Reminder To Voters

Wednesday, October 14, to Friday, October 30, inclusive, is the period for absentee voting by personal appearance in the November 3 general election.

Any qualified voter in Texas who expects to be absent from the county of his residence on November 3 may cast an absentee ballot. To do so, he should take his voter's registration certificate to the county clerk's office during its hours of operation in the October 14-October 30 period.

In addition to state, district and local races, the November 3 ballot will include seven proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution.

By subject, the proposed amendments relate to: (1) censure and removal of judges; (2) authority for mixed beverage law; (3) assessment of farm, ranch and forest lands; (4) reconstitute State Building Commission; (5) county road bonds and assessed valuation; (6) increased value of homestead exemption from forced sale; and (7) authority to consolidate functions of government.

Texas has a record 4,150,645 registered voters this year. Normally, absentee voting accounts for approximately five percent of the total vote turnout.

Adult Basic Education Classes In Progress

The Knox City School is sponsoring for the federal government four classes in Adult Basic Education. Classes are being taught for any adult who wants to further his or her education.

Four classes are being taught at Knox City, and are being held in the Knox City High School building each Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:30-9:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Louise Kemletz reported approximately 20 students registered last Tuesday night for the first classes.

These classes are for anyone who did not finish school. Special classes will be for those who cannot speak English or little English, for those who want to review so they will be prepared to pass the General Educational Development

Students that are not high school graduates find these classes valuable in helping to review their previous education in order that they may later take tests that will give them a high school diploma equivalency. This certificate is recognized by industry as a high school diploma and will also be accepted in vocational training requirements, such as for nurse's training.

Knox County Well-Represented At Purcell Appreciation Dinner

A capacity crowd was on hand Monday evening in the Munday High School cafeteria for an appreciation dinner honoring Congressman Graham B. Purcell Jr. Earlier he had participated in a groundbreaking ceremony for the Texas A&M University Vegetable Research Center to be built east of Munday.

State Representative W. S. (Bill) Healy, also present for the groundbreaking ceremony, introduced the 13th Congressional District lawmaker.

Charles Baker, a Munday

businessman, was master of ceremonies on the occasion, and seated with the Bakers, Mr. Purcell, and Mr. Healy, at the head table were Mayor and Mrs. Jim Reeves of Munday, Dr. John Hutchinson, director of the Texas Extension Service, Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean of the Texas A&M College of Agriculture, and the honored guest's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Graham B. Purcell Sr. of Archer City.

Healy praised Purcell, who is running for re-election, for the strong stand the congressman has taken in developing a new farm bill. In fact, Purcell had to leave the affair at 8:50 p.m. to return to Dallas by plane for a later flight to Washington as the House-Senate Conference version of the farm bill was to come before the house for approval Tuesday noon.

Mr. Purcell told banquet guests that the National Farm Bureau does not represent the best interests of the farmer, being more concerned with the foreign grain market and insurance.

He said that it was the only farm organization refusing to support a coalition farm bill introduced into the House of Representatives after the Nixon administration refused to submit any specific farm bill. He did make it clear that he was not referring to state and county farm bureau organizations.
The congressman said the farm bill "with some added Republican terminology" has turned out better than he had expected several months ago. The bill contains for the first time, he said, $30 million per year for research on cotton, and he urged local support for the research provision.
Purcell urged Democrats to participate in the November 3 election, and Mr. Heatly jokingly reminded the congressman that absentee voting was to begin Wednesday, October 14.
Mr. Purcell also praised Mr. Heatly for his representing the area so well and for his ability and know how to get things done. He added that we were extremely fortunate in having Mr.

Heatly as our state representative.

KNOX CITY, TEXAS

The choice for Representative from the 80th Legislative District will be on the basis of knowledge of the State's needs and demonstrated ability to deal with them. The 62nd Legislature will be required to make an unusual number of critical decisions. Action at this session will affect the well-being of the State of Texas and its people for the crucial years remaining in the 20th century.

A major responsibility has to do with creating new districts for members of Congress and both branches of the Legislature, which will remain in effect until 1981. Predominantly rural counties of the 80th Legislative District could be badly hurt, if absorbed into a district with a large city.

Other critical subjects include: long range plans for public education, conservation of water and other natural resources, protection of environment from pollution, adoption of tax policies which will provide adequate revenue for essential services and at the same time avoid injustice to the interest or group of taxpayers.

The issue in this campaign is whether the people of the 80th Legislative District will have a voice in state affairs, and will be certain their interests are protected. We are fortunate in having in Bill Heatly a Representative who has the experience and influence necessary for effective service to his constituents. The next session of the Legislature will face many tough decisions that vitally affect the future of Texas. We need an experienced Representative, not a novice or a member of the minority who will be little more than an observer.

