BAIRD, CALLAHAN COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1929

NUMBER 50

THOUSANDS ATTEND BAIRD CELEBRATION NOV. 11.

One of the largest crowds ever assembled in Baird, was here Monday, November 11th at attend an all day celebration honoring the soldiers of the World War, the signing of the Armistice and the laying of the corner stone of Callahan County's new court house by the Grand Officers of the I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge of Texas.

The days program started at 9:30 a. m. with a band concert by boy's band of the I. O. O. F. orphans' home of Corsicana at 9:45, after which Judge B. L. Russell explained, for Callahan county citizens, the proposed million dollar road bond issue, which will be submitted to a vote November 23, Judge A. S. Mausey, Sweetwater, former Nolan county judge, made a forceful talk as to the value of good roads as an investment.

Highway to Be Designated
Highway Commissioner W. R. Ely of Abilene, principal speaker of the morning, assured the people of the county that designation of the proposed north and south highway via Cross Plains and Coleman would be made provided the bond issue carries Commissioner Ely further explained that the proposed state-wide bond issue now being favorably advocated throughout the state would relieve the road tax burden now placed on real estate and place an equivalent tax on gasoline. Judge E. M. Davis, Brown County judge spoke on the value of good roads from a financial standpoint, citing a recent road bond issue in Brown county as an example.

Colonel Dick McCarty of Albany, valiant West Texas Irish pioneer, made an energetic appeal to the people to "take advantage of an opportunity to keep in step with the progress of the exemplary counties of the state." Paul Harrell, Cross Plains attorney, spoke favoring the local bond issue.

Churchmen Ask Support Of Red Cross Roll Call

Leading churchmen of the nation have joined in asking public support of the annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross. Two distinguished leaders who have sent messages to their congregations all over the country are quoted, as follows:

"I plead for an extension of our Red Cross membership until we can call a roll of every adult American," stated the Most Reverend Michael J. Curley, Archbishop of Baltimore. "I would like to see the children listed in the organization by their parents. I plead for it because of the spiritual reaction I visualize in our millions of contributing members."

"As president of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, I bespeak for the Roll Call of the American Red Cross the fullest cooperation of all the churches in the constituency of the Council," writes Francis J. McConnell, president of the Federal Council. "I cannot imagine that there is any minister who will not be grateful for the opportunity to call the attention of his people to the work of the Red Cross and to urge them to enroll in its membership."

Red Cross Volunteers Print Books for Blind

One of the most appealing services that is carried forward by women volunteers under the American Red Cross is that of transcribing popular and scientific books into Braille for reading by the blind. This work was started at Evergreen hospital, where blind veterans were formerly sent.

The Red Cross now has 1,155 volunteer Braille transcribers, and last year they produced 442 titles in 1,849 volumes, or 175,000 pages of Braille. The majority of the books go to the Library of Congress and public libraries throughout the country, although some of the books go to schools for the blind and, in a few instances, text books are transcribed for some individual scholar in order to help him complete his course in some study.

The work is supported from the Red Cross Roll Call for members which occurs each year from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.

W. E. HAWKINS TO PREACH AT PUTNAM

W. E. Hawkins, of the Radio Revival will preach at Putnam Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. Everybody invited to attend.

AID FOR VETERANS IS RED CROSS PLEDGE

Service and Ex-Service Men
Are Helped in All Problems.

Service to World War veterans in hospitals, for able-bodied veterans, and for dependent families of both called for expenditures of $738,000 by the American Red Cross during the year just ended. In addition, Red Cross Chapters spent $1,963,000 in veteran relief, and also for men still in service.

Although eleven years have passed since the Armistice, there remain 25,500 disabled and sick veterans of the World War in hospitals, and the peak of the number who will require hospitalization is not expected by Veterans' Bureau authorities to be reached until 1947. For these men, the Red Cross must continue its service of providing recreation and comforts, according to James L. Fieser, vice chairman of the Red Cross.

"Under its Charter from Congress, the Red Cross is required to maintain service for veterans of wars and for the men still in the service," Mr. Fieser said. "The funds for this work come from the annual roll call membership fees. In addition to the sum spent in maintaining contact with the veterans, the Red Cross expended $308,000 in its service to the men still in the regular Army, Navy and Marine Corps. The society and a majority of its 3,500 chapters handle claims for these men for insurance, compensation and other benefits they are entitled to under the law, and also where necessary arranges to provide for dependents of the men.

