on the issue but more than this they are grateful to her for her dedication and the outstanding contribution which she has made to the community through her private school. She has filled a need which many will cherish as one of the happiest times of their lives.

Mrs. Vaughan said that her services will be extended again this year providing enough children enroll to warrant keeping her school open.

School Registration Begins Aug. 18 At KC

School children in Knox City, kindergarten age through high school, will register for the 1970-71 school year on Tuesday, August 18, and regular classes will begin Monday, August 24. Teachers will be undergoing in-service from August 17 through August 21.

Supt. Bill Baker said that the elementary school children will begin registering at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning and parents who wish to register their children and then take them with them may do so at any time between 9 and 11 a.m. All kindergarten and first graders must bring immunization records and birth certificates with them.

School buses will run the regular routes Tuesday and will return students to their farm homes after dismissal at 11 o'clock.

The school will observe the Labor Day Holiday on September 7.

Records Needed By All Beginners

Supt. W. R. Baker told the Herald this week that children entering school or public school kindergarten for the first time this fall will need a certified copy of his or her birth certificate and an immunization record indicating protection against diphtheria, tetanus, smallpox and other diseases.

Copies of birth records can be obtained from the county or city of the child's birth or by request from the State Health Department in Austin for a fee of $1.50.

Parents are urged to obtain copies of birth certificates now before the volume of requests causes delay. Each certificate must be checked for omissions or errors to meet statutory requirements. Last year the Texas Vital Statistics Bureau made over 200,000 certification and verifications.

Knox Co. Farmers Aid In Pollution Prevention

In the mounting concern over the environment, Knox County farmers stand out as pioneers and have done much to improve overall quality of the environment and prevent and reduce pollution.

A. J. Navratil, chairman of the Knox Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, points out that many Americans are becoming more and more aware of pollution problems. However, for years the nation's farmers have been steadily carrying out conservation measures that reduce pollution.

The Knox ASC County Committee is encouraged by the sudden interest in environmental quality by great numbers of Americans. Navratil stated, "We all have a tremendous stake in rebuilding a quality environment that will insure every American clean air, clean water, and open spaces. If we will all work and cooperate with each other, we can do this job."

The Knox County ASC chairman points out that ASCS, the U. S. Department of Agriculture farm programs agency, has long been sharing costs with farmers for conservation and pollution-prevention practices. Although many farmers practice conservation and anti-pollution, practices on their own, cost-sharing helps assure consistently wise use of the nation's soil and water resources. It helps pay for practices which farmers could not carry out by themselves to the extent needed in the public interest.

Navratil emphasizes that conservation measures also provide immediate scenic and recreation benefits for everyone - plus cleaner water and air for now and the future. At the same time, farmland not needed for crop production is conserved for future uses.

He singled out one important conservation practice, seeding of vegetative soil cover, as helping prevent erosion and siltation - which are major pollution problems. "Green, growing, well-rooted cover keeps soil where it belongs and prevents it from washing into rivers, estuaries, and public water supplies," he commented. Engineers estimate that it costs 20 times as much to remove a cubic yard of silt from a river or harbor as it does to keep it where it belongs in the first place.

Navratil adds that in addition to preventing siltation itself, vegetative cover prevents pollution by phosphorus, a basic plant nutrient, that moves with the soil, adding fuel for algae bloom and other forms of water pollution.

Despite these successes, a recent conservation needs inventory shows that rural America is barely holding its own in conservation and anti-pollution work, Navratil said. "For that reason, we want to find ways for ASCS conservation and pollution-abatement practices to have even more impact in solving problems of environmental quality and preserving and enhancing our soil, water, woodland, wildlife, and recreational resources.

"We're placing more emphasis on practices and projects with greater community benefits," Navratil explained. "We're making more effort to enlist community support for cost-shared conservation and pollution abatement practices that benefit the entire populace."

Local Couple Attends Largest Trailer Rally In Hershey, Pa.

Hershey, Pa. - Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Averitt of Knox City were among the more than 8,425 travel trailerists attending the 13th International Rally of the Wally Byam Caravan Club here June 29 through July 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Averitt's Airstream trailer was among the 3,370 similar recreational vehicles gathered near Hershey Stadium. The Averitts plan to go on Eastern Canadian Caravan and return home in September of this year.

