MORE WORK BEING DONE ON HI-WAY

Committees have been busy on the securing of the right of way for highway 16 through the Knox City precinct this week and Wednesday. It was hoped several deeds would be signed for tracts of land.

It is likely that deeds will be signed to all the land for the right of way in several days, and as soon as this is done, work will start right away on the road.

According to the promise of the State, this will mean the paying of Highway 16 from where it now ends, about three miles south of here, through Knox City, to the bridge across the Brazos river north of town. This will include main street of Knox City.

Upon completion of judging and the grading and scoring of the contestants work, Lawrence Dutton was the high point man in the contest for dairying. FIREMEN BANQUET ENJOYED BY GROUP WEDNESDAY

About twenty-five firemen and their guests enjoyed a delicious banquet at the Sanitary Cafe Wednesday evening. C. C. Hoge furnished turkey for the occasion and the Sanitary Cafe furnished trimmings and served the meal for the boys. Some other members of the company gave a few "extras" for the bountiful meal.

The city council and officials were guests of the firemen, as well as Dr. T. P. Frizzell and Sam Smith.

Short talks were made by Mayor Roy Smith, Dr. Frizzell, City Commissioner J. V. Jones, and Sam Smith. Fire Chief Henry Arledge presided. In spite of the sounding of the fire siren as a prank on the boys during the banquet, the firemen almost unanimously failed to respond but attended to the food as though it were in line with their duties.

All present felt indebted to Mr. Hoge, the cafe and all others who had a part in making the feast a success.

The firemen held a meeting immediately following the banquet.

The 298 pound Hampshire barrow fed and owned by Price Trimmer Jr. of Benjamin won Grand Champion prize of the Wichita Falls Fat Stock Show which was held last Friday and Saturday. These hogs were fed via of sledgefeeder using oats and barley as the grain ration with a protein supplement of tankage and cottonseed meal mixed half and half. All was fed free choice.

The two club members, Janelle and Price Jr. Trimmer, also entered a baby beef each, winning 5th and 7th prize respectively out of an entry of some 75 calves. Considering that this is the first feeding these club members have done they have brought much credit to their club work and to themselves.

JUNIOR PLAY POSTPONED

The Junior play "The Red Headed Step Child" has been postponed until March 24 due to the arrival of a tent show and other difficulties. With extra time to practice, the play will be even more sensational and well presented than before. So don't let this postponement bother you. Just remember March 24th.

MAKING IT POSSIBLE

(Editorial)

Some one or group must lead the "growing pains" of progress. As a child has "Growing Pains" so does a community and town. Those who make the greatest sacrifices are the proudest and receive the greatest satisfaction from the accomplishments that they help to gain.

The progress and going forward of the Knox City community is requiring some inconveniences and concessions on the part of some of our citizens at the present in the securing of a right-of-way for the hard surfacing of Highway No. 16 across this precinct. Strips of land will have to taken from farms, strips will be taken from the center of some, perhaps, and even houses may have to be moved to make way for the progress that is about to be made.

It may seem hard now, but when the move is accomplished, it will be with pride that the whole citizenship points to the new achievement, and particularly those who really made the sacrifice. The things that give us the most satisfaction are the things for which we pay a price.

It is easy to remain in a rut and never build, but there are some "Growing Pains" that must be borne when progress steps in.

So, to the ones who are making concessions for the new highway for the Knox City section, we pay our tributes and extend our appreciation. Cities are built by folks like these.

NELSON-BOWDEN

On Saturday morning, March 4, Mr. Ira Bowden and Miss Grace Nelson were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed at the Methodist parsonage in Munday, with the Rev. H. C. Hand, pastor, officiating. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hooks of Seymour. Immediately following the ceremony the newlyweds departed for Dallas and other points for a brief honeymoon trip, after which they will be at home in Munday.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Nelson of Comanche, and following her graduation from John Tarleton College she came to Knox county and for five and one-half years has served as Home Demonstration agent, in which capacity she has endeared herself to the citizenship of the county, and her work in this line has been of the highest type.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Bowden of Munday. He was reared at Munday and following his graduation from the Munday high school, attended business college and has for a number of years been associated with the First National bank in Munday, and at present is assistant cashier. He is a young man of exemplary habits and unimpeachable character.

