Clubs To Sponsor Lighting Contest

Knox City will again have a Christmas Lighting Contest. It is being sponsored this year by the 1946 Study Club, Knox City Study Club, Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, and Knox City Garden Club.

Club, told the Herald that there would be no categories this year and awards would be judged on the overall effect. Also the contest is open only to the residential area, and no entries are required.

Four prizes will be given with first, $20.00; second, $15.00; third, $10.00; and fourth, $5.00.

The sponsoring organizations hope that all residents will participate in this year's contest, not only for the awards, but for the beauty of the Christmas season. Mrs. Willison said.

ROGERS LANKFORD

QB Club Choice In Nov. 13 Game

Members of the Quarterback Club have chosen Rogers Lankford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lankford, as Greyhound of the Week for his outstanding offensive and defensive play in the Knox City-Roscoe game here on November 13.

The 145 pound senior and four year letterman received a knee injury in the KC-Shamrock game on September 25 and was out of action for three weeks. He was able to rejoin the squad for part of the KC-Baird action and returned to fulltime support in the Albany game.

During football season the Quarterback Club, in its regular weekly meetings at the Field House, chooses the Greyhound of the Week after viewing the film from the previous game. It is a policy of the club to select a different player each week, as a player is not eligible to receive the award more than once.

Winner of the award is pictured in the Herald, and also at the annual awards' banquet, a bronze engraved plaque is presented to the school with the player's name, classification, date of game, and the opponent. The plaque contains the name of all ten players who were chosen during the season and is placed in the trophy case.

The club feels that the award serves as an incentive to each member of the squad to put forth an all-out effort each week.

1946 Study Club Donates Bonds To KC Lions Club

At the regular noonday luncheon of the Knox City Lions Club last Wednesday, 1946 Study Club president Mrs. Robert J. Willison donated her club's share of Lions Club Swimming Pool bonds purchased over ten years ago from the Lions Club at the time the pool was constructed in the City Park.

Lions Club president Sam E. Clonts gratefully accepted the donation on behalf of the club and commended the 1946 Study Club for its genuine concern in community improvement.

Clonts explained that bonds were sold to help finance the much-needed project and have reached retirement. He said the bonds could be re-issued if the owners so desire, or if other individuals or organizations would care to contribute their bonds, it would be deeply appreciated.

Proceeds from the Lions Club Carnival each year go toward the payment of these bonds.

The pool, built in June, 1959, has been and continues to be of great benefit and of tremendous value to the community. Many young persons, as well as adults, enjoy the pool each summer. As limited as recreational facilities are in our town, the pool is a favorite spot for many during the hot summer months.

Looking back to the dedication date of June 25, 1959, 163 persons attended a picnic supper and a variety of programs at poolside capped off by the dedication of the $20,500 pool. The late Bill Sams acted as MC and introduced Judge Lewis Williams who gave the dedicatory address and praised the Lions and all local citizens who had a part in making the pool a reality only three months after the idea was first mentioned. He also commended the City of Knox City who donated the site and purchased the filtering system - a considerable item in pool construction. And he acknowledged citizens who volunteered their labor to build the fence, bathhouses, and pour concrete walkways.

Retiring President Otto Lawson was in charge of the ribbon cutting and the following officers were installed just prior to taking an "unscheduled" swim: President, Doyle Graham; first vice president, Jack Fisher; second vice president, Fuller Shannon; third vice president, Gerald Averitt; Tall Twister, Henry White; Lion Tamer, J. G. Robin; secretary, G. W. Coats; directors, Pete Edge, Joe Clonts, Joe Roy Smith, Bill Sams, and Otto Lawson.

To date the pool remains a credit to the community just as it was intended, and a project worth individual pride and praise.

AREA MEET

son, and Alamo Heights in San Antonio.

