Shortly after President Roosevelt accepted the climatic senate vote of 76 to 19 for the bonus veto, he sent orders down the line to pay off the $2,481,000,000 soldiers bonus as quickly as "accuracy will permit". The President opened a drive to veterans that they should not cash their bonds, but hold them as nest eggs. Administration leaders have estimated that not more than one billion dollars will be needed to meet the first rush of demand for cashing the bonds, and the president apparently intended to keep the figure below it. The bonds will be paid off beginning June 15 of this year, Secretary of the Treasury Mergenthau said.

Governor Harold Hoffman of New Jersey has thrust aside proof of guilt, secured at Bruno Richard Hauptmann's trial and is attempting to solve the mystery of the Lindbergh baby murder in his own way. Through a spokesman, the governor said, "Regardless of whether the evidence proves Hauptmann guilty beyond a reasonable doubt, I will pursue private inquiry, accepting and studying all information presented to me."

Hugh S. Cummings, surgeon-general of the United States Public Health Service will retire on February 1, because of long service and health that isn't good. Now 66 years old, Dr. Cummings is nearing the end of his fourth term as surgeon-general. He was first appointed by President Woodrow Wilson.

A correspondent of a nationally known newspaper argues a survey of readers to the word, "advertisement". He is in the advertisement business and he wishes to start off the poll with a strong vote for the emphasis on the second syllable, ad-ur-ve-tment, and a secondary emphasis on the first syllable.

Steppin Fetchit, negro comedian appearing in Will Rogers' movies, ran away from college and joined a carnival company and later became a member of a medicine show. Steppin's real name is Norman Perry. When inquiring for his first job in the movies, he asked a man if he wanted to hire a man to do nothing; the man did and Fetchit is now on the pay roll of one of the leading production companies.

Dr. Rance O'Neal, of West Point, Georgia, answered an emergency call to attend a woman stricken ill at a West Point theater. He pronounced the patient dead upon arriving. The woman was his wife.

Gingerbread is more than a food. It's a form of art, national expression. It helps man to tolerate his fellow men. Men need to be tolerated in the jaundiced times. The next time there is a blustery winter day, make the family a fragrant pan of gingerbread. Gingerbread shortcake topped with vanilla ice cream or whip cream garnished with bananas adds variety.

Mobilization of congress of Texas Democrats to aid the party's national campaign probably will be discussed Saturday at a meeting of the state executive committee, party leaders have indicated. National party officials expect Texas Democrats to give more than their moral support in the big campaign and are looking to Austin's largest Democratic state-wide some of the signs of war, they learned. State party officials at the conference to determine best aid could be rendered.

Judge Covey Asks For Second Term

E. L. Covey, now serving his first term as county judge of Knox County has advised us to announce that he will be a candidate for re-election. His name will be found in our announcement column.

Although having been in office only since January 1, Judge Covey has become known to the people of the county as a tireless worker, a conscientious officer, and a man who can be found on the job at any and all times. He has striven for harmonious relations with members of the Commissioner's Court and in his work with this body has maintained an impartial attitude at all times favoring those things of the greatest benefit to the county as a whole.

In asking re-election Judge Covey says that he will base his campaign on his record as a public servant. He will appreciate your consideration and influence.

The children of Mrs. A. C. Allen have all been on the sick list this week.

SHOWER PRESENTED IN COVERED WAGON STYLE

The shower of miscellaneous gifts presented last Wednesday afternoon to the bride of Olen Dutton, Viola Daniels Dutton, were presented in the unique covered wagon style.

Five high school girls Misses Billie Bess Benedict, Marian Clontz, Elena Fayne White, Lora Jean Propps and Yvonne Jamison, opened the program with a musical number. Mrs. Lloyd Waldrip then gave a survey of how "Grandmother spent her honeymoon" and immediately little Margaret Ann Waldrip appeared with the covered wagon. The miniature vehicle contained a beautiful assortment of gifts for the honoree, Mrs. Dutton.

