago, is the ruthless murder of the Lindbergh baby, by the fiends who stole the infant from its crib and, apparently, killed the little boy and hid his body in the woods when they found themselves pursued.

We can imagine no crime worse than these. Nothing could be more shocking, nothing could so move the hearts of the whole world to pity for the little one whose life had hardly begun, to tearful sympathy with his beloved young parents and to stern and righteous anger at the perpetrators of this foul deed.

To the gallant "Lone Eagle" and his no less heroic young wife Anne, we can only say that we know that we speak for every one of our readers in trying inadequately to express our heartfelt sympathy. We know that they will bear up bravely, for both of them have proved that they are of the stuff of which heroes are made. It is the very irony of fate that to them, who merited nothing but happiness, should have occurred a tragedy so awful that for the rest of their lives they must live in its shadow. There is, perhaps a small measure of consolation in the news that the little cradle will not long be empty, but the memory of their murdered firstborn will tug forever at their heartstrings.

But there is an aspect to this crime which touches not the Lindbergh family alone, but every one of us in these United States of America. This murder of a child is the crowning climax of the wave of lawlessness, of unpunished and reckless crime which has been sweeping over our country in a swelling flood since the war. It has aroused public indignation to a pitch to which it has never been before aroused, and we hope that this great outpouring of public indignation may find concrete expression in a stern determination to put an end once and for all to wholesale lawlessness and immunity for criminals.

It is a simple statement of fact that the responsibility for the kidnaping and murder of the Lindbergh baby lies at the door of every citizen who has permitted, without protest, the criminal element to defy the law, to corrupt public officials charged with the enforcement of law, and to mock at the law-abiding. It lies at the door of every lawyer who has connived to obtain the acquittal of a known criminal. It lies at the door of every judge who has given convicted offenders light sentences or has suspended sentence altogether. It lies at the door of every sheriff, every constable, every police officer who has fallen short in his duty of relentless pursuit of criminals and suppression of crime.

No more terrific indictment of an entire nation can be drawn than our indictment by the rest of the civilized world, which today looks upon the United States of America as the paradise of the criminal and upon our people as the most cowardly and supine race, in the face of outrageous lawlessness, to be found upon the face of the globe.

We hope that out of the death of a little child may spring a flaming spirit which will fire the American people, not to vengeance but to relentless determination to set our house in order, to give known criminals no quarter, to bring before the bar of justice every one who has connived with criminals to evade and escape the law, and so to put our country back into the list of civilized nations.

We call upon our public authorities, from the President of the United States to the most remote town constable, to make the suppression of crime and lawlessness the chief aim of their office from now on, and we promise them that, in taking the most drastic means at their command to clean the cesspools of crime, they will have the hearty and unhesitating support of every good citizen. And, at the same time, we warn them that unless speedy evidence is given that the long arm of the law has not yet in America lost its power those responsible for its execution, who fail in their duty, will face an aroused popular indignation which will put a speedy and effective end to their careers.

We heartily approve and endorse the declaration by the President of the United States that this crime must be kept "a live and never-to-be-forgotten case, never to be relaxed until those criminals are implacably brought to justice." But it must not end there.

It will not suffice merely to find and to punish the murderers of little Charlie Lindbergh. The times, and the temper of the American people, demand that the pursuit of criminals and the extirpation of crime, of defiant criminals and of organized crime, shall never be relaxed until none shall dare to affront the majesty of the law and to drag the fair name of America into the dust.

There should be no plea for mercy in this case. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my children ye have done it unto Me." That is the stern denunciation of the Lindbergh murderers which has come down to us through the ages. And if as a result of the indignant public feeling which this crime has aroused, there should be a restoration of our country to its historic state of law and order, then we may again quote from the same inspired and sacred source:

"And a little child shall lead them."

Church Officials Helps In Entertained Museum Fund

Wednesday evening all the church and Sunday School officials of the Methodist church were most enjoyably entertained with a chicken dinner by Reverend and Mrs. J. H. Sharp. Places were set for 40 people but L. N. Bridges took suddenly ill and was unable to be present. 39 guests were present.

Following the dinner a business meeting was held in which the various problems of the church were discussed. The head or chairman of each department of the church and Sunday School was called on for a talk, all of whom responded well.

