

AND OPERATORS TAKEN BY OFFICERS

It seemed to be in the evening Saturday, last, upon stills, from which was brought Knox City that afternoon Sheriff C. R. Elliott, Sheriff Geo. Jackson, Chief of Police G. T. Hardin of this city. The raid was on a still about 3 miles east of Rhineland being conducted on a serious basis. 92 1-2 gallons of whiskey and 1000 lbs of mash were captured and put under arrest in connection with its operation. Officers had taken a search of the suspected location and warrants for the men and women were finally rewarded to where the officers commanded a halt. This was done however and the car received the fire of officers as they drove away. A puncture of the gas tank that brought them to a few miles. The car occupants were captured some time afterwards and all equipment loaded on truck and brought to Sunday and Knox City to Benjamin. This truck has a capacity of 100 gallons per day and is said to have making a high class product.

Mr. Craft for a number of years near this city, made his subscription date for the Herald. Mr. Craft made the profits of his ranch most satisfactory to the owner by his capable operation of its facilities and by his judicious management of his crops. He has also conducted feeding experiments in a year to year that have been profitable. This year in addition to feeding out his usual baby beeves, he added a few lambs which proved a big maker as well as the baby beeves.

Mr. Wilson, who made this a good public weigher, who is now engaged in making blades grow where only grass grew before, was a cheer-ful contributor to the subscription of the Herald last week. And no wonder, this is like a real West Texas man to Jim and he wants to get up with the forward movement of this community.

'Tis April
Sweet April, many a thought
Is wedded unto thee,
As hearts are wed;
Nor shall it fail,
Till its Autumn brought,
Life's golden fruit be shed.

The Cheerful Prophets

Knox County Herald: One reason the editor predicted rain is that you can always get an audience when you prophesy rain, and another reason was that we believed it would come. The fine rains of last week have brightened farm prospects materially.

Dallas News: Thank you for your candor. You predicted rain because your constituents wanted rain. You catered to popularity. It is noble to deserve the applause of the people, but nobler not to conceal the secret springs of motivation. Pessimists never learn that pessimism is a sure and short route to unpopularity. Lugubrious prophets may be ever so keen, so far-seeing and adequate, yet even when their doleful predictions come true as promised, the predictors are not loved. It is better to predict rain when rain is needed, though there is not a cloud in the sky as big as a man's hand. It is better to foretell good times even when the seven-year locusts are due in a week than foretell hard times after the locusts have been gone six months. There was an ancient witch of poetic turn who won the community's ill will by her constant iteration of devastation to come. Her favorite poem was—
"All I see in this creation
Is seven-year itch and starvation."

No prophet can do any good, make any money or win his way to the Legislature by keeping the people alarmed. We all enjoy being menaced once in a while, but we hate to live at high tension. Damocles was invited to partake of a kingly repast, and after being seated on a high table he looked up and saw a sword hanging over him, suspended by a hair. He didn't stay for dessert. "I enjoy free eats," he explained to the reporters outside, "but you can't tell what the cost will be without considering the overhead."

CITY ELECTION RE-TURNS FORMER OFFICIALS TO OFFICE

The City election held here Tuesday resulted in the re-election of Dr. E. B. Denton as Mayor and C. C. Hoge, commissioner. The hold-over commissioner is G. D. McCarty and city Secretary John Dutton. City affairs are now in prime condition, thanks to the watchful care and management of these gentlemen and their return to office by the voting constituency over their protest is a compliment to them and shows the confidence reposed in them by their fellow townsmen.

Trustee Election

Remember the School Trustee election Saturday. Keep up your interest in the school, one of the most important enterprises in any community.

W. A. Smith, Service Station operator and also a heavy cotton raiser, drove a few home town progress and development facts home on the editor as he laid down the price of a subscription this week. Mr. Smith knows how to manage a cotton farm and a Service Station and the editor would not kick at seeing some of his ideas on town building put to work.

Henry Lightfoot who wisely decided to own some of the fine land just northwest of Knox City and later made still more wise decision to build a modern home on it, comes in for a subscription renewal this week. Mr. Lightfoot as others would like to have many of the luxuries of life, but he prefers first to have a home and a comfortable living and let the other things be added as he is able to procure them. It's a good system for community progress and should have a more general practice.

KNOX CITY'S WATER SYSTEM HAS NEW UNIT OF SUPPLY

The city administration of Knox City has just completed the second city well adjoining the first one, assuring an adequate supply of water to our city for all purposes. The strain on the water supply has been increasing each summer for some time and with the addition of the sewage system the demand became imperative. The same pump will raise the water from both wells. The wells are cemented to the bottom and have a cement house above. The supply of water is now almost unlimited.

Go To Church School

Go to church and bible school next Sunday. Then keep on going. There will be no particular merit in going to church one Sunday and lazing thru the other fifty one as best suits your inclination. Go next Sunday, by all means. Make it your fixed rule to go often thereafter. Church going will strengthen your faith, enlarge your charity, fortify your character and the example you set will be of great value to those about you. Let your thoughts run back thru the years and as you listen to the hymns, prayers and sermons, resolve to hold fast what religion you have and to make it a part of your everyday life.

