City Of Knox City Sued For $25,000 Damages

The City of Knox City was sued for $25,000 damages Wednesday afternoon in File No. 5468 filed in the district court at Benjamin.

The suit is as follows: Leon Strickland Vs. The City of Knox City, Texas, Et Al.

Now comes Leon Strickland herein called plaintiff complaining of the City of Knox City, Texas, municipal corporation organized under the laws of the State of Texas, Jack Land, Wesley Garrison, and Guy Glenn, individually.

Both the plaintiff and all of the defendants are residents of Knox County, Texas. The defendant city may be served by serving Mr. Guy Glenn, mayor. For cause of action the plaintiff would respectfully show the Court as follows:

On July 11, 1961, the defendant, Jack Land, was operating a tractor and power driven shredder within the City of Knox City therein and was engaged in cutting weeds along the streets of the city and property appertaining thereof. The machine being operated on such occasion was an inherently dangerous machine and was so constructed that on occasions it would throw objects picked up from the ground with great force and velocity. This particular machine was being operated without a sufficient guard to prevent objects from being thrown and thus injuring persons who might be in the vicinity.

The plaintiff, Leon Strickland, was the father of a young son, Leon Strickland, Jr., who on that fateful day was 11 years of age. He was standing some distance from the machine and was watching the machine when the machine violently threw some type of metal weight out through the unguarded opening causing this child to be struck in the abdomen. Leon Strickland, Jr., was seriously wounded. He was rushed to the Knox City Hospital and given emergency treatment. From there he was rushed to the Wichita General Hospital where he underwent surgery for a ruptured liver. His condition grew steadily worse and he underwent surgery a second time, but shortly thereafter he died as a result of his injury.

The plaintiff says that the City of Knox City was negligent in several respects in the maintenance and operation of the mowing machine. He further says that each of the individual defendants was negligent in the maintenance and operation of the mowing machine. He says that each of them knew of the defects of such machine and that their failure to guard against an injury such as the one that occurred was negligent. He says that negligence on the part of the city through its employees and upon the part of the individual defendants was jointly and severally a proximate cause of the painful and mortal injury of Leon Strickland, Jr.

As a result of the death of Leon Strickland, Jr., the plaintiff has incurred reasonable and necessary medical and funeral expenses. These expenses are in the approximate amount of $1,000.00. He further says that he has been damaged by the death of his son to such an extent that no amount of money could compensate him for his loss.

Under the law, however, certain aspects of his loss may be compensated. He says that under the law, he is entitled to recover the sum of $25,000.00 for its portion of his loss upon which the law allows a monetary value to be placed.

Therefore, premises considered, the plaintiff prays that the defendants be cited to appear and answer herein and that upon trial thereof he have judgment against the defendants jointly and severally for the damages to which he may show himself justly entitled. Respectfully submitted. Plaintiff demands a jury to try this cause.

Signed Gowin Davis, of Glazner & Davis, attorneys at law, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced Friday that the Texas Public Safety Commission has approved the appointment of 10 new Texas Rangers in the largest expansion of the 138-year old law enforcement body since 1935.

More than 400 applicants were listed and the ten men were the ones selected. Melton was the only sheriff in the state to receive the appointment.

Melton, 51, will be assigned to Company "C" in Lubbock under the command of Captain Raymond Waters. Melton was elected sheriff in 1946, taking office on January 1, 1947. He had previously served two years as chief of police at Benjamin. His father, J. W. He expects to receive his orders to resign as sheriff and to move within the next two weeks. Knox County Commissioners will appoint a sheriff to serve until the next election in January, when the sheriff resigns.

Melton was re-elected last year for another four-year term of office.

John Hansen Speaks At Lions Club Wednesday

John Hansen, former Knox City resident who now resides in Dallas, was a guest of the Lions Club Wednesday noon and was principal speaker for the occasion. Hansen is associated with Continental Gins of Dallas, and has made extensive tours in South America. He had as his guest Eduardo A. Garcia Marles, minister of agriculture of Caracas, Venezuela. Marles is visiting Gins and inspecting cotton farms in the United States.

Hansen said he had made an extensive tour of eight South American countries, and that he had learned a lot about the people in South America and had met a lot of interesting people.

