

Uncle Ben from Benjamin says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I was shocked to read in a magazine piece last night where Europeans don't pay much attention to Columbus Day. I never knowed before that the whole world didn't celebrate on that occasion.

Of course, over here we don't pay no attention to it. The banks sometimes close up fer that day, but they're closing up all the time anyhow, so we can't judge the importance of Columbus Day by whether or not they shut down. But over in Europe they ought to make a triple-decker out of that day and I personally would appreciate them Europeans paying a little more attention to it.

I wish you would read up on history and find out how them folks in Europe got along afore Columbus discovered America. Where did they borrow their money from? Who did they use fer reserves to throw in when they was about to lose a war? Who come to their rescue after they had won and didn't have nothing left to live on? Who rescued civilization ever twenty year in them days? I wish you'd look these things up, Mister Editor, and let me know.

I reckon it was a bad day fer the Indians when Columbus discovered America, but it was a pretty good day fer you and me, but what it was to us ain't nothing compared to what it was fer them Europeans and I wish you would find out just how they is celebrating the day over there. Do the banks all close up that day and the governments refuse to ask fer a loan from the United States on that hallowed occasion? If they ain't celebrating proper, I fer one am going to complain.

If I was a European I would put Columbus several notches above Napoleon and Bismark and Julius Caesar. From Europe's standpoint, Columbus discovered a gold mine, to heck with the East Indies or where ever he thought he was going.

Yours truly,
Uncle Ben

H-D Women Make Achievement Tour

The accomplishments of 12 members and two non-members were seen during the annual Knox County Home Demonstration Clubs Achievement Tour Friday, October 10.

Members from all clubs in the county attended. Guests were Miss Gladys Martin, state HD agent, and Miss Fern Hodge, district agent.

The first stop was in Benjamin at the home of Mrs. W. A. Glenn. She had made two hassocks from oil cans and upholstered them, furnished a bedroom with antique furniture she had refinished, refinished three picture frames and prepared dry material for two arrangements.

Mrs. L. A. Parker also displayed an arrangement of dry bells of Ireland and Tansy heads which had been sprayed with white paint and sprinkled with glitter.

At Truscott, Mrs. Marion Chowning, Sr. showed her well landscaped yard with foundation and screen planting, large well sodded lawn with separate areas for annuals and perennials. All of this is watered from a near-by reservoir. When the yard work is done, Mrs. Chowning still finds time to work on a cut-work tablecloth.

Mrs. H. P. Gillispie, also of Truscott, has upholstered four chairs and refinished three of them. She also removed the old finish from a folding bed and kitchen safe, refinishing the bed with oil and the safe with varnish. She added a magazine rack in which an old bread tray makes the holder.

At this stop, a chair upholstered by Mrs. Marion Chowning, Jr. was displayed as were pictures by Mrs. Jack Hickman, dry arrangements by Mrs. J. G. Adcock and Mrs. Homer Black, and a bride doll by Mrs. Hickman.

Doing most of the work themselves, the Homer Martins of Gilliland have added three rooms and a bath to their home and improved their storm cellar. In the Martins den, the group assembled to hear short talks by Miss Martin and Miss Hodge, and the modeling of dresses made by club members.

At Vera the group visited the J. W. Trainhams where they saw another landscaped yard with garden and orchard adjoining. Remodeling done in the home recently included the removal of a

CONSERVATION PAYMENTS BASED ON PRODUCTIVITY

Farmers who have already "reserved" part of their land under the Soil Bank's Conservation Reserve program may be eligible for the higher 1959 annual payments on the balance of their cropland if the productivity of the land warrants such increased payments, said H. H. Partridge, Chairman, Knox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Many farmers who have Conservation Reserve contracts entered into in previous years may have more attractive contracts than can be offered under the 1959 program. In determining rates of annual payment, land productivity is more important item in 1959 than in former years. In addition, the cost-share assistance for many conservation practices has been reduced beginning in 1959.

Farmers with more productive and valuable land will generally find higher rates applicable to their farms than in previous years. Nationally, the annual payment will average around $13.50 per acre, compared with the previous national average rate of $10. As in previous years, farmers taking part in the program also receive assistance during the first year of the contract to help cover the cost of installing a conservation practice on the "reserved" land.

