

CO-OP GIN RELEASES $12,603.25

Santa Claus arrived a little late for the stockholders of the Cotton Growers Co-operative Gin, but he made his appearance Tuesday when the directors ordered that twelve thousand dollars be distributed to the stockholders.

This amounts to $2.75 per bale, as they only ginned 4,413 bales as compared with 9,100 last year. This money arrived at a good time, as taxpaying time is here, and it is said that the majority of it will go for taxes or new automobiles.

Through the courtesy of Barney Arnold, manager, we are able to give the amount this gin has paid its stockholders since Arnold assumed charge in 1931. In 1931 the gin owed $30,000 and this was paid that year from the profits. They entered the year 1932 clear of debt. The following is the dividend paid each year up to and including the payment Tuesday: 1932, $6,600; 1933, $17,701; 1934, $1,329; 1935, $17,680.50; 1936, $18,125; 1937, 36,500; and 1938, $12,603.50. This makes a total of $112,538.75 that has been paid to the stockholders since the gin was cleared of debt. Enough money has been reserved this year from the profits to pay all taxes and make the necessary repairs. This is the largest amount that any cooperative gin in this section has paid. However the Co-Op Gin at O'Brien, managed by Sam Reed, will not have its directors meeting until some time in March. This gin has ginned 3,800 bales.

HERE FROM ANTON

Vernon Bridges and family of Anton were here the first of the week on business and visiting their parents. Vernon recently purchased a farm in that section and erected a modern farm home and other improvements. He recently purchased a four-row tractor with all the necessary equipment and is now ready to begin farming in earnest, since they have had more than two inches of rainfall in that section.

GILLILAND H-D CLUB

The Gilliland Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 4, at 3 o'clock in the school building with the president, Mrs. Orville Burgess, presiding.

After a short business meeting Miss Nina Astin, Home Demonstration Agent, gave a demonstration on "bed warming."

"From the standpoint of health it is important to have light weight, warm bedding," said Miss Astin. She also discussed points to consider in buying blankets. "Women should make it their business to know more about the quality of goods they buy and consider the conditions under which they are made," is a statement quoted from an article in Consumer's Guide which was made by Mrs. Roosevelt.

The next club meeting will be January 18, and the subject will be "Art Appreciation." at this time the club members will clean their club room to be used for future meetings.

The Knox City Hatchery has opened and is now ready for business. They have an ad in this issue of the Herald and if you are interested in raising poultry this season it will pay you to see Porter Lowery, the local manager.

BULLDOGS WIN TROPHY

The O'Brien Bulldogs competed in three strongly contested games last Saturday in Knox City's annual basketball tournament.

They defeated Goree, their first opponents, by a score of 22-30. At two o'clock Saturday afternoon, the O'Brien team battled Rule to a losing score of 21-28.

On Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, O'Brien had to meet Sunset, a much fresher team, in an exciting heart breaker. At the final whistle the score stood 29-29. An extra period of play was required to determine the winner. Sunset was fortunate in scoring a field goal a few seconds before the whistle sounded. O'Brien justly deserved the trophy awarded them for their enduring ability and sportsmanship.

The O'Brien boys expressed their appreciation to the Knox City hosts for their courtesy and consideration.

O'BRIEN VS SAGERTON

Friday night, January 6, the O'Brien volleyball girls defeated the Sagerton girls three consecutive games.

In basketball the O'Brien Bulldogs also proved victorious over Sagerton with the final score of 21-12. The Junior basketball boys won the third victory of the night when they defeated the Sagerton Junior boys by a score of 18-8.

O'BRIEN CAGE TOURNEY

The O'Brien Bulldogs will be hosts at the annual basketball tournament in the O'Brien gym January 13-14.

The Bulldogs, under Coach Jimmie Wyatt's training, have shown marked ability in other invitation tournaments of the season, and they will compete with some of the strongest teams in this section, beginning at 6 o'clock Friday evening, January 13.

The following teams have accepted the invitations: Rule, Avoca, Leuders, Sagerton, Benjamin, Rochester, Knox City, Truscott, Goree, Sunset and Bomarton.

Some thirty awards will be made to the competing teams in the form of trophies and individual medals.

SENATOR MOFFETT'S COMMITTEE ASSIGNMENTS

Senator George Moffett of this district has been appointed by Lieutenant Governor Coke Stevenson on the following committees: Chairman of the committee on Stock and Stock Raising and Vice-chairman of the committee on Constitutional Amendments. He is a member of committees as follows: Agriculture, Finance, Judicial Districts, Inter-state Co-Operation, Mining, Irrigation and Drainage, Nominations of Governor, Public Lands and Land Office and Rules. This speaks well for the Senator, as he is a new member of this body and you will note that he is on some important committees, especially Finance.

MILLION DOLLAR RAIN OVER CO.

Knox City and Knox County received a fair rain Sunday and Sunday night, amounting to three-fourths of an inch here, and in some parts of the county amounting to much more. It began raining Wednesday morning and fell for several hours which will amount to more than one inch since Sunday morning, and the prospects are good for more to follow. The rain has all soaked into the ground and the farmers are happy. Small grain will be benefited greatly and the farmers can now begin their plowing. The rain was general over all of West Texas, and at Crosbyton and other plains counties the measurement was more than two inches. Business will no doubt pick up and all the merchants, as well as farmers and cattlemen, are wearing smiles.

