Boydston-Hendricks

Sunday afternoon in the Methodist parsonage, a ceremony uniting Mr. Clyde Boydston and Miss Ruby Hendricks in marriage, was spoken by the Reverend Sharp. Following, the couple left for Wuhita Falls and Electra, to be gone for a week.

Ruby and Clyde were accompanied to the parsonage by her sister, and a friend and Mr. and Mrs. Lanter.

The bride lived with parents on the Henderson ranch. She finished high school in Knox City year before last. Mr. Boydston worked for Mr. Lanter on the Rodgers ranch. They will return home where Mr. Boydston is employed, following their leave of the week.

Miss Elsie Graham was highly complimented by the pupils of the Seventh grade this week when, because of love of her, they asked her to be one of their room mothers. Elsie readily consented, made the children a short, pleasing talk inviting them to her home for winter roast and other out-of-door sports. The heart of every seventh grader was made happy, in addition to that of their teacher, Mrs. Cash.

Monday, G. T. Hardberger received a second letter from Mr. B. Jones brother of David Jones, recently buried here. Mr. Jones expressed his appreciation for the way in which his brother was cared for, stating that he was writing to the nurse who so kindly cared for the brother during his time in the Knox County Hospital. That nurse was Miss Buckholt.

Mr. J. J. Wells of San Angelo, traveling auditor of the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway Company, made a pleasant visit to the Herald office Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Wells was to have spoken at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, but the meeting was called off.

Miss Lula Pearl Puckett spent the last weekend in Dallas. She was accompanied home by a friend and Mrs. Leone Davis, Mrs. Davis visiting Mrs. D. W. Davis two days the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Clarke moved Monday to the G. A. Branton farm south of town. Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Bridges moved last week to their farm, the two couples vacating the Hitchcock house.

Thanksgiving Service Impressive

Thanksgiving Day, last Thursday, a most impressive service was held in a Union way in Knox City.

The Christian Church was used, the Baptist choir directed the singing and furnished a special number while the Methodist pastor delivered a splendid sermon. It was a service appreciated for its brevity, touching for its quality and blessed in that Knox City citizens could attend such.

James Hornback of Rule Succumbs

Citizens of Knox City, especially the football boys and the pep squad girls, were touched in the passing of young James W. Hornback of Rule Monday night.

James was one of the football players on the Rule team and played in the game with Knox City on November the 20th. At that time he had a strain on his knee, and playing inflamed the place which in turn caused the death of James. He died in the hospital at Stamford.

James is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Hornback, to whom the Knox City football boys and pep squad teams extend their heartfelt sympathies.

James is spoken of here as being a very fine boy. He was about sixteen years of age.

Mrs. Amos Rutledge and family moved last week to their town home. Mr. and Mrs. Daniels, who were occupying the Rutledge home, moved to Mrs. Enlow's place.

Glewin Hamner of Streeter III. was here over the past weekend with Mother Hamner. The latter was confined to her bed two days last week being very sick.

S. M. Clonts accompanied his daughter, Mabel, and Miss Constance Browning to Denton Sunday driving from there to Waco where he remained several days, returning to Knox City the last of the week.

Mammy and Piappy Smith enjoyed a reunion of most of their children last Thursday. Those other than members of the family present were Alvin Hamm, Mr. Dean, and Mr. Clark of Rule.

Uncle Billy Jones says his turnip patch, on the north side of his place, is for the public and that every one may get as many greens as they like.

Poore-Denton

Mr. Frank Poore of Swinson and Miss Margaret Denton of Knox City were united in marriage last Thursday in Altus Oklahoma, the wedding taking place in the study of the First Baptist Church of that city, the ceremony being pronounced by a preacher relative of Reverend C. E. Powell, former pastor of Knox City.

Mr. Poore farms, having met Miss Denton when she was teaching the Shinnery School four years ago. Margaret, now Mrs. Poore, will teach this school again this year and is fortunate in that the school building is located just across the road from her home. Her school started Monday of this week.

Friends of the bride wish her much happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ashcroft spent Thanksgiving day with relatives in Weatherford. They went as far as Mineral Wells with Mr. and Mrs. Mercer Armstrong who were in Mineral Wells for the day with Mrs. Armstrong's mother, Mrs. Samms.

Mother Shaver, Nick and Mrs. Rufus Phillips and children left Knox City the first of the week for Oklahoma. Nick returning home the last of the week but Mother Shaver will remain in Roosevelt for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. O'Brien and Mrs. Phillips and children will visit her relatives in Shawnee.

