Large Crowd Present For Dedication Of PM Center

Approximately 900 people were on hand last Thursday for the dedication of the Plant Materials Center located four miles northwest of Knox City. Over 740 persons registered from Texas. Others registered from Washington, D. C., Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Nebraska. Interested visitors came from such widely scattered points in Texas as San Benito, Laredo, Nacogdoches, Mt. Pleasant, El Paso, and Dumas. Over 50 representatives of Texas and Oklahoma colleges and universities and other agricultural agencies attended.

The number was less than anticipated mainly due to the fog that covered this entire area for several hours Thursday morning. Several who had planned to come by plane could not do so. However, by the time the tours were underway, the 80-degree weather was perfect, and with the cloud coverage, those who were unable to get seats under the huge tent, sat outside very comfortably and enjoyed the program.

Key speaker was Donald A. Williams, national administrator of the SCS from Washington, D. C. Mr. Williams told the crowd that it was more than a dedication, it was a milestone in soil and water conservation in this region. He called upon those present to dedicate themselves to getting on with the job of pursuing the means of controlling erosion in critical areas in this region and contributing to the productivity and beautification of millions of acres of land.

In a surprise ending, Williams announced that the name of the Center would be known as the James E. (Bud) Smith Plant Materials Center of Knox City, honoring Smith as "the driving force behind the development here."

Smith, from San Antonio, attended the dedication with his wife and also his sister, Mrs. R. L. McCaig of Wichita Falls.

Recognized as special guests at the program were Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Graham of Knox City. Their son, Clyde, a former Knox City resident, served as Assistant State Conservationist at Temple prior to his assignment in Washington, D. C., as Director of the Watershed Planning Division.

Tours were made by wagon-loads of visitors being pulled around the 60-acre plot by pickup trucks. More than 1,000 species of grass, forbs and woody plants were inspected. The center is managed by Arnold Davis, assisted by Howard Carleton and Ulric Lea, all of Knox City.

Many people helped make the dedication a success. Among the local groups assisting last Thursday were the Knox City Chamber of Commerce, the Knox City Lions Club, the Knox City Future Farmers of America and their advisor, Leon Burkham, and the Wichita-Brazos Soil and Water Conservation District. Numerous local people helped with the registration, cold drink stand, and other important tasks. Without all of this excellent help, the dedication would not have been successful.

Several of the out-of-town visitors commented on the fine hospitality displayed by the Knox City folk. The inspection team from Washington, D. C., made special mention of this in its report to the Administrator.

An open house for the wives of the visiting officials was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ulric Lea. Assisting were the wives of the Plant Materials Center employees and the SCS. These included Mrs. Arnold Davis, Mrs. Howard Carleton, Mrs. Arche Lieb, Mrs. Wesley Robbins, Mrs. Charles Spencer, and Mrs. Lea.

FFA BOYS TAKE LAST TOUR — The FFA boys are pictured as they made the last tour of the day. Pictured (l to r) are Paul Graham, Randy Hise, Floyd Baker, David Speck, Mike McKinney, and Johnny Carver. These boys helped in parking the cars and in many other valuable duties.

If anyone failed to get a calendar, you may call Mrs. John Egenbacher, president of the organization, or Mrs. John Crownover, chairman of the sale, before the deadline, Tuesday, September 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Hap Bussa and twin daughters, Tonya and Renee, new residents of O'Brien, were dinner guests in the Bill Anderson home last week. The Andersons and Bussas worked together fifteen years ago at Cedar Lake between Lamesa and Brownfield. Mr. Bussa is associated with Service Pipe Line, and Mr. Anderson is an employee of Pan American.

CALL IN LOCALS

Oct. Draft Call For State Is 977 Men

State draft boards are scheduled to forward 4,000 young men for pre-induction mental and physical examinations in October. Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, announced Thursday.

This same number of young men are being forwarded for pre-induction examinations in September.

The state's 155 draft boards will be called upon to furnish 977 men for induction in October. This compares with quotas of 1,180 for September, 1,421 for August, 974 for July, 975 for June, and 885 for May. Local board quotas for induction and pre-induction examination in October already have been figured and sent to the state's 155 draft boards. The Texas quota of 977 for October is the state's share of a national call of 17,000, all for a national.

