Freshmen Enjoy Friday Outing

BY GENIA GIBSON

Friday afternoon, an anxious caravan of Knox City freshmen departed for Mansfield Park. The end of school marked a class party and all eagerly anticipated the long-awaited picnic. A snack under a cool shade tree, a refreshing swim, and a lively conversation all contributed to make this occasion a memorable one. But all good things are "clouded" by the bad; and of course, the freshmen were no exception. A black thunder cloud shadowed the sun and the merry makers were joined by a summer shower which abruptly ended the picnic!

Band Boosters Responsible For Help In Many Projects

In an annual report of the condition of the Knox City Band Boosters by current secretary, Mrs. Evelyn Shelton and president, Mrs. Dessie Egenbacher, it is evident that the organization is responsible in many areas for meeting the needs of the Knox City School bands.

The purpose of the organization is to help in projects where the school or individual parents are limited, and this year has been no exception. Three instruments were purchased as property of the band. Many times a student will own his own instrument and will be needed to fill-in on another, making it impractical for his parents to invest in another horn. Sometimes a child is talented and wishes to enroll in band but is not financially able to purchase an instrument.

The Knox City Schools do help in the purchase of some instruments, and the Band Boosters offer assistance where the purchases are not absolutely necessary but of great help in rounding out the overall balance of the bands. This year the Band Boosters purchased two used saxophones and one used trombone for $190.00. They purchased the movie film made at marching contest, tapes of the concert performance, and pictures for $102.87. Also, they contributed $50.00 toward the fee of the clinician prior to the concert and sight-reading contest. The Band Sweetheart expenses amounted to $21.96 and gifts were $62.76. Expenses for the beginners' band fun-night and the jr. high band's hobo party were $44.55. The annual high school banquet was foregone this year in lieu of the band trip to the Buccaneer Band Festival at Corpus Christi. Motel accommodations and one meal for the band students totaled $433.30.

Net profit from the Band Calendar sales this year amounted to $778.02. Band dues were $42.25, and the band's share of the concession stand was $56.90. Net proceeds from the Texas Tech Stage Band Concert were $12.73, bridge tournament, $40.98, Donut Sales, $179.52, and Spring Concert, $45.50.

Many parents are members of the Band Booster organization but are unaware of the way the funds are spent. However, with this report, it is apparent that the funds are used wisely, and that the organization is ready and willing to offer assistance to the bands whenever it is needed.

Special Coverage Protects Driver

What problems does the average Texas motorist face when injured by a driver who isn't insured? Very few, if he has "uninsured motorists coverage" in his automobile insurance policy, reports the Insurance Information Institute. This coverage, available in all 50 states, provides that the policyholder may collect from his own insurance company if he or passengers in his car are injured by someone who has no automobile liability insurance. The coverage includes injuries by hit-and-run motorists. In Texas, insurance companies are required by a recently enacted law to offer uninsured motorists coverage to purchasers of automobile liability insurance. The cost is $4 per year and the coverage can be declined. Uninsured motorists coverage also applies to injuries suffered by the policyholder or residents of his household if struck as pedestrians by an uninsured or hit-and-run driver. *****

State FHA Director Receives Dept. Of Agriculture Award

James C. Hayes, Assistant to the Texas State Director of the Farmers Home Administration, today received the U. S. Department of Agriculture Superior Service Award from Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman at ceremonies in Washington, D. C. Mr. Hayes is credited with reorganizing and updating his agency's farm management program, which provides advice for borrowers to insure that they are pursuing sound farming operations. He was cited "for unusually effective development and administration of a sound and proven farm management program for Farmers Home Administration borrowers in Texas, thereby strengthening and stabilizing the family type farm." Mr. Hayes has worked closely with FHA County Supervisors throughout Texas to expand and improve the level of their advisory services. He launched a special pasture program to obtain profitable use of idle acres, and moved quickly to resolve problems caused by recent hurricanes on the Gulf Coast. Mr. Hayes joined the Farmers Home Administration nearly 10 years ago as an assistant county supervisor. He was promoted to county supervisor and farm management specialist before taking his present position two years ago. He is a native of Collin County, Texas, and a graduate of East Texas State University at Commerce. *****

Help Available On Medicare

Although Medicare has been in effect for over a year and a half, there are indications that some people may not be filing claims for medical insurance benefits because of lack of knowledge of the method for filing. According to Edwin Draughon, manager of the Vernon Social Security Office, some individuals had incurred the $50 medical deductible early last year but have not yet claimed reimbursement for 80 percent of the reasonable charges for physicians' services and medical supplies in excess of the deductible. Also there are many who do not understand that medical expenses incurred in the last quarter of a year can, in some cases, count toward meeting the $50 deductible for the following year. Individuals who need help in filing a medical insurance claim or need more information on medical benefits are urged to get in touch with the Vernon Social Security Office located at 1728 Fannin. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. weekdays and from 10 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday. The Social Security representative from the Vernon office comes to the City Hall in Knox City twice a month on a Wednesday morning from 10:00 until noon. *****

