Christmas Promotion Begins Monday, Nov. 2

Mrs. Doris Crowover, Chamber of Commerce manager, announced this week that Knox City merchants are again planning a Christmas promotion, much like last year's program.

Beginning Monday, November 2, many of the Knox City businesses will be handing out tickets with every $2.00 purchase made in their stores and cash drawings have been scheduled for December 5, December 12, and December 19. Drawings will be held on the sidewalk downtown, weather permitting. Mrs. Crowover said, and four cash awards will be made each week with the top award $100.00.

GUY ROBINSON, standing, helps Willis Hines 'learn the books.'

Guy Robinson Turns Over Duties To Willis Hines

Guy Robinson, who has served Knox City Schools as tax assessor-collector for the past 13, almost 14, years is resigning and turning over his duties to Willis Hines.

Guy, longtime resident of Knox City, suffered a shoulder injury a few weeks ago and said that he felt that it would be better under the circumstances to at least be "semi-retired" for the time being.

Guy's father, the late J. V. Robinson and his step-mother, Mrs. Rose Robinson, who is now a resident of the Brazos Valley Care Home, moved to Knox County in 1916 and in 1920, moved to town. Guy graduated from the Knox City Schools in 1929 and served from December 27, 1943, until March 9, 1945, with the U. S. Army during World War II. Most of this time was spent in New Guinea, he said. Guy and his wife, Ruby, are members of the First United Methodist Church and Guy is also a member of the Knox City Lions Club.

Mr. Hines, who was born and raised in Rule, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hines, moved to this area in 1945 when he and his wife, Elizabeth, moved to a farm southeast of O'Brien. In January, 1960, the Hines moved to Knox City and he accepted a position with the ASCS office as assistant counter clerk where he worked until October 1 of this year. The Hines are members of the First United Methodist Church and Mr. Hines is a member of the Masonic Lodge.

Willis began his duties as school tax assessor-collector in his office in the City Hall

Coach T. R. Stillabower reported Monday of this week that twenty-seven enthusiastic Houndettes began workouts October 15 after school each afternoon from 5:00 until 6:00 o'clock and have been working primarily on conditioning and speed, with much emphasis on fundamentals. He said the Houndettes would present a new type offense this year.

Returning Houndettes include seniors Alice Martinez, Betsy Ross, Gwen Angle, juniors Connie Gentry, Kathi Kent, Karen Helms, Rolanda Stubbs; sophomores Jan Guinn, Patricia Lewis, Debbie Burt, Shari Shelton, Jami Grimsley, and Belva Penman. to prepare in your kitchen for the family, instead of for the cattle.

She introduced Dr. Margarette Harden, instructor and research associate in the College of Home Economics at Texas Tech University in Lubbock. Dr. Harden is married to O. K. Harden, a cotton farmer.

"Over one and a half billion people are undernourished in the world today," she said. "This was the total world population in 1900. A new source of protein is needed for these people."

Slides of children suffering from kwashiorkor, a result of diets deficient in protein or in good quality protein, were shown.

"Children suffering from kwashiorkor may recover with an improved diet," the researcher stated. "But the children will be stunted in growth, and their behavior patterns will be different. They are less sociable, consume more food, and are less inquisitive."

Cotton-seed, made from newly developed glandless cotton or cotton from which gossypol glands has been removed, is a source of high quality protein. It may help solve world protein shortages since it is grown in most of the protein short countries.

It takes one cup of wheat flour to equal the protein in about one-fourth cup of cotton-seed concentrate.

Since new food products must taste good and look good to the consumers, experimentation has proceeded along the lines of adapting cotton-seed food products to consumer likes.

In South America this led to lecaparina, a high protein mixture for beverages.

The Texas audience found the display of cotton food products appealing. Besides the concentrate which can be used to replace flour, with some adjustments, kernels can be made from cotton-seed, resembling some kind of nut. These are called Taminuts, some say the taste is like sunflower seeds and some compare it to pistachio nuts.

Some of the products displayed for the audience to taste were Golden Nugget cake, lemon snowdrops, cottese brittle, cyclone crisp, and Taminuts.

Soybean bits, which can be "engineered" to resemble pork and beef, were also displayed. "Make Mine Cotton", urged consumers to ask for cotton fabrics in their home town department stores. Miss Joanne Thurber, consumer education specialist in clothing and textiles from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service presented this talk.

