

Knox City Seniors Tour New Orleans; Return From Annual Trip Sun., May 14

by Cyndy Johnston
On Wednesday morning, May 10, 25 bright-eyed seniors and the sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Cash, Supt. E. A. Youngblood, and Mr. and Mrs. Mutt Ivie assembled in the basement of the First Baptist Church for a breakfast prepared by the lady members of the church. After breakfast the group boarded a Southwest Coaches bus driven by Denton R. Wilson, and so began the long-awaited senior trip to New Orleans, La.

We stopped for a refresher at Howard Johnson's in Fort Worth, and then rode on to Terry's Restaurant near Longview for lunch. After lunch we rode until mid-afternoon at which time we stopped at Natchitoches, Louisiana and browsed around for about an hour. We then continued our journey to Alexandria where we arrived at 6 o'clock and checked into the Holiday Inn for our first night away from home.

After an early breakfast Thursday morning we boarded our bus about 7 o'clock and started a new day on the road to Baton Rouge. Continued on back page Whoso putteth his trust in the Lord shall be safe. The Lord is exalted: for he dwelleth on high. The Lord is high above all nations and his glory above the heavens. He raiseth up the poor out of the dust, and lifteth the needy out of the dung hill: that he may set him with princes.

God who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loveth us even when we were dead to sin, hath quickened us together with Christ (by grace you are saved) and hath raised us up together and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus. These are the things that count when the day goes slipping westward and the night of this life draws its curtain around us, for the dawning of a new day. Put your trust in Him and be safe.

'He Died A Hero' Weinert Pays Tribute To Victim Of Vietnam War

Approximately 275 friends and relatives jammed into the Weinert Baptist Church, filling both lower floor and the balcony, Saturday, May 19 at 4 p. m. for the funeral of Marine Lance Corporal Dennis Lee Johnson, 21, who was killed in action May 8 while serving with U. S. forces in Vietnam.

The Rev. Carl Pool, pastor, told those in attendance, "He died a hero—we should all remember that."

After citing background on the youthful soldier, the Rev. Floyd Bailey of Knox City told the large gathering, "Dennis always did his best at every task he undertook; his friends have to tell me that. We should not forget that somewhere out there in the war-torn country of Vietnam this young man gave his very best for his country and its way of life."

Military graveside rites were held at the Weinert Cemetery, conspicuously set with gray skies a cold north wind an intermittent rain.

After a twenty-one gun salute, taps were played by a lone naval bugler and the head of the Marine honor guard presented the fallen soldier's wife with the flag that had draped the gray casket throughout the entire funeral.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Johnson of Weinert, Johnson enlisted with the Marines Feb. 28, 1966 and had been overseas since September, 1966. He married Mary Alice Collins on December 3, 1965, at Knox City.

His wife had been making her home at Knox City.

Scouts Active In May Clean-Up; To Have Picnic Friday

In keeping with President Lyndon B. Johnson's proclamation for 1967 as Youth For Natural Beauty and Conservation Year, the Knox City and Benjamin Cub Scouts of Pack 161 have been active in a "clean-up and beautification program during the month of May.

President Johnson has challenged all youth to "act to preserve and protect, salvage and restore, develop and enhance their surroundings."

The Cub Scout members have made litter bags for use in their family cars and dens have composed letters concerning ways to make our city more beautiful.

Context of the letters from the local scouts read:

"America is a free country and maybe that is why we are so careless in disposing of our litter. Each person should use his own litter bag; never throw trash and bottles along the roadside and help older people keep their yards and alleys more attractive.

We are ashamed of the unkept lots and alleys, also of all the ugly trash scattered around Knox City. We are anxious to help in any program to beautify our town."

The Cub Scouts of Benjamin, Den 6, Pack 161, have written: "We think our town of Benjamin could be more attractive by doing the following things:

Tear down old delapidated buildings.

Mow all vacant lots and the ditches.

Take all trash to the dump ground.

Place litter barrels where needed.

If these things were done, we think our town would look much better and most of all don't be a litter bug. When you speak of 'Litter Bug,' think twice and see if you are the bug."

McCahill Picks Rayon Over Nylon

Tests by Tom McCahill at the Daytona International Speedway show that cars equipped with rayon cord tires are more easily controlled during fast maneuvering at turnpike speeds than those riding on nylon.

Situations often arise on the highway when even the best drivers find they must make a sudden switch from one lane to another at high speed to avoid an accident. At times like this, control of the car depends largely on directional stability of tires.

Tom McCahill, noted automotive test driver and reporter, recently ran a series of tire comparison tests for the American Viscose Division of FMC Corporation to determine which type of tire — rayon cord or nylon cord — provides greater handling stability. The tests were conducted at the Daytona International Speedway, Daytona Beach, Fla.