"Red Cross workers are maintained in forty-eight Veterans' Bureau Hospitals, as well as in all regular Army and Navy hospitals, whose duty it is to supervise recreational facilities for the patients, and to provide small comforts. In the Army and Navy hospitals, the workers also do social service for the patients. These tasks also are performed at all Army Posts and Navy Ports by Red Cross workers, and in addition Red Cross representatives to handle claims are established at the majority of Veterans' Bureau regional offices."

Mr. Fieser urged that all citizens enroll in the Roll Call, from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, November 11 to 28, in order to aid in supporting this work.

A. T. Young Celebrates 86th Birthday

A. T. Young accompanied by Mrs. Al Young, of Clyde, went to Newcastle Tuesday to visit Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Young and where on Wednesday, Mr. Young was to be honored with a birthday dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Young, it being his 86th birthday. Mr. Young is a Tennessee by birth but came to Texas in 1866 when a young man. He has lived in Callahan county since 1886. Mr. Young is very active for a man of his age. He often rides horseback to town from his farm eight miles out. He is active in community and church work, having been a member of the Methodist church for 63 years. We wish him many more happy birthdays.

Col Dick McCarty, editor of the Albany News was in Baird Monday to attend the celebration. He made a good talk for good roads, especially the proposed north and south highway. He said he had to go 40 miles out of the way to get to Baird. Col. McCarty made The Star office a pleasant visit.

Sam H. Gilliland, of Coleman, came over Monday to visit Mrs. W. E. Gilliland and family and other relatives and to attend the corner stone laying and barbecue. Mr. Gilliland formerly lived at Tecumseh and has many old friends in the county and he met many of them while here. He says the barbecue was the best he had ever attended—and he has attended many. Mr. Gilliland says Col. McCarty, of Albany made good time coming to Baird as compared with his time coming. He left Coleman at 5 o'clock in the morning over the north and south road and did not reach Baird until about 10 o'clock. People who left Coleman several hours later and went around by Cisco got to Baird before he did.

New Dry Goods Store For Baird

The Robertson Dry Goods Co., who have been in business for some time at Clyde and Putnam, are moving their stock of goods to Baird and will be located in the Terrell Building formerly occupied by McElroy Dry Goods Co., and will open with a big Sale Saturday morning, Nov. 16th. They have a big sale on at the Clyde store now. Mr. John H. Robertson, head of the firm, is not altogether a stranger here, as his father, the late Sam L. Robertson, was one of Baird's pioneer merchants, having been in the Dry Goods business here forty-eight years ago, selling out to the late J. D. Boydston in 1888, and the business was later bought by B. L. Boydston.

Sam L. Robertson, son of John H. Robertson, will be in charge of the business.

They are up-to-date and progressive business men and we welcome them to Baird—back home as Mr. Robertson says. They carry a nice stock of merchandise and we bespeak for them as good business.

See their big ad in this issue of The Star.

A LETTER FROM BRO. HALL

Barlett, Texas,
Nov. 4, 1929.

To the Baird Star, and its many readers: Greetings:

Since moving from Baird to this place a short time ago I have been a very busy man. Our work is now getting well under way, and we have every reason to believe our labor in this part of the vineyard is going to be both pleasant and profitable. We were given a very warm reception by these good people immediately following our arrival here. A bunch of more than one hundred people gathered at the home of one of the brethren where we had been invited. There we found a lot of electric lights suspended over the beautiful lawn, and one of the jolliest crowds of people I ever saw. We had all kinds of music, and many funny tricks and games were played until a late hour, when the people one by one began milling in every direction. Presently here, they came laden with all kinds of goods things to eat, this was piled into our car until it fairly groaned under the burden. Of course we had a perfect right to take possession of the car, and we were not disposed to do any unloading either, at least at that particular moment. Well, we drove quietly to our new home with appreciative and thankful hearts, since which time we have been "fairing sumptuously every day." The spirit of the people here makes us think of the Baird people.

