We Wouldn't Be Surprised

By Albert T. Reid

Says old John W. Business - "Holy mackerel! - Do you suppose this dad-busted foot is what is makin' me feel so bad all over?"

"Whosoever Will Let Him Come"

Next Sunday morning, July 20th, we will begin our Revival meeting. Bro. H. R. Whatley, Pastor of the Haskell Baptist Church, will do the preaching in the meeting. Bro. Whatley is a great preacher of the old time gospel of Jesus Christ, presenting it in the spirit of Christ.

We believe Bro. Whatley is one of our best preachers in this section of the state. You will love him and appreciate him when you hear him and know him as I do.

We want the full cooperation, not only of our entire church membership, but of every person in the community and we feel sure that we will.

We hope that we will have no opposition by anyone in the carrying on of any games down town and feel sure that the business men will close their business for one hour each day for the day service.

We are expecting a fine choir and are inviting the singers from the different churches to sing in our choir and do special work. In fact we want you all to come and we feel sure you will not disappoint us.

We have been fishing for fish, and we enjoy that; we have been working for ourselves and we enjoy that. So now let's throw ourselves into this meeting and fish for the lost. They are out in the great sea of sin and are sinking without hope. Shall we help them to shore, or will we be content to stand idly by and see them perish? We will do our best to rescue them, will we not?
The Pastor.

Mrs. M. C. Jones and daughter, of Dallas, accompanied by her niece, Miss Kile, also of Dallas, are guests for the week in the homes of Mrs. Jones' brothers, the Messrs. J. E., Tom and Press Clarke of this city.

Announcement

In canvassing the precinct I tried to see all the voters personally, but there are some that I failed to see and I take this method of soliciting your votes.

Two years ago I was elected to the office of Public Weigher, for Precinct No. 5, which embraces the voting boxes of Knox City and Gillespie and I have done my best to give you good service and have installed a new Truck and Wagon Scale for your benefit, and believe I am now prepared to give you better service.

I need the office and if you see fit to trust me with a second term I will appreciate the favor and will do my best to give you good service. Respectfully,
Quincy C. Davis.

TRY SOME JERSEY MILK

We are now delivering rich, whole Jersey milk over the city (evenings only) at 12 1-2 cents per quart, or 10 cts. per qt. at our home at the end of Main Street.
L. B. Hammock.

In the absence of the publishers of the Herald this week, the Hammocks are getting out the paper. We are always glad to serve Knox City in that capacity and hope that it will be as agreeable to the readers as it is to the former publishers. Knox City business men and citizens have always been, and now are, loyal to the high standards of community thrift and development and their ideals are well reflected in their splendid manner of handling high-class merchandise and the maintenance of magnificent edifices of worship and learning. They deserve a good paper and the present owners are striving, we are sure to give a service commensurate with the liberal patronage being extended to them.

Little John Henry Darnell received a painful injury Monday when he fell on a cement floor cutting his chin so that several stitches were required. He received treatment in the office of Dr. Emory and is doing nicely.

"OPINIONS" AND OTHER COMMENT BY THE EDITOR

To the man of the street who asked this week's editor what we think of the present drift of current events, we can but modestly assert that "opinions" are like Solomon's comments on books, the making of which, said the wise man "has no end." The same goes for opinions upon the evils each generation has to meet and surmount if world progress is maintained.

We think no more of the present crisis than did Benjamin Franklin, Abe Lincoln, Patrick Henry, Woodrow Wilson or others who met and conquered the obstacles of their time. We simply have faith that leaders will be raised up like them to thwart the present flood of despair and set our feet on stoneless paths to sunlit hills again.

But in the meantime, opinions are showered upon us profusely from the platform, the radio and the press. Scarcely has the echo of admonitions died from our hearing on such topics as "more cotton on fewer acres," "two blades of grass where one grew before," the use of fertilizer for greater production, and so on ad infinitum, as salvation for the tillers of the soil, until now we are confronted with the greatest curse of overproduction underconsumption, or something or other, that this nation has ever experienced.