The local trailer fans attended what is virtually certain to be the largest gathering of the recreational vehicles held anywhere on the continent this year. All past rallies of the Wally Byam Caravan Club, including the one last year at Laramie, Wyo. have set such attendance records.

Led by Paul Chamberlain of Scottsdale, Ariz., International president of the club, the trailerists represented every state in the Union, including Alaska and Hawaii, every province in Canada, and parts of Mexico and several other countries.

They were welcomed to Pennsylvania at a special opening day ceremony June 29 by representatives of state and local officials and then settled down to seven full days and nights of fun through fellowship. Scores of activities were provided for them, including displays of amateur art and handicraft, night-time dances, programs of both professional and amateur entertainment and tournaments in horseshoes, bridge, chess and floats, marching and equestrian units which took more than an hour to pass a reviewing stand was a spectacular event of the rally. Individual floats were decorated with an astonishing array of materials and props brought to the rally in the trailers.

Beginning as early as June 26, when the rally grounds were first opened to the general membership of the Caravan Club, the rally quickly became an "instant suburb" of Hershey, Pa. Soon the "suburb" dwarfed the city itself in terms of population. The trailers - all of them of the Airstream make - quickly formed "streets" and "avenues", with room for the passenger car towing vehicles to come and go freely.

SS Reports

For half a million young recipients of social security benefits the beginning of summer is a critical time, according to Wayne Klipping, social security manager in Vernon. These are the students, between 18 and 22, who must notify the Social Security Administration of their intention to return to school in the fall if they want to keep payments coming over the summer months.

Ordinarily, benefits to children of disabled, deceased or retired workers stop at 18. But beneficiaries who continue their education in an accredited university, college, high school, or a vocational school approved or licensed by the State are eligible for monthly checks up to the age of 22.

For these students, benefit payments can continue during a vacation period of not more than 4 months if the student was a full-time student before the period started and intends to return to full-time attendance after the period ends. By completing the "Students Statement Regarding School Attendance" form, normally sent to student beneficiaries about a month before the end of the school year, the student can ensure the continuity of his benefit payments during his vacation.

"However, students who don't receive one of the forms by June 1 should contact their nearest social security office," said Klipping. "If they fail to do so, their checks may be delayed."

He also pointed out that a student's earnings from a job or self-employment may affect his benefit payments. The general rule is that a student can receive full benefit payments for all months of a year in which his earnings totaled $1,680 or less. If he earns more than this, some benefits will be withheld.

Regardless of his total annual earnings, however, a student can receive a benefit for any month in which he neither earns wages of more than $140 nor performs substantial services in self-employment.

Conservation Vs. Pollution

"America has discovered the environment, and it's about time!" says Arche Leib, conservationist with Soil Conservation Service in Knox City. The simple life led by a few early Americans has evolved into a complicated one affecting more than 200 million. Problems have changed from where to begin clearing the land to where to dump the garbage. Public concern arises with sudden awareness of conditions that have been building up for a long while. It is not as much a matter of what we have done wrong as what we have neglected to do. Action to preserve the environment has not kept pace with social and scientific progress. Attention focused on the moon in the last decade now changes to planet Earth.

Erosion dumps four billion tons of mud a year into our streams. It costs taxpayers a half billion dollars a year to clean it out. Sedimentation - a product of erosion - contributes pollution 700 times larger in volume than the discharge from sewage. Sediment destroys spawning beds of fish, fills the deep pools where they hide, and drives out game species leaving only the rough fish. Muddy water shades out the light that produces microscopic plants on which fish feed. Mud destroys the value of lakes for swimming, boating, and other water sports. National interest in environmental quality has called attention to sources of help. Your local Soil Conservation Service assisting the Wichita Brazos Soil and Water Conservation District is a prime source of help. Owners of more than a third of the nation's land have made definite plans for the conservation of land and water. Many others need to join the ranks.

Project action has begun in 2,800 of the country's small watersheds. Landowners are planting grass and trees on critical slopes to halt soil movement. Dams have been built on upstream tributaries and are storing floodwater for beneficial uses. Areas around the dams are under development for recreation and wildlife use. Young Americans are taking a stand in stopping pollution. They will inherit the environment - clean or dirty - and they want a headstart in cleaning it up. Youth organizations need a helping hand in program planning and action. The need is for acceleration of the care of our land and water. Local governments need support as well as facts on which to make decisions. Non-farm uses of land and water need expanded programs of control. Communities organizing for development of all natural and human resources need suggestions and funds. Find out where you can help.

