

AUSTIN, Texas — Although the main bout of the political summer is over, there's still considerable commotion ahead.

Generating a little extra heat during the scorching weeks ahead will be these events:

STATEWIDE RUNOFF: Only one race for statewide office, a place on the Supreme Court, remains to be decided at the Aug. 23 primary. Contenders are Robert W. Hamilton of El Paso and J. Edwin Smith of Houston.

In a one-contest race like this, the candidates' big problem is likelihood of being ignored. A tiny segment of authorized voters could tip the election.

State Democratic Chairman Jim Lindsey has reminded county chairmen that the law requires that they hold a runoff primary—even if it's just for one race. In some 100 counties there are no local races going into a runoff.

LEGISLATIVE RUNOFFS: Winners of 33 legislative posts are yet to be decided.

Included are three campaigns to decide successors of retiring Senators Otis Lock of Lufkin, Searcy Bracewell of Houston and Carlos Ashley of Llano. All of the 28 senators already definitely "in" are incumbents.

In the House, also, it appears to be a good year for incumbents. Out of a membership of 150, 101 won out in the first primary or had no opponents.

Nineteen new members were elected to the House in July, and winners of 30 seats are yet to be decided. Twelve incumbent representatives are involved in these run-offs. SPEAKERSHIP RACE: Hanging in the balance of the 30 House of Representatives runoff races is the outcome of months of persistent campaigning for one of the key posts in state government—Speaker of the House.

Speaker is elected by fellow House members. Candidates are Rep. Waggoner Carr of Lubbock, seeking a second term, and Rep. Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville.

After the July primary, each claimed to have 45 per cent of House members pledged to his side. This is not literally possible since only 80 per cent of the total membership has been elected.

But it illustrates the nip 'n tuck nature of the contest that probably won't be over until the last chip is down.

STATE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION: Climax to the precinct and county conventions—and all the struggle that preceded them—will be the state meeting in San Antonio Sept. 9.

It's known traditionally as the "governor's convention" with the nominee for governor and his supporters taking the lead in deciding on officials, committees and policies for the next two years.

Gov. Price Daniel, who worked harder at rallying moderate-conservative Democrats to precinct conventions than at his own renomination, predicts a comfortable margin of supporters at the state meeting.

BETTER DAYS — More students, more prosperous profits are in prospect on the campuses of Texas state colleges and universities this fall.

Commission on Higher Education predicts a total enrollment of more than 81,000 at the 18 tax-supported colleges, up from last year's 77,913. Beginning this year, a growing flood of college students is expected as the high schools turn out the "war babies" of the 1940's.

Pay raises up to 20 per cent will begin in September for the state college teachers. It will put the "average" professor's annual salary between $5,000 and $7,000.

son filed suits in an Austin district court in an effort to squelch a new scheme for charging excessive interest on small loans.

Wilson's suit attacked "brokerage fees" being charged by some small loan companies in Austin. Texas Constitution limits interest rates to 10 per cent. But "loan sharks" have been getting around this, says an assistant attorney general. They charge a legal rate of interest, then tack on a large "broker's fee," presumably for arranging the loan.

Until last spring, when credit insurance rates were sharply reduced, excessive insurance charges were regarded as the favorite dodge of lenders in getting around the 10 per cent limit.

Attorney General Wilson is asking the court to enjoin the loan companies from using "any indirect methods" of evading the law.

Efforts to pass on measures strengthening the state's anti-usury laws have had uphill going the past Legislatures. New tries are certain next year, some probably aimed at establishing a higher legal interest rate for small, unsecured, short-term loans than for long-term secured loans.

A special state regulatory agency for loan companies, as for banks, also has been suggested.

SELECTIVE SERVICE Birthday — Texas Selective Service system marks its 10th anniversary this summer.

Since the present Selective Act became effective in 1948, the state's 137 local draft boards have kept tab on millions of young men. During this period 117,000 Texans have been drafted—70,000 of them during the Korean action.

Uncle Ben from Benjamin says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see where the soil conservation folks is claiming that the nation is getting so populated that "five city dwellers now are directly dependent upon the success of a sixth man on the soil." If I git the gist of this thing correct, it means the fate of five men in town depends on the success of my farm out here.

In other words, fer example, I got to produce enough fer me and five other men living somewhere in town. This is the first time I've heard of this, and I don't know who my five is, but just say fer example that they is Elvis Presley, Frank Sinatra, and three Congressmen. What kind of justice do you call that, Mister Editor? Who started this kind of arrangement? If you'll find out fer me, I'll write him a letter that'll blister the paint off his mail box. If I got to feed a parcel of you, would they be any chance of getting you out here to help keep the grass out of my fields?

