

AMERICAN LEGION ENTERTAINS LOCAL EX - SERVICE MEN

Members of the Charles LeRoy Teague Post of the American Legion entertained local ex-service men, out of town members of the Legion, and special guests at a chicken supper held at the American Legion Hall Monday night.

The meeting was presided over by Sergeant-at-Arms John Roberts, who also introduced the various speakers. Short but very interesting talks were made by Rev. A. A. Peacock and Rev. H. E. East, pastors of the Methodist church and Baptist church, respectively. Interesting talks were also made by Sheriff Louis Cartwright, representing the Monday post; Rev. George Tyson of Truscott, chaplain of the local post; Ocie Turner, Truscott, who is also a member of the local post, and Dr. O. J. Emery and Dave Whitford, members.

The evening was an enjoyable one and will long be remembered by those who attended. About thirty-five members and guests were present for the occasion.

The members of the post wish to express their sincere thanks to the K. P. boys who rendered such excellent service in preparing and serving the supper.

Haskell Fair To Open Wednesday

Haskell, October 12.—With $1,200 in cash awards posted for exhibits of agricultural products, livestock entries at the Central West Texas Fair here October 18-21 are expected to surpass any previous showing.

The fair will officially open Wednesday, October 18 at one o'clock, with a mammoth parade of decorated floats and cars, merchants entries, school bands and pep squads, and young women sponsors from a score of West Texas towns and cities.

Entertainment features for the four-day exposition include carnival shows and attractions, automobile and horse races, football, dances and a gigantic fireworks display, said to be the biggest ever staged in West Texas.

Highlighting the first day of the fair will be the coronation of "Miss Central West Texas" who will reign as queen of the 1939 fair. Music for the colorful pageant will be furnished by Jack Amlung and his Crazy Hotel orchestra. Climaxing the coronation ceremony will be an old fashioned "barn dance."

Spotlight on Thursday will be turned to Fair Park race track for an afternoon race program, followed with the fireworks display Thursday night.

Races will again be staged Friday and Saturday afternoons. On Friday night, the Haskell Indians and Anson Tigers will meet in District 10-A conference play.

APPLICATIONS FOR REHABILITATION LOANS BEING ACCEPTED

Applications are now being taken for Standard Rural Rehabilitation loans for 1940, according to Howard M. Williamson, Rural Supervisor for Knox county.

Applications may be made at the County Clerk's Office in the court house at Benjamin. County Clerk Marvin Chamberlain will take these applications on Wednesdays of each week.

To be eligible an applicant must have satisfactory land arrangements and be able to work out a sound farm and home plan for his farm. It will be necessary for the Rural Supervisor to inspect the farm of each applicant and the application approved by the Local County Advisory Committee before a loan can be made.

It is anticipated that a large number of applications for loans will be received this year, according to Mr. Williamson, and that they will be handled as fast as possible.

A verdict of suicide was returned in an inquest conducted by R. L. Dick, justice of the peace. Dick was assisted by Walter Muchison, county attorney, and Sheriff Olen Dutton, both of Haskell.

DEATH TAKES PIONEER KNOX CITY WOMAN

Funeral services were held Tuesday, October 11, at 3 p.

at the Methodist Church in Knox City, for Mrs. S. H. Woodward, pioneer Haskell County citizen who lived near Knox City. Rev. B. W. Wilkins of the Seymour Methodist Church officiated, assisted by Rev. A. A. Peacock, pastor of the local Methodist Church.

The choir, with Mrs. E. Q. Warren in charge, opened the service with singing, "Nearer My God To Thee", followed by the reading of the 90th Psalm by Rev. Peacock. The choir sang again, "There Will Be No Night Over There." A prayer was offered followed by the reading of the obituary by Rev. Peacock, in which he gave comments of how Mrs. Woodward was a devoted worker in her church as long as she was able. The last few years of her life had been spent more quietly in her home with her family and her dearest friends.