Wiener Sauerkraut Salad

Shredded white cabbage soaked in brine brings a twinkle to an old German's eye, especially when it's served with sausage! Wiener Sauerkraut Salad will also bring a twinkle to a young homemaker's eye as this delicious main meal costs less than a quarter per serving! Radishes and green pepper are added for color and crunch. And the salad is served cold with a sour cream-mayonnaise dressing. A whole pound of wieners makes this a meal in itself. Because the wieners are fully cooked when you buy them, all you need do is slice them, combine with the other ingredients and serve. Here's a quick tip for slicing wieners from Ellen Edwards, home economist from Oscar Mayer & Co. First remove package from the refrigerator and separate the twin units. Using a sharp knife, cut crosswise through links, package and all, in thin slices. Pop pieces in salad directly from the package. This eliminates the time and trouble of removing each link and slicing it individually.

Wiener Sauerkraut Salad
1 package (1 lb.) Oscar Mayer Wieners
1 can (1 lb.) sauerkraut, drained
1 bunch radishes
1/2 green pepper
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 cup mayonnaise

Cut wieners into thin slices. Slice radishes and chop green pepper; toss all with sauerkraut. Chill thoroughly. For dressing, blend sour cream with mayonnaise and add to salad. Makes 5 servings.

Accent on Health

Drugs! How many times have you heard the word? Abuse! Just what does it mean? Taken together "drug abuse" is probably one of the most talked-about topics in Texas and the nation today. The topic is attacked from various sides - law enforcement, morality, punishment. It is also attacked from another side - education. It's this attack which has been launched by the Texas State Department of Health's Division of Public Health Education. The Department has long felt a very real concern about this growing menace to the total population because of its direct implications to public health. About two years ago the Department became aware that a serious deficiency existed in the area of public health education concerning drug abuse. As the deficiency became increasingly apparent, and because of the Department's existing activity in registering wholesale drug outlets, the Division of Public Health Education began to accept requests for its participation in drug abuse programs in schools, teacher training programs, civic organizations, etc. During this two year period, the Division has had instructors traveling to various parts of the state presenting an educational concept of drug abuse control. To date, more than 500 such classes have been held with an audience of some 50,000 students. The actual course consists of showing one of several films - ordinarily the film entitled "Marihuana", a "no preaching, tell-it-like-it-is" film. The film depicts a "pot party" being raided by the police. As each person is taken from the party to awaiting patrol cars, each expresses his or her thoughts about smoking marihuana and defends the use of it. As the film progresses, however, each of these defenses is refuted with sound, proven evidence. After the film has been shown, the program is opened to student participation through a question-and-answer period, and drug literature is distributed. Although the course covers all drugs, marihuana and LSD seem uppermost in the minds of the students. The whole idea of the edu-education approach is to make the students think about the dangers of drugs. The State Legislature has now charged the Texas Education Agency with the responsibility of establishing a comprehensive drug abuse program for students in grades 5 through 12, assuring student exposure to the subject. The State Health Department now is shifting its emphasis to adult groups.

What accounts for this extraordinary accuracy? Instead of the usual wheels and springs, Accutron has a tiny, electronically-driven tuning fork whose vibrations split each second into 360 precise little intervals. Ordinary watches have balance wheels. The balance wheel splits the second, too, into 5 or 10 intervals. And not so precisely. That's why balance wheel watches can't compete with tuning fork time. Because of that tuning fork, we can guarantee Accutron accuracy to within a minute a month.

Streams In Desert Places

BY OZELLE STEPHENS

Psalms 91:1-6 (Paraphrased)
 David gives us God's protecting promises in his 91 Psalm. Someone has described it as a great warming, comforting and protecting blanket one can wrap around themselves and their loved ones. Read, believe and place yourself in His almighty sheltering care. Say with David, "We live within the shadow of the Almighty, sheltered by God who is above all Gods."
 This I declare, that He alone is my refuge, my place of safety. He is my God, and I am trusting Him. He rescues us from every trap and protects us from the fatal plague. He will shield us with His wings. They will shelter us. His faithful promises are our armor. Now, we need not be afraid of the dark, nor fear the dangers of the day. Nor dread the plagues of darkness nor disaster in the morning.

