

W.A. TURNS DOWN CLYDE SCHOOL BUILDING

CLYDE, Oct. 26—Folks here are pondering the justice of a government which overtook an "act of the elements" and withholds PWA funds for reconstruction of a tornado wrecked school building while at the same time leading a friendly ear to requests for taxpayers money, to which they've contributed, for the purpose of duplicating, and competing with, private industry.

This little town, plunged into sadness last June when a tornado ripped through its residential section to claim fourteen lives and destroy twenty-one homes and a two story brick school building, today is grasping for a straw by which a new structure can be built without the aid of PWA money.

An application for $20,713 first was approved. Then it was withdrawn by PWA officials who said projects okayed in 1937 had drained the Texas share of the appropriation. School patrons here felt that no project could be more urgent and at first they were assured that it would receive preference over all others in the state. The project was received in Fort Worth on June 26.

Time after time the newspapers announced PWA loans and grants for other projects, even some without the avowed purpose of rebuilding or aiding a public cause but to destroy by duplicating adequate local taxpaying power systems whose electric rates are below similar city hall systems, many of which projects, they learned, were sought long after the request was made for aid in restoring the "little red school-house" torn asunder by a terrible wind.

Then came the verdict that there is no money left for Texas—and, besides, "evidently the school district has sufficient funds to make replacements without the aid of the federal government." This was because Clyde had gone ahead and let a contract for repair of the building in hopes that it would be ready for opening of the fall term.

Now the children of Clyde are attending makeshift classes in the town's church buildings. Whether their teachers will train them to "love and respect the big and good Fathers at Washington remains yet to be seen.

KNOX CITY GIRL AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP

The Janet Collett Scholarship, given to the Curtian Club by Janet Collett, Austin dancing teacher, has been awarded to Yvonne Jamison of Knox City and Allen Ludden of Corpus Christi.

The scholarship, which gives a year of dance instruction to Miss Jamison and Ludden, was awarded Thursday at a meeting of the board of governors of the Curtian Club.

Miss Jamison and Ludden are probationary acting members of the Curtian Club at the University of Texas, and both have been cast for parts in the Club's first production of the year, "Idiot's Delight", which will be presented November 1, 2, 3 and 4.

MUNDAY FARMERS TO PLANT ACOLO COTTON

A number of Munday farmers are planning to plant a large bloc of Acola cotton for 1939, stated Emmitt Partridge, manager of the Farmers Union Gin at Munday.

Mr. Partridge is already booking orders for planting seed for 1939.

To date 150 bales of Acola cotton have been sold in the special subsidized pool. The first 50 bales brought an average of 9.58 cents per pound, and the remainder brought an average of 9.78 cents per lb.

P. O. Blankenship has sold the highest cotton in this section, his cotton bringing 10.37 cents per pound. It was graded as Good Middling and stapled 1 1-16 inches.

EASY TO SPEND BUT HARD TO PAY BACK

"It's too easy to spend; and too hard to pay back" is the editorial comment of the San Angelo Standard Times on the press announcement of bankruptcy in a once thriving West Texas City, Eastland.

"A city is bankrupt, because it spent more money than it can repay" is the ominous warning set forth in the editorial which also reminds that "property owners in 32 West Texas counties during the ensuing year will pay an aggregate tax bill in excess of two million dollars, an increase of $120,000 over last year"—these being only the counties in the San Angelo area.

A news story carrying the tax survey calls attention to the fact that tax rates in several instances were lowered—but valuations increased! It is easy to see that the taxpayer profits nothing in such cases and that it is a means of deceiving him into believing "taxes are being lowered."

This is a favorite method of deception in towns having municipal light plants. "Tax-free towns" are a myth soon unveiled when viewed in the light of facts as revealed by city audits and the Texas Bond Reporter.

The promise of lower electric rates is equally deceiving. At Austin, where a municipal light plant long has been in service, citizens were promised the overdue low rates when the source of power could be transferred to the Lower Colorado River Authority's Buchanan Dam project. But when the government-subsidized power at last was obtained, City Hall officials then met public clamor for the lower rates with the announcement that additional surveys would be necessary and that rate reductions would seriously handicap the city in re-paying public funds used in financing the project.

"Taking advantage of '55 cent dollars' offered by PWA and to match PWA allotments has increased bonded indebtedness approximately two million dollars" in the communities covered by the San Angelo Standard Times survey, says the editorial. "Some day, this program must reach an end and go into reverse, paying back what it has borrowed."

Mrs. Gene Clonts is representing the local Eastern Star Order at a meeting of the Grand Chapter in Houston all this week.

KEEP TO THE RIGHT!

I GIVE YOU TEXAS By Boyce House

There is a bit of sentiment attached to the living room of Paul Wakefield's picturesque Old World cottage on a hill above the Colorado at Austin. (As these lines are written, by the way, Major Wakefield is recovering in a Fort Worth hospital after undergoing an appendicitis operation.)

Wakefield, noted newspaper man and publicist, had been under fire for two weeks during the World War and when he and his men were relieved and given a respite in the peaceful surroundings of a French village, quarters were assigned him in one of the larger cottages. After days and nights of mud, dugouts, barbed wire and shell fire, Wakefield entered the living room. High above him were rafters; comfortable chairs were about, a table was covered with immaculate linen and with beautiful chinaware and gleaming silver; and, in the big, old-fashioned fireplace, a fire was blazing.

And so, when he was planning his own cottage in Austin, Wakefield reproduced, as near as memory would permit, the house he remembered so well from the war.

