Call to Successful

Mrs. R. L. McCarty

At the forthcoming membership of the American Red Cross was predicted today by Mrs. McCarty, who recently was appointed chairman in Knox City.

Mrs. R. L. McCarty, born December 15, 1881, died November 4, 1933 being 52 years of age.

Mrs. McCarty, when a girl, was Margarette Susan White. In the year 1900 she married R. L. McCarty, to which union three children were born. They are Maurice, Jack and Miss Kathryn, all of this city.

In the year 1904 Mrs. McCarty was converted and joined the Methodist church. Although poor health for a number of years kept her from attending church services and also from taking active part in community life of her city, she remained a wonderfully good woman. Visitors to her home, including preachers on many occasions, have stated that Mrs. McCarty gave them inspiration, that her conversations furnished food for thought to any one who would listen. She was a believer in her family and made many heavy, personal sacrifices for her family, and without a doubt her absence in the home is going to be keenly felt.

Mrs. McCarty's death came suddenly, the result of acute indigestion. Funeral services were conducted from the First Methodist church of this city Reverend J. H. Sharp having charge and being assisted by Brother Duff of Weinst. Interment was made in the Odd Fellow Cemetery.

Mrs. McCarty had been a resident of West Texas for the past 28 years living during various intervals in Knox County. Besides her immediate family of husband and three children she is survived by two sisters and one brother. One sister and the brother live in Houston and the other sister in West Virginia.

Mrs. J. B. Jones and son J. B. Jr. of Abilene and Mr. and Mrs. Varner Carthurs of Sylvester were numbered among the out of town attendees at the funeral services. Mrs. McCarty's grave was backed with many beautiful floral offerings, expressions from friends and loved ones.

COUNTY-WIDE TOUR BIG SUCCESS

Driving one hundred miles over winding roads and making eighty-seven turns, 30 people enjoyed the entire day, Tuesday, October 31 inspecting pantries, bedrooms and wardrobes that the club women over the country had improved this year.

The tour started at Munday where they visited Mrs. G. P. Lansford's pantry, from there they went to Union Grove to visit Mrs. J. C. McGee's bedroom. Both of these demonstrations were second winners in their class. In Benjamin the prize winning bedroom and pantry were visited and dinner was served on the lawn of Mrs. McCallie, in the shade of a spreading Mesquite surrounded by goldenrods, cosmos, chrysanthums and marigolds. 44 ate dinner.

From Benjamin the group went to Mrs. J. R. Spivy's Gilliland where they inspected a pantry and bedroom belonging to Sybil Spivy, who won second in the 4-H bedroom contest. Mrs. Roy Jones had her home open for her wardrobe to be seen. Mrs. Jones won first in one of the divisions of the country wardrobe contest. The last stop that was made at the home of Nila Mae Roden where we saw and heard about the bedroom that she improved and on which she won first in the county.

This tour was declared very successful and everyone making the trip received a great deal of help and enthusiasm.

Rhineland Store Wrecked by Gas Explosion

DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT $20,000

John Albus Critically Burned

Mr. John Albus of Rhineland is in a serious condition from burns received Wednesday morning when a gas explosion occurred in his store at Rhineland.

Mr. Albus went to the store Wednesday morning. When he attempted to light the fire there was a tremendous explosion, the result of a leak in the gas pipe. Mr. Albus was badly burned especially about the head and hands. He was carried to Munday for treatment.

The entire building seemed to burst in flames and the roof was blown off and settled back down. It is estimated the damage to building and stock will amount to $20,000.000.

Mr. Albus suffered a tremendous amount Wednesday and the question as to whether or not he could be brought to the Knox County Hospital was discussed. Had not Munday physicians feared the moving of the body would cause pneumonia, Albus would have been brought to Knox City Wednesday afternoon. His condition is very serious.

Mr. Keely of Austin and Mr. Sparks and daughter of Brownwood came Saturday to the W. H. Benedict home. Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Kelly accompanied by Mrs. Mable Pysatt returned to Austin.