"Open Letter To Man" Creating Much Interest

In this era of preoccupation with sex and audacity under the guise of freedom of expression, a simple letter written to man about the image of womanhood is creating a lot of interest throughout the country. Some radio personalities such as Los Angeles' famous Dick Witting-hill have read it repeatedly on their radio programs. Newspapers and magazines, both religious and secular, are reprinting it. And private citizens are copying it for distribution to their friends.

This is what "Open Letter to Man" says:

"I am a Woman.
"I am your wife, your sweetheart, your mother, your daughter, your sister . . . your friend.

I NEED YOUR HELP.

"I was created to give to the world GENTLENESS, UNDERSTANDING, SERENITY, BEAUTY AND LOVE. I am finding it increasingly difficult to fulfill my purpose.

"Many people in advertising, motion pictures, television and radio have ignored my inner qualities and have repeatedly used me ONLY as a symbol of

SEX

"This humiliate me; it destroys my dignity; it prevents me from being what YOU want me to be

- an example of -

"Beauty, Inspiration and love -

"Love for my children, love for my husband, love of my God and country.

"I need your help to restore me to my true position . . .

to ALLOW me to fulfill the PURPOSE FOR WHICH I WAS CREATED.

"I know you will find a way."

This letter was written about ten years ago by songwriter Sy Miller and his wife, the former actress, Jill Jackson. But it wasn't until "Open Letter to Man" was discovered shortly over a year ago by the Rev. Francis J. Caffrey of the Maryknoll Fathers that it received widespread circulation.

Father Caffrey was so impressed with the letter that he got the Millers' permission to reproduce it. From that humble grass roots beginning, "Open Letter to Man" has developed its own quiet underground movement protesting the degradation of women as mere sex objects. Many prominent businessmen and entertainment personalities have assisted Father Caffrey in his efforts to help restore woman's proper image of love, beauty and dignity in our contemporary society.

R. D. Funk managing editor of the Santa Monica (California) Evening Outlook was among the first to tell the story of the Millers' Father Caffrey and "Open Letter to Man" in his column. Since then the "Open Letter" has been reproduced and circulated widely in the U. S., in some foreign countries and is on its way to expanding its message of common decency throughout the world.

"Open Letter to Man" is a simple, powerful message challenging today's animalistic, sex-oriented image of womanhood. It's difficult today for a girl or young woman to believe anyone really cares about morality, femininity and virtue in our society. But the challenge is simply stated for all to meet, "I know you will find a way."

The invitation to help find the way is open to all. Copies of the "Open Letter" are available free of charge. Simply send your name and address, plus the number of copies desired to: Open Letter, The Solo Cup Foundation, 7431 East End Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60649. A supply of the Open Letter will be sent free of charge to be passed along to friends and acquaintances.

Complete Community To Be Built In San Marcos Park

Austin - Plans to build a complete community as part of a unique private industrial complex have been revealed before the Texas Industrial Commission.

Richard L. Burdick, president of Therman Manufacturing Company of Houston, discussed the venture in an appearance before the quarterly meeting of the Industrial Commission.

Burdick invited the nine commissioners to attend groundbreaking ceremonies at San Marcos August 11. Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes will join Burdick and San Marcos officials in breaking ground for the new complex.

The project involves a new corporation called INDECO, a private industrial development company created by employees of Therman Manufacturing Company when it became obvious the Houston firm had outgrown its quarters and would have to be moved.

more valuable as a shopping center or apartment complex than for manufacturing use."

After looking around the state, INDECO purchased the existing San Marcos industrial park and immediately landed its first manufacturing concern - Therman Manufacturing, the parent company.

INDECO will not only locate industry, but plans to provide housing, shopping centers, parks and other elements in a total community near the site. To carry this out, INDECO has purchased 430 acres on the south edge of San Marcos, across the highway from the industrial park.

Jim Harwell, executive director of the TIC, said the INDECO project "may be the answer to the problem of the small town that is being passed by."

Harwell said many small towns, losing population and without industry, don't have the finances to build an industrial park, although such a complex is a major ingredient in successfully bidding for new industry.

"The INDECO concept could be the answer for such areas," Harwell said. "Besides the economic reasons Therman chose for relocation, there are companies in the East that are trying to escape the problems of pollution, the problems of mass transportation, ghettos and crime.

