PREACHER GETS POUNDING

Reverend and Mrs. J. C. Maus were greatly surprised Wednesday night when the social at the church turned out to be a pounding in their honor.

The church social was planned and arranged for by the Sunday school superintendent, Hayden Fortenberry, being in charge. The first of the evening was spent playing games. The second hour was given to the discussion of church organization while the third was given over to the consumption of lemonade. The fourth and final feature of the evening was the presentation of the pounding to the pastor and his wife. Dr. T. S. Edwards presented the gifts with a most interesting and fitting talk. Simple in its content yet wholesome, true, sincere and devout in texture, Dr. Edwards' talk was greatly appreciated by the entire crowd present.

Following the accident, Mr. Brown was so excited that he immediately rushed his wife, forgetting his three children, to the hospital. His children are all small and but for the thoughtfulness of his father, who went for the children, another accident might have followed.

Mrs. Brown returned to her home Tuesday.

ROCHESTER WOMAN ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Mrs. Allen Brown of Rochester is in the Hospital in a serious condition, the result of an accidental discharge of a gun.

Mr. Brown was removing the gun from its place over the door when the same discharged, the bullet hit Mrs. Brown in the back of the head. Due to a glancing of the bullet, Mrs. Brown is not in as serious condition as she otherwise would have been. Without other complications, physicians are quoted as saying she would recover.

Following the accident, Mr. Brown was so excited that he immediately rushed his wife, forgetting his three children, to the hospital. His children are all small and but for the thoughtfulness of his father, who went for the children, another accident might have followed.

Mrs. Brown returned to her home Tuesday.

Baptist Revival Begins Next Sunday July 19

H. R. Whatley to do Preaching

We are expecting the cooperation of everyone in the Revival Meeting that begins Sunday, July 19th at the Baptist church. Reverend H. R. Whatley will do the preaching in the meeting. Mr. Press Hitchcock will lead the singing.

Reverend Whatley is a good preacher and preaches the "old time gospel in the old fashioned way," the kind of preaching that feeds the soul, and presents Christ to the lost. Come without your coats. Do not believe in being uncomfortable, if it can be avoided. We welcome you. Come!

CARD OF THANKS

Words cannot express our appreciation for the kindness and thoughtfulness of the people of Knox City during the illness and death of our dear mother and wife. May God's blessings rest on all of you good people.

We especially thank Dr. T. S. Edwards for his kindness and patient attendance. May God bless him.
Mrs. T. D. Cummings and family.

THE WEATHER

Tuesday night a rain of about one fourth inch fell at Knox City, covering about one third of the local trade territory. The rain covered a strip four or five miles long and about two miles wide.

Wednesday afternoon a light shower fell over the town with local showers about. S. M. Clonts' cornfield northeast of town received a fairly good rain.

There was a good rain in Vera Wednesday afternoon, a shower at Haskell with a fairly good rain east of Weinert.

With showers the temperature has been reduced, making the July days pleasant.

Press Hitchcock

Mr. Press Hitchcock, Knox City's singing barber, will conduct the song service for the Revival Meeting his home church beginning Sunday.

Mr. Hitchcock is a christian man, one who uses his talent in the worship of his Lord.

The Herald is proud to state that the picture of the singer is furnished us through the courtesy of a friend of Mr. Hitchcock and without either his knowledge or permission; for had his permission been sought, we fear we would have been deprived of the use of the picture.

Mr. Hitchcock is known well, here both by his profession and by his church life. He is a capable singer and works earnestly and diligently in the preparation of the church music. The fact that he is conducting the song services for the revival meeting holds much interest in these services for a large portion of the town.

He with the pastor and the evangelist, Reverend Whatley, invite every one to the services during the meeting.

BENJAMIN MAN NEAR DEATH AFTER ACCIDENT

As the result of a car accident last night, Mr. Ed Isbot of Benjamin, is in the hospital at Seymour at the point of death. Wednesday about noon it was believed that Isbot was dying and his people were all called in; however, later he was revived and nearing consciousness.

Mr. Isbot and Mr. June Stark, both of Benjamin, were in route from their home to Seymour Tuesday night when they ran into a wagon. Both were injured, Stark only slightly, and were carried to the hospital in Seymour.