Miss Buckholt spent a most enjoyable weekend at her home in Wichita Falls. Her brother and family of Pennsylvania, whom Gladys had not seen in ten years, was home for Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jones and Mr. and Mrs. John Jones and children left Knox City last Thursday for the Davis mountains, hunting; they returned home Sunday with a deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Tankersly of Arlington were here Saturday.

Educating for Mission Citizenship

P-T-A PLANS TAG DAY

One of the most impressive talks made to the Knox City Parent Teacher Association within the past few years was that on "Educating for Citizenship" made by the Reverend Sharp at the regular meeting of the association Tuesday night. Many comments of approval and praise have been made during the week by patrons who heard this excellent address. In his ability, Reverend Sharp has won not only the admiration of his church members, but also of the general public. His talk Tuesday evening meant a great deal to the Parent Teacher Association.

Mrs. Press Clarke, president of the association, reminds the patrons of Knox City that they will all be given a chance in the very near future session was held at which time patrons and pay their dues. Arrangements for Tag Day are being made by a committee appointed for that work and complete announcements concerning it will be given later.

Another of the outstanding points of the program given at the meeting Tuesday evening was the song by the Mothers Chorus, a new organization working this year in conjunction with the Parent-Teacher Association. This chorus is under the leadership of Mrs. Clarke, who is anxious to have a large number of members. The chorus composed of six ladies, gave a very pleasing number on the program Tuesday evening.

The sing song, led by Mrs. E. Q. Warren, was greatly enjoyed by the patrons, especially the round of three group singing. The Rhythm Band received a flattering applause to their number. They are fine.

Mrs. J. A. Wilson, in her quiet but efficient way, made a fine talk on "Aims of the Parent-Teacher Association."

Following the program the business session was held at which time the standing committees including program, health, finance and school grounds, were appointed. It was here also that the committee for "Tag Day" was appointed.

By a vote of those present Tuesday evening, the association will meet once a month, that being the first Tuesday night of each month. It is hoped that the patrons will continue to be as interested in the work of the association as was shown at the meeting this week.

Revedent and Mrs. Stovall were called to Wellington last week in the interest of the estate of Mrs. Stovall's brother, recently deceased. Due to heavy snows the preacher and his wife were unable to return home when they expected to.

In the absence of their pastor over Sunday, the members of the Baptist church met in both the morning and evening preaching services with the Methodist. In addition, a number of the members of the Christian and the church of Christ were present, all of whom the Methodist heartily welcome. Sunday was another "big day" for the Methodist and we feel that we are again coming to our right.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Averitt spent Thanksgiving with relatives in Fort Worth. On their way home they had an accident which broke the two front wheels of the car. A woman driving a truck made a left hand turn, without giving the signal, and forced Joe, as he honked to drive around the truck, into a concrete bridge. This occurred near Palo Pinto and Joe received immediate assistance but had a long wait before the truck was repaired. Neither her nor his wife were hurt.

Miss Mabel Clonts and Miss Constance Browning of the College of Industrial Arts in Denton had a most enjoyable time here over the Thanks giving holidays. Their greatest consolation, returning to school again Sunday, was their trip home again within three weeks for the Christmas holidays.

Mother McBeath of Colorado is here with her son A. B. McBeath.

During the past two years, the very period during which the world has suffered an economic depression, the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, has achieved more sweeping victories in its missionary work at home and abroad than during any other period of its history. The following are a few of the outstanding events that have transpired since the beginning of the financial uncertainty.

1. The new autonomous Methodist Churches were erected in Brazil, Mexico, and Korea, the fruitage of years of labor.

2. President Chiang Kai Shek of China became a Christian and was baptized as a member of our Young J. Allen Memorial Church in Shanghai.

3. A sweeping revival broke out in our Congo Mission at Tunda, and 300 were saved. The revival is spreading throughout the Congo.

4. A Chinese member of our church gave $10,000 as an endowment for evangelism in China.

5. A Brazilian member gave 1,700 acres of land in the Federal District of Brazil for an orphanage and industrial school. The property is worth $500,000 and is the largest gift ever made by a national Christian Latin America.

6. A nurses home was built at Huchow Hospital, in China by a wealthy Chinese.

7. Mrs. L. L. Stephenson of San Antonio gave $25,000 to erect a hospital at Changehow China.

8. At Kingsport, Tenn., under the direction of our home missionaries, a remarkable revival broke out. Over a thousand were converted, a new church was organized and a building erected, and several joined our industrial churches in Kingsport.

9. Three churches were built for the Kiowa and Comanche Indians of Oklahoma.

10. A church for Koreans has been built at San Francisco, and one for Japanese at Oakland.

The above are special and outstanding achievements. In addition, of course, the evangelistic, medical, educational, industrial, and social work has gone forward.

