RED CROSS DRIVE TO OPEN FRIDAY, NOV. 11

The annual Red Cross Drive will start Friday, November 11, according to A. J. Malouf, local chairman. He is now making arrangements for the appointment of all committees who will assist in the drive. Last year Knox City did not reach its quota, and Mr. Malouf is anxious that this time Knox City goes over the top.

The Red Cross is one of the best organizations in this country and the people should support it freely. Only a few months ago when Clyde was struck by a cyclone and 13 people were killed, the Red Cross was there in less than two hours rendering assistance to those stricken people. The same thing happened at Brady last summer when thousands of people lost their homes in the floods. Get ready to give help when the solicitors call at your home next week.

HASKELL, Nov. 1.—The murder case of W. H. Tysinger, Haskell filling station operator charged with the slaying of John Yancey, WPA well digger on Oct. 9, was continued until January by Judge B. A. Atchison of the 39th district court.

Defense Attorneys Ratliff and Odell filed a motion for the continuance, asking more time for the arrival of a defense witness.

Three defense witnesses testified in the opening session Tuesday morning. They were Carl Tysinger, son of the defendant, and Attorneys L. R. Ratliff and T. R. Odell.

TWO GROCERY STORES CHANGE THIS WEEK

Lynn Waldrip, who has been connected with the Bridges Red and White Grocery for the past ten months, resigned his position last week to become manager of the Black and White Grocery. He takes the place of Harry Garrison, who opened the business in Knox City more than 18 months ago.

Mr. Waldrip is well known to the citizens of this county, as he was reared here and has had several years experience in the grocery business. Mr. Alexander, the owner, was here Sunday checking the business over to Mr. Waldrip.

Thomas Ferguson, who has been with the Black and White ever since it was organized, is retained as a clerk.

Mr. Waldrip invites his many friends to call and see him at his new place, and especially urges all of the old customers to continue trading with the Black and White.

Prosecuting Attorneys W. H. Murchison and Ben Chapman have indicated they will use the testimony of 12 witnesses. Judge B. H. Atchison of Breckenridge, presiding judge in the trial, reduced the bond from $10,000 to $7,500 following the decision to continue the trial.

NEGRO PREACHER SHOT

A triangle affair involving two negro preachers and a negro woman has placed one of the participants in the sick-bed another under court bond here.

K. T. Taylor, pastor of the Church of God (colored), is free under $500 bond, signed by 15 Knox City businessmen.

A. C. Foster, formerly his assistant pastor, is in serious condition from the loss of his right eye and a part of the flesh on the right side of his face as a result of a charge from a 12-gauge shotgun.

Taylor said he shot Foster because the latter ran away with his wife more than a year ago, leaving him with ten children.

J-O-Y UNION MEETS

The J-O-Y Union, composed of the young people of Goree, Westover, Seymour, Weinert, Bomarton, Munday, Benjamin, Vera and Knox City Methodist churches, will meet at the local Methodist church next Tuesday evening at 7:30 p. m. The Devotional will be given by the Munday young people. After the business meeting entertainment and refreshments will be furnished by the Knox City young people.

THE BAD NEWS

NESBITT—BRANCH

A marriage that came as a great surprise to their many friends was that of Mr. Ernest Francis Nesbitt and Miss Agnes Branch, which was solemnized Saturday afternoon at four o'clock by the Rev. Evans, pastor of the Baptist church, at his home in Vera.

Mr. Nesbitt is the son of Mrs. Willie Nesbitt of Munday and has served that city as Marshall two terms. He is now employed by the Munday Company.

Mrs. Nesbitt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Branch and has been employed as the manager of the local telephone company for the past two years. She will continue to work until a suitable girl can be secured. "Her piece will be hard to fill," has been repeated often since her return from Wichita Falls, where they spent a short honeymoon.

Congratulations, "Tus" and Agnes. May all the good things in life come your way.

County Superintendent J. L. Hughes of Benjamin was here Tuesday on business.

Tonight in the High School Auditorium the new charter for the Knox City Lions Club will be presented by the District Governor, Dr. Rupert N. Richardson of Abilene. More than twenty Lions Clubs from all sections of West Texas will be present, and arrangements have been made to feed 100 hungry Lions and their wives.

The banquet is being served by the Home Economics Department of the Knox City Public Schools with Miss Orla Cole, head of the department, in charge.

Roy Baker, who has charge of the program, informs the Herald that everything is all set for one of the biggest banquets that the Lions have ever held in this section of the state. The Knox City Club starts off with a membership of more than thirty and several have joined since the organization. Elsewhere in the Herald will be found the program that will be rendered tonight, and all members of the Knox City Club are urged to be present and on time to assist in entertaining the visitors. Let's show them that we have one of the liveliest clubs in this section of West Texas.

