In Abilene Tuesday for a Railroad Commission hearing on fresh water pollution were farmers and business men from Knox, Haskell, Stonewall and King counties, and representatives of oil companies who operate in 11 fields in this area.

The hearing was called by the Railroad Commission after numerous complaints of fresh water pollution had been received and after investigators for the commission had conducted surveys in the area.

The landowners say salt water content in their fresh water supply is increasing steadily. They maintain that oil field waste is to blame, and that the situation should be corrected by orders of the Railroad Commission.

The oil operators claim they are following procedures approved by the Railroad Commission and the State Board of Water Engineers in disposing of salt water from the fields.

Representatives of 10 operating companies were heard during the hearing. Each told how much salt water they were producing and what was being done with it.

At least three of the companies now using pits said they were planning to start pumping salt water into disposal wells, a practice now carried out by a number of the operators.

W. L. Collins, secretary of the Knox City Board of Commerce, served as spokesman for the landowners. B. B. Campbell, local banker, said a sample of Brazos River floodwaters in his fields a few weeks ago showed that the water was highly polluted.

Lee Webster, representing Sid and Charles Katz, who have extensive production in the Katz Field west of town, contended that river pollution is the same both below and above the Katz Field area. He said samples of water from both upstream and downstream were analyzed, with the results giving no indication that pollution was originating from the field.

Other landowners who spoke briefly were M. H. Mansfield of Knox City, Joe Jenkins and Winfred Jenkins of O'Brien, and R. Strickland of Rochester.

A complete transcription of the hearing will be submitted to the three railroad commissioners. All persons involved will receive notices of the commissioner's final orders on the problem.

Presiding over the session was George Singletary of Austin, assistant chief engineer for the commission. Representing the district 9 office in Wichita Falls were E. R. Wood, supervisor, and Bill Watson. Representing the District 17-B office in Abilene was C. G. Willis.

COTTON MAN SAYS CONTROLS UNSATISFACTORY

Compulsory reduction of cotton production through acreage curtailment is unsatisfactory to the American cotton farmer and to his fellow citizens as well. Not only does the curtailment force cotton farms to operate far below an efficient rate of production, it also keeps cotton prices high for 165 million consumers. Mill people object because they find themselves squeezed between high cotton prices and consumer resistance; and ultimately, taxpayers must foot the bill for a costly government support program for cotton and other crops.

These statements were made at the 16th annual meeting of the American Cotton Congress in Harlingen last week by Lamar Fleming, Jr., chairman of the board of Anderson, Clayton & Co., world's largest cotton merchants. The Congress, headed by Burriss Jackson of Hillsboro, held a three-day meeting to discuss cotton's problems and to hear the latest information on cotton research.

Among those attending the meeting were S. N. Reed of Knox City, president of the National Cotton Ginners Association, and Mrs. Reed.

"I suggest that we could save more dollars by producing cotton cheaper than by selling it higher,"

Mr. Fleming said. "Cheaper production means greater income for the cotton grower and is advantageous for the national consumer and the taxpayer. Also, it is the best way to check and, if possible, reverse the losses of offtake to rayon, jute, paper and foreign-grown cotton."

The allotment program, he continued was a device to hold prices up by cutting production. "It prevents a man from converting his productive efforts from a fifth-of-a-bale-to-the-acre farm to a two-bale-to-the-acre farm, thus condemning him to high-cost production. By putting the emphasis on price, we have sacrificed the possibility of higher-yield and lower cost of production."

It may not be possible politically to wipe out the acreage allotment and marketing quota program overnight, he said. As a practical matter, removal of restriction may have to be gradual, synchronized with a reduction in our present cotton surplus. "But the intelligent people of the cotton states cannot afford to see their cotton production shackled indefinitely to production costs that are higher us on the Clarion were to learn that our principal in the newspaper field... might shut down. We were bad in Balesville and one of their favored out of town. Just hard times, of course the Bugle needs help now to survive. This paper is going to help a little money to help us over, and we hope other means will do the same. I seldom agreed with them over the years—but we want their competition to keep us on our toes. From where I sit, this country needs papers with different points of view—just as it needs people with different ideas and tastes. You may prefer iced tea as a hot-weather cooler... I generally choose a cold glass of beer. But if either of us couldn't express his opinion, and act on it, that would be "bad news" for the whole community.