We join the many friends of these excellent young people in wishing for them a long and happy married life.

4-H CLUB GIRLS MEET

"Fitting dresses" was the discussion of Miss Faulkner, county home demonstration agent of Knox county, with the members of the Union Grove girls' 4-H club. At their meeting in the school house Friday afternoon, March 3 much interest was manifested by all of the girls and the agent.

Officers of the club elected are: Tommie Griffith, president; Jaurine White, secretary; Edith Wilson, yell leader; Floe McTrayer, song leader and reporter.

At the close of the meeting refreshments of hot chocolate and cake were served.

LOCAL LADY ATTENDS BEAUTY CULTURISTS MEET IN DALLAS

For three days the southwest was host to beauty culturists from practically every point in the United States. Fashion experts from Chicago, New York, Hollywood and even as far away as London and Paris gathered for a three day session in Dallas to exchange notes on the latest trends in beauty culture. Mrs. Withrow, who has just returned from the three day convention, states that hair stylists from the metropolitan centers predict that the women of America will go in for a far greater variation in hairdress than ever before. The reason for this is that the milliner has also gone in for a great variation in style. The little pan-cake hats, the pill-boxes, the Turkish fez, the fedoras all need individual treatment in the creation of hair styles.

Mrs. Withrow states further that according to the leading authorities the Hollywood screen star is the arbiter of fashion both as to dress and hair styles. The screen, according to Mrs. Withrow, has done more to make the American style of beauty culture popular throughout the world than any other one thing.

WANTED: TWELVE MILLION JOBS

If an individual analysis could be made of the people who are out of employment it would, no doubt, be a revelation. Not in all cases, of course, because thousands of people in all professions who are well qualified are out of employment. In a majority of cases we would likely find that the individual failed to realize soon enough in life the importance of a practical training in some good vocation or profession.

For instance, look what Radio is doing. Could our fore-fathers have had the opportunities that Radio offers to prepare themselves, we feel sure they would have welcomed them with outstretched arms. This is the age of Radio and it is THE means of communication of the future. It is true that radio is yet a mere infant, and only a few people have any conception of what a giant it is to become. With its growth is coming a new order of things.

Never in the history of the world has the future held such opportunities for a real service for those who are well trained in Radio. Unlike most of the professions, Radio is not over crowded. So far, it has attracted only young men into the profession, and this means more jobs with better pay for those who are qualified.

Every young man who is casting about for a suitable vocation would certainly do well to investigate the possibilities offered in Radio. The South's foremost School of Radio is operated by the Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration at Tyler, Texas. An interesting booklet descriptive of this big school will be sent to any interested. Address the Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration, Tyler, Texas, and ask for Booklet "R-6." (adv)

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB COLUMN

March is the time for the planting of grapes and berries as well as the time for planting our gardens.

A list of some of the vegetables that should be planted between now and March 15 and the varieties that are best adapted to this section as recommended by J. F. Roseborough, Extension horticulturist are as follows:

Asparagus: Mary Washington or Martha Washington; Lettuce: Los Angeles or Big Boston; Spinach: Bloomsdale savoy or Long Standing; Mustard: Giant Southern curled; Radish: Scarlet Globe or chartiers; Beets: Crosby's Egyptian or Detroit Dark red; Carrots: Chantenay or Denver's half-long; Cabbage: Early Jersey Wakefield, copenhagen market or Glory of Enkhusen; Pepper: Ruby King; Tomatoes: Marglobe, Gulf State Market or Globe.

For an average family of five it will take 3,000 pounds of vegetables to supply an adequate diet. It takes about one foot of row to furnish one pound of vegetables. These vegetables, then, can be raised on approximately one third of an acre.

If you are planning to set out grapes or berries in March here are a few suggestions as to the variety to choose:

Grapes: Carman, Beacon, Extra, Niagara, Nunson; Blackberries: Dallas, McDonald, Texas Wonder; Dewberries: Austin Mays.