Cotton knits, corduroys and laces were covered. Finishes discussed included bonded, coated, stain and soil release, stretch, and flame retardant. Most eye-catching of the fabrics displayed was a 100% cotton fiber coated with a silvery metallic finish.

A new fabric, "buckskin", resembled leather. It was 100% cotton bonded to rayon for the lining.

Miss Thurber urged consumers to blot spilled oil from fabrics instead of rubbing to pick up the oil. If any oil remains pre-treat with a liquid detergent.

The importance of purchasing flame retardant fabrics, especially for sleepwear for children and the elderly was emphasized with burning a strip of untreated cloth while the treated cloth barely scorched.

"Always look for the Sanforized label", she told the audience. "That means shrinkage will be only 1 percent. Shrinkage control "only means about 4-5% shrinkage is likely."

She urged the audience to tell their hometown merchants about the Cotton Fabrics Library in Dallas. The National Cotton Council sponsors the library. Merchants can see samples of cotton fabrics and learn about prices and sources.

The Munday High School provided the auditorium and the Munday Chamber of Commerce was in charge of arrangements for the program. Registration was directed by Miss Thelma Wurgles, Wichita County III agent and Miss Marilyn Haggard, Cottle-Klag County HDA.

Wichita County agents provided the cotton ball name tags. Members of Knox County Home Demonstration Clubs and the Munday Chamber of Commerce served refreshments.

Homemaking teachers bringing students to the meeting were Mrs. Joyce Jener, Haskell High School; Mrs. Penny Winchester, Munday; and Mrs. Judy New, Eula High School.

Cotton Samples Classed For Week

Sample receipts were down as wet fields prevented any harvesting activity for most of the week. About a half an inch of rain fell over scattered portions of the territory Friday morning but clear weather is forecast for the weekend.

The weather is the only factor delaying the harvest as the majority of the cotton in the Abilene territory has been killed and is ready to strip.

B. B. Manly Jr., in charge of the USDA Cotton Classing Office, Abilene, Texas reports that 6,700 were classed for the week ending October 23, 1970 compared to 7,029 for the same period last season. Our season's total is now 16,500 samples classed compared to 19,000 for a seasons total a year ago.

Twenty-nine percent of the samples classed were in the white category and 68 percent were light spotted. The predominant grade was 32 at 39 percent. Predominant staple lengths were 29, 29 percent and 30, 46 percent. Micronaire readings showed 76 percent in the premium range.

Pressley or strength readings showed 93 percent reading 80,000 PSI (pounds per square inch) and better.

The Consumer and Marketing Service, Abilene, Texas reports average gross prices for some predominant qualities are: 3229 brought 20.70¢; 3230 brought 21.05¢; 4229 brought 20.28¢; and 4230 brought 20.50¢.

Streams In Desert Places

BY OZELLE STEPHENS

The apostle Paul said, "For the good that I would do, I do not; but the evil that I would not, that I do".

Out of these words we find ourselves two people. There are two natures struggling for supremacy within the Christian. "For the flesh beseteth against the spirit, and the spirit against the flesh; and these are contrary the one to the other; so that ye cannot do the things that ye would." Now we see why the Christian is faced with conflict within. We also see why the non-Christian seems to drift along with no evidence of struggle. The Christian life is a transformation of the carnal nature. One man died and the other has a new life altogether. The carnal nature has to be starved to death by feeding the spiritual. It is not easy, but God's grace is sufficient if we pray continually and read "The Word" daily.

The world's future depends on children. Unless they receive the care and education they need, they will not be able to grow into useful productive adults. The United Nations Children's Fund helps the world's children with aid to education. When you help UNICEF you are buying life insurance for the world.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

You have just taken your seat on a 747 and the intercom projects. "Ladies and Gentlemen, we have two pilots for this flight. One is a flashy individual who has no experience in flying airplanes, but he has read many aviation magazines and has several friends who are pilots. He says he believes he can pilot the 747 right through the skies. We also have here a veteran pilot of over 30 years experience, flying all types of planes and is presently flying the 747. He too is confident he can give us a safe and sure flight. Which pilot do you prefer?"

Granted, most beginners would like to start at the top, but I doubt if Texas can afford any Governor who does not understand the complicated legislative procedures, and you don't learn it unless you've been there.

To borrow the Darrell Royal phrase, Preston Smith didn't arrive at the state-house on a load of wood.

Why Preston Smith ?

Preston Smith believes in working hard. For you. And that's why he's doing such a good job as Governor of Texas.

