Lesson Text St. Luke 5th Chapter

(Jesus Begins the Work of World Redemption)

For the promise is unto you and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call. And we are His Witnesses of these things and so also is the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey Him. Acts 2:39, 5:32.

It now became necessary for Jesus to have a number of trustworthy companions, who should become witnesses of all that He said and did and to receive and execute His instructions, precepts and teachings. He begins to call them and at the same time to perform such miracles as would not only astonish them, but would impress them so having the power that only God could bestow. A great multitude was pressing upon Him to hear His gracious words or perhaps to be healed of some disease otherwise incurable. So eager were his hearers to be near Him that it was necessary for Him to teach them from a ship and that circumstances afforded Him an opportunity to perform one of His great miracles which established the faith of Simon, James and John who were soon to forsake all and become witnesses for Him and to prepare a testimony that should stand through the ages and bring men into companionship with the Saviour and cause them to know and to do the will of the Heavenly Father. They were hensforth to be fishers of men, their nets were thrust aside in their eagerness to become disciples of one who now become an intercessor between God and man. It is noteworthy that Jesus always gave reward to the evidence of faith. The scriptures had elsewhere declared that "without faith it was impossible to please God" for those who seek Him must believe that He is and that He is a rewarder of those who diligently seek Him. So the example of the leper is given here in this chapter for our benefit to help establish such faith as will stand all adversities, disappointments, defeats, discomforts, afflictions, etc. True faith, or our inner life with God, is that which enables us to lay hold on the promise and to enjoy the things that enter within the veil, a hope both sure and steadfast as an anchor to the soul. And so with the man taken with the palsy. Their demonstration of faith met the Saviour's instant approval. The diseased man and his companions were determined to present their case—their faith was sufficient Jesus could require no more of them. They had contrived to get their patient into His presence, feeling sure of what the result would be and they were rewarded accordingly. But the critical ones, the scribes and Pharisees would have to see further before they could believe that Jesus had power to forgive sins and it was because of their doubting that He said unto the stricken man, "Arise, take up thy couch, and go to thine house. An He is still saying to those sick in sin and despair, "Arise." He wanted them that he came not to call the righteous but sinners to repentance," and so to the day the message goes out "whosoever will, let him take of the water of life freely," but the acceptance must be through faith and repentance and an acknowledgment of Christ for no other name is given under heaven among men whereby we must be saved. He begins now to warn them that his work on earth was foreordained and that though to some it might bring sorrow, to a countless throng in future ages it would bring joy unspeakable. He came not to destroy but to fulfill so he said, "No man putteth new wine into old bottles lest the bottles burst and all be lost.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bridges and baby of Aspermont spent the past weekend here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Bridges.

Miss Mozelle Stubbs left this city last Friday for Los Angeles California. She was accompanied to Fort Worth by her brother-in-law Mr. Wilson who was enroute to Denton.

Hospital Notes

Patients in the Hospital this week include Anna V. Carr of O'Brien, Leroy Kennebrough of Vera, Mrs. W. B. Moorhouse of Aspermont, Mrs. Laird of Beensjain, Pauline Smith of Thorp and C. W. Winchester of Welbert.

Mrs. Tom Cluck returned to her home in Munday last Friday. Mrs. V. H. Ferguson of this city returned to her home Sunday. D. Lankford, who lives south of the city, was dismissed Sunday, but is staying in the home of a relative in town.

Mr. Byron Hughes of Vera was here one night last week for treatment. He sustained a scalp cut when a filled fruit jar exploded.

Elbert Owens of the Smith Chapel community was in one night last week for an examination. Cecil Jenkins was here last week with a dislocated elbow which he received in a ball game at Rochester. He lives in Munday.

Mrs. Ethel Denton of Oklahoma is in Knox City this week for medical treatment.

10 Ask for Church Affiliation

At the close of the service Wednesday night ten people had asked for affiliation with the Knox City Baptist church, some by letter and others through baptism. The Revival services will be concluded Sunday. Reverend Milford has given two weeks of great work in the pulpit. He will long be remembered in Knox City.