New IRS Form Ideal For Correcting Medical Ins. Errors

DALLAS - Taxpayers who misinterpreted the medical insurance premium deduction provision in preparing their Federal income tax return should use the new, specially-designed Form 1040-X in filing an amended return, Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director for northern Texas, said today. The yellow-colored 1040-X, introduced by IRS earlier this year for amending individual income tax returns, is especially suited for correcting errors such as those made in reporting medical insurance premium deductions. Mr. Campbell said that reports from the Southwest Service Center, which services Texas taxpayers, indicate that on their original return many taxpayers overlooked changes in the law relating to the medical insurance premium deduction. For 1967 itemized tax returns, the law provides that one half the cost of premiums paid for medical insurance, up to a maximum of $150, may be deducted without regard to the three percent of income limitation. It is no longer necessary for a taxpayer to file another complete 1040 or 1040-A to correct errors on tax returns already filed, Mr. Campbell pointed out. Furthermore, Form 1040-X not only simplifies the filing of an amended return, it also speeds up processing of additional refunds that may be due on 1967 returns. Copies of Form 1040-X and instructions may be secured from any IRS office. *****

Purchase Of Tree Seedlings Increase

COLLEGE STATION, Texas - Enough seedlings to reforest nearly 9,000 acres were sold by the state's Indian Mound Nursery near Alto in 1967. More than 1,000 tree planters in 158 of Texas' 254 counties purchased 8.1 million tree seedlings—a 47 percent increase over the 1966 sales. Eight tree farmers in Dallas County led the state by planting 27,000 windbreak seedlings. El Paso and Wheeler Counties were next with 15,000 and 10,000 respectively. The largest number of tree planters who ordered windbreak seedlings from the Texas Forest Service nursery was 36 from Brazoria County. Randall and Tarrant Counties were next with 29 and 28 respectively. Windbreak species in order of buyer preference in 1967 were redcedar, Chinese elm, sycamore, cottonwood, black walnut, rose multiflora, mulberry, Austrian pine, ponderosa pine, catalpa, buffaloberry, Osage orange, black locust and euonymus. Planting information and applications for ordering tree seedlings for the next planting season, Mid-December to March 1, will be available about Mid-August and may be obtained from local soil conservation district offices, county agricultural agents, and from the Texas Forest Service, at Texas A&M University, College Station. *****

Eligible School Students Receive S. S. Benefits

Social security benefits being paid to young people 18 to 22 who are still in school amount to more than the scholarships at all colleges and universities in the United States, Edwin Draughon, manager of the Vernon social security office, said today. "In the 1968-69 school year, the social security program will pay about $479 million to approximately 466,000 students entitled to payments on the earnings record of a disabled, retired, or deceased parent," Mr. Draughon said. This will be an average of more than $1,000 to each eligible student. The school year that begins next fall will mark the fourth year of payments under a 1965 change in the law providing for the continued payment of social security child's benefits past the age of 18. Until that change, Mr. Draughon said, a young beneficiary's payments stopped when he became 18 unless he was totally disabled. "There is nothing in the law that prevents the student from receiving his social security benefits while he is still receiving assistance from a scholarship fund," Mr. Draughon noted. "Benefits may be paid during vacation periods. If a student works during the summer months or part time during the school year, and earns $1,680 or less for the year, he can still collect all of his social security benefits. If his earnings go above $1,680, he gives up some or all his benefits, depending upon the amount of his total earnings and how steadily he works." Mr. Draughon said a 1967 change in the dependency requirements for the children of women workers made about 175,000 young persons eligible for payments. A large number of them are in the 18-22 age group and are attending school. They must apply for benefits before their payments can start. Young people in the 18-22 age group whose mothers died after working under social security, or whose mothers are retired or disabled, should get in touch with the Vernon social security office if they are not already receiving social security student's benefits, Mr. Draughon advised. *****

"Melanie Meddles"