"They could take a cue from this project and build their own community. At the same time, they would be helping an existing town or city that has not been so fortunate but has all the necessary elements for their particular industry."

Alot Alae volcano crater on the Big Island (Hawaii) is getting ready for another big boom at any time. Scientists say that the firewords could commence at just about now. The last eruption was on New Year's Eve. I'll be writing more about those active volcanoes, and a few dormant ones, in a later column . . .

There surely are a lot of Volkswagens and Toyotas over here on this tiny island of Oahu. I'd even venture to guess that, in regard to the size of states, the ratio of Volkens in Hawaii to the number of Mustangs in Texas is greater. Almost every third car seems to be a Volkswagen. On the days when the tradewinds really get gusty it's hard sometimes to keep the little bugs on the road . . .

In the Letters to the Editor of the Honolulu "Advertiser" some Mainland newcomers (haoles) are complaining about being discriminated against over here. Because whites are greatly outnumbered by the quantity of Orientals and Polynesians here in this "melting pot of the Pacific", some have experienced harassment and ridicule. Two or three haoles have told police (and many others probably should do so) that they have been robbed and beaten by a "pack of local boys".

Today a letter appeared in the paper and was signed by a high school boy, who said, in effect, that since he couldn't whip 'em, he joined 'em. When he started speaking with a Hawaiian accent (pidgin English) and smiling at the locals, "things began to loosen up". Now, he says, he is considered an honorary local, and is re-

Anti-Car Theft Award Granted

William J. Hawkins of North Brunswick, N. J., won the $20,000 first prize in the Popular Science Anti-Car Theft Device Competition sponsored by the Allstate Insurance Co.

Mr. Hawkins' invention consists of two parts, one of which is located on the instrument panel and the other under the hood. They are connected by a multi-wire cable passing through the fire wall. Any unauthorized person who tries to jump these wires immediately kills the circuits and the would-be thief is thwarted.

Instead of keys there are two plastic pieces about the size of credit cards which control ignition, hood and trunk locks to prevent unauthorized persons from gaining access to them.

One of the cards is for the car operator and permits him to have unrestricted use of the Police seized ninety pounds of marijuana - $11,000 worth - at a Papukea apartment after two months of investigation and surveillance. Seven people were arrested and some wild assortments of pills (acid) and exotic smoking pipes were picked up.

Later, a man and a woman were arrested in an Ala Wai apartment in the Islands' biggest LSD raid in history. 8400 mind-blowing tablets, valued at some $17,000 to $42,000 were confiscated. One high school teacher, calling himself "Fleur Delys" was arrested for selling pot to kids . . .

Teachers To Be Paid On 10-Month Basis

Austin — Texas public school teachers — those on the state minimum salary schedule — will receive pay raises averaging about $1,050 per year in 1970-71.

Students will go to school — and teachers will teach — an extra five days (180 days instead of 175), in addition, teachers will be on duty for 10 more days of non-teaching work during the year, and will be paid on a 10-month basis, instead of nine.

These changes in the school year and the basis for figuring teacher pay result from amendments to the minimum instruction program law passed in 1968 by the Legislature.

Under the minimum program, a beginning bachelor's degree teacher in 1969-70 was paid $500 per month for nine months, or $4,500 for the year.

In 1970-71, a beginning bachelor's degree teacher will receive $600 per month for 10 months, or $6,000 for the year.

Many Texas school systems pay their teachers more than the state-required minimum salaries.

Texas was ranked 38th among states in average teacher pay in 1969-70. The 1970 raises and a long-range improvement plan are expected to move Texas up to a more favorable position among states in the years ahead.

The new law puts into effect in 1971-72 a continuing compensation plan which will give Texas teachers an additional five percent raise each year and cost-of-living raises in 1974 and 1975. It will allow all Texas teachers to reach the top of the pay schedule — $11,040 for bachelor's degree, $12,040 for master's degree teachers — within 10 years of service.

The new law has left many people — teachers as well as school patrons — with questions.

about its work and pay aspects.

The State Board of Education has attempted to answer such questions by drafting an official definition of the 180-day school term and service requirements for teachers in 1970-71 and future years.

Basically, the state board says that beginning on September 1, 1970

—Texas public schools will have 180 days of actual classroom instruction, (where teachers and students are together in learning situations) instead of the 175 days previously required under foundation program law. Some schools had already been operating programs longer than the minimum.)

