MEETING CALLED TO MAKE FINAL 'LITTLE LEAGUE' PLANS

Every Knox City and O'Brien boy who wants to participate in the Junior Baseball program this summer should attend a meeting at the American Legion Hall Saturday at 4 p. m., Charles Reese, chairman of the steering committee, said Wednesday.

Reese also urged all interested parents to attend, as well as other committee members, managers and others who will work with the program.

Students Hear Speakers Discuss Various Careers

The second annual Career Day for Knox City High School students was held Wednesday. The event is sponsored by the high school faculty and the student body.

Theme was "Planning for a Career."

At the general assembly in the school auditorium, Supt. Chas. E. Silk presided. Joe Lynn Cash gave the invocation.

Sectional meetings were held in various classrooms. Speakers and their subject were:

Engineer, H. T. Cunningham of Munday, resident engineer, state highway department; civil service, Mr. Ray; physical education and coaching, Tommy Ellis of Abilene, football coach, McMurry College.

Airline Stewardess, Mrs. Hazel Weaver, guidance director, Haskell.

High School; medicine, Dr. C. G. Markward; farmer and rancher, Roy B. England, county agent, Knox County.

Reporter, Mrs. C. E. Williams; mechanics, Norman Howell; secretary, Jack Barker of Benjamin; science, Dr. Maynard Stephens, dean, School of Petroleum and Physical Sciences, Midwestern University, Wichita Falls.

Nurse, Mrs. R. S. Shelton; interior decorating, A. S. Waldrop of Waldrop Furniture Co., Abilene; teacher, Dr. R. M. Hawkins, professor of education, McMurry College; and accountant, Fuller Shannon.

Students selected subjects in which they were most interested and met with the speakers in rooms assigned. Each speaker gave a 30-minute talk on his profession then answered questions from students.

Knox Legionnaire Named Delegate to Legion Convention

J. G. Robin was elected a delegate to attend the National American Legion Convention at the district meeting held in Graham Saturday and Sunday. Robin was a district delegate to last year's convention.

The national meet will be Sept. 14.

Others from Knox City in Graham were Chas. E. Silk, Paul Fitzgerald, and Doyle Graham, legionnaires, and Mrs. Guy Robinson, Mrs. Paul Fitzgerald, Mrs. J. James, Beverly James, Lynelle Tankersley, Jeanette Colson, and Kay Dean Hester.

Silk gave the response to the welcome address at Sunday morning's session. Beverly, Lynelle, and Jeanette sang during Saturday night's program and Kay Dean was a candidate for district sweetheart.

The title was won by Sharon Cypert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Cypert of Munday, and granddaughter of Mrs. L. W. Cypert of Knox City.

C.Y.F. SERVES 186 MEALS

The young people of the First Christian Church sold 186 advance tickets for ham dinners delivered to Knox City homes Wednesday night, John Waddell, minister of the church, said this morning.

Including members of the C.Y.F., 186 meals were served. The minister expressed thanks to those who bought the meals and to members of the church who donated food. The proceeds will go toward the purchase of new hymnals for the church.

Abilene Man to Speak at WMS Senior Banquet

James Tidenberg, director, Placement Office, Hardin-Simmons University, will be speaker at the annual banquet honoring members of the graduating class of Knox City High School Monday night, April 28, at the First Baptist Church. The banquet is hosted by the Woman's Missionary Society.

Theme will be "Sea Fantasy". Mrs. J. M. Bradberry will provide dinner music.

Tidenberg is a 1957 graduate of H-S-U. He is a native of Clovis, N. M. where he graduated from high school. In addition to his duties at the university, he serves as pastor of the Guthrie and Dumont community Baptist churches.

Special musical numbers will be furnished by a group from Hardin-Simmons.

Knox, Benjamin Boys Are Tops In SCS Contests

Billy Joe Large of Knox City FFA and Bobby Idol of Benjamin FFA scored high individual honors in the Wichita-Brazos Soil Conservation District's annual 4-H Club and FFA Land and grass judging contests here Saturday.

Benjamin placed first in the grass judging contest. The team is composed of Idol, Billy Bumpas and Freddie McGregor, and coached by Kenneth Roberts.

First place in land judging went to the Knox City FFA team coached by L. E. Groves. Members are Large, Garry Johnson and Danny Burt.

Following the contests Henry Smith, vice-chairman of the district board of supervisors, made a short talk on how the soil conservation district was organized to help solve soil and water conservation problems. Jack Idol, chairman of the board, presented the awards to the high point teams and individuals.