The special service for children last Sunday night went on record as being the best of its kind here in many Revival services. The capacity crowd sat in rapt attention throughout the service.

The most spiritual service of the meeting was that dedicated to the old people of the town and community Monday morning. A huge crowd of old people gathered in the center of the church and as the Evangelist preached these honored mothers and fathers just gave rise to their emotions as though each was alone.

Every service through the Revival has seen some good accomplished, some blessing received.

To The People of The 114th Legislative District, Composed of Knox, King, Foard, and Hardeman Counties

I am sincerely grateful for the more than three to one majority given me in the primary election last Saturday. I have consistently worked for what I believed to be the best interests of the people of the 114th district, and I expect to keep it up. In a State as large as Texas with as many divergent interests as there are in Texas, it is not always possible for a Representative from this section to get the things done down at Austin, that he would like to have done. However, I expect to continue to struggle for the things that we want and need in Northwest Texas.

Again thanking all my friends, I am

Gratefully yours,
George Moffett

TEAGUE CAFE IS REMODELED

During the past winter months the boys in the Teague Cafe, as well as the Postmaster and his helper, waded about their buildings every time it rained and received the unsolicited sympathy of every Knox City citizen. Well, now these boys and the new Postmaster are sitting back in their new housing quarters enjoying the thrill of new clean locations and all without having to move.

The Insurance Company, which owns the Post Office and Cafe building, is concluding some long needed repair work and the two places are like new. The Teague boys Cafe has this week been given a new brick front and awning and new flooring through the center of the building. They guarantee their customers now a perfect meal minus the raindrops.

E. W. Holland and H. L. White made a trip to Fort Worth Tuesday.

SHERIFF CAPTURES STILL

Saturday morning, July 23 Sheriff Elliott captured a still between Munday and Goree. Four gallons of whiskey and several gallons of mash were taken and one man who is now in the county jail.

Mr. Elliott was accompanied by Frank Trambell, city marshal and Jack McGraw night watchman, both of Munday.

Mr. John Dutton left the city Tuesday in response to a call from Levelland stating that Mrs. Dutton's father was dangerously ill. Tuesday Mr. Dutton returned home but went back to Levelland Thursday. He states his wife's father was at the point of death.

There will be a Boy Scout meeting Tuesday night, August the second in the basement of the Methodist church. Scout Master Casey Jones urges that all the scouts be present.

TO THE VOTERS OF KNOX CITY AND COMMUNITY

I take this means of thanking you from the depth of my heart for the splendid vote accorded me at the polls last Saturday. Words are inadequate however, to express my deep and sincere appreciation.

I at all times tried to conduct a clean campaign, soliciting your support only on my ability to place the Judge's Office on a higher plane of efficiency with a marked degree of economy in operation. I feel that I can never repay the voters of this community the debt of gratitude I owe. Thanks to one and all.

Sincerely yours,
Roy Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Smith and son of Rule were here Tuesday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Smith.

Miss Sydna Edwards is spending this week with relatives in Amarillo.

Retired Minister Celebrates

Brother R. A. Lee, better known in Knox City as Grandpa Lee, celebrated his 84 birthday last Saturday. Brother Lee is a retired Baptist minister, having served many churches in West Texas a good portion of which were in larger churches. Although not now a minister in any church Brother Lee is still serving the Lord.

On Saturday of last week some twenty five friends of the Lee family among whom were the Evangelistic party, gathered at the Lee home, each guest taking a basket full of lunch to contribute to the bountiful meal which was spread in his honor. Just before the meal, however, a very beautiful service, in keeping with the life of the revered person, was conducted by Evangelist Milford. Milford's theme was woven about the beautiful farewell message "carry on" and was delivered to the honoree and his guests as though it were his farewell message.