Superintendent Douglas Myers of Munday introduced Miss Williams who told her audience that it was due to the interest of the community, letters from mayors, and school board endorsements of the application that helped secure the approval of the Plan A structure for this area. She said some of the communities wrote anti-letters regarding the special education program and others were interested only in what the program would mean to them in dollars and cents. She explained that the program is designed to help any child who has departure from normal and therefore, it can be very beneficial not only to the child who is slow but also the gifted child. Miss Williams reported that we are now able to recognize danger signals - such as reading letters backward - an early intervention on this kind of problem can prevent failure later. She related that in a study of handicapped children after a three-year program, third graders could read on an 80% grade level while math students were on a 70% level. The handicapped third graders who were not included in the program, both in reading and math, could only produce on a 10% level. She said that inmates at Gatesville were 50% illiterate and most had a deep desire to be able to read and comprehend.

The Special Education program is two-way, dealing with early childhood, ages 3-5, and the special education component. Teachers and aides in our area have access to a quarter million dollar resource and the programs benefit every child in that the slower ones may progress at their own level - they are not bypassed - and then they are programmed back into the regular classrooms.

Don Lamb of Buchester is supervisor of the early childhood component with Miss Allison as counselor, and is assisted by nine regular classroom teachers and five aides.

James Mickler of Palm Creek is chief administrator for the special education component, assisted by Wanda Briles, Lora Beth Ross, Dorothy Myers, and Betty Thorn, secretary. He has three staff members, eighteen classroom teachers, and seven aides.

Miss Williams, who is very enthusiastic about the special education programs, relayed through experience the good that the programs are doing. She asked those in the audience Thursday night to remove the labels - retarded or the child from that family, and by the same token, remove the shame that some associate with being handicapped. She urged that we continue to educate these children at their levels - the brain injured, the blind, the deaf and dumb. She reminded all that it is our responsibilities as teachers, parents, citizens, to continue to 'get involved' and help these children to help themselves.

"The programs are being observed and will continue to need further support from people like you. Let's not fall those who need us, but prove what we can do," Miss Williams concluded. "These individuals have a right to learn. The definition of dignity is - Quality or state of being worthy. Let's restore dignity to all children and assume the responsibility for action."

Present from the Abilene Region XIV Center were Miss Mary Hood, co-ordinator, and Mrs. Lenell Gann, who assists in planning and is media director. Representing the Wichita Falls Region IX Service Center were Max Fullerton, director, and his staff, Mildred Bear, Ronald Services, Susan Jacobs, Cynthia Procknow, and Paul Green.

Guests also enjoyed a Thanksgiving dinner, catered by members of the junior and senior classes of Knox City High School.

Auxiliary's Gift Shop And Tree Successful

The American Legion Auxiliary Christmas tree and Gift Shop held November 18, proved to be very successful. Mrs. Ruby Robinson, chairman, reported, "Due to you, our good Knox City friends, by giving your money and gifts, our disabled veterans in the Dallas Hospital will be able to make their families have a Merry Christmas with your contributions".

The workers at the hospital set up a shop each year and the veterans that are able to be in a wheel chair go to the shop to do their Christmas shopping. However, if they are bedfast, trays of gifts are taken to the men and they make their selection from these gifts to give to their families. Mrs. Robinson explained.

The local Auxiliary 229 also sends a money contribution, which is called Christmas assessment, in order that the hospital may buy each patient a Christmas gift.

Mrs. Robinson again expressed appreciation and concluded, "I know we all still care, but sometimes we are careless. Again a big thank you.

"We wish each and everyone a joyful Thanksgiving, a Merry Christmas, and Joy to the World."

Tax Man Sam Sez:

Most taxpayers don't think of Internal Revenue Service as representing anything to be thankful for - However, a Dallas District IRS employee comes up with this list of items to be thankful for:

(1) That he lives and works in a nation with the highest morals on earth - where 97% of the Federal tax collections are self-assessed and voluntarily paid.

(2) Where over 2500 school teachers provide a good neighbor service and help IRS teach more than 175,000 students how to prepare their tax returns each year.