"THY WORD IS TRUTH"

"Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth" (John 17:17). The Bible has much to say about truth. Never does it even hint at the popular idea that conflicting doctrines are all right, but contrarily, it exalts God's word as truth and plainly rejects all other teachings as erroneous. In no place does it pamper false teachings or false teachers.

TO BE SAVED IT IS NECESSARY THAT ONE OBEY THE TRUTH. Numerous things are done in the name of religion that are not taught in God's word. Obeying these things will not improve one's spiritual condition. I Peter 1:22 says "Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth..." Those who obey nothing and those who obey error are equally lost before God because neither has obeyed the truth. "But unto them that are contentious, and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, indignation and wrath" (Romans 2:8). "O foolish Galatians," Paul said, "Who hath bewitched you, that ye should not obey the truth?" (Galatians 3:1).

AFTER OBEYING THE TRUTH ONE MUST WALK IN THE TRUTH. Even the man who has obeyed the truth becomes lost when he ceases to walk in the truth. Paul severely rebuked brethren when he "saw that they walked not uprightly according to the truth of the gospel" (Galatians 2:14). John said "I have no greater joy than to hear that my children walk in truth" (3 John 4). James says that if a brother errs "from the truth" but is converted a soul is saved from death (James 5:19,20). This conclusively shows that brethren in Christ can stop walking in truth and thereby be lost.

MANY COULD BE SAVED IF THEY WOULD NOT RESIST THE TRUTH. Some state that they would not change if they knew they were wrong. Others obviously do not study the Bible to see whether these things are true. Many are openly prejudiced against the church. THESE THINGS WE SINCERELY REGRET. Yet we realize that some will always "resist the truth" (2 Timothy 3:8) and "turn away their ears from the truth" (2 Timothy 4:4).

Homecoming Fun, Shumaker Says

Paul Hoge, who was president of the Knox City Ex-Students Association for the 1955 homecoming, this week received the following letter from Charles Shumaker of Weatherford, who was principal speaker at the community homecoming service Sunday:

Dear Paul:

It is with sincere appreciation that I write to you, thanking you and your kind organization for the nice time we had in Knox City Saturday and Sunday.

It was indeed nice to see you and your family and all of the wonderful people of Knox City, and to be able to renew acquaintance with you all.

We would appreciate being placed on your mailing list for any and all future homecomings. Don't let this scare you, as we do not expect to be able to attend each of your homecomings. But we would like, when possible, to at least be able to come out and see you all.

Again thanking you for your many favors and the nice and enjoyable time we had in Knox City.

Very truly yours,
Charles S. Shumaker

SUPPORTING YOUR TOWN

Merchants who do not advertise are invited to read the following from the current issue of the American Bankers Magazine. It may give you a new slant on business, your own business, as well as the matter of building your town.

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space.

"A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business man."

NEW SANITATION STANDARDS IN EFFECT FOR WHEAT

Knox County farmers who put wheat under the 1955 price support program must be prepared to meet more specific standards of grain sanitation.

Under the revised program of the Food and Drug administration, wheat does not meet the minimum requirements for food if it contains more than two rodent pellets per pint, or comparable amounts of contamination, or contains two percent or more, by weight, of kernels visibly damaged by insects. Wheat not meeting these standards must be disposed of for non-food uses.

The same program based on minimum sanitation standards was in effect several years ago.

Most of the wheat that leaves Texas farms is clean grain—well above the standards, officials point out. The trouble lies with relatively few exceptions, resulting from careless handling and storage.

