REVENUE AHEAD—SLOW DOWN

During the coming months, those who are in the habit of paying their taxes will find that the revenue is ahead of the slow down.

Which one of these two is the cause of the slow down? The answer is that the revenue is ahead of the slow down.

Nick and Andy Shaver made a business trip to Seymour Monday.

Loy Dutton plans to leave Knox City this week for the plains.

J. T. May made a business trip to Dallas this week.

T. P. Withrow left Wednesday for Denton for his third year in NTSTC.

Mrs. E. B. Denton is visiting her daughter Mrs. Poor in Aspermont this week.

Miss Gretchen and Mary Howell spent the first of last week with relatives and friends in San Angelo.

The A. B. Reese family left the first of the week for Canyon for another term of WTSTC.

The Gown Club met last Friday afternoon with Miss Georgia Mae Stubbs.

Mrs. E. O. Jamison is reported as having been real sick but much improved now.

Mrs. T. S. Edwards and daughter Miss Sydna and son Kenneth spent Wednesday of last week in Wichita Falls.

S. N. Reed, E. Q. Warren, B. C. Cooner and S. N. Clontz attended the meeting of the Haskell Commandry Tuesday night.

J. C. Campbell had to return home Tuesday morning from the Barber Shop being too ill to work. He is back on the job now.

New President

Raymond D. Durr, 22 years old, of Battle Creek, Mich., who has been elected international president of the Guild Alumni, an association composed of the 19 American and Canadian youths who have been awarded university scholarships in the model coach-building competition sponsored by the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild. Durr, winner of a $5,000 scholarship in 1931, is now a student at the University of Michigan. The white laurel he is wearing is emblematic of his membership in the alumni organization.

WHAT THE WAR COST

Many statistics have been compiled relative to the cost of the World War, but the figures are so large that it is impossible for the human mind to grasp their significance.

In an effort to put these figures into somewhat more understandable form, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, tells what might have been done with the 200 billion dollars spent on account of the war, as follows:

The World War, all told, cost about 15 billion lives—400 billion dollars. With that money we could have built a $2,500 house, furnished it with $1,900 worth of furniture, planted it on five acres of land worth $150 an acre and given this home to each and every family in the United States, Canada, Australia, England, Wales, Ireland, Scotland, France, Belgium, Germany and Russia. We could have given to each city of 10,000 inhabitants and over 10 such countries named, a five-million dollar library and a ten million dollar university. Out of what was left we could have set aside a sum of five per cent that would provide a $1,000 yearly salary for an army of 125,000 teachers and a like salary for another army of 125,000 nurses.

Yet there is constant talk about another war. It would probably be going on now if our nation had the money or credit whereby it could be financed, and it seems bound to come eventually. And we call this an age of civilization.

THE TOWN BULLY

Who pays your wages or salary? Business and industry.

Who pays the politicians and office holders? Business and industry.

Who pays the taxes now heaped out by government? Business and industry.

Who improves property that pays taxes? Business and industry.

Where does permanent employment for the middle class come from? From business and industry.

Who is injured by government going into business? Business and industry.

Who suffers most from such a program? Millions of wage earners and taxpayers.

What will replace the taxes now levied by tax-exempt governmental business organizations with private enterprise? Higher taxes on remaining private property.

What is the difference between the town bully and the politician? The town bully has no money to give and the politician has no money to take.

The people make the politicians. Industry and business create the money and property which politicians use.

If the politicians destroy private enterprise, where will they get their money? Where will people get their money? And we all get jobs with our money? No.

If politicians ever get their money, they will support government by taxation.

Who sustains and empowers government? Industry and business. It is not politicians, nor jobs and money that are at stake. Private business creates jobs and pays the wages that support government.

Why Children Need a Liquid Laxative

The temporary relief children get from unwise dosing with harsh cathartics may cause bowel strain, and even set up irritation in the kidneys. A properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement. There is no discomfort at the time and no weakness after. You don't have to give the child "a double dose" a day or two later.

Can constipation be safely relieved in children? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say many mothers who have followed this sensible medical advice: 1. Select a good liquid laxative. 2. Give the dose you find suited to the system. 3. Gradually reduce the dose until the bowels are moving regularly without aid.

An approved liquid laxative (one that is widely used for children) is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. The mild laxative action of this excellent preparation is the best form of help for children—and grown-ups, too. The dose can be regulated for any age or need.