Greyhounds To Journey To Aspermont Friday

The Knox City Greyhounds will travel to Aspermont for the football game Friday, September 15 at 8 p.m. Everyone is encouraged to attend this game and back our boys!

In Friday night's game with Rochester, the Greyhounds lost 36-20. However, the game was not as one-sided as the score would indicate. Knox City scored in the first quarter with Rick Barnard carrying the ball. The conversion failed. In the second quarter Rochester scored and made good the sweep across for the extra two points. During the third quarter Rochester scored twice, and Knox City's Mike Newton ran the ball across for a K. C. TD on a quarterback sneak. Shortly after this, Newton was injured and had to leave the game. Tommy Waldrip also suffered an injury during the last quarter. Paul Graham scored on a quarterback keeper in the fourth quarter making the score 28-20 in Rochester's favor. Rochester closed the scoring in the latter part of the quarter, after intercepting a K. C. pass, but the conversion failed. Final score was 36-20. Coach O'Neal Weaver said he was very pleased with the hard effort put forth by all the Greyhounds. He and many of the fans think our boys are "looking up."

Servicemen In Viet Nam To Receive "Ditty" Bags

Want to spend Christmas in Viet Nam? Of course not, but many young Americans will. It is the responsibility of the American Red Cross to make this Christmas as good as possible.

This year the American Red Cross has set a goal of a million ditty bags for servicemen. The Knox County chapter has set its quota at 200 bags.

These are small bags filled with personal articles hard to obtain in Viet Nam.

We need help getting some of the items together. Each kit will contain: Ballpoint pen, paperback book, plastic soap case, small address book, small package of writing paper (with self sealing envelopes), plastic toothbrush holder, Terry cloth washcloth (other than white or light color), nail clippers, plastic cigarette cases, comb;

Also pocket games (small enough to carry in pocket. Such as small playing cards, checkers, checkers, pinocle), small tin of nuts or candies (vacuum packed), windproof cigarette lighters, small plastic bag (sandwich type - not waxpaper) (sandwich type - not waxpaper), "Wipe and Shine" packet of shoe polish.

(Note: No liquids, glass containers, combustibles, food, or any item that would melt or deteriorate in heat should be included.)

Boxes will be placed in all stores in each community, and post offices to receive the pocket books that you have read. Be sure they are in good condition. Also jars will be placed in as many stores as possible so you can send your change to Viet Nam for a more happy Christmas.

Kenneth Crownover of Knox City is serving as co-chairman of Knox Co. with Mrs. W. R. Moore Jr. of Munday.

Firms who have contributed items to the bags are Hops Pharmacy, Jones Drug Store, Knox City News Stand, and Perry Brothers Variety Store. Mrs. Vera Newton, Knox City homemaker teacher, and the homemaking classes are making the denim bags for the project, and the Junior Girl Scouts are filling the bags.

Mr. Crownover emphasized that anyone willing to donate money to this worthwhile project could do so in the containers placed in the stores. The money will be used to purchase the desired items. Knox City's quota is 100 bags. Let's all care enough to remember these boys away from home this Christmas!

The United States Coast Guard Cutter "Westwind" has an armor plated bow designed to thrust a pressure of 6,000 tons as it breaks ice.

Chairman, Mrs. Neil Perdue. Coffee and doughnuts will be served at the Country Club at 8:30 a.m. and tee-off time is set for 9 a.m.

A salad luncheon will begin at 11:30 a.m. Mrs. Perdue reported that last year they had a good turnout, and it is hoped that this year's tourney will be a big one. She said that any interested parties might contact her, and that carts would be furnished on request.

Three-Year-Old K.C. Boy Safe After 3-Hour Search

Three-year-old Charles Idol, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Idol of Knox City, was found in a cotton field about 2 1/2 miles east of here last Friday night about 10:30 o'clock.

The boy's mother missed him and began looking for him about 7:45 p.m. Neighbors joined the search, and after more searching in vain, the sheriff's department was notified. The fire alarm was sounded by officials in order to form a search party. Also, the announcer at the football game in Greyhound stadium asked for volunteers at the half-time. Many Knox City as well as Rochester men joined in the search.