Answering A. M., Aspermont:

I'm not sure what Governor Allred's favorite song is; more than likely, though, it's "I Like a Parade."

J. D. Hedlick, long in the service of the state at Austin, has many picturesque expressions. He described a skinny fellow: "His Adam's apple was an eight-inch plunge."

In Eastland a lone placard from last summer's campaign is still on an electric light pole which was used by a mob ten years ago in lynching the Santa Claus bandit.

One of my favorite stories (and it happens to be true):

In early days in the Mansker Lake community, near Hogtown, in Eastland county, an old justice of the peace tried a man for carrying a pistol and sentenced him to three years in the State penitentiary. The constable set out in a buggy with his prisoner. As they were eating lunch in Stephenville, a lawyer asked the officer:

"What are you taking him to Huntsville for?"

"Three years."

"I mean for what offense?" the lawyer persisted.

"For carrying a pistol."

"Good heavens!" the attorney exclaimed. "That's only a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine and, at most, a jail sentence. If he was accused of something that would subject him to prison, he would have to be tried before a district judge in Eastland; your justice of the peace doesn't have any jurisdiction in a felony."

So the constable returned to Mansker Lake, released his man, and reported to the old squire:

"That lawyer said you didn't have jurisdiction."

"Jurisdiction, h—! It happened right here in my precinct, didn't it?" the old justice snorted. "I'm going to resign."

METHODIST CHURCH

There will be no preaching services at our church Sunday. You are urged to attend the revival at the Baptist church. The pastor will be in attendance at the District League Meeting at Westover Saturday and Sunday. We want all our young people who can do so to attend the District Meeting at Westover.

Our Fourth Quarterly Conference will meet next Wednesday, November 2, at 7:30 p. m. At this meeting stewards for next year will be chosen. Rev. E. B. Bowen will preside.

Schedule of services: Church School, 9:45 a. m. Intermediate Epworth League, 7 p. m. Senior Epworth League, 7 p. m.

W. M. S., Monday 8 p. m. —Ural S. Sherrill, Pastor.

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

The revival in progress at the Baptist church will continue through Sunday, November 6. The pastor, Rev. H. E. East, is preaching and good singing is being led by Press Hitchcock, local choirster.

Among the subjects to be discussed during the remainder of the revival are the following: "The Devil's Hogen and How to Get Out"; "The Unpardonable Sin"; "A Man With a Head, a Wishbone, but no Backbone"; "If I Were the Devil, What I Would Do in Knox City"; "The Kindness of God"; and "Ghosts." The subject "Ghosts" will be discussed on Hallowe'en night (Monday) and everyone is urged to hear this message.

Services begin at 7:30. Every one come and enjoy the singing and the plain gospel preaching.

CEMETERY COMMITTEE MAKES REPORT

Chairman Anderson of the Cemetery Committee that was recently appointed at a mass meeting of the citizens of the town made their report to the citizens Tuesday morning at the Texas Theatre. They reported the amount of money collected and the amount spent in having the cemetery cleaned off.

The cemetery proper belongs to the I. O. O. F. lodge which has recently been abandoned and they left the cemetery in the hands of Dr. Denton and Walter Hyde. The Herald has been informed that these men are willing to turn the property over to any suitable organization who will assume charge of same. Chairman Sam Clonts asked that the regular committee be retained and it is the desire of the meeting that a Cemetery Association be formed at once and the property deeded over to this organization. The committee will probably be ready to make a report in the near future. The cemetery is now in good condition and the Herald believes that it is a wise idea for this organization to take charge at once.

RICE WARNS FARMERS TO CONTROL SMUT

Farmers are warned by County Agent Walter Rice to treat their seed wheat to control smut. The past season sixteen cars of wheat were shipped from Knox county which were docked from two to five cents per bushel because of smut.

The seed wheat should be treated before seeding to prevent smut in next year's crop, as crop insurance as well as to save a loss by dockage. The wheat should be treated with copper carbonate or new improved cerason. These products may be purchased at most drug stores in Knox county. Use about two ounces of the dust per bushel and mix thoroughly so that every kernel of wheat has a coating of the copper dust.

COTTON REPORT

Cotton is coming in slow this week and the gins are doing very little night work. It is said that eighty five per cent of the crop has been picked and ginned. The total ginned here up to noon today was 5437 bales. Cotton is selling for eight and a half cents and seed is bringing $24 per ton.

Mr. and Mrs. Henley Hamner were in Wichita Falls Monday on business.

Henry Jones of the Jones Drug Store spent several days in Austin last week on business.

Mrs. E. L. Huntsman and Miss Lois Huntsman were in Munday on business Tuesday.

Rev. Ural S. Sherrill and daughter, Betty Ann, were in Munday Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Coates of Munday spent Sunday here with relatives and friends.

Rev. Bryant of Sagerton brought some parties to the Knox City Clinic Wednesday for examination.

Rev. J. B. Baker of Gorce was in Knox City Friday of last week.

The Rule City Marshall was over Monday night taking in the carnival.

All Boys Play to Rack Up 53 to 17 Decision; Game Marked by Ragged Play

Following the example set by the girls' volleyball team, the Senior Boys Basketball club of the Knox City High School thoroughly trounced the weak Truscott club by a tussle of 53 to 17. The Greyhounds served warning upon their opponents of 1938 and 1939 of their formidableness in the forthcoming flag races.