By Melanie Whitley The Knox City Senior Class is back from their trip to New Orleans laden with souvenirs and memories. I believe all the sponsors had as much fun as the kids. Except for a couple of years, the driver for these yearly trips has been Mr. Denton Wilson of Wichita Falls. He and his wife Jo, get to know the groups in those few days; they have the kids autograph their picture mad at the Blue Room so later when something appears in the paper about them, the Wilsons check back to the pictures to see which of "their Seniors" it is happening to. Of all the trips, one senior stands out in Mr. Wilson's memory. "There was one girl who rocked this bus from the time we started until we got back," he recalls. "They called her G. G., whatever became of her?" Have you noticed lately how many movies end with the hero dying? For example, Dr. Zhivago, Cool Hand Luke, Hombre and The Sand Pebbles? Why? Obviously, so the actor can prove he can act. But when we leave the children at home for a relaxing night out and come home depressed with a throbbing headache, I'm just about ready to see only Walt Disney films in the future. I hate to see May go; it is such a beautiful month with its sprinkling of spicy wild flowers, wheat turning gold in fields that roll like yeast rising, and the intoxicating mixture of rose and honeysuckle fumes. But alas, May is also the month of sprouting gym sets. I'm sure you're all familiar with the theory that clothes hangers breed in closets; well, I propose a theory that gym sets devour parts of themselves while in the cartons. Have you ever heard of one arriving with all its parts? As one lady who learned by doing, said, "It would be worth the extra $5 to have the thing already assembled." Besides the children wouldn't pick up all those new forceful words from their fathers. *****

Acree Survey Cards To Be Mailed Soon
Specially selected farmers in Knox County will find a very important document in their mailboxes in the next few days according to Herman H. Collier, County Agricultural Agent.

It's the annual spring Acree Survey of the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, a cooperative effort of USDA's Statistical Reporting Service and the Texas State Department of Agriculture.
Carey D. Palmer, agricultural statistician in charge, said that forms will be mailed to Knox County from Austin on May 29.

Crop reports for more than 100 years have been important aids to farmers in planning their production and marketing activities, Collier said. By responding promptly to the questionnaire, farmers can increase the accuracy of our next crop report and make it even more valuable to them, he added.

Statewide, data is collected primarily from voluntary reporters, including 40,000 farmers and ranchmen, 6,000 agricultural businesses and 250 county agricultural agents.

Up to 25 percent of the producers in each county, generally the larger operators, will receive the Acree Survey form.

Business Careers Provide Challenge To College Grads
Because many young people have professed scorn of a business career — preferring instead the "challenge" of some sort of "public service" — the idea has become prevalent that young people by and large have turned their backs on careers in private industry. Studies by the National Industrial Conference Board and the Research Institute of America show indeed that a high level of interest in business careers does indeed exist among college students.

were discussed by the chairman of the board of a large oil company in the course of an address before a group of university students. He reminded his audience that, "... in our great national effort to attack the problems of urban slums, race relations and poverty generally, business is playing a vital role. It provides jobs. It conducts training programs. It develops more efficient means to building low-cost housing.

"Increasingly, the government is looking to private industry to close the gap between legislative theory and practical reality in the conduct of programs designed to cure the ills of society. The role of business in these areas in the conduct of programs designed to cure the ills expanding the opportunities for young people whose interests lie in that direction."

In the final analysis, it is business — productive, tax-paying business — that must provide the enterprise, the initiative, the capital and the productiveness upon which all progress ultimately rests. For this reason, the opportunities and the challenges inherent in business careers are almost boundless — for those willing to accept them.

Two ways to prevent home burglaries while the family is away on vacation, according to Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies, are to tell the newsboy or milkman to stop deliveries and to ask the next-door neighbor to keep an eye on the house.

Streams In Desert Places
BY OZELLE STEPHENS

The Bible speaks much about words. They can be comforting or disturbing. They can be forcible, pleasant, appropriate, gracious, inspiring, and unforgettable. They can be irritating, irreverent, enticing, insincere, flattering, proud, or malicious. The wise man measures the weight of his words and holds fast the form of sound words which cannot be condemned. He that hath knowledge spareth his words. A man of understanding is of an excellent spirit. We are told to let our speech be always with grace, seasoned with salt, that we may know how we ought to answer every man. The Lord will give you the tongue of the learned that you may know how to speak a word in season to him that is weary. He will awaken your ear to hear as the learned.

For thousands of motorists, the May 30 holiday signals the opening of the summer travel season.

Unfortunately, too often motorists' sights are set on summer fun, not safety; on getting to their favored weekend spot quickly, not arriving home rested and refreshed.

The Texas Highway Department works to make travel on the Texas highway system as safe and convenient as possible all year, yet in this season there are construction areas that may pose special hazards.

There are now many construction projects underway, with several in this area. The Texas Highway Department urges motorists to use extreme caution in these areas.

Motorists can make this a safer holiday by observing warning signs and driving carefully.

Low Income Families In Knox Co. Benefited By FHA

Many Knox County low-income rural people have increased buying power, as a result of Federal opportunity loans, according to Joe T. Boone, the Farmers Home Administration local representative.

Boone, who has been Farmers Home Administration's Knox County Supervisor for 2 years, said some 34 farm and other rural families received over $74,750 in economic opportunity loans since July 1, 1966. They used the loans, Mr. Boone said, to develop small businesses and improve their farming operations.

Over 2,700 opportunity loans have been made in Texas since the beginning of the program in January 1965 with more than 430 being made this fiscal year.