The chairman explained that no change can be made in the level of annual payments to be made under an already-existing Conservation Reserve contract. During the past 3 years farmers have entered into Soil Bank Contracts voluntarily under the then prevailing rate of payment. Such a contract may not ordinarily be changed or broken during the period it is effective unless, of course, such a change were in the public interest.

For farmers who would like to put their entire farm in the Conservation Reserve, the higher rate of annual payment may be available for eligible land not already in the program and an additional incentive payment of 10 per cent above the normal rates will be made if all the eligible land is put in the program for at least five years.

Chairman Partridge reminded farmers that the Conservation Reserve will be the only Soil Bank program available in 1959. The Acreage Reserve for allotment crops is being discontinued after 1958.

Mr. and Mrs. Ottis Cash visited her sister, Mrs. J. C. Black, and Mr. Black in Truscott Monday night. Mr. Black, who recently underwent surgery at M. D. Anderson Hospital, Houston, is steadily improving, Mrs. Cash said.

Cameron Marketing Drilling Mud Under Own Brand Name

Announcement has been made that Wm. Cameron is now marketing drilling muds and chemicals under private label: CAM-MUD. A pioneer in the business, Cameron has been in the mud supply business for more than 31 years handling products under various brand names.

"By marketing products our brands can guarantee our customers consistent high quality and ample supply. The products are our own brand, the trade names are our own, and the responsibility of their performance is our own" says President F. R. Weddington.

The first Cameron oil field yard was established in the Permian Basin shortly after the discovery of oil there. Cameron pioneered in the establishment, growth and progress of the mud engineering phase of the oil drilling industry. Their first venture into mud engineering service was in the early 1930's.

There are 48 Cameron yards serving the oil Drilling industry in East Texas, West Texas, and oil producing areas in Oklahoma, New Mexico and Colorado. "Wherever and whenever there is a need for additional warehousing and service facilities in our areas of operations we will establish them" says Weddington.

Oil Field Division offices of the company are located in Midland Texas, with District offices in Dallas. Home offices are in Waco, Texas.

Cotton Defoliation Guide Available

A good cotton defoliation job will return dividends in terms of less trash and green stain and better grades if harvesting is done by machine, says Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist. This is especially true, adds Elliott, if the crop yield is to be high and the plants are tall, leafy and succulent.

The specialist points out that the best time for defoliating will vary with the weather, condition of the crop and the principle benefit expected. In general, however, application of the true defoliants should be delayed until 55 to 60 percent of the bolls are open. Dew is necessary to activate dust defoliants while those applied as sprays should be used in accordance with recommendations listed in L-145, "Guide for Use of Cotton Defoliants," which is available from the offices of local county agents or as recommended by the manufacturer of the material.

Elliott points out that a combination of one pound per acre of 90 percent amino triazole with one-half the recommended spray defoliants usually gives good defoliation and adequate control of second growth. Except under favorable conditions, true defoliants do not always give acceptable results for mechanical stripping, says Elliott. Therefore, desiccants are recommended but they should not be used until the top bolls are mature and a full 60 percent or more of the cotton is open. Desiccants are used to kill and dry out the plants if the cotton is to be stripped by machine before frost.

Elliott warns that good coverage of the cotton plant by the defoliant or desiccant is a must if the best possible defoliation is to be obtained. Spray applied in too little water per acre is listed by the specialist as the most common mistake made by both operators of ground sprayer rigs and planes.

Finally, the specialist advises

Social Security on Domestic Workers Not Being Reported

The Wichita Falls social security office today reported that some housewives are not reporting the wages of their household domestic help under social security as required by law.

According to Erton F. Tate, manager of the Wichita Falls district office, certain applicants for social security benefits, based on domestic work in private households, are finding that their employers have failed to record their cash wages with the Social Security Administration.

Nearly all domestic employees are now covered by social security. Tate pointed out that the legal requirement to report the wages of household employees and to remit the social tax on these wages rests directly upon the employer. The employer who fails to meet his or her responsibility to do this is liable for the delinquent on these wages, plus a penalty for failure to report at the proper time.

