Missionary to Speak At Local Church

Rev. Floyd Bailey, pastor of the Knox City Foursquare Church, announced Tuesday that Rev. Claud Updike, a missionary, will be at the church Wednesday, Thursday and Friday night, Sept. 3, 4 and 5.

Rev. Bailey said the revival meeting which has been in progress the past two weeks will not close with the services Sunday night, although that will be the last service held by the evangelist, Rev. Jimmy Donaldson of Lubbock, and a baptismal service will be held.

The pulpit will be filled Monday and Tuesday nights by ministers from Abilene, to keep the meeting in progress until Rev. Updike's arrival Wednesday.

Rev. Updike has served as a missionary in Central and South American countries, the Philippine Islands and Japan.

"He is given up to be one of the world's greatest missionaries," Rev. Bailey said, "and Knox Citizens are very fortunate in having an opportunity to hear him."

Rev. Updike will be accompanied by Dr. Charles R. Gaines of Dallas, state head of Foursquare churches in Texas.

Club to Sponsor Bake Sale Saturday

A bake sale will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday in front of City Hardware by members of the 1946 Study Club.

At a called meeting of the club Wednesday at The Woman's Club, several new members were voted into the club and plans for the yearbook were discussed.

Mrs. Rip Collins, president, was in charge of the meeting and Mrs. Sam Clonts discussed the yearbook. Mrs. Z. E. Cone, second vice president, announced plans for the bake sale. She also reported that more than $25 was cleared on last Saturday's sale.

Tentative plans for bringing a triple header entertainment program to Knox City in the near future were discussed.

The program would include the Stamps Ozark Quartet, Bill Mack and Dixie Boy Jordan.

Cokes were served and following the meeting members present cleaned the grounds of The Woman's Club.

Housing Administration Okays Knox City Project

While the Knox City Housing Authority has not received official notification, it was reported from Washington this week that the Public Housing Administration had given final approval for the construction of 32 low-rent housing units in Knox City.

Knox City's 32 units are part of an authorization to build 20,000 units in 49 cities and towns this year. Other Texas cities included were Beaumont, 150 units, Texarkana 125, and Galveston 104.

PHA said it was selecting projects from a backlog of 55,946 proposed units, and that the "overriding consideration" in selecting projects for construction this year "was to salvage those in which the local and federal governments had the heaviest financial investments."

According to members of the local Housing Authority, the Knox City project will consist of twenty units for white families, located on the Cornett tract west of Roy's Courts; six units for Negroes, located on the Reeder land just west of the railroad, and six units for Latin American families, located in East Knox City, about two blocks west of the football field.

Estimated cost of the project is in excess of $300,000.

Members of the Housing Authority, appointed by the city commission, are Judge L. M. Williams, chairman, Roy A. Baker, J. M. Averitt, W. L. Collins and Otis Harbert. Joe Reed, Jr., is secretary.

Minister Resigns Pastorate Here

Howard Marshall, pastor of the First Christian Church in Knox City, tendered his resignation to his congregation Sunday, effective Sept. 15.

Marshall had been pastor of the local church since June 1, 1951. During that time, there have been thirty-three additions to the church. He has taken an active part in civic affairs and has been very popular with Knox Citizens in general, as well as with members of his congregation.

He has accepted the pastorate of the First Christian Church in Lancaster, a suburban community of about 3,500 population, 10 miles south of Dallas.

In announcing his resignation Marshall expressed regret at leaving Knox City, but added that several reasons made the move advisable. "We have felt at home in Knox City and hate to leave our many friends here," he said. "However, the move will be an advancement in the ministry, it will be more convenient and less expensive for me to complete my work at TCU, and the new church is near my parents' home."

First bales of 1953 cotton were ginned by Knox City and O'Brien Gins this week, with O'Brien nosing-out Knox City by one day.

The first bale at O'Brien—and according to the ginner, the first bale in Haskell County—was brought in Tuesday afternoon by F. D. (Dempsey) Emerson.

Emerson pulled over about 10 acres on his farm three miles west of O'Brien to gather the 2,000 pounds of bollies. The ginned bale weighed 477 lbs.