The opportunity loans are part of the Federal anti-poverty program, which Congress enacted three years ago. The loan program is administered by the Farmers Home Administration for the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Low-income rural people, through the local Farmers Home Administration office, may receive loans up to $3,500 to develop income-producing businesses or to enlarge farming operations. Borrowers may take up to 15 years to repay the loan.

For the first time, according to Mr. Boone, people who could never before qualify for loans now can get the money they need to develop or expand a business enterprise or a farming operation.

"But in all cases," he added, "the enterprise — whether it is farming or business — must have a reasonable chance of success."

Through the Knox County Office, loans have been made for such nonfarm enterprises as barber shops, auto repair shops, beauty shops, newstands, and blacksmith shops.

Application for loans are made through the Farmers Home Administration Knox County Office in Knox City, Texas.

Silver and china appointments graced the serving table, and colors of blue and white were used. The floral arrangement was of Belles of Ireland blossoms and polished greenery.

Hot spiced tea and coffee, dainty sandwiches and cookies were served to twenty guests.

ATTEND MARKET

Mrs. Roger Williams and her daughter, Mrs. Louise Kemletz were in Dallas over the weekend to attend the "Back-to-School" market.

Mrs. Williams reported that colorful plaids will be one of the features for the fall school clothes.

Arnold Davis, PMC Manager Transferred To Temple

Arnold Davis, manager of the Soil Conservation Service James E. "Bud" Smith Plant Materials Center at Knox City, has been transferred to the Soil Conservation Service State Office in Temple. He will assume full-time responsibilities as Plant Materials Specialist in his new position.

As Plant Materials Specialist he will be helping the farmers and ranchers of Texas with trial plantings of new grasses and other plants furnished by the Plant Materials Center. He will also be working with other state and federal agencies in the joint efforts to find new plants and better methods of using them.

Howard A. Carleton will be in charge of the Plant Materials Center at Knox City. Howard joined the staff in 1966 as Assistant Manager. He and his wife, Carol, were formerly with Soil Conservation Service at Memphis, Texas.

Arnold and his family moved to Knox City in January of 1965 from Beltsville, Maryland. He and Ulric H. Lea, field foreman, started to build the Plant Center that spring. The first year they established about 15 acres of grasses and legumes in small fields. Now, about 45 acres are planted, over 60 new plants with potential are being grown for seed, over a thousand new collections are under study.

Arnold, his wife, Sue, and their three children moved to Temple on May 24, 1968. They will make their home at 3906 East Drive. Mrs. Davis taught in the O'Brien school system last year. She plans to enter school this summer and continue her teaching career in the future.

Accompanying the scouts will be Mrs. Mary Margaret Campbell, leader for the Cadettes, Mrs. Eva Penman, Mrs. Evelyn Shelton and Carla Shelton.

June Draft Call Reduced In Tex.

AUSTIN, May 15.—The June draft call for Texas has been reduced almost one-third, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Wednesday.

The state quota of 1,416 men for June was scaled down to 961 by a telegram from Lieutenant General Lewis B. Hershey, the national draft director. This followed reduction of the national quota for June by the Department of Defense from 29,500 to 20,000 men, all for the Army.

At the same time, the Department of Defense said its call for July would be 15,000 men. The Texas share of this would be 700 to 750 men, Colonel Schwartz estimated.

State draft boards currently are filling the May state call for 2,223 men, destined for the Army and Marine Corps. The May call was increased 4.3% in late April to provide strength for the Marine Corps.

Local boards are currently being advised of reductions in their June quotas.

The draft boards will forward 8,500 men to the armed forces examining and entrance stations in June for pre-induction physical and mental examinations in preparation to fill quotas. The May total is 9,000.

The order of selection to fill the June induction call may be from among examined and acceptable men who are (1) delinquents 19 years old and older, (2) volunteers under age 26, and (3) nonvolunteers 19 through 25 years old, single and married, with those married after August 26, 1965, being selected ahead of those married on or before that date.

TO STATE TRYOUTS

Paul Green, choir director at Slaton High School, will accompany one of his senior choir members, Paul Hall, a Negro tenor, to Austin June 3 for State tryouts. Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Green, said that the boy had received a number of honors and was the only one from West Texas entered in the events.

FROM OKLAHOMA

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hollis and Robbie of Duncan, Oklahoma, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hollis and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Tankersley and Phyllis, here over the weekend. They also attended funeral services for Marlin Smith at Granbury Friday.

Cotton Pickin's

ROLLING PLAINS COTTON GROWERS INC.

The cotton insect problem in the Rolling Plains counties this crop year could very well be the worst in some years, entomologist of the Texas Agriculture Extension Service believes.

Above normal winter rains that have continued into spring could result in a substantial increase in the population of insect pests to plague not only cotton farmers but producers of all kinds of agricultural crops in the Rolling Plains, according to observers.