—Vernon L. Bridges

After being in the dry goods business in Knox City for the past twelve years, A. J. Malouf of the Malouf Dry Goods Co. announces with a double-page ad in this issue of the Herald that he expects to retire after January 1. In conversation with the editor this week Mr. Malouf says he is forced to quit business because of his health, as the leading doctors in this section have warned him that it is necessary that he get out of the store and spend more time in the open.

The Malouf Dry Goods Co. is the largest dry goods establishment in this county, and at this time has more than forty thousand dollars worth of dry goods on their shelves which must be moved by the first of the year. His many friends regret to see him go out of business in Knox City, as he is one of the foremost civic leaders of the town and will be greatly missed.

The Herald turned out five thousand circulars and they are being distributed over three counties today. It will pay the people fifty miles from here to buy their goods from Malouf during the next sixty days.

Mrs. Silvia Favor and Velma Mabrey, who for the past several months have been operating a cafe in Wichita Falls, spent a few days here last week before leaving Friday for California. They were accompanied by Mrs. Favor's brother, Wilson Thompson of El Centro, California, who has been visiting his parents here.

Roy Smith was transacting business in Abilene Monday.

BASKETBALL NEWS

The O'Brien girls were winners Friday night, October 25, in their game with the O'Brien All-stars. The game was enjoyable, both teams and the high school girls are looking forward to another game with the same All-stars.

The O'Brien Senior boys, arranged in their beautiful new uniforms, were hosts to the Benjamin team Friday night in the first game of the Brazos Valley League Tournament. The game was enjoyed by the students and friends who came to boost their team. The score stayed nearly the same during most of the game. However, the O'Brien boys were successful in winning the game with a score of 19 to 15. The Benjamin boys were invited back again.

The Junior boys played their first game Friday night. They were defeated, but the game was enjoyed by all present. The Juniors are improving a great deal, and each member is looking forward to the next game.

We have three basketball games scheduled for Friday night, November 4. Bomarton will be here with junior boys, senior boys and senior girls teams. The first game is to start at seven o'clock.

CARNIVAL MEETS WITH SUCCESS

Interest ran high the past week until the announcement of the Carnival Queen at eight thirty Friday night. Each class worked earnestly in securing votes for its popular representative.

A beautiful coronation was carried out. Mr. Robertson performed the act of crowning Queen Iris from the house of Johnson.

Another main attraction of the carnival was the baby contest. Arvel Stephens, who was sponsored by Guida Bess Draper, won the contest.

The carnival was very successful and everyone enjoyed the event.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS.....

By Boyce House

A little boy in an old Southern town went home from school sobbing because the son of the banker had made fun of his home-made clothes. That was a good many years ago. A while back, the man returned to the town on a visit. He had become one of the most famous preachers in the nation. He was wearing a hundred dollar suit of clothes and a fine hat that members of his congregation had given him. His smile, his handclasp, his handsome features would have made him a standout in any gathering.

As he was talking to a group of former schoolmates, a shabby individual came shuffling forward. Someone said, "You remember Bill." It was the banker's son.

The minister was the Rev. J. Frank Norris, pastor of one large church in Fort Worth, Texas, and another in Detroit, Mich. He commutes by airplane between the widely separated congregations.

Seen in Austin recently: J. J. Gallagher, former mayor of Graham. Under a spreading oak that still stands in the yard of the hotel which Gallagher owns, the Southwestern Cattle-Raisers Association was organized forty years or more ago.

More people have been found up against a wall in Fort Worth and shot than in any plaza in Central America. Of course, the "shooting" in Fort Worth is done with a camera. The wall is at the side entrance of Hotel Texas and is a favorite background of newspapermen in making pictures of notables.

Harry Brelsford was a captain during the World War when he was two months past 18. Do you know of a younger A. E. F. captain than that? When he left the army at the close of the war, he was commissioned as major in the reserve—at 19. Now an attorney in Tulsa, Major Brelsford was born and reared in Eastland.

Fort Worth dramatic critics are still chuckling about the famous columnist and scenario writer of Manhattan and Hollywood who, between cocktails, delivered a lecture on the etiquette—or lack of it—of the American people. Half way through the discourse, he slumped forward and fell asleep with his head in a plate of scrambled eggs.

"Texas' foremost orator" is the way one newspaper referred to T. J. Holbrook, retiring Senator from Galveston. That reminds me of the story concerning Caruso who greeted John McCormack with, "How's the world's greatest tenor this morning?" To which the Irishman replied, "When did you start singing bass?"

Similarly, when did Pat Neff move out of the state?

The ablest orator among the candidates in the recent election was Ralph Yarborough, who sought the Attorney Generalship. "The greatest speech I've heard since Jim Hogg was the tribute that elderly East Texas citizens paid to his oratory.