After comparing the handling of several leading makes of the two types of tires on both sedans and station wagons, McCahill concluded that cars equipped with rayon cord tires are more easily controlled during fast maneuvering at turnpike speeds than those riding on nylon cord tires.

The tests were set up so that McCahill did not know which type of tires he was using until after he had completed his evaluations. Switching lanes at speeds of 60 and 70 mph, he noted that certain tires caused considerable bobble or oscillating action which made the cars hard to control. "Differences in tire stability were very marked during these tests," McCahill stated in his final report. "Perhaps the most outstanding difference I found is that in every test, directional stability and roadability ratings for the rayon cord tires tended to get definitely worse as the speedometer climbed. "On the other hand, I found the handling of rayon cord tires definitely superior in violent maneuvering as speed went up."

We would like to thank the Crownovers and Clonts for such a nice party.

FRESHMAN NEWS
By Gay'e Campbell

We were real busy in class last week. We've been trying to get as much material covered as possible and get ready to take our finals. Thursday and Friday are our opportunity days. We will have two tests each day. Friday after school is out and we are going to have a party. We are going on a hayride out to the river and mess around out there for awhile and then come back to town after dark.

This is the last news report you will hear about this class as freshmen. Next year when you read about us and we'll be sophomores.

EIGHTH GRADE NEWS

Well, this is just about "30". Pretty soon we'll be leaving Jr. High. We'll not only be leaving this building but some of its memories behind.

Last Saturday evening we had a class party at the Bateman Ranch. It was misting rain and cold, but we could not have had any more fun than we did if it had been a beautiful day! Our class wants to thank Steve Lester and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Bateman for putting up with us some six hours, and really, we have never had any more fun anywhere than we did Saturday night. Thanks again!

Next Monday night at 7:30 p. m. we have our graduation exercises and the reception. After that (as I said last week) who knows?

This is the last time I'll be writing news for the eighth grade so, good luck to the future eighth grade reporter.

So long for this year—bye!

Site of the weiner roast was near one of the tanks on the ranch where guests enjoyed hot dogs, potato chips, cold drinks and roasted marshmallows. The eighth graders explored the entire territory surrounding the tank.

After the meal, guests went by car on a partial tour of the vast ranch and when it became too dark to enjoy the sights, everyone gathered at the huge ranch house for more refreshment and games.

In addition to class members, other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. C'ement, Mr. and Mrs.

William Hester, who is employed at Big Lake, was here over the weekend visiting his wife and children.

On Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Hester, Ray and Nan were in bilene to attend a voice recital presented at ACC by Mrs. Hester's sister, Carolyn Bean.

These and perhaps others, are some of the possibilities that ACPA will be considering next Wednesday. If cotton producers from across the cotton belt can each agree on what method would be most desirable they may be able significantly to influence the Secretary's final decision.

VISIT FRIENDS

If not, Cooper said, the best interests of the cotton industry may again play second fiddle to lesser considerations.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Green were in Bowie and Jacksboro Tuesday and Wednesday of last week visiting friends.

Increase Cotton Acreage In 1968?

One of the prime topics of discussion in cotton circles today—and that covers the entire industry from producers to textiles—is the possible need for increased cotton production in 1968. So says Charles Stenholm, executive vice president of Rolling Plains Cotton Growers.

He said that the subject is slated for its first formal treatment by producers May 24 when the American Cotton Producers Assn. meets in Washington. Stenholm said the ACPA is made up of representatives from virtually all of the nation's regional and state cotton producer associations.

At the confab, Rolling Plains Cotton growers will be represented by J. B. Cooper Jr. of Roscoe, its president and by Stenholm. Cooper explained the "producers naturally favor acreage and production increases, if they can be had without disrupting the anticipated benefits from declining surplus stocks."

BEST METHOD SOUGHT
So the industry's greatest concern, he continued, "is that the method or methods used to achieve and increase be one which will not adversely affect income if and when such an increase is found desirable."

Under the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965, there are various routes USDA could take. It is generally accepted that an administrative revision of the rules to permit skip-row planting without penalty would bring about a larger crop as well as an improvement of overall quality, and some observers feel such a change is definitely coming.

Reducing the current 12.5 per cent of allotments which producers are required to divert in order to participate in the program might also lead to greater planted acreages, the RCPG official pointed out.

But there would be no guarantee of increased plantings unless this move were coupled with a reduction in the payment for diverted acreage to make them

Cotton Planting Begins; Wheat Harvest Underway

Fair weather has accommodated the farmers thus far in their planned cotton planting date of May 22.

Some irrigated land was planted last week but generally speaking most dry-land farmers were busy this week getting seeds in the ground.

Wheat harvest began on May 13 and John L. Grindstaff Jr. brought in the first wheat for the year. Selling price is $1.60 per bushel. Approximately 40 to 50 per cent of this year's wheat has been brought in and it is expected to be an average year. Had it not been for the hail damage, amounts probably would have averaged more than expected, according to reports.