PENSION WAR LOOMS AS 46th. LEGISLATURE CONVENES IN AUSTIN

AUSTIN, Jan. 11. (CNS)—Texas lawmakers poured into Austin this week to Herald the 46th session of the Texas Legislature convening January 10 to face a foreboding old-age pension war involving some of the most vital problems in the history of Texas as the state government enters what has been forecast as a new era of management and organization.

Representative R. Emmett Morse of Houston was without opposition for speakership of the House, while both House and Senate busied themselves in routine organization awaiting the inauguration of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel next week before plunging into a four-month session of action-packed legislation.

First on the docket was Allred's message to the legislature. The governor indicated to the press last month the content of his message which stresses the pension problem in Texas and the need of an additional $2,000,000 annually to provide adequately for the aged needy.

Early reports indicate that the O'Daniel pension plan will be a target for the most fervent firing during the opening weeks of the session. Three plans for raising the money have received recognition by capitol observers. The sales tax has attracted wide attention throughout the state, and is likely to draw much wrangling among legislators. A proposed oil levy involving a 5 to 9 cent per barrel tax will very likely be proposed, although opposition may be strong. A "transactions tax" which is even more drastic than the sales tax, will probably gain considerable attention. The tax would be eight tenths of one per cent on all transactions except wages, first sale on agricultural products, street railway and municipal busses, and newspaper income.

Pension extremists have been organizing under Senator Doos Hardin and Rep. Ross Hardin, whose drive has been taken to the radio in an effort to collect membership fees to boost the cause. Bolstering the conservative side of the fence will also be numerous groups of lawmakers, early arrivals at the capitol have indicated.

Government reorganization proposals, promised by Governor O'Daniel in his gubernatorial race and strongly urged by State Auditor Tom King, should take considerable time from the 120-day session in Austin.

Multitudes of minor bills will flood the new session, leading which will be a proposal to move the state board of pardons from Austin to Huntsville

HIGH SCHOOL BAND WILL ATTEND INAUGURATION OF NEW GOVERNOR

FELLOWSHIP MEETING

A group of churches in this section met with the Knox City Christian church on Tuesday night in a general fellowship meeting. Haskell, Stamford and Rule each sent a delegation. Truscott and Benjamin would have been represented had it not been that the driveway across the Brazos had been washed out by the recent rain, making it inconvenient for them to reach here.

Rev. Russell Coatney, pastor of the Haskell church, spoke on the work of these churches in the last six months and of prospects of accomplishments within the next few months. Two outstanding undertakings mentioned were the recently completed building at Benjamin and the one now under construction at Stamford.

Rev. Albert Jones, minister of the Stamford church, spoke of their efforts to erect a house suitable for their needs. The churches of this district voted in convention this fall to make the completion of the Stamford building a project for district sponsorship. It is expected that all congregations in the district help financially in the undertaking.

The next meeting of this kind will be held in April with the Haskell church.

Lloyd Davis, one of the original W. Lee O'Daniel supporters, was busy yesterday soliciting funds to carry the Knox City High School Band to the inaugural at Austin next Tuesday. Last night sixty dollars had been secured and they hope to have the amount necessary by Saturday night. It is planned to charter one large bus and transport the entire band in one body. It is said that more than three hundred bands will be present for this occasion. If you have not already donated to this fund see one of the committee and hand in your donation. It is said that they will leave here Monday morning and return home Wednesday. State Superintendent Woods has declared a full holiday over the state in order that the children may attend.

SPORTSMANSHIP

The past week at school has been filled with various and sundry activities in the way of sports and athletic abilities. Our gym had its fill of thrills in the way of amazing and spectacular athletic ability. We, as fans, had our money's worth as we witnessed these games of speed and skill. We were truly satisfied. However, the greatest skill was not displayed on the gym floor in the game of action, it was on good sportsmanship that we excelled.

Good sportsmanship is one of the school's ideals. Showing good will toward neighboring towns is one of our major purposes, and it will continue to be such. We have won a distinction for ourselves and for our town by showing good comradeship toward our opponents. We are proud of that renown. We have established it to serve us forever. It is now up to the student body to keep the high standard of sportsmanship up to the highest peak of attainment.

Can we truly say what the word sportsmanship means? To uphold standards in various games is an asset that any true sportsman ardently admires. But there is another field that we can establish a feeling of sportsmanship in. That field for exploitation is to be found in the lives of every one of us. As the days pass on, we find occasion to use, more and more a feeling of good will toward each other.

Now and then, a fellow man of ours makes a vital or perhaps an insignificant mistake. We are then more or less inclined to jeer, criticize, and hold this person up for the rest of the world to see and jibe him in ridicule or bitter satiric contempt. We are more inclined to notice the mistakes and shortcomings of our fellow man than to notice our own. If we only had the foresight to look upon ourselves and review the faults we have gone through before we learned by experience to do better, we might try to help the distressed instead of adding to their misery.

So let us try to be better sports in the future, not only to the extent of excelling on the field of athletics, but in our attitude toward our fellow man. Let us lend a helping hand when he is down. Let us give him a word of encouragement. Pass along a kind word to the depressed. Then the world will roll along in a mood not so pessimistic. Then a higher spirit of mind and level of thought can be obtained to form a much-sought-after Utopia.