In the absence of cotton insect survey teams in the Rolling Plains area, which previously were jointly sponsored by the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, weekly checks on cotton insect populations will be made under the supervision of county extension service agents.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM THE State CAPITOL

AUSTIN, Tex. -- Your Capitol is bursting with life on the eve of the most significant political and governmental events--the June 1 runoff election, the June 4 beginning of a special session of the Legislature, and the June 11 conventions of State Democratic and Republican parties.

Although there are 15 runoffs in Legislature races to be decided Saturday, the main bout, of course, is that between Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and Houston Attorney Don Yarborough.

Probably no more than a million voters will decide whether moderate-conservative Smith or liberal Yarborough will be the Democratic nominee for governor.

Each is reaching for the other's voter potential, Smith boasts of his 18 year's governmental experience, Yarborough, without governmental experience, urges his own "fresh approach" and "constructive programs," including lower auto insurance rates and consumer protection.

Even name identification -- usually considered the well-spring of political success-- won't be the deciding factor between these two. Both men have been in state-wide races nearly a decade and are well-known names on the ballot.

Incidentally, the winner may find surprisingly tough opposition in November from Republican nominee Paul Eggers of Wichita Falls.

Regardless of whether Smith, Yarborough -- or Eggers -- is the next governor, the battle-wise Democratic legislative presiding officers, Lt. Gov. nominee Ben Barnes in the Senate and Speaker-to-be Gus Mutscher of Brenham in the House, will be powerful figures to be reckoned with. Barnes admittedly aspires to higher office and Mutscher reportedly is interested in a long tenure in the House.

LEGISLATIVE RACES

There are few district races on the June 1 ballot and no other statewide contests. However, as far as professional politicians go, the legislative races are very significant -- especially where incumbents are concerned. This because "lame ducks" often vote differently from those re-elected.

Many eyes will be on the races between Sen. Bruce Reagan and Rep. Ronald Bridges of Corpus Christi, for the State Senate seat for that area. Rep. John E. Blaine versus Ramon Ramos of El Paso; Rep. J. E. Miller of Burkeville versus Don Adams; Rep. Bob Hendricks versus former Rep. Bill Dunagan of McKinney.

Other runoffs involve top vote getters in local races where incumbents lost altogether or were not running for re-election.

LIQUOR LEGISLATION DUE

Gov. John Connally's June 4 special session of the Legislature almost certainly will come to grips with important liquor legislation, probably including a mixed-drinks bill.

A House study committee's report on how to improve present statutes has been promised before the special session begins. Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria, chairman of the panel, and House Speaker Ben Barnes have indicated the report will contain major, controversial recommendations.

Results of the investigation made by Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin -- and his recommendations -- also are due by June 4.

Connally has strongly indicated he will urge the lawmakers to come up with a mixed-drinks bill as a part of his tax program. Observers believe that, instead of a straight booze-over-the-bar measure, he will ask for legislation permitting the sale of liquor in small, one-drink-sized bottles on a local option basis. This would mean that, if the bill passes, Texans still will have to mix their own but at least they won't have to bring their own bottles.

STATE CONVENTIONS

Every even-numbered year state political parties hold two conventions. In presidential election years the June convention, customarily, is called "the presidential convention," and the September convention is known as "the governor's convention."

This year since the big issue in the State Democratic convention in Dallas on June 11 will be whether Governor Connally is picked as the "favorite son," both Democratic party conventions will be "governor's conventions." If Connally is chosen as "favorite son," the first vote of the Texas delegation at the national convention in Chicago will go to Connally, the second to whomever he likes of the major candidates--probably Hubert Humphrey.

Republicans, who will hold their convention in Corpus Christi on June 11, doubtlessly will pick U. S. Sen John Tower as their "favorite son." State GOP Chairman Peter O'Donnell of Dallas, and other southern GOP chairmen, met in New Orleans with hopefuls Gov. Ronald Reagan and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. But O'Donnell is not expected to talk about a second-ballot alternative to Senator Tower until he has conferred with Richard Nixon, and considered results of talks with all three.

PORNOGRAPHY WAR MAPPED

Attorney General Martin has mapped a drive against "lewd" movies and pornographic literature.

His office has received frequent complaints about circulation of obscenity, so he will ask the Legislature to tighten its control laws.

Specifically, Martin said he will ask for repeal of a portion of the penal code which exempts from control foreign films and movies that are in interstate commerce. Many of the complaints he receives concern pornography originating in Mexico and other foreign countries.

Martin also will seek legislation to include the attorney general among those granted authority to enforce the law by civil injunction. He criticized U. S. Supreme Court decisions as having "torn down virtually all standards in judging pornographic materials."

SALES TAX

Board members of the Texas Municipal League will meet at El Paso on June 6. They are expected to discuss Governor Connally's plan to abolish the city sales tax.

Connally's plan would raise the state sales tax from two to three per cent and funnel part of this money back to incorporated cities.