(3) Where several hundred voluntary income tax instructors from numerous organizations help teach thousands of taxpayers how to prepare a better tax return each year.

The list goes on, but the gist is - America is a great place to earn enough money to pay a whole lot of tax.

Give Savings Bonds This Christmas

"This year, U. S. Savings Bonds make better-than-ever Christmas gifts", Rex Brack, Texas Chairman for the Treasury's Savings Bonds Program, said today. "The interest rate is higher than ever, and the popular E Bond has a shorter-than-ever maturity period."

The recently announced 1 1/2 per cent bonus brings the effective rate of interest on Bonds bought today to 5 1/2 per cent if held to maturity - and E Bonds now mature in only 5 years, 10 months.

There are other reasons for buying Savings Bonds as gifts, Brack pointed out. "You don't have to worry about size, shape, or color. And they're priced to fit almost any pocketbook. They're indestructible - if lost, stolen, mutilated, or destroyed, the Treasury will replace them free of charge. They're patriotic, too.

"It's easy to buy Bonds. Your bank has them available in denominations ranging from 25¢ to $1,000. And you now have a choice of four colors! - and free - gift envelopes.

"While Savings Bonds are especially appropriate at Christmas time, they are ideal gifts for almost any occasion", Brack added. "For birthdays, new babies, anniversaries, graduations, weddings - you name it - Savings Bonds are the gift that keeps on giving."

The word of God is mighty in its influence. It is a devouring flame, a crushing hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces. It is a life-giving force that caused the valley of bones to come together, giving life. It is a saving power that brings salvation to every one that believeth. It is a defensive weapon, the helmet of salvation and the sword of the spirit. It purifies the life whereby you cleanse your ways. It is a probing instrument that is a discernor of your thoughts and intents of the heart. It is all yours and mine by faith believing. Let us be thankful for such a Blessed and Wonderful Lord and God. *****

Cancer patients in Texas are being aided by information collected by the Texas State Department of Health in its Cancer Registry.
While previous research into cancer is of great benefit to those with the disease today, the future holds more promise because of information being collected on cancer, its treatment and follow-through examinations.
"One of the primary purposes of the Cancer Registry," said Dr. W. S. Brumage, Chief of Special Health Services of the Texas State Department of Health, "is to follow-up cancer patients through their family physicians and hospitals to determine the quality and length of care and survival. Continuation of care to the cancer patient is of primary importance." He said this necessitates a lifetime follow-up and periodic examinations.
The Registry hopefully can provide us with information as to what is the best type of care, he said. This includes surgery, radiation, chemotherapy or a combination of these. "This can be of vital concern to cancer patients of the future," said Dr. Brumage.

BLESSINGS at THANKSGIVING

LET US BE THANKFUL FOR THE CONTINUED PROSPERITY OF OUR LAND

The Registry had its start in 1949 and was housed at M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston. It operated under sponsorship of the Texas Cancer Coordination Council and was composed of volunteer hospitals which provided records of cancer cases and follow-up exams. On the council were the State Health Department, M. D. Anderson Hospital, Texas Medical Association, Texas Dental Association and Texas Division, American Cancer Society.
In 1959 the State Health Department took over sponsorship and designed a local hospital cancer registry booklet, A manual, "Your Hospital Cancer Registry Guide," provides each participating hospital with suggestions to use in collecting uniform data about the patient, the disease, treatment and follow-up. One aspect of the disease of major importance is its location in the body and the stage of the disease when the patient reported for treatment - whether localized, with regional involvement or remote metastasis.
Dr. Brumage said the local hospital or clinic is the base on which the Registry is built. This operational procedure is approved by the American College of Surgeons. He noted that many hospitals use the services of the Cancer and Heart Division. Some use the reporting forms and although they may not be a part of the Cancer Registry program, we consult with them also, said Dr. Brumage.