Brother Lee was then presented a huge, three tier cake which was topped with pink rose buds and green leaves circled about with roses, the decorating being done by hand. It was presented by Mrs. Claude Stovall and Mrs. J. H. Finley. Then the feast came: the act which revealed the secret of the life of Brother Lee was committed. Upon being asked to hold the cake and select the prettiest woman to accompany him for a picture, the 84 year old boy called "my wife".

The dinner was served, and Brother Lee declared the occasion the happiest he had ever known.

CAN PROPOSITION ENDS

According to Mr. G. T. Hardberger the canning tin proposition for Knox county is at an end, unless another appropriation is made.

Since the last issue of the Herald Mr. Hardberger states, he received names for cans which totaled the necessary number of 4800 cans. He also states that he received 600 cans.

It was the original plan of the Red Cross to give to those who could not buy them, 50 canning tins, five of which were to be filled and returned to the Red Cross. With the many calls that have been made in Knox City for cans, the number received was divided equally among those who were really entitled to receive these tins. This division allowed those people only seventeen cans.

Mr. Hardberger also states that unless a new appropriation is made, there will be no more Red Cross canning tins distributed in Knox City.

We understand that Walter Hyde during his hours spent in the field during his vacation, managed to cut something near a dozen of the largest weeds in the patch. He cut the largest that they might make the big show. And we also understand that the reason he did not cut more weeds is the fact that he either leaned over the fence talking to some neighbor or friend or stood erect in the patch, his hoe for a prop.

Of course, Walter did not report this report. No!

THE OLYMPIC GAMES

The young athletes of all nations and both sexes who are competing at Los Angeles for world championships constitute beyond doubt, the finest aggregation of physically perfect humanity that has ever been assembled at one time in a place in the history of the world.

There is no question whatever that the modern athlete is far superior to those of ancient days. We often hear of the remarkable physical prowess of some of the primitive races, but in every contest where it has been possible to match an intelligent, trained athlete of the modern era against the best of the primitives, the victory has fallen to the modern.

We venture the belief that the Olympic Games have done more than any other one influence to spread the gospel of physical training and outdoor sports throughout the civilized world. As we get older we realize that physical health is the most valuable asset the individual can have. Given sound health, and the controlling intelligence which enables its possessor to engage in physical sport any young man or woman need not worry about such immaterial things as riches. Youth does not always realize it, but all the money in the world is worth nothing to one who has not the health to enjoy the things it will buy.

Another great benefit, which is none the less real because it is intangible, is the spirit of international sportsmanship which the Olympic games engender. Let thousands of young folks of different nations speaking different tongues, reared in differing environments and inculcated with different standards and ideals get together in friendly contest, they are sure to discover that there is not much difference, after all, between their respective peoples. And the more often they get together as good sportsmen, the sooner will come about the understanding which makes for world peace.

Do You Think Straight? Political Announcements

In a series of articles to appear in this paper from time to time, it will be our endeavor to stimulate some careful thinking about the cause of education. It is not our desire to expound some pet theories, or to get people to see things exactly as we see them. What we shall be interested in is that fathers and mothers may be awakened to the dangers that confront their boys and girls through a possible reduction in educational standards, and that they may be aroused to the point of investigation and action for themselves.

Education is costly; especially so, if local real estate must bear the burden of the expense. Often we fail to see the proper returns, and we begin to wonder if education pays after all. But what man or woman ever felt that their public school education was a waste of time and money, or that would be willing for their own children to grow up in ignorance? Admittedly education is expensive, but what educated person will deny that it pays big dividends, and that it is an investment that can not be lost, even in time of economic distress and financial panic. If you give your child a liberal education, you will have endowed him with that which none can take away, and he will be far richer with his knowledge than with its cost in economic goods.

However, it is not the purpose of this article to argue about the costs or values of education. We believe that the fathers and mothers of boys and girls in this country are willing to pay for their children's education, and that all they ask is a careful and economic administration of the school funds. If we have been extravagant in some respects, we have been stingy in others, and it is our belief that all the fathers and mothers are asking is that those in charge of the schools give them full value for the dollar they spend.