THOMAS FERGUSON IS MARRIED

Thomas Ferguson is married, Miss Burris of Tulla Texas now being Mrs. Thomas Ferguson. The wedding took place Sunday October 14 at Fort Sumner New Mexico.

Mrs. Ferguson is a nurse being formerly employed at the Tulla Hospital in Tulla. She did special duty one time in the Knox County Hospital, winning favor of local hospital authorities. She is spoken of as being a very pretty young lady.

Thomas is just Thomama, a Knox City boy of an enviable reputation. He is the boy whose name went on the Loving Cup of the Knox City school the year he graduated for the "best all-round" boy.

Thomas' friends have given much time to wondering just how Miss Burris succeeded in interpreting Thomas' grin so well, for surely, they say, Thomas couldn't stop grinning long enough to repeat a proposal.

Thomas Ferguson is one of the finest boys Knox City has ever known. Everybody is his friend, all of whom wish him the best of happiness and fortune in his new role of Mr. Thomas Ferguson.

Miss Sadie Gabriel of Spur is the guest of her sister Mrs. A. J. Malouf this week.

O. B. KING IN CAR WRECK

Mr. O. B. King escaped without injury Saturday night when his car was hit by a truck on the highway about six miles this side of Olney. However, King's car was most completely wrecked. He had it pulled into Olney where he left it for repairs.

Mr. King was in route to Fort Worth for his wife but following the accident he diplomatically worded a card to his wife to the effect that the "car was not running good" and that he would come for her at a later date.

C W A Approves Suggestions

At the recent meeting of the Christian Womens Association an article written by Edson R. Waite was read before the association, the thought expressed therein being approved by the ladies of the C. W. A. and a vote taken to have the article reproduced in the Herald.

It is with pleasure that the Herald cooperates with the C. W. A. in giving you the following:

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By Edson R. Waite

That a city usually gets what it deserves. It will be just what its citizens make it.

If the citizens are not progressive, the city will not be progressive.

All citizens should interest themselves enough to study the affairs of the home city. They should keep posted, not play dead.

Citizens should not expect others to do things for the city that they should do themselves.

In order for a city to progress, all citizens should be alive to the responsibility of citizenship.

Many citizens who will not assume any responsibility in righting affairs spend much time expressing dissatisfaction in the way things are run.

Constructive criticism builds; destructive criticism tears down. Kicking all the time gets a city nowhere. It takes constructive criticism, linked with work and money, to put a city forward.

In line with the thought expressed in this article written by Mr. Waite for the home town, we might add that the Christian women of Knox City are making a tremendous effort to equip the park with play apparatus for all the children of the city and community to enjoy. As a means of raising funds to help in carrying on this work the ladies are planning a play to be staged in this month or the earlier part of December. They ask that you save a part of your "show money" and see this play. The name, date and stage of location will be announced in the Herald soon. Plan now to see this play.

Mrs. Trimmer, Mr. and Mrs. Urban Trimmer and Mr. W. M. Trimmer went to Lubbock this week to attend the funeral of Mrs. Paul Trimmer's sister Miss Leacie Howell.

GRAND JURY RETURNS 14 BILLS FOR FALL TERM

Hon. Isaac O. Newton, District Judge, Benjamin, Texas

We, your grand jury, duly empaneled at the October term of the District Court of Knox County, Texas, wish to make the following reports:

We have diligently inquired into all violations of the law that have come to our knowledge and have returned into court 14 felony indictments.

We understand that there is some violation of the Sunday laws and urge and suggest that such laws be enforced and that the stores and merchants comply with such laws.

We suggest that the County Attorney make investigation as to marble machines and other like devices where such machines are found to be games of chance that he take action to suppress the same.

Having no other business we respectfully ask to be dismissed.

Yours very truly,

DID THEY DIE IN VAIN?

Fifteen years ago, on November 11, 1918, the guns ceased firing and the embattled nations of the world called a halt to the war which had raged for four long years, and in which all but a few minor countries among the civilized nations of the world had been involved.

