Knox City Soil Conservation Service

Management of irrigation water is the key to making money on irrigated cropland according to Wayne Johnson, Engineer with the Soil Conservation Service of Knox County, Texas. In the Knox and Haskell County areas, irrigation water costs approximately $1 per acre inch to produce. If 8 inches of water is applied to a crop and only 4 inches is needed, the extra expense per acre will be about $4 for each acre plus the fact that the extra water is lost. If only 2 inches of water is applied to a crop and 4 inches is needed, there is still a water loss because the small application cannot be evenly distributed.

In the Knox and Haskell County areas very little water is lost by running off the bottom of a field and down the road ditches. The largest loss is caused by using a small furrow stream on fairly long rows. This causes overwatering on the top end and not enough on the bottom end. A practice which will help improve the management of irrigation water is to check the soil moisture distribution by digging holes before and after an irrigation. This way a person can tell exactly where his water is going and how evenly it is distributed. Additional practices which will help in water management are land leveling to uniform grades and irrigation pipelines to prevent ditch losses.

Water is the lifeblood of any area in West Texas so it becomes the responsibility of every person who uses water to make the most of it. This is even more important since the prospect of additional water supplies for this area appear unlikely.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 4 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

"Section 4. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall consist of five Judges, one of whom shall be Presiding Judge, a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of three Judges shall be necessary to a decision of said court. Said Judges shall have the same qualifications and receive the same salaries as the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court. They shall be elected by the qualified voters of the state at a general election and shall hold their offices for a term of six years. In case of a vacancy in the office of a Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, the Governor shall, with the advice and consent of the Senate, fill said vacancy by appointment until the next succeeding general election.

"The Judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals who may be in office at the time when this Amendment takes effect shall become Judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals and continue in office until the expiration of the term of office for which each has

Said Judges shall by agreement or otherwise designate the incumbent for each of the terms mentioned.

The Court of Criminal Appeals shall appoint a clerk of the court who shall give bond in such manner as is now or may hereafter be required by law, and who shall hold his office for a term of four years unless sooner removed by the court for good cause entered of record on the minutes of said court.

"The Clerk of the Court of Criminal Appeals who may be in office at the time when this Amendment takes effect shall continue in office for the term of his appointment."

Sec. 3. Said proposed Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held throughout the state on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A.D. 1966, at which election each voter opposing said proposed Amendment shall scratch off the ballot with a pen or pencil the following words printed on said ballot:

It has been said, "Until a man has found God he begins at no beginning and works to no end", so you are not ready to pray until first your mind has been possessed by thoughts of God. The old prophet said, "They that wait on the Lord shall renew their strength." This means to think about God, though think is not hardly the word. To meditate, to contemplate the Psalmist said, "Be still and know I am God." When these words "Our Father Which Art in Heaven" become real to us we become quiet and confident in God.

How You Drive For The Next 12 Months Will Determine Your Insurance

Austin — How you drive that automobile during the next 12 months will determine what you pay for car insurance a year from now.

Traffic violations, as well as accidents, will appear on your experience record and will count against you.

New plan designed by the State Board of Insurance will hit where it hurts the most — the pocketbook.

Or conversely, if you care to look at it that way, it will lighten the load on those who are penalized by higher rates because of the carelessness of others.

And that's the way it really is, since some kind of increase is necessary.

Penalty points now are being assessed motorists for accidents and major violations — including speeding.

One penalty point will mean a 13 percent hike, two points 35 percent, three points 60 percent and four or more points 90 percent.

Violations — like driving while intoxicated, negligent homicide, hit and run will cost drivers three points.

for driving while a license is suspended or for violations resulting in suspension.

One point will be charged for accidents where there is injury or death — or property damage over $30 — and for speeding. Speeding points are not counted until after one or "two free convictions" in the preceding year or three years.

After 1969, penalties will be based on driving records over a 36 month period.

Twelve exceptions to the "point" rule are listed, however, and one of them includes accidents in which the driver is not at fault.

Unlike the old retroactive 36-month plan of 1960-62 which created so much controversy, the current plan is based on exper-

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 6, Article XVI, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows:

(b) State agencies charged with the responsibility of providing services to those who are blind, crippled, or otherwise physically or mentally handicapped may accept money from private or federal sources, designated by the private or federal source as money to be used in establishing and equipping facilities for assisting those who are blind, crippled, or otherwise physically or mentally handicapped in becoming gainfully employed, in rehabilitating and restoring the handi-capitated, and in providing other services determined by the state agency to be essential for the better care and treatment of the handicapped. Money accepted under this subsection is state money. State agencies may spend money accepted under this subsection, and no other money, for specific programs and projects to be conducted by local level or other private, nonsectarian associations, groups, and nonprofit organizations, in establishing and equipping facilities for assisting those who are blind, crippled, or otherwise physically or mentally handicapped in becoming gainfully employed, in rehabilitating and restoring the handicapped, and in providing other services determined by the state agency to be essential for the better care or treatment of the handicapped.

"The state agencies may deposit money accepted under this subsection either in the state treasury or in other secure depositories. The money may not be expended for any purpose other than the purpose for which it was given. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Constitution, the state agencies may expend money accepted under this subsection without the necessity of an appropriation, unless the Legislature, by law, requires that the money be expended upon appropriation. The Legislature may prohibit state agencies from accepting money under this subsection or may regulate the amount of money accepted, the way the acceptance and expenditure of the money is administered, and the purposes for which the state agencies may expend the money. O'BRIEN SCHOOL—application for the '66-67 school year. The amount of funds made available will be $16,574. Also the school will participate in the Neighborhood Youth Corps and will have a work-study program. The Neighborhood Youth Corps is operated under the Office of Economic Opportunity and the Work-Study is a federal program operated under the Vocational Educational Department of the Texas Educational Agency. Both programs provide financial assistance to the school whereby the school can offer part-time employment to deserving students. This is to help relieve any financial burden that might keep a student from realizing his or her full educational potential.

There were 14 students participating in the work-study program in 1965-66. The NYC is new and will allow additional students to have part-time employment. The Special Education program was approved in July and funds from the state were made available to employ two teachers.

The School expects to connect to the new sewage system when it begins operation in September.