A searchlight finally picked up the reflection of the eyes of one of the two dogs accompanying the small boy. Bill Lusk, Texas Highway Patrolman stationed here, accompanied by another patrolman, Roy Daniels, also of Knox City, and several groups of individuals found the boy unharmed and apparently, unfrightened and calm.

Grandparents of the child are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Idol of Benjamin.

LIVESTOCK OUTLOOK UP FOR DISCUSSION

The long term outlook for livestock will be one of the main topics of discussion during the annual Livestock and Meat Marketing Institute to be at Texas A&M University September 21-22.

Dr. Robert Reiser of the Western Livestock Marketing Information Project in Denver, Colorado will present his views on the subject at 8:30 a.m. the second day.

Kenneth Wolf, Extension Economist - Agribusiness at Texas A&M University and the Institute's Publicity Chairman, said the two day session is designed for producers, meat processors and marketers.

"More than 300 persons are expected to attend," Wolf said. "Much of the program will be devoted to discussions by panel members down from all segments of the livestock and meat marketing industry."

RAINS COULD WORSEN SCREW-WORM SITUATION

Rainfall in much of the barrier zone along the U. S. - Mexico border could cause an increase and spread of screw-worms report officials of the eradication program from Mission. They emphasize that the fall buildup last year began in mid September and carried into December. To avert this situation, the officials urge stockmen to treat all animal wounds, collect worm samples for positive identification and follow good management practices in working livestock.

PUBLICATION MP833 OF INTEREST

New Publication MP833 should be of interest to Knox County horse owners, including 4-H Club members. This publication has just recently been released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

MP-833 "Insect Mite and Tick Parasites of Texas Horses" are available through the County Agents Office in the County Court House.

It is designed to furnish handy reference information on the common parasites which attack horses in the state.

Included are discussions on the life history, habits and damage done by horse bot flies, horse lice, mange mites, ticks and biting flies.

Because of frequent changes in control recommendations no control measures are given in the publication. These are available at the office.

Horse owners are invited to pick up the new publication as well as the one on control recommendations.

STURDY WHEAT RECOMMENDED FOR IRRIGATED FIELDS

A new wheat variety, Sturdy, is being recommended as one of the promising irrigated small grain crops.

Sturdy is a short growing wheat with good standing ability under most growing conditions. Plant height is normally 8 to 10 inches shorter than many of the standard varieties which have been grown in Knox County the last few years. Sturdy often matures at about 22 inches tall.

According to Mr. Keith Lehr, Assistant Agronomist at the Chillicothe Experiment Station one reason for not recommending Sturdy for dryland production is that under dry conditions it may be too short to harvest good.

Test weight of Sturdy is fair, but not up to most of the varieties grown in the County recently.

Two other varieties which will be used in irrigated or dryland fields in Knox County are Caddo and Improved Early Triumph. Sturdy is likely to be 2 or 3 days later maturing than Improved Early Triumph, but may be slightly ahead of Caddo.

Now that we are Sophomores I think we are not considered now to be quite so dumb as we were last year, but I think that some of us have pulled some pretty silly stunts already this week.

K.C.H.S. Requirements

By WARD M. COOKSEY, PRINCIPAL
The subject of graduation requirements differs from state to state and school to school. The state of Texas sets up a minimum requirement that each school district within the state must meet, but each district may elect to require more than the minimum if it desires. For instance many schools give credit for band, P. E. and athletics, but they also require that many additional credits to graduate.

Hospitals And You!

Perhaps, you have wondered why so many questions are asked when you are admitted as a patient to the hospital. You find yourself having to remember your middle name which you haven't used for years. You have to sometimes "dig" to remember the actual day, month, and year of your birth, where you were born, the church you attend, and many other questions about yourself that may seem unnecessary to you.

increase in the number of services which make diagnosis and treatment more precise and more effective, the medical record has become increasingly important and increasingly complex.

Did you ever pick up the telephone directory of a large city and turn the pages to find how many people were listed with the same name as yours? You may realize from doing this that there are often four to six "Carl Smith's" listed but only ONE "Carl Arnold Smith."