Information from the participating hospital or clinic is put on the Texas State Department of Health computer. More than 100,000 persons are on the Register now. Some 30,000 new cancer cases were reported in Texas in 1969. *****
No wonder it is hard for us to save money - the neighbors are always buying things we can't afford.

Cotton Classing Report

The USDA Cotton Classing Office at Munday classed 10,472 samples during the week ending November 20, 1970. The season total reached 34,260 samples. This is approximately one-half of the total expected, according to John E. Williams, in-charge. The office continues to be about 4 days behind in classing.
There was an increase in the amount of white cotton classed with grade 31 showing the largest increase. The predominant grades and percentages were: 31 with 13 per cent, 41 with 25 per cent, 32 with 34 per cent, and 42 with 22 per cent. Staple length percentages remained unchanged with 29's accounting for 28 per cent, 30's, 48 per cent, 31's, 10 per cent, and 32's and longer, 15 per cent.
Micronaire readings stayed the same with 53 per cent miking in the premium range and 47 per cent was 5.0 or higher. Pressley fiber strength readings remained unchanged with 92 per cent averaging 80,000 pounds per square inch or higher.
Cotton prices were also down 25 points over what was reported last week. Producers received from 200 to 375 points above CCC loan prices for grades of 32 and over and staple lengths less than one-inch. Some average prices for predominant grades in the premium mize range were: 32, 30 - 19.85 cents per pound; 42, 29 - 19.45 cents; and 42, 30 -

The hall was decorated throughout with yellow mums. Blue tapers glowed on the beautiful table laid with a gold cloth and centered with miniature bride and groom nestled in blue-green net ribbons and yellow mums. Mrs. Myrtle White poured punch, and Cindy Foster, sister of the prospective bridegroom registered guests. A small blue bud vase with miniature yellow mums was on the register table.

Mrs. G. E. Wilson and Mrs. E. Q. Warren alternated at the piano and provided background music during the afternoon.

Honored guests attending were the honoree's mother, Mrs. Martin of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Kent of Muleshoe, grandparents of the groom-elect, and the groom-elect's parents.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, December 5, in Midland.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Bertram S. Brown, M.D. Director National Institute of Mental Health

Getting Well Learn-In

A special learn-in program at a State mental hospital in Ohio is helping disturbed youngsters so successfully that most of them can return to their homes and schools within a few months.

Hawthorn State Hospital in Northfield reports 80 discharges out of 83 juvenile admissions since October 1965, when it introduced an educational and behavior modification program for young psychotic patients, age 10 to 17, mostly schizophrenics.

Only ten percent of the patients who were discharged had to return for further treatment. The others are now living at home and attending school, or pursuing careers.

The education-oriented therapy program, started by Dr. George A. Gollas, is based at Hawthorne Hills School, a State-accredited school located on the hospital grounds.

Boys and girls live in separate parts of an open ward which adjoins a large school area with a library, classrooms, and gymnasium. In this setting, the hospital tries to duplicate normal school days as much as possible for the young patients.

Students must follow their school schedules closely; and all rules are strictly enforced. The youngsters know exactly what is expected of them at all times.

"The results have been tremendous," says Dr. Eliere J. Tolan, the hospital superintendent, "and the teachers are doing a great job of rehabilitating these seriously disturbed youngsters, many of whom otherwise would face long periods of hospitalization."

The Hawthorne Hills School project is being aided by a Hospital Improvement Program grant from the National Institute of Mental Health, a component of the Health Services and Mental Health Administration, U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

More than $140 million a year from the sale of hunting and fishing licenses, along with excise taxes levied at the request of sportsmen on firearms, ammunition and fishing tackle, are to date the main impetus for most of the conservation efforts. Store Thefts Feed Inflation Fires

Losses from burglary and larceny are called inventory "shrinkage."

As a result, consumers must pay higher prices to compensate for the goods lost to thieves plus the cost of business security measures to discourage thefts.

Stores across the country are spending millions of dollars for security programs ranging from chained-down merchandise to elaborate guard systems and electronic detection devices to halt thievery.