Following the reading of the obituary, Rev. Wilkins delivered a consoling message to the bereaved relatives and friends who had gathered to pay their last respects to one whose life had been a blessing to those who knew and loved her.

Burial was made in the Knox City cemetery with the Warren Funeral Home of this city in charge.

The flower girls were, Mrs. A. W. Blaine, Mrs. T. B. Robertson, Mrs. Abe Watson, Mrs. W. E. Benedict, Ruth Rice, Inez Logan, Wilma Lowery, Lillian and Rowena Hutchinson.

Active pallbearers were A. B. Lowery, Dave Whitford, John Roberts, L. E. Hamm, Roy Smith, John May, and L. C. Teague. Honorary pallbearers included all members of the local American Legion Post and old friends of the family.

Mrs. Woodward passed away quietly Tuesday, October 10 at the home of her son, Lee Woodward, where she had been confined since an accident several months ago in which she suffered a broken hip. She had been improving and her death was unexpected.

Cordie B. Park was born in Lafayette county, Mississippi, February 24, 1868. Here she grew to young womanhood and received her education. On December 12, 1888 she was united in marriage to S. H. Woodward. They moved to Eastland County, Texas in 1896 and lived there eleven years before moving to Haskell county, settling near Knox City on December 28, 1907.

In addition to her husband, S. H. Woodward, she is survived by four sons, Roy, Earl, Lee and Park, all living near Knox City; one sister, Mrs. Joe Lovelady, Cisco; four brothers, J. R. Park and D. E. Park, Putman; R. A. Park, Moran, and E. L. Park, Knox City; one grandson and four granddaughters all of Knox City.

The Herald joins the many friends in extending sympathy to the family in the loss of their loved one.

URGES HOME OWNERS TO BUILD CONCRETE CURBS

Mayor C. C. Hoge reports that there are approximately 780 sacks of W. P. A. Cement left for curb and gutter work in Knox City. He urges folks who want curbs and gutters in front of their homes to see him or the W. P. A. Supervisor, M. J. Shipman, and make the necessary arrangements for the work. The cost of the work is very small, only 40 cents a foot. To get this work done, the entire block must be contracted for, no parts of blocks will be curbed. If the block is curbed and guttered, Mayor Hoge said the W. P. A. will pave the block at no additional charge. This is the best opportunity Knox City property owners will have to get their property curbed, guttered and paved at so low a cost. Property owners should get together and make the necessary arrangements to have this work done. It will not only improve the looks of the town, but will enhance the value of their property. The W. P. A. is ready to go to work, all they are waiting on, is for the property owners to put up their part.

The average cost of curb and gutter work in other towns and cities is about 80c a foot, but our city council is trying to absorb as much of the cost as possible.

the almost lost art of kicking. The man who receives the ball from center must pass it to someone else rather than carry it across the line himself. This rule gives more players a chance to handle the ball and handicaps the offense intentionally, since the offense has the edge in six man football.

These are the main rule differences. The game requires well coached, well conditioned and well equipped players just as does eleven man. It was invented by Stephen Epler when he was a teacher in a small school at Chester, Nebraska. The first game was played at Hebron, Nebraska, in September, 1934. It has grown faster than any other sport in the United States because it is less expensive than eleven man, requires fewer players, and has more action. It is ideal not only for small high schools, but for the interclass programs of large schools and colleges. Six man football has filled a long felt need in fall program of this country.

The members of the Christian Church had as their guests Sunday night members from the various churches over the district. The program was rendered by members from the Stamford church. We are very glad to welcome these good good people to our local church.

Moorhouse and D. David of Ardmore, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Collins Moorhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Moorhouse of Benjamin, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Moorhouse. This included all of the children and their companions and the two grandsons. We are hoping that many more happy birthdays are in store for Mrs. Moorhouse.

T. W. Templeton received a message Tuesday morning that his uncle at Kockwall passed away. Funeral services are being held on Wednesday.

