MERCHANTS AWARD $25 IN PRIZES

Wombie, fourth prize.

The awards were made from a car in the middle of the main street about the center of the block. The crowd packed the street almost for the full block and many were on top of the near-by buildings.

Besides these attractions, there were others Saturday which came as surprises to the crowd. A "Human Fly" climbed the Citizens State bank building and stood on his head on the corner, and a human glass eater demonstrated his ability to eat glass, razor blades etc. to the crowd.

Another $25 will be awarded by the merchants again next Saturday. It is announced, and the public is invited to be present. SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Charles E. Dunn
 The Effects of Alcoholic Drinks
 Lesson for March 19. Proverbs 23:29-32.

Golden Text: Proverbs 23:32.
 The book of Proverbs is a most admirable treasury of the popular wisdom of Israel. One would have to search long to find a better guidebook for the pilgrimage of life. The twenty-third chapter from which the lesson is taken, contains the most complete and lively picture of drunkenness in the Old Testament. We can see the carouser lingering long, with bleary eyes, over the bottle. And we are warned that if we follow his path, our vision and speech shall become queer, our nerves insensible to tempest or pain and we shall long for an awakening from our drunken slumbers to return to acchanalian revels.

So much energy has been exhausted in the heated discussion concerning prohibition that the detrimental effects of alcohol upon character have been almost entirely forgotten. In many circles the use of hard liquor is considered an indispensable adjunct to hospital; the harmful are ignored.

It is true that everyone admits the evil of drinking to excess. Moderate drinking, however, is usually looked upon as harmless. Now that the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment seems certain, it is to be expected that the European custom of imbibing wine and beer of relatively low alcoholic content will come to be generally considered a normal social habit. It remains to be seen to what extent the American people will exercise due self-control.

But even if moderate drinking becomes the rule, rather than the exception, it does not follow that we are safe. For life has become highly mechanical and complex. Jesus and His disciples doubtless drank wine. But there was no machinery of consequence in their day, no railroad, no automobile, no airplane. Life has speeded up enormously with the result that a slight error in judgement, of no moment in the days of old, may now easily result in a fatal accident. It is undeniable that one drink of alcoholic liquor is sufficient to make an automobile driver a possible murderer.

Sobriety, then, is today essential.

WOMEN: watch your BOWELS

What should women do to keep their bowels moving freely? A doctor should know the answer. That is why pure Syrup Pepsin is so good for women. It just suits their delicate organism. It is the prescription of an old family doctor who has treated thousands of women patients, and who made a special study of bowel troubles.

It is fine for children, too. They love its taste. Let them have it every time their tongues are coated or their skin is sallow. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients.

When you've a sick headache, can't eat, are bilious or sluggish; and at the times when you are most apt to be constipated, take a little of this famous prescription (all drug stores keep it ready in big bottles), and you'll know why Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the favorite laxative of over a million women!

Which means far more
To the fainting heart
Than shelter and bread
And wine.
For shelter is gone
When the night is o'er
And the bread lasts only a day,
But the touch of the hand
And the sound of a voice
Sing on in the soul always.

BOOKS ARE FRIENDS

Everyone knows that if a person dresses unsuitably he is often obscuring the good qualities of his personality. When you see a person whose general appearance is unattractive do you especially want to become intimately acquainted with that person? The answer is NO! The same answer would apply to a book which is battered, dirty and unpleasant to the eye. You would have no desire to partake of its contents.

Books, like humans, can be kept well only by loving kindness and care. You should consider the first signs of wear in a book as danger signals and act accordingly, because small tears and wears grow and finally the book becomes unusable. Dust left long on a book leaves grit and grime and everyone knows that this substance is difficult to remove.

If end papers are replaced as soon as they get mussed the book will be helped to a pleasant appearance and a longer life. Loose stitches should be tightened and replaced. Pages should be straightened or reinforced, stitches should be taken to loosened joints and crooked hinges repaired.

In other words, a "stitch in time saves nine."
A new book should be laid flat on the desk and page by page should be pressed down. Books should not be bent sharply, for bending a book until the two back covers touch is a swift way to destruction. Covers are very advantageous. They not only preserve books but are a means of cleanliness and sanitation.

Let us not destroy books, which are man's tools for the control of nature.

HOW TO WIN PREFERENCE WITH EMPLOYERS

When executives need office help, they want someone who is trained to do the work from the first day, and who has the broad knowledge of business which will make his or her services more and more valuable as time goes by.

Because we have placed so many young people in offices in the past, our school has built up a reputation among employers. They know that they can rely upon our recommendations; therefore many of them call us first when there is an opening.

While positions are by no means plentiful through any avenue at this time, we feel sure that our Employment Department can give you a better chance for a good position than would be available to you through your own efforts or from other sources. The Employment Department of the Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration is, perhaps, better known throughout the United States than the employment department of any other school.

If you are interested in Executive Secretarial work, Senior Accounting, Junior Accounting, Radio Engineering, Telegraphy, Cotton Classing, Shorthand and Typewriting, or any similar course of study, you should investigate the training and the Employment Service we offer you. We shall be glad to furnish our big free catalog, "Achieving Success in Business," to any young person who desires to train themselves for business. Address the Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration, Tyler, Texas. (Adv.)

A CORRECTION

In the ad of Sanitary Cafe last week in The Herald, the ad read: "An invitation. Come in and eat with us today for tomorrow you may have the opportunity to enjoy such delicious foods." And it should have read: "Come in and eat with us today for tomorrow you may NOT have the opportunity to enjoy such delicious foods." We are sorry this error occurred but are glad to make this correction.

Mrs. T. S. Edwards was ill last week.

Better Lighting Will Ease Your Budget Worries

There are budgets that really will work . . . budgets that will show how to bring expenses within income! But they weren't created at a dark and gloomy desk . . . they were the result of calm and intelligent analysis under the cheering atmosphere of good light.

It's surprising what a difference adequate lighting makes! . . . Troubles take on a less terrifying aspect when subjected to the clear, eye-soothing brilliance of the modern electric light. It's not only much easier to work, but the absence of eye-strain keeps your mind clear and alert.

Next time you sit down to plot out the month's expenses, or to write a letter, be sure your light is adequate. You'll find the difference amazing!

A trained employe will be happy to inspect your home-lighting arrangements. There's no obligation, of course . . . and chances are that a simple rearrangement of your present fixtures, or adjustments giving you adequate sized lamps where they're needed, will be all that's necessary.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?