LOCAL MEN BECOME OWNERS OF BRYANT-LINK BUILDING HERE

A town in which its citizens own their homes and the business property has the foundation and essentials for progress and growth, and that is fast becoming the condition and policy of Knox city. This week the large brick building occupied by the Bryant-Link company and formerly owned by R. D. Bell of Haskell passes into the ownership of local men, Messers T. P. Frizzell, S. M. Clonts and Dr. T. P. Frizzell. The trend toward home ownership in Knox City has been steadily gaining for some time and is swiftly being realized now. Accumulations thus multiplied through local ownership and reinvested in home enterprises will maintain the steady, healthy growth to which we are entitled.

H. G. Potter, carpenter, contractor and cabinet workman makes sure of a year's reading of the Herald by setting his date up a year this week. Mr. Potter came to Knox City as a contractor for the building in which the Herald is now located. He, like many others, liked the town—the people also, and so moved his family here to become citizens with us. He is now a home owner and this week is beautifying his lawn and giving his home a new coat of paint. May he be joined in that by many others.

Christ Prayeth for His Own
 John 17:11. 24, 25, 26. And now I am no more in the world but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are. Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovest me before the foundation of the world. 25. O righteous Father, the world hath not known thee; but I have known thee, and these have known that thou hast sent me. 26. And I have declared unto them thy name, and will declare it: that the love wherewith thou hast loved me may be in them, and I in them.

"LOVE YOUR ENEMIES"
 Luke 6:27-31. But I say unto you which hear, Love your enemies, do good unto them which hate you. 28. Bless them that curse you, and pray for them which despitefully use you. 29. And unto him that smite thee on one cheek offer also the other; and him that taketh away thy cloak forbid not to take thy coat also. 30. Give to every man that asketh of thee; and of him that taketh away thy goods ask them not again. 31. And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.

Revival Closes

The Christian church meeting came to a close Sunday night with an all-day spiritual rally for that day. Elder D. F. Soliday, father of the pastor, spoke at 11:00 o'clock and in the afternoon. Mrs. McMasters also spoke in the afternoon and Rev. A. R. Caudle Sunday night. Dinner was served for the entire congregation at the American Legion Hall at noon and was greatly enjoyed by the large crowd present. The meeting was hampered by the rains and the indisposition of the pastor who was directing the singing and assisting in the preaching, but much good was accomplished and some new names were added to the church roll.

J. W. Coates, just to get the crop season started right, began with a bran new year's reading paid in advance on the Herald. John will run a couple of two-row planters this year which will knock out about 40 acres per pay during the planting season. It will make little difference to him, except the cost of seed, if a few washouts or blowing sand disturbs his stand. He can pat it back in a very few days. Its a great system and is working fine for the man who has many acres to till and must hire help during the rush season.

SUGAR TARIFF BOOST URGED BY U. S. FARMERS

Farm Bureau Federation Demands Adequate Protection for Domestic Sugar Industry.

CHICAGO.—Recent action of the American Farm Bureau Federation, representing 750,000 farmers, in adopting resolutions at its annual convention here urging congress to increase the tariff on foreign sugar and limit the duty-free entry of sugar from the Philippines and Porto Rico is seen as recognition that the present economic plight of the domestic sugar industry is also a factor in the farm relief problem.

S. H. Love.

"We urge that the situation regarding entry of sugar into the United States be brought to the attention of members of congress without delay," the resolutions set forth. "and we respectfully ask them to use their best efforts to place a limit on the free entry of sugar from the Philippines and Porto Rico to a point which will guarantee reasonable protection to the United States sugar industry; and that the tariff rate against all foreign sugar be increased so as to give adequate protection to this great American enterprise."

Future of Crop at Stake.

"Future of sugar beets as a profitable American farm crop is at stake," said Stephen H. Love, president of the U. S. Beet Sugar Association. "More than 100,000 farmers in the United States raise sugar beets, from which they realize annually from $50,000,000 to $60,000,000, while the beet sugar industry covering eighteen states represents an investment in factories alone of over $250,000,000.

"Interests of the farmers who raise the raw materials and the manufacturers who produce the finished product are identical. If the invasion of the United States market by foreign sugar produced by cheap labor under living conditions far below the American standard forces the price of domestic sugar below the cost of production, the American beet farmer and cane grower are faced with competition they cannot meet. Ninety-nine per cent of all the sugar imported into this country is supplied either duty-free from our insular possessions, or enters from Cuba, which enjoys a tariff rate 20 per cent below that paid by any other foreign country.

Cuban Situation Menacing.

"The Cuban situation is becoming menacing to the domestic sugar industry. This year with a crop restricted to 4,000,000 tons, Cuban raw sugar is selling in New York at 2 cents a pound, or approximately 1 1/2 cents per pound less than it costs the American farmer to produce sugar in the beets even before the process of manufacture has begun.

"In 1929 Cuba will have no crop restriction and will produce at least a million more tons of sugar than in 1928. The only salvation for the domestic sugar industry is an increase in the tariff sufficient to keep Cuba from dumping this enormous increase on the American market at ruinous prices."