Speaking of spellbinders, C. C. McDonald is no slouch and neither is Alvin Owsley, American minister to Denmark. For humor, Mark McGee is hard to beat. Jimmy Alford is not to be sneezed at, although he may find that the federal bench will cramp his evangelistic style.

The Fords Tell Their Plans for 1939

Henry and Edsel Ford, on the occasion of the 35th anniversary of the founding of the Ford Motor Company, June 16, 1938

IF WE KNEW anything better we could do for the country than make good motor cars, we would do it.

By every one doing his best in the job he thinks most useful, this country is going to regain its momentum. We have tried to do our best in our job.

When business was suddenly halted in its recovery more than a year ago, we determined that we should keep going anyway, if not at full-volume motor car production, then at getting ready for greater motor car values that would help future production.

EXPANDING FOR THE FUTURE

We began to build 34 million dollars' worth of new plants and equipment. We felt that if we could not employ all our men building motor cars, we would employ as many as we could building better production facilities.

We were told, of course, that this was no time for expansion, that a wiser business policy would be to "hold everything"—which means, stop everything. But no one ever got anywhere standing still.

Besides, we are not defeatists. We do not believe this country has seen its best days. We believe this country is yet in the infancy of its growth. We believe that every atom of faith invested in our Country and our People will be amply justified by the future. We believe America is just beginning. Never yet have our People seen real Prosperity. Never yet have we seen adequate Production. But we shall see it! That is the assurance in which we have built.

Business is not just coming back. It will have to be brought back. That is now becoming well understood in this country; for that reason 1939 will be a co-operative year. Manufacturers, sellers and buyers will co-operate to bring back the business that is waiting to be brought back.

This construction program is almost completed. It has increased activity and payrolls in a number of related industries. It has given us better facilities for building better cars and trucks, and eventually our new tractor which is being perfected.

THIS MEANS MORE VALUE

The current program has provided a new tire plant, which will turn out a part of our tire requirements... a new tool and die plant that will help us cut the cost of dies... and a steel-press plant that will enable us to make more of our own automobile bodies. These are in addition to the plants we already had for producing glass, iron, steel, plastics, and many other things.

We don't supply all our own needs, of course, and never expect to. The Ford engine is one thing that no one's hand touches but ours. Of nearly everything else we use we build some quantity ourselves, to find, if possible, better and more economical ways of doing it. The experience and knowledge we gain are freely shared with our suppliers, and with other industries.

We take no profit on anything we make for ourselves and sell to ourselves. Every operation, from the Ford ships which first being iron ore to the Rouge, is figured at accurate cost. The only profit is on the finished result—the car or truck as it comes off the line. Some years, there is no profit for us. But we see to it that our customers always profit. A basic article of our business creed is that no sale is economically constructive unless it profits the buyer as much as or more than the seller.

Our new plants have helped us build more value into all our cars for 1939. That means more profit on the purchase to the purchaser.

We have not cut quality to reduce costs.

We simply will not build anything inferior.

NEW TESTING EQUIPMENT

While we were putting up new plants to produce cars, we constructed new equipment to test them. The first weather tunnel of its kind ever built for automobile research went into operation at our laboratories this year.

It makes any kind of weather to order. The weather it delivers every day would take months to find in Nature. Our cars are weather-tested to give you good service in any climate anywhere.

In other tests, every part of the car is punished unmercifully. Then our engineers tear it down to see if they can find abnormal wear or any sign of weakness.

The money we spend on tests saves you money on repairs. And your family car is safer and more dependable when we put it in your hands.

THE NEW CARS

We have two new Ford cars for 1939—better cars and better looking—but we also have an entirely new car.

It's called the Mercury 8. It fits into our line between the De Luxe Ford and the Lincoln-Zephyr. It is larger than the Ford, with 116-inch wheelbase, hydraulic brakes, and a new 95-horsepower V-type 8-cylinder engine.

We know that our 1939 cars are cars of good quality. We think they're fine values in their price classes.

With new cars, new plants, new equipment, the whole Ford organization is geared to go forward.

Hallowe'en Carnival

Four classes in high school elected candidates for the Hallowe'en carnival. Each class worked diligently in order for its candidate to become queen. The candidates were counted at one o'clock Friday and it was found that the Juniors had a mere $100.00 and fifty-one dollars and fifty cents lead on the Seniors. The Juniors had an advantage over the Seniors, as the Seniors have only fifteen members, while the Juniors have thirty-two. The total amount of money acquired by the four classes was one hundred and twenty-four dollars and one cent. When the final votes were counted the Juniors were very happy because they had $47.28, while the Seniors only had $43.77.

The highest point of the carnival Friday night was the crowning of Queen Juanita of the House of Brown, who was escorted to the throne by King Buddy, of the House of Sams. In the Queen's court were Duchess Minna Porter escorted by Duke Lloyd Femster, Duchess Wanda Nunley escorted by Duke Clyde Edward Williams, and Duchess Nadine Parker escorted by Duke Lee Bevins.