During the 1960's larceny (theft of merchandise worth $50 and over) rose 199 percent and all burglary, from homes and commercial establishments, rose 117 percent, according to the latest FBI Crime Index.

For businesses, these losses range from 1.5 to 2.6 percent of sales—or an estimated $4 billion per year, plus added billions for anti-theft equipment.

Patience and time do more than strength and passion.

Charity often consists of a generous impulse to give away something we have no use for.

People find experience such a hard teacher because she gives the test before the lesson.

When you get the best of a bargain, it's cunning; when the other fellow gets the best of it, it's cheating.

State Dept. Of Public Welfare Wants To Help Abused Children

Thousands of children in the United States are injured each year by their parents or caretakers. The injuries range from mild to severe, many scar or crippled the child, and some result in death.

Even more children suffer physically and emotionally from neglect, abandonment and desertion by their parents. These children grow up to be fearful, insecure and suspicious, becoming adults who may neglect and abuse their own children.

This problem has become so severe that in the last ten years all 50 states have passed laws to protect children.

Parents who abuse their children are found in all classes of society. They usually do not want to be bad parents, but often are immature, mentally ill or too burdened by their own problems and needs to be able to be good parents. This is a tragic waste of Texas' greatest resource.

Texas Law provides a system for bringing help to these troubled families. But unless YOU report the situations YOU know about, children will continue to be neglected and abused and might be killed.

You should report it when you have reason to believe that a child has been physically injured by malicious beating, striking or other cruel and inhumane treatment or by neglect causing pain or discomfort, or by exploitation or exposure to unwholesome situations.

You do not have to be an eyewitness of abuse or hear a parent's confession. If you believe that neglect or abuse has taken place, you are justified in reporting the situation.

If you can, give your local State Department of Public Welfare the names of the parents and the child, their address, the child's age, the nature of the child's injury and his condition. However, if you do not know these facts, any information you can give will be helpful to the person who will investigate

Senior Class News

Thursday night was the Junior-Senior Thanksgiving Supper and all the Seniors and Juniors have really been busy. We had a very good turn out, and we appreciate the people who worked and ate with us. Thanks for making our project a success.

The Hounds and Houndettes played Crowell Tuesday night and won two out of three games. The "B" boys and the Houndettes won while the "A" boys were defeated. Seniors playing basketball this year include Alice Martinez, Betsy Ross, Gwen Angle, Rogers Lankford, Mike Newton, Sam Tankersley, and Steve McKay. The KCHE teams play Monday there on November 20 and Monday, here, Tuesday November 24. Help support the Hounds and Houndettes during the 1970-71 Basketball season.

Saturday the football team is going to see the Tech-Arkansas game in Lubbock.

There will be an Interscholastic League Workshop at Midwestern University Saturday and Mrs. Watson is taking some prospective contestants to Wichita Falls for this workshop. Mary Jo Campbell and Gwen Angle are going in Ready Writing. Jody McKinney is going in One-Act play.

Last Tuesday the Bullies, the Houndettes and the Hounds traveled to Crowell. The bullies won and the Houndettes won, but the Hounds lost.

Last Friday we played Monday. We will be out for Thanksgiving Thursday.

We got our pictures last Tuesday.

Wednesday, all of high school went to the gym for an FHA meeting. A woman came and spoke to us on drugs. It was very interesting. I'm sure everyone enjoyed it.

Tuesday the freshmen went to the Baptist Church to take SRA tests. We missed the first two periods of school.

Greenhand News

By RANDY PACK

Last week, which was Monday we started on the study of Pig Production. This is the first step because after this we will go on the Cattle, Sheep, and Poultry Production.

We have learned from Mr. Burkham that raising pigs is not an easy job. One has to give them as much attention as a baby, because how would you like it if you were in a cage, without food and water? Not very much! You, the owner have got to provide for them just as you would provide for your family.