Although the score shows outstanding superiority of the Knox City quintet over their Friday night opponents, the play of the locals was marked with early season raggedness that marred the victory for the Greyhound coach, Craig Walling. "Don't misunderstand me," said Walling after the game Friday night. "I am happy over the showing the boys made but the ragged play over such weak opponents shows me that we have a lot of work ahead of us to give Knox City the championship team they are expecting." Truly the Friday night contest was merely a season opener as the opposition did not show enough to give the locals a true test. After the game this Friday night with Sunset in that team's nest, fans will be able to get a true picture of the chances of the locals this year.

Jumping into a 20 to 0 lead by the middle of the second quarter the locals weakened to let Truscott score 8 points in succession to make the score 22 to 8 at half time. Soon after the second half opened Walling started substituting his second team who had run the score up to 53 to 17 by the end of the game. The surprise of the evening was the action of the second team who not only held the Truscott team but also scored time after time on apparently easy set-ups going playing heads-up ball to get in position. Some of the second stringers, particularly three, served notice on their more experienced brethren that someone is going to have to "hump" to maintain their position on the first club.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Patients in the Knox County Hospital this week are:

Emmitt Partridge, Munday; Earl Burgess, Gilliland; Faby Bobby Jean Eason, Haskell; George Best, Haskell; Eunice Redwine, Haskell; W. E. Sorrels, Knox City.

Patients dismissed from the hospital since last week:

Derward Horne, Gilliland; Mrs. Frank Allen, Bomarton; H. T. Cook, Gilliland; Paula Sue Trimmer, Gore; Mrs. O. L. Brummett, Truscott; C. V. Stout, Throckmorton; R. V. Speck, Rochester.

VISITS RELATIVES

Rev. Bedford Smith, pastor of the First Christian church in Henderson, Texas, was here this week enroute from the National Association of the Christian Church in Denver Colorado, to his new charge in Douglas, Arizona.

Rev. Smith was accompanied to his new home by his wife and child who have been visiting the past ten days in the home of Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller Herring and sons, Curtis and Kenneth, have returned to their home in California after spending a few days here with relatives and friends. They are former residents of Knox City.

Senator Clint C. Small of Amarillo, long an astute student of State affairs told a chamber of Commerce gathering at Pampa last week that the Legislature should levy no new taxes, pass as few laws as possible, and then go home.

This is a very simple formula, but it would do more to stimulate business and restore the people's confidence in the State government than four months of heated debate, high speed spending and aimless legislative efforts to regulate everything by statute.

Mr. Small is correct in his contention that people these days place too much reliance in the efficacy of legislation. Too many citizens believe that economic, social and moral ills of the country may be cured instantly by passing a law. They look to government for benefits which can be obtained only through concentrated private effort.

The people's blind faith in the power of laws has been reflected in Texas in recent years by a record breaking number of special sessions. The chief accomplishment of these extended lawmaking sprees has been to develop new ways of spending money by new taxes.

Today a large percentage of the people are over-taxed and over-regulated under existing laws. In addition they are worried to the point of exhaustion by threats of more taxation and more laws.

Citizens who bear the burdens would welcome with much enthusiasm a few years of Senator Small's program calling for a minimum of legislative activity.

—Houston Post.

A NEEDED REFORM

If all taxes were direct taxes in this country, says the Industrial News Review, it's a safe forecast that we'd have real tax reform and efficient government in a hurry.

For if that were the case, every one of us, on the average, would have to turn over 20 to 25 per cent of salary and other income to the tax collector every pay day. And that is based on the present system of government finance, where but part of the cost of government collected, economists state, more than 30 per cent of our income would go to government.

Whoever first thought of indirect taxation—that is, hidden taxes, levied against all the necessities and luxuries of life at the point of manufacture, production and distribution—was the best friend wasteful government ever had. Indirect taxation pulls the wool over the people's eyes, and promotes glib fallacies, such as "the rich pay the taxes—so why should you worry?"

There's a movement on foot to broaden the tax base, and collect more government revenue through direct taxation. It deserves support because this seems to be the only way that every citizen can be awakened to his tremendous personal interest in taxing problems.

NO MORE, PLEASE

It is quite evident from the report of the State comptroller that the taxable resources are rapidly expanding—enough to take care of any normal increase in State expenditures without additional tax burdens.

The Senate finance committee has said that State expenditures can be reduced materially during the next biennium program if economies were effected.

Based on the assumption that a reasonable liberalization of the old age pension program, the deduction is tenable that the existing deficit in the general revenue fund can be eliminated without tax increases.

This is the bright side of the picture.

But no one seems to know the tax views of the incoming governor. Legislative prognosticators prophesy in the January session demands for additional oil taxes, franchise taxes, other natural resource taxes, every kind of taxes. They see proposals for diversion of highway funds and a State income tax.

It can only be hoped that cooler heads will prevent an orgy of tax increasing legislation.

20 TO 30 PER CENT INCREASE IN RELIEF ROLLS PREDICTED

The attenuated Texas relief system will be strained almost to the breaking point if the coming winter is severe, relief officials believe.

State Director Adam R. Johnson predicts an increase of 20 to 30 per cent in relief rolls this winter, bringing the load during peak months to around 625,000, even if the weather is mild. This prediction is based upon the fact that applications for relief are coming in at an increased rate.

Part of the increase is believed due to the government's farm program with curtailment of acreage throwing out of employment many workers who know no work except farming.

These men would not be readily absorbed into industry even if trained for it, because what jobs are open are given to trained workers.