KNOX CITY—

At Baton Rouge we toured the capitol building and cruised by L.S.U. We continued our trip on a scenic country road viewing the beautiful southern country-side and the magnificent homes. About noon we arrived in New Orleans and ate lunch immediately at the A. and G. Cafeteria. After lunch we checked into the famous Roosevelt Hotel. We then toured the city park and the fascinating above-ground cemeteries. Afterwards, we returned to the Roosevelt, ate a quick supper, and dressed for Pat O'Brien's on Bourbon Street in the French Quarters was a new and different experience for most of the class, and we all thoroughly enjoyed it. At the Blue Room we were served a salad supper while being entertained by the singer Frankie Laine. A group picture of us was made at the Blue Room, and we shall keep these to bring back good memories.

On Friday morning, we took a guided tour of New Orleans visiting such places of interest as the St. Louis Cathedral, the Mississippi River, the cemeteries, and many others. Then we had a light lunch at the Court of Two Sisters where we ate on an open patio. Friday afternoon was spent on a boat ride down the Mississippi River. After the boat ride we returned to the Roosevelt to rest for awhile before dressing to dine at Antoine's. The dinner was served in an elaborate manner, and we agreed that it was the best meal we had eaten in New Orleans. Then later we gathered at A. Hart's to top off the evening.

Saturday morning after checking out of the Roosevelt, we went to the Old French Market where we shopped for souvenirs and had coffee and doughnuts. Next on the agenda was Pontchartrain Beach where we ate lunch, rode rides, and swam in Pontchartrain Lake. Then about two o'clock we began our return trip home. We rolled into Shreveport about 10:30 Saturday night.

After breakfast Sunday morning we were on our way back to Knox City. While in Dallas, we went by the street where President Kennedy was shot. We lunched at Vance Godbey's Smorgasbord. About 5:45, a tired, sleepy, but happy group of seniors reached their home destination.

Senator Jack Hightower Casts Vote With Senate Majority In Approval of 55 Million Teacher Pay Raise

AUSTIN—Senator Jack Hightower cast his vote with the Senate majority last week in approving a $55 million teacher pay raise.

The proposed raise was incorporated in a 2.4 billion, one year spending bill to finance state governmental machinery for 1968. The budget was sent to the House.

Although the Senate spending bill is $12.7 over appropriated income from taxes and other revenue, Senate leaders were confident there would be a revised budget estimate which would allow certification of the bill.

A pay-as-you-go provision in the state Constitution prohibits appropriations in excess of projected income estimates.

The Senate proposal provides teachers with an average pay increase of $635 for next year, some what short of the goal of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Senators also approved an amendment to the spending bill which would provide a $700,000 boost in old age assistance. The proposal would increase average payments from $62 to $67 per month.

The Legislature has less than two weeks to work out an appropriations bill acceptable to both houses before the current session ends.

In other Senate action, Senator Hightower secured passage of a measure which would make it a criminal offense to jump bail.

SS News - -

A substantial pay raise can bring a lot of pleasant thoughts to mind.

What may not come to mind is the fact that the pay increase will automatically bring additional production for the worker and his family—social security life insurance protection, disability insurance protection and retirement protection.

Like most things that are automatic we give social security very little thought until circumstances change and we need it. "Besides," you say, "social security is a retirement program and I have 25 years to go before I retire. In the meantime there are two children to raise and probab'y get through college."

Your social security coverage gives you a sizeable amount of life insurance protection as well as retirement insurance, and the value of that protection usually goes up when your wages go up. The exact dollar amount depends on the level of your earnings, your age, your wife's age, and the age of your children.

If something should happen to you, your wife and children would receive monthly benefits until your youngest child reached 18. Financial help would be available for your children if they decided to go on to college. Benefits are payable to children still in school until age 22.

The amount of the monthly benefit your family would receive is based on your average earnings over the years. Average monthly earnings of $400 a month would mean benefits of $306 a month for a widow and two children. Because benefits are based on earnings, a raise for you will mean an increase in the amount of life insurance protection you have for your family. Very simply, up to $6,000 a year, the present wage base under social security, any pay raise you receive will over a period of time raise your average monthly earnings and increase your benefits.

When you and your family are young and really need the most protection, the value of your soc ial security survivors insurance is at its highest. As the children get older the value of the life insurance protection decreases since benefits are payable for a shorter period of time.

A widow still under 60 years of age cannot collect benefits once all her children reach 18 (unless she has in her care a child who became disabled before 18.) Her survivors protection will begin again when she is older. Widow's benefits are payable at age 62, or at age 60 at a reduced rate.

A pay raise may never bring to mind thoughts of increased life insurance protection under social security before thoughts of a new car. Thinking about a new car or a special vacation is more fun. But that's the nice thing about social security, you don't have to think about it—the survivors protection will be there if your family ever need it.