Prostate Sufferers

An enlarged, inflamed or faulty prostate gland very often causes Lame Back, Frequent Night Rising, Leg Pains, Pain in Urine, Loss of Vigor, Nervousness, Etc. Many physicians endorse treatment as a safe and effective treatment. (See Bulletin from Book of the Medical Section, Vol. VII, 1922 edition.) Write "PROSTATE" a new invention which enables any man to massage his prostate gland in the privacy of his home. It often brings relief with the first treatment and must help as it does you nothing. The entire school is very proud of this record, and each class is going to try to do as well in the oncoming months.

BOOKKEEPING CLASS

There are nineteen members in the present Bookkeeping class of Knox City High School, and it is an unusually large one. Mr. Dodgen is the teacher, and he reports that the class has been turning in some exceptional work.

The class has been studying journalism, cash books, and accounts. There is practically no outside work to this subject, all the work being accomplished during the class period. This class extends over two forty-five minute periods and affords plenty of time for the students to do their work.

Bookkeeping has many advantages as a study for the high school boy and girl. It gives them a good foundation for further study of business and its various relations. The school is proud of being qualified to offer this subject to the student body.

KNOX CITY WINS CONSOLATION

For the first time in the history of the Knox City High School's annual Basketball Tournament, the Knox City boys were the proud possessors of one of the trophies offered. In the presentation Saturday night Superintendent Whitis presented the boys with the Consolation trophy after the slaughtering defeat of Truscott in the finals.

Breezing through the Consolation brackets after giving fans one of the most exciting games of the tournament to lose by four points to a much favored Goree team, the Knox City Greyhounds slackened to barely eke out a victory over Seymour but returned to win over Truscott by a score of 43 to 16. The Goree vs. Knox City game was exciting throughout and up until the O'Brien vs.

SUNSET WINS TOURNAMENT

The heated contest between Sunset and O'Brien marked the close of the Knox City Invitational Basketball tournament for 1939 in a most successful manner. Tied at the end of the game at 29 all, the extra period resulted in one field goal for Sunset and the ball game. The toll of having to enter the tournament late and play three games on Saturday only served, it seemed to spectators, to inspire the team to new heights.

While Knox City was breezing through the Consolation bracket both O'Brien and Sunset were alternately contested breathers and closely contested games. In O'Brien's opening game Knox City's neighbors thoroughly trounced the tournament favorites, Goree, who had defeated Knox City in the opener. O'Brien even played their reserves most of the contest. Sunset in turn met a lustrous Munday team and weak Rochester team to breeze to the finals. O'Brien was unfortunately in the stronger bracket and had the strongest opposition; however, next to Goree Sunset had the next coveted position.

In the finals Knox City met Truscott for the consolation finals and Sunset met O'Brien. The game was a hot and tuck throughout, with the lead alternating between the teams. The game showed the superiority of Shannon of Sunset and Peaves of O'Brien over the rest of their teammates. They were by far the outstanding men of the tournament.

Bobby Anala was the officiating official of the entire tournament.

LAUGHING AROUND THE WORLD

With IRVIN S. COBB

One Old English Merit Respect

By IRVIN S. COBB

AS I have several times stated in offering a veteran yarn for this symposium—and now repeat—antiquity should be no bar to a story.

At a certain theatrical hotel a vaudeville performer was stopping. He was the owner of a troupe of performing fleas. One evening, at dinner, he was telling his fellow-lodgers how he went about the job of training his tiny pets. To demonstrate, he cleared a space on the table, took one of his fleas, while he called Henry, an especially intelligent and gifted insect, out of a small box, and proceeded to put the lively little chap through his paces.

"Hop East!" he commanded, and the flea hopped.

"Hop West!" The flea obeyed.

"Forward!" The flea marched.

"Face about!" And the flea whirled into the air to execute the command. But one of the lady boarders, in the intensity of her interest, was bending close and the flea landed in her hair and was instantly lost from view.

Confusion followed. After much searching the lady produced the truant and the performance was resumed.

"Hop East!" the man commanded but the flea refused to move.

"Henry! Hop East!" The flea remained stationary. Surprised, the owner leaned over and scrutinized the performer more closely. Then, sitting up with a start and staring at the lady, he said in a stern, accusing voice:

"Madam, there has been a mistake—this is not my Henry!"

BIRTH OF A SONG

From ASCAP Files
By Joseph R. Fiesler and Paul Carruth

Jack Brennan was born in San Francisco and raised on his father's ranch in the foothills of the Sierras. His nights were full of the romance and poetry of his Irish forebears.

But life was practical, and at nineteen Jack became cattle buyer for Paige and Morton. On the long drives back from the Mexican border he wrote poems.

Then came the call of the Yukon, the Nome Rush of 1900, and for four years Jack tried to find gold, failed, and worked his way to Chicago—broke.

He spent his last fifteen cents at the rate of five cents a day for a glass of beer and free lunch. He became a cafe singer as a result of a request to sing "My Hero" from "The Chocolate Soldier."