4-H Swine Show Slated Saturday At Rhineland

A 4-H Swine Show will be held at Rhineland on Saturday, April 26 for all Knox County 4-H members conducting swine demonstrations.

This will be a sow and litter show featuring the registered Duroc breeding stock in the county 4-H program.

The show will begin at 10 a. m. adjacent to the meeting hall in Rhineland.

Following the sow and litter show, several exhibitors will offer pigs for sale, County Agent Roy England said. Farmers or others interested in buying pigs were invited to attend.

Girls Volleyball Tourney In Progress

The District 18-B high school girls volleyball tournament is in progress at the Rochester gymnasium today.

O'Brien and Mattson were to start the tournament at 1 p. m., followed by the Rule-Weinert game at 1:50 and the Rochester-Woodson game at 2:40.

Margaret Ann Chaffin, O'Brien coach, said her girls had won three games this season, losing only one to Rochester.

Water-Flooding Project to Boost Knox Oil Production

A secondary recovery water flood project which is expected to double recovery of remaining oil has been put into operation at North Knox City unit field in Knox County by Pan American Petroleum Corporation, unit operator.

Final plans for injection of 5,000 barrels of water per day are now being formulated. The water injection program is the outcome of an earlier unitization agreement which received the overwhelming support of operators in the unit area. The Texas Railroad Commission has also approved the unit and the water flood.

The unitization and water flood projects are viewed as important conservation measures in addition to being economically sound. The recovery of remaining oil will be considerably increased at a low cost with little or no increase in field operating life.

Operators bear full cost of all unitization and secondary recovery programs on a pro rata basis... their percentage of ownership in the unit determines the percentage of operating costs each pays. Royalty owners are not assessed for any costs of unitization, secondary recovery or operations.

North Knox City field was discovered in November, 1950. The reef-type Palo Pinto reservoir was found to be producing chiefly from energy provided by gas expanding in the oil, much like a soft drink is forced from the bottle when the bottle is shaken. However, such a gas-solution system is inefficient in an oil field and usually results in low oil recovery.

By injecting water in the lower portion of the reservoir, an efficient water drive recovery can be induced. Under water drive, reservoir energy and oil production rates will be maintained, while more oil is being pushed from the reservoir by the advancing water.

Unitization is a widely used system of oil and gas conservation in most oil-producing states. It leads to engineering secondary recovery programs, similar to those in the North Knox Field, which allow greater recovery of oil from a field. A few outstanding Texas fields which have been unitized and which are experiencing increased recovery through water or gas injection are Kelly-Snyder, Cogdell, Salt Creek, and Sharon Ridge Fields.

Secondary recovery projects are in wide use throughout Texas and all other oil-producing states. Fields where secondary recovery programs are in operation account for a significant and growing portion of the total daily U. S. production.

Of importance also is the fact that the oil recorded will provide additional power and products for consumers and more to royalty owners.

Pan American, which operates the unit, holds about 68 per cent interest in it. Other operating companies include Skelly Oil Company, Signal Oil and Gas Company, Sunray Mid-Continent Oil Company, and the Fair Interests.

FFA Chapter Slates Parent-Son Banquet

Both mothers and dads of Future Farmers were invited to attend the annual Parent-Son Banquet which will be held in the school cafeteria tomorrow night (Friday) at 7:30, L. E. Groves, chapter adviser, said Tuesday.

Speaker will be the vice-president of state FFA, Creath Davis of Comanche. Davis, a senior in Comanche High School, will be a guest of Bobby Day while in Knox City.

Doyle Gene Graham will give the invocation. The opening ceremony and closing ceremony will be given by the chapter officers. Groves will present the awards in dairy cattle, soil conservation, farm mechanics, farm electrification, public speaking, star farmer, farm safety, and the Dekalb award.

Honorary chapter farmers, selected by the chapter and to be presented at the banquet are Lynn Tankersley, Bud Moon, and Odell Carver. The chapter president, Douglas Bradley, will recognize Miss Charlotte Cornett as chapter sweetheart.

Other chapter officers are Jerry Johnson, vice-president; Laval Verhalen, secretary; Donald Johnson, treasurer; R. L. Moon, reporter; and Fred Carver, sentinel.

A fried chicken dinner will be served.

Jack Fisher New Scoutmaster Here

Jack Fisher will be new Scoutmaster of Troop 161 in Knox City, following the resignation of Ulric Lea, it was announced this week.