CHECK YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY AT AGE 62

Last July a man who was earning $2400 per year reached age 62 and filed a claim with the Social Security Administration so that he could establish his entitlement to medicare.

He had no intention of retiring because he enjoyed his work and felt he had many good years left.

Consequently, he was surprised when he started receiving social security checks soon after filing his application.

What he did not realize was that he did not lose all of his social security checks because his earnings were over $1500 per year.

The law provides that one dollar for every two dollars earned between $1500 and $2700 is deducted from the total social security payable each year. An additional one dollar for every dollar earned is deducted for any earnings over $2700.

Thus, the man who earned $2400 would have only $450 deducted from the total social security benefits payable to him for the year.

Even if a person's earnings ex-

How to stencil H-O-S-P-I-T-A-L-I-T-Y onto your party tablecloth...

Pencil in grid.

Sketch in coffee cup.

Apply the stencil.

Indoor party-time is here. It's the season for inviting friends to "Come On Over" and have fun at your home.

Entertaining indoors requires a little more imagination than the casual get-togethers of summer-time. One way to make your guests remember your hospitality, is to create festive table decorations. It also helps to give them small souvenirs and play lively, but simple, games.

An inexpensive way to give the buffet table a gay note, a tone of hospitality, is to stencil the meaningful phrase, "Come On Over", on one of your cotton tablecloths. As shown in the picture above, the stencil can be circled in scallops to make it stand out and a smiling coffee cup and sugar bowl can issue the warm invitation. These figures will say, "Come On Over", to your refreshment table to enjoy coffee, cake and sandwiches.

Here are easy-to-follow instructions for stenciling your tablecloth: Mark a cardboard with a "grid" to guide yourself in drawing. (See Drawing #1).

Next, use a "marker" or thin crayon to draw the cup and saucer, using the squares to keep your drawing in proportion. Then, draw eyes, tiny nose and smiling mouth on the front of the cup.

Follow the same technique for the sugar bowl, but make the eyes smile over at its companion, the cup.

Next, letter "Come On Over", double, so that you will have width to draw your brush across. Draw a "scallop" frame for your "Come On Over" design and you are ready for the stenciling. Cut out the forms with a sharp-edged razor blade. (See Drawing #2).

Last, apply the stencils to the tablecloth. Just hold down cut-outs firmly on the cloth.

Draw a brush, dipped in India ink, across the stencil. Lift off the cut-out carefully and you have your design transferred to the cloth!

If you use paper napkins, you can stencil "Come On Over" on these in both cocktail and dinner size. They make good conversation pieces for your guests.

Once you've prepared the "Come On Over" stencil, you'll find it will lend gaiety to many parties. If you're having a "sit down" informal dinner, stencil "Come On Over" on your place mats. If you're serving small sandwiches at card tables, letter "Come On Over" on the corners of card table covers. Place a package of L & M cigarettes on every table, and as a final, personal touch, stencil "Come On Over" on your hostess apron. You'll set the mood for the party when you welcome friends at the door!

TIPS COUNT AS INCOME

Do you depend on tips to boost your earnings? These cash tips can also mean higher social security benefits for you and your family, but only if you report them.

Since social security benefits to you and your family are based on your reported earnings, the higher your future benefits. For some workers, the amount of their social security benefits could be almost doubled if social security credit can be given for the amount of their tips.

If you receive cash tips of $20 or more in a month while working for one employer, these tips can be counted with your other earnings for social security. The procedure is simple; just give your employer a written report of your cash tips by the 10th of the month following the month when you received them. And make this report to your employer on time. A late report can mean that you will be liable for the delinquent taxes as well as penalties and interest that may be assessed by the Internal Revenue Service.

If wages due you will not cover the amount of the social security tax on those tips, give your employer the tax money along with the report of your tips. Your employer will include the tips on the report he makes to the Internal Revenue Service every quarter, and will send in the social security tax.

The best way to keep track of your tips is to write them down daily, and your social security office has a special booklet No. 5635, especially for this purpose. The social security office is located at 1728 Fannin in Vernon.

Soil Conservation PECAN PESTS

Perhaps the cool weather has delayed the development of the pecan nut casebearer. This pest may be expected anytime within the next few days.

As soon as the pupa begin to hatch the trees should be sprayed.

A mixture of malathion and Seven is recommended for the casebearer control. If rosette is a problem, zinc sulfate may also be used in the mixture. Some pecan aphids are a problem on some trees. Pecan trees dripping honeydew is likely a symptom of aphids.

DiSyton is cleared for ground treatment for aphid control. DiSyton used at about two pounds put in the ground in holes under the outer tips of the limbs will treat a large tree. The roots will pick up and translocate to all parts of the tree. Watering the tree after treatment aids in speeding up the control.
