"County Blood Shortage Is Acute," Says KC Dr.

"The blood shortage in Knox County is acute as it is nationwide," says Dr. Robert Howell. "One should give if at all possible. It will not make the individual more prone in contracting the flu," the doctor explains. "However, if one is recovering from the flu, he should not donate blood."

"Let me stress," he continues, "that there is a great need for blood and those who can give should feel a personal obligation to donate a pint."

As a result of the shortage, local clubs and organizations are going all-out this year to fulfill Knox County's obligation to the bloodbank. Efforts began Tuesday night when representatives from the various groups, along with Kenneth Crowover, chairman of the local Bloodmobile Committee, met in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church, Ralph Carpenter, American Red Cross Blood Center representative from Fort Worth, led an informal discussion concerning the tremendous need for blood. He agreed with Dr. Howell when he stated, "The inadequate supply of blood is not limited to your area, due to the flu and a lack of donors during the holidays, the shortage has become nationwide."

Carpenter went on to explain that bloodbanks across the country draw and store blood. It is then shipped to hospitals in order to keep a good supply on the hospital shelves. The blood must be used within 21 days from the time it was drawn or returned to the Red Cross Bloodbank from which it was originally shipped.

Statistics for Knox County during the first six months of the operational year indicate a total of 73 pints of blood collected. See Co. Blood Shortage, Page 2

KC Lions Hear Supt. W. R. Baker Report On Education

Members of the Knox City Lions Club and their guests heard W. R. (Bill) Baker, Knox City School Superintendent, outline the recommendations in the report of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education at the regular noonday luncheon Wednesday.

Mr. Baker and other area superintendents returned last Friday night from Austin where they attended the three-day session of the administrators advisory conference on education sponsored annually by the Texas Education Agency.

A question-and-answer period was held with reference to the proposed highly-controversial program for education in Texas. Each person present was given a map of Knox County (as pictured above) and also charts showing information about each school district in regard to ADA (average daily attendance) and other pertinent information.

One of the major points of the committee's recommendations was that school districts be consolidated if they did not meet a minimum number of students, 2600. The committee based consolidation findings on the grounds that smaller schools did not have the financing to give their pupils the education needed to get along in the world of the future.

Mr. Baker said that he was surprised that opposition to the report on consolidation was not more apparent. He said that the cities and larger counties are already organizing, and that, in the rural areas should arm ourselves with the correct information and be prepared to do lots of work in the interest of our school and community.

A re-print of Governor-elect Preston Smith's address to the school administrators in regard to the report of the Governor's Committee was also given Lions Club members and guests.

Smith told the school administrators that elimination of some school districts in Texas is imperative. In a prepared speech, Smith predicted the controversial report and other education proposals will be taken apart and reassembled by all interested groups before being passed.

Rep. W. S. Heatly Asks Constituents To Speak Up

PADUCAH, Texas - Rep. W. S. Heatly of the 80th legislative district, composed of Childress, Cottle, Dickens, Foard, Hall, Hardeman, Knox, Motley and Wilbarger Counties, began his eighth consecutive term as a member of the House of Representatives with the opening of the regular session of the 61st Legislature Tuesday of this week.

He expressed the opinion that the current session of the Legislature will be one of the most important in many years, due to the number and complexity of the problems facing the state's lawmakers.

Heatly said that he was convinced that the state's needs, resulting from inflation and increasing demands of the several departments, is among the more important questions which will have to be dealt with. Additional revenue is a must. The question is how it shall be raised, Mr. Heatly pointed out.

"But the most controversial and perhaps the most important job the Legislature faces is what to do with the revolutionary recommendations of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education. I am strongly against the basic principle of this report, which would abolish practically all rural schools and consolidate them into one-county districts in most instances," Mr. Heatly said.

He urges constituents to advise him of their views on these and other questions coming up for consideration in this session of the Legislature.