Government officials are touring the country advising a reduction in wheat and cotton acreage and the lowering of the cost of production. There is only one way to lower cost of production and that is by the use of more elaborate and efficient machinery and that in turn starts more idle men to hunting jobs that can't be found and thus lowers the buying power of the masses, making it necessary for the farmer to produce still cheaper commodities that these same unemployed men may live. There are only a few steps in that circle and we have already come to our starting point a painful number of times.

The world is at peace and is producing sufficient that they do not need our surplus and couldn't buy it if they did. Power machinery is being distributed over the entire world at a rapid rate and much fertile soil is being brought under tillage to compete with American grown stuff.

Farm animals are disappearing and motors are taking their place, throwing more and more cereals into the channels of human food and diverting the cost of production from the formerly feed covered lands to the filling station. Verily a new and a much bewildering condition has arisen and much thought is being provoked in effort to solve the problem.

Europe is in a snarl about the United States high tariff, and they are boy-cotting our products and retaliating with some tariff measures of their own making.

Where is the brakes to be put on and what will stop the down-grade movement that has already bankrupted the cotton and wheat farmer, cattle man, dairy and poultry man, wool grower, corn raiser, sugar beet producer, etc.

There is, in my opinion only one solution to the whole matter and that is more people on smaller plots of ground, making a contented living and living on what they make, thus greatly reducing the growing army of unemployed and scaling down overproduction by the big single operators.

"Hery Lateats"

By MARY MARSHALL

The problem of choosing street costumes that are comfortable, appropriate, smart—and withal reasonable in price—should be a fairly simple one. This agreeable state of affairs has in large measure been brought about by the return to favor of the jacket suit, which always has certain advantages over the coat and dress or one-piece dress ensemble.

In planning your wardrobe you cannot do better than to select some sort of silk suit. You will have a variety of light-weight rough weave silks, either in solid color or in one of the new colored prints.

The picture shows a silk suit, made on simple lines, the waist drawn in with a leather belt.

KONJOLA PUT KANSAS MAN BACK TO WORK

"Proved to Be a Wonderful Medicine In My Case," Says Former Sufferer.

MR. H. C. SHERMAN

Any medicine that can win more than a million friends in 7 years must have merit, and that is exactly what Konjola has done. You wonder why Konjola has become a household word? Well, read what Mr. H. C. Sherman, painting contractor, of Goddard, Kansas, says:

"Konjola proved to be a wonderful medicine in my case. Last July I was hurt in an automobile accident, and was in the hospital many weeks. When I got out, I was in a badly run down condition; had rheumatism in the shoulder, arm and hand, and my stomach was out of order. I suffered terrible pains, and medicines did me no good. The many endorsements of Konjola led me to try it, and six bottles of this wonderful medicine made me able to resume my work. I am feeling better in every way than for a long time."

Konjola's 32 ingredients work together, battling at their very source, the causes of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel troubles and of rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

Konjola is sold in Knox City at the Orient Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

LOOK AHEAD

"Eat' drink and be merry for tomorrow we die," has become apparently the most popular philosophy of the day. The Epicurean theory of living, broadened to include expensive cars, fine clothes and all modern luxuries, is gaining adherents daily. The great majority of people seem to live with but one object in mind to crowd every so-called pleasure into an uncertain period of existence.

The result is that many are living beyond their incomes and have become literally slaves, with automobile companies owning their salaries for months ahead. The first of the month, with its flood of unpaid bills among which a pay check all too small must be divided, is an ordeal that is creating wrinkles and gray hairs.

Even the purchase cannot be fully enjoyed for worrying about how they are to be paid for. After the last installment is finally sent in, the articles are usually much worn or "Mrs. Jones" has a later model that one must have in order to keep

OLD FOLKS SAY DR. CALDWELL WAS RIGHT

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice.