As for our foreign aid, Hansen said the average person, the workers and people who really needed help, did not get help.

First, he said, our government sends the South American government the money and they don't help anyone but themselves.

"South America is a young country and have only recently gained their freedom," Hansen said, "and the country is full of men who are not dedicated and get in politics to steal."

Hansen said that everywhere he went people told him that if he had a chance to speak to anyone in the U.S., to please tell them about the foreign aid setup.

"If we need roads, give money and let us hire our own help . . . If we need a manufacturing plant—help us—but don't send the money to the government—just loan us the money," Hansen quoted them as saying.

Hansen said he thought now was the time to try and help South America . . . he said they were ripe for anything—democracy or Communism.

Hansen said that throughout his travels he was always treated extremely nice. "No person was ever ugly to me in any way," he said.

Hansen said he saw the average person in South America as people "just like you and me. They worry about how they are going to make a living for their families," he said.

Schools are bad, he said and very few and far between. Bolivia had an 88 per cent literacy rate he said. Venezuela he said had a government that was doing nothing for the people.

There the cost of living is sky high and unemployment is terrible with cost of living rising rapidly. Hansen said he ordered a small steak and his bill was $7.50. Average monthly income for a worker is approximately $100.

"South America is a sleeping giant," Hansen said, "and will wake up. We need to help them."

"AMONG OTHER THINGS . . ."

By BOB BURNETT, JR.

Today, many of the titles of popular songs are written in the form of an intelligent question. One that is especially thought-provoking is, "Does Your Chewing Gum Lose Its Flavor On The Bedpost Overnight?" I happen to be cursed with a bed without a post, thus making it extremely difficult for me to put my chewing gum on the bedpost overnight. However, I do know from actual experience that chewing gum does lose its flavor on tables, chairs, and window sills. If someone with a bedpost were to try this experiment and make known the true facts, no doubt it would make millions of people all over the world happy.

Having aroused the curiosity of everyone with his first question, one would think that the author would be satisfied. But no, he immediately follows his first question with a second earth-shaking query: "Can you catch it o'nyour tonsils and heave it left and right?" Out of some 2,000 people, in and around Knox City you would think that there would be someone who could master a simple little trick like that. But, as of yet, I have found no one, including Eddie Williams (champion gum-chewer of the Junior class) who can master the trick. If there is anyone who can catch their chewing gum on their tonsils, I wish they would let me know as I would like to see them in action.

Last Friday the various organizations in school met and elected their officers. The following is a list of the organizations and officers:
Senior Class — President, Clyde Day, vice president, James

Eiland; secretary, Sue Shelton; treasurer, Joe Tidwell, and reporter, Charlotte Perdue.
Junior Class — President, Charlie Bateman; vice president, Bub Burnett; secretary, Wynette Tankersley; treasurer, Samantha Graham, and reporter, Carroll Tankersley.

F.F.A. President, Clyde Day; vice president, Charlie Bateman; secretary, Joe Tidwell; treasurer, Jimmy Lea, and reporter, Eddie Williams. Sentinel, Simon Rocha.
F.H.A. — President, Sue Shelton; vice president, Judy Smith; secretary, Karen Graham, treasurer, Donna Verhalen; historian, Carroll Tankersley; Parliamentarian, Kathy Lowery; song leader, Jackie Givens; pianist, Jinx Reeder, and reporter, Charlotte Perdue.

The tragic days in which we are living do not take the Bible student by surprise. The Word of God predicts just such times as these and will become worse and worse. Jesus said: "ye shall hear of wars and rumors of wars; see that ye be not troubled . . . Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, and there shall be famines, pestilences and earthquakes . . ." He warned the Christian, "They shall deliver you up to be afflicted and shall kill you, and ye shall be hated of all nations for my sake." He cautioned, keep a watch on your selves: do not let your minds be not dulled by dissipation and drunkenness and worldly cares so that the great day come upon you suddenly, for that day will come to all men. Be on the alert, praying at all times that you will be able to pass through the troubles and to stand in the presence of our Lord and Saviour.