Your druggist has Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Member N. R. A.

Low First Cost
Low Upkeep Cost
High Resale Value

It is not just chance that the Ford V-8 is the only V-8 selling today for less than $2,500. It is due entirely to the V-8 type engine which builds every Ford car more powerful than any other Ford car ever built. And only Ford has been able to put it in a low price car. The advantage of a V-8 is apparent the moment you drive it. Increased flexibility in traffic—easy pick-up—an ability to get places without driving strain. The new Ford V-8 is not only low in first cost, it costs less to operate than any other Ford car ever built. Gasoline and oil costs are lower. Valve grinding is virtually eliminated. Drive this new Ford V-8—and you'll want it!

Alabama Girl Gets Fair Medal

Naldo Brown, of Birmingham, Ala., receiving a medal from Rufus C. Dawes, president of A Century of Progress, as the two-millionth visitor to the Ford Exposition.

CHICAGO—A pretty Alabama girl, Nelda Brown, of Birmingham, was honored at A Century of Progress, Chicago, on July 3, when she received a medal as the 2,000,000th visitor to the Ford exposition. The presentation was made by A. C. Dawson, president of The World's Fair.

To a fanfare of trumpets, Miss Brown, undoubtedly the most surprised girl on the entire Fair grounds, was escorted by sixteen uniformed guards of the Ford building to the Court of the World, where Mr. Dawson and Ulysses Grant-Smith, chief of protocol, were waiting.

"I congratulate you on being the 2,000,000th visitor to the Ford Exposition," said President Dawson as he presented Miss Brown with the medal and certificate commemorating the occasion. "I hope you enjoy your visit and that when you go home you will tell all your friends about it."

The 1934 World's Fair has been open forty days and forty nights and the total figure of 2,000,000 brings the daily average attendance in the Ford exhibit up to 30,000, which is more than 75 per cent of the total Century of Progress attendance. The figure of 2,000,000 applies to the main Ford building alone and is in addition to the throngs attending the concerts in the Ford Symphony Garden, visitors to the Roads of the World and the Industrialized Barn.

GIRL LOSES 200 TEETH AND STILL KEEPS FULL SET

Amazed Dentist Finds Them in Gums and in Roof of Mouth Also

When a toothache recently beset Miss Martha Larson, it was probably the world's worst ache, for although she didn't know it, Miss Larson had 200-odd teeth in her mouth to hurt.

Even when a downtown dentist peered into the girl's mouth, her strange trouble was not apparent.

"You have a full sized tooth showing midway in the roof of your mouth," the dentist told her. He pounded it gently and asked:

Does it hurt?

Yes, Miss Larson cried.

Further exploration showed every part of her mouth was sore. The dentist ordered X-ray photographs taken of her mouth and provided temporary relief wherever he could get it. The pictures could show a cause of trouble.

When the pictures were developed Miss Larson and the dentist were amazed to see scores of tiny little teeth imbedded in the gums and roof of her mouth. All these teeth were in addition to a normal set of molars. The big tooth in the middle of the mouth was especially noticeable.

Then began a long series of extractions. It was not until more than 200 teeth, ranging in size from a pinhead to a grain of rice, were removed that the job was over. Even the big mid-mouth tooth went.

Miss Larson was left with a normal number of teeth. She learned that the excess teeth remained from an embryological formation which did not disappear normally with birth.

CHEVROLET MOTOR CO. MAKES NEW PRODUCTION RECORD

Chevrolet Motor Company establishes a production record for the month of July building 42,847 passenger cars and trucks, the highest July production since 1929, according to an announcement made by H. C. Howard, Zone Manager, Dallas Zone.

To meet the demands of dealers, which continued on a high level during the month, the heavy production schedule was maintained. In the last four full working days of the month, 14,941 units were produced with a record of 4,523 cars in a single day.

Handicapped by a late start in the early part of the year, Chevrolet production set a pace during March and April which was maintained through June, July and to early part of August. It is significant to note that at the close of production on Saturday, August 4, Chevrolet had surpassed last year's total production figure, building 424,292 units as compared with 426,277 units for the entire 12 months of 1933.

July sales rivaled the June record in reflecting the current demand for Chevrolet cars. Deliveries made during July totaled 88,570 units. Mr. Howard said. Retail sales for the month, as compiled from dealers' reports and Canadian and export deliveries, were the basis of this announcement.