There is a difference of opinion among legal experts on the constitutionality of such a plan. Texas' Constitution may forbid the state from giving money to municipalities when there is no return to the state. Governor's advisors apparently feel the courts would be hesitant to deny funds to the state and cities with both in dire need.

Still, the sales tax change is quite likely to be sent to the Legislature when it convenes in special session next Tuesday.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES

School districts are not authorized to issue time warrants for the purpose of purchasing unimproved land only. So held Attorney General Martin in a recent opinion. However, he stated that warrants can be issued to purchase school buildings and equipment.

State officials may be reimbursed by the government for expenses incurred in delivery of veterans land bonds to out-of-state banks, said Martin in another opinion.

NEW BANKS PROPOSED

State Banking Board is considering requests for charters from Harlingen, High Island and Missouri City.

Organizers of a proposed Bank of Commerce for a new Harlingen shopping center insisted through their spokesman that downtown banks are not readily accessible due to traffic congestion. But presidents of the Harlingen National Bank and First National Bank of Harlingen disagreed.

Request to charter a Peninsula State Bank at High Island was opposed by the Gulf Coast State Bank of Winnie. And the case for a Missouri City State Bank was protested by officers of the First National Bank of Stafford and Sugarland State Bank.

Story Of O'Brien

ER IV stated before, the railroad had do with the the townsite called Carney of the early ber seeing the id out, some of white chopping moved back to his land which now supported a little town. He lived, with his family, in the hotel, which had approximately forty rooms. The Carneys used eight rooms on the second floor in this hotel, located south of present Covey's Garage. Mr. Carney had a store approximately 25 x 100 feet on the bottom floor of this hotel owned by Mr. Byers. A Mr. Hines had a drygoods store in the back of this same hotel.

In 1906 there was an attempt to build a Baptist College in O'Brien. Brother James had started a project in which there was to be established a Baptist College, where the old Baptist Church now stands. A meeting was held to raise money and supposedly a load of bricks was brought in before Brother James died and the project fell through. Brother James lived where Frank Barnard's house is now located. The town, by now, was supporting many varied business houses. There were hardware stores and a Carney Bottling works at one time. A printing office and a gin also were present. Towns in that day and time had to have one or more blacksmith shops. A Mr. Link owned a blacksmith shop which was located near the present Rufe Barnard house. Arley Zinn owned the livery stable which was in the area of the present Ranzy Her- ring home.

There was a big general store owned by Speck Langston. The hotel, already mentioned, was owned of course by a Mr. Byers and was located on what would be called main street. The printing office, which was referred to earlier, was owned by Lester Powers. A confectionary was present in the little town, owned and operated by Bob Walker who was victim of a shooting scrape in the little town later. A lumber yard was located where the present John Rader home stands, somewhat west of the depot. A second blacksmith shop stood where the present Milton Rowan home now stands.

The Post Office at this time was east of the Byers hotel, about where the Buster Hodges' home is now located. Mr. McWhorter ran this Post Office with a variety store in the front of the same building. Stores were said to have stood all along this street.

A second lumber yard stood, at one time, where the present Beryl Banner house now stands. The lumber yard finally went out of business and a store handling drygoods and groceries replaced it. A Mr. Deering ran this newly formed store. Mr. Link, the blacksmith, had a daughter who ran the telephone office over Mr. Deering's store. This building burned around 1910.

The town had grown very rapidly in 1905 and 1906 for it is estimated that in 1907 there were as many as 1500 people in the little town with something like three lumber yards, two blacksmith shops, a livery stable, more than one hotel, and perhaps fifteen other stores.

1906, as stated before, marked the actual arrival of train service in O'Brien. On the day of the arrival of the first train people came from all around to see the old Ironhorse arrive. It was soon after train service was opened that the line provided an excursion trip for members of the community of O'Brien. The trip was from O'Brien to Sweetwater and back, on flatcars.

Mr. T. G. Carney had built the present Carney house in 1906 and given up his rooms in the hotel. About 1907 or 1908 Mr. Carney moved from the small store in the hotel to a big concrete block store where the present First Baptist Church now stands. This was to be a general store which included, among many items, drugs, implements and buggies. Mrs. Will Edge, an early settler west of O'Brien, remembers a sale which Carney's drygoods store had in 1908. She remembered having lunch in the hotel and attending this sale.

Recreation was varied in the newly established little town. On some Saturdays "Booger Red" would bring his traveling Rodeo to town. The rodeo was held east of the stores that were present then. People from all around would bring wagons and form a circle with these wagons, creating a rodeo arena. Within the confines of these circled wagons a wild affair was held. One of the kids' favorite pastimes involved shaving ice, brought in by wagon or the railroad. Having shaved the ice, flavoring was poured over it, forming something comparable to our present day snowcones. This shaved ice, covered with flavoring, was called "Glass A." The adults enjoyed a peculiar pastime on occasions. This involved pride in one's horse. A collar was placed on a particular horse. A bran sack was filled with sand and tied with a rope. The men would use a 100 foot rope to pull the sack of sand, placing the horse some 100 feet from the load it had to pull. It is said that it took an awfully good horse to move the sack of sand because the rope was so long. These are but some of the activities of recreation the early citizens of O'Brien enjoyed.