Following the display of gifts refreshments of open face salad, toast, pickles and hot chocolate were served.

The attractive register was presided over by Miss Rule Seale Waurip. Hostesses for the shower were Mesdames Lloyd Waldrip, Scott Dalton, Henry Hammer, E. R. Carpenter, Otis Cash and C. W. Price, also Misses Opal Dee Bohannon, Pauline King and Daisy Pannell.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Lockhart moved last week to Sweetwater.

Wm. Griffith For Commissioner

The Herald is authorized to place the name of Wm. Griffith in our announcement column as a candidate for re-election to the office of Commissioner of Precinct Number 1 Knox County, Texas, subject to the Democratic primaries.

Mr. Griffith is so well known to this section of the county, he needs no introduction. He has come in contact with practically every man and woman in the precinct in his work as their commissioner and he has always tried to do what he believed was for the best interest of his people and the county. He is thoroughly familiar with every detail of the office and is honest and conscientious in all his dealings with everyone.

Mr. Griffith states that he will appreciate the careful consideration of his candidacy, and if re-elected, he promises the best service that he can give.

Dr. and Mrs. T. P. Frizzell spent two or three days the first of this week in Dallas.

8 Inch Snow Wednesday

Knox City received an eight inch snow Wednesday which amounted to .83 water.

Early Wednesday morning it began to sleet and continued until the ground was almost covered. Then the sleet turned to snow and continued all day and until about midnight. Afterwards the night remained clear and bright. Thursday morning the blanket of white was awakened by the rays of a bright sun which has continued to shine throughout the day.

Aside from the beneficial feature of the snow it has also afforded much pleasure to everyone. Those who don't like to be snowballed greatly enjoyed seeing some other person chased out of town or rolled in the snow.

JACK BENTON WINS FOOD DISPLAY CONTEST

Employees of the Red and White store of this city were busy the first of the week congratulating Jack (Sketer) Benton on his success in the Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Display contest conducted by the Keith Company before the Christmas holidays.

Jack entered the contest in the Abilene district which is serviced by 22 salesmen out of Abilene. His task was to decorate the fruit and vegetable rack with fruits and vegetables from the standpoints of equity, attractiveness and sales value. When he had decorated the rack a picture was taken and sent into contest headquarters. Jack won first prize which was $15.00.

Mr. Waldrip states that the prize money belongs completely to Jack. Although it was won through the Red and White Store, it was Jack's work, consequently his prize.

The Red and White Store is fortunate to have in its employ a young salesman whose ability is of such a note to be outstanding in such a large district as that served by the company sponsoring the contest.

Girl's Orchestra Is Adopted By Legionnaires

The organization of ten girls into what was called "Mary and Her Lambs," during the summer months of 1935 seemed to some people at the time, an idle waste of time and a foolish waste of energy. However, by sheer perseverance these girls have continued in their little organizations, improving in their music and exhibiting a willingness to become useful.

Friday night of last week these girls were called upon by the American Legion, ex-soldiers of the World War, to play and entertain at a regular meeting of the Post. These girls responded and were greatly appreciated.

Following the entertainment, the Veterans discussed the proposition of adopting the organization. Votes for adoption were unanimous and then came the question of taking the girls to the American Legion convention which is to be held in the city of Mineral Wells February 15-18. A fund was immediately begun for that purpose.

There has been much discussion concerning the girls organization. Although they began their orchestra through their own initiative, with one of the girls as leader, the time has come when they need an adult leader.

Mr. H. L. White seems to head the list of possible leaders, in fact, he has been in the minds of the girls for some months. It is an agreed public opinion that Mr. White is the one person who could really bring out the girls, help each to emphasize her outstanding talent at the same time work cooperatively in the orchestra.

Mary and Her Lambs responded to an invitation extended by the Junior Class of the Benjamin high school Tuesday night of this week. The girls went to Benjamin where they were featured between acts of the Junior Play.