The cotton, of the Northern Star Variety, was ginned free by the O'Brien Co-op Gin, and a premium now being made up is expected to amount to about $200.

Wednesday, Emerson had not sold the cotton.

The first bale ginned in Knox City was brought in by Russell Boyd Wednesday afternoon and ginned at the Paymaster gin.

According to E. R. Carpenter, manager of the gin, this was the first bale ginned in Knox County from the 1953 crop.

The 2,200 pounds of bollies were pulled on Boyd's farm a mile north of town. About eight acres of the 75-acre field were pulled over. Russell says the field "looks mighty good" and "could make three-fourths of a bale per acre."

The cotton was of the Lockett variety, and turned out a 460-pound bale of lint cotton. The ginning was free, and in addition Boyd received a bonus price of 35c per pound and a $25 cash premium from the gin. It is expected that an additional premium will be paid by Knox City merchants.

The seed sold for $50.50 per ton. This was Boyd's first time to produce a premium bale.

John Atterbury also pulled a bale Wednesday, but his cotton reached the gin later than Boyd's.

In 1952, the first bale was ginned at O'Brien on August 16, and the first bale at Knox City on August 9.

LIONS DISTRICT GOVERNOR SPEAKS AT LOCAL CLUB

O. L. Stamey, District Governor of District 2-E, Lions International, put a new interpretation on Lionism today when he visited the local Lions Club.

While the letters in the word Lions stands for "Liberty, Intelligence, Our Nation's Safety," Stamey said, they also stand for "Leadership, Ideals, Opportunity, Nourishment, Service."

The district governor, who is president of Cisco Junior College, was speaking particularly of the work of Texas Lions Clubs in sponsoring the Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville.

Lion Stamey had visited the camp this summer and was high in his praise of the work being done. Out of one group of 40 boys, he said, 38 had never been swimming. During their stay at the camp, all but two of those 38 boys learned to swim.

The local club is one of the sponsors of the camp, and crippled children in this area are eligible to attend the camp, it was pointed out.

Lion Stamey was accompanied by T. C. Williams, former president of the Cisco Lions Club and a former county superintendent of schools in Haskell county.

Jeff Graham, president of the local club, reminded members that today's meeting was the last meeting to be held on Thursday. Beginning next week, the regular weekly meetings of the club will be held on Wednesdays.

Look what your FORD dollar buys

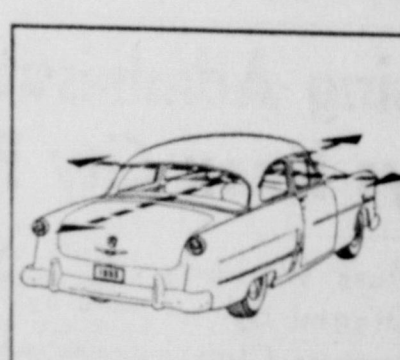

Check the features below against any car in the low-price field and you see why Ford's worth more when you buy it...worth more when you sell

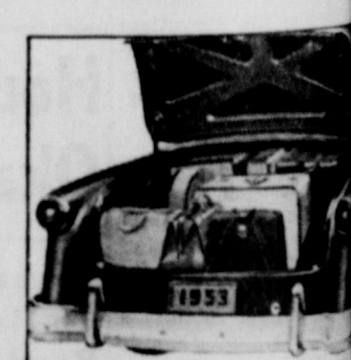

V-8 POWER is yours in Ford—but not in other low-priced cars. It's the product of Ford's experience in building over 13,000,000 V-8's! Ford's high-compression, low-friction Mileage Maker Six with Overdrive, is the Economy Sweepstakes winner.

ROAD-LEVELING RIDE reduces front end road shock alone up to 80%. Wide front tread, diagonally-mounted shock absorbers take tilt out of turns. You'll discover in the '53 Ford that a car need not be excessively heavy to ride smooth as silk.

FULL-CIRCLE VISIBILITY is yours in Ford. With huge, curved, one-piece windshield, car-wide rear window and "picture windows" all-around, Ford has more "look out" area than any car in the low-price field. I-REST tinted glass also available.