Fisher will be assisted by David Counts and Charley Clarke. The troop has 19 members.

Lea and Joe Murray Clonts will be in charge of an Explorer post with seven members.

The Explorer group will meet every Monday night and the troop will meet on Thursday nights, Lea said.

The Scout Troop won third place in its Soil and Water Conservation exhibit in the Scout-O-Rama at Wichita Falls last Friday and Saturday.

O'Brien Group to Present Play at Haskell April 29

For the third time, O'Brien Community Circle will present its 3-act comedy.

The play, "Hessie of the Hills" will be presented in the Haskell School auditorium Tuesday night, April 29, beginning at 8 o'clock, Mrs. Lynward Wilcox, president of the circle, said Wednesday.

The play was first presented in the local auditorium and the next week at Rochester. Proceeds go toward the construction of a cellar on the O'Brien School campus.

The sophomore class of Haskell High School is sponsor of the play in Haskell. The class will keep 40% of the advance ticket sales and the circle will get 60%, Mrs. Wilcox said.

BAND PLACES IN CONTESTS

The Knox City School Band won a first and a second in University Interscholastic League contests in Wichita Falls Monday, W. J. Morris, director, said Tuesday.

The group won first on inspection and a second on marching in the Class B division.

Entertainment Planned for Gin Meet at O'Brien

The public was invited to attend the annual Stockholders' Meeting of the O'Brien Co-op Gin Co. which will be held at the old Baptist Church in O'Brien Saturday, April 26.

Featured during the entertainment program will be an address by Jeff Williams and the singing of the Plainsmen Quartet.

Williams of Chickasha, Okla., is a noted philosopher and humorist. He has spoken in every state in the United States and in several overseas countries. He is a confirmed optimist and has implicit faith in the future. His philosophy is "Our privileges are many, our opportunities are vast, our responsibilities are great, for unto whom much is given... much is required."

Williams was a guest speaker at a ladies night Lions Club banquet in Knox City several years ago.

The Plainsmen Quartet is from Sweetwater. It was formerly known as Stamps Quartet, and is considered one of the top gospel singing quartets in the nation.

S. N. Reed, manager of the gin, said the business meeting will begin at 1:30. The quartet will give 15 minutes of singing beginning at 2:30, and Williams will speak at 2:45.

"We extend to each and everyone of you an invitation to be present at one of the most outstanding programs to be held in this section", Reed said.

Refreshments will be served.

'Quit Business Sale' Under Way at Cobb's

A "Quit Business" sale will end the Cobb's Department Store in Knox City after 14 years operation in the community, it was announced this week by Horace Finley, manager of the store.

The sale began this morning with every item in the store reduced to clear out in the shortest length of time. Much of the merchandise has been marked down 50% or more, Finley said.

The store has been closed the first three days of this week in preparation for the sale. The interior has been changed. Display counters have been remodeled and moved to new locations, making room for better arrangement.

The store was purchased by Cobbs Brothers from A. J. Malouf in October, 1944. Malouf established the store in Knox City in 1927, with only a small stock of goods but a lot of confidence in the community.

Civil Service Director Is Guest Speaker at Local Lions Club

Samuel Ray of the United States Civil Service Commission, Dallas, was guest speaker at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Knox City Lions Club.

Mr. Ray, who was introduced by Postmaster Jeff Graham, had appeared earlier at the annual Career Day program at Knox City High School.

The speaker outlined the history of the commission and told how the merit system was developed and the old rule, "to the victor belongs the spoils," largely eliminated from federal employment.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Texas. — Unemployment, or no unemployment, most people this side of the Rio Grande aren't willing to bend their backs to pull onions at 50 cents an hour.

So say Texas farmers. Their crops are going to rot in the fields, they add, if the U. S. Labor Department doesn't relax restrictions on importing Mexican nationals.

Spokesmen for organized labor have demanded a ban on importing labor because of climbing unemployment. But farmers say that idle aircraft mechanics, no matter how numerous, are no help in getting the crops in. According to the farmers, abundant rainfall gives promise of the best harvests in years—if they can get field hands.

Labor Dept. has put a limit of 26,500 braceros to be used in Texas during April and May. It's about one-fifth the number used this time last year. Rio Grande Valley growers say they could use the whole bunch in their area.

Texas Employment Commission says there are already about 26,500 here; hence, no more imports.