Time: Years in the Future. Place: O'Brien, Texas, population 2. Characters: Station owner, a motorist passing through.

Owner: Hello, welcome to O'Brien. What's for ya?
Motorist: Fill it up. It's a long way to the next station.
Owner: Yup, I know. That's the only reason I stay here. You can see everybody else has done gone.

Motorist: Yes, my family lived here once, now it's like a ghost town. I read the marker up the road "This was O'Brien. The school closed in 1970 and the town died a few years later."

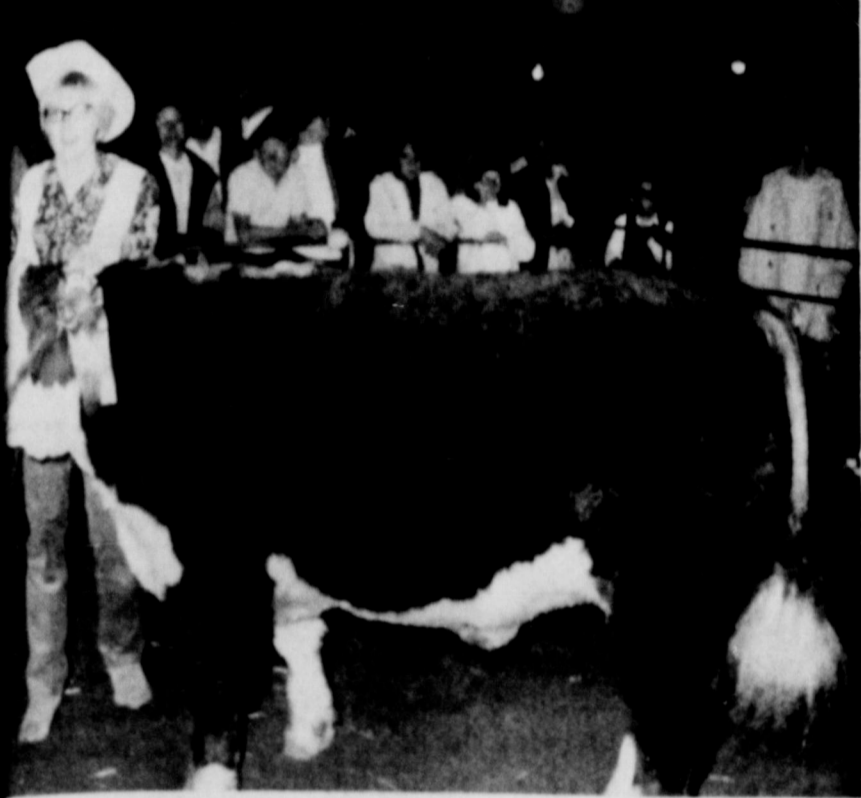

Owner: (nods his head and frowns). We used to have a nice town, cotton gins, a good school, a grocery store, even a post office, and right over there was the Baptist Church. Now they're all empty.

If all started when the State closed all the little schools. The governor appointed fifteen men to study the school problem, gave them two years and $250,000.00 and a free rein. Well, they said close all the little schools, the new governor didn't see anything wrong with it, so that's what they did. Motorist: Didn't you people do anything?
Owner: Well, you know how folks are. They always think somebody else will take care of things. I remember the school board passed out papers, stating the case, and listing people we could write. Some schools had all the kids write letters, telling why they thought small schools were important. But, not enough. See Editorial, Page 6

GPCP Found Outstanding

"The Great Plains Conservation Program has proved that it has lasting influence," states Arche Lieb, District Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service. We all knew some of the outstanding benefits of the program; however, the true test of any conservation program is how well the producer maintains, improves, and keeps the conservation program applied to the land after it is applied.

A recent analysis of 64 expired GP contracts in the Knox City area shows that all are being maintained. This is very reassuring as the GPCP is in its eleventh year of operation.
It is significant that the program is proving effective in helping landowners complete lasting conservation programs.