He wrote "A Little Bit of Heaven" to be recited. The late Ernest Ball chanced to hear the lyric, felt it would make a popular song, and set it to music.

Thus was formed a partnership that lasted for over three hundred songs and many stage productions. When Ball passed away, Brennan wrote with other composers.

Brennan has been a member of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers for nearly a quarter of a century, and thus his many creations are in the repertoire of ASCAP, available to the licensed establishments which perform music for profit.

Hectic Weather Brings Humor, Tragedy to WTU Linemen In Maintaining Flow

ABILENE, Jan. 10.—Freakish weather in 1938 dealt much misery to line and service men of the West Texas Utilities Company throughout West Texas, records in the general office here show. Although death and destruction, as well as humorous happenings occurred along the company's network of transmission lines, few interruptions of electric service were recorded.

Tornadoes, floods, wind, snow, sleet, and auto accidents all contributed to the woes of the linemen whose job it is to maintain service in the face of overwhelming odds.

Greatest toll of life and property was at Clyde where a tornado struck at dusk on June 10, claiming 14 lives and destroying 22 homes. WTU's 2,300-volt distribution line in the storm's center was left a mass of wreckage. The company's emergency crew and truck was among the first of rescuers to reach the scene. Lights were restored in the stricken town within 32 minutes after the tornado struck.

Earlier in the year a similar tornado struck at Mertzon, west of San Angelo, about 3 o'clock in the morning. The San Angelo Standard-Times quoted Mrs. John P. Lee of near-by Tankersly, from whose home news of the tragedy was first telephoned to the outside world, as saying:

"I want to say a good word for the West Texas Utilities Company. We appreciate them out here in the country. They got to Mertzon before anyone. The first crew sized up the situation, telephoned back for what was needed and we had lights and power on again in a very few hours."

The San Angelo paper also cites an example of damage done to power lines. "The electric light pole at the corner of the West Texas Wool and Mohair Association's headquarters, instead of being broken in two like many others, was twisted and whirled apart leaving a stump four or five feet high that but for its size looked like a chewed toothpick."

The year's worst bizzard early last April led the Donley County Leader of Clarendon to comment:

"The patron may be resting snugly in a warm bed at the very time a WTU employe is freezing atop a high pole, depending upon rubber gloves alone to preserve life. It's all in a day's work, but how much the patron should thank those who maintain the service at all costs!"

Flood waters in the Hill Country last July, which took a toll of life and property from West Texas to the Gulf of Mexico despite the flood control claims for Buchanan Dam, disrupted transportation and communication lines but did not interrupt electric service in the hard-hit towns of Junction and Menard, served by WTU.

Rampaging waters inundated the Brady municipal light plant on the night of July 23. WTU linemen rushed emergency construction of highlines to connect the city's distribution system with the company's 33,000-volt transmission line. "Juice" flowed throughout the city again at 4 P. M. on July 24. The company continued to serve Brady until August 4 when the municipal plant had been "dried out".

Although water reached a depth of six feet in the WTU sub-station at Menard, service was not interrupted.

Of minor importance were numerous other incidents. The cow-in-cellar accident that happened at Quanah last September is doomed to become a legend among WTU linemen. A cave-in, as she stood peacefully chewing her cud atop the cellar, dropped her unceremoniously into the depths midst a stock of crockery and fruit jars. Line foreman D. R. Wells and his crew were rushed to the scene where a winch on his truck succeeded in rescuing the frightened bovine.

Near Quanah, also, a bolt of lightning struck a highline, flattening six poles in a row, skipping two, and then toppling over two more. On a highway near Vernon a gravel truck ran wild, rammed into a power line pole, and then crumpled up in a barrel pit far beyond—all without injury to the driver. The pole, however, was snapped off in two places—at the ground and just below the crossarm held taut by the wires. A transformer was shattered.

Last February a snub-nosed little army plane arrived at the Abilene airport on a day following heavy rains. The pilot missed the run-way a few feet, setting her down on soggy soil. Mud gripped the wheels like a clamp and head over heels went the plane. The pilot was unhurt. A WTU line crew answered a first aid call to right the ship, using winch and man power.

More evidence that the elements must be thwarted in order to render constant, efficient electric service was seen at the big WTU power plant in San Angelo where for years a southwest wind has blown watery beads of chemically treated water from a spray pond onto sensitive insulators at the sub-station, causing occasional flash-over short circuits. Last spring the company was forced to erect a huge protective wall, 80 feet wide and 40 feet high, between the sub-station and the spray pond.

"These are a few of the problems and obstacles we meet each year," says Price Campbell, president of the pioneer concern which now is beginning its 28th year in West Texas. "Operating conditions, as a rule, are favorable because West Texas has excellent year-round temperate climate. However, freakish weather can be expected anywhere. When it does happen, we do our best to maintain service at all costs during a time when it is needed most."

The Knox City Lions Club has agreed to sponsor the annual Knox County Calf Show which will be held here during the latter part of February. This show was first held in Knox City three years ago and has grown rapidly. Last year it was held in Munday and large crowds attended and valuable prizes were given the boys. A committee has been appointed to solicit funds to help finance the project.

