

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN, TEXAS.—Two super-charged issues—taxation and recession—like two strands of a high-voltage electric fence, seem to be twined through every area of Texas government.

Recession, though considered mild and temporary, is here and now. New taxation, in the light of official estimates, will be practically unavoidable next year.

Even though the recession is labeled "minor" and new state taxes the inevitable result of explosive growth, having both issues come up at the same time makes each seem worse. Next tax talk, never popular, is even less so with people feeling the chill wind of a cut in income.

Barring an unexpectedly swift upturn in the economy, the twin issues will break through the middle of next summer's political campaigns. It'll be particularly rough campaigning for those who have to get on one side or the other of the taxation fence.

Some legislative candidates are already being asked, "If there has to be a new tax, what kind will you vote for?" Some say they haven't decided what they'd vote for, but will say what they'd vote against. Others say they're making no decision until after the State Tax Study Commission completes its reports.

LOWER, BUT GROWING—Latest report by the Tax Study Commission shows some of the possible directions in which Texas may have to move to get additional tax money.

It notes that: Besides Texas only two other states are without either a general sales tax, personal income tax or corporate income tax.

Texans in 1956 paid lower state and local taxes than the average for other states—$129.50 per capita for Texas compared with $157.50 per capita national average.

Rate of tax increase for Texas has been much faster than

ADD SIGNS OF SPRING(S)

There's a springy flavor to 1958 Easter millinery—at least to the "hardtops" inspired by Chevrolet's new air suspension. The steel chapeau on Janet Jones' head and those at her elbows represent three progressive stamping machine steps in a piece of sheet metal that goes into the manufacture of air cushion reservoirs.

Proper Balance Is Important in Choosing Fertilizer

COLLEGE STATION.—A permanent, prosperous irrigated agriculture is dependent on an adequate supply of irrigation water of satisfactory quality.

There are many things that can effect this supply and quality and in many cases, successful irrigation farming is more dependent on the management practices followed than on the quality of water available.

This is especially true in regard to salt content, or salinity, of the water. Frequently, too much attention is given to the "toxic limits" of salt concentration and not enough emphasis directed toward the selection of suitable crops and adjustment of irrigation practices to the water which is available.

All waters from surface streams and underground sources contain substances known as salt. Thousands of different salts are known. Epsom salts, gypsum, and baking soda are a few examples.

A salt-affected soil is one in which enough salt has accumulated to reduce or interfere with crop yields. The source of the salt that accumulates is usually the irrigation water, but in some cases the soil may have been salty in the virgin state, or salt accumulation may have resulted from a high water table.

A bulletin released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, "Salinity Control in Irrigation Agriculture" gives a thorough discussion of this problem and suggests several ways to counteract it.

A few of the ways given in the bulletin are provide adequate drainage; irrigate more of ten than ordinary; select crops tolerant to your salt conditions; and apply the water uniformly. This valuable bulletin may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for bulletin 876.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Spikes of Big Spring visited their son, Bill, and family in Benjamin and friends in Knox City Tuesday. The couple formerly lived in Benjamin and now operate a motel in Big Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hansen and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoge were in Wichita Falls Wednesday night to see "No Time For Sergeant" a play with the Broadway cast. The comedy was held at Memorial Auditorium and was sponsored by the Jaycees.

U. S. average. Texas rate of increase from 1953-56 was 23.4 per cent; national average, 19.4 per cent.

Commission's next report will deal with future spending needs, says Sen. William S. Fly, chairman.

UNEMPLOYMENT UP AGAIN—Texas Employment Commission reports claims for unemployment compensation at a new high.

There had been a slight drop for the previous week. But latest weekly tabulations showed TEC paid out $1,435,448, compared to $696,464 for the same week a year ago. Number of persons filing claims were 82,576, almost double the 42,705 who filed a year ago.

