What sort of world for them?

With mingled pride and wonder you watch them-absorbed in their play. How sure the young builder's touch...how graceful the deft girlgestures! You treasure each promise for the future that shows in their choice of toys and activities.

And always in your heart is the prayer that they will grow up to a world as happy as the one you've made for them. A world full of opportunity, where each may choose the life work most satisfying and fulfilling.

There's one way to help make your dreams for them come true! Be on the watch for ideas that could deprive them of their right to free and independent action.

The idea, for instance, that "government should run such and such -a business, an institution, a service." Yet experience has shown that the more things government controls, the less freedom there is for the Use your "woman-power" to refute this idea that "government should run things." Remind those who are for such a theory that the loss of anybody's independence is a threat to everybody's freedom.

Very much aware of this danger are the independent electric light and power companies, because government already runs part of the electric business. And powerful people are pressing to take over more.