He treated constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a combination of senna and other mild herbs, with pepsin.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs?

A bottle will last several months, and all can use it. It is pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. Elderly people find it ideal. All drug stores have the generous bottles, or write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. BE, Monticello, Illinois, for free trial bottle.

up. What an existence.

Yet, the system of spending ahead is continually growing in favor. For instance, in the automobile field for 1929 show that there was an increase of approximately 12 per cent in the number of motorists purchasing automobiles on the installment plan. There was a total of 3,441,629 automobiles financed by 411 companies. This increase would probably be shown in all industries whose products may be used for pleasure and purchased on the installment plan.

No doubt, many families are deceiving themselves the necessities of life that they may obtain the luxuries. Too few people look ahead and provide for the future. The nest that once retained the nest egg has been discarded for lack of use. The probability of a rainy day has been forgotten. Because today the hen is laying and the sun is shining, the eggs are eaten and the umbrella thrown away.

What is to be the ultimate result if this or the succeeding generation does not adopt a saner, sounder basis of living? It should be recalled that all pleasure is not gained by acquiring luxuries. They often are a source of grief rather than joy when one cannot in reality afford them. They give only an artificial pleasure at the most and one should pause occasionally and plan for the future. Look ahead and avoid a possible wreck.—Ex.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Willis motored to Putnam Saturday and returned home Sunday accompanied by Mr. Willis's mother of Arlington, and his sister Mrs. Wiley Clinton, of Putnam. Mrs. Clinton returned to her home first of the week but Mrs. Willis remained for an indefinite visit here.

J. P. Kennedy for County Treasurer

As the campaign draws to a close I desire to say a final word to the voters of Knox County. Whatever the result of the election may be, I wish to say that my association with the citizens of the county have been very pleasant, and every courtesy has been extended to me in all parts of the county, for which I shall ever feel grateful.

When a person presents himself to the voters for their support for public office there are several questions which naturally arise in the minds of the voters. Is he qualified? Is he honest and trustworthy?

As to qualifications I can say that I am in every respect well qualified to hold the position to which I aspire. I have had many years experience in clerical work, and for a number of years served as a deputy in the office of county clerk of McLelland county at Waco.

Due to falling health some seven years ago I entered the mail service as rural carrier and served in that capacity until I was retired by having reached the age limit, and by way of answering the question as to trustworthiness beg to say that I have a letter from the American Surety Company, with whom I was bonded for seventeen years in the mail service, soliciting my bond as county treasurer in case I am elected to this post, and there is no better bond than a surety bond in a reliable company like this, which has the sanction of the United States Government.

In some quarters it has been charged that I drew a pension from the Government as a retired mail carrier. In answer to this charge I beg to state that in 1929 the Federal Government began to deduct a portion of the salaries of all classified employees with which to create a fund to be paid to retired employees, and having contributed to the creation of this fund through the deductions from my salary all these years, it can by no means be called a "pension," but rather the payment in small installments of money that I have earned in years gone by, and which has been withheld by the Government to be paid in small installments upon retirement from the mail service, and in no sense could such a payment be termed a "pension." This explanation is made in order that the citizens may know the real facts and may cast their ballots with all the facts before them.

If honored with this responsible position I promise the citizens of Knox county a most efficient and faithful administration, and will feel grateful to those who give me their support, and shall hold no malice toward those who do not.

Very respectfully,
J. P. KENNEDY

ANOTHER ABILENE HOUSE-WIFE TALKS

"I Feel Better than I Hrve for Months. Orgotane is Fine Medicine."

"I was just about down and out from a health standpoint, but since taking Argotane, I feel better than I have in months," said Mrs. Wm. Hartshorn, of 1235 N. 17th St., Abilene, Tex.