Each time your doctor sees you in the hospital, he checks your medical record which shows how and when his orders were carried out; the results of tests he ordered, your temperature chart, pulse rate chart and all the nursing notes of your day-to-day care and progress.

When Carl A. Smith is admitted, the hospital is interested in only ONE "Carl A. Smith" and that is "Carl Arnold Smith."

The medical record legally belongs to the hospital. The hospital is charged with its maintenance, storage and safety. It becomes a permanent record of the hospital and except

Interns In Newspaper Work

Approximately 60 per cent of the interns under the Texas Daily Newspaper Association's 19 year-old summer internship program have taken jobs on newspapers following graduation, according to a study conducted by Dr. DeWitt Reddick, director of the University of Texas School of Communications.

Additional research conducted by TDNA supports the thesis that the internship was a significant factor in the decisions that brought many interns to newspaper work.

For the safety and convenience of travelers, the Texas Highway Department--marking 50 years of public service during National Highway Week, Sept. 24-30 -- maintains more than 1,100 safety rest areas, roadside parks and scenic turn-outs.

Streams In Desert Places
BY OZELLE STEPHENS

"...we make our prayers unto our God, and set a watch against them day and night..." Nehemiah 4:9.
When Nehemiah was given the news about the remnant of the Jews in Jerusalem and that the wall was broken down, he wept, he mourned and prayed. Then he got permission to go down and rebuild the city. The surrounding nation became angry and got ready to fight them.
Nehemiah encouraged his people and said, "We have made our prayers unto our God and set a watch against them day and night. ...He not ye afraid of them; remember the Lord, which is great and terrible and fight." They not only prayed and trusted God to do his part but also assumed their obligation. So must we as Christians do something every day. Some may use prayer to be lazy. May we ever be ready to fight for the cause.

Family Car Serves As Living Room On Trips

For millions of Americans the family car becomes an extension of the home living room during vacation travel. This has led the home safety division of the Greater New York Safety Council to issue a bulletin on family vacation motoring with emphasis on the comfort and safety of youngsters.

Prepared by Mrs. Marjorie B. May, director of home safety, the bulletin advises that one adult assume the specific responsibility of reading to the children, tending to their care and otherwise keeping them from annoying the driver. It suggests such games as identifying birds or out-of-state license plates or keeping count of cows or red barns on opposite sides of the road.

Seat belts are called a necessity for all over six, with approved harness or seat for younger children and car bed for the baby. While stressing the need for safety locks on car doors, Mrs. May says that removing rear door handles to keep youngsters from opening the doors constitutes a hazard. When there are several chil-

Another Ice Age Possible

Air pollution is changing the weather and could bring on another ice age if atmospheric conditions are right, according to Dr. James P. Lodge, a chemist at the National Center for Atmospheric Research in Boulder, Colo.

More likely, according to Dr. Lodge, we will just have a substantial number of years without any summer in cities across the northern United States.

"But, we really don't know enough about the dynamics of the atmosphere to be certain," he added, "I think it's safe to say that whatever may come, it's going to be distinctly less comfortable."

Dr. Lodge was chairman of a session at a meeting in Cleveland, Ohio of the Air Pollution Control Association.

An ominous sign, he pointed out, is that "the glaciers of the Pacific Northwest have stopped shrinking. They have shown no measurable net changes in three or four years."

Children, periodic rotation of seats is advised, with "quiet periods" for resting or napping on long trips.

Waggoner-Speer Wedding Of Interest In Knox City

Of interest to many Knox Cityans was the August 25 wedding of Miss Rosalyn Waggoner, granddaughter of Mrs. J. A. Wilson, to Mr. Robert E. Speer at the Central Church of Christ of Cleburne.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard C. Waggoner of Cleburne. Her father presented her in marriage and officiated at the double ring ceremony. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Speer of Haskell.

Decorations for the bridal setting included eight-seven candelabra, holding votive candles, a large arrangement of white gladioli and pom pom chrysanthemums, palm trees and potted palms of jade and emerald greenery. The aisle pews were marked with votive candles and leather leaf greenery. Family pews were designated with addition of white satin ribbon.