Of all the phases or organizations of the church the best report from any part came from the Young Peoples Division formerly known as the Senior Epworth League. These young people have raised their finances for the year (their year is out in June) and are planning to send a delegate to the Assembly which begins May 29 in Abilene. They have held their meetings regular for the year and attended all union and district meetings of the Young Peoples Division. As a whole, the work of the young people is making a high average for the year which is about to close.

The dinner and business meeting Wednesday evening of the Sunday School and church officials is spoken of by those present as being a profitable meeting. "Most certainly, it was enjoyed", says Victor Pyeatt, Sam Clonts and all the rest.

Hospital Notes

Patients in the hospital this week include Odus Rhodes of Goree, Mrs. Walter Harris of Munday, Mrs. Lillard of the L. L. Davis farm, Mrs. G. A. Booner of Vera, Cleo Webb of Rule and Mrs. Riddle Barnes of Benjamin.

Mrs. J. M. Billingsly returned to her home in Vera Sunday.

Mr. Brown and Mr. Covey of Goree were visitors here Sunday.

Mr. Chamberlain, county clerk, and wife of Benjamin were guests here Monday. Judge Brookerson of Benjamin visited with the hospital authorities last Friday.

Dr. Heard of Goree made a professional visit here one day last week. Mrs. Rose Moore of Van Zandt county is here this week with her son Otis Rhodes. Miss Lucille Harris of Hefner spent Sunday here with her mother Mrs. Walter Harris.

IT PAYS

Hospital authorities state this week that the most paying thing they know of is advertising in the Herald. They state that almost before the paper was cooled from the press last week that their spade was returned.

The Herald went to press and the post office last Thursday afternoon and Friday morning early, the spade property of the Hospital, was home. So you see, advertising in the Herald certainly does pay.

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. J. C. Reed entertained the Bridge Club. Decorations were cut flowers while talleys, in keeping with Spring, were blue bonnet scenes. Following the games refreshments of pressed salad, olives, toasted crackers, mince pie topped with whipped cream and iced tea were served. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. D. J. Brookerson, Mrs. M. A. Armstrong, Mrs. Coleman Moorhouse and Mrs. LeRoy Melton. The club meets next with Mrs. John A. Smith.

POST OFFICE TO REMAIN IN SAME BUILDING

According to communication received this week by Mr. W. H. Benedict from Mr. John W. Philip, assistant Postmaster General, the Knox City Post Office will not be moved but will remain in the same old building.

The Post Office building is now owned by the Republic Insurance Company and has been remodeled and repaired. The building has a 10 year lease.

The seventh grade of the Knox City school is numbered among the many groups of school children over West Texas who have helped in the fund for the erection of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum at Canyon.

An appropriation from the State of $25,000.00 on the grounds that Canyon raises an equal sum, has been made for the erection of this Museum. Having raised some $17,000 the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society found it necessary to call for help of the schools of West Texas as well as all the ex-students of Teachers College in Canyon. In this S. O. S. call Mrs. Ottis Cash, teacher and ex-student of Canyon college, received a letters. And in response to the call Mrs. Cash, with her students and those of Miss Annie Freeman, who is also a former student of Canyon, and teacher of the sixth grade in our school, sold ice cream and raised the sum of $-5.00. This money was sent by these boys and girls to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society as an offering for the building fund.

This week a letter came to the seventh grade from Mr. L. F. Sheffy, head of the History Department at Canyon and also chairman of the finance committee of the Museum building fund, which we give below.

"To the Seventh Grade Class, Knox City Public Schools. Dear Friends and co-workers: Will you please accept our sincere thanks for the donation which you and Mrs. Cash made toward the building of the museum for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society. We appreciate this not only because it will help to make the museum building possible, but also because it is a splendid manifestation of your interest in the work the Society is trying to do.

I hope that I may have the pleasure of showing each of you through the museum when we get the new building. When you come this way may I hope you will make yourselves known to me for I would like to know you.

I want to thank you again and I hope that you will feel that this museum building is partly yours for you helped to make it possible. It belongs to the people of West Texas especially.

With kindest personal regards and best wishes to all of you, I am, Very Sincerely, L. F. Sheffy."