The ice cream supper given last Tuesday night at the American Legion Hall by the Christian Womens Association was a huge success.

Sam Clonts says the first five or six saucers of ice cream he got were good but the last three or four were not so good. We wonder why?

LEST WE FORGET

There were 10,873,577 men known to be dead as the result of the Great War, according to figures given by J. W. Wheeler-Bennett in "The Reduction of Armaments," as quoted by G. A. Innes: British Empire, 1,698,919; France, 1,427,000; U. S. A. 107,284; Italy, 507,160; Russia, 2,762,064; Belgium, 267,000; Serbia, 707,343; Roumania, 339,117;

Greece, 15,000; Germany, 2,050,166; Austria-Hungary, 1,200,000; Turkey, 200,000; Bulgaria, 101,224; Total 10,873,577.

To this must be added: 20,000,000 wounded; 9,000,000 war orphans; 5,000,000 war widows, 10,000,000 refugees. These figures do not include the indirect losses from revolution, famine, and pestilence, the increased deathrate and the total losses due to the war. According to the Swedish Society for the Study of Social Consequences of the war the total loss must be put down at 40,000,000 lives.

DID YOU DISCOVER A SPIDER ACROSS THE DOOR TODAY?

Mark Twain once edited a paper in Missouri. One of his subscribers wrote him he found a spider in his paper and wanted to know whether it meant good luck or bad. This is what Mark Twain answered:

"Old subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good luck nor bad luck for you.

"The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterwards."

IF THE EDITOR TOLD THE TRUTH

The Ringling Eagle has been severely criticised lately for not telling the truth about the recent occurrences in Ringling. D. K. Spradling, editor, wrote why he did not give the whole truth by quoting an Indiana newspaper whose editor had decided to print all the facts. The Indiana newspaper wrote a local news as follows:

"John Benin, the latest merchant in town, made a trip to Beeville on Monday.

"John Coyle, our grocery man, is doing a poor business. His store is dirty and musty. How could he expect to do any business?"

"John Doe, the cold-blooded village banker, suffered a sun stroke while cutting weeds the other day. No one visited him while he was in bed.

"Dave Conkey died at his home here Tuesday. The doctor pronounced it heart failure, but home brew killed him.

"Married Miss Mary Rhodes and James Collins, last Saturday at the Baptist parsonage, by Reverend Gordon. The bride is a very ordinary girl who does not know any more about cooking than a jackrabbit and never helped her mother three days in her life. She is not a beauty by any means and has a gait like a duck. The groom is an up-to-date loafer. He has been living off the old folks at home all his life and is not worth shucks. It will be a hard life. Sooner State Press.

THE EDITOR COMES BACK

A citizen who was seven years in arrears for his home paper, who had never had a good word for the editor and who always opposed public improvements, was dying. "How do you feel?" asked the editor, who was on hand to write the obituary. "All looks bright before me, gasped the dying man. "I thought so," returned the editor. "you'll see the blame in about ten minutes."—Arlinson Co. (Mo.) Mail.

BETTER BE SAFE THAN SORRY

The drowning season is now in full swing. From now until school begins again thousands of boys and girls, too, these days—will take unnecessary chances in the water and lose their lives in consequence. This has always been true, and it will always be true. Youth will always take chances, and never listen to advice. Nevertheless, we offer some advice to those who would go swimming.

Don't stay in too long. Half an hour is enough at a stretch.

Don't go into the water immediately after a heavy meal.

Don't keep on swimming after you are tired.

Never go swimming alone.

Don't try to "find bottom."

Don't get into a canoe unless you can swim.

Most of the drowning accidents come from disregard of those simple precautions. If everybody would follow them there would be fewer young lives lost.

As is seen by a large base ball advertisement in this issue of the Herald, Knox City and Gorse will play the second game of ten play-off here on Thursday, July the 23rd. This advertisement is made possible by the merchants and individuals listed under the ad. Read this list.

The Camp Fire Girls met Monday at the American Legion Hall and discussed plans for a swimming party to be given next Monday afternoon at four o'clock. Each girl is to bring her cup, fork and plate and her own lunch.