WHAT TO DO IN CASE OF FIRE

A favorite story with the press of Texas and Oklahoma is the following statement of "what to do in case of fires."

The origin of the statement is not known. Here it is:

"As soon as the alarm starts sounding jump into your car and get it started.

"While you are backing out of your yard have your wife look for smoke so you will know which way to go.

"If you have two cars, have some other member of your family bring the other one with all possible speed. Thus, you can park one on each side of street at the scene of the fire. This will enable your neighbor, who should be right behind you, to park in the middle.

"Whatever you do, don't fail to get to the fire before the fire truck (this is imperative).

"In case you are the first one there and find yourself hemmed in by the cars of others, it is wise to suddenly decide you have to leave there.

This can be easily done by going ahead, and madly backing up a few times until you finally run over the hose. This important move should always be accompanied by continuous blowing of your horn.

"Don't pay any attention to the firemen. If they get in your way run over them. They are there through courtesy, while your presence is important.

"At a recent fire, there were 46 automobiles assembled at the scene. A section of hose was ruined by one or more driving over it.

"And before you leave, don't fail to make some snooty comparisons of the fire department with one you saw in L. A. or some other city you may have once visited."

John Coates of Abilene is visiting friends and relatives here.

Junior Class Report

The Junior class is still doing its best to keep the rep of B. H. S. as spotless as possible. What if a certain girl was seen out late last night with the medicine show's popcorn boy?

The plans have been made for our annual Halloween Carnival and all of you readers may come prepared for the snappiest, happiest time that you have ever had. We Juniors have charge of the Bingo stand.

A volleyball team, composed of high school students, has been organized by Mr. Vaughn. We plan to do our best, and if we can't win we will be good losers.

We have just completed the settlement of America in our American History course, and a greater appreciation is felt for the early colonists in their attempt to settle our land. We hope to complete the unit before six weeks exams, which come this week.

Our geometry is still about as clear as mud to most of us. Therefore, we are progressing quite rapidly in it.

Sophomore Report

The Sophomores have just finished the study of short stories in Literature, and this serves as a good background for the novel, which we are studying now. Everyone seems to be enjoying Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities."

We have just finished the study of subtraction and addition in Algebra, and are now taking up fractions.

The second year Home Ec class is studying about canning. Thursday and Friday we had reports from different members of the class, and studied the different ways of preserving food.

Freshman Report

The Freshman class has just completed the study of participial phrases and we are now studying digramming of gerund phrases in our English class. We have found the study of digramming of the different phrases very interesting and we know we are accomplishing something in this study.

In general science we are studying measurement in feet and inches. We are also learning how to read Centigrade and Fahrenheit thermometers.

The girls are learning how to make rugs out of duck and burlap. We find this very interesting because the rugs are pretty and easy to make.

We are studying graphs in our general math course.

What is Six Man Football?

Six Man Football was played by about 2,500 schools in 1938 and will probably be played by about 4,000 in 1939. It is real contact football with tackling, blocking, kicking, passing and running. There is a line of three and a backfield of three. Only such rule changes have been made as was necessary to cut the game from eleven men to six, and to balance offense and defense and to make the game safe for players.

There is more scoring in six man football — perhaps twice as much. Notice that in the North Dakota state championship game two well-coached teams, Drake and Minnewauk, played to a 34-38 score.

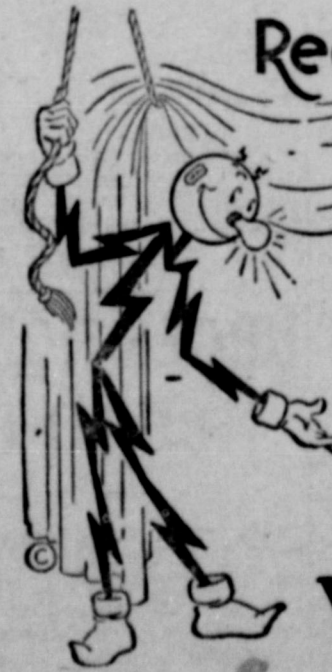

The quarters are ten minutes and the field is eighty by forty yards. All players, even the center, are eligible for a forward pass. Field goals count for four points, to encourage