Special prices on entire stock of Firestone and Dunlop Tires and tubes. Ashcroft Chevrolet.

PIONEER DINNER

Knox City, and his children John, Albert, Andrew and Mrs. J. H. Leachman, and their families live here. Mrs. J. H. Richardson, Mother of Mrs. W. H. Dutton, was also present. Others present included Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jones of Benjamin, Mo., and Mrs. Stone of Amherst and a vast throng of friends from Knox City.

The honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Dutton, have four children. Three of these were present but the fourth, Scott Dutton of Olympia Washington, was unable to be present. Scott planned to make the trip here for this occasion but shortly before time of his departure he was in an accident and then unable to make the trip.

There were 13 grand children of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Dutton present. Many pictures were made both before and after the grand meal which fact will be an added incentive for the pioneers long remembering this date.

What youth is there, boy or girl which does not thrill to the thought of flight to distant places for adventure? Youth always yearns to explore the distant horizon and if it cannot be done in fact then in will be done in fancy. All of which accounts for the popularity of Mr. Edwin Kress's Fact Finding tots who weekly fly on trips of exploration to find strange and interesting facts all over the world.

Mr. Kress's Fact Finders feature is right in step with all of the interesting and entertaining illustrated cartoon strips of the day.

The Fact Finders appear in The Knox County Herald every week. Look for The Fact Finders on page 1 of this issue. We think you will like them.

Your Health

John W. Brown, State Health Officer

Austin, Texas Sept. 12.—This is the season for dengue fever, according to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. Several cases of this disease have been reported to date, and no doubt will continue to increase until the first frost. In the past fifty years Texas has experienced three epidemics of dengue fever. The last occurring in 1922.

Dengue is characterized by sudden onset, headache, and pain in the back and limbs, especially the joints. The fever is of short duration but usually is slow. While causing great discomfort the disease is seldom fatal. However, the loss of time involved is a great economic loss. One attack is generally followed by immunity for a few years.

Dengue fever is caused by the bite of the same mosquito that transmits yellow fever. Those that have no studied mosquito are unable to distinguish the different species. Even though a mosquito is incapable of causing diseases such as dengue or malaria, they are very much of a nuisance.

To prevent dengue fever and other diseases transmitted by mosquitoes, the places where they propagate should be eliminated. All standing water should be drained or oiled, rain barrels screened, old cans or anything that will hold water should be destroyed. Houses should be screened with sixteenth mesh screen. Community wide mosquito campaigns will greatly aid in reducing this disease and add much to the comfort of the citizens.

Today and Tomorrow

DEFINITIONS—take "Liberal"

I hear a great many people using old words with new meanings. This results in confused thinking and misunderstanding, especially when folk are talking about political matters.

The word "Liberal" is one which I hear often loosely used as if it meant the same thing as "Radical." A Liberal scheme of government is one in which the rights of every minority group, however small, are recognized and protected. It is, I believe, the ideal of every intelligent thinker on political matters. And it is not necessary to have a Liberal government: in a broad sense the British government is Liberal, and so are other monarchies. But the "Liberalism" of Germany, Russia and the United States is slipping away from its old Liberal attitude.

RADICALISM—its meaning

"Radical" is another good word that has had its meaning corrupted. It means, literally, getting down to the roots of things. Now it is generally understood to mean a man or a group that seeks to uproot everything that exists and turn the world topsy-turvy.

The word "Conservative" is also being carelessly used, as if it meant one who was opposed to any change whatever in the existing scheme of things. I know a good many genuine Conservatives, and without exception they are entirely sympathetic to the ultimate ideals of even some who are classed as extreme radicals.

One has to be careful, these days, in discussing anything of a political nature, to make sure that both parties to the discussion mean the same thing with the same words.

CLASSES—got here

One of the reasons why the United States has become the most powerful and the most prosperous nation in the world is the utter absence of the "class" system among its people. On the one hand we have no peasantry tied to the soil; on the other we have no hereditary aristocracy. Every American is and always has been free to move from the social group or environment in which he was born and reared, into any other group according to his own ambition and ability.

I do not believe this system can be improved upon. I am concerned, therefore, with every movement which would tend to separate Americans into distinct "classes" in which they are condemned to remain. I don't believe it can be done. We have not yet exhausted opportunity for individual independence.