From the consequences of that terrific conflict, the world has not yet recovered. Indeed, generations will have passed before all of the human and economic waste of that war will have been repaired and replaced. Much that was lost can never be recovered. Other young men will grow to manhood, to do their share of the world's work, but millions who perished with their life work still unfinished can never return.

Among all of the nations involved in the war there has been springing up an anti-war sentiment which may eventually have the effect of keeping some of these countries out of future war. That is, however, to be doubted. Our own country, in the words of our war President Woodrow Wilson, went into the war in the hope and belief that by so doing we might put an end to war as a means of settling international disputes. The United States of America took the lead in establishing a League of Nations the avowed purpose of which is to bring about closer international understandings and so prevent trivial irritations from developing into serious quarrels.

Our country is a member of the World Court of International Justice before which it is hoped that, eventually nations will try their grievances against one another as individuals do in the civil courts of peace.

We have taken the lead in the effort to abolish competition in naval armaments and the foremost war-time nations of the world have contracted with us to limit construction for years to come.

Bruce Barton SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Rev. Chas. E. Dunn

Paul in Macedonia

Lesson for November 12th.

Acts 15:36-17:15

Golden Text: Acts 16:31

The lesson describes a vision, a prayer-meeting, and an earthquake conversion. At Troas Paul had a dream. He saw a man from Macedonia, and heard him cry for help. Professor Ramsey has suggested that this mysterious figure was none other than St. Luke, the beloved physician. This is an intriguing guess. But the main point of the incident is that Paul obeyed the summons, entered Europe, and so planted the seeds that led to the evangelization of the western world.

Toady SOS calls are sounding from every direction. The world is in a sorry plight. The atmosphere is tense with suspicion, and electric with excitement. War-clouds are gathering again on the horizon. Economic distress is universal. The prophecy of the Master, "It must needs be that offences come," has been fulfilled. A prospect of long continued suffering looms before us. Therefore there is enormous need for the dedicated life Paul represents.

Consider now the prayer-meeting held in Philippi by the river. Note that it was a congregation of women. This is typical of the modern prayer-meeting, as well as of our Sunday worship. Women greatly outnumber men in the more spiritual phases of church work. It is a pity that this is so, for the Christian religion is a thoroughly virile interpretation of man's origin and destiny. The need of arousing the interest of men in God's Kingdom is patent.

And what shall we say of that dramatic midnight conversation of the terrified jailor who almost committed suicide? It is a thrilling story suggesting two truths. The first is that prison bars cannot crush the soul of man. Here we find Paul and Silas praying and singing hymns, though confined in a filthy den. The second is that when a sick soul cries for redemption, the answer of Paul to the jailor, if geared to the needs of the particular patient, is adequate.

THE GREATEST TRIBUTE

A few minutes later Jesus returned to the garden to find the disciples sleeping. Even so short a vigil had proved to heavy for their feebleness. In the hour of his greatest need there was no help from them. Again he went away, his spirit torn with agony. He was young, thirty-three; he did not want to die. He cried out to God that the cup might pass from his lips; that he might have time to sweep the charges of blasphemy and evil which his enemies had heaped upon him. So he prayed, and coming back, found them again asleep.

This time he did not disturb them. The tide of his revolt had subsided. The courage which had never deserted him throughout the three years cleared his soul, steadied his muscles.

"If it be not thy will that this cup pass from me," he prayed again, then Father, thy will be done."

It was the victory chant after the With the calm peace of the conqueror he could make ready for the end. He had not long to wait. The soldiers were already at the entrance of the garden. He waited until the armed men stumbled into his presence and then, rising, stood before them.

"Whom seek ye?" he demanded. Startled, awed, they could only mumble his name.

"Jesus of Nazareth."

"I am he," he answered proudly. They had expected angry denunciation. But such calm, such dignity were beyond the boundaries of their experience. Involuntarily they gave way and, rough veterans as they were some of them "fell to the ground." It was a supreme tribute.