After the coronation of the Queen Mr. Watson conducted an auction sale. There were representatives from each class in high school. The girls were dressed so no one would recognize them, and were sold to the highest bidder. Each girl had a prize which went to the person who bought the girl.

After the auction various booths were opened. Among these were a fish pond, Bing's fortune teller, shooting gallery and a roulette wheel. The proceeds of these booths amounted to $78.73.

Another nice feature of the carnival was a tea room which was sponsored by the P. T. A.

The total sum received from the carnival was $208.44. The classes, however, kept fifty per cent of the money, and that left $146.44 which went to the school for various purposes.

JUNIOR CLASS

May the Juniors reign as supreme in all events throughout the year as we did in our queen's race. Our victory was a decisive one.

At one o'clock Friday noon the whole atmosphere of the study hall was clouded with expectation and with a little sinking feeling in our hearts we waited for the votes to be counted.

What a turn our hearts did take when we discovered that we had won a victory never before achieved by a Junior class in this high school. We robbed the prize from the Seniors! An avalanche of happiness and hilarity prevailed in the heart of every Junior.

Our class colors, along with our Queen, reigned supreme among the students. Lovey Juanita Brown was chosen to represent us. Chosen for her charming appearance and her personality, she has fulfilled every expectation. We are all proud to tell our Queen's name wherever we go, for she is the typical high school girl.

The coronation was very touching to those who were in it. Her Majesties' escort, King Buddy from the House of Sams was more than delighted to be privileged to escort the Queen. She wore a dress of exquisite blue chiffon with roses adorning the top. As the royal couple ceremoniously walked down to the throne the crowd was awed by her appearance.

It takes a lot to be a winner, but still more to be a good loser, and most of the Seniors proved to be good losers.

SENIOR CLASS REPORT

The Seniors are still disappointed because they did not win the race for Queen, but they can think of their share of the money and that helps a little. Besides, part of the Juniors' share will be spent in preparation for a banquet for the Seniors, so the Seniors feel better about it all the time.

SOPHOMORE REPORT

The Sophomores got off to a bad start in the race for the Carnival Queen, and got only a little more than ten dollars for their class. This was low compared to the Juniors and Seniors, but the Sophomores say that they will win next year.

The percentage the class receives will be used to help promote the Freshman-Sophomore banquet.

FRESHMAN NEWS

The Freshman class sponsored a shooting gallery at the carnival Friday night. They also helped with the roulette wheel.

The Freshmen got third place in the queen's race. They raised $22.86.

So that they might be distinguished from the upperclassmen, the Freshmen have bought caps of their class color, green and white. Placed prominently across the front of the cap is the word "Fish."

SPORTS

The basketball teams went to O'Brien Thursday night to play their first games of the Brazos Valley League. The Junior team won by a score of 22 to 5. The Senior team lost by three points.

Next Friday night we play the Knox City teams at Knox City.

THE SPECTACLES

For more than a hundred years, "The Spectacles," a short story written by Edgar Allan Poe, has been hidden—unread, unnoticed, and unsigned. This is a tale of the Folio Club invented by Poe. There were supposed to be 11 members of the club who met every month. Each told a story and the man who had the best was to be elected president; the author of the worst was to pay all the expenses of the next dinner. "The Spectacles," a title used for another of Poe's stories, was one of the eleven. This was the only one that could not be found. Poe wrote an account of the meeting and also the stories.

Although Poe's name was not signed to this, Mr. Gimbel, president of the International Poe Society, Edgar Allan Poe Club of Philadelphia, and the Richard Gimbel Foundation of Literary Research, is convinced that this is a genuine Poe short story. Richard Gimbel spent thousands of dollars hunting for this story. He was rewarded recently when he found it within the yellowed pages of an antique Philadelphia magazine.

"The Spectacles" is the story of Mrs. Loraine and her daughter Lucy. Mrs. Loraine's husband is killed a year after they are married and he widow wears black till the last. The man who is telling the story is a cousin to Lucy and he knows that, at seventeen, she is the nearest approach to an Angel he has ever seen. How well he remembers the summer parlour, into which daylight never enters. But just at this time Charles Loraine leaves for the continent; when he returns, he learns that Lucy is to marry George Farshaw—the the ugliest of mortals.

George always called at a certain hour, but one day he was summoned on the trail of some poachers. Riding past the cottage he stopped to tell Lucy he would be detained. As he walked up to the house he heard Lucy playing the harp, and as he entered he saw the room was filled with sunshine. Lucy was wearing her spectacles and when she saw him she ran to her mother, crying that she had seen him and now could not marry him.

The fact was, Lucy was near sighted. So, to conquer the difficulties of Mozart and Rossini, she always practiced in spectacles.