Chief function of the relief commission is the distribution of surplus commodities of the Federal government, and the carrying on of the work is hampered by the lack of administrative funds.

Johnson said he hoped to eke out present funds until the Legislature meets, when aid will be asked to continue the program of distributing surplus commodities and the CCC program. The commission has surplus commodities valued at $3,000,000 stored in warehouses and the Federal government requires a state agency for their distribution as well as for administration of the CCC work.

Administrative costs run about $20,000 per month.

FORD REDOUBLES WAR ON "HONKY-TONKS"

In September, the Texas Liquor Control Board, emboldened by favorable court decisions, sent out a letter to more than 18,000 holders of beer permits over the state warning "honky-tonks" and "joints" to clean up or get out of business.

"The courts of this state have fully sustained enactments of the Legislature giving this board adequate authority to revoke or suspend your license," the letter said. "The staff in the offices of the Board and its field representatives are now organized more efficiently than ever before. Local officers are affording closer cooperation than at any previous time."

"You are now informed that the place deserving to be called a "honky-tonk" or "beer joint" must change its methods or go out of business. The instruments for dealing with such places have now been forged and there is full determination to use them, and an insistent public demand that you clean up or get out."

No idle threat was the Board's blunt warning. Last week, State Liquor Control Administrator Bert Ford announced that the campaign to eliminate "honky-tonks" and "joints" had resulted in the suspension of 117 beer permits since September 1. The number did not include suspensions on other grounds than running disorderly places.

THE INSANE IN JAILS

An important bit of news for the humanitarian citizens of Texas is the announcement from Austin that hospital facilities will become sufficient during next Summer so that all insane can be removed from the county jails throughout the State. The additional space will be provided by completion of the State Hospital at Big Spring and of additions to already existing institutions where the mentally afflicted are housed.

Detention of scores of insane persons in prison is necessary in order to protect other persons and sometimes to save the patient himself from injury or death. At the same time, such confinement is essentially medieval, and often may aggravate mental affliction which might easily be cured by treatment in a proper institution.

A saving is evident for the taxpayer in this reclamation of mentally unsound persons for society. Ultimately, it should offset some of the outlay in building a new hospital and making additions to old ones. Such considerations, however, are second to the idea of extending the most humane treatment possible to the afflicted. One of the frontiers of the future will be the adoption of reforms designed to prevent insanity.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Important Announcement TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS

It is hard for many to meet all their bills. For this reason, we are urging our subscribers, those who are now delinquent and those whose subscriptions will come due in the next few months, to take care of their subscriptions, if at all possible, out of the first money that comes to them.

At $1.50 per year, a subscription to the Herald is one of the smallest items of expense a family has. It figures less than 3c per week, for which the reader gets local news, farm news, the most important national news, and valuable advertisements which will, if read, save far more than the subscription price each year.

But while the subscription price is small to the individual subscriber, it mounts up when multiplied by the number of subscribers we have. And when 50 or 100 become delinquent, the decreased revenue is big enough to be very noticeable when it comes to paying running costs and overhead.

The price of the paper on which the Herald is printed has advanced 25 per cent since January 1, 1938. Costs of other materials and supplies have likewise gone up. With the subscription price remaining the same, it is necessary that we collect subscriptions as soon as they become due in order to meet these increased expenses.

Our subscribers as a whole have been very faithful and punctual about renewing their subscription when it expires. We appeal to you to continue in that spirit, so that the Herald's service may not be impaired.

DAILY PAPER RATES

The Herald is now writing orders for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Wichita Daily Times and Record-News, Dallas Semi-Weekly Farm News, and Abilene Reporter, both singly and in clubs with this paper. The Star-Telegram is now $7.45 for Daily and Sunday, $8.45 including the Herald; $6.45 for Daily without Sunday, $7.40 including the Herald. An advance in this price after October 20 is indicated. The Wichita Daily Times and Record-News price this year is $5.50 for either one, Daily and Sunday. The price for either with the Herald is $6.50.

The price for both the Abilene Reporter-News and the Herald is $6.50. The rate for the Dallas Semi-Weekly Farm News is $1.00. $2.25 with the Herald.

HALLOWE'EN CARNIVAL

Following an old tradition of the school, a carnival will be held on Friday night, October 21, in the Benjamin School building. It will be sponsored by the student body of the school.

At 7:30 p. m. the curtain will be drawn down to make the beginning of an interesting program given by the students of the school. In this program there is an event which is something new to this school, and all the students are looking forward to the assurance of the popularity of the high school girls, a fact which this event will prove. A number of girls will be sold at auction to the highest bidder. Each girl will be fully costumed to the extent that she will not be recognized, and each has a gift which becomes the property of the man who buys the girl. Some of the boys hope that not only the girl but also the girl they buy will become their possession, if only for the evening.

Probably the most exciting thing about the Carnival is the Queen's race. Each class in the high school has selected its most beautiful girl to be its candidate for Queen. The girl receiving the most votes will be the winner and Queen of the Benjamin high school. In closing the program the Queen will be crowned, with all the other candidates participating in the coronation. Each class is confident of victory for their candidate.

After the program is concluded various booths will be opened for the patron's entertainment.

The money which is made at the Carnival will go into the athletic fund. We urge everyone to come, for we are sure that an enjoyable time will be had by all.

THE NEW SCHOOL

The Benjamin School Board met October 21 and employed the architects for a new school building, which is to cost $70,000. $20,000 is to be furnished in cash and $10,000 to be furnished in materials by the Benjamin school district.