BEWARE THE PENDULUM'S SWING

Lady Astor said in the British House of Commons recently, "Well, I can tell you this—that the red card of the communist party wouldn't be nearly red enough for me if I had to go to work in a factory at the age of 11." That statement covers a lot of territory. It points out the gravest sort of dangers. Dangers we may have to face right here before many years.

Roosevelt has given this country six years of liberalism, and what he did met wide popular approval. The 1936 election surely proves that. But the pendulum of human opinion swings just as does the pendulum of a clock. Sooner or later, the conservatives will probably take over the country, and when they do, they had better exercise caution lest they clamp the lid down too hard and too fast. Anything like that will cause plenty of trouble.

Many things done by Roosevelt had better be left alone. Regardless of the outcome of elections, people are not ready for big business to take over things and run them ruthlessly for its own profit and benefit as was done from the days of Wilson to those of Roosevelt. If the conservative becomes reactionary, going to far to the right, then just as surely as night follows the day, the pendulum will swing too far to the left when the right swing has spent itself. Russia and Mexico had bloody revolutions, because their leaders of the right went too far. And when their power finally tumbled, as tumble it must, the wild eyed radical had his day, and a bloody day of vengeance it was. Wisdom counsels moderation as the wisest policy in government.

LONDON WOULD MESS THINGS UP

Alfred M. Landon, Republican Presidential standard bearer in the 1936 election, says the way for President Roosevelt to keep politics out of the fight for repeal of the present embargo in the special session of Congress just convened, is to declare he will not seek a third term as President of the United States.

We can think of no more foolish thing the President could do. The minute he takes himself out of the 1940 Presidential picture, he will lose control of Congress. On top of that, there are a score or more hopefuls waiting for him to make such a statement, before starting booms of their own. Several of these are members of the present United States Senate. These booms would start at once. Those in the United States Senate would talk themselves and their fellow members to death, tiling the country how to save itself. There would be such a welter of political activity by Tom, Dick and Harry, trying to mass convention votes, till the safety of the country in the present crisis would be forgotten, and we would be victims of a Roman holiday until the 1940 convention.

If Mr. Landon wanted to furnish indisputable proof that he was a man of unsound political judgment, he certainly made exactly the right kind of statement. He has proved it now beyond a mere shadow of a doubt. Come again, Alf, you will lose even Maine and Vermont next time.

GOING TOO FAR

War hysteria takes all kinds of crazy turns. It seems that the instinct to hate and to destroy lies dormant in the human breast, waiting for the proper moment to become active. This being true, we read of conduct on the part of otherwise sensible, kind hearted people that shocks our sense of decency, justice, and human refinement.

Of course, right now Russia and Germany are rather unpopular nations in this country. Alien Germans have conducted themselves in such manner that they have brought some measure of discredit on their country. They have organized bands that are an insult to every free-born American citizen. The wild-eyed Russian here has helped organize communistic organizations that do violence to our American creed. But in the case of both of these countries, such conduct is on the lunatic fringe, and not the conduct of the average person with these bloods in his veins. During the last World War, we heard persons say that if they had a drop of German blood in their veins they would drain it out. But as a matter of fact, most of us have some German blood. Anyone making the statement these people made is ignorant of his history. The English speaking part of the white race is mostly Germanic in origin.

It is a sad, regrettable, un-Christian-like display of bigotry when a well-known influential preacher so far forgets the good of his country that he places showmanship above good sense by stating that he will burn a Nazi flag on the altar of his pulpit. Such conduct as this can do no good. It will only succeed in inflaming the emotions of his congregation. This is just a drop in the big ocean of emotionalism that leads to war. Fellows who conduct themselves in this manner should be ready to go and die, along with the fine young men they are egging on.