As a postscript, Charles Loraine adds that he married Lucy that morning, and she has seen him through her spectacles.

Note: This material was taken from a recent "Liberty" where the short story was always published.

DEPUTY VISITS SCHOOL

Mr. John L. Beard, Deputy State Superintendent of district three, visited the Sunset school Tuesday, November 1. Mr. Beard was highly pleased with the progress the school is making, the appearance of the faculty, and the general up-to-date teaching methods employed. In addition to checking the Sunset school plant in general, he also checked it for state aid. He stated that the school would be entitled to $4,080.00 salary aid.

THINGS TO REMEMBER ABOUT THE CARNIVAL

No one could possibly forget some of the queer and surprising things that happened at the Hallowe'en Carnival at Sunset Monday night—especially Miss H. D. Matthews, Jr. in her peach colored evening dress which was very becoming to her. She looked (in some ways) like Mae West.

If some of you don't know what this is all about, I'm referring to the Womanless Style Show presented by some of Sunset's most popular young ladies. Anyway, they were supposed to be women. Maybe they were but I couldn't tell the difference.

Another stunning lady we'll never forget is Miss T. W. Harber, who was dressed very becomingly in some bit of fratty.

Another promising young lady was Miss T. N. T. Underwood. She wore a pretty black dress with dubonnet hat and gloves. She was very graceful, and was also a good singer.

Maybe you did not know it, but this style show was very educational. By seeing this show you found out what will be proper to wear in 1939, and you also learned "her" name.

One thing I learned was that Mrs. Earnest Parkhill has two daughters, and the one I did not know was Miss E. G. Parkhill, Jr. Miss Parkhill was the visiting pianist, and she wore, very becomingly, a red, backless evening dress.

Another model which everyone praised very much was Miss W. C. Kimbrough, who was dressed in a beach coat and bathing suit with beach sandals on her feet. She didn't forget anything, for she had her toenails painted, and had a large beach hat.

Another stunning model was Miss I. W. Walling, who wore a blue evening gown. She came down center, turned around, bowed gracefully to the audience, and walked off.

There were many other interesting models, among them were Miss J. E. Hunter, Miss Joe Nelson, Miss T. J. Sykes, who wore some very pretty pajamas, the Clayburn Sisters, who played some hot music, Miss Paul Nelson, Miss Glend Matthews, who was a very attractive little girl, Miss Joe Barton, Miss Guy Hardin, Miss Howard Payne Shannon, Miss Shannon was attractively attired in a white, backless evening gown with lots of jewelry.

Oh, yes! I almost forgot one of the most spectacular things in the Style Show. Miss Parkhill had her hair done up on top of her head in the new style that is taking the day. It was done up attractively in little ringlets.

After the ladies had all modeled, they came back on stage and sang "Good Night Ladies," which brought the gala affair to a close.

VIRGINIA PARKHILL CARNIVAL QUEEN

For the past week Sunset High School has been the scene of much activity. A race was in progress for the election of a queen for the Hallowe'en Carnival. The contestants were as follows: Senior class, Wardell Sweatt; Junior class, Virginia Mae Parkhill; Sophomore class, Ruby Hutchinson; Freshman class, Ruth Jeanette Partridge. A total number of 1,586 votes were cast. Of these the Junior queen, Virginia Parkhill, received 686 votes. Other contestants, in order of votes received, were: Seniors, 480; 86. At the carnival Monday evening Virginia Parkhill was crowned Queen by Orville Strickland, captain of the Sunset Senior Boy's Basketball team.

SENIOR REPORT

The Senior class really turned out for the carnival Monday night. Every Senior had a grand time. We are sorry for you if you did not see the style show. After seeing it we are all wondering if our Winter wardrobes are in style. We really did not know that these boys made such good models. We think that some of them should make it their life's work.

The Seniors ought to know how a court trial should be conducted by now, although we hope that we never have to take part in a real one. We tried to impeach President Andrew Johnson, but were not successful. We hope to have better luck in our next trial but our English teacher tells us that there is no such thing as luck.

The Seniors have been studying MacBeth in literature. We have begun to think that the great Shakespeare must have been a very smart man to think up all of those famous quotations.

We are all very glad to have our old classmate, Ralph McBeth, back with us again.

JUNIOR CLASS REPORT

The Juniors feel quite happy because of the election of their queen, Virginia Parkhill, at the Hallowe'en Carnival Monday night. The Juniors fought a hard battle and were glad to win.

Tuesday morning, the day after the night before, there were many tired, sleepy faces among the class due to keeping late hours. The class, however, expects to buckle down the rest of the week and prepare their lessons well.

The class has been busy writing plays in History to represent certain events in the lives of some of our great statesmen and presidents. The plays are almost completed.