On account of the rains this week the false bridge across the Brazos river washed out and traffic was detoured via Rhine-land for two days. Wednesday morning the Highway Department at Austin made arrangements with the contractors of the new bridge for traffic to pass over it for a few days. The new bridge is almost completed with the exception of painting, but the contractor says it will probably be forty days before it will be turned over to the state. The Herald was not informed if the false bridge is to be rebuilt.

The Hardin Twins, Ross and Doss, have taken to the air in their fight for old-age pension expansion about where O'Daniel left off last July when he swept into office on the pensions platform. The legislative twins, Ross in the House and Doss in the Senate, have set themselves up as spokesmen for the new governor in the pensions fight, since the governor has refused to designate spokesmen in either legislative branch. The Hardin appeal has been largely for membership in their Old Age Pensions Bureau, starting at $2 per membership, but later dropping to 25 cents. To date neither the governor nor the Hardin twins have pointed out where the pension money is going to come from.

The best check the taxpayers of Texas have on their duly elected officers is the publication of the official proceedings of such officers in the newspapers. Many states have such publication laws and government is benefited greatly by this arrangement. The cost is small and the taxpayers are more than willing to pay it in order to get the information, in addition to being entitled to it. Without the publication of the proceedings of our spending officers, the people have no knowledge and therefore no check. The necessity of publication itself has a wholesome influence on officials and expenditures, more than saving the cost of giving information to all readers. This also discourages unauthorized spending and has a tendency of keeping officers who overstep their authority within lawful bounds.

When State Senator Houghton Brownlee of Austin read reports in the press last week that the U. S. Supreme Court had ruled negroes may attend the University of Missouri law school, he became concerned. Here at home Regents faced the problem of selecting a president for the University of Texas. Early this month the Associated Press had reported Dr. L. H. Gulick of the Columbia University as the likely choice. After the Regents met 10 days ago, however, International News Service said it had learned on reliable authority that Gulick was not available, that Dr. Homer Rainey, a Texan who is director of the American Youth Commission, was the leading candidate. The Missouri negro case was not a pleasant thing to contemplate. The senator could not be sure so he wired Regent H. J. Luther Stark: "I, as a state senator, protest appointment of any Yankee as president of the University of Texas. We have plenty of Southern talent capable of filling the position whose sympathies and breeding conform to Southern ideals and traditions."

100,000 TO WELCOME O'DANIEL TO OFFICE AT GALA HOMECOMING

Enveloped in the gayest festivity ever accorded an incoming governor of Texas, Governor-elect O'Daniel will take the oath of office January 17 while an anticipated 100,000 visitors gather in Austin to participate in "Homecoming" merrymaking of the common citizens.

Banners, flags, pennants, streamers of multi-colored lights studding a twelve block approach to the state capitol, scores of bands, and throngs of dancers will transform the entire city into an emblazoned replica of movie-screen triumph to climax the record-smashing victory that swept O'Daniel into office in the state primary in July.

A huge curved neon sign flashing "Welcome Gov. O'Daniel" will span the entrance to the capitol grounds. The governor's portrait has been processed on cloth banners for use as a centerpiece in each decorative unit in the business section. Two blocks of Congress Avenue north of the capitol will be roped off and decorated for dancing on the night of January 17.

Plans have gone forward to hold the inauguration ceremonies for O'Daniel and Coke Stevenson, lieutenant governor-elect, who takes oath of office with the new governor, in the Texas Memorial Stadium, if the weather permits, to accommodate the huge crowd. Local hotel managers report that reservation requests have already exceeded their capacities; and rooms in private homes, rooming houses, and vacant apartments will be utilized for visitor's use.

The mid-day inaugural ceremonies will be followed by a series of Austin-planned receptions for the new state officials.

Amos and Andy, at the beginning of a new year with their sponsors, asked their admirers to go out the next day and buy three cans of their sponsor's products. They were asked to do that to help a couple of gents who probably already are quite rich. I wouldn't have the nerve to do that. In fact, I'd have too much pride to do that. Those of us who have had experience out on the country press won't beg or whimper for business. If you want to have a right good fight tell a country editor you'll buy some advertising space in his paper "just to help him out". He'll tell you where you can go; that he's no beggar. But I notice the begging attitude creeping into the advertising game. It's disgusting. The institution where this paper is produced supports several families. That's something to brag about in these tight times. But we don't get our business by begging and whimpering. We have a feeling that real service is what brings business in here. And that, after all, is the only real basis of successful business. But once in a while we have an experience just like you've had at times. We have to go out and spend money with firms who've never spent a cent with us, and it gives us the all-overs. Our thoughts then run in asterisks and dots and dashes. They could not be spelled out. Once in a while this sheet takes up the cudgel for a group, or renders a favor to an individual, and finds no favors returned. But that's all right. It's a part of life and we don't mind it. You see, even Coster-Musica was listed in Who's Who. And all along every street of life one can find cheap skates. All you can do is just list 'em in your book, and go on smiling. But there are lots of fine people in this world with whom one can do business, and that's what saves the situation. It's a nice little world for those who help with the pushing, although at times it does look like the hitch-hiker has the most fun.—Pink Rag.

SENIORS BEGIN WORK ON ANNUAL

The Seniors are having a busy week making preparation to begin the production of an annual. The Editor-in-Chief is Mamie Tankersley. She has her super-salesmen working early and late, trying to bring advance sales up to the point where it would be profitable to begin production of the annuals.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

The Fish all have their heads bent into their books, because those hard mid-term exams are here at last. They won't have to attend school Thursday, because they have no exams.