Mr. W. W. Rice and Mr. Tom West measured the grounds and drew a plot of the building, trees, etc. showing the location. This was the first step taken toward starting the new building.

The community rejoices in the fact that Benjamin is going to get a new school building in the near future. The bond election carried the majority of 174 to 2. The entire student body appreciates the interest taken by the citizens toward providing a new, better, and more modern school building.

SENIOR NEWS

"Oh, the love bug'll get ye if ye don't watch out" might be a warning to the Seniors for we lost a classmate through the insidious bite of that old bug. Thelma Lee Hughes went down the matrimonial lane the other day with Carl Coalston. The Seniors hated to lose Thelma Lee, as she was an expert pianist and had a charming personality.

The Seniors sponsored a minstrel show Monday night, from which they received some handy cash. During the program, the Seniors presented the Queen of the Halloween Carnival (so the Seniors hope) to the public.

JUNIOR NEWS

This week finds the Juniors working against stiff competition, for we are trying to elect Her Royal Highness Queen Juanita Brown to reign over all High School. She is a very lovely southern girl, well suited for the throne. Of course, we are confident that we will win. And so, if you want to have a rip-roaring time come Friday night to the Benjamin High School and we will entertain you.

We are inviting you and we hope you will come and spend part of your time with us at the Bingo table—an enjoyment which has been the favorite of middle class people as well as nobility because it furnishes an opportunity for pleasure and profit. If you feel lucky come and play with us; if you don't feel lucky come anyway. You will be given pleasure and competition, but this game is all for one and one for all.

SOPHOMORE REPORT

Wanda Nunley and Wilda Mae Russell were nominated for Sophomore Queen. The results of a secret ballot election revealed that Wanda will represent the class in the coronation scene of the program at the Hallowe'en Carnival.

Immediately after the program the class will sponsor the Penny Pitch. We invite you to pitch your pennies for prizes and fun. Bring your friends to our booth and we will entertain you.

In addition to this, our class will be represented in the sale. Yes, we plan to auction two of our most charming girls. You can keep the prize that each girl possesses; you may keep the girl—who knows?

SPORTS

The ball teams of Benjamin went to Goree Friday night for their first games of the year. These were non-conference games.

The Senior boys basketball team was unable to have all of its players in condition, and lost their game to the stronger Goree team.

The girl's volleyball team, under the captainship of Polly Chamberlain, lost two out of three games.

The Junior boys basketball team, under the captainship of Alonzo Cartwright, had a little better luck and won their game with a score of 17 to 16.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
 Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
 Symptoms may be nagging backache, frequent headaches, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eye—a feeling of nervous tension and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
 There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

AMBITION

Ambition is the core of the industry of today. Executive power and control are the keys to success.

Few people know what the true meaning of ambition implies. It is more than just a symbol or an insignificant word for upon it lies the success and happiness of thousands of boys and girls. Ambition is the cause of the great success of American youth. Some who have a small desire to do something or acquire pleasure out of it call it ambition. It is prevalent in every boy and girl, to some extent, for that is only human nature. My conception of the word may somewhat vary from other viewpoints but when you came down to the basic principle it is practically the same. To me, ambition can only mean one thing, and that is success. We want something better than you already possess; to strive to gain; to create new ideas; to get a foothold, not only upon the world, but upon yourself. This is ambition. The development of yourself is the greatest profit you can reap from your efforts.

On your way to the top of the ladder you will undoubtedly step on others. But that is the way life goes. Someone will occupy an important position until he is swept away by a more capable and more efficient person. That person who gets to the top may be you or me. Then again we may be the one who is trampled upon.

The vital problem is this: You and I are both trying to succeed. The question is, will we be successful?

Those who have worldly riches do not have the chances that we do. They have nothing to strive for, but they could gain freedom of mind in knowing that through their own efforts they have reached the top of the heap.

So blow your horn, too! The biggest and most luxurious cars are not the only ones that can pull the hill. Just keep chugging and pulling with the car you have and you, too, will reach the top of the grade to voice your cry of victory to the world.

GREYHOUND BAND TO PLAY FOR BALL GAMES

The Knox City High School Greyhound band appears with the team each night that the basketball boys appear at home. The joy of seeing the Knox City teams triumph over Truscott was enhanced by the presence of the band, and the tiresome intermission between halves of the boys basketball game was enlivened by intricate marching and maneuvers. These were enjoyed by all the spectating fans, but according to the authorities in charge of the games much more is in store for those loyal fans at the next games in the Knox City gymnasium.

Besides entertaining at the basketball games, the band further the good will policy of the school and Knox City by appearing at functions in nearby cities. The banner was held aloft last Wednesday when the band took part in the annual parade sponsored by the Haskell County Fair Association. Other bands taking part in the parade were Abilene Christian College, Stamford American Legion, Haskell Municipal and Anson High School.

HOMEMAKING CLUB ENTERTAINS

Thursday night, October 20, the Homemaker's Club of the Knox City high school entertained with their first social event of the year.

The room was decorated in the Halloween motif and games of Bingo and Chinese Checkers entertained those present.

Refreshments of sandwiches and punch were served to Margaret Dutton, Zena Bolin, Anita Wampler, Udell Darden, Peggy O'Neal, Wynette Farmer, Dorothy Virginia Warren, Bobby Jo Gunn, Nella Shaver, Geneva Walker, Jean Anne Smith, Marjorie Propps, and Miss Oleta Cole, Sponsor.