"I've suffered for a long time with stomach and kidney trouble. Almost everything I ate would sour on my stomach, and gas would form and I would bloat up and be very uncomfortable for hours afterward. I was severely constipated and for the last six months I've had to take a strong laxative every night and then would have sharp pains and cramping spells, just the same. At times my back and sides would ache something terrible, and I couldn't rest or sleep at night, at all. I was in a very nervous condition. I saw where Argotane was helping so many people and decided to try it.

"I feel like a different person, and now eat just anything I care for and it doesn't hurt me at all. I don't have the gas or bloating spells any more, and best of all don't suffer from constipation. My headaches are all gone, and I rest and sleep fine every night. I'm not nearly as nervous as I was. I feel better than I have for months, and Argotane has certainly helped me. I know that it will help anyone who is suffering as I was, and if they will just try a bottle they will be convinced of its worth as I am.

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Knox City at the Orient Drug Store.

THE AMERICAN FLAG

By Joseph Rodman Drake

When Freedom, from her mountain height,
Unfurled her standard to the air,
She tore the azure robe of night,
And set the stars of glory there;
She mingled with its garlands dyes
The milky baldric of the skies,
And stired its pure, celestial white
With streakings of the morning light.
Then, from his mansion in the sun,
She called her eagle bearer down,
And gave into his mighty hand
The symbol of her chosen land.
Flag of the brave! thy folds shall fly,
The sign of hope and triumph high,
When speaks the signal-trumpet tone
And the long line comes gleaming on;
Ere yet the life-blood, warm and wet,
Has dimmed the glistening bayonet,
Each soldier eye shall brightly turn
To where thy sky-born glories burn,
And, as his springing steps advance,
Catch awe and vengeance from the glance.
Then shall thy meteor-glances glow,
And cowering foes shall sing beneath
Each gallant arm that strikes below
That lovely messenger of death.
Flag of the seas! on ocean wave
Thy stars shall glitter o'er the brave
When death, careering on the gale,
Sweeps darkly round the belled sail,
And frightened waves rush wildly back
Before the broadside's reeling rack,
Each dying wanderer of the sea
Shall look at once to heaven and thee,
And smile to see thy splendors fly
In triumph o'er his closing eye.
Flag of the free heart's and home,
By angel hands to valor given,
Thy stars have lit the welkin dome,
And all thy hues were born in heaven.
Forever float that standard sheet!
Where breathes the foe but falls before us,
With Freedom's soil beneath our feet,
And Freedom's banner streaming o'er us?

EARL EADS, Prop.

AN ENDLESS chain conveyor, three and a half to four miles long, said to be the longest in the world, has just been completed at the Rouge Plant of the Ford Motor Company at Dearborn, Michigan. On it parts of Ford cars in the process of manufacture are transported from one building to another and completed parts are carried direct to railroad cars for shipment to branch assembly plants.

The conveyor, which carries its cargo on suspended wheels, has a daily capacity for 300,000 parts weighing over 2,000,000 pounds. It supplants freight cars and trucks which have been used for the transfer of many parts from one point to another in the Ford plant.

This longest conveyor of them all is a development of the Ford policy that nothing should be done by manual labor that could better be done by machine.

In the early days of his manufacturing career, Mr. Ford devised the assembly line—a moving line of cars in the process of assembly to the workmen stationed along the assembly line, perfecting one building to another fully synchronized so that parts arrive at precisely the spot and in the exact spot needed. Others transport parts to the workmen, each with their own assignments.

If it were not for the Ford Motor Company, mass production would be impossible on its present scale.

VOTE FOR Ben. G. O'Neal FOR State Senator

Mr. Oneal is in no sense a politician. He is his first race for public office.

Practically his entire life has been spent west of Worth in this section of Texas. He knows the needs of the farmer, the stockman, the oil producer and the laborer.

His twenty years of law practice, fourteen of which have been in Wichita Falls, as well as his continual cooperation with other business, gives him a broad and valuable experience to draw upon and be guided by as State Senator.

His every act and vote as Senator would be in the interest of the people.