Tom Robinson was called to Hamilton today, Thursday in the death of his brother-in-law.

O'BRIEN BOYS ORGANIZE 4-H CLUB

County agent of Haskell county, Mr. Chesser, visited the O'Brien Shop Class Tuesday, January 21, and was delighted with the great interest the boys showed in their work.

Afterwards Mr. Chesser and Mr. McLeroy, principal of the O'Brien school, called a meeting in the high school auditorium of which some twenty five delighted and interested boys attended. Mr. Chesser gave a definite outline of the work that 4-H boys of other communities were doing and instructions of the 4-H club work, which facts met with approval from the O'Brien boys.

Mr. Chesser acted as chairman until the serving president, Mickey Roberson, was elected. Then the floor was turned to Mr. Roberson and the following officers were elected: vice president, Gordon Herring, secretary and treasurer, Jack Johnston.

The new club is planning some great and interesting work together with, the consul of Mr. Chesser.

Miss Geraldine Norris of Haskell days here this week with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shaver. It is "between terms" at CIA in Denton where Mayme is attending college.

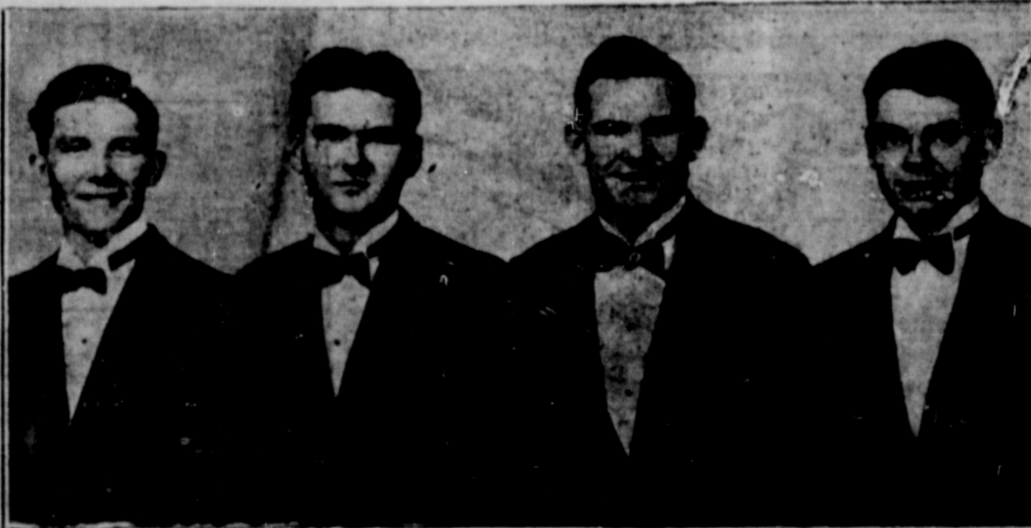

Have You Paid Your Poll Tax?

Citizens are reminded that Friday the 21 is the last day in which you may pay your poll tax. That is Friday of this week.

Announcements made thus far for several county offices as well as the precinct office makes the voter realize that the race will be interesting and every one will want to cast his vote.

If you have not paid your poll tax, leave nothing undone Friday until you go to Benjamin and pay it. You'll be glad in July when voting time comes.

Hardin-Simmons Male Quartet Will Sing at Baptist Church Sunday

Aaron Grant, First Tenor Harold Stowe, Second Tenor Tom Gassaway, baritone J. L. Dickson, Bass

Citizens of Knox City will have the opportunity to hear the male quartet from Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene when they will appear in the First Baptist Church of this city Sunday.

The Baptist church extends an invitation to the entire citizenship of Knox City and the surrounding communities to hear this splendid male quartet Sunday. Those attending Sunday school in the Baptist church are urged to be on time Sunday so that the full eleven o'clock hour may be used by the singers.

LIBERALS, PAIN IN NECK

All my life I have been hoping to meet some one who would give a satisfactory definition of a "liberal." I read regularly the two most influential "liberal" magazines in this country, and in every issue they tell me everything that has been done wrong that week, both at home and abroad.