Wedding music was presented by a male quartet from Irving.

Her jewelry was a diamond drop necklace, a gift from the bridegroom and in bridal tradition, she had her something "old, new, borrowed and blue" in her attire and an English two-pence in her shoe.

The bride's mother chose pink lace with handmade matching hat and the bridegroom's mother wore a lace dress in a deeper shade of pink. Their corsages were contrasting shades of pink roses.

The bride's book was on a white satin covered table in the foyer, featuring an appropriate arrangement. Miss Jane Chrietberg registered the wedding guests as they arrived.

A reception followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall.

The bride left the reception wearing a costume suit of textured tweed in muted shades of cranberry with black accessories, wearing a glameilla corsage.

All the lights in town are on. It's 9:00 p.m. Saturday night in Rochester. All the stores are still doing business plus an extra auction across the street. This custom is a holdover from the horse and buggy days when the only certain time a family would go to town would be Saturday night.

I remember when our family used to go to Knox City, all scrubbed and polished and sit in the car and just watch people walk by. The grown-ups would socialize. Then we'd wind up the evening with an ice cream cone and go home.

Saturday nights bind a town closely together. When towns get larger, business pressures increase, merchants want to spend more time at home with their families and the weekend night lights go out.

If you want to recapture the feeling of a town in harmony, why not spend a Saturday night at Rochester.

Did you know that a doctor in an area town prescribes birth control pills for high school girls?

In this same town, the teenage girls, as a whole, have a reputation that is sinking steadily lower.

As one high school boy put it, "I'm a normal boy and take advantage of what is offered, but I would like to go with a nice girl once in a while."

Therein lies the moral to this little tale: Pre-marital sex, however 'protected' you may be, has always been, is now and forever will be labelled 'normal' for boys, and for girls 'promiscuous.'

Ripe olives are packed in modern and sanitary canneries, insuring their wholesomeness and absolute purity.

THANK YOU

We wish to express our gratitude to the people of Knox City who contributed so much to make the dedication a success.

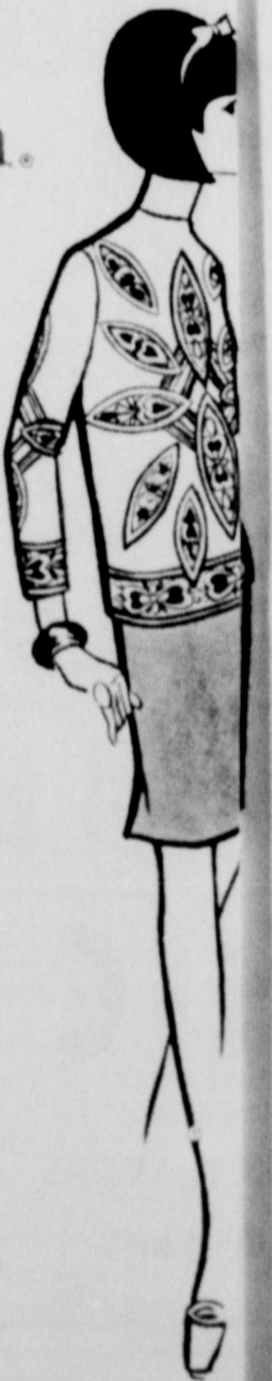

The warm welcome extended by the people of Knox City will be long remembered by the out of town visitors.

Truscott News

BY RUTH BROWN

Mrs. H. A. Smith resigned this week as Truscott correspondent for the Knox County Herald. Mrs. Smith was one of the first registered nurses in North Texas. She began writing the Truscott column several years ago when she retired from active nursing duties. She has spent most of her life in Truscott, having arrived here as a three-month-old baby in 1885 with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Craig who came to Truscott from Boyd in Wise County. Mr. Craig was a prominent pioneer rancher in Knox County. Mrs. Smith is the widow of H. A. Smith, who was a long-time employee of the Humble Company. Mrs. Smith said she is retiring from the "second profession" for reasons of health. She spent some time at the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock in August but is at home now.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Haynie of Crowley were in Truscott Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Williams of Archer City spent Saturday night and Sunday with the Ray Glasscocks.

thus become less prone to injury. Good officiating makes for better games and also helps to protect players. Proper equipment and facilities also are important to reduce injuries. Good first aid procedures and medical care, with a physician readily available for practice drills and on the bench during games, are major factors in cutting down on serious injuries.