When Preston Smith entered public service, he didn't start by asking Texans to elect him Governor. That would have been foolish, because being Governor carries great responsibilities. And it demands the clear, steady judgement that comes only from experience.

Preston Smith had the good common sense to work his way up—gaining insight into how our state government functions.

He served six years each—as State Representative, as State Senator and as Lieutenant Governor. Only then, when he felt fully qualified, did he seek the Office of Governor.

Now, after two years he has expanded the duties of the Governor's Office to better serve all the people of our State.

Yes, Preston Smith believes in hard work. For 20 years, he's been working for Texas—doing a good job. You can help keep him as Governor. Vote for Preston Smith on Tuesday, Nov. 3.

Preston Smith

is doing a good job. Let's keep him working for Texas.

The Seniors had a talent show Saturday night for the Annual King and Queen Contest. Stacy Angle won first, Duak and Timi Graham won second, and Jan Lowrey won third. We would like to thank the people who helped with the talent show in any way. We appreciate it.

The Hounds beat Baird Friday night and will play Albany there next Friday night. This will be a good, tough game so let's all go to Albany and help the Hounds win.

The Houndettes have a basketball game Monday, here with Weimert. This will be our first scrimmage of the year.

Our class fruit sale starts today and will run for two weeks. Contact a senior if you would like to order either oranges or grapefruit. The oranges and grapefruit are guaranteed to be good and fresh. If they are not, the class will refund your money or give you another box of fruit.

Coaches' Comments

By Coach Charles Hibbits

We were well pleased after Friday night's victory over the Baird Bears. Our offensive line did an outstanding job and our backs ran well. We were disappointed in our punting game which we will have to work on this week. Anytime you see a punt blocked, this is not good.

We will be playing the No. 2 team in the State Friday night when we travel to Albany. This will be the most important game of the year because the winner of this game will probably be the District Champion. This game means more to me than any game I have ever coached. I can assure you that the Greyhounds will give all that they have to bring this one back as a victory.

Albany is a big strong power type football team. They like to run right at you. We must play our finest defensive game of the year. They also have one of the finest defenses we have faced. They have shut out 5 of their 7 opponents. This means the Greyhounds will have to play without making too many errors. Albany likes to capitalize on your errors as any good football team must do.

IN BUCHANAN HOME

Here over the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Buchanan were their daughter, Mrs. Johnny Lee Clark, and her son, Lee, and her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Montgomery, all of Fort Worth, and the Buchanans' son, Archie, also of Fort Worth. They were here for a belated birthday celebration for Mr. Buchanan who was 70 years old Sunday, October 18.

Santa Rosa District Federation Day Speaker

Mrs. Overton Neil of Quanah, president of Santa Rosa District of Federated Study Clubs, was Federation Day speaker for the 1946 Study Club's program, Wednesday morning, October 21. Knox City Study Club members were guests.

Mrs. Neil gave an enlightening talk on the effective ways Christian women can unite and better serve their homes and communities. She closed with a quote from the Bible, "He who observes the wind will not sow, and he who regards the clouds will not reap". Ecclesiastes 11:4

Members and guests were served pumpkin cake and hot spiced tea by hostesses, Mrs. John Eigenbacher and Mrs. Sammy White.

Science Dept. News

By JEAN MARTINEZ

In Advanced Biology this week, the students had a lab involving several different types of epithelial tissue.

Epithelial tissue is composed of closely connected cells that are by a very small amount of intercellular substance. The cells are arranged so that they form thin layers or sheets and are found covering the outer surface of the body and line the internal body cavities.

Because of the variety of this type of tissue, it is classified according to shape and arrangement.

The first type of epithelial tissue the students made slides of was pavement epithelial. These cells are thin and flat with somewhat irregular edges. These cells are arranged to form a thin membrane called the peritoneum and their function is to suspend the stomach and intestines and hold in place.

The second type of epithelial tissue the students made slides of was columnar epithelium. These are long narrow cells usually found as a single layer and have a layer prominent nucleus which is elongated. These are found lining the inside of the intestine and are arranged vertically in the intestine cavity. On the small exposed surface of each cell are very small fingerlike projections called microvilli and their function is to increase the absorbing surface area of the cell.

The third type of epithelial tissue the students made a slide of was ciliated epithelium. They are very similar to the columnar in their shape, but are a bit longer and they contain very fine projections that are constantly waving in motion. These cells are found in the respiratory tract, the uterus, and the oviducts.