Far from "liberal" in their characterization of those of whom they happen to disapprove, they make very clear all the things they are against, but I have been trying for years to find out what they are for. What sort of social set-up do they think would work? Aside from venting their jealousy and wrath on all who have happened to get along in the world, what other program do they have? By what rule or circumstance do people happen to get themselves classified as "liberal" or "reactionary"?

A certain famous Senator, who gymnastic I have watched for thirty years, has been on all sides of most questions except those which involve votes in his home state. On those questions—silver juggling, potato control, Townsend Plan, or whatever you always know where to find him. Yet he is a "statesman" and a great "liberal."

I sometimes wonder if professional liberalism is so much a matter of thought as of torpid liver and unfortunate financial experience. People whose livers are active, and whose affairs progress, believe in the country and want to see it go ahead.

This is an exaggeration, of course; not a fair statement. But the mental slowness of professional "liberals" has long given me a pain. I wish you knew why they are, what they want, and what evidence they have that things would be better if they were given what they want.

Al Smith Liberty League Number One

Saturday night, the American Liberty League's candidate for President, Mr. Smith, spoke before this organization at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, which was broadcast throughout the Nation at the expense of the Liberty League, of which he is a member. A careful analysis of his speech shows that Candidate Smith still harbors the bitter personal feelings toward the President which caused him to leave the Chicago Convention in 1932 without congratulating the nominee of our party in his success. He has been bitter and critical toward this Administration since then, has openly from time to time shown his bitter feelings and has come out under his true colors as mortgagee of the Empire State Building in which he was an equity, as being subservient in all things to the wishes of the "Wall Streeters" for whom he is apparently one of their many hored spokesmen.

Mr. Smith divides his attack on this administration into eight parts as follows:

1. He says we have arrayed class against class. The facts are the 1 per cent for which he speaks, the Liberty Leaguers, the Manufacturers Association, the United States Chamber of Commerce, et al in their recent meetings have come forward with statements in the press that they expect to gang up and spend $100,000,000 if necessary to defeat President and his Administration. The 4 per cent have always ganged-up in the past and have controlled the Congress for their benefit.

2. "That it has made a Rubber Stamp out of Congress". If Congress has agreed to the constructive program presented, it is no doubt because they realized the soundness of this program and that the "Wall Streeters" whom he represents has no program to offer and have no program now except of destructive criticism.

3. "That its policies have been created and administered by 'amateurs' in government and business of socialistic bent". Such statements of generalities have repeatedly been made by these organizations. I challenge him and his crowd to prove his statements by specific facts on legislation enacted.

4. "That it retarded business recovery and 'strangled the little business man' through the NRA." The facts are as shown from the Market reports of the daily press that if business has been hitting new highs daily for many months. Since the financial barons have completely recovered they now begin their campaign of destruction to sink the ship before we completely reach the shore.

We find that the farmers' cash income has increased 86 percent, retail sales have advanced 95 percent since the spring of 1933; General Motors has just cut a holiday bonus of $5,000,000 for 200,000 employees and many other corporations have done likewise. The United States exports in November were 22 percent higher than in October and 35 percent larger than in November of last year. In New England business volume was from 110 to 15 percent above last fall. December retail sales ran nearly one-half billion dollars above December 1934 and a billion dollars above December 1933. November building construction was 13 percent better than November of last year and residential construction was up 129 percent over last year. The number of jobs filled by workers rose in the year from 28,700,000 to over 40,000,000; wages and salaries rose correspondingly stock dividends increased about $250,000,000 and the value of stocks held by investors rose eleven billions. People with savings deposits possess about a billion dollars more than last year. The "little business man" is better off today than he has been under any administration conducted by the organizations of which Mr. Smith is now speaking.