Tate said the procedure to report domestic employees in farm households on farms operated for profit is different from reporting domestic workers in urban areas. The farm employer must report the wages of any such person who worked for the farm household, and was paid wages of at least $150 cash in the calendar year or who worked in the farm household on 20 or more days for cash pay on a time basis. This report must be made with the Director of Internal Revenue before January 31, 1959. Farm employers report their domestic help once a year along

Man in the making

You watch your bright-haired boy turn in a twinkling from rowdy horseplay to tender cherishing of an injured bird.

How humbly proud you are of such evidence that your son is growing—in all directions!

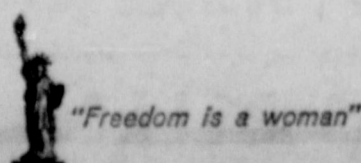

And how you want for him a world where there are no barriers to his development as a free and independent American.

There are many ways you can help assure this sort of world for him. One very important way is to be on the watch for ideas that could deprive him of his right to freedom and independence.

The idea, for instance, that "government should run such and such a business, a service, an institution." Even though it has been shown that the more things government runs, the less freedom there is for the individual.

When you hear people talking like that, point out that when you take independence away from anybody, you undermine the freedom of everybody.

Very much aware of this threat are the independent electric companies, because government already runs part of the electric business. And powerful people are pressing government to take over more.

Streams In Desert Places

By Ozelle Stephens

In studying the teachings of Jesus we learn how to accept the truths of God's word and apply them to our lives. When we become as a little child before Him we learn how to believe and how to pray the prayer of faith. Good is only hidden from us by a fog of misunderstanding in our consciousness. When we accept the statements of God's words, we find in them a dynamic statement of truth that God is our watchful caretaker, that our welfare is assured and that He is our protection, provision and love.

The very desire you have to learn is the spirit wooing you to the sure and wonderful way, to know "How to". "Ask and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you; for every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened."

School Lunchroom Menus Announced

Wed.: Chicken pie, buttered beets, lettuce and tomato salad, sliced bread, butter, peanut butter cookies, milk.

Thurs.: Stuffed wieners, buttered cabbage, corn, fruit salad, cornbread, butter, milk.

Fri.: Chicken fried steak and gravy, creamed potatoes, green beans, carrot sticks, whole wheat bread, butter, ice cream, milk.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Texas — More dust is being stirred up over issues than over candidates, in the build-up to the General Election, November 4.

Texas will vote on nine proposed amendments to the Constitution. One of them, providing for annual sessions and salaries in the Legislature, is the subject of hot debate.

A condensed outline of the amendments and arguments being presented for and against follows: (Numbers correspond to the order in which amendments will appear on the ballot.)

1. Would provide for annual sessions of the Legislature. Odd-year sessions would be devoted to all matters, as before, and even-year sessions would attend to budgeting and emergency matters. Legislators would receive an annual salary of $7,500 (instead of $25 a day for a 120-day session) and an unspecified amount for "expenses of office."

PRO: Supporters say annual sessions will allow more time for consideration of important matters. State financial planning could be done for one year at a time. No more having to "guessimate" financial needs for two years ahead. Better pay would be a step toward attracting the best qualified persons to law-making. Such influential and hard-working groups as the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce are pushing this amendment.

CON: Equally outspoken are the opponents who say it would cause needless expense when money is already short. More time in session means more chances to spend money. Proposed salary still is not enough to attract top-notch talent, but "expenses of office" could open the door to "fat-cutting" with public funds. Sen. Dorsey Harde- man of San Angelo is the recognized spokesman for the "antis" which include some other law- makers and other groups.

2. Would allow counties to extend participation in their retirement, disability and death compensation plans to elective officials of the county and precinct. Present arrangement covers only appointive officials and employees of the county.

PRO: It is a permissive law. No county has to do it unless the voters say so. It would give elective officials the same privilege as appointees, be an attraction to office.

CON: It sets no requirement for length of service. An official might serve one term—or less—and receive benefits.

3. Would allow the County Commissioners Court to fill vacancies in the office of County Judge and Justices of the Peace only until the next general election. Presently such appointments are for the remainder of the unexpired term, up to four years.

PRO: It would give voters the right to choose their own replacement to office as soon as possible.

CON: Since campaigns are so costly, there would be less incentive to run for the office for only a two-year term.

4. Would provide for an automatic resignation of a district county and precinct official who announces for any other public office more than one year before the end of his term in office.

PRO: It would keep officials on the job rather than out campaigning for some other office.