In a letter to Mrs. Cash, Mr. Sheffy asked for the names of all the students of the seventh grade that they may be put in the record book of all the donors to the building fund, which book will be an important part of the records of the museum.

EPWORTH LEAGUE ENTERTAINED

The Senior Epworth League of the Methodist church was most delightfully entertained Monday evening by Reverend and Mrs. J. H. Sharp. Upon gathering the forty or more young people spent a short while singing popular songs. A variety of games followed and then five gallons of ice cream. A business meeting was held and every boy and girl present declared the evening perfect.

WHY WORRY ABOUT IT?

Either you are successful or you are not successful. If you are successful there is nothing to worry about. If you are not successful, there are only two things to worry about. Your health is either good or you are sick. If your health is good, there is nothing to worry about. If you are sick there are two things to worry about. You are either going to get well or you are going to die. If you are going to get well, there is nothing to worry about. If you are going to die, there are only things to worry about. You are either going to heaven, or you are not going to heaven. If you are going to heaven there is nothing to worry about. If you are going to the other place, you will be so busy shaking hands with old friends and acquaintances that you won't have anything to worry about. So why worry?—Fort Worth Rotagraph.

AN APPEAL OF THE M. E. CHURCH SOUTH

The appeal of your general superintendents at the beginning of the year regarding the alarming condition of the various benevolences needs reiteration with added emphasis now. Plainly we face a crisis. The grim reality of it ought to arouse every church in our wide connection.

The cause of Christ is at stake at home and abroad. We cannot desert the brave men and women whom we have sent to the ends of the earth. Most of them are helpless without our help. Neither can we leave in black despair the millions whom they have begun to lead and who look to us for light. The one indispensable thing in this distracted age is the work the church is set to do. Many things can be done without, but not the church. Unless larger resources are brought to the treasury, work of the most basic importance must come to a halt.

The gravity of the situation has not been relieved, but we come to you now with encouragement and hope. We think we see the light and the way out. There is unmistakable evidence of a fresh sense of responsibility on the part of our pastors. This is our real hope. The law of the church makes them responsible for the presentation of these sacred causes in every congregation. No budget arrangement of local officials can exempt the pastor from his obligation to see the whole church is confronted with the claims of the kingdom, as represented in our general benevolences. From all over the church reports of an awakened pastoral responsibility and an active purpose to see it through. A conquering army moves together. The goal is achieved by every man in his place doing his part. The sevten thousand pastors in Southern Methodism—no slacking anywhere can see this thing through and turn threatened disaster into a triumph of faith and co-operation.

In these days of depression everybody ought to make unusual sacrifices to see that the church abates nothing of its essential program of Missions, Education, Church Extension, and ministry to the sick and helpless. Nearly everywhere is somebody that can stand in the breach and have the right privilege of saving the day. And let nobody take advantage of a day of depression to withhold that which belongs to God! Covetousness that covers itself under the misfortunes of other people touches the depths of depravity. For any man to talk hard times, just because for many people they are hard, and yet keep on living good times, while the kingdom of God is in want, is to become indifferent to the highest obligations. In the midst of all that invokes our sympathy, there are many who have not gone very far in laying aside the extravagances of life.

The Commission on Benevolences is joining hands with us and with all our presiding elders and pastors and officials in a concerted movement to meet our responsibility. Let every presiding elder devise a way to help every pastor reach every member in every church! We want the roll call to have a unanimous response this year from 15 bishops, 350 presiding elders, 7,000 pastors, and 2,450,000 members of the church, and the regular collections to have right of way everywhere. The Commission will give fresh and accurate information in a concise bulletin every month for the remainder of the year for the information of the church.

God and his kingdom must be put first. The maintenance of the Lord's work in America and throughout the world-parish of the Song of Wesley is the sure way of recovery for our own and the other distressed peoples of these unhappy times. Let all our people turn their feet anew unto the testimonies of the Lord and make haste and delay not to keep his commandments! Thus will the Lord of hosts establish our going and our feet shall stand in an even place.

This appeal is to the Knox City church as well as every other church in the connection. Let us respond to the services Sunday.

Jim H. Sharp, pastor.