CONGRATULATIONS TO BENJAMIN SCHOOL

The students of the Knox City Public Schools wish to express their most heartfelt congratulations to the students of the Benjamin Public Schools over the acceptance by your community of your school bonds. Being your neighbors we glory in any improvement that will help us aid the other youth of Knox County.

CARNIVAL EXPECTED TO BE HUGE SUCCESS

Great plans are being carried out this week in order to make the P. T. A. Carnival a bigger, better and more entertaining carnival than we have ever had before.

The carnival will start when the parade starts. All booths will be open when the parade is over.

The dining room will open at an early hour. Food will be served in Cafeteria style so that you may have your choice of many delicious foods. The food will be prepared at the school house and will be kept fresh and warm. We hope most of our patrons will decide to dine in the homemaking room on this date.

None will want to miss the boxing match, so the Hayloft show will not start until the boxing is over. The Terrapin race will be in progress early in the evening so none will miss the big show in the gymnasium.

The Bingo game will have many valuable prizes, as will the fish pond. Many added attractions will be offered for the amusement of the townspeople and everyone is urged to attend not only to support the P. T. A., but also for their own amusement.

REMEMBERING

In years to come when all the dear K. C. H. S. students are being tossed upon the sea of life, there will be certain qualities of each that will never be forgotten. No one could possibly forget Nina Mauds' knowing look and sly grin as she enters the study hall each Monday morning. Joe Warren has that "I've got a hidden personality" attitude that drives the girls frantic. Gerald Averitt will perhaps be remembered best for his way with the women, equaled only by Henry Jean Jones and Rufus White. Dickie Mullins has no special characteristic, all of his are enough to give him a lasting place in one's memory, but "wartiness" is perhaps the most outstanding. Margaret Dutton will always be remembered for her complete indifference to all males. On the other hand Udell Darden, Anita Wampler and Zena Bolin will never be forgotten because of their pronounced liking for all males. Glenn Huntsman and his editorials will live on forever in spite of his sideline love for "Carrs." Peggy and Melvin will be remembered as the greatest lovers since Romeo and Juliet. Wynette Farmer and her motto, "I'm going to start reducing tomorrow," is another thing which will probably be remembered. Hazel Cypert will always be remembered for her ability to collect jewelry. L. N. Bridges is making a lasting impression by his unusual ability to break hearts. Emma Sue Thompson and her sweet personality will always be a pleasant memory. Reed Bradley will best be remembered for his gallantry to all of the women. James Gipson will be remembered for his overwhelming ambition to be a rider of the range. Nella Shaver will be reminded to us every time one of Mae West's pictures comes to town. Geneva Walker and Mary Frances Reeder will be remembered because of the happy expressions on their faces every time Thanksgiving is mentioned. Ernestine Teaff will be remembered for her ability when it comes to being forty dozen places at one time. The entire high school will be remembered for the general atmosphere of laziness.

—Faye Heath.

OUR REGRETS TO TRUSCOTT

We, the student body of the Knox City High School, wish to publicly express our sympathy and regrets for the accident that happened to our guests last Friday night after their sportsmanship had shone in every field even though going down in defeat. To those in the hospital or dismissed from the hospital we say "We hope you get well quickly and will be able to come back to see us soon."

VOLLEYBALL GIRLS TRIUMPH OVER TRUSCOTT

Discarding basketball because of the lack of material to develop and further play the game has already yielded dividends from the result of the games played with Truscott Friday night. The Knox City girls eased through to victory in the first game, but Truscott returned to barely win the second. After points were fought for in the third and final game, the Knox City girls finally came through with one of the first volleyball victories they have experienced in recent years. If the girls can keep up the pace they have set for themselves, it is possible they may come through with the county championship.

ELEMENTARY GRADES USE NEW REPORT CARDS

A new report card and new grading system has been adopted in the Knox City primary and elementary grades beginning with the new school year. Modern educators have been changing from the old order of grading by "A, B, C's" and have been making mark reports by "U. S." standing for Unsatisfactory and Satisfactory, respectively. The object of this has been the theory that pupils should not strive for marks but should strive to achieve.

Superintendent A. M. Whitis and Principal Jack Wetzel of the grammar school have put into use the grading system of 1, 2, 3 and 4 for the elementary school. The grade of 1 is equal to a grade of 90 to 100; 2 is equal to 80 to 90; 3 is equal to 70 to 80, and 4 is equal to all points below 70. The primary grades are graded only in two divisions: Satisfactory and Unsatisfactory.

The new elementary cards are something new in education involving features of reports of student's activities. The report on the activities involve two main divisions: citizenship and scholarship. Under citizenship there are reports on independence, industry, attitude, courtesy and cooperation; under each division, the division is explained by reports on different aptitudes. Under the heading Scholarship, the different subjects are divided under main heads as Language Arts, Social Relations, Nature, Mathematics, Science, Home and Vocational Arts, and Creative and Recreative Arts. There is also provision made for attendance and parent's signature. One of the main features of the card is the space provided for the parent to get the reason for student failure or low grades.

A SENIOR PERSONALITY

Merle Rowena Hutchinson

Rowena was born on December 12, 1921, at Knox City. She weighs one hundred and twenty pounds, is five feet and five inches tall, has brown eyes and brown hair. All in all Rowena is a very pretty girl. She is rather quiet but quite pleasing.

Rowena is one of the pupils that has been with the Senior class from kinder-garten on up. When in grammar school she played indoor ball.