As happens in all towns, years elapsing changed the appearance of O'Brien. There was sooner or later a private bank established in O'Brien. About 1916 L. H. Nicks (a cashier) organized this private bank as a State Bank. It was called the "First State Bank." Mr. Nicks operated the newly formed State Bank until April 1, 1918. At this time T. E. Robbins bought Nicks' interest and went in as cashier. In 1918 there were five directors. They were J. Pickerell, P. R. Bettes, Ed Couch, Ab Benedict, and T. E. Robbins. From 1918 until 1922 the capital stock of this bank was around $12,500 and the surplus was $5,000. On November 9, 1922 this bank was sold to "Guaranty State Bank" which meant a move from O'Brien to Knox City. In 1925 the name was changed to "Citizens State Bank," which it bears today. The bank in O'Brien had been a two story building, located somewhere near the present site of the Barnard Grocery building. The second floor of the bank building was owned by the Woodsmen of the World. Many businesses and families

Friday, May 24th

Hello,

The Bakers and Seniors are having a wonderful time. Enclosed is a picture of Billy's big fish - one a sailfish that weighed 115 lbs. and the other a marlin that tipped the scales at 142 lbs. It took Billy 22 minutes to land the sail and 34 minutes to land the marlin. The rest of the party also caught lots of fish. We are having good luck. No one sick - home or otherwise.

We expect to be in O'Brien Wednesday evening.
Regards,
W. R. Baker

(Editor's note: Making the trip to Old Mexico were four members of the senior class including Olivia Del Hierro, Mark Lippard, Sabas Guerrero, and Lynn Duncan. Sponsors, Supt. and Mrs. Bill Baker and children, Billy and Timi accompanied the class. The group left O'Brien Friday, May 17 by car for Laredo and traveled by train and jet liner to Mexico City and Acapulco. Enroute home, the HemisFair was on their itinerary.)

1968 "TEXAS GUIDE FOR CONTROLLING COTTON INSECTS"

Knox County cotton growers who now have 1967 copies of the Extension leaflets, "Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects"; "Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects in the High Plains, Rolling Plains and Trans-Pecos Areas of Texas"; and "Ways to Fight the Pink Bollworm in Texas," should contact the county agent for the 1968 editions.

The new leaflets have several changes in control recommendations, including several deletions and additions. Extension Service entomologists at Texas A&M University said that in developing a sound and effective insect control program there are several important factors to consider. These factors must be considered each year in light of insect population changes, insecticide resistant levels, production practices and insecticide performance data. When these are changed the recommendations must be changed.

The 1967 copies should be discarded and 1968 copies picked up from the county agent's office. Copies are also available from the Agricultural Information Department, Texas A&M University, College Stations, Texas.

APHID CONTROL FOR VEGETABLES & SHRUBS

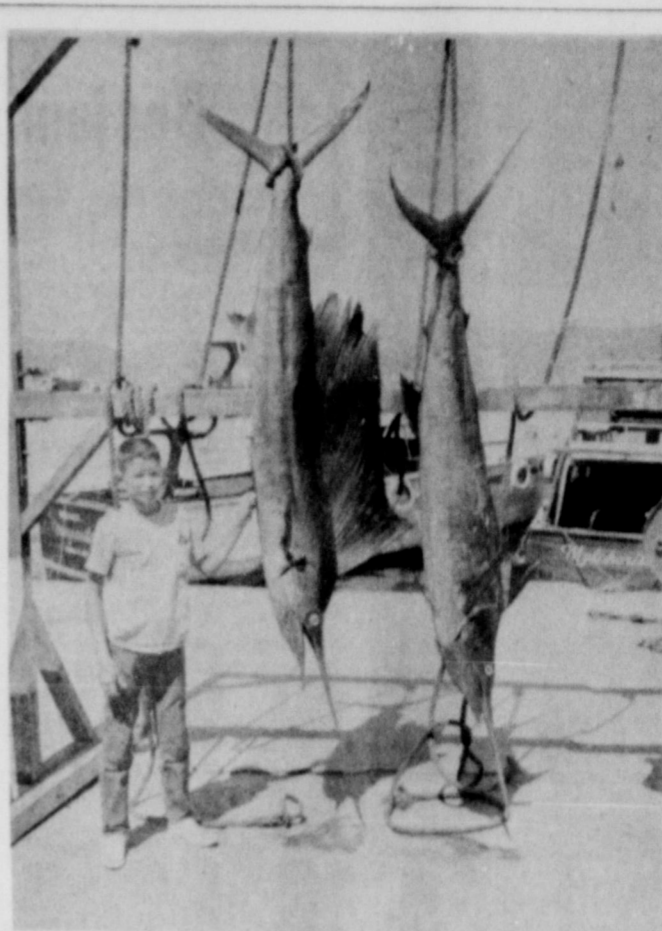

Aphids, commonly known as plant lice, are difficult to see and excessive damage to plants may occur before they are noticed.