GRADE SCHOOL NEWS

The third grade lost a pupil this week when Margie Lee Causey moved to Brownfield. However, Joyce Brown moved in to take her place.

The class had an old fashioned candy drawing Tuesday afternoon. Jim Mack Davis and Ronald Fashée matched the most pieces.

The fourth grade had a Hallowe'en party Monday afternoon. They had lunch, then played many games.

The seventh grade has a new pupil, Mary Montgomery. They all had a grand time Hallowe'en night.

SENIOR BASKETBALL

"The Eagles march on!" This has been true for the past several year and is, we hope, going to be true again this year.

Last Thursday the Eagles played and won their opening game of the season. Their opponents were the strong Knox City Greyhounds. In the opening minute of play Knox City rushed through for the first goal. After the first rush, however, Sunset showed her mettle and made a race track out of the basketball court. Shannon led the offense and really rung the basket with the ball. The final score was 30 to 13 in the favor of the Eagles.

ancestors came over on a flower, voice some of the people. To some people seems to be a boast. Perhaps it was meant to be one, perhaps not. But if that statement were true, it would be something to boast about. The people who made that perilous journey in that equally perilous showed the fighting spirit we dub courage. Political religious refugees, they sought shelter for their beliefs in a strange country. On those few depended life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. They established those three elements for themselves and their posterity.

The people who made that long and hazardous trek to the remote and unsettled regions of the West were just as valiant as the great generals and conquerors of the days of old. They faced continuous hardships, weary miles of travel, burning sand, and thirst that left many, lifeless and still, by the wayside. They wound their way through man-made mountain passes, forded streams and plowed through blinding blizzards and banks of snow. They had their reward in finding the resources and harvests of a paradise. They had won their battle with a force that seldom fails—courage.

Can we truthfully say that we are just as courageous? No, we cannot. Our hardships fade away into mere insignificance when we turn back into the pages of history. No author is great enough to pen the troubles and hardships of our forefathers. Do we want to give a credit to our predecessors? For one, do!

Trouble? Why, we don't even know the meaning of the word! We struggle to live. In some cases that is true, but that struggle to exist and conquer is the joy of living.

All life is not roses and smooth sailing. Most of life's road has been paved by others who strive to succeed, but there will be a stretch for you and to be repaired.

So up with your chin, wear a broad grin, and show the world that you cannot be licked!

—Glenn Huntsman

SUPERINTENDENT WHITIS RETURNS AFTER ILLNESS

With cheers from the student body and teachers Mr. A. M. Whitis, Superintendent of the Knox City Public Schools, was welcomed back to school Monday morning after an illness of a week. The student body has grown to love this man who so humanly and sympathetically works with and understands the problems of those with whom he works.

CARNIVAL BREAKS ALL ATTENDANCE RECORDS

The Parent-Teacher Association was well pleased with the making arrangements for the annual Halloween Carnival which was held last Friday night. The organization is grateful to all who came and helped to make the carnival a success.

There was plenty of entertainment from start to finish. The smaller children exhausted their resources at the fishpond and the tricycles. Old and young alike took turns at drinking the Witches Brew and finding out what the future had in store for them.

The Bingo table was never idle, and the games lasted after everything else had closed and gone.

The refreshment stand was busy from the first to the last; the supply of food and drink had to be replenished several times during the evening.

Those who attended the boxing match liked it so well they have asked the finance committee to have more as they think it is a good form of entertainment.

Many of those who ate in the dining room in the Home Making department are asking the organization to repeat that feature of the carnival another year. Many have expressed a liking for that good home-cooked food.

The climax of the evening's entertainment was the Hayloft Party. This was a varied program and received much applause. Many talented persons appeared on the program that had never appeared on the stage before, and many who had appeared before were enjoyed very much.

Hats are off to the publicity committee for, considering the crowd that attended, their work was a success.

KNOX PLAYS BENJAMIN FRIDAY NIGHT

Friday night at 7 o'clock in the Knox City gymnasium the Knox City High School Greyhounds will play the basketball team from Benjamin. The evening's program will consist of three games: the volleyball girls will play the opening contest, followed by the Junior Boys Basketball Team. The Senior boys will play the final game.

The Greyhounds are seeking revenge for defeats of last year at the hands of the Benjamin club. This year the Knox City boys are heavy favorites over their Friday night opponents because of the number of players that club has lost. The Benjaminites are throwing all their faith in a developed and improved junior team, but it is expected that the senior boys will be out to win and may cause an upset.

It is urged that everyone attend and support your ball club this year. The usual price will prevail: ten cents for the children, fifteen for adults, and thirty-five cents for an entire family. The evening will be complete with the usual performance of the band.