We have also learned of the many breeds of pigs. Each has its own qualities.

There have been rumors going around us (Greenhands) that our Greenhand initiation is next week. We have been threatened time after time about this, and we're scared to death.

Science Dept. News

By JEAN MARTINEZ

With the six weeks over, the students began their third six weeks in lecture with the respiratory system.

The study of the respiratory system will involve the two types of respiration and what respiration requires.

The students had a lab Wednesday that involved food testing. While it was a simple lab I might add that it was a long one.

The purpose of food testing was to test certain raw foods for the specific food nutrients.

The first food test was for the testing of starch. By adding iodine to simple starch solution, the reaction caused the starch solution to turn a purplish color.

The second test was for the testing of sugar. The simple sugar and water solution turned an orange-red color when Benedict's solution, which is a blue chemical, was added to the glucose solution.

The third test was for protein. By adding nitric acid to the protein or egg albumin, the result was a milky color.

The last test was for fat. In this test, ether was added to a piece of fat in a test tube and after it was decomposed, the solution was poured on filter paper. The result was that the paper became translucent due to the grease stain.

There was one final test made and the result was turned in for a grade.

An unknown food material was issued to the students. They were to test the solution and on a paper tell what was in the solution.

Our Junior High basketball teams are playing in the O'Brien tournament, but as we had to have our school news in early, we do not know how they came out. We play Aspermont Monday night there.

We will get out of school Wednesday for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Report cards were given out Wednesday of last week and now we can start trying to do better for the next six weeks. Just think - one more six weeks and school is half over for this year!

One of the junior high coaches, Coach Hibbits, was operated on Thursday in Wichita Falls and we hope he is doing alright and will be able to return soon.

Homemaking II

We are finishing up our last week of sewing. I'm sure everybody will be glad to start something else.

Wednesday, November 18, the FHA girls asked a speaker to speak to the entire school body. After the formal FHA opening Terri Whitten introduced the speaker. As a member of Alcoholics Anonymous, she told how she had been an alcoholic and joined Alcoholics Anonymous to quit drinking. She is now giving talks over the state to groups of young people.

By JANNA HISE

Last week, instead of having our monthly FHA meeting, we had a guest speaker to speak to the high school. The program was given by Jackie Jackowitch. It was over alcoholism. We all enjoyed it very much.

Thursday afternoon a group of Homemaking I girls consisting of Martha Jones, Ginger Crowover, Diane Clonts, and Chris Larson, gave a program to the Homemaking I class over "Decisions That Count." Alice Valdez, Irene Letija, Denise Grindstaff, and Janna Hise, furnished the refreshments.

Annual Homemakers Test To Be Given Tues., Dec. 1

Awards including $110,000 in college scholarships will be at stake Tuesday, December 1, when high school senior girls here join 648,000 others in schools throughout the 50 states and the District of Columbia in the written knowledge and attitude examination of the 17th annual Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Chosen on the basis of test scores here, the winner for the local high school will receive a specially designed silver charm from General Mills, sponsor of the education program. Additionally, her paper will be entered in competition with those of all other school winners in the state.

The State Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship and, together with the winners from the other 49 states and the District of Columbia - each accompanied by a school adviser - will tour Washington, D. C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va., next spring.

Second-place finishers in each state receive $500 educational grants. Schools of State Homemakers of Tomorrow are awarded complete sets of Encyclopaedia Britannica by Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc.

Culminating the tour for state winners will be announcement of the 1971 Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow, whose scholarship will be increased to $5,000. State Homemakers of Tomorrow ranking second, third and fourth in the nation will have their scholarships raised to $4,000, $3,000, and $2,000. National judging is based on original test scores plus personal observation and interviews during the tour.

Initiated by General Mills in the 1954-55 school year to emphasize the importance of homemaking as a career, the Betty Crocker Search - only national scholarship program exclusively for high school girls - will have awarded more than $1 3/4 million in educational grants upon completion of this year's program. During its 17-year history, almost seven and three-quarters million senior girls have been enrolled.