In reviewing conservation
plans on these expired contracts
we were told by many, that without GPCP assistance their conservation plans could never have been completed. Of special assistance has been the cooperating help of the Farmers Home Administration, Agricultural Conservation Program, and the GPCP in helping young farmers stabilize their operations so that they may be able to stay on the farm. Other outstanding accomplishments have been the establishing of grass on submarginal cropland and eroding rangeland. Especially are the grass seedings outstanding on deep sands which were nonproductive and eroding prior to stabilization. Of the 64 units checked 42, or 64%
had grass establishment.

'Sleeping' Fruits
Wake Up Fresh

Apples, lettuce, strawberries and other produce are getting the "sleep" treatment through controlled atmosphere storage
—a technical process that holds fresh fruits and vegetables in suspended animation
while being stored or shipped to market.

The produce doesn't ripen or spoil because the oxygen content in a warehouse or truck is lowered and other gases are substituted.

Using natural gas to put the brakes on nature keeps apricots fresh six weeks instead of 10 days. Sweet cherries last four weeks, not seven days.

Besides saving the produce industry millions of dollars a year in spoilage costs, controlled atmosphere storage can mean lower costs for the consumer because the produce isn't subject to the price changes of seasonal selling,
and at the same time permits
the consumer to buy fresh fruits out of season.

icemen continue to receive

Change Announced By Telephone Co.

To further the secrecy of communications, changes have been made in handling requests to determine if a local telephone is in use or out of order.

The announcement of the change was made today by W. L. Goodrum, Division Manager for General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

"Extreme caution has always been taken by the telephone industry in honoring the secrecy of communications, however, as communications equipment and customers become more and more sophisticated, it becomes necessary to close any loopholes which come to our attention," Goodrum said.

"In the past, when a customer found a telephone number busy, they often requested an operator to determine if there was conversation on the line. We have honored the request to be sure the telephone was not unknowingly out of service," Goodrum explained.

"Under the new procedure," Goodrum said, "the number can be verified to determine if

Streams In Desert Places

BY OZELLE STEPHENS

"Remembering how short my time is . . ." (Ps. 89:47) Eternity hinges on time, time must be spent productively, prayerfully, and creatively. Opportunities for Christian service and spiritual growth must be grasped with zeal and wisdom before they fade from view.

The story is told about a boy rummaging along the sea shore gathering select specimens from the sea when suddenly he saw on the beach a very desirable shell, more beautiful than any he had discovered. Searching in a dreamy, listless way, he supposed he could pick it up at his leisure, but as he hesitated, a higher wave swept up along the beach, recaptured that lovely treasure and bore it back to the bottom of the ocean. He thought to himself, "So too are the challenges life presents to us. When the waves of another year have flowed back off the shore of time, many shells of opportunity and noble purposes, now within easy grasp, will be swept into the irretrievable past unless we act today. Remembering how short our time is we must spend time every day seeking God for wisdom and spiritual understanding that we may serve Him in 1969.

there is conversation on the line only if the requesting party indicated (1) that the call is urgent, or (2) an emergency, and (3) wants the conversation interrupted. The name and telephone number of the person asking for the interruption is requested before an operator proceeds to interrupt a conversation," Goodrum explained.

"Of course, if there is some reason to believe that the number is out of order, a customer is still asked to notify the operator who can have the number checked," Goodrum explained. "If there is trouble, it will be reported to repair service by the operator."

Historically, up to sixteen percent of all "assistance" calls to the operator - other than placing a long distance call - are to determine if a telephone is in use or out of order. Goodrum emphasized that the

Highway Patrol Investigates 5 Dec. Accidents

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated five accidents on rural highways in Knox County during the month of December, according to Sergeant C. E. Henderson, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person killed, three persons injured and an estimated property damage of $29,450.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the calendar year of 1968 shows a total of 64 crashes resulting in eight persons killed, 26 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $81,591.00.