Because they are small, don't move around unless disturbed and are often the same color as the plant part on which they feed, they are hard to see. Too, aphids usually feed on the underside of leaves or in unfolding terminals, and their feeding may cause the leaves to curl around them as is the case on peach trees and other plants.

Home owners should be particularly suspicious of plants that have flies and wasps flying around them. Aphids excrete a sweet, sticky substance called honeydew that attracts these insects. Lady beetles, green lacewings, or other predators on plants are also good evidence that aphids are at work. These predators feed on aphids.

Honeydew is also a good sign to look for and is easy to see as it sparkles in the sun. A black sooty mold commonly grows on the honeydew substance.

Modern chemistry has given the home gardener a variety of effective chemical controls. Some, such as soil applied systemic insecticides, can be used with little harm to lady beetles and other beneficial insects. Both soil applied systemics or contact sprays are available to the home gardener.

Homeowners can use a 2 percent disofoton (sold under the trade name of Scope or Syston) granular or dry fertilizer mixtures. Sprays which are effective in controlling aphids include dimethoate (Cygon), diazinon, malathion, naled (Dibrom) or Lindane.

Detailed information on aphid control is available from the County Agents office. Ask for a copy of the "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants", L-199 or "Insect Control in the Home Garden", L-642.

INSECT CONTROL IN HOME GARDENS

Sometimes a small cloud of insects decides who will enjoy the delicious vegetables in your garden - you or those sneaky garden pests. Insecticides, applied at the right time and the right place, are your guarantee that you and your cation and eating or processing the vegetables.

The most commonly used insecticides for home gardens are carbaryl (Sevin), chlordane, DDT, Diazinon, malathion, methoxychlor, rotenone and sulfur.

For specific information on home garden insect control, local gardeners may pick up a copy of "Insect Control in the Home Garden" (L-642) at the County Agricultural agents office in the courthouse.

VOTE SATURDAY JUNE 1

TO: The Citizens and Voters of Texas
FROM: Preston Smith, Candidate for Governor

The purpose of this message is to ask for your support and vote in the Second Democratic Primary Saturday, June 1.

As your Lieutenant Governor for the last six years, I believe I have qualified myself to seek the high office of Governor. You know I finished second among 10 candidates in the First Primary, about 29,000 votes behind the leader with 1,750,000 votes cast.

With your help we can win this runoff against an opponent who has no public record of any kind... one who is aligned with groups that want to reject the progressive, constructive programs built by John Connally and his predecessors and replace them with so-called "liberal" ideas of their own.

I want to continue and improve on the start we have made in education, pollution control, law enforcement, highways, water conservation, promotion of industry and tourism, and many other vital areas.

I am proud to have been a part of Texas government for 18 years. Opponents may harp about what is wrong in Texas; I happen to think there are a lot of things RIGHT in Texas. I am proud of my state and its people.

Things can be even better, and I want to work with you in that direction.

It's more or less in the political tradition to lambast your opponent and say a lot of ugly and cutting things about him. I don't want to engage in personalities; my opponent has no public record to criticize. Therefore I am running for Governor on my own merits.

It may be pretty ambitious for a farm-born, farm-raised Texas boy, who worked his way through Texas Tech and spent his adult years in business activities in Lubbock, to aspire to be Governor. You will be the judges as to whether my experience and proven qualifications entitle me to be elected. I will accept your judgment with real gratitude for your past support and friendship.

Please remember that if I am elected, my door will always be open to any Texan who has any problem whatever that the Governor can help with. I will always be interested in good government. I will always be interested in you.

Land Prices Increase 6.4% In 1967 According To Ag. Dept.

The United States Department of Agriculture has recently sent out its survey on land price trends. The national average increase was 6.4% for the year ending Nov. 1, 1967.

Bernard Bose, realtor of Stamford, advised: "Since 1953 we have seen an almost continuous climb in land prices. Small declines showed in 1959-1960 and 1964. Often we hear a banker or broker say, 'I know what the price is, but what is it really worth?' One of the first things an appraiser learns is that the worth of a thing is what it will bring."

"Economic conditions in this country will have a considerable effect on land prices. There is no single measure for the worth of land. It is affected locally by last year's yields, weather, product prices, and financing, as well as technological changes, farm programs, export policy, and inflation--