We had a report by Mrs. Jones saying that we had $3.45 left over from our camping trip after paying everything that we owed. This makes us feel rather thrifty, for some of us thought we wouldn't have enough money for expenses.

Those present at the meeting were Frances Evans, Rowena Wall, Odell Thompson, Mary Lou Graham, Joelle Russell, little Martha Jane Jones, and the Guardian, Mrs. Emma Jean Jones. We were very glad to have as a visitor, Miss Blanch Graham of Electra.

GIRLS ARE ANNOYING THINGS

By Ed Kressy

COTTON FARMER SHOULD DEMAND COTTON CONTENT BAGGING FOR WRAPPING SAYS KNOX FARMER

MUNDAY, TEXAS, July 15—In recent years there has been much agitation in the South for an increase in the consumption of cotton. Doubtless many thousands of bales of the South's principal money crop has been consumed as a result of this agitation, but there still remains a surplus, and with this surplus the cotton farmer is going about his work of producing another crop with the depressed feeling that he will realize but little for his labor and investment, and he is wondering what can be done about it—if anything.

Cotton farmers have faced this situation before and having looked on from the sidelines with hearty approval of the various movements advocated with a view of consuming part of this surplus, but with never an idea that they themselves could do anything that would materially aid in the movement.

But Peter Loran, a Knox county farmer, and member of the executive committee of the Farmers Co-Operative and Educational Union of Texas, has been watching with keen interest the agitation from farmers advocating the use of cotton bagging, but has observed that gins throughout his section continue the use of jute bagging, despite the low price of cotton, and being of anxious turn of mind he began some investigations of his own.

Among other things he found that all-cotton bagging was not practical for the reason that if it were made sufficiently heavy to withstand the rough handling to which cotton is subjected the cost would be prohibitive. However, he has succeeded in finding a bagging made 60 per cent cotton that meets all of the requirements of cotton factors and transportation companies, which weighs exactly the same as the ordinary jute bagging, contains 1.2 pounds of applicable cotton.

The use of this bagging through the cotton growing states would consume thousands of bales of surplus cotton. So Mr. Loran went to a number of ginners in his immediate section and insisted that they purchase this cotton-jute bagging, and the Farmers Union Gin of Munday placed an order for 2000 patterns, which order alone will consume more than 10 bales of cotton. This gave Mr. Loran the idea of asking other farmers to insist that their cotton be wrapped in a cotton content wrapping, and that is just what he is doing.

While the cotton-jute bagging offered is just a little higher in price than the jute bagging, Mr. Loran believes that it will be to the interest of the farmers to pay the small additional cost in order to consume the heavy surplus, which in turn will stimulate the price of cotton more than the slight additional cost per bale of the wrapping. The cotton-jute product weighs exactly the same as the jute bagging, hence there is no loss in weight.

"Farmers," says Mr. Loran "have for a number of years watched the various agitations for the use of more cotton without interesting themselves in the movement to any great extent, and it is high time for farmers to take a hand—indeed they can take the lead, for this movement will consume more surplus cotton than all of the other moves that have been started, and we should awaken to the fact that our own cotton is being wrapped in jute, an imported product to the discrimination of cotton, and with concerted action on the part of cotton farmers several thousands of bales of this surplus cotton can be consumed in manufacturing bagging for this year's crop.

"Farmers, bankers, civic clubs, oil mills, ginners and others of the South interested in the welfare of the country have shown a sincere interest in this new cotton bagging, and farmers are urged to demand it of their ginners," says Mr. Loran.

In advocating the use of this cotton-jute bagging Mr. Loran has the support of the Farmers Union of Texas, of which he is an active member, being a member of the executive committee of the state organization. He has been farming in Knox county for more than forty years and is of the opinion that it is time for farmers to demand something that will help in consuming the great surplus of cotton which is pointed out as the primary cause of existing low prices. Mr. Loran plans to make an extensive trip over West Texas to advocate the use of this cotton-jute bagging, and will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to its use. His address is Peter Loran, Route 2, Munday, Texas.