Hitler and Stalin are hateful to us, but for the sake of our great, benevolent American civilization we must not assume the role of an apostle of righteousness, to reform the world. There are going to be wars in Europe in the future just as there have been in the past. And if Uncle Sam is going to be nothing but a tail to the European kite, we will rush in every time they start something over there. There are undesirable people in our midst, but we should not burn the barn to destroy a few rats. England is the oldest continuous government on the face of the earth today, and she has grown great and venerable by being sensibly tolerant.

Riding the Range

By the Range Rider

The most amusingly made-up character we've seen in a long time was the lion in the Wizard of Oz.

What a change ten years can make in the life of an individual. Compare Al Smith's picture in 1929 with one made in 1933.

A certain busybody went to President Lincoln, to try to injure General Grant by telling Lincoln, Grant was drunk all the time. The president thought a minute and then asked his informant if he knew the brand of whiskey Grant drank, observing he wanted to send a gallon to each of his other generals, hoping it would make them win battles like Grant.

If Mussolini joins Hitler in this war, it will be because he thinks Hitler is going to win. You can bet your last dollar these dictators look after their own hides first.

When boiled down to their essentials, most things are simple. Take the Bible, the world's greatest book. The Old Testament is mostly about a certain desert tribe; while the New Testament is about a certain, simple carpenter who asked nothing of the world, but who gave all.

Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt expressed a thought in her talk last Sunday morning that has often proved consoling to the Range Rider when she said, "Try to be gay though you are surrounded by sadness." It takes a brave person to flash a smile when the heart is hurt.

Moral counts for much. If Russia had the morale of Germany, England, or the United States, she would be terribly powerful. But when the going gets rough, those Russians are liable to blow up and have another revolution. A nation is like a family. If a child is always repressed at home, it will go wild when away from home. In the same way, when a people is oppressed for generations and kept backward and in ignorance, it will not react normally when given a severe ordeal.

Since there are no Shangrilas in the world, a person might as well make up his mind to grow old with grace and with a smile, as to grow old with a frown and a frown.

Dr. Gustav Egloff says Germany will be defeated by the knock of low grade gasoline. That's some consolation. We had about decided there were no knocks in Hitler's juggernaut.

"Nothing good ever lasts," the pessimist opines; "Nothing bad ever lasts," the optimist counters. In a measure, they are both right. Nothing is unchangeable. This is a world of change. Today, nature gives us one thing; tomorrow, something different. God is, indeed, wise.

Edwin Westphal, a band member for years, called Christ a "lousy Jew." Father Couglin, another rabble-rouser, "until three P. M. Clonts was host of his Friday, October 6, to members of the Friday afternoon and "Club and several guests. Fred the club. Games of "42" were played in the afternoon followed by a delicious refreshment of sandwiches, pumpkin yodles, waffles, brew, potato indignity, pickles and candy, service to Mrs. Joe Averitt, Mrs. 28 A. Peacock.

RECENT BRIDE HONORED WITH SHOWER

his Complimenting Mrs. Bill on "ing, the former Miss Marion Bumpas, Mrs. Eli Will perity is temperance; the virtue of adversity is fortitude; which in words is the more heroic virtue? Prosperity is the blessing of the Old Testament; adversity is the blessing of the New, which carrieth the greater benediction, and the clearer revelation of God's favor. Yet, even in the Old Testament, if you listen to David's harp, you shall hear as many hearse-like airs as carols; the pencil of the Holy Ghost hath labored more in describing the afflictions of Job than the felicities of Solomon. Prosperity is not without fears and distastes, and adversity is not without comforts and hopes. Prosperity doth best discover vice, but adversity goth best discover virtue."

It would seem then, there is some good and some bad in all things, but it may take a great Philosopher to see the silver lining to the dark clouds of adversity.