5. "That it has built up the highest debt in the history of America and the country is still where it was three years ago". This question is fully answered under (4). It is true the debt has been increased, but not as anticipated back in 1933 by those who caused the country to be in such a deplorable condition the organizations for which Mr. Smith now speaks.

6. "That it had defied the Constitution in a saturnalia of experiments". Under which Mr. Smith further reads "The Federal Government is strictly limited in its power to those expressly mentioned in the Constitution, all others are reserved to the States and the people". The above quoted statement regarding the government given under the constitution is true; the only defiers and usurpers of the Constitution are the Supreme Court in their decisions wherein they hold that they have the power to declare acts of Congress invalid. If Mr. Smith and his co-patriots and the members of the Supreme Court would read that great document and interpret it in the light under which it was written they would be forced to admit that the Supreme Court was and has never been given the power under the constitution to declare acts of Congress invalid.

(See Reports of Federal Convention, by James Madison p 51, 406-407 and 475). The last statement on this subject in said record, at page 475, written by Madison himself, reads: "It was generally supposed that the jurisdiction given (Supreme Court) was constructively limited to cases of judicial nature".

The Supreme Court first violated the constitution in the case of Marshall vs. Madison (1803), wherein about a dozen political parties between John Marshall and Thomas Jefferson wherein the Court in this decision held that they had the power to declare acts of Congress invalid without then or since being able to cite any provision of the constitution giving them such power. Yes, I join Mr. Smith in the cry "Back to the Constitution" with the hope that we will be able to speedily enact legislation that will define the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court so that even they will be able to understand the simple language of the Constitution, which needs no interpretation on this subject.

7. "That in its AAA supposed to have been for benefit of the farmer, it has enabled the American markets of the American farmers, to be flooded by food stuffs from foreign nations". This statement is completely false. AAA legislation has directly brought order out of chaos as shown from the above results mentioned under "4".

8. That it has broken practically every pledge of the Democratic party. This statement is untrue and misleading. The program carried out by this administration as shown by the records, was whole heartedly approved by the Congress because it was well recognized as the only constructive program then or now before the Nation. If Mr. Smith and his crowd had had any program to offer then or now their duty to submit it. We all welcome constructive criticism—but the wall of the "money changers" and their crowd who have been caught, tried and found guilty will not correct and cure the ills now confronting the country.

Milestones of American Genius

JOHN MARSHALL

JOHN MARSHALL was the fourth Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, but in the judicial annals of our land he undoubtedly stands first. At a time when the Republic was young and hesitant, in its early decades of self-government, his clear-cut decisions fortified the Constitution as the basis of our national life.

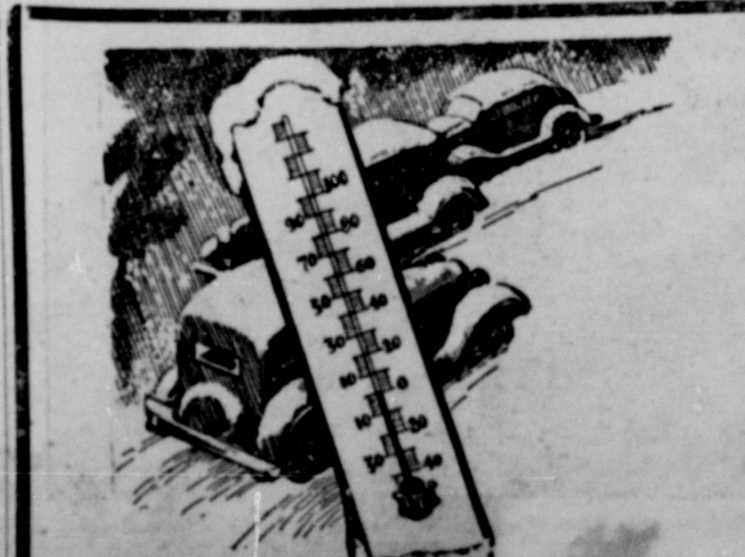

He was appointed to the highest judicial office in 1801, when the Supreme Court seemed to be one of the government agencies which was falling of its purpose. In thirty-four years of devoted work, his decisions, which have never been surpassed for clarity, brilliance and courage, gave form and substance to the Constitution and helped establish the Supreme Court as the bulwark of the American form of democratic government.

