

Washington Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

THE KNOX COUNTY HERALD

VOLUME 40

KNOX CITY, KNOX COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, APRIL 12, 1945

NUMBER 27

Washington, D. C., April 6—A few days ago I made a speech on several radio stations in our congressional district in which I discussed Russia's relations with us, and predicted that Russia would break the non-aggression pact and help defeat the Japanese. The Russians this week served notice on the Japs they would renew the pact, which expires April 25, 1946. There are indications that before the next year passed Russia may be active engaged with us in the war on the Japanese.

As a result of American successes in the Pacific and Russia's action, the Japanese cabinet has fallen, and the Allies are cheered by developments.

There has been some criticism of the provision of the "G. I." law whereby the government guarantees up to $2,000 but not more than one-half of a loan to a veteran. I understand relatively few loans are being made because the law requires the security—farm, home, or business, be appraised at "normal" value. At present much property all over the country is selling for prices far higher than the "normal" value. It was to protect the soldier from these inflated prices that the provision was written into the law. To allow a boy to come home from the war and pay twice the ordinary price for a farm, home, or business would break many a young man.

With warm spring weather in Washington victory gardeners are out in force. Many of these gardeners never before put hoe in soil. It is a common sight at dusk to see men and women with garden tools over their shoulders headed toward their "cave dwelling" in big apartment buildings. The war has brought many city people back to the soil, even though that soil be only a small plot on some vacant lot. Several Texas Congressmen have gardens of which they are quite proud.

Visitors to Washington often comment on the arrangement and decorations of offices of Congressmen and Senators. The office suites are more or less the same, and the furniture and equipment is standard for each of the Capitol Hill office buildings. Yet each Member may, if he wishes, buy with his own funds draperies for the windows, desks and floor lamps, and decorates his suite as he desires.

Several members have purchased beautiful draperies for the long window in the Old House Office Building, and given their offices a look of elegance. Another Member has his office wall almost completely covered with autographed pictures of men and women in high places of the government, theater, and industry.

The town office is unadorned except for a few pictures, including a Texas bluebonnet landscape, and photographs of my children.

An interesting thing to many Washington visitors is that the front of the Capitol building, with its imposing steps, columns, and statues, faces away from the City of Washington. There is a simple reason for this. When the Capitol was planned and construction started, Washington as a city was merely a plan on paper. A creek ran between the capitol site and the town of Georgetown, a few miles away toward Virginia.

There were no good streets or roads, and the stream made the intervening land swampy. So the planners of the District of Columbia believed the City of Washington would grow toward the east where the land was high, and they faced the capitol in that direction. Later, engineers diverted the stream, filled in the low land, and the city grew toward Georgetown. The capitol now has its back to the city facing the hills of Maryland.

The new Vice President and presiding officer of the Senate, Henry S. Truman, is the only man who served in the armed forces in the First World War to be elected to our country's two highest elective offices, even though a quarter of a century has passed since that other world conflict. With the single exception of Charles Curtis of the Hoover Administration, he is also the only Senator who has been named Vice President in half a century.

TAKES TEACHER EXAMS
Friday and Saturday, April 6 and 7, Miss Nadine Kreitz, who teaches in the Rhineland school, took the State teachers examination for elementary, second class certificate.

The state offers the examination again in June.

'Welcome Mat' Out For Baptist Banquet Tuesday, April 17

Invitations have been sent out to over 100 guests for the annual Spring Adult Banquet at the First Baptist Church next Tuesday, April 17th.

Extensive preparations are being made to care for a record attendance at the affair, to be held in the banquet room of the church at 8:00 p. m. Recipients of invitations are asked to register or notify the committee of their intention to attend, with any guests in order that sufficient accommodations may be prepared.

Dr. Whatley of the Haskell Baptist Church will be the principal speaker. A good program has been worked out for the evening's entertainment, in addition to the main drawing card—a fine, home-cooked meal.

Frank E. Adams Services Held Here

Frank E. Adams, a former resident of Knox City, was laid to rest here March 31, at 4:30 p. m. Rev. J. T. McKissick, pastor of the Christian Church conducted the committal service.

Mr. Adams had been ill for five weeks. Funeral services were held at Mineola Christian Church on March 30.