PARADE OPENS P. T. A. CARNIVAL

The P. T. A. Carnival Friday night was opened with an elaborate parade on the downtown streets. The parade formed in front of one of the local lumber companies and was headed by the Greyhound band. The band was followed by a costumed group of public school students. The students were followed by a float with a blue fish on it with red fins depicting the Class of '42 supported by the freshman class of the high school. The sophomore class followed this float with a number of cars with signs written on the bodies of the cars. The freshman and sophomore classes were the only classes represented in the parade. The Hayloft Party, main musical show of the carnival, was represented by a rural float with Mr. Wetzel riding as Uncle Ezra and Park Woodward as another member of the cast.

A huge crowd welcomed the parade as it progressed down through the business district. Because of Mr. Whitis' illness the parade circled down in front of the superintendent's home so that he might see the floats.

Singing with the band Friday were nine school girls dressed in white. These girls were: Peggy O'Neal, Geneva Walker, Anna Lu Warren, Ruth Harrell, Rowena Hutchinson, Doris Apple, Edna Warren, Mary Frances Reeder and Margie Bonham.

A SENIOR POISONALITY

Anna Viola Carr

Anna Viola, better known as Anna V. or "Buggie," was born February 17, 1922, at Knox City. Anna V. started her school days at Cliff, then she attended O'Brien School for a few years, and in 1932 she started to school at Knox City.

Anna V. has blue eyes and blonde hair, weighs one hundred and fifty-two, and is five feet and six and one half inches tall.

Her favorite hobby is stamp collecting, her favorite sports are skating and basketball, her favorite subject is civics, her favorite color is blue, her favorite actor is Don Ameche, her favorite actress is Loretta Young, her favorite song is "Forget If You Can," and her favorite saying is "Shoot I Reckon."

Anna V. hates conceit in people and she delights in warning people. Amen.

Anna V. played basketball for four years and was on the main team for three years. She lettered on the basketball team last year. She is on the volleyball team this year.

Alvin Bonham, who joined the class for the first time this year, left Friday for his former school, Chico. The Senior class has twenty-three on the class roll since Alvin left. The class was very sorry to lose Alvin, but they are glad that he is to go back to his former school. The best wishes of the student body go with him.

HALLOWE'EN FOLLY

By the K. C. Witch

The students of Knox City High School seem to have made good use of their Halloween week end. Of course I couldn't say exactly that I saw or heard everything that witches should, but a large portion of the ghostly happenings caught my eye. For instance Friday night at the carnival I was making my way down the crowded hall when I noticed a slight commotion at the lower end. It was Anna Mae and DeAlva enjoying themselves with the smaller children at the fish pond. Perhaps they were trying to catch a "small fry." Nella and Wynette had fun just hangin' round the Home Economics room. Dale, haven't you guessed yet that that's where the food was?

Clem Ball and Eldon Cook thoroughly enjoyed driving the Sophs' streamlined Model A in the parade. A very happy and noisy group was seen attempting to square dance after the show. The group was made up of Melvin and Peggy, Samuel and Udell, and another unidentified couple. Don't be surprised if it were Rufus and Ruth Harrell. Another interesting scene at the carnival was Glenn Huntsman and Anna V. Carr standing hand in hand with a far away look in their eyes, gazing at the moon. Annalu Warren is really going to town when it comes to Hallowe'en. She was seen Hallowe'en night, for instance, Bobby and Nina Mae have begun a habit of yelling at one another, and in the strangest places, too. All in all the Hallowe'en Carnival was a huge success for everyone. The students are still shaking in their shoes and drinking indignation potents from being scared too often and eating too much of the delicious food.

FAVORED KNOX CITY BEAT BY SUNSET

By a score of 28 to 13 the highly touted Eagles of Sunset downed a favored Knox City quintet in the Eagle's nest last Thursday in a rough game marked by the inaccuracy of the shooting and passing of the Greyhounds.

The nervous tension of being favored over a traditional rival which was something new to the locals served to wreak the havoc. The team that held Herbert Partridge et al to a 44 to 42 score in the county meet of last year was a polished ball club compared to the shooting and passing displayed last Thursday evening. The combination of Shannon and let the publicized Shannon sink baskets for sixteen points, but the equally publicized Strickland was held to six points. The score does not indicate the interest of the game for the Knox City boys were scrapping for the ball every minute in an earnest endeavor to wreak victory from the year after year rulers of basketball in this section.

Red Cross Seeks Cut in Accident Toll

1,725-406 First Aiders Trained
Since 1910

Extent of tremendous losses in human lives and of permanent injuries resulting from accidents in homes, on streets and highways, and around industrial plants as well as in the basement workshop, officials of the American Red Cross have been directing a systematic fight against what they term "the accidental waste."

As part of this nation-wide effort to reduce deaths and permanent injuries from accidents, a recent statement from Red Cross headquarters in Washington reports that during the past 12 months certificates have been granted to 20,000 persons completing courses in the administration of Red Cross first aid.