Her favorite color is red, but she never wears the color herself; her favorite song is "When Mother Nature Sings Her Lullaby"; her favorite subject is book-keeping; her favorite saying is "So What"; her favorite hobby is counting car licenses, and her favorite sport is volleyball.

After graduation Rowena plans to take a beauty course at Sellers Beauty School in Dallas, Texas.

FRESHMEN ENTER INTO SPIRIT OF HIGH SCHOOL

The Freshman class of the Knox City high school are leading their older brothers and sisters in whatever they attempt. This does not speak so well for those classes that should be setting examples for their little brothers and sisters. Academically, the freshmen have not as yet become acclimated to the new demands being made upon them in high school, but they are quickly surpassing the other classes in other activities.

Besides being the class that won the P. T. A. membership award two weeks ago and coming close to setting a record to be shot at, the class is quickly setting an attendance record to be shot at by any class in school. A definite check or comparison has not been made but for the last four days the class has been one hundred percent in attendance and prior to that time was noted for its lack of absentees.

GRADE SCHOOL NEWS

The first and second grades are presenting the assembly program Friday morning, Oct. 28. It is scheduled to be a Halloween program in which the rhythm band will make its first appearance. These two grades are sponsoring a fish pond at the Annual Halloween Carnival Friday night. Class and fish.

The fourth grade had their new pupils to enroll Monday morning. These were Billye Lois Ball, Duane Matthews and Dixie Fay Dudley.

He Finally Got the Hang of It

By IRVIN S. COBB

THEY brought a darky out of the jail in a North Carolina town with intent to hang him for murder. As a special mark of attention the widow of the murderer's victim was permitted to witness the event.

The preliminaries went forward according to the ritual. The sheriff, holding the black cap in his hand, edged up to him and said:

"Well, Jim, we're about ready. If you've got anything to say, I reckon this would be a mighty good time to say it."

"Yes, seh," said the doomed, "I has got sump'n to say. I jest wants to say dat I is fully repented for what I done. I taken it to de Lawd in prayer an' I knows it's all right wid Him. I sat de judge w'ich tried me an' de persecutin' attorney an' de foreman of de jury of they here me any grones, w'ich, one and all, they said they did not. An' now I kin say right straight to Hebben an' nestle in de bosom of Father Abraham of only I kin git de forgiveness of dat nigger lady sittin' yonder—de wife of de man I kill'."

He lifted his voice, addressing the white-clad figure in front of him:

"Lady," he entreated, "does you forgive me fur shootin' yore husband six times wid a fo'ty-fo' caliber revolver?"

Excepting that her under lip jutted out a trifle farther there was no sign she heard him. She calmly fanned on.

The darky on the scaffold tried again.

"Lady," he pleaded, "for de second time I axes you, sin't you, please ma'am, gwine forgive me?"

Still from her there was no response. The sympathetic sheriff felt moved to add his intercession:

"Aunt Myra," he called, "Jim here will be goin' away from us in a minute and we don't expect him back. Surely you don't entertain any hard feelin's against him now? Won't you speak to him and let him go in peace?"

This time the obdurate widow shook her head in an emphatic negative. Yet still she uttered no sound. The sheriff turned to the condemned.

"Jim," he said, "you see how it is; that old woman is set in her ways. What's the use of wastin' any more time on her? Besides, it's hot as de devil out here and I ought to be gettin' on home to dinner. Just hold still a second and we can have this all over."

"Mr. Lawd," sobbed Jim, "I know one of I still can't see 'em dat nigger woman's stony heart. Lady," he cried out, "wid meaty nigh my eyes, heef I begs you fur jest a word. I ain't hopin' no ma, dat you'll forgive me, but won't you please, ma'am, set speak to me an' tell me what's in yore soul?"

And now she did speak. She motioned with her fan as though it had been a baton of authority, and in impatient tones she said:

"Go on, nigger, git hung—git hung!"

"ORPHANS OF THE STORM"

Fleeing a tornado near Clyde, Texas, parents of these babies were killed, their automobile tossed a quarter-mile away. Hours later a telephone lineman heard a child's whimper in a roadside ditch. There he found 3-year-old Jesse Donald Rutledge, water up to his chin, holding his 3-month-old brother Darryl's head above water. Relatives being unable to care for the orphans, Red Cross workers arranged a maintenance fund to support them until they are 16. A Texas college promised scholarships and ranchmen started a herd of cattle for their benefit. The Red Cross will help the boys make adjustments as they grow older.

on our allotted acres, and some of the control features of the old Bankhead Act."

Knox County farmers should be slow, said Smith, in advocating a new program that you know nothing about. Under the new plan cotton production would be turned loose and every available acre in Texas would go into cotton, and every one knows that the cotton farmer realizes less money a bumper cotton year.

KNOX COUNTY BOY ENTERS CONTEST

Gaylon Scott, a Knox County 4-H Club boy, has entered his report in a contest sponsored by the Sante Fe Railway which offers as first prize a trip to the International Livestock Show to be held in Chicago in November.

All 4-H Club boys who live in counties through which the Sante Fe lines pass are eligible to compete in the contest. Gaylon Scott was selected as the most outstanding 4-H boy from Knox County. Gaylon reported as follows on his 4-H calf:

Cost of calf, $30.00; cost of feed, $25.00; incidental expenses, $4.50. Total expenses were $59.50.

Total prize winning, $50.00; calf sold for 55 1/2¢ per lb., 730 pounds, $405.15. Gross income was $435.15. Net income was $375.65.