Farm-stored wheat offered as security for price-support loans will be sample-tested at regular intervals and at time of delivery to the CCC. Except for the question of resale eligibility, the new requirements do not apply to 1954 loan or purchase wheat. If last year's wheat does not make the standards, it is not eligible for resale but can be delivered to CCC under provisions of the 1954 loan and purchase agreement program.

Complete information on the revised sanitation program may be obtained from the county ASC office or from the county agricultural agent.

Miss Florence Jones and Miss Exa Faye Hutton of Pampa spent the week end with Miss Hutton's sister, Mrs. Ottis Cash, and family. Miss Hutton remained for a longer visit. She and Mrs. Kenneth P. Walters plan to enroll in the University of Colorado at Boulder later this month.

REAL "OLD-TIMERS" TO BE AT STAMFORD REUNION

Typical of the pioneers of the range who attend the annual Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford is Henry Record of Monument, N. M., president of the Texas Cowboy Reunion Association. He is 83 years old and has ranged continuously in Lea County, N. M., for 65 years.

Another pioneer from Monument, Bert Weir, at 71, competed last year in the old-time cowboys' calf roping at the reunion. He began roping more than a half century ago; won the world's championship steer roping in 1910. For almost 50 years he has served as mayor of Monument, which was named for his ranch.

Both Record and Weir are natives of Texas, the former having been born near Grand Prairie, the latter in Brady.

STREAMS in Desert Places

By Osella Stephens

The doctrine of Christ is most precious in his teachings of the parables on the mysteries of the Kingdom of Heaven. When he returned to Nazareth, still some rejected Him. He taught them in the Synagogues with such grace, wisdom and anointing until the people were astonished and said, "Whence hath this man this wisdom and these mighty works? ... Whence then hath this man all these things?"

Jesus is the same great teacher today, "the Master Teacher," a teacher come from God. He is waiting and longing for you and me to take time to wait before Him that He might teach us great and mighty things of His truths through the Holy Ghost. This comforter was sent to this earth by the Father that he might direct and empower us for service, for the Kingdom of heaven. He will guide you through many kinds of experiences and difficult circumstances. But be not dismayed nor never be discouraged for he has promised, "Lo, I am with you always." Trust Him NOW, He is waiting for you.

Don't argue with this baby!

All Chevrolet's competitors and most of the high-priced cars tried it recently in official NASCAR* trials—and took a licking!

Meat the champ! The new Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8"—the most modern V8 on the road today. Here's what happened—

Daytona Beach, NASCAR Acceleration Tests Over Measured Mile From Standing Start. Chevrolet captured the 4 top positions in its class! 8 of the first 11! And on a time basis Chevrolet beat every high-priced car, too—but one! But wait!—this is just the beginning!

Daytona Beach, NASCAR Straightaway Running. Open to cars delivered in Florida for $2,500 or less. Chevrolet captured the first two places, 7 out of the first 11 places!

Daytona Beach, NASCAR 2-Way Straightaway Running Over Measured Mile. Open to cars from 250 to 299 cu. in. displacement. Chevrolet captured 3 of the first 5 places!

Columbia, S. C. NASCAR 100-Mile Race on half-mile track. Very tight turns. Chevrolet finished first!

Fayetteville, N. C. NASCAR Late Model Event. Chevrolet again finished first. Because of even tighter turns the driver chose to run the entire 150 laps in second gear! Yet no overheating or pit stops!

These facts you can't laugh off. Sales leader. Road leader. A crowning achievement of Chevrolet and General Motors. Try a Chevrolet... and live in a land of going-away where you win all the arguments! Soon, maybe?

Richardson-Pearson—
The couple will live in Wichita Falls where the groom is employed.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of frost-white embroidered organdy, fashioned with a scooped neckline softened by a fold of self material. Tiny covered buttons extended down the back of the molded long-torso bodice. The formal length bouffant skirt was made of graduated ruffles bordered in a scalloped motif. Her shoulder length illusion veil was gathered to a head-band of white roses. She wore short white organdy gloves and carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.