Then Jesus, though rebounding to those who had shared his triumphs and his sacrifices through the years, "If therefore ye seek me let these others go their way."

But he had no need to think of the disciples' safety. Already they had made their swift escape—the last of the deserters—first his home town, then his best friend, then his relatives, then the crowd, finally the eleven.

He was left to face his faith alone. On a barren hill beyond the city walls they called his perfect body to the cross. Two robbers were crucified with him.

It was over. And yet—"Jesus." It was the voice of one of the robbers. "Jesus," he says painfully, "remember me, when thou comest into thy kingdom!"

Read that, oh men, and bow your heads. There have been leaders who could call forth enthusiasm when first fortunes ran high. But Jesus, when his enemies had done their worst, so bore himself that a crucified felon looked into his dying eyes and saluted him as king.

The End.

Jim Stevenson of this city and C. M. Elliott of Benjamin accompanied Mr. Jake Tidwell to a hospital in Wichita Falls Sunday. Mr. Tidwell's entire system is in a weakened condition but he hopes, with the proper treatment in Wichita Falls, to soon regain his former good health.

All of these efforts for peace however, fade before aroused national hatreds. There are war clouds all over the world today. There is actual warfare in Asia, several of the nations South America have lately resorted to arms in their international revolutions, there is an unrest in India which may easily and unexpectedly come to a climax in war. And threatening the peace of the world.

It must be the earnest hope of every intelligent person that our boys who perished in the great conflict shall not have died in vain, that to have advanced cause of peace and put an end to the horror and waste of war. But let no one delude himself with the belief that other and greater wars than the world has yet seen may again devastate civilization.

THE MAN OF TOMORROW

Who is the man and who is the woman of tomorrow? Your boy, and my boy, your girl and my girl, are the men and women of tomorrow. That is, if they are properly trained to take up the duties and privileges of leadership in this great nation of ours.

The men and women of tomorrow are the boys and girls in the schools today. Have you paid your school tax so that our school can continue its work without the fear of lack of funds?

Each school receives State aid each year; however that sum is not sufficient to run the schools the full year. The school taxes of the people are used to make the State aid total enough for the school to operate the full year; money received from those taxes is used in the school before the state aid is given. Therefore, the Knox City school needs the money from the present taxes that are due so soon about paying yours now.

As a matter of fact, the school taxes are not only taxes due now; however, this is the most important one of them since the education of our boys and girls depends upon the receipts of these taxes. If you find it necessary to pay your taxes on the installment plan, pay the school tax first.

The Cliff School opened again Monday of this week.

Mrs. C. C. Hoge was reported to be the first of the week.

Putting Things Off

A very common failing of most people in general, and the students of Knox City High School in particular seems to be the idea of putting every thing until the last moment. This is especially true about the last part of a period of six weeks, when almost miraculously and at the same moment every teacher in high schools swoops down on the helpless (or is it hopeless) group of students who seem always unsuspecting and make the most exacting demands in Spanish, Physics, General Science, English, Home Economics, Civics, etc. (all at once you understand) and there we are not a notebook completed. Well, in a case like that and with examinations coming on top just what are we to do? The question seems to be a very perplexing one since report cards follow almost immediately. And there you have something which assumes an aspect far more alarming. Anyone knows that a report card decorated in flaming red is likely to prove fatal, and one that is partially a blank is likely to produce the same effect in possibly a milder form.

When this unconscious error which can be pinned on no one definitely and everyone in general exists, I have been thus far unable to ascertain. Of course, it isn't a lack of enthusiasm oh, no! We just adore English, Spanish, Math and Science and naturally do our best to out do our neighbor in each of them. Working up notebooks is healthful and we are fond of indulging in such exhilarating sport. And then when examinations roll around yes when they do we have studied so much, have taxed our poor brains so cruelly that we have a very good general idea of almost everything but it is humanly impossible to pin ourselves down to the intolerable facts. At the last moment they seem to elude our tenacious grasp and everything becomes more dense than ever. Consequently, more than report cards are often littered with brilliant red marks, and one's average degenerates to almost nothing in a remarkably short length of time.