PEACE AND CONTENTMENT FOR THE BABY

FARMERS ASKED TO STUDY NEW COTTON PROGRAM

J. W. Smith, chairman of the Knox County Agricultural Conservation Committee, warns farmers to study thoroughly the Domestic Cotton Allotment Plan before advocating it or signing any petition asking Congress to enact it in the near future. Smith stated as follows:

"I believe that every farmer should ask himself who is advocating the program. Is it the farmers themselves or is it the handlers of the cotton after it has left the hands of the producer? Who is sponsoring the petition that you are being asked to sign? Is he a farmer? I believe that the present farm program embodies all the good features of the Domestic Allotment Plan by permitting us to sell all the cotton we raise

O'BRIEN SCHOOL NEWS

O'Brien girls met Bomarton in their first basketball contest Friday night, October 21. The local team was victorious by a score of 19 to 14. Both teams with the present material, will prove strong contenders in the league this year. Bomarton was invited to play again at O'Brien on November 4. With the good material that Bomarton affords we are expecting a harder contest at that time.

The O'Brien boys were defeated in Friday night's contest with Bomarton; however, Mr. Wyatt's team lacked several of the regular players. Some of the inexperienced players proved their possible ability at basketball and we are not at all disappointed at the present outlook for a promising team. The boys will also play Bomarton again on the night of Nov. 4.

The Senior and Junior boys teams will play Benjamin here Thursday night, October 27. The girls will possibly play with an all-star group.

All through the basketball game last Friday night the Red Cross had loudly urged the Bomarton Bulldogs on the victory. When she turned to James and said:

Disasters Strike 41 States During Year

Red Cross Aids 420,000 Persons Following Catastrophes

That the past year has not been an easy one for the American Red Cross is shown in a recent report listing disasters necessitating Red Cross relief throughout the United States during the past twelve months.

The report reveals that 129 domestic disasters called for Red Cross aid in 247 counties of 41 states, and that assistance was given to 420,000 persons who were disaster victims.

"That this has been a very active year is obvious when one compares this year's operations with the average of 92 disasters requiring Red Cross aid annually for the past 10 years," Chairman Norman H. Davis said in commenting on the Red Cross Disaster Relief Service report.

These catastrophes included cloud-bursts, cyclones, epidemics, fires, floods, forest fires, hailstorms, mine explosions, a school bus accident, a shipwreck, tornadoes, typhoons, and wind storms.

"Disaster relief was the first humanitarian work of the American Red Cross after its organization in 1851," Mr. Davis said. "In the ensuing 67 years the flag of the Red Cross has flown upon every scene of major disaster in the United States. The Red Cross has carried relief—food, clothing, shelter, medical aid, rehabilitation of homes and families—to more than 2,500 scenes of disaster at home and abroad, and has expended over $140,000,000 contributed by the American public in this work of mercy."

The Red Cross policies of relief, the national chairman pointed out, have been established over a period of years through actual experience of its workers in the field. Relief is given on the basis of need of sufferers—not of losses. Loans, he pointed out, are never made, but relief is a gift from the Red Cross in the name of its members and contributors to its work.

"It would not be possible for the Red Cross to carry out such widespread relief activities without the help of thousands of volunteer workers," Mr. Davis said. "Volunteers are the mainstay of the organization, and in the past year's work assistance from many cooperating agencies has made it possible for us to answer the many calls for help."

While relief was being given to victims of natural catastrophes, the Red Cross was not unmindful of the necessity for preparedness plans to meet emergencies that may arise in any American community. Red Cross chapters in hundreds of counties have organized disaster preparedness committees charged with responsibility to map relief plans in advance of need, and to organize resources of communities to prevent duplication of effort and waste of materials when calls for help are received.

These plans are proving especially advantageous in localities subject to frequent floods, tornadoes, or hurricanes, and actual tests of such planning have demonstrated the necessity for such measures.

"The administration of such relief for disaster victims is made possible by annual memberships of millions of Americans in all walks of life," Mr. Davis pointed out. "The extent of Red Cross aid to such sufferers is entirely dependent upon unselfish sharing on the part of all of us."

"I've hollered so much I think I've lost my voice."
Don't worry," said James. "You'll find it in my left ear."

Miss Adcock: "How many sets of teeth does a person have?"
Josephine: "Three. Baby, permanent, and false."

Wimpy: "So Virginia can keep a secret like Olga."
Raymond: "Yes, stutters."

Gordon: "What I give up going with Alton?"
Alton: "Because of red hair and green eyes every time I started to kiss I didn't know whether to or go ahead."

Red Cross Nurses Aid Million Sick

Red Cross public health nurses made more than one million visits to or on behalf of the sick during the fiscal year 1937-38.

The patients live in mountain communities, on islands off the coast, in isolated swamp regions, and in crowded industrial sections. During the same period the nurses inspected 559,187 school children for health defects in cooperation with local physicians, and gave instructions in home hygiene and care of the sick to 58,754 mothers and young girls.

Red Cross Volunteers Assist War Veterans

Red Cross workers in chapters, in hospitals and on posts of the Army, Navy, Coast Guard, and Marine Corps, assisted 122,355 active service men or veterans or their families during the past 12 months.

Red Cross service to these men included such personal help as letter-writing, shopping and recreational leadership, but it also included financial assistance to their dependents, help in locating missing members of their families, and assistance in filing necessary applications for pensions, disability pay, hospitalization, or for discharge from active service because of home needs.

The average number of men assisted by Red Cross workers each month was 10,190, according to a recent report.