It's not that farmers ain't already loaded down with taxes, high labor costs, tractors getting higher all the time, insects getting worse ever year, prices always dropping at selling time, but now somebody assigns me five other fellers to take on. I tell you, things is getting to the breaking point with us farmers.

Maybe that's why so many farmers has started plowing way into the night. They're working fer them five other fellers. It ain't no easy problem when your farm may be a little behind and you tell your old lady you ain't got time to do everything and she wakes you up in the middle of the night whamming you with her elbow and pointing out the window to them tractor lights slashing the sky on farms all around you with motors sounding like a bomber attack and says, "See that? If you was out there working like your neighbors you wouldn't be so far behind and maybe we could git a new washing machine."

Just between me and you, Mister Editor, if you five fellers in town is depending on me plowing at night, you're going to have lean pickings next winter. It looks like our national economy has got to the place where the farmers is supposed to provide what the Lord don't.

Five extra mouths or not, it ought to be agin the law to install lights on tractors and a compound felony to plow after sundown. If the Lord meant fer a farmer to plow at night, He'd have put tail lights on mules.

Your truly,
Uncle Ben

Motorists Warned To Be On Lookout For Farm Vehicles

This is the season of the year when both vacationing motorists and farmers are driving on the nation's highways; but if safety precautions are not followed, only one of them may drive off, warns the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council.

Tractors are slow-moving vehicles made to do heavy field work and in most cases are unstable at high speeds and not meant for highway travel. Most of the time when there is a collision between a farm tractor and an automobile, the tractor driver is killed.

A little mutual consideration can help prevent many of these accidents, points out the council. Automobile drivers should be alert and watchful for equipment which may be on the highway and farmers can help by carrying warning flags in daytime and proper warning lights at night.

Lack of electrical equipment doesn't relieve the farmer of the responsibility of carrying warning lights. A lantern in conjunction with good reflectors can be a big help in warning approaching cars.

Farmers should plan ahead to avoid unnecessary movement of farm equipment on heavily traveled roads, advises the council. Too, they should slow down for turns and leave the tractor in gear when going down hills. Only experienced operators should be given the responsibility of handling farm machinery on public roads.

Better entrances to driveways and fields plus courtesy on the part of both motorists and farmers may save lives.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jay of Long Beach, California visited a few days this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Land and family and Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Durham and family. Mrs. Jay is an aunt of Mrs. Land and Mr. Durham.

NO DEFROSTING

MADE BY

FRIGIDAIRE

FROST-PROOF FOOD KEEPING — WHERE YOU NEVER DEFROST AGAIN

In the Flowing - Cold Refrigerator...

Flowing Cold means super-fast, more uniform chilling for all your fresh foods no matter where you store them — in the refrigerator section or on the door — regardless of outside temperatures.

And Flowing Cold means no more frost! Here's how it works:

Fresh warm air enters the refrigerator section every time you open the door — and is drawn by a fan up and over the hidden Refrig-a-Plate that cools it and removes the excess moisture after which it comes back in at the top as Flowing Cold.

Best of all, the moisture removed is evaporated automatically — there's nothing you have to do!

In the Frost-Proof Freezer...

Completely new and revolutionary — completely different from so-called "automatic" defrosting systems. Frigidaire patented Frost-Proof Freezing actually whisks away heat and moisture before frost can form!

Frost-Proof Cold enters at the top, rear, cooling and removing moisture from the entire freezer. Then this warmer, moist air is drawn out of the freezer across sub-zero freezing plate underneath and completely separate from the freezer, where the air is recirculated, changing warm air into dry, sub-zero Frost-Proof Cold!

And the moisture, of course, evaporates automatically. Frost never accumulates on freezer walls or on food. No more chipping, scraping at a stubborn ice crust. No more melting frost, no more pans to spill!

Not this

This

FROSTED-UP! Ordinary freezer chest after 30 days. Everything has liberal coating of frost! Some types demand do-it-yourself defrosting. Others apply electric heat to freezer to melt frost. Sometimes frost water drips down on food — refreezes on packages. Foods may thaw, then refreeze — lose flavor and vitamins!

FROST-PROOF! Frigidaire Frost-Proof Freezer after months or even years! Not a whisker of frost in sight! The secret is a new kind of circulating cold — dry, sub-zero cold — that's hungry for heat and thirsty for moisture. Carries away warm air and moisture before frost can form! Freezes foods faster — keeps them fresher.