The final date of the 1969 motor vehicle inspection period for all motor vehicles registered in Texas is drawing near. The Sergeant stated, "Since the beginning of the inspection period, September 1, 1968, only about one and one-half million vehicles have been inspected and approximately five million more remain to be inspected."

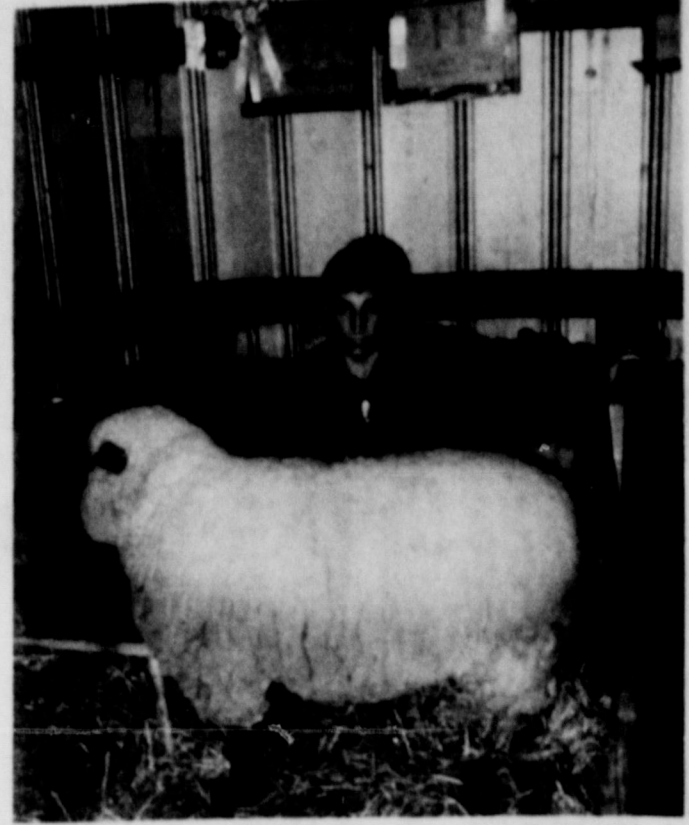

Texas law requires inspection of brakes, lighting equipment, horns and warning devices, mirrors, windshield wipers, steering, wheels and rims, and front seat belts in vehicles where seat belt anchorages were part of the manufacturer's original equipment.

The inspection fee is $1.75. This does not include the cost of repairs and adjustments necessary to enable the vehicle to pass inspection.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

In a few days - or certainly by the January 31 deadline - your employer will hand you (probably with your regular pay check), a little W-2 Form. Now most of us understand that the W-2 Form has to be attached to the front of the Form 1040. We also know that we need to keep the copy marked Employee's Copy. What we don't know in many cases is that we need to check the amount of our withholding and our social security tax and the amount of wages we received during 1968, as shown on the W-2. A simple little clerical error on showing more pay than you earned, or failing to give you credit for all of the income tax withheld, could cost you several hundred dollars. On the other hand, if you are given credit for too much withholding, you'd better get this corrected, too. Don't be too hasty to argue over a few dollars difference with your pay office for they are usually right, however, if your W-2 clearly looks out of line, find out why.

STEVE MCKAYE, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. McKaye receives the reserve champion award for his light-weight crossbred from the 1968 Knox County Livestock Sweetheart, Miss Lana Harper, pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Harper of Munday.

FFA and 4-H exhibitors are shown here with their sheep as Haskell County Agent Max Stapleton, center, judges. At the back of photo on right is Charles Lankford, announcer for the show, Mrs. Leon Burkham, who kept records and awards in order, and Miss Lana Harper. Bleachers were moved into the former Ford Motor Co. building where the show was held, and made an ideal place for the spectators to enjoy the show. A good turnout was on hand for the annual event.