We have never lived and labored with a people we appreciated more than the good people of Baird and community. The Baird church of Christ was so good to us in every way. With us they fulfilled every agreement, and every obligation in every way. We have not, and have never had the slightest ill will toward anyone in dear old Callahan county. We pray the Lord to bless you in every good way.

This is a fine farming country. In fact the very best that I have ever seen. Bartlett is located on the line between Bell and Williamson counties. We are only one hour's drive from Austin, our great state capital. A short days drive to the southern coast. We are well pleased with our new location, and hope to do much good while here.

Greetings and best wishes to all.

Fraternally,
Albert S. Hall.

J. W. Baulch, Jr., a member of the Clyde foot ball team, was painfully hurt in the game Monday, suffering an injury to his knee.

Sunset Musings

By J. Marvin Nichols.

Normally, the simple life is the strong life.

Worry is the mental message that you've got poison in your veins.

No woman reaches a higher point than to be wise and womanly at one and the same time.

It is safer to leave a snake alone than it is to step on him. It is known beforehand that he will strike back—and strike to kill.

Like the pup chasing the flying express, some folks are pursuing wealth while others are wondering what they would do with them if they were overtaken.

Are you able to draw the line that runs between a mere wish and a pure doggedness? After all, all there's a big chasm between desire and determination. Somehow, we like the fellow that's going to do it anyhow.

It is so easy to be true when no strain is brought to bear upon your confidences. And then it is so easy for some to be false—without the strain brought upon them.

Manhood has no higher altitude than to be a man to whom some sort of work is indispensable. A real man's highest aim is not the accumulation of wealth beyond the necessities and comforts of life, but the building up of a character that will insure his own ultimate happiness.

A man may be convicted, but the justice of it all is as lucid as mud if his jury be composed of whiskered, bankrupted saints and the galeots who owe "the accused brother" themselves. It is a mighty easy thing to make up a verdict. The majority of people can't do anything else. They're not that big.

Napoleon is said to have carried the lives of Alexander the Great, Hannibal and Ghenghis Khan with him in all of his wonderful military campaigns. On the battlefields, he used them for his pillow. And he became even greater than his models. No life with a low ideal can ever attain its full measure of power and beauty.

Texas and Texans
By WILL H. MAYES

Smith County Peaches

If there is anything in the adage "By their fruits ye shall know them," Smith county is likely to be the best known part of Texas in a year or two, as 35,000 young fruit trees, mostly peaches, were planted there last year. Several fruit growers have more than 100 acres planted to peaches. The county has long been noted for its fine fruits, and especially for blackberries and strawberries. Pecan orchards planted in recent years are also coming into nice bearing.

It hasn't been long, either, since that county was thought to be good for nothing much except corn, cotton and politicians.

Christmas Strawberries

The Javelin (that's a newspaper) at Carizo Springs (that's a town) says that strawberries (that's the chief ingredient of short cakes) will be shipped from there in large quantities for Christmas dinners. This paragraph is a reply that they will be mighty acceptable all over Texas if the price is within reach of the average householder, and is also a notice to the producers that this columnist always has a large family at home at Christmas time. Perhaps that is as much as should be said just now.

No, it isn't, for here is an article from San Benito, in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, that the largest acreage of strawberries ever set out there is going to be ripening for the Christmas dinner table.

Turkeys Ripening, Too

At least a dozen newspapers reaching my desk this week report the opening of new produce houses for handling the Thanksgiving and Christmas turkey crops, which seem to be abundant in most parts of the State. There is a strong rivalry between Cuero and Brady as to which produces the most and the best turkeys, with Lampasas, San Saba, Brownwood, Llano, Burnet and a half dozen other places claiming that, while other sections may make more noise about it, they are the centers of Texas turkey production. This scribe is not in position to settle the dispute.

Frank Kell's New Road

Frank Kell of Wichita Falls, is always busy at some big thing, and now one of his score of enterprises is a railroad from Abilene to Cross Plains. The road will give Abilene direct connection with Waco. It will penetrate a rich agricultural and stock section, the development of which will be much faster when it gets a railroad outlet. Men like Kell help a country while helping themselves in their enterprises. Cross Plains will profit much from the new road.