The Juniors have been occupied of late preparing for mid-term exams. Upon going into extensive research work, the class realizes that it has been a mighty long time since school started. They have also been busy with the preparation of note-books, which proved to be no small job. The class has studied hard this half, but it remains to be seen whether they have learned anything or not.

The Juniors are very sorry that they will lose their sponsor, Miss Lois Spraggins, after mid-term. She is to be married in the near future and the class wishes her all the success and happiness in the world. She has made a good sponsor and we hate to lose her.

There comes a time in the life of every person when a feeling of deep sadness and melancholy envelopes all else in their mind. We are sorry to say that the Seniors have that age-old feeling when they think of mid-term exams. It seems that mid-term has completely slipped up on us and there is nothing we can do about it.

Due to the fact that Nettie Griffith is graduating at mid-term, the Seniors had to elect a new class treasurer last week. Mary Herring was elected for this job and H. D. Matthews was made class reporter. We hope the Seniors will not be too harsh in dealing with the poor efforts of the new reporter.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

The Sophomores have reached the point where they don't know which way to turn. They don't want to study, yet they realize they have to before they can pass the mid-term exams.

The Food II girls have had fun in class this past week. They have been studying reporting, and criticizing the modern world. The "Emily Post Etiquette" was the source of study, therefore the girls readily took heed to what was said. One of the girls brought to class a list of "Do's and Do Not's About Dating" and a lot of things men dislike in women.

The Sophomores regret very much losing their sponsor, Mr. W. C. Kimbrough. He is taking leave this Friday to go to work in his grocery store at Knox City. He has been a good sponsor as well as a good teacher of World History and Algebra to the Sophomores.

SENIOR BASKETBALL

The Sunset Eagles entered an invitation tournament at Knox City Thursday of last week. They got off to a flying start Thursday night with a victory over the Benjamin Mustangs by a score of 43-16.

The second game of the Sunset team was on Friday night with the Munday Moguls. The game was very interesting, although the game ended with the one-sided score of 26-7 in favor of Sunset.

On Saturday evening Sunset went up against the team of Rochester. This victory, with a final score of 34-23, took the Eagles to the final against O'Brien. This was a very hard-fought game, the score being tied when the final whistle sounded. An extra period was played and Sunset made a field goal which gave them the victory.

As winner of the tournament, the Sunset team received a beautiful trophy that they can well be proud of. Sunset sincerely thanks Knox City for the invitations to the three tournaments they have given during the last three years. Sunset has won two of these tournaments and deeply appreciates the hospitality of Knox City.

JUNIOR BOYS ENTERTAINED

On January 2 the Junior basketball boys were guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Underwood. After a splendid feast the boys enjoyed a half hour of games. When the games were over the boys were taken to Munday to enjoy the picture, "Listen Darling." They all had a splendid time and wish to express their sincere appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Underwood.

RAIN

After a thorough search for negative replies, it was found that everyone welcomed the rain which fell Saturday night and Sunday. It was reported that Benjamin had about two inches. We now see all the farmers with broad smiles instead of that worried look.

Some of the students, however, have a vague look on their faces. This is mid-term examination week and the students are worrying about what condition they will be in after the exams.

P. T. A. MEETS

The Parent-Teacher Association met last Thursday. The group was entertained with a speech by the new County Superintendent, Merick McCaughey. In addition to this a playlet was presented by a group of high school students.

SENIOR REPORT

The Seniors are seldom seen unless they are studying, with mid-term so near, and they hardly know what to expect next.

The class has selected its play, which will be presented on January 27. The play is entitled "Fingerprints" and is very typical of this part of the country, as it deals with ranch life. Most of the characters have been selected, and as soon as exams are over the seniors will start practicing on the interesting play.

JUNIOR NEWS

part of the week getting their semester notebooks in order and studying for the mid-term exams. The exams were "wow" to some of us, and the latter part of the week found us chewing our pencils and frowning at incomplete papers.

We hope to start the next semester off with a ripple big enough to carry us over to the summer vacation.

The Sophomores threw their interest wholeheartedly into their work Monday morning, getting ready for mid-term exams. They find that Algebra requires a lot of concentration, but they are gradually learning the fundamentals of the subject.

A TOAST TO THE FIRST GRADE

Friday morning the first grade entertained with the most unusual and inspiring chapel program of the year when little Joardis Burnett, in her shining white satin frock suit, portrayed Alexander and swung her rhythm band into the lively tempo of "Alexander's Ragtime Band." Each member of the rhythm band, which is composed solely of the first grade, was dressed in contrast to their leader. It was indeed a sensation, and upon popular demand for a reappearance this famous band has consented to a return engagement on the night of the Senior play "Fingerprints," which will be Friday night, January 27. The rhythm band will perform promptly at 7:30, and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

CHRISTIAN CHURCHES

After our fine rain bringing promise of material blessings we are all thoughtfully grateful unto God for all His blessings. How fitting then that we should repair to our houses of worship on the Lord's Day to render thanks and to worship Him in spirit and truth. We should like to extend to all we do not have some other place where they worship regularly a warm welcome to worship with us. Our hours of service for next Sunday are: preaching at Knox City at 9:45 A. M. and 7:00 P. M. and preaching at Benjamin at 11:15 A. I. Bible School will follow the worship service at Knox City and precede it at Benjamin Christian Endeavor at both places in the evening.