Bill Heatly has earned our gratitude for countless services rendered to Knox County and its citizens, especially in matters involving agricultural conservation of water resources. We, the undersigned citizens of Knox County, ask our friends and neighbors throughout the 80th Legislative District who appreciate capable representation in Austin, to join in giving him an overwhelming victory November 3.

Save $3 on a complete CFS soil test!

Does a bargain interest you?

Then clip the certificate below. It's worth a $3 discount on a complete CFS soil test at your CFS Crop Advisory Center.

All you do to cash in is give us a call. A CFS Crop Advisor comes out, takes samples from each field. We send the samples to the CFS laboratories for a complete analysis—soil pH, availability of nitrogen, phosphate and potash, deficiencies of all the critical micro-nutrients... also test for organic matter and soil texture.

CFS Crop Advisors then outline a fertilizer and herbicide program for the crops you intend to grow — show you what fertilizer and herbicide to apply and when to apply it for best results. The plan also shows how to adjust soil pH to make nutrients more readily available to growing plants.

Sound like a good bargain? It is — particularly when you see the results you get! Call us today. Offer ends January 1, 1971.

"And thou shalt love the Lord Thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might," Deut. 6:5.

The Bible tells us that the heart of man is full of evil characteristics, such as stubbornness, madness, depravity; is the fountain head of all evil, source of unbelief and covetousness. It is desperately wicked above all things.

But thanks to God our merciful Father who has made a way for us to renew our hearts by seeking Him in the name of Jesus who shed his blood for our sins.

We must continually fear Him, keep His commandments, be obedient to His word, have continuous fellowship with Him, and love Him with all our hearts.

The Season For Furs

'Tis the season of the great fur put-on - the fabulous fakes with wild life looks, announces Joanne Thurber, Extension textiles and clothing specialist at Texas A&M University.

The manmade fur fabrics have been designed for vests and skirts, pants and pantsuits as well as coats and jackets. And the furs come in all types - chinchilla, raccoon, beaver, fox, wild spots, stripes, checks or even op art patterns.

Fake furs are deep pile fabrics made by interlacing extra sets of yarn in the basic cloth structure. The pile is usually a manmade fiber, such as rayon, acrylic or modacrylic. The backing is knitted or woven of cotton, acrylic or modacrylic.

The Textile Fiber Products Identification Act requires that every textile fiber product be labeled according to its fiber content.

Fake furs have a luxurious appearance and feel yet are comparatively light weight plus warm to wear. The furs are resistant to moths, mildew and wrinkles, and their relative cost is less than genuine fur.

Fake fur fabrics, however, have a natural tendency to tuft in wear and drycleaning. Tufting means that the fibers stick together. The fur also tends to mat and flattendown in wear. Because these fibers are very heat sensitive, care should be taken not to dry the garments near heat nor to steam press them.

To select the best fake fur garment, follow these guides: Read the label for fiber content and care instructions. Some fake furs are washable, but most of them require drycleaning, using either commercial or the fur method which is a more expensive process than regular drycleaning.

Check the density of the pile. Better qualities have a denser, closer pile.

Determine shedding by shaking the fur briskly or by working the fingers through the pile of the fabric.

Acrylic and modacrylic fibers have a tendency to hold oil and grease stains and may require special attention for removal.

Accent on Health
J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Before 1921, the person with diabetes didn't worry about leading a normal life. He worried about death. But then insulin was discovered and a daily shot helped keep the diabetic alive. Although the discovery of insulin was a major scientific discovery, the search continued by an orally anti-diabetes drug. The first oral drugs have been developed. Now the diabetic is no longer a slave to the needle. Diabetes is a condition in which the body is unable to use food properly, especially the carbohydrates in the body. Diabetics have difficulty turning these sugars and starches into energy. An individual's body normally produces a substance called insulin, which enables the body to burn up sugar for energy or store it for later use.

Diabetes is an inherited trait, as far as we know. The cause is not enough insulin or an interference with the action of insulin in the body. Diabetes is a disorder which may have existed from birth. In some cases, many years may pass before diabetes is detected. Any one of a number of factors can trigger this revelation - such as being overweight, having an infection, stress, or the aging body's lessened ability to handle carbohydrates.

Diabetes tends to run in families. About one out of 60 Americans has this disorder, or over four million people. Two million or more of these people are unaware that they have the disease. Twenty-two percent of our population carry the genes for diabetes.

Anyone at any age can develop the disease. Approximately one out of every 2,500 children is diabetic. However, diabetes is essentially a disease of middle age; 4 out of 5

IT IS NOT BY ACCIDENT THAT . . . Weekly Newspapers Continue In Business

Dependent as the Weekly Press is upon advertising revenue for survival, one would think that the newspapers, radio, television, magazines or 'the always' would "run them out of business."