It seems to us that the world is not nearly so emotional in this war as it was from 1914 to 1918. Is this because we have no more recovered from these years emotionally than we have economically? The world spent its last dollar, and drained its emotions dry in that war. It is still broke financially, and all sane people view world events coolly and sanely now, knowing full well what the beat of drums and the roar of cannon mean to the world.

It is always funny to see people when the first real cold spell comes along. It will always catch somebody in an embarrassing garb. Either he will have on white pants, feet hat, and overcoat, or he will have on a good warm overcoat and a hard-boiled straw hat. The Range Rider knows exactly how the other fellow in this predicament feels. He has been caught that way several times himself. In fact, he was caught that way the other night.

There is a very amusing picture in Collier's Weekly for October 7, 1933. It is of a fine looking couple, a man and a woman. The woman is crying on the shoulder of the man. The man is an army officer all gged out in a resplendent uniform, gold braid and everything. He says to her, "Aw, me now, money, don't cry! hat is it you want to know out our anti-aircraft gun placements?" When no one can get the job done as a government picks a beautiful woman to weave her into the affections of some who is in the know. What J. knows, she'll soon find out.

The best possible way to get out of this war is to realize fully how easy it is to get and how hard it is to stay out of it. In this way, we can get the fine line of cool, common sense. In this way we will not heedlessly offend either side and we'll not rush headlong, like a bunch of freshmen, into something that doesn't concern us enough to shed our young men's blood.

About all our Republican friends have to offer as Presidential timber is a couple or three U. S. Senators. We tried a Republican Senator in that position once, and as we remember, Mr. Harding didn't do so well. As you know, they were going to take us back to normalcy, but they took us for a one way ride, and left us to beg and hitchhike our way back.

There is a lot being said about the adjournment of politics during the present crisis. Nobody who knows politics expects any such thing. Politics is as all-pervading as life itself. When the German quits his beer drinking, the Italian plows up his vineyard and the Englishman is nauseated with tea, the average American official will adjourn politics.

Parent - Teacher Association

The P. T. A. met in the high school study hall Wednesday, October 4, at 4 o'clock. Arrangements were made to begin the drive for P. T. A. membership, which began Friday, October 6. The winning class in the drive will receive $3.00, the second highest class $2.00 and the third $1.00.

Committee chairmen and members were appointed to begin work on our annual Halloween Carnival, which is to be held the last Friday in October.

Third Grade Project

The third grade has completed their grocery store. We are making a cash register and will be ready to do business this week. So come in and buy some groceries from us.

We also have finished our rhythm band instruments and are now playing them.

We are finding out about the weather and are going to make a Forecast Calendar.

First Grade Carpenters

The first grade is building its house of health. It is to be made of lumber about 18 by 13 inches. Each child will have a shingle of colored construction paper with his name on it on the roof of the house. The yard will have milk bottle wells and fruit trees in it. They are also making plans for their new homes.

Fourth Grade News

The fourth grade, in beginning a unit on homes, has constructed a "House of Music" in the sand table.

They have also made a small music library of orange crates in which they file their music notebooks, song books, and staffs and notes made of paper.

This being Fire Prevention Week, they plan to observe the time set aside by making posters, writing stories and poems, and dramatizing Fire Prevention plays.

Seventh Grade News

The seventh grade is busy this week getting ready to bring the first six weeks' work to a close. All are preparing for the examinations. They are also getting their notebooks up to date. Everyone is looking forward to a good outcome.

Texas History Class

Mr. Cook has made Texas History a very interesting subject, and has made every member of the class like it. There are 16 students in the class.

Each student is required to make at least one oral report each six weeks, and for each semester they must write a theme on something pertaining to Texas History. Each student is keeping a Texas History workbook which they find to be very useful.

Sports by a Sideliner

The volleyball girls have been practicing with the basketball boys this week. They are learning the great importance of the good positions on the court. This is essential for a winning team.