Marshall was born in 1755 of pioneer stock, the eldest of fifteen children in a family where money was scarce. His schooling was consequently irregular, though he managed to take law courses at the College of William and Mary. Endowed with an exceptionally fine legal mind, he soon achieved leadership in the Bar of Virginia.

He was called to fill many public offices, including that of Secretary of State under President John Adams, before he was designated to the Supreme Court. He died at the age of eighty, in 1835. The glory of his contribution to American history has not dimmed since.

Within a few days after his death, plans for a suitable memorial in front of the Capitol in Washington were begun, but they were not carried out until half a century later. The sum of $2,000 which lay forgotten in a Memorial Fund during the intervening years had grown to $20,000. Congress matched it with a similar amount and the unveiling of the impressive monument shown in the sketch took place on May 10, 1884.

The old High School has been enveloped in a shroud of silence, as you no doubt have observed. And why was this? This, my fellow students, was because of "dead week." In other words, the week has just passed in which most of the students try to master seventeen weeks of learning in this one.

Entire small libraries were removed and taken into the private dwellings of the students for the purpose of writing that much dreaded term theme.

Several heads are bowed. Could it possibly be that they are so full of learning?

"Work is not work, that alters when it alternates finds, so we have heard. We all try to tell ourselves that we have done our best, and maybe we have, but personally yet our editor can't call it her best.

Musical Notes

Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale was a personality of remarkable social influences upon American life and progress. She was born October 24th, 1778 at Hanover, New Hampshire. Among other things:

"She was responsible for Thanksgiving Day as a national holiday."

"She was an early champion of elementary education for girls equal to that of boys and of higher education for women."

"She was the first to advocate women as teachers in public schools."

"She helped to organize Vassar College."

"She demanded for housekeeping the dignity of a profession and put the term 'domestic science' into the language."

"She began the first movement for the retention of property rights for women."

"She started the first day nursery."

"She sent out the first medical missionaries."

"She was the first to stress the necessity for physical training for her sex."

"She was the first to suggest public play grounds."

"She organized the Seaman's aid society and the first Sailor's Home."

"She raised the money that finished the Bunker Hill Monument."

"She was the author of two dozen books and hundreds of poems including 'Mary had a little lamb' (for which her authorship is well substantiated)."

"She was the first woman editor in this country and for forty years presided over the destinies of Godey's Lady's Book, the most widely circulated magazine of the time."

"Hale was an active protagonist for music for masses and she did her power to promote music in public schools."

Must Music Go Begging?
 This country has become goal-conscious. It tunes in on Lawe Tibbett, Albert Snalning and Philharmonie concerts. It has trained practical business men that worth their while to spend hundreds of thousands to put the Metropolitan Opera on the air. A vast audience—house wives, garage mechanics, salesmen from Hope, Ark., and Red Oak, Ind., from Kansas City and Buffalo—a prodigious number of humble citizens, write to radio stations: "How grateful I am for this opportunity to hear good music!"

There is opera every season in ten American cities, sold out wherever the prices are low. The traveling San Carlo Opera Company plays to full houses all over the country at a dollar top. When symphony concerts were offered at the same price, 10,000 people filled the Sports Arena in San Francisco.

People who patronize the movies are delighted to patronize good music if they can get it at comparable prices. But music in this country has always been a sort of rich man's business. So we have this cruel paradox: America loving and wanting good music, and most of her major musical organizations literally broke.

In a democracy it is absurd that a spiritual force like music, half education and half pure enjoyment, should limp along on the grudging patronage of the collapsing rich. We ought to take the high hat and the white tie off music; it outgrew them long ago.