The fourth type of epithelial tissue the students made slides of was cuboidal epithelium. These, they are found to be cubical in shape with a large oval nucleus. These cells are found in the outer part of the skin. The cells are thin, flat, and usually are six sided. The skin is composed of several layers of cells in thickness. The material for the skin was obtained from the frog.

Homemaking II

By PATTY FITTS

Things are beginning to slow down a little bit, although, we still have two more weeks to sew on our garments. Then, we will begin cooking. Some of the girls enjoy cooking, while others do not enjoy it as much as the others. I have a feeling our cooking sessions are going to be funny this year.

Homemaking I

By JANNA HISE

This week the Homemaking I girls have been doing the "dirty work." We have been cleaning each of the kitchens in the Homemaking room. So far we have just cleaned the bottom cabinets in each kitchen. It's a lot of work, but we sure do have fun.

Texas and the nation are confronted at this hour with a challenge and an opportunity without parallel in our modern history. In this age of space and research, it is the continuing objective of the Democratic Party in our state to lead Texas to new growth. The opportunity for growth is undeniable. It shall be our task to assume the responsibility for its achievement.

By 1970 we must provide almost 800,000 new jobs for our rapidly growing population. To make this growth possible, we must provide a favorable climate for business, industry, agriculture and labor. We can create this favorable condition for growth by making certain that our government is soundly managed and sensibly administered. This kind of government is essential to effective services in such areas as education, health, sanitation, resource development, roads, recreation and law enforcement. Most of all, the government must be responsive to the people, their needs, their hopes, their progress.

Vote for the man who will vote for Texas.

Texas needs Lloyd Bentsen... a Democrat who will be free to support the policies that he thinks are right for Texas but who can oppose those that he thinks are wrong.

For example—Gun control. One of the great controversies of our time has been the extent of Federal control over the firearms and ammunition of private citizens.

George Bush voted for the Gun Control Act of 1968. It requires dealers to keep detailed federal records on purchases of guns and ammunition. This is a foot in the door to gun registration.

Lloyd Bentsen opposes gun control legislation that uselessly penalizes law-abiding sportsmen but fails to curb criminals.

We must do everything possible to protect the public from the misuse of firearms. But Lloyd Bentsen feels the better way to do it is by stronger laws and tougher penalties for crimes committed with firearms and with sure prosecution of criminals.

Vote for the man who is free to work with our 20 Democratic Texas Congressmen in matters where the best interests of Texans are at stake.

Texas needs Democrat Lloyd Bentsen
A courageous Texan with fresh ideas.

GOVERNOR SMITH'S EXPERIENCE and belief that governmental decisions should be made at the local level whenever possible have contributed significantly to his leadership of the State.

Many responsibilities of administration and decision making, formerly handled at the Federal level, are now being made at the State and Local levels. This shift is of considerable magnitude and coming about very rapidly. Pressure Smith foresees this transition and even before taking office began to prepare the Governor's office to handle the increased responsibilities. Because of his foresight and leadership, Texas State Government is today considered to be a more aggressive and responsive state in meeting the needs of its citizens.

The Governor's philosophy is found in the design of new and original programs as well as some of an on going nature. He views the stance of Texas State Government as one to help people, at the local level, solve their problems and maximize their opportunities. He believes in the people having a voice in decision making and the application of programs. He believes a part of leadership is to listen, find out what citizens desire, and then lead them in accomplishing their goals.

Governor Smith has a vision of increased opportunity for every Texan. In fact, his administration could be labeled a "Program of Opportunity." An analysis of what he is doing and how he is doing it points out this very vividly. Broken down by individuals and citizens collectively it could be said he is working for:

1. The individual to have . . .
 - (a) The opportunity for the best education possible (all his educational programs including technical vocational).
 - (b) Opportunity to live in safety (crime program).
 - (c) Opportunity to be safer on the highways of Texas (Traffic Safety Program).
 - (d) Opportunity to enjoy better relations with fellow Texans (Human Relations Committee and Governor's Conference on Children and Youth).
2. For Texas to have . . .
- (a) The opportunity to benefit from our Gulf Coast and Marine Resources.
 - (b) A good climate in which to work and to operate a business (Industrial Development and Manager Planning).
 - (c) The opportunity to combat the problems of urban and rural areas (Model Cities, Operation Breakthrough and Texas Office of Economic Opportunity).
 - (d) An opportunity for Texas communities to maintain their existence (Texas Communities Tomorrow).
 - (e) A well planned, yet flexible program for the future (Goals For Texas, and Texas Information Center).