Under Labor Dept. regulations, workers cannot be imported until the TEC certifies the jobs cannot be filled with American citizens. Valley growers recently asked for braceros to harvest vegetables. TEC certified to a shortage of workers in the area and, even after a statewide canvass, was unable to fill the demand.

But the federal officials suggested recruiting in other states before bringing in Mexicans.

Farm groups protested to every regulatory official in reach. Texas crop and weather conditions are such, they say, that when they need laborers, they need them then and there. Neither, they point out, do they have time or money to run all over the country looking for workers.

Though federal officials catch the brunt of their criticisms, farmers put part of the blame for their labor problems on the increasingly fastidious nature of Mrs. Housewife. She won't have dirty old carrot tops any more, say the farmers. She wants clean, topped carrots—packaged in plastic. It means more work.

ALL-OUT FOR SAFETY—Gov. Price Daniel has started "the greatest highway safety campaign in the history of the state."

County judges, mayors, police chiefs, sheriffs, prosecuting attorneys and school superintendents are being asked to hold meetings and organize local campaigns. Awards will be given to the local officials and news reporting agencies which do the best job of promoting traffic safety.

Governor's goal is to save "a life per county." This would total 254 lives or approximately 10 per cent of last year's traffic death toll.

ANTI-AD BAN UPHELD — A new law prohibiting price advertising of eye glasses is constitutional, says the Texas Supreme Court.

Passed by the last legislature, the law says "ophthalmic dispensers" (which the court says means optometrists, too) may not mention "bait, discounts, premiums, prices, gifts" in their ads.

It landed in the courts when one group of optometrists (Texas State Optical) brought suit to prevent another group (Lee Optical) from advertising prices.

Defendants said the law was invalid because its caption did not specifically mention the things the law covered.

But the high court ruled the caption was clear enough.

The bill as originally introduced made no reference to price advertising. The portion pertaining thereto was inserted in committee without there being any change in the caption.

Opponents of bill charged "trickery." They argued that this was just another attempt to raise the price of glasses by prohibiting the publicizing of prices.

UP THE LADDER — One plan to up-grade higher education in Texas has official approval of the Commission on Higher Edu-

Others are under study.

Commission approved a request from the University of Texas to divert $1,000,000 from its Available Fund, ordinarily used for buildings, to a research program. Noting that the University needs "brains as well as bricks," President Logan Wilson said the money would be used to attract and hold outstanding research personnel and provide them with equipment and books.

Still under consideration by the Commission are:
(1) Texas Technological College's request for graduate engineering study. Tech's engineering department is a sort of "strong back and weak mind" program, said President E. N. Jones, with 2,700 students and no upper-level study to attract top-notch teachers.

(2) Texas A&M's touchy problem of whether to admit women.
(3) A proposal to concentrate graduate study in home economists at the two state colleges at Denton, curtailing home ec study at the University of Texas. Commission voted to re-study after hearing UT exes' protests.

JUDGE GREENHILL FILES—Judge Joe Greenhill of Travis County, who was named to the Supreme Court last fall by Gov. Price Daniel, to succeed the late Judge Few Brewster, has filed for election to the office. Judge Greenhill, who has had 20 years of trial and Appellate Court experience, says he will campaign actively in every county in the state between now and the July 26 primary.

Former Resident Nominated for Scholastic Award

Lloyd McCuller, Eldorado County High School senior and brother of Mrs. Parker Denton of Knox City, has been selected as the school's candidate to receive the Outstanding Student Award for 1957-58, given by the Savings and Loan Associations of California.

Being selected for the annual award by his school entitles McCuller to a cash award of $100, besides making him eligible to compete in the state-wide essay. This is to be on some phase of the savings and loan business in relation to its active part in community life. The winner of this contest will win a $1,000 scholarship.

The person who is eligible for this must report to a location closest to his home, in this case it will be Sacramento. The $100 scholarship will go to the five winning essays. The presentation of these awards will be given to the winners by their high school principals. Each winner will also have his name inscribed on a trophy.

McCuller attended Knox City High School in 1955. He is manager of the ECHS paper.

Mrs. Land Hight of Guthrie spent last week with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Annie Dowling.

