Editorial Is Pony Express The Solution?

That old saying "the faster I go the behinder I get" seems to ring true in the mailing of our paper to our subscribers.

The more efficient the government gets in telling us how to mail our papers, the more complaints we get from our subscribers.

We mail the papers at the same time every week, as we have done in the past unpteen years and had satisfied customers who were getting their papers on Friday, and now they get them on Saturday, and sometime not until Monday or Tuesday.

What is the answer? We are frank to tell you we do not know. We do know our trouble started when Zip Code originated. From Zip Code to government agents coming into our office and changing the mailing system.

Papers are now mailed in bundles to separation centers to be mailed out to all the surrounding towns. When that was started our subscription list began dwindling as complaints started coming in.

What happened to my paper? How come I don't get my paper on Friday anymore? If it takes a week to get a paper, I'd just as soon cancel my subscription. These are just a few of the many gripes our subscribers have.

Guess who is getting the blame? You bet - it is your editor and publisher and as we said, we are mailing on schedule as we have in the past. We are looking for a solution - Can You Help?

Operator set the 4 1/2-inch casing at 4,989 feet, one foot off bottom.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Meinzer and Tyke spent last weekend in Abilene visiting Mrs. Jimmy Skiles and family and attending the West Texas Fair.

Rep. Graham Purcell Farm Bill Conferee

Washington - Rep. Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls is one of 14 lawmakers picked to draft the final version of a new omnibus farm bill. Included will be seven House members and seven senators.

The Senate-House conference committee is expected to begin work early next week to reconcile differences between the farm bill passed by the Senate Tuesday night and the measure approved by the House in August.

The Senate conference panel includes four Democrats and three Republicans. The Democrats are Chariman Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, Spessard Holland of Florida, James Eastland of Mississippi and Herman Talmadge of Georgia - an all-southern group.

The Republicans are George Aiken of Vermont, Milton Young of North Dakota and Jack Miller of Iowa.

In the House delegation - also four Democrats and three Republicans - the Democrats will be Chairman W. R. Poage of Texas, Thomas Abernethy of Mississippi, Graham Purcell of Texas and Bernard Sisk of California.

The Republicans will be Page Belcher of Oklahoma, Charles Teague of California and Catherine May of Washington.

Nixon administration farm officials have made it clear they'll be pushing the conference committee to produce a compromise sticking as close as possible to the House version of the farm bill.

Notice

Knox City senior citizens are reminded of the Senior Citizen Forum scheduled for today, Thursday, September 24 at 3 p.m. at the Kennel in the City Park.

Every senior citizen in the community is urged to take advantage of this opportunity to voice opinions on income, health, nutrition, housing, transportation, employment, retirement, education, activities, and spiritual well-being.

FROM CANTON Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reeves of Canton visited his parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Chock Reeves and Bobby last weekend.

Saturday night, the group, accompanied by Mrs. Bertha Trimmer, attended the West Texas Fair in Abilene.

Farmers Union Members At District Meet In Aspermont

Knox City - Several members of the Knox County Farmers Union and their wives were in Aspermont Saturday, September 12, to attend the annual District III luncheon meeting held in Frazier's Cafe.

Presiding for the business session was District III president Foy Mitchell of Roby, who welcomed members representing the seventeen counties which comprise District III.

Kenneth Moss, organizational director of Texas Farmers Union, reminded members that the current membership drive is being conducted September 21-26. He praised Knox County for surpassing its goal by some 65 members.

State vice president Joe

Rankins of Rails told the group that he was attending the meeting on behalf of president Jay Naman who was in Washington at the time in the interest of pertinent farm legislation. He explained the farm bill proposals of both the House and Senate comparing them with the 1965 Agricultural Act. (Since the Aspermont meeting, the Senate passed an improved farm bill Tuesday night of last week containing parity for wheat, feed grains, and cotton. Loan floors were set for wheat and feed grains, and the "set aside" land retirement scheme was watered down. Senate conferees included U. S. Rep. Graham B. Purcell who has been very receptive to farmers' needs and requests. According to word received from Farmers Union, differences must be resolved in all sections of the bill, and even with improvements it is a rock-bottom minimum bill. Any compromise downward with the House will be a blow to farmers. House and Senate conferees are on the spot, officials said.)