Knox county is especially adapted to the growing of grapes and berries. "Besides having plenty of fresh berries for my family during the season, I canned 15 quarts from my vines last year," said Mrs. G. L. Pruitt of the Munday home demonstration club. Because the berries have proven so successful, Mrs. Pruitt plans to set out 500 berry vines and a good many grape vines this year.

"At last I have convinced my husband that we can have fruit in Knox county if we only plant the right variety," said Mrs. Roy Jones of the Hefner club. Mrs. Jones plans to set out a number of peach trees as well as some grape and berry vines.

Mrs. Jones has been a 4-H pantry demonstrator for two years and is making her plans for a full pantry this year. She is beginning her work by laying her entire garden with tile for sub-irrigation.

A balanced garden plan for a family of five that many demonstrators have used with satisfaction calls for the following in 3-foot rows: 50 feet of shallots, 50 feet of mustard, 50 feet of New Zealand spinach, 50 feet of radishes, 50 feet of lettuce, 50 feet of Swiss chard, 150 feet of onion sets or plants, 50 feet of garlic, 50 feet of dill, 50 feet of chili pepper, 150 feet of English peas (two plantings on same bed two weeks apart), 100 feet of beets, 50 feet of turnips, 150 feet of lima beans, 150 feet of carrots, 150 feet of spinach, 300 feet of bush beans, 150 feet of early cabbage, 300 feet of field peas, 75 feet each of egg plant and bell peppers, 150 feet of okra, and 600 feet of Irish potatoes followed by cream or black-eyed peas. In 4-foot rows: 600 feet of tomatoes, 75 feet each of squash and cucumbers, and 300 feet of sweet corn. In 6 foot rows: 150 feet of cantaloupes, 100 feet of asparagus, and 50 feet of rhubarb.

This plan gives at least five varieties and 728 feet of row space to the leafy and green vegetables; at least 2 varieties and 728 feet of row space to the starchy kinds; at least 2 varieties and 728 feet of row space to garden fruits; and at least 5 varieties and 728 feet of row space to other kinds of vegetables. Such a balance as this is required for health. Varieties may be substituted in the above plan but replacements should be made with other varieties of the same class, that is, if spinach is left out, one or more other leafy vegetable should replace it; such as cauliflower, broccoli, rape, kale, or chinese cabbage.

SNOW FAITHFUL BECAME CONTENTED

(Final Installment)

The day passed slowly for both Barbara and Mother Simms. Each realized the strain on the emotions of the other and strove to avert the shadows of the other from herself. But the effort was a rather futile one and as the afternoon wore into the evening they lapsed into silence each absorbed in her own thoughts. The color had returned to Barbara's cheeks, and she looked quite beautiful as she reclined among the cushions of the couch. Her eyes were half closed and her little brow was faintly creased in thought and anxiety, but instead of detracting from her beauty, it seemed only to enhance it the more. Faithful, crouching at her feet, looked up into her face with an almost human love.

Mother Simms, resting in her large armchair before the fireplace, was far from looking faded and old, though many years must have passed since she had been a young lady in the prime of her beauty. Few wrinkles marred the perfection and symmetry of her face and her silvery hair piled high in massive splendor. Recently life had treated her kindly and her very existence was bound up in Larry, her only son. Anxiety for him filled her heart, for she knew that he was battling the elements in the face of uncertainty to reach the bedside of Captain Grenfell; but at the same time she was pondering dreamily over the revelation that her long cherished dream of a union between Larry and Barbara was about to be fulfilled.

As the twilight shadows gathered, the wind and snow abated. Dr. Larry Simms was preparing to set forth for home. He had reached the Grenfell ranch house safely, and though old Captain Grenfell was not in as bad a condition as he had anticipated, he was in intense pain. Relieving the old man's pain and leaving the proper medicine necessary in checking these attacks, that had come on frequently of late, he left the old man, wasted and spent, imploring him to return to Barbara to make sure that she was safe and that nothing serious had resulted from her long exposure to wind and snow.

The moon had just risen over the distant mountain in all of its glory, casting a weird glow over the beautiful white blanket that shrouded the earth like a mantle. Dr. Larry forced his mother and sweetheart intensely relieved at his appearance and at the report that Captain Grenfell's health was not in grave danger.