Officials of these certificates have followed detailed courses of study and have been taught how to splint fractures, stop flow of blood, treat poison sufferers, care for victims of heat, electric shock, and handle other common emergency situations. The courses emphasize methods of caring for patients until professional medical aid can be summoned to scenes of accidents.

Since 1910, the report reveals, 1,725,406 persons have received this training from qualified Red Cross instructors, and at the present time 29,423 persons are qualified to give such instruction.

Bringing help nearer scenes of possible accident, 2,454 emergency first aid stations have been established in strategic locations on principal highways throughout the nation, operators of the stations receiving the prescribed Red Cross instructions and maintaining full first aid equipment on the spot.

Conveniently placed, they also maintain up-to-date lists of available doctors and ambulance services pledged in advance to cooperate with Red Cross first aiders in preventing deaths and permanent injuries that so frequently result from automobile accidents.

Mobile first aid units also have been established in cooperation with state highway and police departments, operators of public utility vehicles and others frequenting highways, operators of such units also receiving the prescribed Red Cross courses in first aid.

To cut the number of persons losing their lives through drowning while swimming, the Red Cross has re-doubled efforts to train as many persons as possible in life saving methods. During the past year 33,150 persons received certificates upon completion of courses. Since 1914, 531,649 persons have been trained in Red Cross life saving methods, including thousands of persons in CCC camps, beach patrolmen, camp instructors, and school boys and girls.

Carrying the fight onto farms and into homes, a campaign to eliminate accidents caused by careless habits and faulty equipment last year resulted in self-checks being made in 10,000,000 American homes through cooperation of children in school, women's clubs, farm organizations, and other groups. The 2,000 Red Cross chapters and their branches in every county are cooperating in this national effort to end needless pain and suffering resulting from such accidents.

These efforts to lessen such appalling tolls of human lives and usefulness are made possible through membership in the Red Cross. The annual Roll Call will be held between November 10 and Thanksgiving Day, when all Americans are asked to join or renew their affiliation to ensure continuation of accident prevention measures.

Join the Red Cross Chapter in your community during the Roll Call, November 11 to 21.

METHODIST CHURCH

Twenty years ago the "war to end war" came to a close. We have learned the delusion of the phrase. No war of force and hate can end war. We sacrificed thousands of our choice young men and billions of dollars, and a wound was inflicted that doesn't heal. Wars shall cease only when men enthroned Christ in their hearts, and Love is made the rule of life. God save our country, and the world, from the insanity of war.

LABORERS ADVISED TO STAY AT HOME

With income from crops for 1938 much less than anticipated, many families are thinking of selling what goods they own and moving to the West Coast. The Farm Security Administration advises strongly against it, according to R. E. Skipworth, local supervisor with headquarters at Haskell, Texas.

He said that a recent study of California conditions was made by W. J. Green, Assistant Regional Director for FSA in this region, and it offers no encouragement to families of the Southwest unless they already have permanent employment.

"Frequent statements reach Texas that there is a shortage of laborers at certain points in the west," Mr. Green reported. These statements are probably correct, but the people making them often fail to add that the work will last for only a short time, that living conditions in the area are undesirable and that when the work is finished, the laborer may find himself stranded in a community far from other employment with no hope of assistance from local sources.

Green pointed out that labor in California is almost entirely seasonal and that the land is owned in large units and operated for the most part by machinery. Only at harvest time is there a demand for additional labor, and when the highly perishable fruit and vegetable crops are harvested, the worker must move on to other places to find employment. These people have become known as migratory laborers and rarely stay in one place as long as six months.

"Along the roadsides of California, many people from the Southwest are camping out under conditions much worse than the ones they left behind," Mr. Green reported. "Usually they live in tents which they carry along with them. In many cases their only supply of drinking water is an open irrigation ditch into which the waste from other camps has been thrown. No protection from disease is possible."

Lions

Code of Ethics

To show my faith in the worthiness of my vocation by industrious application to the end that I may merit a reputation for quality of service.

To seek success and to demand all fair remuneration or profit as my just due, but to accept no profit or success at the price of my own self respect lost because of unfair advantage taken or because of questionable acts on my part.

To remember that in building up my business it is not necessary to tear down another's; to be loyal to my clients or customers and true to myself.

Whenever a doubt arises as to the right or ethics of my position or action towards my fellow men, to resolve such doubt against myself.

To hold friendship as an end and not a means. To hold that true friendship exists not on account of service performed by one to another, but that true friendship demands nothing but accepts service in the spirit in which it is given.

Always to bear in mind my obligations as a citizen to my nation, my state and my community, and to give to them my unswerving loyalty in word, act and deed. To give them freely of my time, labor and means.

To aid my fellow men by giving my sympathy to those in distress, my aid to the weak, and my substance to the needy.

To be careful with my criticisms and liberal with my praise, to build up and not destroy.