Book Features Famous Trees

College Station - "Famous Trees of Texas", a 200-page hardcover book which features 96 notable trees of Texas is expected to be ready for distribution in mid-December 1970. Advance orders for early delivery are now being accepted. Cost of the book, including sales tax and mailing, is $3.

Each tree is reproduced in full-color and is accompanied by a brief account of its claim to fame. Directions for reaching the trees make this an invaluable aid to Texans and tourists interested in visiting these famous trees.

The idea for this book was conceived several years ago. Some of the trees which appear in the book were featured in the "Texas Forest News" quarterly.

Publication of "Famous Trees of Texas" was made possible by a $40,000 grant from The Moody Foundation of Galveston. Through their generosity, a copy of "Famous Trees" will be placed in all public libraries and all college and public school libraries in Texas.

Proceeds from the sale of the remainder of the books will be placed in a Forest Conservation Education Fund to be used for future reprints of the book and other conservation education programs of the Service.

Some of the trees featured in "Famous Trees of Texas" are the Treaty Oak at Austin, the Sam Houston Pecan at Huntsville; the Masonic Oak near Braxton; the Rough Riders Pecan in San Antonio; the Bloys Symbolic Oak near Fort Davis, and the Hangman's Oak near Bandera.

Advance orders for "Famous Trees of Texas" should include a check or money order, made payable and sent to the Texas Forest Service, College Station, Texas 77843.

S. S. Reports

Farmers and ranchers in this area should be sure to apply for Medicare during the three months before the month they reach age 65, even if they continue working, says Wayne Klipping social security district manager in Vernon.

"You don't have to retire to enroll for Medicare," Klipping explained. "But you must apply with your social security representative and provide him with adequate proof of your age," he continued.

Since Medicare is administered by social security, the same evidence is necessary in applying for Medicare as that required when you apply for social security benefits.

This evidence includes proof of your age (such as your birth or baptismal certificate), proof of your most recent earnings (your last years income tax return and W-2 forms), and your social security card.

Klipping also mentioned that many farmers and ranchers 62 or over may find themselves eligible to receive some social security monthly benefits, even though they continue working, if their net yearly profit is low.

1970 YEARBOOK OF AGRICULTURE

"Contours of Change" is the title of the recently released 1970 Yearbook of Agriculture. It is a book which every American should find both interesting and full of information they can appreciate. Copies are available from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402, for $3.50 per copy. Each member of Congress also has a limited number of copies for free distribution.

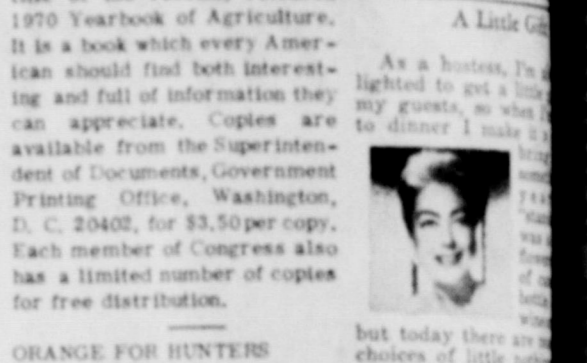

ORANGE FOR HUNTERS

Chances are good there were human fatalities on the opening day of the hunting season and chances are even better the primary cause was carelessness on the part of someone.

The color of the clothing worn by hunters, explains County Agent Herman Collier, can have a strong bearing on reducing hunting accidents. Red is no longer considered the safest color for a hunter to wear in the woods.

Science has come up with a color which is credited with reducing hunting accidents and it is known as hunter's orange. The fluorescent color was labeled "most visible" after tests by the United States Army, Harvard University and the Massachusetts Department of Fisheries and Game. Hunter orange stood out like a beacon in situations where other colors blended into the background. During the hours of dusk and dawn, when other colors tend to fade, hunter orange is highly visible.