Faculty is Entertained

Always, after the 3:45 bell, teachers ask teachers if they have any food left in their dinner pails. To any one of this hungry mob an onion and a biscuit with a spot of catsup would taste like a slice of angel food cake topped with whipped cream.

Last Thursday after school the teachers' plea for food was met with an invitation from Mr. Whittis to all the faculty members to join him in a watermelon feast in the Home Economics department. There were no refusals and a great many thanks to Mr. Whittis.

The Chuck Wagon

The Halloween Carnival is carrying out a western theme this year. On the school ground will be a chuck wagon ready to serve all. This promises to be the best chuck wagon meal ever served on the famous Knox Prairie. Come one! Come all! Let's eat at the chuck wagon this year.

Sophs Plan Entertainment

The Sophomore class plans a hay ride and a pot-luck supper for Friday night. The location has not been decided upon yet, but it will probably be within five miles of Knox City.

The class has been having "Railroad" spelling matches in its home room the past few weeks. They have challenged the Freshman class twice, winning one of the matches.

Seniors Plan Entertainment

Friday night, October 13, the Seniors are planning something new in entertainment. They plan to go on a hay ride with a tractor to pull the hay wagon. Each Senior will carry something to go in a stew. A huge pot will be carried and a fire made under it. Each person will contribute their onion, potato, tomato, or meat, and everyone will have a hand in the stew. The Seniors and their sponsor, Mr. Whittis, are looking forward to this with zest.

Who's Who in the Senior Class

Zena Estelle Bolin was born September 12, 1922, at Knox City. Zena started to school here and has attended here ever since.

Zena has dark brown hair, color, blue; song, Beer Barrel Polka; subject, Home Economics; hobby, collecting snapshots; sport, tennis; pastime, reading. And her dislike to people using incorrect English. Zena plays a clarinet in the Greyhound band. She plans to attend Baylor College and will major in Home Economics.

Zena is known around K. C. as "Zena Bell." She is a quiet sort of girl and has many friends.

Klips From the Dog House

The dog house was jammed to capacity last week by a number of the students of K. C. H. S. All of this can be easily explained when examinations are mentioned. The first six weeks drew to an end with moans and groans over a little study and a quantity of midnight oil.

It looks as if a certain Junior girl has omitted the midnight oil and adopted afternoons after school for her devotion to study. Maybe she is using these nights to write letters to a secret destination on the plains.

The Senior class might not have all the brains but it is a sure fact that they have plenty of brawn from the looks of one of their classmates right hand.

It looks as if locker 52 has caused enough commotion this week. Two diaries can cause plenty of excitement — especially to two very inquisitive Senior boys (such children).

Home Economics Club

The first meeting of the girls' Homemaking Club was held last Thursday in the Home Economics laboratory. There were several representatives from each class in high school.

Dramatic Tryouts Held Monday

Members of the Scene Shifters, dramatic club of K. C. H. S., had tryouts for parts in the play "Spooky Tavern" Monday afternoon in the auditorium. "Spooky Tavern" will be the first major production given this year by the dramatic club. They have not set an exact date for the play yet.

A few members will give a radio skit at the Study Club Friday afternoon entitled "The Mother Who Went Away." The cast is composed of Doris Elaine Clonts, Margaret Dutton, Marjorie Propps, Faye Heath and L. N. Bridges.

Staff Has Meeting

In a meeting of the Kennel staff Friday, October 6, Mr. Farrar, the new sponsor, took over his duties. Assignments were made for the coming week and plans for the coming year. We, the staff, are going to edit the best "Kennel" this year that this town and community has ever seen. We know Mr. Farrar will help us in every way possible.

to say the fish fry was a success.

Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Chamberlain had quite a home coming of their children Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Pete Chamberlain and daughter of Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. Buster Chamberlain of Munday and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Moore and children of Goree, making a very happy occasion for all.