There is a nation-wide program under way to reduce school costs. This movement began in the East where school costs are much higher than in Texas, and much of the propaganda being used in our state does not apply here at all. It is a good movement, if it is controlled by the desire to give the child the most at the least cost. If economy is the rule rather than stinginess it will have the support of all sane thinking people and avarice control the helm. On the other hand, if men seek to deprive the child of that which is rightfully his, fathers and mothers and all friends of childhood will rise up in revolt.

We have said that education is expensive, but is it too expensive? It is probably true that we need better business management in many of our schools, but on the whole it appears that school business is managed with less waste than most governmental affairs. No doubt in both school and government we can save some money, and if we can, it is the proper thing to do. However, we can be too careless in our investigations, draw our conclusions too quickly, and act too hastily. It is the purpose of this article to call upon you, as the friends of children, to do some sane and sensible thinking. If we must make retrenchments in school affairs, as it seems we must, let us take the burden off of local real estate. In doing so, however, let us not forget to call upon our legislators for appropriations from indirect taxation to take care of the child's needs.

In conclusion we might profitably review the statement recently made by Dr. Edwin C. Broome, in which he said: "Whatever retrenchments are made in public education should be made by the friends of children, and not by those who would sacrifice the welfare of the schools to serve selfish ends or to promote their own political fortunes or those of their party, or who in this period of distress seek to gain temporary and cheap popularity with the over-burdened taxpayers by loudly denouncing the public schools as costly and extravagant. Economies in the administration of schools are being made and possibly other economies may be effected, but they should be made only after careful and sincere study by those, both educators and laymen, who honestly believe in the truth of the statement that education is our guide, and our safeguard, and one of the chief sources of our natural growth and our material power."

THE WAY OF SIX GIRLS

Tuesday night Mrs. E. W. Holland gave a surprise Slumber party entertaining the S. S. T. Club and honoring her daughter Miss Irene. Immediately after church the 6 girls went hobnobbing and received a "hand-out" at several different places. On the round one of the members turned "gangster" and held up A. B. Lowrey and he, being frightened, barred the door and crawled under the table. At the home of Mrs. Earl Benedict the club would have been satisfied with a handout of apples but due to the indifference of the ice man's wife, the six in question succeeded in capturing a few grapes, lemons, oranges, apples and beef. After several other raids the group "hitched hiked" to the Holland home where they made ice cream and feasted. Wednesday morning found beds untouched and fortunately, they did not have to be made. About seven-thirty a delicious breakfast of tomato juice, cantaloupe, bacon, eggs, toast and coffee was served to the following: Misses Mozell Cochran, Wilma Lowrey, Marie Dunlap, Mary Hope Newsome, Jocile Russell and the honoree, Irene Holland.

The S. S. T. Club plans other entertainments for the remainder of the summer weeks. That's the way with six girls.

Clyde Ingraham was the guest over the past weekend of J. H. Gray in the Brook Community.

TURN ABOUT

Beverly Hills (Calif.) Citizen: The way back to prosperity, as we understand some of our economists, is to spend the dollar we haven't got in order that the man who gets it can spend it with us. Reminds us somewhat of the old editor whose paper wasn't paying very well. Some body asked him how he made it if he could not keep what was coming in equal to what was going out. "See that old man at the printing press? Well, he works for me until I owe him enough for him to take over the shop; then I work for him and get it back again."

A. J. Malouf and family are spending this week with relatives in Roaring Springs.

Mrs. J. T. May and son A. B. were Rule visitors one day the first of the week.

We are glad to send the Herald to H. Hutchison and Mrs. Land this week for one year.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Reese Jr. of Haskell were here Sunday to see his mother.

FORTY-FIVE BALES OF COTTON PAY TAXES THAT IN 1929 TOOK FIVE

The mounting cost of farm implements is pointed out in a communication to the Dallas News from W. S. Kirby, Dallas landowner and capitalist. Figures submitted by Mr. Kirby from his own records kept since 1929 give the following comparisons:

Cultivators in 1929 cost $20, in 1927 $15, in 1928 $37 and in 1930 $65.