This common failing should be avoided and replaced by a systematic arrangement of one's time, which should be worked out with the utmost care and readily changed where a fault is determined until it is satisfactorily adjusted. Nothing can cause more trouble, worry, and really tiresome work than trying to work up a sadly incomplete notebook at the last moment. Generally when this is attempted, the work is done in a haphazard manner and a poor grade results, which does not greatly encourage the student or cause him to feel particularly happy about the matter. By doing some work each day a notebook does not become a drudgery, but alas, how few of us ever realize that fact. I mention notebooks for the reason that they seem to be harder to keep up with than any other one thing in the high school more so than even some of the students.

RULE NOSES OUT KNOX CITY IN MUD BATTLE

Rule hammered Knox City into defeat 13-7 in a muddy battle fought last Friday, November 3.

Everyone thought the score was 7-0 or 7-7, but it was found out differently after the game in a conference by the coaches.

Rule scored first when a Greyhound punt was blocked and a Rule halfback scooped up the ball and ran around 20 yards for a touchdown. The play was called back, but after the game it was discovered this play was ruled for Rule, giving her 6 points. Rule scored again in the second quarter on a drive that was never halted bucking the ball over from the 2 yard line. The place kick was blocked but both sides were off-side and the play was tried over. This time Rule bucking the ball over for an extra point. This brought the Rule total to 13, with the Greyhounds holding a big goose egg.

Things were shaken loose in the third quarter when Knox City kicked a touchdown. Knox City had the ball on Rule's thirty yard line and B. B. Bryan kicked the ball from placement, as if trying to kick a field goal, which was never intended to go anywhere near the goal post. The Rule secondary, a bit dumb over the situation, stood there and looked at the ball while Vernon Davis fell on the pigskin for a touchdown. Then there was a general discussion for thirty minutes or more but it didn't do Rule any good. Loyd Huntsman ran around right end for the extra point.

If you will remember, Rule did exactly the same thing to Knox City three years ago when they came down and handed the Greyhounds a 20-7 defeat. On the opening kick off Rule kicked the ball over Knox City's goal line and then fell on the ball for a touchdown. The ball never got near a Greyhound. The same rule applies to a kick from a placement or drop-kick. So the greyhounds did score 7 points on the so-called special play. The ball did not have to touch a Rule player. However, the ruling on a punted ball is altogether different from the kickoff, place kick, or a drop kick.

Rule did out play Knox City by a small margin, getting all the breaks. All told, Knox City lost the game on breaks, one which resulted in a touchdown on that blocked punt, another when Loyd Huntsman was loose but slipped down in the fud. Still another had one came when Vernon Davis hid out on a pass and was loose only to have the wet, slippery, muddy ball slide through his fingers, falling to the ground for an incomplete pass.

Lady Luck was with Rule all during the game. Had the Greyhounds had the breaks instead of Rule the game would have been 13-7 but Knox City 20 and Rule 7.

BASKET BALL STARTED

Knox City started her basket ball campaign last Saturday night, November 4, by going to O'Brien. Coach Dean took 19 boys over to play a practice game that was the first time they had been together this year, and without a bit of practice were nosed out by one point. Practice will start some time this week or next. About 12 or 15 boys are expected to report. Lets hope we get a gym this year, maybe we will be able to play some basket ball. With all the other schools around playing in their gymnasiums we haven't much of a chance against them.

SOPHOMORES

The Sophomore class had a most enjoyable time Halloween night. We first went to Mrs. Jamison's, our room mother for a werner roast. Mrs. Henry Jones, our assistant room mother was present also. We then made a Soph banner which we carried through town several times. We brought our banner to school and raised it almost to the top of the flagpole. It held its position there until morning, at which time it was taken down by the Fish.