GIRLS' ORCHESTRA

Last Friday night "Mary and Her Lambs" played at the American Legion meeting. The program consisted not only of orchestra numbers but of songs, dances and specialties.

The following day "Mary and Her Lambs" were informed that the American Legion had adopted them. This means they will get to go with the American Legion to all conventions etc. They plan to go to the convention in Mineral Wells the fifteenth and sixteenth of February.

The orchestra played in Benjamin Tuesday night for the Junior Class play of that city.

They played before the play and between acts, giving dances, songs and specialties as well.

THE BAND TAKES FIRST TRIP

The band took its first trip to Crowell, Saturday, January the twenty-fifth.

They gave a forty-five minute program at the teachers meeting in spite of the bitter cold. There were many compliments given to the band, on their good behavior as well as their playing. There were also two choruses with about one hundred in each. Knox City furnished several members in each chorus.

TEXAS POETRY CONTEST

To all students in high school. The County Council of the Parent Teacher Association is offering a prize of $2.00 to the student who can write the best poem on "Texas." The poem may be of any length the individual wishes to make it. The students of several schools in the county have already turned in their poems. Let's write ours, Knox City.

To all students in the grades: The County Federation of Women's Clubs is offering a prize of $2.00 to the student who can write the best poem on a Texas subject.

All poems should be written and turned in to Mrs. Cash as soon as possible as the final judging is to be in connection with Interscholastic League work this Spring.

Students, have your poetic moments and let's put Knox City on the map of Texas.

If you do not yet understand about the contest, see Mrs. Cash for further information.

NEW ARRANGEMENT

On Monday of this week we had some changes made in the study hall. We were re-seated and several desks at the back and front were removed. The piano was placed at the front. Now we have adequate room for assemblies and such. At the back of the study hall we have a large table which is going to be filled with magazines.

It all seems queer at first but Mr. Dodgen and Mr. King assured us it was for the better.
 It is the beginning of a new semester and we are looking forward to next classes.

It comes in handy sometimes but I'm not making enough money to get married.

Preaching, 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M.

Woman's Missionary Society, Monday 3:00 P. M.

Board of Christian Education, meets Sunday, 2:30 P. M.

On account of the cold weather, there were few present at the services last Sunday. We have about recovered from our spell of sickness and hope to fill our appointments each Sunday in the future. NEXT SUNDAY, is the regular "Communion Day". We invite the entire membership to be present, and partake of the Holy Sacrament. We shall try to bring a message suitable for the occasion. Also, a message at the evening hour, that we invite all to hear. Do not stay at home if it should be a cold day. We shall try to have the church warm.

The inspiration of YOUR presence in the services is what we need most at this time. Will you not make us glad by you being present, next Sunday, on time.

A hearty welcome, at the Methodist Church.

B. J. Osborn, Pastor.

Mrs. Charles F. Poore of Shinary Lake School, near Aspermont attended the Teachers meeting at Crowell Saturday of last week. She stopped with her parents Dr. and Mrs. E. B. ANNOUNCES $25-A-MONTH TIME PAYMENTS AND A NEW UCC 6% FINANCE PLAN

Any New Ford V-8 Car
Can Now Be Purchased for $25 a Month
with Usual Low Down-Payment

THIS $25-a-month time-payment plan enables you to buy a New Ford V-8 car through your Ford dealer on new low monthly terms.

After the usual low down-payment is made, $25 a month is all you have to pay for any type of new car, including insurance and financing.

Your cost for this extension of credit is only 1/2 of 1% a month on your original unpaid balance and insurance. This plan reduces financing charges for twelve months to 6%. For example, if you owe a balance of $400 for your car and insurance, you pay $24 for the year of credit; if the balance is $200 you pay $12. Your credit cost for one year is the original unpaid balance multiplied by 6%.

UCC plans provide you with insurance protection at regular conference rates. You have not only fire and theft insurance, but $50 deductible collision, and protection against other accidental physical damage to your car.

The Universal Credit Company has made these plans available through all Ford dealers in the United States.