With a knowing smile Mother Simms retired early, telling Barbara that the doctor would see her to her room.

Barbara was joyous and gay and her happiness was radiated in her lovely face. Her head was resting on Larry's broad shoulder and the faint glow from the open fireplace seemed to be playing hide and seek in the lovely waves of her red-gold hair. Larry sighed as he looked down into her upturned face whose shining eyes revealed their love. He was serenely happy, contented in the fact that Barbara—his own brave Barbara—was soon to be his bride. Faithful, resting at their feet, would have smiled had he known how but he dozed peacefully; he contented with the world, for the two he loved best on earth were together.

EDITORIAL

All my life I have been taught that the proper way to behave was to follow the example of my elders, or those more experienced than I. My days in high school have more or less destroyed this belief or belief in this ideal I have held since childhood.

Since I have constantly observed the senior class and their many undignified actions, I have realized that examples of upper classmen are not the best to follow.

With few exceptions, though their class has the smallest enrollment, most of the disturbances or forms of commotion and rowdiness are first begun by them.

Even in the study hall they disobey more frequently; keep their places less tidy, chew gum more often and carry about uncovered books, if any at all; and even bring edibles to the study hall and class rooms, as children of the primary grades would likely do. Moreover, their attitude toward their teachers is terrible, they have no respect for others who, if they were not disturbed by rowdy seniors, would study.

After having read the above statement of actual facts, I think you will be thoroughly convinced that the example of one's elders is not always the best to follow and I hope that the innocent Freshmen will abide by my advice and will not follow in the footsteps of the disobeying seniors.

TO THE SENIORS

There appeared in last week's Kennel a statement which implied that the senior flag had not been distracted although the Juniors had made efforts to that effect. We wish to correct this mistake which we feel sure was made unconsciously since four senior flags have gone up and that same number have come down in ruins. We also wish to state that the removal of these flags was accomplished without any aid from the faculty.

COMPOSE POEMS

Last week while the snow was falling, the Third Grade disregarded their regular schedule to watch the sparkling flakes as they whirled and twirled, and finally fell to the ground to be dissolved immediately. The following poems were composed by members of the Third Grade that day:

The Snowflakes

Snow flakes, snow flakes, here and there,

Snow flakes, snow flakes, every where.

It is slowly falling down. Soon it will cover all the town.

Doris Elaine Clonin

The Snow

Oh, the snow's a falling
 The snow's a falling
 A falling on the ground.
 Oh, there's a birdie in a tree,
 And he's looking at me!
 Now isn't that something?
 A birdie in a tree,
 And just think, he's looking at me!

Clem Hall Jr.

Snowflakes

Snowflakes are falling,
 Out of the sky,
 Children are playing
 As they fly by.
 Snow on the tree tops,
 Snow on the ground
 And a white blanket,
 All over the town.

Lee Roy Lightfoot

The Snow

The snow is going 'round and 'round
 It melts as fast as it hits the ground
 As fast as it falls, but look!
 It seems to stay on the ground after all!

How to train BABY'S BOWELS

Babies, bottle-fed or breast-fed, with any tendency to be constipated, would thrive if they received daily half a teaspoonful of this old family doctor's prescription for the bowels.

That is one sure way to train tiny bowels to healthy regularity. To avoid the fretfulness, vomiting, crying, failure to gain, and other ills of constipated babies.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is good for any baby. For this, you have the word of a famous doctor. Forty-seven years of practice taught him just what babies need to keep their little bowels active, regular, keep little bodies plump and healthy. For Dr. Caldwell specialized in the treatment of women and little ones. He attended over 3500 births without loss of one mother or baby.

Get Rid of That SORE THROAT

Any little soreness in the throat grows rapidly worse if neglected. Crush some tablets of genuine Bayer Aspirin in some water, and gargle at once. This gives you instant relief, and reduces danger from infection. One good gargle and you can feel safe. If all soreness is not gone promptly repeat. There's usually a cold with the sore throat, so before gargling take two tablets to throw off your cold, headache, stiffness or other cold symptoms. Bayer Aspirin relieves neuralgia, neuritis, too. You may use freely, it does not hurt the heart.