Even so, most recent nationwide figures show Texas to be a highly favored area. Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security says that Texas has the lowest rate of unemployment of insured workers of any state in the nation—3.6 per cent here compared to 7.9 per cent nationally.

ON PLUS SIDE—Other business barometers tend to bolster the view that Texas' economy is weathering the squally weather well.

First 1958 reports from the Bureau of Business Research on overall business activity showed the January index up eight per cent from December, one per cent from January, 1957.

Texas Banking Commission's spring call for conditions of Texas banks brought reports of hefty increases in money on deposit. Some cities showed drops in bank deposits, but in general they were up with some cities setting records or near records.

BBR's report notes that "although evidence of recession is plain, the strength of the state's economy is shown by its stubborn resistance to further decline." A small increase in building activity in early 1958 may be the forerunner of a general revival of the home building industry this year, says BBR.

On the state's No. 1 economic headache—sagging oil production—a BBR spokesman says competition of cheap foreign oil could "flatten out" Texas' growth curve. Suggested antidote: bring in other industries with strong potential to "fill in the gap."

GOVERNOR TO BATTLE IMPORTS—Gov. Price Daniel has asked Washington to reduce oil imports.

He has presented evidence gathered by the state oil imports study commission on how Texas economy is hurt by cutbacks in oil production. Governors of other oil producing states have joined him in asking that imports be limited to the 1954 level.

Though many economists predict that the problem of foreign oil is here to stay, Texas officials hope to gain at least enough relief to get the stymied domestic industry going again.

JUVENILE IMMUNITY CITED—A proposal to allow criminal court trials of teenagers who commit serious crimes may come before the next Legislature.

Dr. James A. Turman, director of the Texas Youth Council, suggested a study in this area at the joint Austin meetings of the Attorney General's Law Enforcement Conference and Texas Law Enforcement Foundation.

Turman said he felt that in some cases "chronic and serious" juvenile offenders were being over-protected by the law at the expense of society. Under present law boys under 17 and girls under 18 cannot be tried in criminal court. One "serious offender," related Turman, told officers, "You can't touch me. I'm a juvenile."

Not so in Canada, said a visiting speaker from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Canada has no minimum age for sending offenders to the penitentiary, reported the Mountie, and "we are not troubled by many murders and rapes by youngsters."

DISMISSED FROM HOSPITAL

C. V. Hackney returned to his home near Munday Saturday after being dismissed from Wichita Falls General Hospital. Members of the family said Monday that he is recuperating at home, and his condition is satisfactory. Mr. Hackney is the father of Mrs. Allen Hester and Elwood Hackney.

Winners in Talent Contest Announced

The talent show held in the Knox City school auditorium last Friday night netted the O'Brien Community Circle approximately $90, Mrs. Lynward Wilcox, president of the circle, said Tuesday. She expressed her thanks to all who helped in any way to make the talent show a success.

"Special thanks to the Knox City School for the use of the auditorium, and to all the O'Brien ladies who baked those good cakes, which were given to lucky ticket holders", Mrs. Wilcox, said.

Winners in the first division, which was pre-school children through the fifth grade, were a trio from O'Brien, Shirley Johnston, Cathy Hester, and Mary Mathis, first place; and Donnie Johnston from O'Brien, second place.

In the division for six graders through high school, the Choralettes from Rochester won first. The Gayettes from O'Brien placed second.

The Tankersley Trio from Knox City won top honors in the adult division.

Mrs. Wilcox said proceeds from the show will be used in the building of the large cellar at the O'Brien School.

Mrs. Sarah Symes of Abilene is here visiting her sister, Mrs. Les Cowan, and family.

Texas Cotton Farmers Urged to Plant All Allotted Acres

WILENE. — Texas cotton farmers, faced with the best prospects in both moisture and acreage in a decade, are being urged to plant every allotted acre of cotton this year, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce today.

A group of cotton industry leaders—including ginners, growers, shippers, buyers, Texas Agricultural Extension Service representatives of the WTCC, others—met in Dallas last Friday (March 15) to appraise the outlook in view of a large bank participation.

placing his land in the soil bank," Walker said.