NATIONAL TRUCK WEEK

DETROIT, Jan. 7.—As the world's largest producer not only of passenger cars but of trucks, Chevrolet is taking the initiative this month in a move designed to focus interest of commercial vehicle users on their transportation needs. The program will take the form of National Truck Week, Jan. 14-20, plans for which are being worked out by W. E. Fish, general manager of the division.

The company's entire organization, wholesale and retail, will be enlisted in the campaign Mr. Fish said. Details of the operation were worked here Dec. 20, at a meeting of regional truck managers, representing the wholesale organization from coast to coast. These men carried back to the field the outline of the various promotional activities and material which will be distributed to all Chevrolet dealers and salesmen.

"During a period of depression, truck operators, like passenger car owners, naturally tended to neglect the matter of replacement. Trucks that in conformity to Southern local times would have given to more efficient units continued in service, frequently without adequate maintenance work. The result is a very extensive replacement market now exists at the time when most indications point to a general business upturn."

Obituaries, cards of thanks, lodge meetings, etc., are charged for at regular advertising rates, which will be furnished upon application.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS
 By Boyce House
 Profound bit of philosophy to start the day off right: "Big fleas have little fleas that bite 'em; And so on—ad-in-fini-tum."

Seldom is a candidate's statesmanlike grasp of important matters so swiftly justified by the logic of events as has been the case with Judge Ralph Yarborough. Last spring when Judge Yarborough opened his campaign for Attorney General, he told of the iron industry that flourished near Rusk a generation ago and how it was crushed by monopolistic forces. Just the other day, a meeting of East Texas leaders was held and it would not be surprising to see that industry revived soon.

Chewing tobacco is something so essentially masculine that we never thought to see it touched by effeminacy. But the other day in crossroads grocery, there was a box of "chewing"—and each plug was wrapped in cellophane! Time marches on.

 Another favorite story: A negro was being pursued by a darkey who was armed with a razor. The wife of the pursued asked, "Wherefore is you runnin'?" He galloped around the block and as he breezed by he yelled, "Don't stand there in idle conversation; have that front gate open de next time I comes by."

Second hand book stores are as fascinating to many people as grog shops are to a sot. Recently I found a prize in the Arcadia Book Shop on Elm Street in Dallas, which a long-time friend, Gene Wagner, runs. It was a 24-year old magazine containing the original printing of one of O. Henry's stories. It was one of his best, the one on which the play, "Alias Jimmy Valentine" was based. O. Henry enthusiasts will be interested to learn that the tale—entitled "A Retrieved Reformation" in the complete editions—originally had the quaint sounding title, "A Retrieved Reform."

Biggest find I've ever made though was a copy of "Myself—to Date" by Irvin S. Cobb. The book deals with the famous short story writer's days as a reporter and it was autographed. The dealer asked twenty-five cents, which was cheerfully paid. Money is no object to a book collector.

Incidentally, this chronicler worked on a newspaper in Memphis, Tenn., with Cobb's younger brother—as small and skinny as Irvin is big and fat, but alike in that each has a sense of humor. Ludicrous, intentional mispronunciation was the younger Cobb's specialty. "Was Zilch in the World War?" someone asked.

Cobb answered, "Was he in the World War? Why, he was decorated for bravery by the French government; They gave him the Croix de Gooks"—(Croix de Guerre).

And my uncle, who was in the Spanish-American War, always boasted that he was where the bullets were thickest—under the ammunition wagon.

Tom Cooper, Lindale editor and former legislator, has a gift for memorizing. He knows a poem, 21 stanzas long, dealing with the Hoover administration. Former Senator Bob Stuart of Fort Worth can quote a poem, nearly as lengthy, supposed to have been a speech by a one-time member of the House from Cass County. These 'pomes' can not be reproduced here on account of space limitations.

Anyone who has lost a close friend will read with emotion these beautiful lines from 'Trail Dust,' Douglas Meador's column in the Matador Tribune: "Sometimes when my heart hurts with a particular loneliness for his voice, I can almost hear the jingle of his spurs and the hoof-beats of his sorrel pony; his saddle leather a-popping. If the night is clear and frosty, that thin, silver dust is perhaps his course, chasing a bawling calf back to the herd on the flats of the Milky way."

LIFE

As I tread along the high-ways and byways of the world, I am eagerly searching for a more enlightened and rational understanding of this perplexing subject called Life.

In my youth, life appeared on the horizon bedecked in bright garlands. It looked to me then as a glorious and beautiful adventure.

As the years rolled by, I found out that the rosy hue and the dream of endless bliss were an illusion, a tempting mirage, all created by my youthful fancy, buoyant nature and enthusiasm for life, its thrills and fun. Now, in more mature years, I find life is a mixture of lurching aspirations, hopes, joys, pains, powers, pleasures, sickness, failures, tragedies and shattered ambitions and ideals.

Life is a persistent, relentless struggle between ease and want and between achievement and despair.