Precautions against the extreme heat of early season days also are important. Many coaches are now scheduling the hot weather workouts in early morning and late afternoon to avoid the heat of the day. The old rule against drinking water during drills and games has long since been proved invalid and dangerous. Water and salt is necessary to replace fluids lost through copious sweating.

If your boy is playing on an organized team, the chances are good that all of these safeguards are observed. If most of his playing is done on a vacant lot in the afternoon and on Saturdays, it becomes the parents' responsibility to see that the player has the benefit of the safe guarding principles.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Home Owner Vs. Airplane

In the early days of commercial aviation, a home owner went to court with a startling demand.

"This airline is flying its planes directly over my land," he said. "Yet, according to law, an owner of land also owns the earth below and the space above—all the way up to heaven. Therefore, these planes are trespassing in my private airspace. I demand an injunction to have them stopped."

The home owner did have a point. The "up to heaven" theory had, in fact, been an accepted rule of law for centuries. Under it, home owners had won injunctions against everything from overhanging branches to intruding telephone wires.

Nevertheless, the court held it would be absurd to apply this ancient doctrine to modern aviation. As one judge put it:

"Every transcontinental flight would subject the operator to countless trespass suits. Common sense revolts at the idea."

But tougher issues lay ahead. What about those home owners who lived close to airports? They complained not just of a technical trespass, high in the air, but of the roar and vibration of aircraft passing right overhead.

A harassed chicken farmer became the symbol of their plight. In a case fought all the way to the Supreme Court, he charged that his terrified chickens were dashing themselves to death against the walls of their coop.

"My farm," he said, "has been ruined for raising chickens."

This time, the farmer won compensation. The court said that, even though planes had a right to fly through his airspace, he was entitled to be paid for that portion of his property value that had been "taken" from him.

Ever since the chicken farmer's victory, the law has been gradually harmonizing the traditional rights of private property with the emerging necessities of the air age. It has refused to let private rights arbitrarily block progress; it has also refused to let the price of progress fall unfairly on individual property owners.

The ancient Romans had their problems with women drivers, too. According to Petroleum Today, lady chauffeurs were not permitted to drive in the city on Sundays or during times of heavy traffic.

For Football--- Physical Exam Is Important

Football season is here again. All over the nation American males are tossing and kicking and running with footballs, all the way from eight-year-olds in the backyard to junior and senior high and college teams to the big bruisers of the professional leagues.

Football is a rough contact sport and inevitably will produce its full quota of bumps and bruises, strains and sprains, cuts and gashes. Most of these aren't serious and the lads concerned get back in the game shortly.

A thorough medical examination is highly important for boys preparing to go out for football to make certain that a lad has no physical conditions that should be noted before he begins the rigorous training and hard knocks of the game.

Proper physical conditioning hardens the body and increases resistance to fatigue, thus helping to prevent injury. A minimum of three weeks of conditioning are recommended prior to the first game of the season. Coaches and physicians are alert to the fact that many injuries occur when the player is tiring and thus less alert.

Careful coaching enables the players to perform better and

Whirling Beauties Popular With New Car Purchasers

Distinctive artistry and variety of design in stainless steel wheelcovers have won increased popularity for the gleaming discs among new car buyers. According to Ward's Automotive Reports, 77.6% of all new cars purchased during the first quarter of the current model year were fitted with full-wheel discs as standard or optional equipment—up from 74% in '66. This gain continues a steady upward spiral which began in the late '50's.

Over the past several years, the radiant symmetry of the wheelcover has become an increasingly important styling element on new cars, particularly on those which use body brightwork sparingly. The road-level lustre of stainless discs enhances a car's styling and dramatizes its "personality" and its performance capabilities. As recently as 1960, only about half the new cars were equipped with covers, the others were fitted with smaller, less elegant hub caps.

More than 20 thousand bridges are on the 68 thousand miles of Texas highways.