Old Age Pension Information

Facing old-age assistance applicants will be the difficulty of proving their ages. Orville S. Carpenter, executive director of the Old Age Assistance Commission, said today when asked what he thought the most difficult problem of old people making application.

Application forms will be distributed to cities and towns over the State and will be available to all who want them February 14, when the law goes into effect. As required by the new law, certain facts must be established by the applicant. The law grants assistance to the needy who are 65 years of age or more, or, he age.

"There are many ways by which a person can establish his age," Director Carpenter stated. "The Commission will consider any evidence that proves or helps to establish definitely the age of the applicant. However, it will be necessary in each case for the applicant to establish to the satisfaction of the Commission, by whatever means he can, that he are 65 years of age or more, and each applicant must definitely and conclusively prove his age."

A number of kinds of evidence to be used in proving age are the following:

1. Birth certificates.
2. Marriage certificates giving the ages of both parties.
3. Birth certificates of children giving age of parents.
4. Ages of sons and daughters when these are sufficiently advanced.
5. Naturalization papers giving age at time of applying for same.
6. Passports, Service books of immigrants.
7. County records, Baptismal certificates.
8. Insurance papers.
9. Employment records.
10. School records.
11. Records of trade unions, fraternal societies, or other organizations.
12. Federal or State records in the case of those who have been in civil or military service.
13. D. A. R., U. D. C. Daughters of Texas Revolution, etc.
14. Hospital records, or those of physicians.
15. Vaccination certificates.
16. Poll tax receipts that show the actual age of voter and not mere fact that he has passed a certain age.

Surgery and diseases of women

In our agricultural and industrial plans for 1936, it appears that we will be forced to depend upon our efforts and prospective production. We believe that our territory is above the average in financial and economic condition, and that a conservative indebtedness during the coming year will offset a probable reduction in prices for farm products, should they occur.

It is the policy of this bank to continue its services on the basis of helpfulness to its customers and the community.

THE CITIZENS STATE BANK

17. Local census records which may give birthdate and place. National Census Records, Dept. of Census, Washington, D. C.

18. Old licenses of various kinds (such as hunting, fishing, and liquor licenses) sometimes carrying age.

19. Tombstone records when stones have been erected in anticipation of death.

20. Entries in a family bible or other genealogical records or memoranda of families of applicants.

21. Bills of sale as a slave in the case of aged negroes.

22. Such other evidence as the Old Age Assistance Commission may approve.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY PUBLISHES "FARM ALMANAC AND FACTS BOOK"

Publication of a "Farm Almanac and Facts Book" which will be distributed to the rural population in all parts of the country was announced today by the Ford Motor Company.

The book is of a convenient pocket size, containing 48 pages. It is unusual in make up and content, presenting an extensive array of handy tables, statistics and charts for the assistance of the farmer and business man. Other sections are designed to aid the farm wife.

The first Ford Almanac is published for 1936 and is now being distributed. It carries a readily available calendar on the back cover and contains tables showing the time or rise and set of sun and moon in all parts of the country every day of the year. Other helpful and interesting astrological and astronomical information is included.

Among the other prominent sections of the book are: A list of memorable historic events for each day of the year, facts about the universe, explanations of physical phenomena, a list of important festivals and anniversaries for the year, rules for forecasting weather conditions, population statistics, facts and records on farming as an industry, discussion of the farm future, information on citizenship and naturalization, a brief review of the history and development of the United States, "do's and don'ts" for use in emergencies, poisons and their antidotes, instructions for flower and vegetable gardening, crop seed sowing instructions, a list of places of interest to the tourist, parcel post rules and regulations, temperature and rainfall chart, dates of killing frosts in all parts of the country, and a table of distances between the principal cities of the country.

Stories on the founding and development of the Ford Motor Company and about the Ford Rouge Plant world pictures of Famous Edison Institute Museum and quaint Greenfield Village, established within a few miles of the Rouge Plant, are other features of the Ford Almanac.