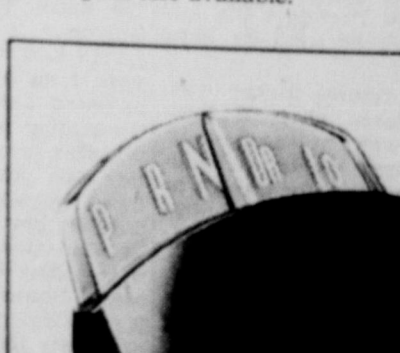

ROOMY TRUNK is one suitcase bigger than any other low-price car. . . bigger than any other low-price car. . . bigger than you'll find in many of expensive cars. With Ford's Cap Fill Fueling, there's no long pipe to eat up your trunk space.

SUSPENDED PEDALS make braking and clutching easier . . . allow more clear floor space . . . eliminate dusty, drafty floor holes. This feature, exclusive to Ford in its field, permits dash-mounting of brake master cylinder for easy accessibility.

FOAM-RUBBER CUSHIONS over non-sag springs in Ford's sofa-wide seats make even long trips a treat. And you'll find that only Ford in the low-price field offers this fine-car feature as standard equipment on both front and rear seats in all models.

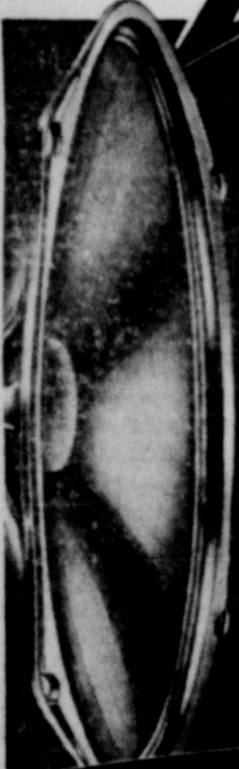

FORDOMATIC DRIVE—an optional extra—is really two automatic drives in one. It has a fluid torque converter for smooth, steady power flow. It has automatic gears for greater "get-up-and-go." Ford also offers you Overdrive and Conventional Drive.

MASTER-GUIDE POWER STEERING—an optional extra on V-8 models—gives you the natural "feel" of steering on the straight-away yet lets the work out of turning. Also, road shocks before they reach steering wheel—adds to safety.

WTU's Paint Creek Plant Now In Use

West Texas Utilities Company's Paint Creek generating station, near Haskell, is now a "working unit" of the company's generating system. Following a series of shake-down runs in June and July, the 33,000 KW turbo generating unit at the new power station at Paint Creek reservoir is now operating on a 24 hour schedule. The addition of this new unit has increased the company's total generating capability to 212,470 KW.

Located on a 120 acre site on the north shore of the Paint Creek Reservoir, the generating plant is fourteen miles southeast of Haskell and sixteen miles northeast of Stamford.

While construction on the new station was begun early in 1952, the generating unit itself was actually ordered in 1950. The general contractor for the plant was the Austin Building Co. with R. V. Sass serving as West Texas Utilities Company's engineer.

A staff of 22 under the direction of C. O. Holt, chief engineer, and J. R. Cook, assistant engineer, operate the plant on three eight-hour shifts seven days a week.

In June, heavy rains in the Hamlin, Stamford and Haskell area poured water into the reservoir providing enough water for the operation of the plant. The plant uses water principally for cooling and condensing steam. Water at the rate of 30,000 gallons per minute is pumped from the lake on one side of the plant through the condensers and returned to the lake on the other side of the plant. Other than for sanitary purposes, the plant consumes very little water. Engineers point out that the water merely comes in contact with clean, polished brass tubes and is in no way contaminated by plant use.

While the plant is now classed as a working unit, actually a great deal of construction and other types of work remain to be done. The plant personnel estimate that it will require many weeks "putting on the finishing touches."

The building is of structural steel, masonry and brick, 100 feet by 76 feet, and is equivalent to a four-story structure in height. The entrance to the plant is double-doors into a small lobby. Directly in front is a door leading into the locker room, showers, wash rooms and rest rooms. On the right is the stairway leading to the second story. At the top of the stairway is another small lobby with doors leading into the offices of the assistant chief engineer, the plant clerk and record room. Joining on the west is the office of the chief engineer. On the east of the lobby is the entrance to the employee's meeting room; and on the north is the entrance to the turbine room.