"In addition to lifting his perspective, man stands in desperate need to be made whole again. It is not enough to know the truth of nature—there is also a need to have the imagination of the good, and the experience of the beautiful. To this end, universities, churches and libraries chiefly exist and have their legitimate claim upon the resources of the community. The teacher, clergyman, and the librarian are part of the larger ministry of affirmation."

The above is quoted from an address made by Rabbi Levi Olan, Temple Emanu-El, Dallas. He spoke at the joint meeting of the Texas and New Mexico Library Associations and his subject was "Literature and the Condition of Modern Man."

Old Chel is proud to hear some good news from the mothers of the younger set. Several of these women are talking of a move to bring more books into the school library. "Since we cannot possibly buy all of the books that our child needs and wishes to read, it is logical that the library is an answer."

The paper bound book is the answer to the needs of the older child. Good books are now appearing in this form and there are organizations through which these can be obtained. However, the paper bound book is suitable mostly for personal use as

Uncle Ben from Benjamin says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR

A feller come by my place the other morning and from the way he talked, I figgered he was a Government man from some of them farm bureaus. I was patching up one of my fences when he walked up and introduced hisself. He said he had my area, whatever that means. On account of me paying taxes on it fer 40 do it'll be about the most confusing "Week" we've ever had. They ain't enough peace officers, jails, year, I was thinking it was my area, but maybe they've moved the new frontier over to take in my pastures.

Anyhow, I could see right off that this feller didn't like the way I was fixing my fence. I had a couple holes dug and was putting in the cedar posts like my ancestors has always done. This feller said the proper way was to git me a posthole digger fer my tractor. But he allowed as how a metal fence or store bought posts would be better. He said them cedar posts would rot down to the center and cause my fence to wobble. As a matter of fact, he said, I ought to git me a electric fence like it was advised in Pamphlet F-309 put out by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1951.

It used to be when a farmer or rancher had a problem like this, he'd work it out hisself. But now when folks has got a problem they just set down and write their Congressman. I aim to write to mine today. I reckon he'll recommend I sell my cattle and barn and git me a electric fence. I don't know where I'll go from there. Maybe go out and set on the fence. When the Government turns on the electricity they'll be a move one way or the other.

Speaking of Congress. I was interested in a item in the papers yesterday about the attendance at the Ringling Circus in the various cities. Washington, the report said, always had the lowest attendance of any city in the country. In fact, the item allowed, Ringling was thinking about skipping the nation's capital this spring. I reckon the people in Washington having the Congress in session most of the time, ain't interested in outside attractions.

I see where some organization is suggesting we have a "Say What You Think Week." If they

Punt, Pass And Kick Contest Now Open For Area Youngsters -- Register Now

An opportunity for Knox City area boys to compete in a football punting, passing and place-kicking contest, with trips to National Football League games among the prizes, was announced this week by Jack Arledge of Arledge Motors.

Arledge said the Knox City competition is part of a nationwide program sponsored by Ford Division of Ford Motor Company in cooperation with the National Football League. Known as "P. P. & K" — Punt, Pass and Kick — the competition will culminate with all-expense trips by five national winners and their fathers to the National Football League Championship game, and an official reception at the White House.

Selection of the National Champions will be made as a result of televised competitions at a home game of each of the 14 National Football League teams.

The Knox City P. P. & K. competition is open to grade school boys aged six through 10, and will be held early in October.

Registration for the event will be at Arledge Motors from now until September 25. There is no cost, but the entrants must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. Each entrant will receive a P. P. & K. badge, an instruction book written by NFL stars Johnny Unitas, Yale Lary and Paul Hornung, and an official 1961 NFL Guidebook.

After the Knox City competition is held, the scores of the most skillful punters, passers and place-kickers—one in each age group—will be compared with the scores of boys in the other competitions held in the area covered by telecasts of the Dallas Cowboys.

The top five boys in this region and their fathers then will be given an all-expense trip to see a home game of the Dallas Cowboys and the boys will punt, pass and kick at the stadium either just before the game begins, or during half-time.

The five top winners in the Knox City contest, whether or not they qualify for the national eliminations, will receive National Football League type football uniforms, the five boys who place second will receive warm-up jackets, and third place winners will receive footballs.

Date and site of the Knox City competition, and the judges and other officials, will be announced in the near future, Arledge said.