"M" SYSTEM STORES

Uncle Ben from Benjamin says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I don't think we'll ever get any place discussing things with them Russians either at the summit or at the base. The routine they got for handling a diplomatic situation is hard to beat. They make a complaint, then they refuse the explanation. You can't beat that system for results. If we carried it out like that in private life, instant, it would run about like this. I got a bill from my doctor, and then I write him and ask for an explanation. He sends me a itemized account. Then I reject it and call for an explanation of the itemized account. We keep this up until me or him one dies of old age. But I think the real reason Russia stays mad at us all the time is because they owe us money. The maddest my neighbor ever got with me was the time he owed me ten dollars for helping him do some ditching. He said the ditch filled back up anyhow, and he stayed mad at me for three years over that ten dollars he never paid me. I don't think we'll ever get together with them Russians till we mark off what they owe us.

What with that television station down in Miami.

I don't know where this thing of wimmen's clothes is going to end. I see where some feller has designed a bathing suit that works like venetian blinds. If the gal wants a little more sun she can yank a string and the flaps come open. And if she don't want no more sun she yanks the string the other way and the flaps close. And I see where they is discussing a new evening gown that has a top made out of transparent plastic. In short, the gal has got on clothes but she ain't got on any. It's a great pity, Mister Editor, that folks with such brains ain't working on somepun useful fer instant, if they'd develop a hog that has got four hams instead of two we'd be getting some place.

I used to worry about such things a heap, but styles change even in worrying. When a feller has got a problem now, he just takes a pill. I'll knock off now, Mister Editor, and go take a couple.

Yours truly,
Uncle Ben

FOOD BUDGET STRETCHERS

It's possible to cut food costs without cutting calories or sacrificing food values. Here are some suggestions for stretching the food budget. If citrus fruits are too high for your budget, get needed vitamin C from canned tomatoes or tomato juice. Canned or frozen orange and grapefruit juice may be cheaper than the fresh fruit. Compare prices. Remember that raw cabbage, raw turnips, and salad greens are also good sources of vitamin C. Choose leafy, green and yellow vegetables in large seasonal supply. These vegetables provide needed minerals and vitamins. Carrots are nearly always good bargains, and can be used raw or cooked. Learn to use the leafy tops of young beets and turnips. These, like kale, spinach and mustard, are cheap sources of vitamin A. They contain other vitamins and iron, too. Low-cost protein sources right now are eggs, dry peas and beans, cheese and fish. Economy cuts of beef and variety meats such as liver, heart, brains and kidney are low-cost protein sources.

Milk is an important source of vitamin A and protein. Use dry milk or evaporated milk to step up the food value of casserole dishes and soups at little added cost. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Carlisle and boys of Kress spent the week end here with her mother, Mrs. J. W. King, and his sister, Mrs. Lincoln Bolin, and family.

Streams In Desert Places
By Ozelle Stephens

Often times as we look into our lives we see as Moses the flames burning in the bush, yet the bush is not consumed, for God preserved it. Israel was burning in the fires of affliction of Egypt, but supernaturally preserved by God. We too are passing through the fire, but remember Jesus said, "In this world ye shall have tribulation." He will not let you be consumed. Obey His command, "Be of good cheer. I have overcome the world." By the burning you become the fruitful vine of the Lord.

General sessions were held in Municipal Auditorium, beginning Friday at 9 a. m. They left Abilene Thursday morning by chartered bus, along with other delegates from this area, and returned Sunday.

Results of Cotton Variety Tests May Aid Farmers

COLLEGE STATION — Cotton has been and continues to be the major agricultural crop in Texas, both in acreage and monetary value.

Cotton is grown in nearly every major area of the State and is adapted to a wide range of growing conditions—dryland and irrigated areas, coastal and high plains regions, and practically every soil type in Texas.

Its importance to the economy of the State is a reflection of its versatility—wide environmental adaptation, adaption to various production practices and the multiple uses for cotton fiber and cottonseed products.

The farmer has a wide range of cotton varieties and types from which to choose, and his success may be influenced greatly by his choice. The choice of variety, in turn, depends on many factors—yield and other agronomic properties, fiber quality, disease and insect tolerance, suitability to particular growing conditions and adaption to prevailing practices.

The principal purpose of the cotton variety testing program of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station is to supply information which will serve as a guide to farmers in the selection of the varieties best suited to his growing conditions and production practices. But information obtained from these tests also is valuable to breeders, spinners, ginners, buyers and other segments of the cotton industry.

Many tests have been conducted in compiling this information. The results of the tests and the recommendations that resulted may be obtained by ordering Bulletin 877, Performance of Cotton Varieties in Texas, 1954-56, from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

House guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Carney are Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Cook of Phoenix, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Crow and Mrs. Baron Lewis of Houston.