Tractors in 1929 cost $35, in 1927 $20, in 1930 $22.50.

Rising milky plows in 1929 cost $25, in 1928 $73, in 1931 $95.

Grain binders in 1929 cost $130, in 1930 $275.

Kirby also submits his records of prices received for oats, which in 1929 was $1.25 a bushel, but in 1931 was 13 cents a bushel. In 1929 108 bushels of oats returned $135, but in 1931 2,115 bushels of oats returned only $275, his books show.

As to a farmer's taxes to be paid out of his products, Mr. Kirby submits that in 1929 five bales of cotton paid $100 of his Kaufman County farm, while in 1931 it took forty five bales to pay the same taxes.

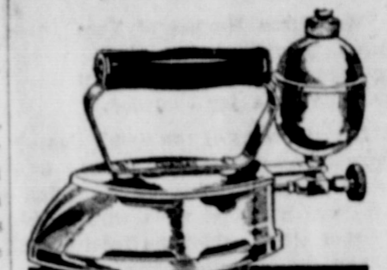

Mr. Kirby did not submit 1932 figures, but anyone familiar with the situation knows that prices of farm products have dropped still lower.

The Missionary Society of the Methodist church met Monday afternoon with Mrs. S. M. Clonts. The Bible Study was conducted by Mrs. J. H. Sharp which proved to be very interesting as well as profitable.

Following the study, the ladies enjoyed a social hour and a collation of surprise loaf, potato chips, cakes and punch, plate favor being Shasta Daisies. In addition to the seventeen members present, there were two out-of-town guests, Mrs. Williams of Merkel and Mrs. Little of Mart Texas.

T. P. Withrow, and Lynn Waldrip of Knox City with W. T. and Buster Averitt of Rule spent most of this week on a trip to Carlsbad New Mexico.

Bob Tankersly of Arlington is in the city this week.

LONE STAR GAS SYSTEM AD WINS FIRST PRIZE

First prize for the best public utility institutional advertising in the United States has been awarded to the advertising department of the Lone Star Gas System, by the Public Utilities Advertising Association. More than 100 companies in the United States and Canada with several thousand ads were entered in the contest. The company also won honorable mention for an ad entitled "A Timely Reminder" which urged preparation for winter heating.

The winning ad appeared in Texas newspapers last fall and was titled "Your Gas Dollar—What Becomes of It?" The advertisement displayed a large dollar divided into various sections, showing that 93 cents of each gas dollar stays in Texas, being spent for materials, supplies, gas, taxes and wages. Taxes alone, according to the company, amount to 54 cents per month for each customer on the system. The theme of the ad was that most of the money paid out by customers for gas is put right back into the state to maintain a dependable and uninterrupted gas supply, and also to develop the gas system for future needs.

Both ads were written by Willard G. Wiegel, assistant advertising manager for the Lone Star. Art work on the winning ad was done by Hugh Carge, commercial artist of Dallas. Type setting, mats and electros were furnished by Western newspaper Union.

REVOLT

The little boy's body sat bolt upright in the rough wooden chair, but his mind was very busy.

This was his weekly hour of revolt.

The kindly lady who could never seem to find her glasses would have been terribly shocked if she had known what was going on inside the little boy's mind.

"You must love Jesus she said every Sunday, 'and God."

The little boy did not say anything. He was afraid to say anything; he was almost afraid that something would happen to him because of the things he thought.

Love God! Who was always picking on people for having a good time and sending little boys to hell because they couldn't do better in a world which he had made so hard! Why didn't God take some one his own size?

Love Jesus! The little boy looked up at the picture which hung on the Sunday School wall. It showed a pale young man with flabby forearms and a sad expression. The young man had red whiskers.

Then the little boy looked across to the other wall. There was Daniel good old Daniel standing off the lions. The little boy liked Daniel. He liked David, too, with the trusty sling that landed a stone square on the forehead of Goliath.