Mr. Adams was a pioneer merchant of Knox City, having come here before the railroad was completed. He operated a business here for five years, then moved to Memphis, where he was in business for seven years. From there he moved to Mineola, where he had lived for the last 20 years.

Retiring from business about six years ago, Mr. Adams and his wife visited in Knox City often and felt that they had many good friends here.

Mr. Adams was a devoted member and elder of the Christian Church. He was a good citizen, a man of strong character and sterling principles. He stood for all the good things of life.

Although a native of Illinois, he spent most of his adult life in Texas. He was active in lodge and service organizations, being a Mason and a member of the Rotary Club.

Joe Ed Sweatt, 4-H Club member of the Sunset community, who is eligible for competition in a free trip to Old Mexico, received word this week that records will be judged the first week in April, and that it may be necessary then for some personal interviews to be made before the final selections are made.

The trip is planned for the boys to assemble in Laredo, Texas, on May 27th, and contacts are now being made with agricultural officials in Mexico City and the State Department, for the trip to be really worth while.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Carpenter, parents of Marine Pfc. Sam Ed Carpenter, have had no further word from the War Department concerning details of the death of their son since the first telegram on March 30th. ## Clothing Collection Starts With Good Results Here

They are rolling in—in boxes, bundles and bags—all ready to be sorted and shipped to the needy nations of the world.

Knox City is responding as can be expected to the call for used and discarded clothing in the nationwide United Clothing Collection. By noon today, even before the time set for the house-to-house collection, hundreds of parcels had been received at the collection boxes and removed to the main storeroom.

This afternoon, members of the Campfire Girls and other volunteer workers will canvass the city for clothing donations to the local drive.

Mrs. E. F. Branton, president of the Knox City Study Club, expressed satisfaction at the early results of the campaign. Sponsored locally by the Study Club, the movement affords an opportunity for everyone to have his share in helping the destitute people of less fortunate nations than ours.

The campaign extends through April. You still have time to go through the attic or closets and pick out more than your quota of used or discarded clothing, bedding, shoes, anything serviceable to wear, and send or bring it to one of the collection boxes.

School Lunch Rooms Get Free Apples

The apples were of good grade, in fair condition are certainly appreciated by each school.

Judge Robert Jones of Baylor County received the surplus commodities for Baylor, Knox and Haskell Counties.

County Schools Get Per Capita Funds

The common school districts of Knox County received a payment of $2.00 per capita last week, according to County Superintendent McGaughey.

This makes a total of $18.00 under the $25.00 per pupil apportionment now in effect.

'LIONISM' IS THEME OF SPEECH BY GUY STEEN
Guy Steen was the principal speaker at the Lions luncheon today at the Methodist Church, as a large body of Lions and three guests gathered for the noon meal. Lion Steen brought a "refresher" message to the Lions embodying the work and ideals of the organization. Tracing the history and accomplishments of the club, Lion Steen's message was timely and thoughtful.

Visitors were W. R. Woodward, general manager of the Northern Star Seed Farms at Waco, Casey Jones, brother of H. M. Jones, and E. M. Rogers of Houston, brother of Mrs. T. S. Edwards.

Crop Insurance Is Stabilizing Factor To Community

The new Federal all-risk crop insurance program now being offered Knox County cotton growers is an important help in stabilizing the economy of communities, according to Emmett Partridge, chairman of the Knox County AAA committee.

"The new insurance program not only offers individual growers protection against the unavoidable hazards to cotton growing, but it helps to keep the community in a healthy financial condition as well," he declared.

"We all remember the terrible droughts of 1934 and 1936. Many farmers were completely wiped out during those years, and those who managed to keep going had little or no crop to sell. As a result, they couldn't meet mortgage payments and other obligations. They couldn't buy machinery, furniture, clothing, or other necessities.

"While communities suffered from these crop losses," he added, "but with crop insurance it need not have happened. Crop insurance would have protected crop investments and would have absorbed the economic shock to the communities."

The present program offers cotton growers a choice of coverage of 50 or 75 percent of their average farm yields, and protects against such unavoidable hazards to crops as drought, floods, storm, frost, wildlife, snow, excessive rainfall, hail, fire, lightning, wind, plant disease, and insects.

The insurance program is administered locally by the AAA, and growers have until April 25, 1945, to apply.