CON: It would discriminate against district, county and precinct officials since other officials—S. S. senators, state senators, railroad commissioners and others with more than two-year terms—can run for another office in midterm.

5. Would allow Home Rule cities to extend terms of their elective and appointive officials from two to four years.

PRO: It is permissive; each city can make its own decision. Two-year terms hardly allow an official time to get a program started before he has to get out and run again.

CON: Elections every two years give voters more control, build up citizen interest in government.

6. Would provide pensions, not to exceed $80 a month, for retired Texas Rangers and widows of Rangers who retired before the 1947 State Employees Retirement System was established. Money would come from the Confederate Pension Fund.

PRO: Since funds are available, it would put no extra burden on taxpayers. Protective dating clause would prevent marrying for pensions.

CON: It would allow ex-Rangers to receive pensions for as little as two years' service and with no payments on their part, a more generous arrangement than is provided for other state employees.

7. Would allow Legislature to appropriate money for advertising the advantages of Texas in nationally-circulated publications. Use of the name or picture of any living state official would be prohibited, and the public funds would have to be matched by private funds.

PRO: Texas is one of only three states without a state program to attract tourists and industry. Proponents say it would pay for itself many times by bringing new money into the state.

CON: This should be handled by the businesses who would benefit through their trade associations, chambers of commerce, etc.

8. Would allow the Legislature to appropriate money to pay for

WEATHER MAY LOWER QUALITY OF PLANTING SEED IN STATE

A continuation of the unfavorable weather could mean trouble so far as saving high quality planting seed from this year's cotton crop is concerned, warns Fred C. Elliott, extension service specialist.

In some sections, he says, cotton harvesting conditions are even worse than those of a year ago. Excessive moisture, cotton root rot and angular spot disease are contributing to lower quality seed from some areas. An early frost, he adds, could further complicate the situation. Continued high moisture in the field is a cause for high free fatty acid content in the seed and this lowers germination. Good weather, however, could change the picture and seed from even late plantings would be of good quality, he says.

Elliott advises that sufficient quantities of good quality seed of known varieties be saved and carefully stored. A continuing check of seed in storage is suggested. This is one of those seasons, he points out, when even seed with a low moisture content cannot be stored and their keeping quality forgotten until next spring.

Here are Elliott's suggestions for handling the seed situation. Check seed closely by cutting a sample with a knife before storing; store only seed with high

Postoffice Dept. Sets Dates for Overseas Mailing

November 1-20 has been designated by the Post Office Department as the period for mailing Christmas parcels. The term "Armed Forces Overseas" includes personnel of the Armed Forces, members of their families and authorized U. S. civilians overseas who receive their mail through an APO number.

Postmaster Jeff Graham advised persons planning to send Christmas gifts in addition to cards and letters to check at the postoffice regarding size and weight limitations. He also pointed out that some items are prohibited for overseas mailing.

Prohibited articles include matches and lighter fluid. Cigarettes, other tobacco products and coffee are also prohibited in parcels addressed to certain military postoffices.

Christmas cards going by surface mail should be sent between November 1 and 20, but cards and letters going by air mail may be sent between December 1 and 10.

medical care for people who receive old age assistance, aid to the blind and aid to dependent children.

PRO: It would provide help for people whose small monthly checks cannot possibly cover medical emergencies. Since payments would be made only to the vendor (doctor, hospital or what not), the money could be used only for its intended purpose.

CON: It would cost the state an estimated $9,000,000, with no limit on how much it could drain from the Treasury. It would mean double taxation for cities and counties already providing medical care for their needy.

9. Would allow the Legislature to authorize creation of hospital districts in Amarillo, Wichita County and Jefferson County.

PRO: It is permissive. People in the affected areas could decide what they want to do with it.

CON: Proposed amendment is long (1,000 words), detailed and so complicated that few voters can even understand it. If such provisions are needed, they should be made in statutes rather than by adding to our already-long Constitution.

ROUGH ROAD AHEAD — Latest reports by the State Tax Study Commission list several possible new tax sources the Legislature could turn to for additional revenue.

They include (1) new selective sales taxes, (2) a general retail sales tax, (3) a personal income tax, (4) a "value-added" tax levied on difference between selling price and cost to seller, (5) a gross income and receipts tax on business and (6) a corporation net income tax.