LIFE AND ITS INEVITABLE REALITY APPALLS ME!

Perhaps life could be made easier, bearable and sweeter if it were not for the two monstrous enemies: a cruel and indifferent world and the selfish greedy and hateful human nature.

Life has dealt me many hard knocks and some terrific blows but also has given me some precious blessings.

I am grateful for the few blessings, but the unfulfilled aspirations and dreams and disappointments I charge to errors in my judgement, to unfortunate mistakes in my action and omission, lack of foresight and vision and to certain unkind circumstances.

The sum total of the latter proved to be an overwhelming personal loss and experience of far reaching consequences.

My own experience taught me that I should regard life as a vexatious problem that needs a constant and eternal vigilance.

Lastly, wisdom also taught me that I should judiciously evaluate the motives and conduct in human relations.

I must say that life, with all its conflicts and uncertainties, its beauty and ugliness, its glory and despair, is worth living.

—Fredric B. Acosta, in SUPREME COUNCIL, (Contributed by J. A. Wilson.)

 By TOM FIZDALE

The Christmas season has certainly taken on a wider meaning since the advent of radio, and those unfortunate enough to be without a set are going to miss one of the most beautiful of the year's great air offerings. For example, special Yuletide programs already scheduled for this year include Christmas messages from King George VI and President Roosevelt; international pick-ups from Bethlehem, France, England, Italy, Switzerland and other countries; impressive religious services; opera broadcasts, dramas, community sings, and numerous other holiday broadcasts both from home and abroad. Christmas today takes on a greater beauty than at any time in the past.

One of the most constant long-distance marriages among the stars is that of lovely Dorothy Lamour and handsome, six-foot orchestra leader, Herbie Kay. Most of the time a continent, or a good hunk of it, divides them, but they continue on their respective careers, top-rankers in their own right, and remain happily married.

Those Arkansas back-woods boys seem to do all right in the show business. Bob Burns, Dick Powell and Lum and Abner are a quartet whom you'll recall. Incidentally, Powell hadn't even seen a train until he got out of his home county. No railroad runs through there, even today.

Queen of the Queen City. That's the title just conferred on Arlene (Babs) Johnson, named the most beautiful radio artist of Cincinnati. She's the Babs of those Smoothies—Charlie and Little Johnson and Babs—heard on Vocal Varieties via NBC.

Incidentally, speaking of Cincinnati, have you noticed how many network shows are originating there now? In addition to the above mentioned, Avalon Time, with Red Foley and top-name guest artists, and Plantation Party, which is switching from Mutual to NBC, are two more top offerings among many coming from the Queen City. Who said radio is confined to the two coasts?

We said a few weeks ago that about all we needed to confirm the idea that the radio migration season was on was to have Jack Benny move to New York for awhile and Tommy Riggs to go to the coast. Well, Benny is in Gotham and Tommy is slated to go west the first of the year. Maybe we've been giving them ideas.

You'll be able to give Parkyakarkus derbies for Christmas this year—that is, in toy form. A manufacturer is putting out a line of comic gray derbies with Parkyakarkus' face on the crown.

Side Glances: Orson Welles looking over Christmas card samples, spreading them out on the floor for comparison. Betty Cain, network actress, explaining to three out-of-town visitors that she is NOT Kathryn Hepburn. Donald Novis, Fibber McGee's tenor, sitting for some new portraits while Fibber kibitzes on how he really should pose for greatest effect.

The first world-wide religious revival meeting of all denominations will be held at the World's Fair in San Francisco next year with Dr. Charles E. Fuller, radio's Old Fashion Revival Hour pastor, in charge.

PICTURE HIGHLIGHTS

Censored Cartoons—Surprisingly enough, there are many things of which movie cartoonists must be wary, according to an exposure in the latest Look of what can and cannot be shown in an animated cartoon.

Sees Upside Down—A defect in the eyesight of Richard Kenealy of Berwyn, Ill., makes him see moving objects upside down. Here's what Dick sees when he plays football with his pals.

Bow and Arrow Fishing—Loxat Walton's pastime looks like archery on Lake Elizabeth, which lies across the Illinois-Wisconsin line. This 20 pound carp has just been hit by the archer-fisherman.

Goes Pro, But—Don Budge has turned professional, but Look says he hates to do it, and tells why Tennis champ says giving up his amateur standing involves many sacrifices.

Group Medicine Coming?—Yes, say many societies now battling the American Medical Association. Current Look magazine presents the story of the fight for better, and less expensive and more medical service.

It takes a "counter-irritant" like good old Musterole—soothing, warming, penetrating and helpful in drawing out the local congestion and pain when rubbed on the aching spots. KNOX CITY WINS OVER ROCHESTER

On Tuesday night of last week the girls volleyball team played Rochester in the Knox City gym. This was the first game Knox City had played in several weeks, but the girls were in exceptional condition.

In the first game the Knox City girls stayed in the lead all the time and the game ended with a score of 15-1. However, in the second game it seemed the girls were too confident of success, and lost to the visitors to the tune of 15-5. In the third and final game, the girls played with the determination to uphold the laurels of K. C. H. S. and won the game by a score of 15-6.

This was what the girls had been working for and they are expecting to be victorious in every remaining game. —kch