Streams In Desert Places
 By Ozelle Stephens
 In sickness, in danger, in trials and in sorrow you find rest in the word of God as did the people who rested themselves upon the words of Hezekiah (1 Chronicles 32:8) "Be strong and courageous, be not afraid nor dismayed," were the words of God that came through His servant. Day by day in your devotions you find strength and courage to carry you through. "For He is great in counsel and mighty in work: His eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men: to give everyone according to His ways and according to the fruits of His doings."

 "If such tax is authorized, no political subdivision or municipality within or having the same boundaries as the district may levy a tax for medical or hospital care for needy individuals who shall they maintain or erect hospital facilities, but the district shall be responsible for providing hospital care for needy individuals of the county."
 "(c) The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of a hospital district within Jefferson County, the boundaries of which shall include only the area comprising the Jefferson County Drainage District No. 1 and the Fort Arthur Independent School District, as such boundaries existed on the first day of January, 1957, with the power to issue bonds for the sole purpose of purchasing a site for, and the construction and installing of a hospital system, and with the power to levy a tax not to exceed Seventy-five Cents (75¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation of the property therein for the purpose of paying the principal and interest on such bonds.
 "The creation of such hospital district shall not be final until approved by an election by a majority of the resident property taxpayers voting at said election who have duly rendered their property for taxation upon the tax rolls of either said Drainage District or said School District, nor shall

Highway Patrol Slates Exams to Fill Vacancies

Competitive examinations will be given on September 16 in Lubbock; September 17 in Amarillo; and September 18th in Wichita Falls to fill approximately 200 vacancies in the ranks of the Texas Highway Patrol, Major R. A. Crowder, Regional Commander, announced today.

In making this announcement, Major Crowder, Commanding Officer of Region 5 of the Texas Department of Public Safety listed the following requirements:

An applicant must be between the ages of 21 and 35 years of age, and have at least a high school education or the equivalent. He must also be in good physical condition, be at least 68 inches, and not more than 76 inches, in height, and weigh not less than two pounds, nor more than three pounds, per inch of height. An applicant must also have been a resident of Texas for at least one year prior to the date of the examination.

Major Crowder pointed out that to the man who can qualify, the Department of Public Safety offers career employment with one of the most respected State Police Agencies in the Nation.

He stated that men graduating from the Academy hereafter will be outfitted with the entirely new western type uniform which will be worn by all the Services of the Department.

According to Major Crowder, the positions offer many personal benefits, including job security, retirement benefits, annual vacations, the best in training, modern equipment, and sick leave. He stated that students will be paid while in training, with merit pay raises thereafter. A Patrolman may, if he possesses the necessary ability, progress to a top salary of $380.00 per month. All uniforms and equipment are furnished by the Department.

Persons interested in making application for employment may pick up application forms and receive additional information at any Department of Public Safety Office or at any office of the Texas Employment Commission. Applicants unable to pick up application blanks at these offices may write to the Texas Department of Public Safety, Lubbock, and receive one. All applications must be in Austin by September 6, 1958, to be eligible for the September examinations.

Big Changes Occurring in Agriculture

COLLEGE STATION. — Agriculture has a highly shifting nature—big changes are in store and many have already occurred, according to Alvin B. Wooten, extension economist.

For example, U. S. farm population dropped nearly two million persons in 1956—an all-time record drop for any single year, says Wooten. But while numbers are decreasing, farm size is increasing. Since 1940, average farm size has increased 40 percent and investment per farm has shot up 300 percent (when inflation is allowed for). Farm land values have risen 40 percent in the last seven years.

Only 12 percent of the population is engaged in farming, says the economist. This means 12 percent of the population now provides the raw material to feed itself the remaining 88 percent. In colonial times, more than 85 percent of the nation was engaged in farming.

In 1950, only 30 percent of farm people were working at off-farm jobs. In 1956 this figure had risen to 40 percent.

In 1950, 17 percent of farm wives had off-farm employment. In 1956, 26 percent were so engaged. This was the largest increase of any occupational group.

In 1957, Wooten points out that 2.1 percent of the nation's farmers produced 33 percent of all farm products and half of the farmers produced 90 percent. Thus, 50 percent of U. S. farmers produced only 10 percent of the total farm production.

The farm population is also getting older, he says. Since 1950, the largest decrease in farm population has been in the 18-to-44-year-old group.