County officials were urged to plan their annual meetings in preparation for the Waco meet November 9 and 10 and the state convention in Amarillo this year on December 3, 4, and 5.

G. Davis as manager and Ulric H. Lea as plant biological technician. Built originally to serve the state of Texas, it was decided in 1966 that part of western Oklahoma could also be benefited by the Center so this area was included. The Center now serves both Texas and Oklahoma for evaluation and production of plant materials. During 1968, Arnold Davis was promoted to the Soil Con-ban Development will complete financing plans of the water project.

"It was 15 years ago, just about now, that we started studying feasibility of the lake," Patterson said. He said representatives of seven towns organized to sponsor the lake. "This is the happiest day of my life," he added.

Patterson said he had missed only part of one meeting since the first organization gathering. But he obviously is not calling the job finished. He told the group that four more towns may join the authority to get water supplies from the reservoir.

"The area has to work together," he said. "If we do, we can build one of the best agricultural areas in the state."

Members of the Texas Water Development Board in attendance for the meeting were Howard Boswell, Executive Director; Marvin Shurbet, Chairman; W. E. Tinsley, Vice-Chairman; and Danny Burger, Fund Development manager.

Area people attending were Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Patterson Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Pete Beecher, R. C. Couch Jr. vice-president, H. O. Abbott, R. W. Herren, and Abe Turner, president Haskell National Bank.

Baker To Meet With Officials In Austin

Superintendent of Knox City Schools W. R. (Bill) Baker is one of 12 officials selected to serve as lecturers and consultants for a division of special education of the Texas Education Agency Special Study Institute to be held in Austin September 24, 25, and 26.

The institute will concern itself primarily with new concepts in the preparation of special education personnel focusing on the development of professional personnel training programs which will be compatible with and in support of the new state plan for the offering of special education services to the exceptional pupils. Emphasis is directed toward a broad category of comprehensive services designed to accommodate the educational needs of pupils rather than their disabilities.

More than one hundred special education professors from twenty-seven different colleges and universities throughout Texas are expected to present approved programs in special education at the institute.

The Knox City School is a member of the Haskell-Knox County Special Education Consortium, one of five pilot programs in the state which is in operation this term. The local program is centered in the Knox City School and is operated by representatives of ten members schools with technical assistance provided by the Texas Education Service the Texas Education Agency, Region IX Education Service Center, and Region XIV Education Service Center. It is directed by an advisory board made up of superintendents from each of the ten member schools. Supt. Baker is chairman of the advisory board.

Rep. Heatly has built a reputation for being a real worker, both for his district and the entire State of Texas, during his services in the House.

He has a deep interest in education, in mental health and in the state highway program as well as the prison system, Texas Youth Council, the Welfare Department and the Institute for Cancer Research.

Rep. Heatly has always been interested and a real booster for Midwestern University, in Wichita Falls, and helped to make it a state school. He has always supported programs that would improve the mental health activities in Texas and was one of the authors of the House version of the Farm-to-Market Road Bill passed in the early 1960's.

He has always actively opposed legalized gambling and has been a leader in attempting to equalize the tax on beer with cigarettes and gasoline. He has always favored rural electrification and has been active in seeking improvements in insurance laws.

We feel that the re-election of Rep. Heatly next November to another term in the Texas House will be a prime move in assuring a better government and a better Legislative Session for Texas.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Chock Reeves, Mrs. Bertha Reeves, and Mrs. Juarine Jones were in Lamesa last Thursday to attend funeral services for Chock and Juarine's aunt, Mrs. Lizzie Burk.

assistance. Residents approved a sewer revenue bond issue of $73,600 in August 1969 which will pay off a Farmers Home Administration 20-year loan. The city, the county seat of Knox County, received a grant of $60,300 for the remainder of the financing.

The city's sewer treatment plant is located approximately 1/2 mile south of the courthouse with a 10-inch clay tile line running to it from the city.