JACOB AND ESAU RECONCILED
Genesis 33:1-11

Jacob, the one who had tricked his father Isaac and his brother Esau found his match in uncle Laban, but there were some compensations during the twenty years that were spent in Mesopotamia. One purpose of the 400 mile journey was to find a wife and in this Jacob more than succeeded.

Romance began at the well and the courting was decidedly typical. Rachel the daughter of Laban came out to the well that she might water the sheep. Usually the various groups had to wait till the strong men came and moved back the heavy stone. This time when the eyes of the fair Rachel were intent on the stranger he, single handed, pushes back the stone and the cattle are watered forthwith. Let the men understand that such an act is of the same nature as the strut of the rooster or peacock when the male is courting the female. Man has his own way of trying to show off to advantage.

Contract was made to obtain the daughter Rachel as the wife if Jacob would serve seven years as herdsman for Laban. When it was learned that Leah the sister had been substituted a new bargain of seven more years was made for Rachel, since he loved her with extreme devotion. Get all the details by reading Genesis 29-32. The mean nature was taken out of Jacob in the night wrestling with the Angel of Jehovah, just before he was to meet his estranged brother Esau.

True to form, Jacob uses art in arranging the setting for the coming of Esau. The cavalcade proceeds in four divisions and each has a splendid gift. But Esau is also noble and declares that he "has enough". With true magnanimity Jacob is welcomed back to the home land and a quarrel of twenty years is closed. Commit the Golden Text to memory in Ephesians 4:32.

MOST CARS TODAY ARE RUNNING ON DANGEROUS TIRES

"One car out of every five on the road today is running on smooth worn tires, unsafe for present day driving conditions, according to J. M. Ashcroft of the Ashcroft Chevrolet Company of this city."

"Motorists are content to go along with unsafe tire equipment only because they do not realize the danger of injury to their families and themselves that they are risking. We find it very difficult to make car owners understand just how fast they really do travel. Most car owners do not have any conception of what speed means in distance covered. Few know that at 60 miles per hour a car travels 88 feet per second, and any car can come to grief in 88 feet, with oncoming traffic, curbs or ditches. Failure of any tire and particularly a front tire means trouble."

"In other words the driver fails to realize that every car has three steering wheels, one in his hands and two on the road, these being the two front tires. Failure of any one invites danger. That's why it's foolish to take chances with thin, worn tires."

"Many motorists risk trouble to literally 'run the treads' of their tires, getting the last few cents worth of mileage out of them. This is false economy of the worst kind. The saving is insignificant when compared with the danger and possible expense they invite."

"It is hard to understand why motorists take chances when Firestone tire prices are the lowest in history. While prices have been materially reduced values have actually increased. For example, in today's Firestone Tires the motorists gets Gum Dipped Cords, Two Extra Gum-Dipped Cord Plies Under the Tread and a Safe, Slow-wearing Non-Skid Tread at less than ever before."

"Firestone Dealers are presenting these facts to car owners in a special mailing of Firestone Dealer Co-operative Catalogue to 20 million car owners. This is the largest mailing of its kind in history. The Firestone Dealer Co-operative Catalogue the important construction features and the new low price levels. Any car owner who has not received a copy may secure one at Ashcroft Chevrolet Co."

"Right now we are conducting our own safety campaign. Every motorist that comes into our store receives a free tire examination and we can point out whether or not his tires are safe. Anyone who isn't sure about his tires can take advantage of our service. If we can save future troubles we'll be glad to do so."

Cooperative Use Pays Well

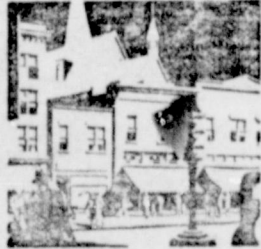

Here is a lesson in the value of co-operation.

Time was when every community had its own small, isolated electric power plant—if it had any electric service at all.

That was before it was technically possible to link up groups of towns and provide them with power through widespread systems of electric transmission lines.

Today many communities share each power plant. Thus they utilize the facilities more efficiently and receive a higher grade of service at a much smaller cost. The small town's new industrial importance is a direct outgrowth of this improvement in power supply.

The West Texas Utilities Company is rendering this dependable, inexpensive and elastic type of power supply to 125 progressive West Texas cities and towns.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?