—Most Texas teachers will be paid on a 10-month basis. (Vocational and special education teachers may be paid for 10, 11, or 12 months.)

—In addition to the 180 days of classroom instruction, teachers and other personnel previously authorized for less than 10 months under the foundation program shall be required to be on duty for an additional 10 days, making a total of 190 days, exclusive of holidays approved by the local board of trustees.

—School districts may employ teachers for more than the specified 190 days, but if they do their salaries for work beyond the 190 days must be paid wholly from local funds rather than foundation program funds.

One of the most successful and beneficial 4-4 activities is junior leadership development. This program is for the other two member and new ones 150,000 teen volunteers serve in a 4-4 leadership capacity.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Gambling at Home

Seated at a kitchen table, the home owner and his next-door neighbor were intent upon their late game of poker. But a passing policeman, glancing through the window, decided they were breaking the law and placed them under arrest.

At the trial, the prosecutor told the court:

"What makes their game a crime is the fact that they were playing for money. It so happens that gambling is against the law."

Nevertheless, the court found the men not guilty. The judge said gambling is not criminal if it takes place within the "sanctity" of the home.

Most anti-gambling laws do make an exception, either expressly or by implication, for the private home. The theory is that, within these limits, society should not mix in.

However, even a private home may become "public" enough for the community to become concerned. Consider this case:

A home owner and his family went away for a vacation, leaving a house guest on the premises. The house guest promptly threw the place open for dice and poker games, with all women welcome.

In short order he was arrested, tried, and found guilty of violating the local gambling statute. The judge said the mere fact that the gambling took place within a private residence did not change the public character of the activities.

What if the gambling takes place on private premises, but not within the house itself?

Generally, it is a matter of degree. In one case, a farmer and his crooked did their gambling in a storage building, about 250 yards behind the farmhouse. When arrested, they claimed the immunity of a private residence.

However, the court could not see things that way. Finding them guilty as charged, the judge pointed out that the building had no furnace, and it was never used for sleeping. Its mere physical proximity to the farmhouse, said the judge, was not enough to confer upon it the special "sanctity" of a real home.

Mealtime Magic — Hobo Hamburgers

The outdoor grill is sizzling, the picnic table is set, and the guests are ready to eat. Then—rain! What started out as a chef's dream becomes a scene of mass confusion. Hot coals splutter to a sizzled mass of steam, and everything's ruined inside.

The weatherman can catch even the best-planned cook-out. To avoid disappointment and inconvenience, plan a cook-out, skillfully researched in Alone Wrap Test Kitchen.

Summertime foods, cooked in handy, disposable aluminum foil, can retain all the zest and flavor associated with outdoor cooking, and can be prepared securely without fear of getting waterlogged by inclement weather. For your cook-out, try this delightful new eating trend from Margaret Mitchell's Mealtime Magic Cookbook — the 3-3-3 hamburger. All you need is:

- 1 pound ground round steak
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tomatoes, sliced (about 1/2 inch thick)
- 2 medium potatoes, peeled, sliced (about 1/4 inch thick)
- 1 large onion, sliced (about 1/4 inch thick)
- 1 6-ounce package frozen mixed vegetables
- 2 3-ounce cans mushrooms, sliced
- salt, pepper, ketchup

Mix together ground round steak, salt, pepper. Divide into four portions. Form into patties; brown in butter (do not cook through) and reserve the drippings. Place one patty in the center of each of four 18-inch squares heavy-duty Alone Wrap; gather foil loosely around meat and top each patty with slices of tomato, potato, onion, 1/2 package frozen mixed vegetables and 1/2 can sliced mushrooms. Season with salt, pepper. Thyme and pour one table spoon drippings over top.

Close foil ground beef sack tightly, allowing the ends to flare out like a hobo's koozie sack and place on heating stove. Bake 1 1/2 hours at 350° F for four delicious servings.

The hobo dinner may be carried out by using a foil boiler sack with fruit in it; heat dinner for napkins and place mats.

Twenty minutes before the hobo hamburgers are done, place foil-wrapped dinner rolls in the oven to be heated.

For an easy dessert with a touch of whimsy, whip up a batch of chocolate sticks while your hobo burgers are baking. The ingredients are:

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 6-ounce package chocolate bits
- 1 cup shredded coconut, toasted

Check the butter then add