East Texas Today

But Smith isn't the only East Texas county that has changed in recent years; progress is evident in every part of East Texas. Not only are the farmers practicing diversification in their farm operations, but they have substituted registered hogs for razor-backs, shorthorn and Jersey cattle for long horns, record-laying hens for barnyard dominiquers, paved highways for sand roads, and consolidated schoolhouses. There is one thing East Texas is doing, though, that this columnist doesn't like. Its Chamber of Commerce is issuing a monthly publication, that causes him to want to pack up and move over there every time he reads a copy of it. This makes him restless.

THE ROAD BOND ISSUE

Some of us attended the good roads rally at Baird on Nov. 11th and listened attentively to the arguments presented by the proponents of the proposition, thinking that possibly the program committee had made provisions for both sides of the question to be heard. And we are of the opinion that a large majority of the tax paying voters of the county are opposed to the county going further in debt, the following observations are offered for the consideration of the voters of the county.

It seems to us that the citizens of this county are able to solve their own problems, without importing speakers from different sections of the state to try and dictate to us as to how we should vote on the proposition.

We remember how an other bond proposition was put over on an unsuspecting group of voters. When preparations and plans were being made to vote bonds at Clyde, a certain influence was appealed to and the Clyde community was circularized, setting forth the great advantages that would accrue to the community, these circulars being mailed out from Texarkana. In addition to these circulars, the voters were told that the proposed $60,000.00 bond issue would not cost the tax payers a single cent but that the water and sewer service would be self supporting, and that taxes would remain as before. That if we would just let them have our property values as collateral on which to base their bond issue they would assure us that our tax burden would not be increased. Well the bonds were voted, and the result as they appear today is that we have a lot of past due obligations, many of our business houses are vacant, property values are decreasing, and the prospects are that the bond holders may have to take over our community and operate it in order to get the money which we owe them.

The following are some of the reasons why we are opposed to the $1,000,000.00 road bond issue. The property tax paying citizens of our county are already taxed to the limit. If the proponents of this bond are really in earnest and believe that our burdens will not be increased, let them get some strong financial concern to underwrite their proposition.

We are entitled to have a more secure indemnity than the mere word of patriotic enthusiastic that have no direct personal interest in our county.

What assurance have we that the State will ever vote to amend our constitution and lend its credit in order that bond buyers may get a firmer grasp and a perpetual strangle-hold on the entire tax-payers of the state. This proposed amendment to our State constitution is destined to be a leading issue in the next gubernatorial campaign, and we predict that the proponents will be whipped to a frazzel, so that they will not be in a position to redeem the promises now being made to the voters over the state, in which they are trying to influence us to vote county road bonds. "That will not cost you a cent." The same influence that is now sponsoring the issuing of more bonds, and more kind of bonds, is from the same source that has tried for the past twenty-five years to get us to amend our constitution known as the Homestead provision. But thanks to the intelligence and patriotism of our tax paying citizenship, they have failed so far, and it will be long years of furious fighting before they will ever get the State to amend this clause of our constitution so as to permit the State to lend its credit to issue road bonds.

Where does the tax money come from any way? And who is it that pays all of the taxes? There is but one original source of all wealth. And that is in the soil, and it requires the hand of the actual labor in order to bring forth this wealth from the soil. Aside from the occupations of our artisans, to wit: Mechanics, blacksmiths, manufacturers, etc, which takes raw material, and by the application of their labor, increases the value of the raw materials and makes them more valuable, the real producers of allwealth are these that extract from the soil new wealth, year after year. They are the ones that makes it possible for any of us to have food and raiment, gold and silver, gas and oil, and funds with which we can pay our taxes. Therefore we are hoping that in the present campaign the actual producers of wealth will go to the polls and register his wishes at the ballot box. It requires a two-thirds majority in favor of the bonds, before the Commissioners Court will be permitted to issue the bonds. Let us urge every property tax payer of the county to go to the polls and see that your neighbors go with you and vote your convictions on this issue.

We have it on good authority that if said $1,000,000 bond issue should carry that not only would the tax rate remain at 70c on the Clyde, Baird Putnam districts, but the rate would be raised to $1.30 on the hundred dollar valuation. It seems to us that the proposition

OBVIOUS ADAMS

The Saturday Evening Post once published a story called "Obvious Adams." Obvious Adams gained his name by doing things in the most direct and simple way, the way which seemed, after he had decided it, to be the obvious way.