City secretary Jack Hamilton said that he expects a few more of Benjamin's 351 persons to sign for tie-ons before the November 1 deadline.

The city's water supply is secured from two wells south of the Brazos River.

Paymaster Gins KC's First Bale

John Crowover, manager of the Paymaster Gin here, reported Tuesday that he had ginned Knox City's first bale of cotton brought in by Donald Johnson last Saturday.

The load which weighed 6,560 pounds in the burr was ginned out 1610 pounds of lint or three bales each weighing approximately 535 pounds. The dryland stripped crop produced 800 pounds of seed to the bale, Crowover said.

The Lankhart-57 was planted in May and Crowover estimated there yield at 1/3 bale to the acre.

Experimental Irrigation System Provides Considerable Savings

Sub-irrigation is making its debut in Knox County on the E. C. Claburn farm northeast of Knox City in a 28-acre orchard planted with apple and pecan trees. The experimental system consists of 14 miles of plastic pipe buried 18 inches deep.

Each tree is watered through two tiny orifices inserted into plastic pipe which is buried along side each row. The new method allows Claburn to water his trees only when needed and to apply exactly as much water as he desires, eliminating need for concern of runoff or evaporation. It is possible to water 14 acres in 24 hours and since the line is 18 inches deep fertilizers may be applied in the water making it immediately available to the plant root.

There is no expense involved after the initial costs, such as labor for moving pipe, and the system is less expensive than a self-propelled unit.

KC Study Club Hears Mrs. Philip Colehour Speak On 'Americanism'

Mrs. Philip Colehour was guest speaker at the Knox City Study Club's Constitution Week meeting held last Thursday afternoon at The Woman's Club. Mrs. Colehour's topic, "Americanism", covered numerous facts of our country and stressed the importance of teaching patriotism to the youth of the nation. She concluded with a quote made by former president Lyndon B. Johnson, on July 6, "Our Constitutional form of government has withstood the tests and ravages of war, internal strife, natural catastrophe, economic disaster, international conspirators, and still stands constantly young and vigorous, ever resolute in our quest for peace."

Mrs. Bigham was program leader and vocal entertainment was provided by Mrs. Warren's music students, Misses Diane Clonts and Gayle Tankersley.

President Mrs. Hutchinson presided at the business meeting and Mrs. J. C. McGee introduced the course of study for the year "Peace Through Understanding," and handed yearbooks to members present. Members voted to cooperate with other clubs in sponsoring the Christmas lighting contest. Hostesses Mrs. McGee, Mrs. Gilpin, and Mrs. Stephens served refreshments of punch and apple cake.

Coaches' Comments

By Coach Charles Hibbitts

"The name of the game is defense," as one fan so aptly put it and as a coaching staff we are proud of our defense but we are still sluggish on offense. We aren't hitting our holes quickly enough and this is our main concern at this time.

We felt that the Rule game was a big improvement over the Rochester game especially our mental alertness and we were very pleased with our effort.

This weekend we travel to Shamrock to play the first 2-A team in the history of Knox City football. We feel as though this will be a great incentive for our boys since the Irish are noted for this outstanding team. We expect them to test every phase of our game with the best defense we are likely to see all year. Their wingback, a 9.8 sprinter, is also an excellent receiver along with their fast backs and very alert linemen.

We feel the Hounds will give their all in this great test to bring home a victory over the Irish.

More than 295,000 incentive awards for 4-H boys and girls are provided annually by private business, industry and foundations through the National 4-H Service Committee of Chicago.

 Students in Advanced Biology finally got an "opportunity day" when they took their first test Monday.

to the human body. Wednesday the students dissected frogs for their lab exercise. For those who hope to be future doctors and nurses, there was the opportunity to inject a hypodermic needle into the live frogs. The exercise proved to be a worthwhile experience. The organs were studied and slides were made of the blood cells and various types of tissue. One of the most interesting things the students were able to see minutes after the frogs were dead, was that the heart was still pumping. The heart was found to be located in the center of the upper chest cavity. The students were able to observe the blood vessels connected to the heart. They observed the color, shape, and size of the blood vessels.