Morrison labored seven years for his first convert, and when the Chinese Church was twenty-five years old it numbered only ten members. Contrast those years of difficulty and persecution with the above chronicle of two years' achievements. "What hath God Wrought" With such progress being recorded year after year, we are in a fair way to evangelize the world if we wait not.

Come and bring an offering Sunday for Missions. Our Mission Board must have help. Sunday School at ten and church at eleven o'clock. League at five fifteen and church at seven fifteen in the evening.

Jim H. Sharp
Pastor M. E. Church

Last Sunday afternoon a number of men and women from both the Baptist and Methodist churches, drove to the home of J. A. Carter where they engaged in a worship service as a special service for grandmother Rutledge. Grand mother, Mrs. Carter, has been bedfast for about a year and the service carried to her bedside made her extremely happy.

The service consisted of a number of songs, among which was a quartet rendered by Mrs. Press Clarke, Mrs. Gordon Acker, Press Hitchcock, and Horace Finley, a devotional given by Reverend Sharp, and prayed.

This service was arranged for by Mrs. T. E. Robbins, and the happiness of the sick woman brought sunshine into the lives of those ministering unto her.

C. W. A. ELECTS OFFICERS

At the meeting of the Christian Woman's Association Monday afternoon in the Baptist church the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. T. P. Frizzell Jr. Vice President, Mrs. C. C. Hogo Secretary, Mrs. A. B. Reese Treasurer, Mrs. H. M. Jones

At this meeting plans were also made for a Christmas program to be announced later.

Mitchell News
 The patrons of the Mitchell school surprised the teachers and children with a nice Thanksgiving dinner on Thursday of last week. After dinner an Arithmetic and a spelling match were held causing much amusement. Mr. Ted Casey and family of Knox City visited in the home of Mrs. J. W. Carver Sunday. Miss Minnie Vance of Brock was the guest of Miss Inez Carver Friday night. Olga Brotheds was numbered among the sick last week. Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Williams spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Carver. Quite a few people from Mitchell attended the Parent-Teacher meeting at Hutto Friday night of last week and heard Mrs. Dozier give the history of the Hutto school of the last 31 years. We hear a great deal today about "adjusting ourselves to conditions" and we wondered if that was his intention whom we saw in Uncle Billy Jones turnip patch the other day, or do you suppose that E. O. Jamison just really likes turnips? We see W. W. Hyde is riding in a new Ford, two door, this week. Varren Brothers made the sale, but looks like Hyde made the profit. Hyde says he is going indoors for a spell. Looks like Carl and Lloyd Davis have a mind to use the surplus of feed here this year. They are feeding 137 head of cattle and 78 head of hogs for their use in the market. Looks like "big feeding" when its meal time for that gang. Casey Jones has returned to Sweetwater. Casey says he is a "Young man" but we have our doubts for men are out of the class "young" when they have to get false teeth. Now our proof was in seeing Casey in the dentist chair and his statement that he was getting a new set made. Mrs. J. F. She was again honored Monday with a lovely birthday cake presented by Mrs. Scott Dalton. J. F. Says he is not going to have any more birthdays but that his wife can get as old as she wants to, can even have two birthdays each year if it will in any way encourage such good eats as this one brought. We understand that Melton Huntsman, Panny Farmer and Kenneth Edwards brought home twenty five ducks Thanksgiving day. Pretty good. Positive Proof of FORD ECONOMY

City of Detroit purchases 137 new Ford Hundreds now in use prove low cost of operation

THESE 137 new Ford cars represent one of the largest deliveries ever made to a municipality at one time. 21 radio-equipped Ford scout cars were traded in on this purchase. They had been operated day and night for two years in heavy traffic and all kinds of weather. Their individual records ranged from 78,434 miles to 143,723 miles with a grand total of 2,283,097 miles. The operating cost of the 21 cars was 2.284 cents a mile — less than 2 1/3 cents. This cost included all fuel, oil, tires, repairs and every other item except depreciation and insurance. Of 577 Ford cars in Detroit City service, the 300 in the Police Department traveled a total of 6,591,937 miles during the past fiscal year, at an average cost of 2.9 cents a mile. Many claims have been made on operating costs, but here in the carefully kept motor car records of the City of Detroit is positive proof of Ford economy. In the paragraphs above, it is seen that 21 Ford scout cars averaged less than 2 1/3 cents a mile and 300 Ford branches of Detroit police were 2.9 cents a mile! Day and night, twenty-four hours a day, these Ford cars are in operation, performing a grueling service. The records show low fuel and oil consumption is the Ford's many economies. The simplicity of design and materials, simplicity of design and in manufacturing provide unusual stamina and freedom from repairs. The individual car buyer as purchasing department of a city cannot afford to ignore the economy of the Ford car. FIFTEEN DIFFERENT BODY STYLES $430 to $600 (F. O. B. THANKSGIVING DAY A HAPPY DAY AT SUN SET

Although the teachers and pupils of the Sun Set school had to continue with their work last Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, it was a day of happiness to them. The women of the Sun Set community served a buffet luncheon to all the teachers and pupils of the school.