Sheriff and Mrs. Lewis Cartwright visited in Plainview last Thursday. They were accompanied on their return by the ladies mother Mrs. L. D. Stark for a visit. Mrs. Stark has visited here at various times and has many good friends here who are always glad to see her.

Miss Martha Crenshaw spent the latter part of the week in Dallas with relatives, returning Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Baker of Seymour spent Sunday on the Beavers Ranch with their good friends Mr. and Mrs. Sam

Active Fish

Some of the Freshmen are in the band this year and they like it very much.

The Freshman girls are very green when it comes to volleyball, but they are learning fast. The Freshman boys are doing nicely in their respective teams. They beat the Sophomores in a game the other day. The girls played the boys and the boys beat them, but only by a small margin.

Personals

June Heatherington was honored with a visit from her cousin, Benny Heatherington of Decatur, over the week end.

Nella Shaver, Dorothy Warren and Geneva Mills went to the Munday - Haskell football game in Haskell Friday night. Mary Frances Gauntt and Margaret Sadler, both of Rule, were week end guests of Helen Ruth Marr.

Jim Edd Marr attended the football game in Crowell Friday afternoon.

Zena Bolin and Jean Anne Smith went to Munday Saturday afternoon.

Rufus White broke his right hand last week. This hindered him in many ways, including typing.

Marjorie Propps was a visitor in Rochester Saturday. Miss Wanda White of Stamford was a guest of Rueben Wall Sunday afternoon — or it could have been vice versa. Anita Wampler visited relatives on the plains over the week end.

Billie Brookreson, Buddie Sams, C. E. Williams and Joe Barton, of Benjamin, were visitors in Knox City over the week end.

David Clarke spent most of the week end in Stamford.

Senior Class Has Home Room Program

Monday morning the Seniors had a delightful home room program. The entertainment was started by "Beer Barrel Polka" swinging out with L. N. Bridges, Jack Herring, Dickie Mullins, and Aldene Huntman. Then came a version of Shakespeare's "McBeth," condensed by Margaret Dutton, Udell Darden and DeAlva Hammons.

The Seniors had a few visitors from the other classes and they joined in a sing-song afterwards.

Placing Lockers in Boys' Dressing Room

Some of the basketball boys and Mr. Cook, the coach, have been putting some lockers in the boys' dressing room in the gymnasium. They took some of the old wooden lockers out of the high school building and rebuilt them, making space for the boys team.

The regular team has not been working out lately but they will begin this week with preliminary work. The team will start getting in condition for the regular season. No games will be scheduled at present but a few practice games will be played within the near future.

Several boys have been working out for the past few weeks, most of them new men. Some of the new men will have to be counted on to make the team and others will help as substitutes. Plans are to carry a playing squad of at least ten or twelve boys.

Kennel Comments

Well, my children, a cheery good morning to you! A breath of dirt comes to this otherwise clean column, when a few careful observers happened to see the trophy case in the library this week. Resting peacefully amid the clutter of students for several days was a silver can. For particulars call by the Kennel office.

There are said to be two types of students — those who rest over the week end to be ready for school, and those who rest during school to be ready for the week end.

By the grapevine route we learned this week that a certain boy, the Don Juan of K. C. H. S., had quite a lot of writing to do to make up for eating candy in the study hall.

It seems as though the Seniors are giving their share of trouble and energy this year. The cause of the commotion coming from their home room has been determined at last. It was only a few savage members practicing for their home room program. Ask them who was throwing the nicotine fit, and they will all reply, it was only the sound effects. The battle scarred mugs in the school are not war veterans or some of Capone's men. They are just two Seniors who played the parts of McBeth and MacDuff in the play. The scars were caused by a quant old custom known as fighting. One of the boys plays a not cornet and the other a mean clarinet. The funny girls disguised as witches also come in for their share of credit. You had better beware, because they might try casting their spell on some of you "eligible mugs."

Mr. and Mrs. Tobe Paul of Aberdeen, Wash., are visiting relatives and friends here. They formerly lived here.