Sunday was Jesus' day; it was wrong to feel comfortable or laugh on Sunday.

The little boy was glad when the superintendent thumped the bell and announced: "We will now sing the closing hymn."

Years went by and the boy grew up and became a business man.

He began to wonder about Jesus.

He said to himself: "Only strong magnetic men inspire great enthusiasm and build great organizations. Yet Jesus built the greatest organization of all. It is extraordinary."

He said: "I will read what the men who know Jesus personally said about him. I will read about him as though he were a new historical character, about whom I had never heard anything at all."

The man was amazed.

A physical weakling! Where did he get that idea? Jesus pushed a wheelbarrow and swung an axe; he was a carpenter. He slept outdoors and spent his days walking around his favorite lake. His muscles were so strong that when he drove the nails, nobody dared to object.

A killer! Was the most popular dinner guest in Jerusalem?

A failure! He picked up twelve men from the bottom ranks of business and forged them into an organization that conquered the world.

When the man had finished his reading he exclaimed, "This is a man nobody knows."

"Some day," said he some one will write a book about Jesus.

So the man waited for some one to write the book, but no one did. Instead, more books were published about the "Lamb of God" who was weak and unhappy and glad to die.

The man became impatient. One day he said, "I believe I will try to write that story, myself."

And he did.

It was a fine idea—to write that story. You will enjoy it immensely a sequence of weekly chapters which will hold and inspire you. These chapters start NEXT WEEK IN THIS NEWSPAPER. . . . LOOK FOR THEM . . . READ THEM.

On Texas Farms

By W. H. Darrow of A. & M. College

A grocery bill not exceeding $2.50 per month for the last three months is the way Mrs. J. A. Hamilton of Neches county describes the benefit of her work as a 4-H pantry demonstrator which has resulted in 727 cans of food of 30 different varieties.

A woman may dress appropriately for small cost, eight wardrobe demonstrators in Mason county home demonstration clubs have proven. One year's clothing ranged in cost from $2.60 to $40.97, with an average of $17.89. All demonstrators made budgets, kept records, used foundation patterns in making their own clothes and improved their clothes closets.

Clyde Carruth, Gray county dairy herd demonstrator, doesn't see how he could run his dairy without a silo. Last year he dug a trench silo and filled it with 85 tons of sorghum and hepari. He averted a drop of 25 to 50 per cent in production last winter by feeding ensilage while wet weather kept his 15 cows off wheat pasture 2 1/2 months.

Six months extra grazing more than repaid N. P. Pace of Denton county for the labor and investment in clearing and planting a piece of bottom land to a clover and grass mixture last winter. He has asked further help from the county agent in improving more pastures with the view of turning his 400-acre into a profitable stock farm.

Linden—Although they had very little money to work with, 315 girls in 25 4-H clubs of Cass County have made many improvements in their bedrooms. Miss Willie L. Taylor county home demonstration reports that 315 cleaned their rooms thoroughly, 204 rearranged furniture, 10 have refinished furniture, added clothes closets, 30 added furniture and 15 refinished their floors.

Wichita Falls—Her 1-4 acre of dewberries and blackberries has produced 433 gallons of fruit, reports Mrs. C. C. Burrows, home demonstration club member of Wichita county. She canned 353 gallons, 50 gallons away to friends, some worth, and prepared 202 quarts of berry acid. Mrs. Burrows also reports having sold 112 gallons of dewberries from a 1-4 acre tract.

Palestine—In spite of the low price of butter for a no market for butter and skimmed milk, Mrs. Leona Deany Shuptrine, Pleasant Springs 4-H Pantry cooperator, has found a sale for her milk in the form of milk chocolate which nets her 40 cents per gallon for her milk. Mrs. Shuptrine sells her milk chocolate in half pint bottles to the cold drink stands, grocery stores and filling stations that have a good cold drink trade. In this way she clears practically $2.50 daily off of her milk.