MONEYMAKERS—a type

I have a friend who occupies a high position in the Federal Government and has a background of wide business experience. Dining with him in Washington a few evenings ago, he dropped the new idea:

"If I were President of the United States, trying to bring the nation out of an economic crisis," he said, "I would have the Treasury Department examine all the income tax returns and discover who are the best money-makers in the country. Then I would put those men in the key positions, instead of filling the high posts with men who never made a dollar in their lives. They would be able to point the way out of the depression with plans that would work."

I pointed out that that wouldn't be good politics. Any President that did that would be accused of "selling out" to Wall Street. My friend agreed that was a practical difficulty in the way of his idea, but I think it's a pretty sound thought at that.

ANNUITIES—grow in favor

I have a friend, a young doctor, who isn't worrying about his future. As fast as he can get hold of $100 that he doesn't need to use, he tells me, he buys an annuity contract from one of the big life insurance companies. He is sixty or pay him a pension for the rest of his life, and if he should die sooner, all he has paid in will be returned to his heirs.

"Any man who tries to pick his own investments or to make money by speculating in stocks is a plain sucker," he said. "Nobody can make money unless he gives his money to a professional investor. It's a sure thing, and a sure thing is what I want. If the big life insurance companies can't do better with my money than I can, then their management is incompetent, and I don't believe it is. And if they smash, the whole country will smash and I'll be no worse off in one case than in the other."

THE BOOK

By Bruce Barton

THE ROAD AND THE WAY

The Jews of the first century were widely scattered. They had large families and a small country. There were colonies in almost every important city in the Mediterranean section, but they had times of home coming at the several annual feasts in Jerusalem. The disciples took advantage of these occasions to preach to crowds that came from widely scattered places, and so quite early there began to be followers of Jesus not only throughout Palestine but in Egypt and as far north as Antioch.

As in Antioch that need was discovered for a name that distinguished between ordinary pagans and Jews that recognized the leadership of Jesus, and the disciples were first called Christians at Antioch. Up to that time the followers of Jesus had simply spoken of themselves as of "the Way." The first name of Christianity was "The Road."

In all these early movements Peter was the foremost figure. He developed a gift of speech that surprised his friends, and he never lacked courage. But presently there came on the stage a new figure of vast influence. One of the early preachers, Stephen had given special attention to those Christians in Jerusalem who had not been born Jews but had come in as proselytes. He was arrested and condemned to death and was executed by stoning.

Doubtless the people who did the actual throwing of the stones were for the most part of the rabble, but a young man named Saul, a zealous Pharisee, looked on with approval at a sentence which he as a member of the Sanhedrin, or high court, had helped to pass. Those who threw the stones laid down their clothes at a young man's feet, whose name was Saul.

This young man named Saul was an ardent persecutor. He heard that the Christian faith was spreading as far as Damascus and he obtained letters to the Jewish authorities there for the arrest of any who were of "the Way." He left Jerusalem very eager to carry out his errand, but with a growing inward uneasiness. He was mentally "kicking against the pricks" or goads of his own conscience. He remembered Stephen, whose face during his trial and execution had been "like the face of the angel."

Riding along the road toward Damascus at midday, which is not a good time for a man to be riding there, he was stricken down by what may have been a stroke; but with it came, as he believed, a voice saying "Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?" Saul's companions saw the blinding light but did not hear the voice. Saul asked, "Who art thou, Lord?" And again the voice came, "I am Jesus whom thou persecutest." Next Week: Mark Travels with Saul.

FAIR WILL HAVE 16 DAY STOCK SHOW

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 30.—A full showing of livestock for 16 days at the 1934 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 5-21, has been planned and the best herds of beef and dairy animals will be in exhibit as a master demonstration of the stability of Texas agriculture even under the most adverse conditions and as a forecast of her rich future, it has been announced by A. L. Ward, general superintendent of the Livestock Department.

Many fine cattle have been permitted to get poor and weak and have been killed or sold. Mr. Ward said, but the best of our herds have been well cared for and at the State Fair this year, the people of Texas will see not only the choice breeding stock of beef and dairy herds but they will have an opportunity to meet the owners and exhibitors of livestock who have the hardihood and courage to meet emergencies and who have the resourcefulness and the vision to use difficulties and obstacles as building stones.

Mr. Ward announced that more than $25,000 would be awarded the prize winners in classes of livestock on exhibit here this year and also money in horse classes.