"In addition, because the production will create jobs in harvesting, ginning and such, the farmer will be helping to insure Texas and particularly West Texas from feeling the serious effects from the recession that is creating such hardships in other sections of the nation.

"Perhaps equally important in the long run," Walker stated, "is the fact that unless we produce quality cotton in the largest possible quantities, we will be losing more of our market to synthetics and foreign produced cotton."

Walker stated that presently there is scarcity of high quality cotton, a condition brought about by last year's bad weather which lowered the cotton grade. Both domestic mills and foreign customers are bidding for cotton of high quality, he said.

"Increased world consumption, combined with the shortage of high grade lint, should cause the better grades of cotton to sell above the support price of $1.90 per bale (for middling inch)," the WTCC agriculturist said.

Walker's views were supported in the Dallas meeting by Burris C. Jackson of Hillsboro, chairman of the Statewide Cotton Committee of Texas. At the Dallas meeting of the group, Jackson said the heavy participation in the soil bank is a threat to the state's economy.

The tragedy, he said, is that a great industry is about to be wrecked, and millions of people will be financially hurt.

It has been estimated, according to Walker, that the 1,868,913 acres in the soil bank in Texas would represent a production drop of $180,000,000 worth of cotton. And, since a bale of cotton generates business worth five times its original value, this will mean an economic loss of nearly a billion dollars.

Walker said roughly 50 percent of the economic loss will be in West Texas.

Walker said it was learned that the reduction in cotton ginning would amount to labor loss totaling 2,167 employees with a salary loss of $4,352,000. The loss in gin work from the acres in the soil bank would be equal to the shutting down of 544 cotton gins in Texas.

J. D. Prewit, assistant director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said the soil bank acres would result in the following business loss in Texas:

- Seed, $3,513,556; fertilizer, $2,466,965; hired labor (except harvesting), $3,513,556; insecticides, $6,541,195; tractor fuels, oils, repairs and other machinery costs, $5,606,739; harvesting and hauling, $25,230,325; ginning, $5,887,075; bagging and ties, $1,962,369. This loss totals $54,721,770.

Water Salinity Is Irrigation Hazard

COLLEGE STATION. —Maintaining the proper nutrient balance in the application of fertilizer is important in getting top profit from money invested in fertilizer, advises Bill Bennett, extension soil chemist, in charge of the Texas A & M College Soil Testing Laboratory.

Too much nitrogen applied to a crop will often cause a plant to become vegetative and lessen the fruit set. Too much phosphorus or potassium in relation to nitrogen, he adds, will cause a plant to be small, mature early and fail to make its top potential yield.

To determine the proper nutrient balance for a soil, Bennett suggests that a soil test be made. A soil test will determine the amount and kind of the various plant nutrients that should be applied to give the proper nutrient balance for the crop that is to be grown. The result is the application of the most profitable rate of fertilizer. A test will also eliminate unnecessary application of nutrients not needed.

Bennett points out that if soil samples are taken it is necessary to take a sample which will give a true representative picture of the field being tested. A poorly taken sample, he points out, could result in a fertilizer recommendation which actually could be misleading and result in wrong recommendations. For information on how to take a soil sample, Bennett suggests a visit with the county agriculture agent who also has forms for listing information which must accompany the soil sample.

UNCLE
SKEPTIC

To be truthful about it, Uncle Luke is plumb "ornery" about a lot of things. He rants at the blasted "airplanes" that scare his chickens . . . he fusses about the way women dress nowadays . . . he's never been to a picture show . . . and one of his pet hates is those "ix*x" squawk boxes" somebody around the house is always turning on while he's trying to read his newspaper. Oh yes! Uncle Luke likes his newspaper . . . dots on it, in fact. Says it's the only way a feller could tell what's really going on in this crazy world nowadays.