Such Is Not The Case ... And For Some Very Good Reasons

1. It is still the most thoroughly-read publication invited into the home.
2. National outlets and their advertising media are abstract quantities until they are identified with the local firm.
3. It is, by far, the most economical means of reaching most people in the most receptive frame of mind.
4. The mere fact that advertisers are alert and aggressive enough to offer their merchandise in the "show window" of the community marks them as progressive and good business firms.
5. An active market place (a weekly newspaper) is essential for progress and communication of ideas.

Japan Enjoys US Imports

Texas residents are well aware that U. S. - Japanese trade is extensive. U. W. McElwath, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, commented recently.

"Almost everyone recognizes that Americans are important customers for Japanese goods. I wonder how many of us realize that the Japanese are major customers for American goods, especially for American farm commodities.

"In fact, Japan imports more U. S. agricultural products than any other country in the world - a record $1.1 billion worth during the 1970 fiscal year," McElwath said.

He pointed out that (feed grains, soybeans, wheat, and cotton are) important farm crops in Texas and that exports of these farm products to Japan have gone up dramatically in recent years.

More than six million tons of feed grains were shipped to Japan last fiscal year - just about one-third of U. S. feed grain exports. Soybean exports to Japan had a 251 million dollar value, and wheat exports $136 million. Japan is our best cotton customer, taking one-fourth of its cotton from the U. S. and Japan bought $50 million worth of tobacco from the U. S. during the last fiscal year.

The ASC Committee Chairman reported that Secretary of Agriculture, Clifford M. Hardin recently took note of the American-Japanese trade story, calling it unprecedented.

1970-71 KNOX CITY HIGH SCHOOL Band Officers pictured above are, the president; Sammy Tankersley, vice-president; Jody McKinney, secretary; Jones, reporter; and director Wes Hays.

Secretary Hardin also said:

"The Japanese economy has paralleled that nation's growth in trade. In the years between 1960 and 1965, Japanese shipments in world trade more than doubled. By 1969, they had almost doubled again, reaching $16 billion. Shipments to the United States increased in those nine years by more than four times - $4.9 billion.

"The Japanese householder's disposable income has more than tripled since 1960. His demand for meat, milk, and eggs - a good 'household' measure of consumer prosperity - has increased by more than four times in 15 years.

"He is diversifying his eating habits as his income goes up. For example, per person consumption of wheat flour in this traditionally rice-eating society has increased by 30 percent in a decade and a half.

"Ten years ago, Japan's agricultural imports from the U. S. were $440 million. In the fiscal year just past, they were more than twice as great - nearly $1.1 billion.

"But the agricultural exports are only one aspect of a beneficial trading relationship that can be summarized very simply:

In terms of total exports, the United States is Japan's best customer, and Japan is the United States' best off-shore customer.

"As you might expect, two-thirds of U. S. shipments to Japan last year were raw materials, mineral fuels, and footstuffs, while 90 percent of Japan's shipments to the U. S. were manufactured goods.

"This is the basis of beneficial world trade - an exchange of goods based primarily on production efficiency.

"It is this principle that led Japan to look to efficient producers on the broad farmlands for the feed grains needed to satisfy its people's rising demand for livestock products.

"As a result, imported feed grains have triggered a rapid expansion of Japanese livestock production. This has brought Japanese consumers more meat and poultry at better prices; it has opened opportunities for Japanese farmers for new and profitable livestock enterprises; it has meant an important and expanding feed grain market for world agriculture.

Eighth Grade News

By STACY ANGLE

Last Thursday night the seventh grade Greyhound team won their game against Archer City and the eighth grade team lost their game against Archer City. Last week at the pep rally Mr. Baker was the speaker.

This week the Greyhound will play the Mustang Braves with the seventh grade game beginning at 5:30 and the eighth grade game beginning at 8:30.

The eighth grade class would like to thank all the eighth grade members who have worked in and brought food to the concession stand at the ball games.

I'm sure everyone in the eighth grade is glad that the Mustangs beat Mustangs Friday night so that we didn't have to go to school Mustangs.

"Miss Firelighter" Crowned At Bonfire Ceremony Friday

Miss Jody McKinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McKinney, was crowned "Miss Firelighter" at the annual Knox City High School bonfire held here Friday afternoon in a formal get-together.

Originally scheduled for Thursday night, the ceremony had to be postponed due to strong, westerly winds accompanying a cold front Thursday.

Tri-captains of the Greyhound football team, Mike Newton, Bobby Lewis, and Max Spencer participated in the crowning ceremony and the pep band accompanied the Miss Firelighter.

Miss McKinney is a very active student. She was named the KC-Mustang game each year and has become quite a favorite.