At two thirty in the afternoon, chapel period for the school the entire school enjoyed a program given by the primary grades. These children, under the instruction of Mrs. Davenport and Miss Williams, presented a Thanksgiving play. They made all the stage furniture, the stage setting and the costumes used which fact made the play far more interesting and appreciated by the other students and teachers.

Mrs. E. Q. Warren, music teacher in the school, and one who is equal to criticism, reports this play by the primary pupils as being very good.

Sunset Chapel Program

At chapel Thursday afternoon the boys and girls selected a school song for Sunset: "Boasting the Old High School," by Ward Wilkes. Another feature of the program was a special song from the elementary grades. The program came to a close with all participating in some school yells.

By Bruce Barton MERCHANDISING

An earnest gentleman called at my office with a "message," he said that this is the time for me to write and induce somebody to publish some full-page advertisement on Merchandising.

The attention of all executives is now focused on the subject, he said. If we could only get them to "think straight" it would "clarify the whole business situation" and start the "re turn of prosperity."

I asked him what he meant by merchandising. He hemmed and hawed, and finally remarked: "Why you know, merchandising; everybody knows what you mean by merchandising."

I told him that I had listened to much conversation on that subject in 1929, but had never heard any one define the term.

"In those boom days it seemed to mean over-selling," I continued. "It meant trying to get barber shops to put in a side line of lawnmowers, urging toilet goods departments to carry ice cream cones, foreign automobile parts into delicatessens."

"It meant pushing up the sale quota twenty-five per cent every year; lying awake nights to think up ways of making people buy more than they needed, going out extravagantly to steal the other man's customers. All that sort of high pressure activity was walking around under the banner of 'merchandising' in 1929," I said, "and if, when we speak of getting back to normal" we mean getting back to that rush and strain then I am not much interested."

He went away shaking his head, as if I had uttered treason against the great spirit of American enterprise.

Perhaps he was right, perhaps I am getting old and "unprogressive." But the kind of merchandising problems that I believe our country must face sooner or later are problems like the following:

Why, with so much wealth, are so many men out of work?

Why is our economic machinery so clumsy that men can go hungry in New York while other men are feeding wheat to hogs in Kansas?

Why, with so many labor-saving devices, have we so little leisure?

Why are factories closed when a large percentage of the human race is still barefoot, under-nourished and wet when it rains?

Why were our parents, who were so much poorer than we, still so much more contented, peaceful and secure?

How can we recognize the economics of distribution so that everybody can have more of the good things of life as a result of steady, smooth production?

I cannot answer these questions, but I do believe it is important to get as many men as possible thinking about them.

Even if we have to divert a few minutes from our "merchandising."

Positive Proof of FORD ECONOMY
 City of Detroit purchases 137 new Ford
 Hundreds now in use prove low cost of operation

THESE 137 new Ford cars represent one of the largest deliveries ever made to a municipality at one time.
 21 radio-equipped Ford scout cars were traded in on this purchase. They had been operated day and night for two years in heavy traffic and all kinds of weather.
 Their individual records ranged from 78,434 miles to 143,723 miles with a grand total of 2,283,097 miles. The operating cost of the 21 cars was 2.234 cents a mile -- less than 2 1/3 cents. This cost included all fuel, oil, tires, repairs and every other item except depreciation and insurance.
 Of 577 Ford cars in Detroit City service, the 300 in the Police Department traveled a total of 6,591,937 miles during the past fiscal year, at an average cost of 2.9 cents a mile.
 Many claims have been made on operating costs, but here in the carefully kept motor car records of the City of Detroit is positive proof of Ford economy.
 In the paragraphs above, it is seen that 21 Ford scout cars averaged less than 2 1/3 cents a mile and 300 Ford branches of Detroit police were 2.9 cents a mile!

 Day and night, twenty-four hours, these Ford cars are in operation in branches of transportation doing grueling service. The records show low fuel and oil consumption, the Ford's many economies, the materials, simplicity of design and in manufacturing provide economical stamina and freedom from repairs and repairs.
 The individual car buyer who is purchasing department of a city business cannot afford to ignore the economy of the Ford car.