When I think of Chiropractic and its simple straightforward method of getting at and removing the cause of disease I wonder why it shouldn't be the obvious choice of nearly all sick folks in the world. It does not seem to me that any method can be more direct or show a greater record of results.

For instance, it has been known from time immemorial that paralysis would result when a spinal nerve line met with complete interference. This paralysis means a complete suspension of power in that portion of the body which is affected. Chiropractic did discover that in the vast majority of human ailments there is a partial interference of nerve energy, and that this partial interference causes subnormal function of various organs in the body. Chiropractic discovered that spinal bones when misaligned, can be adjusted to proper position by hand, and that such adjustments when skillfully made, will free the nerve by enlarging the nerve-opening to proper size. With perfect transmission of life impulses restored, Nature again produces healthful activity.

If any of your friends are suffering, you can help them to help themselves by telling them about Chiropractic.

Yours for health,

"I never thought your husband went into places like that!"

Mrs. BEARDSLEY had just returned from the city and she was telling her friend, Mrs. Stanley, all about her visit.

"... and I saw him through the window. He was all alone at a table."

"... and I saw him through the window. He was all alone at a table in the main dining room of the very best hotel. I was so surprised—you know, from seeing your husband washing his own car and cutting the grass himself and all those things. I didn't think he was at all extravagant."

"Sure, I go in there once in a while when I'm in the city," Mr. Stanley told his wife that evening. "It's not for the food. It's for the coffee. That coffee is worth the price of a meal there by itself. You know, dear, I simply must have good coffee once in a while and . . . well, I didn't like to hurt your feelings by mentioning it."

"That coffee, madam," the waiter told Mrs. Stanley the next time she accompanied her husband, "is White Swan Coffee. This hotel has used it for years."

Wives who are coffee-wise know that the appetizing aroma and satisfying flavor of White Swan Coffee served at home makes everyone wish that every meal could be eaten there.

Strict selection of the imported coffees, scientific roasting and artful blending each plays its part in fully developing and nicely balancing the famous White Swan flavor.

With the skill acquired by more than a half century of experience, the Waples Platter Company controls every phase of distribution as well as preparation—making certain that no finer or fresher coffee can be brought into your home for the price you are asked to pay.

White Swan Coffee comes to you fresh in sealed tins and fresh from the roaster with all of its rare goodness kept intact. No chances are taken with White Swan flavor.

One of the 22 Waples Platter Houses is conveniently close to each of the 10,000 White Swan dealers. A fleet of motor trucks, supplementing railroad facilities, makes regular deliveries along established routes to the retailer from all of the units of this institution of the Southwest.

Thus, your grocer always has a new supply of White Swan Coffee—freshly packed for you in one and three pound cans.

ROAD BOND ISSUE

of the proponents of this project are asking too much of the citizens living outside of Districts No. 1 and 4. They are asking you to permit them to use your property as collateral and fasten a thirty year mortgage on your property, so as to enable them to borrow $1,000,000 to liquidate their indebtedness, which they now have against their districts.

The inducements offered the rural taxpayers, is to build about one hundred and fifty miles of all weather roads, seems to us to be entirely insufficient to even grade and bridge said roads. If this be approximately true, then we will have to vote more bonds to finish and maintain these lateral roads, seeing that the State will not be under any obligations to assist you further, if this bond issue should carry.

Those living on these lateral roads are already paying a 4c tax for the benefit of the State roads, and they use them but little. This is unjust to them and you should urge and contend that you are willing to pay this 4c gas tax, but you want the tax expended on your own lateral roads, for your own benefit, and let those that are more interested in the cardinal roads, build and maintain them with this tax.

Name Originated in War
Anzac is a name often applied to the people of Australia and New Zealand, says an article in Pathfinder Magazine. It originated during the World war. The Australian and New Zealand forces in the British service were officially known as the "Australian-New Zealand Army Corps." In popular usage this name was shortened to "Anzac," being the initial letters of the words composing the longer name.

Momentous
The most significant feature in the history of an epoch is the manner it has of welcoming a great man . . . whether they shall take him to be a god, to be a prophet, or what they shall take him to be? That is ever a grand question; by their way of answering that we shall see, as through a little window, into the very heart of those men's spiritual condition. —Kansas City Star.