On the south end of the turbine room, adjoining the meeting room is the plant laboratory, and on the opposite side are the rest rooms and the kitchenette. The kitchenette was included so employees can warm up their lunches, prepare coffee and serve light snacks.

The substation is located east of the plant building. Just east of the substation is a landing field which will accommodate small aircraft. North of the plant grounds two modern homes have been built and are occupied by the assistant engineer and the plant maintenance foreman. A caliche road from the plant intersects a farm to market road to Haskell where the majority of the employees and their families are now living.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Roy Baker moved this week to Merkel, where he will teach this year. Mrs. Baker will commute to Abilene to continue her studies at McMurry College.

Home Demonstration

By Georgia Fae Perkins

(Delayed from last week)

Last week, the agent visited in the home of an H-D club member who has devoted five years of her time in efforts to being an adult 4-H Leader for a girls' club in Knox County. Her accomplishments are so wonderful I would like for you to know about them. She is a respected mother of two children, a son and daughter, is a farmer's wife and a responsible person in her community.

While a leader of the 4-H Club, the average membership was fifteen girls. One year, she ably led the girls while the county did not have an agent, and her club was the only one that was fortunate enough to have an adult leader. Every spring of the five years, she saw that her club girls were in a dress revue in the county or in her community.

So we made money at a cake walk at the school carnival and the H-D club helped us to buy materials for the girls' aprons, skirts and blouses. That spring we had a dress revue in our community. Eleven girls entered 37 garments. We had three adult judges, and the girls were given first, second and third places on their garments."

"We looked forward to summer encampments," she says with great enthusiasm, "and I always went with the girls, either for a joint county camp or district camp."

Teachers... Students... Newcomers...

Those returning to school in September, those who have moved to Knox City to make their home and those who haven't been getting their home-town paper are urged to enter their subscription to The Herald, immediately.

If you are going away to college, you can keep up with the happenings in town, and the activities of your friends, through the columns of The Herald. It's "better than a letter from home" because it gives you more news about more people you know.

If you are a teacher or another "newcomer", get acquainted with your new home town by reading The Herald regularly. You'll find news of the school sports and other activities, local church news, reports from the Lions Club and women's clubs, local social items, marriage and birth reports, news of neighboring communities. You'll soon feel that you "know" Knox City and are a part of it.

And all the important news is not on the front page. In the Herald you'll find messages from wide-awake local advertisers—the progressive merchants of Knox City. Many of our readers say they can save the price of their Herald subscription in ONE trip to town, after shopping through the Herald ads.

Our circulation is now at an all-time high, but we want to increase it still more in order to give our advertisers MORE readers per advertising dollar.

Our subscription price is still only $2.00 per year in Knox and adjoining counties, $2.50 elsewhere... so keep up with Knox City and surrounding area—enter your subscription this week!

STREAMS in Desert Places
By Ocellie Stephens
"Now when He was in Jerusalem at the passover in the feast day, many believed in His name, when they saw the miracles He did. But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because He knew all men. And needed not that any should testify of man; for He knew what was in man." (John 2:23-25).
Jesus was going to pass through Jericho. Zacchaeus was a rich man, he was chief among the tax collectors. He wanted to see Jesus. Is that your desire? To see Jesus, you must "desire" to see Him, with all your heart.
Because Zacchaeus was a small man he climbed a sycamore tree to be sure to see Him. Are you doing the things daily so you can be sure to see Him? He is passing by every day. He is longing for you to look His way. He wants to speak to you as He did Zacchaeus. He is just as interested in you as He was Zacchaeus. He has something for you to do. Jesus knew Zacchaeus, and He knows you. He has made you for a purpose. He has faith in you and will help you to be great in His cause regardless of what has been in your life.
Desire to have Him with all your heart. He will bless you with Salvation and a Christ-like love that will make your life a special blessing to other souls.
